NUMBER 42.

SHORT SKETCHES

OF SOME OF OUR PROMINENT YOUNG MEN.

"NINETEEN NOT TOO MANY."

Is the Verdict of the Subject of the Following Sketch, in Regard to Children.

Wm. M. Reeder, Esquire.

The people of a county can never know too much about their good men. It is astonishing to a close observer to know how many men there are in a county that are justly entitled to a prominent place in the affairs of its business. Men who are valuable to their neighbors and their county are too little appreciated by the people who enjoy their counsel and their works. There is such a man in this county but his acquaintance is more or less limited, yet in the community in which he lives no man is held in higher esteem. His name heads this article and it will be of some interest to our readers for us to give a short sketch of his life in order that they may become more familiar with his name and his character. Manderson Reeder, as he is known by everybody, was born in Calloway county, now Marshall, on March 7th 1831, near Union church in the west part of the county. His parents were only blessed with a small portion of this world's goods, and as a matter of course, their children's advantages were of the poorest kind. They had not the money to send their children to college and as a result they grew up in those days with a very limited education. Such an education was the kind that was passed by our subject. He grew to manhood an industrious, study farmer and to this good day has never seen proper to change his occupation. As is usual with such domestic young men, at the age of 22, he concluded to take unto himself a wife, and on Jan., 16th 1853, he was married to Miss Leticia E. Ogden with whom he lived happily until she was taken away from him by death, but in 1868 he was again married, this time to Miss Nancy C. Barker, who did not live but a short time. Mr. Reeder believing it was not well for man to be alone, was married the third time on May the 22nd 1870, to Miss Diana E. Park, who is yet living and proving a valuable helpmate to her kind and affectionate husband in his declining years. Mr. Reeder is the father of 19 children, ten of whom are now living and nine are dead, and he yet bids fair to be the father of many more, before he leaves this old world. He served two years in the First Confederate Cavalry under Col. H. Clay King, who was sentenced to be hung on the 12th instant in Memphis Tennessee for the murder of Wm. H. Poston. He never was an office seeker, but he has held the office of constable one year and has been a justice of the peace for seven years, an office he holds at present, and here we want to take occasion to say he is one of the best magistrates that is now on the bench of our county court. He is open, frank, fair and impartial in the transaction of the county's business, never for a moment lending his vote to the scheme of any man against the interest of the tax payers of his district. He has been a prominent member of the Baptist church for the past 15 years. He has been a true organization democrat ever since he imbibed it from his mother's breast. Mr. Reeder is an all-round good citizen and we are sorry the county is not blessed with more such men. About his home no man is more hospitable and social than is Mr. Reeder. Besides he is no back member, he is up with the times in everything. He is a mason and an alliance man; in both he takes a lively interest. He says it makes him blush to hear men say they can't get along with two or three or four or five children when he gets along with 19 just as well as he did with ten and fifteen. The number of children he claims has nothing to do with it; that the man with no children gets along in this world as badly as the one with plenty of them.

W. G. Dycus.

This young man was born in this town over 30 years ago, and is the only son of Hon. J. W. Dycus. His mother was Miss Greenville Ford, a daughter of Mrs. Martha Ford, who yet resides in this town. She died, when Walter, as he is commonly called by all who know him, was very young. She was a very beautiful woman and was very young when married to Judge Dycus. His grandmother, Mrs. Ford, took Walter when he was left without a mother and raised him to be an honest, sober, industrious, reliable young man, and today no man stands higher in this county for truth and veracity than does Walter G. Dycus. He is a devoted member of the M. E. church and a hard worker in the Sunday schools. His life, so far, has been spent in the county and circuit court clerk's offices and in teaching the common schools of the county. He is yet a single man, with no prospects of immediate marriage. He has always been a polite, accommodating young man to the opposite sex. He has never been lucky in making a match for himself, but he has been instrumental in bringing about many happy weddings. He has been the best man in many a love affair, but from some cause, the other "feller" always gets there first. He has waited on more young couples, when they were married, than any young man in the county. This is a leap year and he has been anxiously waiting for some winsome Miss to pop the question to him but to date he is leading a forlorn hope in that respect. Young Mr. Dycus is a gentleman in all that the term implies and though he is a little slow in getting married, he will finally be the happy recipient of a good woman for a wife.

Emmett C. Dycus.

