THE LISTENING POST

WHAT'S BECOME of the old-fashioned hay rides young folks used to take? If you want to know how the new-fashioned hay rides are performed, be around the First Baptist Church the early part of tonight and watch about twenty members of the Senior B. Y. P. U. load up for a hay ride. Years ago they loaded into a wagon and drove about six miles before spreading a lunch which it took all day to cook, but my—how good it did taste. Nowadays, they load into a truck, drive about fifty miles in less time than it took them to drive six miles, eat at a roadside inn, restaurant or what have you. This hay ride may not be wholly new-fashioned inasmuch as the lunch is being taken, but the hay riders are using a truck instead of a wagon, and they will travel about fifty miles to a point on Resford before spreading their lunch.

DO YOU want to go down to Golden Pond in Trig county and be postmaster? Well, all you've got to do is pass the examination, which will be held at Hopkinsville. The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth class postmaster at this post office. Applications will close July 30. Now, if you are interested, get blanks from the postmaster. And to Golden Pond and get your if you don't happen to know where Golden Pond is—well, you were either born since 1933, or you are a "dry."

CIRCUIT COURT Clerk Justin Attebery will be at the City National Bank again tomorrow to issue 1937-38 drivers' licenses to the people at this end of the county. If you have not already gotten yours, do so tomorrow, as this will be your last opportunity of obtaining same without driving to Hickman. The deadline is August 1st, and Mr. Attebery states that he will have ample helpers at the bank to issue as many licenses as are desired throughout the day, without delay to anyone. It will only take a few minutes to stop in and have your new license issued, and quite a few to drive to Hickman after them if you do not take advantage of this opportunity.

HARRY BARRY, sanitary inspector for Fulton county, has been appointed supervisor of a malaria eradication program for fourteen counties, succeeding Griffin B. Quinby, of Louisville, who is conducting research work in Florida. Counties included in the territory are: Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle, Ballard, Marshall, Livingston, Crittendon, Union, Webster, McCain, Muhlenburg, Hopkins, Caldwell and Lyon.

THE REGULAR monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at 7 o'clock out at Chestnut Glade. Miss Llep had sold about forty tickets today at 10 o'clock, and it is hoped that at least fifty business men of Fulton will take the trip to Chestnut Glade tonight and enjoy the meeting and good things to eat which are being prepared country style for them. If you desire a way to go, call Miss Llep at the Chamber of Commerce before 5 o'clock.

TICKET SELLER L. S. Phillips of the Eagles' baseball club, says he has an idea which, if worked by everyone who attends the games, will make regular Boy Scouts out of you. He says that there are a lot of folks who go to the games with an empty car, or an empty seat or two, and if you would always make it a rule to ask someone to go out with you, lots of persons would have an opportunity to go out who do not get to attend so very often.

WHO'S THE guy who said something about "peasies from heaven"? It's dollars—fifty thousand of them—for beautiful Jean

Police Say They Shot Strikers After Being Knocked Down

Chicago, July 19—(AP)—Two policemen told a coroner's jury investigating the slaying of ten men in the Memorial Day steel strike riot they shot attackers after being knocked to the ground. The officers' testimony concluded a day of dispute over the over the number of slain demonstrators shot in the back. A union physician said seven had been wounded in that manner. The coroner's pathologist, who examined the bodies, said only one had been shot directly from the rear. Officers Walter P. Oakers, 46, said he was knocked down by a blow from a pick handle and looked up to see another man about to kick him in the face. "I rolled over and fired five times in rapid succession directly at him," Oakers testified. "The man staggered and fell back."

Officer Lloyd O. Casey said three men attacked him and that he was knocked down after breaking his night stick on one. Then a man approached with a club to which meat hook was attached. Casey said, and from his prone position he shot. Coroner Frank J. Walsh said he had been told one of the policemen injured in the riot, Officer Philip Igoe, had obtained evidence a narcotic had been given some of the rioters before the march on the plant. Walsh instructed Igoe and his informant to appear at the inquest tomorrow.

Attorneys for the steel workers organizing committee, which called the strike at Republic Steel Corp. plants May 26, and assistants to the state's attorney wrangled over the testimony of Dr. Lawrence Jacques, who operated the strikers' first aid station. Dr. Jacques said he was "certain six men were shot from behind, and I believe the seventh also."

