KNOCKED OUT.

McDowell, of Tennessee, Not In It.

HIS SPEECH A TAME ONE.

Judge Robertson Asked Many Questions, But the "Big Gun" Of the People's Party Was Unable to Answer Any Of Them.

DEMOCRATS WENT HOME IN A HAPPY MOOD.

A BIG CROWD WELL PLEASED.

The long talked of discussion between Maj. J. H. McDowell, coal oil inspector of Tennessee, and Judge W. W. Robertson, of Mayfield, Ky., took place at Hamlet last Wednesday in the presence of about 3,000 people. It was a representative crowd of the best men and women this county can afford. Prominent citizens were there from all of the adjoining counties to hear the champions of the two parties speak on the political issues of the day. The third party and democratic people in all the surrounding country had united in making the occasion one of importance and pleasure to all who might attend.

The grand stand was large enough to hold the speakers and many dignitaries of both parties, besides good comfortable seats enough to seat at least 2,000 people.

The managers would not allow any barbecue or intoxicants sold on the ground, but everybody in the surrounding country had cooked up plenty of everything good to eat and it was spread upon the ground free for everybody to eat, and so far as we know no one went away hungry.

There were two lemonade stands where the people could cool their thirst by a milk shake or ice cream or anything cool to drink.

The crowd was located in a thick grove near Ham's Store, where the people were free from the burning rays of the sun and the usual noise on such occasions. There was no music and dancing allowed to mar the fine sensibilities of the good, quiet man or woman who came to hear the principles of the two parties discussed.

High on a giant post oak tree by the grand stand was a flag with these words upon it: "A government of the people, for the people and by the people." Owing to some misunderstanding as to the time each speaker would occupy, the people were in doubt as to who would be there to meet the great Tennesseean.

The crowd assembled early in the morning but waited to see if Judge Robertson would come. Many thought he would not dare meet Mr. McDowell, but at 10:30 a. m., Judge Robertson came upon the stand and was introduced to Mr. McDowell. The time was soon arranged for Judge Robertson to speak first for one hour, then McDowell follow in a speech of the same length before dinner. After dinner they made each one speech of an hour with no rejoinder after which the discussion was to close.

The great crowd was eager and anxious to hear the joint debate and of course good attention was given the speakers. J. R. Lemon and A. J. Ogilvie were appointed moderators and time-keepers.

At 10:40 a. m. Judge Robertson was introduced to the audience. He was in excellent health, ready, eager and willing for the fray. His voice was clear and his delivery excellent; in fact, he was in every way able, capable and competent to meet any foe of the democratic party, from Tennessee, Kansas and Kentucky. When he stood before the vast concourse of eager listeners he looked the very embodiment of the champion of the rights of the people; he stood as the watch tower of democratic faith and against the encroachment of the dangerous dogmas of the new party. He stood every inch the equal of Mr. McDowell on some points and his superior on others. He was the man for that occasion. He began his speech by asking his hearers to lay aside prejudice and listen to what he had to say; that he had but one object in view and that was to instruct them in an honest way on the important questions now before the country; that he never heard but two speeches made by men who claim to be representative men in the people's party; he began his argument by saying no party was ever organized that advocated such a monstrous doctrine as the people's party; that the democratic party was the same to day as 60 years ago; that it has always been a party of equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none; that it has also always been opposed to centralization and over taxation; that no party was perfect or its leaders, for many of them would say things that would bare criticism; that in all probability no man can subscribe to every tenet of his party, but all parties are tested by their principles and great fundamental doctrines; that there is no church or party but makes some mistakes and do something, that everyone can't endorse. So it is, said he, with the democratic party; it may do some things that are wrong, but its great doctrines will live forever and bless mankind. He said Jefferson was a strict constructionist of the constitution and believed in state rights, and amid all the parties that have come into existence since the days of Jefferson to the present time, the democratic party has been ever true to these great principles; that the know-nothing party came about by secret political meetings, and that the people's party came about in the same way and was only a continuation of that dead party; that the democratic party is the only living party of its age. He asked, "Have the people been deceived all these long years when their party has withstood the attacks of all of them?" He showed that the poor farmer and working men had been duped into joining the alliance believing that that there was nothing that would interfere with their religion or politics, when at the same time their leaders were only trying to build up a new party; that their sole object was to array all classes and parties against democrats, and that the people of the alliance were transferred to the third party, which they have done, body and soul. He told McDowell that as long as he could get an office he was a democrat, but as soon as office was out of sight he was out of the party; that the platform of the third party meant money and subtreasury and nothing else. He showed the fallacy of their platform in every way, denounced the sub-treasury, free coinage, ownership of railroads and their opposition to national banks and their silence on the tariff as only subterfuges to deceive the people and break up the democratic party. His remarks on the system of national banks and the way to increase the per capita to $50 were masterly and convincing. He opened the eyes of the people in a way they were never opened before.