The youngest son of Dr. E. C. Dycus, is one of our coming young business men. After serving as deputy sheriff under Mr. C. H. Starks for several years, he entered business with his brother-in-law, M. B. Cooper, in which he continued for some time, and since the dissolution of their partnership he has been engaged in the family grocery business at which he is making a success. He is a married man and perfectly devoted to his family, giving his entire time and attention to his business and the happiness of his wife. He is now building himself a new residence, which will soon be one of the nicest cottages in the city. He is about 35 years old, was born and bred near Palma, in this county, and bids fair to live long upon the earth and be of great use to his country. He is industrious, frugal and honest and in all his business relations is perfectly trustworthy and reliable.

Boone Reed.

A better young man cannot be found anywhere than the one whose name heads this article. He has just reached his majority, but he has the manners and customs of a man many years his senior. He is a stout, robust, industrious, hard-working young man, honest and reliable in all of his dealings with everyone. He is the oldest child of Hon. W. M. Reed. His mother, Mrs. Rosa Reed, receives every attention at the hands of her son Boone who is a dutiful son owes to his mother. She is kind, mild and affectionate to her children, and the valuable impressions made on the temper of Boone is reflected back to her by him in his obedience to her. He is a pious devoted member of the M. E. church, and it is said by many that he has gleaned his excellent church devotion from his father, who is a prominent member of the Christian church. Boone has always manifested a very strong desire to become a farmer, and as a result he has been one of the prominent workmen on his father's plantation. But of recent he has decided to enter school for two or three years and complete his education. In love affairs Boone has encountered two or three repulses, but he says he will soon get over them and be himself again. He goes upon the idea that there are as good fish in the sea as were ever caught. Mr. Boone Reed is one of our coming young men and if he lives he will be a useful citizen, one that will never bring dishonor upon his worthy parents. When a young man conducts himself as does this one, we are always glad to make mention of them and hold them up before the country as worthy examples to other young people.

T. H. Blewett.

This is a tall young gentleman, a member of the Presbyterian church and an all-round clever fellow. He is engaged in the queensware business and enjoys a very nice trade. He is not a married man, but is doing all he can to get the consent of some young woman to take a journey with him over the mountains of life as his beloved wife. He is a man of taste, dresses well, and is possessed with more than the usual amount of gallantry. He is fond of the company of a few gentlemen but is more particularly fond of the society of the ladies. He is sober, industrious and has a great desire to live comfortable and happy. He is a native born Kentuckian, having been raised at Palma, in this county. He is, and has been for some time, deputy sheriff under Mr. J. H. Little.

Improvement, the Promise of Cure.

No array of words can give a dyspeptic one-half the hope that comes from the relief which always follows the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, and the promise of cure is never broken.

"Having suffered from dyspepsia for two or three years, I decided to try B. B. and after taking one bottle I found myself so much better I got another bottle and after taking that I had more need of medicine. Mrs. G. C. White, Taberg, N. Y."

Don't pay for daily bread and then groan with dyspepsia when a bottle of B. B. B. will give you relief. Repeated tests with uniform success prove that dyspepsia cannot withstand B. B. B.

"I have taken the second bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has cured me of dyspepsia with which I suffered for six years. W. W. Hamilton, Lock Haven, Pa."

A big wall paper trust has been organized with a capital of $20,000,000.

The Chinese pay their doctor only so long as he keeps them in health. They believe in preventing rather than curing disease. This is sound sense, and one of the strongest recommendations of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a medicine which not only cures diseases but prevents them.

Childhood's Happy Days.

What place on earth is remembered with more pleasure than the place where our boyhood days were spent; and what people feel nearer to us than the boys and girls with whom we were raised? None. Such a place and such associations are ever held in memory with a fondness unsurpassed by any other. For the mind to return and carry us back to the happy scenes of rollicking childhood where we can see ourselves in all the glory of innocent youth is good for us, and though it never fails to bring back sad memories mingled with a burning desire to again travel over the same road. This would be glory enough for us if we could but return to the eventful days of youth and retrace our walk over life's joyous and happy travels, but this cannot be, in the very nature of things, yet when we contemplate the distance that is coming between us and such days we realize the dreadful fact that each hour carries us farther and farther away from that part of life that we have always so dearly loved. The person who enjoys old age better than youth is made out of different material to what we are. No stage or condition in either to the rich or poor has such charms for us as the rowdy boyhood days of the past. Oh! carry us back once more to childhood's happy dreams.

Bad drainage causes much sickness, and bad blood and improper action of the liver and kidneys is bad drainage to the human system which Burdock Blood Bitters remedy.

Neighborhood Notes.

Mr. Marshall Starks, a gentleman well known over this section of the country, died Monday at his home near Dexter last Monday morning, at the age of 83 years. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death. The body was buried in the Liberty Graveyard, over in Marshall county.