Dr. J. J. Kearns, chief coroner's physician since 1928, who said he had conducted more than 8,000 post mortem examinations, testified only one of the slain men was shot directly from the rear. Several, he said, had been shot from the side and others from the front.

Flood Control Bill Is Passed; No Opposition

$24,877,000 Measure For Lower Ohio River Sent To Senate
Washington, July 18—(AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to authorize a $24,877,000 flood control program for the lower Ohio river basin. The bill also would authorize preliminary flood control examinations and surveys on more than fifty streams in a score of states. It went through without a dissenting vote.

During debate on the measure Representative Jenkins (R-Ohio), praised it but said it ought to contain "ten times more money." He added that many communities would be unable to meet requirements of the bill, which impose on them the responsibility of supplying necessary land and paying damage costs in connection with construction of the projects.

He said a delegation planned to call on President Roosevelt soon to see if relief funds might not be used to buy rights-of-ways for a proposed Bluestone dam and reservoir. The dam would lower flood crests on the Ohio by three feet at a cost of $13,000,000, Jenkins said.

Chairman Whittington (D-Miss.), of the House flood control committee said the bill would provide "only a partial solution of the problem" of protection in the lower Ohio river basin.

Ambulance Chasers Fed Up With Cops Who're Also Fed Up

South River, N. J., July (US)—Residents of this town rose up in arms today because the police force is trying to put a stop to their favorite pastime—chasing the town ambulance.

Police Chief Charles Vandervent became fed up with the way townfolk took to their automobiles and tagged along after the ambulance every time it was called out. So yesterday he sent the ambulance out on a decoy run. When the regular ambulancechasers drove up to what they thought was the scene of an accident, police passed out twenty-one tickets for speeding.

Charley Tabuermann, who is usually the first to fall in line behind the ambulance, had this to say today:

"We pay taxes to maintain the ambulance and I don't see why we can't follow it to see what it's doing. Besides, some of us give first aid sometimes."

HARVESTING A NEW FARM CROP

Scooping up dead grasshoppers
Harvesting a new farm crop—grasshoppers. The insect plague again is destroying ripening crops in certain sections of western United States. Farmers desperately strive to kill off the insects to save what crops they can. This man is scooping up dead grasshoppers, gathered in his fields by a "harvester" which picks them up and kills them off.

City Equalizers Now In Session

The Board of Equalizers for the city of Fulton convened at the City of Fulton court house in the city of Fulton yesterday and will proceed to equalize the city taxes as assessed by Jim Stone, city tax assessor, who finished his assessment on July 1st.

The board, composed of F. A. Cole, R. S. Phillips, and J. W. Hackett, will in all probability sit for two weeks. Members of the board stated this morning that there would be few changes, and indicated there would be fewer raises than ever before.

CHILD ATTACKED BY VICIOUS DOG

Little Patricia Lawson, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clemons Lawson of West of town, was bitten by a large German police dog belonging to tenants on their farm recently. She was taken to the Bushart Hospital immediately and given treatment for rabies. The dog is up for observation for 17 days.

Mrs. Annie Gregory Passes Away

Mrs. Annie H. Gregory beloved citizen of Fulton, passed away Monday, July 19, 1937, at 5 o'clock p. m. at her home on Carr street after an illness of two years, from a heart attack. Mrs. Gregory has been confined to her bed for the past two years, but her death came unexpectedly and is a shock to her family and many friends here.

A woman loved for her kindness and generosity, she will be remembered long by those in Fulton who were privileged to have been her friend, and they were many. She was ever enthusiastic in the every day happenings of her friends, and her many kind acts and deeds will long be remembered.

She was born in Virginia and came to Kentucky with her parents, at the age of five years, first settling in Madisonville, and coming to Fulton at the age of 24 years. She was married to the late Chas. B. Gregory in 1886, to which union seven children were born six of whom survive. Her husband preceded her in death in 1912.

Since her girlhood days she has been a devout and faithful member of the First Christian Church of this city, and a member of the Missionary Society, holding many offices in this organization. She was also a member of the W. C. T. U. and had held offices in this organization.

Surviving Mrs. Gregory are two daughters, Mrs. Romby Sawyer of Ruthville, Tenn., Mrs. John Harpole of Fulton, and four sons, Capt. P. T. Gregory, Honolulu, Frank P. Gregory, Detroit, Chas. Gregory of Fulton and Richard Gregory of Princeton.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Christian Church, conducted by Rev. W. D. Ryan, and burial will take place at Fairview in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Directors. The remains will be at the home of Mrs. John Harpole, 503 Third street, until the time set for the funeral services.