The speeches of McDowell were on the same line of all such speakers. He said there was no difference between the democrats and republican parties; that he was a democrat; that he had been voting in that party for 25 years but when he found that the republicans had betrayed trusts, and the democrats had done the same, he left the party; that the sub-treasury warehouse should not cost the government a cent; they wanted all money of equal value; that free coinage would not increase the per capita $1, which was a black-eye to all of the third parties who had been saying in this part of the country that it would. He knew so little about national banks, that he actually refused to answer the questions of Judge Robertson on that subject. His voice was husky and he labored very much in his effort to answer Judge Robertson, but the Judge was entirely too much for him. The third party people were greatly disappointed in McDowell, for he was not the equal of Ogilvie, Graham or Dale. On the subject of finance, he was no more in the hands of Robertson than a baby in the hands of a giant. He felt the effects of his failure and so admitted it to several of his brethren before he left.

It was a great day for the democrats and they went home happy. Adolf Laloz, carriage manufacturer, 119 Carroll street, Buffalo, N. Y., states: I was troubled with nausea of the stomach, sick headache and general debility. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me.

IT CAN BE DONE.

Let's Have a Big Political Camp-Meeting and a Three Days Joint Discussion

ON THE ISSUES OF THE DAY.

We want, and are in favor of, the democratic, people's and republican parties joining in together and hold a three days old fashioned political camp-meeting at some point along the line of the P., T. & A. railroad in this county, some time this fall, before the November election. And we suggest that a joint committee from each of the parties be appointed to investigate and consider the propriety and place of holding the camp meeting. The country is prosperous and the people have plenty to eat and they will have leisure time enough to attend such a gathering, and we believe it will meet the universal approbation of our people. We have always been in the backwoods until the railroad was built and our people have never had the advantages of hearing the best speakers on the important issues before the country like the people in better favored portions of the country, and now we are in favor of inaugurating a new way to bring the people together in order that they can hear joint debates on the issues that are now before the country by the ablest men the nation affords. This is one thing our people in this part of the country need; large, social, political meetings where the party issues can be discussed in the presence of all men by competent representative men of all parties. It will, to a great extent, allay sectional feeling and educate all men on all questions at the same time. If education is what our men want, let's give it to them in the best political schools the parties can afford.

A camp-meeting like this can be arranged and can be made a success, and would attract the attention of people interested in politics for hundreds of miles away. It ought to be set to open on Wednesday and close on Friday evening, giving three days, with each party allowed two hours each day to discuss its platform of principles and other issues pertaining to its party. Let the time of the first day be taken up by the nominees of the various parties for congress and second day by larger guns and the last day by Carlisle, Weaver and some big light in the republican party. The state central committees can furnish such speakers as we want.

If such a meeting can be inaugurated it can be attended with from 5,000 to 10,000 people each day, and will result in much good to our people and country from a political standpoint. We want to hear at once from the influential men of all parties in this county, and let's put the scheme on foot. This is the proper way for all parties to get their doctrines properly before the country. It will only cost a little time and provisions, both of which we have plenty, and we hope to see such a political meeting as this country never saw before at once inaugurated. Politics have always been a tame affair in this county and we are in favor of making them red hot from now until the November election. If the democrats believe their party is the best one let them come to the front; if the people's party have any faith in the doctrines of their party let them stand up before the country in a joint discussion for three days; if the republicans are not all dead this will be a glorious time for them to be heard. Let's hear from the brethren of all parties.

Resolutions of Respect.

We, a debating society committee, appointed to prepare suitable resolutions of respect in affectionate memory of one of our most useful members, Bro. W. D. Gold, do willingly, respectfully and with feelings of deepest sorrow present the following:

Whereas, We have learned with profound sorrow of the death of our brother and fellow, W. D. Gold, which occurred at his home near Fair Dealing, Ky., on the 22nd of August, 1892, therefore be it Resolved, First—That in the death of our beloved Brother Gold the debating society has lost a kind, faithful and good member; and we will often think of him and strive to imitate his moral excellence and to meet him in the bright beyond.

Second—That the members of this society tender to the bereaved family and friends of the deceased their heart-felt sympathy and humbly trust Him who only gives place to comfort them with the consolation of faith and grace, that they may feel earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal.