No one need rest any uneasiness about Calloway's Democracy, it is all right and in the November elections the return from the voting precincts will show it to be. True, in times past some of it got a little shaky and strayed away from the fold, but many of the wanderers have repented in sackcloth and ashes and received back into the party and will henceforth and forever be contented to vote with and affiliate with the Democratic forces.

Henry Starks, who the past week received the nomination for sheriff of Marshall county, is a Democrat and a gentleman who will make that county a good and attentive official. He has held the position of sheriff for two terms in the past and made a splendid officer, as he will again do if elected in November next. And Marshall county citizens should rally to his support and elect him by a good majority.

Commonwealth's Attorney in 2nd judicial district of Kentucky. I will be grateful for your support, and honored by your confidence, and go my whole duty if I am elected by you.
Your fellow-citizen,
JOSIAH HARRIS

FOR PRESIDENT
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
ADLAI E. STEVENSON,
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR CONGRESS
WM. J. STONE,
OF LYON COUNTY.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK
A. L. SHENWELL,

FOR SHERIFF
C. H. STARKS.

WED. EVENING, AUGUST 17.

Some one said the other day that Stone was nominated for congress in this district. "Ish dat so?"

Does Mr. Keys think for a moment that he is able to meet Mr.
Stone in joint debate? It reminds us of the giant and the pigmy.

Mr. McDowell will smell leader of coal oil than he does now when he is set on fire by Judge Robertson. The Tennessee gentleman has something to do to meet the judge.

Judge Robertson will again enter actively into the practice of law, and it is rumored that Gus Coulter will attend a law course, after which he will become the partner of Judge Robertson.

Hon. Ben C. Keys refused to divide time with Judge Robertson at Fulton last week, saying he would only divide time with the nominee Mr. Stone, but since he has agreed to meet and divide time with Hon. B. A. Neale. Mr.
Keys knows who to fool with, and he is about right when he severely lets Judge Robertson alone.

The people's party in the Eighth congressional district will hold a primary election on August the 30th to nominate a candidate for congress in that district. These party "fellers" in that district are in favor of primary elections, but down here in this district they loudly condemn all such ways of naming a nominee. They don't understand each other well enough to agree on anything.

It is said that Mr. Newt Harris, the champion mogul of the people's party, in the west part of the county, has met more than his match and has backed down from a joint debate between himself and the Rev. Emanuel Smith, a live and able republican. A challenge was made for such a discussion to Mr. Harris by Mr. Smith.
Mr. Harris said if Mr. Smith would be endorsed by the republicans he would meet him. Ex-Chairman Cross went to work among the republican brethren and got up a big petition endorsing Mr. Smith and backing him up as one able to defend the doctrines of the republican party, but when Mr. Harris was informed that all was ready for the fight, he very politely declined to meet his republican antagonist. Now the charge is made against Mr. Harris that he does not want to antagonize the republicans but is hunting democrats to devour. Every move the third party people make goes to show that their animus is against the democratic party.

A prominent third party speaker in Texas has quit the field and says he can't make an argument in favor of his party as long as crops are as good as they are in his locality, and asks the state central committee to send him to some part of the country where crops have failed, so he can work up votes for the third party. The committee has been looking over the country to find him such a place and has about decided to locate him near the Blue Ridge.

How about the joint discussion at Hamlet on the 24th? Has Mr.
McDowell consented to be governed by the usual courtesies in such affairs or does he still insist on controlling the time as suits himself?
We have not heard what arrangements have been agreed upon by the managers of the speaking, but we hope and believe that they all want an open fair discussion of the present political differences between the two parties, and will consent to the usual division of the time on that occasion.

W. A. Abbott has sued Boyd & Wash in the Paducah common pleas courts to recover $2,140 said to have been lost in gambling in a poker room at the hotel of Boyd & Wash. This is a little thin.
When a man goes into a poker room and proposes to bet money he should stand by the result. The courts of a country should set down on all such suits. There is no good in such litigation and it is not carried on for the good of public morals, but only to get back money that belongs to another. If such greenhorns would stay away from such places they would have more money to spend at home on their families.

During the epidemic of flux in this county, 1888, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the past ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux than any other medicine I have ever handled. J. H. Benham, druggist, Golconda, Pope county, Illinois.
Over five hundred bottles of this remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to.
It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. H.
Starks.