Honorary pallbearers will be: W. W. Morris, Joe Browder, George Beades, L. H. Howard, N. G. Cooke, Tom Madox, Clarence Pickering, Clyde Williams, Jess Parrish, W. A. Terry. Active pallbearers will be Mrs. Gregory's sons.

Eden Reviews World Conflicts; Pleads Prayerfully For Peace

London, July 19 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden pleaded prayerfully for peace today as he reviewed the world's conflicts, especially those in Spain and the Far East, for the House of Commons. Warning that the Spanish civil war carried the seeds of still greater disaster, Eden said in reference to the meeting tomorrow of the sub-committee of the 27-nations non-intervention committee seeking to isolate that war:

"Whatever their difficulties, whatever their preoccupations, whatever their provocations, I pray that nations who begin their work tomorrow will never forget the alternative. It should be their signpost to success."

The subcommittee is to begin study of a British compromise plan for control of the conflict.

British rearmament, the foreign secretary stressed was only for defense and "while we are determined to defend our own rights we have no intention of challenging those of others."

He held out the facilities of British diplomacy to arbitrate the Sino-Japanese dispute and cited as examples of international friendship the Anglo-Italian Mediterranean agreement, Anglo-American trade talks and "steadily growing confidence" between France and Britain.

Eden also redirected attention to the League of Nations, whose prestige waned after Japan's Manchurian expedition and Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

"The League of Nations is neither dead nor moribund," he said and emphasized its conciliatory rather than coercive powers.

"The outlook isn't wholly black," he told the Commons as government supporters occasionally interrupted with cheers. "There are storm clouds but there are also patches of blue sky. The atmosphere is less tense and lowering than a year ago."

Avers Bill Is A "Greatly Dangerous Precedent" And Urges Vote Against It

Albany, N. Y., July 19—(AP)—New York's Democratic Governor Herbert H. Lehman today called President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization plan "a greatly dangerous precedent."

Later the Governor's secretary said "scores" of congratulatory telegrams were being received by the man whom Roosevelt, while himself Governor, called "my strong right arm." Lehman was lieutenant governor at the time.

In Washington opponents of the scheme to add new judges to the personnel of the court expressed jubilation.

Twisting Lion's Tail At Zoo Costs Boy's Father Five Bucks

New York, July 19 (AP)—Little Gabriel Klein, 7, twisted the lion's tail at the Bronx Zoo and today it cost his father five bucks.

Adam, the lion, was backed up against the bars with his tail hanging out, and it tantalized Gabriel, who climbed over an outside guard rail and tweaked the appendage.

The lion roared and made a pass at Gabriel, and Gabriel's father quickly grabbed him back over the guard rail. Gabriel let out a yell, and up ran Patrolman Michael McEnery.

The officer suggested in Magistrate's Court today that the father, William Klein, was at fault in the transaction, because:

"The said child did pull the tail of the lion thereby exposing said child to personal danger, in violation of Chapter 17, Section 19."

Klein pleaded guilty and paid the $5 fine. Zoo attendants said the lion was very agreeable usually, but had been on edge the last few days because of a three-play blessed event in the family, and that they wouldn't think of twisting his tail under any circumstances.

Street Work Needed.

An inspection of Fulton's splendid street system will prove conclusively that some repair work is badly needed. This condition will grow more acute as time passes on, for no matter how well a street is constructed it will wear. If the wear is not stopped, and if proper repair work is not done, the street will soon become worthless.

Our streets were well built. Honest material, honest workmanship, careful supervision went into their building. With proper care it will be many years before any great outlay will be necessary. But we do not have the right to expect to use these streets indefinitely without proper upkeep and repair. Our highways prove this without question. None of them would stand up without this never ceasing upkeep and repair work. With this repair and upkeep the various states are keeping a vast network of paved highways in splendid condition; without it we would see these highways become more or less useless. Fulton must learn this lesson.