Third—That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Maple Springs Debating society, that a copy be sent to the bereaved family and one sent to the Benton Tribune for publication.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. H. Starks.

Don't buy a blood purifier because it is "cheap." The best—the superior medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is, in the end, the cheapest blood purifier in the market. The ingredients of which it is composed are the most expensive and medicinally efficacious that can be obtained.

Improvement, the Promise of Cure.

No array of words can give a dyspeptic one-half the hope that comes from the relief which always follows the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, and the promise of cure is never broken.

"Having suffered from dyspepsia for two or three years, I decided to try B. B. and after taking one bottle I found myself so much better I got another bottle and after taking that I had more need of medicine. Mrs. G. C. White, Taberg, N. Y."

Don't pay for daily bread and then groan with dyspepsia when a bottle of B. B. B. will give you relief. Repeated tests with uniform success prove that dyspepsia cannot withstand B. B. B.

"I have taken the second bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has cured me of dyspepsia with which I suffered for six years. W. W. Hamilton, Lock Haven, Pa."

The third party has tried men from Kansas and Tennessee, and in every trial has weakened its party. Call another right soon, we like 'em.

Good Order at Hamlet.

The people in the vicinity of Hamlet are to be congratulated on the good order that was maintained there during the speaking. It was a quiet, nice time, everybody behaving themselves as become ladies and gentlemen. We were glad to observe the good behavior on the part of the people from all over the county.

excellent medicine?

confidently recommend Hood's pills.
They should be in every home med-

She Has Our Sympathy.

We met a good lady, and by the way a good looking lady, at the speaking at Hamlet last week, and in a conversation with her she said this was the first time she had had the pleasure of seeing so many democrats and hearing one speak.
She said her husband was a furious third party man, and since she came to the speaking she was convinced a democrat was better looking than a people's party man. In the course of our conversation she accidentally remarked that her husband never appeared so ugly as when mixing among democrats.

WHY DON'T THEY RESIGN.

In every generation the people are annoyed with a man, who, from some cause, wants to do something new and original, and this time he comes in the person of Governor Brown. That man Brown will not cost the people less than $30,000 more than any other governor would have done for the last thirty years. His objections to the bills that have passed during the sitting of the late lamented legislature are trashy and without precedent.
The state of Kentucky, in our opinion, has a good constitution, but the tax-payers, so far as the governor and legislature is concerned, are between the devil and the deep blue sea. Kentucky today is the laughing stock of every state in the union, and justly too, for of all the legislatures we have ever known the once proud old Commonwealth is now groaning under it. If Gov. Brown would resign, and Speaker Moore would do likewise, and 78 of the general assembly and 21 of the senate, and all go home and leave the muddle into which they have gotten the state for the people to straighten out, there would be some hope of the state, but alas! they continue.

The fight has been for many years in the past between organized labor and organized capital, but it will be in the future, for awhile at least, a fight between organized labor and unorganized labor, and in this fight organized labor will get the worst of it.
The American people love freedom too well to be controlled by any man or set of men in the private business. Organization is right and proper for protection in any laudable business, but when it comes to interfering with private business then it attempts to go too far. Let a man work for whom he pleases and at such prices as he can command or that may suit him, but never attempt to kill him because he don't want to obey some other man. The failure of the strikers at Buffalo points the way the wind blows. Until the hot-heads can be cooled by common sense and ordinary discretion trouble will continue among the laboring people. In business Americans must be free from class legislation and from the domination anarchists or trouble will haunt the laboring people continually.

If the free coinage of silver is not going to increase the per capita nor make money more plentiful, and only help the owner's of the mines in the west, then what is the use of clamoring so much for it?
If it is not going to bring more money in the country and help the poor man, away with such a doctrine, for nine-tenths of the third party men and democrats, too, in this county, have been clamoring for "free coinage" because it would fill the country with money. Now since it turns out that such will not be the case, there is a cooling among our people on the great question of the free coinage of silver.

The circuit judge should be elected from McCracken county and the commonwealth's attorney from this county. That would make it look like the two counties were on friendly terms and were willing to divide the honors.
Marshall county has always been a true friend to McCracken in every particular, and now when everything else is equal we believe it is but just and fair to vote for Mr. Fisher for commonwealth's attorney. A nice way to do in this is for both counties to agree to do the fair thing and nominate the judge from McCracken and the attorney from Marshall county.

Any work done to give Mr. Fisher the nomination for commonwealth's attorney will be spent in a worthy cause. He is one of the best lawyers in the district, deserving in every way, and needs it. He will treat all classes in the proper way, and mistreat no one.
His opponents are nice clever gentlemen, but we believe it would be doing the just and fair thing to elect him.