A Primary Called.
The parties so desirous of calling a primary election to nominate candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney in this district, will certainly be satisfied when they hear that the committee has called one to be held on September 10th 1892. If this action on the part of the committee was taken solely in the interest of the party, believing it necessary for its success, then we have not a word to say, but if in the interest of some friend or candidates, then we fear they have acted hastily.
We are soul and body for party organization, but we are soul and body against any action on the part of party managers that has a tendency to weaken democratic chances, and when we believe and can see undue haste in matters of this kind we will condemn it as readily as we would an independent or a bolter, because the result of a convention or primary election did not go to suit him.
There are many times in which the success of the party is endangered by party managers, in their zeal to please some friend, who is an aspirant for office, but we hope such will not be the case in this instance, for we believe Chairman Truitt and Committeeman Ezell would not lend themselves in party management to the especial advancement of the direct interest of any particular candidate.
Since they have seen proper to make such a call, in the interest of party organization, it is the duty of every democrat to go and vote for his choice for these offices and nominate good men; such men as will please the people and be elected.

COL. H. CLAY KING.

Gov. Buchanan, of Tennessee, the day before Col. King was to be hung, commented the death penalty of Col. King to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at hard labor. This action on the part of the governor has created much unfavorable comment on the part of the people of Tennessee and more especially of the people of Memphis, where Col.
King killed David H. Posten.
There can be no doubt but he was guilty of murder; yes, of premeditated murder, and all the courts known to him said so, and this being true he should have suffered the penalty of the law for such a crime. Gov. Buchanan should have let Mr. King hang, as he no doubt justly deserved it.

We have known him indirectly since the war and have all the time admired him for his bravery and ability, but when a man shoots down one of his fellow attorneys in cold blood, then we believe he should be punished according to the just verdict of the court trying him. As long as such men as King, or anyone else, are permitted to take the lives of their fellowmen, and go unpunished for it, so long will there be mutterings against the men high in authority.
Clay King should have been hung.
His guilt has never been doubted or a fair trial denied him, and now in the face of all these facts the governor should commute his sentence to life imprisonment is too much; and as long as sentiment control the executive, so long will complaints go up from the great common people. If Clay King had been an obscure, poor man he would have been hung because he was guilty and for the same reason Mr. King should have been hung.
We are opposed to mob law, but we are in favor of the law and want men punished according to the law, but so long as men can't be punished by the law we may expect them to be punished without the law.

If all men were punished for like crimes, regardless of their social position, Mr. H. Clay King would now be in eternity, but instead he is in the penitentiary where he is likely to be pardoned at any time. It would have had a tendency to stop mob violence to have let Mr. King suffer the verdict of the courts.

Dorsey Gold.

Our heart was made to bleed Saturday morning when the sad intelligence came to us, of the unexpected death of that honorable young man, Mr. Dorsey Gold, which took place the night before.
He was the oldest son of Mr.
Monroe Gold and was the idol of his heart. He loved him with all the passion that a father could have for a dutiful son. He was the favorite in the family; loved as a brother should be by his father, mother and sisters and when death came and took him from them in the prime of promising manhood it was like taking their own life's blood. To give up Dorsey and follow him to the cold grave was the most heart-rending work of their lives, and now in that family is nothing but sadness and sorrow. His father was giving him all the advantages of the best schools the county afforded and hoped to see him in time to come one of the honored men of his day, which no doubt he would have realized if Dorsey had lived.
He was a quiet, cautious, prudent young man and everywhere he went he made friends that loved him dearly. Not a word have we ever heard against him; but everything said about him were words of praise and commendation. He was a young man of fine abilities and if he had lived he would have made his mark among his fellows.
Mr. Gold and his family have the sympathy of the many friends of his beloved boy. The last time we ever saw him was on Friday night of the 5th of August, when he was in our store complaining of being sick, but we hope to meet him again in the realms of the great beyond.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results.
In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. H. Starks.

As a general liniment for sprains and bruises or for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated or muscular pains, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is unrivaled. For sale by R. H.

SHARPE.

It is a hard question to solve why your Calvert City correspondent is so hard on the people's party. We can't see how he has been damaged by them. We would like to see him and that famous frog that he speaks of so much together and see which would make the most noise.

We would like to see a black mark placed on every man that voted to loan the people's money to that World's fair. We have been informed by our congressman that it was unconstitutional to loan the people's money. Why was it not in that case?

Mr. Tobe Houser, of Paducah, was introducing W. F. Bradshaw, candidate for commonwealth's attorney, to the people here last week.

Miss Mollie Bailey and Miss Bell Johnston left for Terrell, Texas, last Thursday.

The Sharpe and Elva road was cut out last week, and is now only waiting for an appropriation of a bridge, when it will be ready for travel.