The local street system has now been down for several years. Some repair work has been done, it is true. But not enough. For the past year I have not been able to see any of this work being done. No doubt the city has been short of funds, as this has been more or less a chronic condition. But it is false economy to delay this work too long. If we allow it to continue much longer we will find it necessary to do a great deal of repaving. When the slab is worn too deeply it will be found impossible to build it up with asphalt to the proper smoothness. Expansion joints have cracked badly on many of the streets, and from these cracked joints the road paving surface is being rapidly ground away. Large holes are appearing in these places, and it will soon be too late to patch such places. Some of the streets, too, are showing considerable wear on the surface, and it may be necessary to apply a coat of asphalt to some of these places. Commercial Avenue the first street to be paved, shows much wear. Perhaps the work was not as well done here as it was later, but in any event, this street is badly worn.

However, the main damage that

WHAT'S WHAT AT A GLANCE
WASHINGTON - WORLD

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rather curiously, the commerce department, here in Washington, is better informed as to the Japanese-Chinese situation than is the state department or any of our military or naval folk.

The state department sizes up international political prospects in the Orient with all-sufficient accuracy. It understands perfectly how American interests may be involved in the controversy between the islanders and the Asiatic mainland. It knows that Britain is highly desirous of Japan's co-operation in dealing with the Far Eastern state of affairs.

The war department is not so well informed, not having been particularly well represented in that part of the world. Naval and marine corps officers, long on duty in Oriental waters, have a fairly definite idea as to the respective sides' chances in the event of a conclusive Sino-Japanese clash.

But the commerce department's reports indicate very clearly what, basically, the friction is all about.

JAPAN'S DISAPPOINTMENT

Briefly, as per these reports: Japan, being desperately overcrowded, sought an outlet in Manchuria, for centuries regarded as northern China but originally a realm by itself, set up a puppet government there, and began running it, nominally as an independent country but actually as a Japanese dependency.

The plan did not work overly well. Manchukuo (previously Manchuria) is about as big as Canada and, potentially, about as rich, but practically undeveloped.

JAPAN'S TROUBLES

Its undevelopment was a drawback; it did not begin to yield results fast enough. The climate was unsuited to Japanese colonization, too, too chilly. Moreover its inhabitants went on a sit-down strike; would not do business with the Japanese.

Besides, Manchukuo was infested by brigands. Adjoining, Russia also was a threat to the Japanese-Manchukuo regime.

Japan had to maintain a large and expensive army in Manchukuo to support its rule and the show of multiple hostilities. This army of occupation, in turn, became subordinate. It began to demand orders from Tokyo. It began to want to slip over into "China proper"—south of the Great Wall.

WHAT JAPANESE KNOW
I do not think (and I have lived in China and Japan) that the Japanese government wants to butt into "China proper."

An invader, who does butt in, may hold his ground, but presently he is engulfed by the enormous preponderance of the vanquished and becomes, like the rest of them, Chinese—just as the Manchus did.

Intelligent Japanese know that. All they desire is to control China's chief ports, leaving export and import taxes on the interior. It is an economic, not a military proposition.

But there is in Japan the craziest military group in the world. In home Japan maybe it is a little modified by modern conditions. In outland Manchukuo, however, isolated from home influences, it appears to be as cuckoo as ever.

You're Telling Me!

By WILLIAM BITT
Central Press Writer

THIS IS THE SEASON when adoring Americans pay tribute to the green-tinted of the river bottoms, the emperor of all summer estates, the grand prince of the picnic lunch—the Alabama watermelon. It is a vulgarly known, the watermelon.

The prospect of a good, juicy melon is enough to make any alien take out his citizenship papers.

If nature smiled in giving this land luscious fruits she must have grinned right out loud when the first of the giant green ovals bloomed in the original melon patch—one of the chief virtues of a watermelon being its size.

Some folk think watermelon should be eaten from a plate with a fork but this is nothing short of sacrilege.

The true melon eater gets a firm grip of the rind with both hands, gazes rapily for several seconds at the bright red, succulent heart speckled with seeds, takes a long, deep breath and then dives head foremost.

A minute later he comes to the surface for air, face dripping and seeds raining down from both ears.

The champion watermelon addict of our planet was a kid who lived back home. He'd eat a hole in the center of a huge slice and then slip it over his head like a collar, continuing to chew and swallow until he reached the rind. It was awfully messy but he had a perfectly wonderful time.

Millard, the man who leaped to the top rung of screen popularity after his appearance opposite Dorothy Lamour in "The Jungle Princess." The cast also includes Luis Alberni, Mary Nash and over a score of other well-known players. The picture was directed by Mitchell Leisen, whose latest success, "Swing High, Swing Low," was acclaimed by critics throughout the country.