"Dawson Springs," one of our valued exchanges, came dashing into our office the other day enlarged to a seven-column paper much improved and very interesting indeed. We are glad to note the improvement, as it is a neat, clean and well edited country journal. Long may Dawson Springs live.

If the big political camp meeting is gotten up this fall how would it do to have three Kentuckians address the great crowd on the last day?

Is it possible that organized labor is to make its fight against unorganized labor? How can laboring men prosper when they are at war with each other?

It is too bad, that the president of the state alliance and coal oil inspector of Tennessee should come all the way down to Hamlet and get such a political flogging from a national banker as did the Hon. McDowell. Too bad.

John L. Sullivan will go all the way from New York to New Orleans to get a pounding from Thos.
Corbett on the 6th of September, but that is no worse than McDowell did. He came here from Nashville and got a pounding from Judge Robertson.

Republicans, democrats, people parties begin to think whom you will get to present your side of the question at the big meeting this fall, if it is gotten up. It will require the best talent you can get, for there can be 5,000 people on the ground to hear it.

We would like to confer with the chairman of all the political parties in the county next Monday relative to a grand political demonstration here during the month of October. A political campmeeting would be a new thing for west Kentucky, and let's start the ball to rolling in Marshall county.

"The Southern Journal" is an exchange that we always read, because in it we never find anything bad, common or unclean and while we like it and love to read it we must confess that its columns are too full of Smith. There are many papers too full of politics, and many men get too full of liquor, but the Southern Journal is too full of Smith.

The candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney are hustling things in McCracken county this week, and we understand things are getting quite warm in some parts of the county.
J. M. Fisher is making many friends for commonwealth's attorney and his chances for that place are brightening every day. If his friends will only look to his interest he will certainly receive the nomination. If our people would only give more attention to the nomination of Mr. Fisher they would do a good work.

AT GREEN'S STORE.

McDowell Backs Down from His Agreement at Hamlet.

At Hamlet, McDowell, in the division of time between himself and Judge Robertson, agreed that he would speak first at Green's store one hour and that Robertson should follow in a speech of the same time, but when they met there McDowell backed down from his own proposition and refused to stand by the agreement made at Hamlet the day before.
He spoke an hour and a half and left for Mayfield, after which Robertson completely routed him from every standpoint; tore down all of his air castles, and if possible treated him worse than he did at Hamlet.

A. J. Ogilvie was there and he so sore over the defeat of his champion from Tennessee that he got up and pawed the earth until he was almost left by himself before he quit. The democrats have good cause to congratulate themselves on the result of the great McDowell two days campaign in Marshall county. Gentleman, send in another man to patch up the broken fragments of your shattered party.

During the epidemic of flux in this county, 1888, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the past ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux than any other medicine I have ever handled.—J. H. Benham, druggist, Golconda, Pope county, Illinois.
Over five hundred bottles of this remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to.
It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by R. H.
Starks.

land, T. N. Jones, J. W. Holland, F.
T. Johnson, T. H. Hall, J. T. Irvan, G. W. Lemon, J. C. Noble and T. E.
Gregory: You are hereby notified to meet the chairman of the county committee in Benton Sept. 5, 1892, at 10 o'clock, a.m., at the office of Reed & Oliver. Don't fail to be present as there is business of importance to attend to on that day. Very truly, mittee for Marshall county.

THE TRIBUNE.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

R. LEMON, Editor & Proprietor.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at J. R. Lemon's drugstore, 50¢ per bottle.

Boys and Girls.

The year of greatest growth in boys is the 17th; in girls, the 14th. While girls reach full height in their 15th year they acquire full weight at the age of 20. Boys are stronger than girls from birth to the 11th year; then girls become superior physically to the 17th year, when the tables are again turned and remain so. From November to April children grow very little and gain no weight; from April to July they gain in height, but lose in weight, and from July to November they increase greatly in weight, but not in height.

John S. Edwards

Of Adams N. Y., makes the following sworn statement: Kenyon & Thomas: This is to certify that I knew your wonderful medicine, Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, will do in cases of pneumonia. Last winter my mother, who is 75 years of age, was sick unto death with pneumonia. Both lungs were badly involved. The attending physician said she must die. As a last resort we commenced using your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment, applying it freely and thoroughly to the chest, keeping the lungs covered with hot flannels. She soon began to improve and in twelve hours the crisis was passed and she was out of danger, and is alive and well to day. Your remedy saved her life. John S. Edwards, Sworn and subscribed before me, Wm. H. Taylor, Notary Public. For sale at J. R. Lemon's drug store.