POWELL OFF FOR REST TO COMPLETE RECOVERY FROM GRIEF OVER JEAN

Hollywood, Calif., July.—William Powell, debonair screen actor, packed tonight for a trip to a quiet Southern California retreat where he will rest for several days to complete his recovery from illness induced by the shock of Jean Harlow's death.

Powell was reported improved today, but his physician was unwilling for him to return to work on his current picture until Wednesday or later.

Dr. H. D. Van Vleet said Powell was suffering from nervous and physical exhaustion.

NO-COAL HANDLING

Perhaps you have already installed automatic heating. But you haven't made your ultimate switch until you install an Iron Fireman automatic coal burner. If you are still using a hand-fired furnace, we ask you to consider this ultimate step immediately.

For truly your best bet today is to heat with coal via Iron Fireman, the machine which fires coal directly from the coal bin, doing away entirely with coal handling.

Coal, as you know, is America's permanent fuel supply. Coal always has been safe and economical. Today it is also clean and convenient. Stoker sizes of coal which Iron Fireman use cost less per ton for the same quality than ordinary lump coal.

This lower priced fuel coupled with higher firing efficiency, make Iron Fireman cost even less than hand-firing—far less than any other kind of automatic fuel.

But get the whole story! Ask us for illustrated literature, prices and free survey of your own heating plant.

COAL HANDLING
 You have already installed an Iron Fireman coal burner. If you are considering this ultimate in coal handling, you know, is America's permanent fuel supply. Coal always has been safe and economical. Today it is also clean and convenient.
 Smoker sizes of coal which Iron Fireman use cost less per ton for the same quality than ordinary lump coal.
 This lower priced fuel coupled with higher firing efficiency, make Iron Fireman cost even less than hand-firing—far less than any other kind of automatic fuel.

All-Stars Win Decision Over Jackson Generals Last Night

Wenning, Local Star, Pitches Three Run-less Innings.

The Kitty League All-Stars won over the Jackson Generals last night in Jackson, score 5 to 2, this being the second victory for the Stars in the annual game. Elmer Wenning, Fulton star, pitched three runless innings for the Stars, and Cooper, Fulton outfielder, contributed a hit and run to the victors. Knickmeyer of Hopkinsville, Wenning of Fulton, and Wright of Mayfield, did the hurling for the Stars.

Fulton is playing Jackson here today and tomorrow, and then the Eagles go on a road trip to Owensboro for a series of three games, with perhaps a playoff of a postponed game during the three days. Mayfield comes here next Sunday for three games.

Baseball Directors To Meet Tonight

President J. E. Hanneppin has called a meeting of the baseball club directors for tonight at 7:30 to discuss matters of interest, and all other persons who might be interested are invited to be present. Some of the directors feel the necessity of providing more bleacher seating space, and this will be discussed at the meeting tonight.

SPORT CHATTER (By Bob Parker)

On my way to Mayfield Friday night I saw a small boy standing on the side of the road and as we approached he gently pulled his trousers leg above his knee and threw his thumb in the air in the direction of Mayfield. He must have seen Colbert do it in "It Happened One Night"....Friday night a week ago in Jackson a most unusual play happened—Gregory was on first—Cooper hit one straight at Vinson on short—Hal rounded second seeing that Vinson didn't have the ball and thinking that it had gone past him into the outfield he started to third, when he was about half way Vinson reached into his shirt and came out with the ball, Hal tried to get back, but without results, because Vinson tagged him before he could get turned around good....It was like this—The ball took one hop near Vinson and bounced right down his shirt and for awhile even Vinson didn't know where the ball was....Last Wednesday when Cooper cleared the fence with two on—Uncle Henry jumped us as if a pin had stuck in him (as if several didn't) and threw his hat several feet into the air....He must have been with the boys....Dutch Welch manager of the Generals, requires all players to go directly back to the dugout after making an out and does not allow letting out near first base....Bill Southworth, Manager of the Memphis Chicks, gives his reason why most ball clubs play better ball on the road than they do at home. He said
 "You see, when a team is on the road the boys concentrate on baseball, at home they have their friends to share their attention."
 That's funny I have always thought different....From Eddie Brietz writer of the SPORTS ROUND-UP in New York comes word about the University of Tennessee football team this fall—Eddie says "Don't make the mistake so many southern scribes are making and overlook Major Bob Neyland. Tennessee Vols in this fall's football work."....King Carl Hubbell says

SUSPECT SOUGHT IN SILK STOCKING SLAYING OF GIRL

New York, July 18.—(AP)—Police tonight broadcast an eight-
 State alarm for Frank Figliolia, 22, in connection with the strange slaying of Dorothy Tauman, 18, in a lower East Side hotel last Sunday.