All who travel must have noticed how much the stylish summer girl is wearing green. Green is emphatically the color of hope, of freshness and of youth. The early ecclesiastical painters all associate it with hope. The wings and robes of Dante's angels that visited the souls in purgatory were green. The association may explain why Armado in Love's Labor Lost, declares that "green is indeed the color of lovers," a sentiment in which Shakespeare is supported by many other poets.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. (15-23) W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Milk as a Dressing for Wounds.

Milk has been found to possess remarkable healing qualities, if applied to wounds in an early stage, and excellent results have been obtained by its use in the dressing of burns. Compresses are soaked in milk and laid on the burn, to be renewed night and morning. An extensive burn has in this way been reduced in three days to one-quarter of its original size. Another burn, which had been treated for eight days with olive oil and oxide of zinc, healed rapidly under a milk dressing.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it free. Call on the advertised druggist and get a trial bottle free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing at Lemon's drug store.

"Why do birds in their little nests agree?" asked the pretty school-marm of Freddy Fangle. "'Cause they'd fall out if they didn't," Freddy replied.

When Your Liver

Is torpid and sluggish, you cannot do business successfully. Everything goes wrong. You don't feel well. Get your liver in good working order by using Dr. Hale's Household Tea, the great blood purifier and nerve tonic. It has no equal as a health restorer. For sale at J. R. Lemon's drug store.

Our Agent at Durham N. C., writes: "Our jewelers have confessed they don't know how you can furnish such goods for the money."

Our Agent at Pennington, Tex., writes: "Am in receipt of the watch, and am pleased without measure. All who have seen it say it would be cheap at $40."

"The only thing that I am superstitious about," remarked Barlow, "is to return home from the club after 1 o'clock and find my wife awake. It's a sure sign of ill-luck."

Commissioner's Sale.

Z. Martin, guardian of Viola P. Martin & others, Plaintiff Against Viola P. Martin, Ollie May Martin & D. K. Martin, Defendants. Equity.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Common Pleas court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1892, in the above styled cause, the undersigned will, on Monday, the 5th day of September, 1892, between the hours of 1 o'clock p. m. and 3 o'clock p. m., at the court house door, Benton, Marshall county, Ky., (being county court day,) proceed to expose to public sale, to the highest bidder on a credit of six months the following described property, viz: Lot No. 2 in the division of the lands of G. R. Dowdy, deceased, containing 50 acres, it being one seventh of the whole of the said Dowdy land taken off of the south end of the 100 acre tract of land conveyed by T. M. Freeman to said G. R. Dowdy, deceased, being part of the Shields survey of 1060 acres lying on the Tennessee river. See Deed Book No. 13, page 595. Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of six months. J. R. LEMON, M. C. C. P. C. At last, after searching for years, I have discovered the only genuine and effect cure for hay fever. All the quinine pills in the world will not give a tenth of the relief to the sufferer that will a single trial of my great and only remedy, and I give the idea away. It is nothing more nor less than a wash made of witch-hazel and cocaine to be applied to the nasal passages when the dreadful asthma comes on. It will stop the wheezing in no time, and then hay fever will have lost all its terrors.

Thirteen courses in operation: Primary, Intermediate, Preparatory, Teachers', Scientific, Classic Law, Stenography, Telegraphy, Business, Music, Elocution and Music. Entire expense for year of 1½ months is $109. Send for 60-page catalogue.

STATEMENTS.

I have attended the two leading normal universities north. I unhesitatingly pronounce the facilities and instruction of the Southern Normal University superior to either of these. The Professors are scholarly and sociable, and have nothing about them that savors of egotism, a thing too often found in many institutions. The instruction is thorough and extensive in the fullest sense, and everything exceeds the representations of the catalogues. The faculty are loyal to their students, and any young man or woman attending the Southern Normal Institute and completing any of the regular courses is sure of a remunerative position. E. B. NELSON, Member of Scientific Graduating Class, Ada, Ohio.

I have attended different normal schools. Last year I attended the largest normal school in the United States. I am now in the Southern Normal Institute. It gives me pleasure to say that I consider this university equal in every way to any I have ever attended, and decidedly superior in many respects. The work done in the class-rooms is superior in point of thoroughness and rapidity. Especially do I wish to say that the board given here at $5 per month is equally as good as that given in the other schools at $7 or $8. HOMER L. HIGGS, Martin, Tenn.