The girl, who registered with a swarthy man under an assumed name, was found choked to death with one of her silk stockings

 after her companion disappeared.
 Police said their records showed Figliolia served eighteen months in the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory in 1935-36 for third degree assault on the complaint of the girl, who charged him with criminal assault.

Mrs. Atilla Hemphill opened the meeting with a prayer and presided during the business session. Mrs. Hugh Rushton called the roll, read the minutes of the last meeting and asked for personal service rendered. Miss

Gladys Glad on BEAUTY

AMERICA'S MOST FAMOUS BEAUTY

BEAUTICIANS, I've observed, usually ignore one hazard of summer—the mosquito. And according to pretty Rochelle Hudson, screen actress, that doesn't seem quite right. Rochelle insists that, as a means of destroying the beauty of an otherwise flawless skin, this buzzing, biting insect cannot be beaten. In the case of mosquitoes, the female is regarded as more deadly than the male, for it is the female of the species that does most of the biting. And each time that she bites, she extracts a bit of blood, and at the same time injects a small quantity of a highly irritating fluid. The bitten spot becomes swollen, inflamed and itchy. And the victim usually scratches the spot until, sometimes, blood is drawn. Then there is danger of infection, and often permanent scars remain.

The thing to do, of course, is to keep those pesky insects from feasting on your tender anatomies. There's a new cream on the market designed for just this purpose. It is greaseless, stainless and definitely discouraging to all biting insects.

Scientists claim that certain scents also discourage insects. The odors of peppermint, eucalyptus, paraffin and citronella, for instance, seems to spoil Mademoiselle Mosquito's appetite entirely. And so the thing to do is to anoint the exposed portions of the body with any one of these essences before venturing out of doors.

Certain Colors Protect
Scientists claim, too, that the mosquito is repelled by certain colors. Bright yellow and white are shades that this insect views with a definitely disapproving eye. Other hues do not cramp her biting activities much, but these shades do. And so they, too, bring about some immunity.

Mosquito bites generally itch a great deal, and the natural instinct is to scratch them. But this is an extremely dangerous practice. If the bites are scratched vigorously, the skin may be broken. As a result, germs may enter and serious infections may result.

There are many remedies now on the market that may be used to soothe the bites if they are irritating. Even plain witch hazel, alcohol, ammonia or wet soap will help to soothe the bitten areas. Whatever you do, however, don't scratch mosquito bites, else you'll run the risk of infection and disfigurement.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Skin Bleach
Babe: Lemon juice and diluted peroxide both constitute effective skin bleaches. Either bleach should be permitted to dry on the skin, and then a bit of cold cream should be applied to counteract any drying effects.

Blonde Hair Rinse
Dot: The blonde hair rinse to which you refer is composed of the juice of one lemon, one tablespoon of vinegar, one tablespoon of peroxide and a pint of clear water.

EDITOR'S NOTE: While it is impossible for Miss Glad to answer beauty questions by mail, she will be happy to send you her pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" if you will write her, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin FOR EACH. For her articles on "Care of the Hands and Nails" and "Care of the Feet and Legs," two cents in coin FOR EACH, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope are required. Personal questions on beauty will be answered through Miss Glad's daily columns.

WORK IS being pushed to completion of two new buildings on Main street this week and it looks like it won't be long before both the new picture show building and the Franklin Store building will be ready for occupancy. The Warner Bros. theater expects to open their new house the early part of September, we understand, and indications are that the Franklin store is nearly ready for its opening. All exterior work is completed, and workmen are now working on the interior. Around at the new factory building, the interior work will be completed this week, and everything will be in readiness for the Henry I. Siegel Factory to move in. Mr. Siegel is expected to be in Dickson some time the latter part of this week, and is expected to come to Fulton to view the new building and to set the date for the opening of the factory here. What about a celebration on that day? Wouldn't Fulton have something to celebrate?
