Work On Edgewood-Fulton Cut-Off Progressing Rapidly

Steam Shovel Working Day and Night

The Nelson & Company steam shovels are taking advantage of the good weather, and are being operated day and night in an effort to complete the excavation as quickly as possible on the new line. The shovel has moved another half mile nearer town and it will not be long now before we will see its beam showing in the vicinity of Fulton. It is thought that the shovel at No. 1 camp will complete its work by the first of May, and that the Railroad company will be able to commence laying ballast before many months, at which time the new line will begin to take on the form of a railroad. Work is being speeded up to the maximum, and it is thought that rail may be laid on at least a portion of the line this year.

Tries to Catch Train—Leg Cut Off—Dies

Newman Todd, age 16, residing about 6 miles east of Fulton on State Line, while attempting to catch a freight train at Ripley, Tenn., last Wednesday, fell and had one leg crushed. He was brought to Fulton, and his leg was amputated, but he died Wednesday night in Dr. Lutton's office, after the amputation had been made. It was stated that the young man had lost too much blood to survive after coming out from under the influence of the ether.

We extend our sympathies to the family of young Todd, in their hour of bereavement.

This should be a lesson to other boys who catch and ride freight trains. The railroad spends many millions in building and maintaining the passenger coach, in order to make transportation safe for passengers. Stay off freight trains, and prolong your life.

Tennessee Division Strawberries Move in April

A canvass of the strawberry crop has been made by the officials of the Tennessee Division, and it is estimated that the yield will be as good if not much better this year than last year, although not as good as two or three years previous to 1925. There were shipped from this vicinity during 1925, 185 cars of strawberries, and it is estimated that there will be shipped from this vicinity this year, between 600 and 700 cars. During years 1922-1923 and 1924, the carload shipments amounted to around 1,000 cars, but due to the low prices prevailing in 1924, the acreage was cut short. It is thought that the price for this product will be good this season, which will in turn, increase the acreage, it is believed.

Officers Made from Rank

In a recent statement made by President C. H. Markham, of the Illinois Central, the success of that system is partially due to the fact that in selecting its officers the road goes to the rank and file of its employees, and that this results in having as its officers, men who are thoroughly experienced in its traditions and policies. Another result is to encourage all officers and employees to put forth their best efforts, knowing they are potential candidates for positions ahead of them in which vacancies may occur through retirement, resignation, death or other cause. Oftentimes the filling of a vacancy in an official position entails the promotions of several men, each to fill the vacancy made by the promotion next ahead. Such a series of changes resulted from the retirement January 1, of Col. A. H. Egan, general superintendent of the Y. & M. V., which is a part of the Illinois Central System. This promotion gave a promotion to Trainmaster McLaurine, making his superintendent at McComb, Miss., and in turn promoted Mr. McFarlin, formerly dispatcher to the position of trainmaster.

Mr. Markham stated that no class of employees were barred from promotion, and that the employee best qualified for the position, regardless of what branch of service he may be serving in, is the man who gets the promotion. Mr. Markham stated that the news of these changes is significant to both the patrons and the employees of the Illinois Central System. It means, for the patrons, that these positions will be administered by men who have been in training for advancement, and who have demonstrated their ability to discharge responsibilities given them. It means, for the employees, that the Illinois Central System still is looking for its own organization for official timber—that every man, in every job, is a candidate for advancement.

President C. H. Markham passed through Fulton en route south, first of the week.

Vice President J. J. Pelley passed through Fulton Monday of this week, returning from an extended visit in Havana, Cuba. He was accompanied by Mr. L. E. Tigrett, president of the G. M. & N. Railroad and a number of other friends.

Clerk Albert Thompson in the Division Office has been granted a 90 days leave of absence, with permission to attend school. It is understood that he will attend the business school at Jackson, Tenn.

Vice President Mann passed through Fulton Monday on the Seminole en route to Savannah, Ga.

Mr. T. J. Williams, of Augusta, Ga., spent the week end visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Williams on Walnut street.

Supt. H. W. Williams made a business trip to Jackson, Tenn., first of the week.

Roadmaster S. J. Holt made a business trip to Jackson, Tenn., Monday of this week.

Hickman News

The Fulton county fiscal court was in Frankfort recently to see what they could do for Fulton county roads, to hurry the completion of the hard road through the county, and they did well. The result of their efforts is that they made it possible for the grading and drainage of these roads to be completed by the first of April, and as soon as this is completed, the fiscal court will advertise for bids on at least three types of high-class roads. The intention is to let these in two or three contracts, so that the hard surfacing can be pushed to completion during the year of 1926. This includes the primary system from Fulton to the Lake county, Tennessee, line, a distance of almost 35 miles. County Judge C. D. Nugent has worked untiringly on getting hard roads built through Fulton county, and our roads will be among the first hard roads in this section of the state.

Fulton Antlers Elect Officers

R. E. Pickering Unanimously Elected Exalted Ruler

Fulton Lodge No. 1142 B. P. O. E. held its annual election at the club rooms Monday night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year.

R. E. Pickering, exalted ruler; H. H. Murphy, esteemed leading knight; R. M. W. Pigue, esteemed lecturer; P. M. Newhouse, secretary; D. W. Smith, treasurer; W. R. Butt, trustee; Ed Wade, tiler.

After the election, a smoker was enjoyed and talks for the good of the order were listened to with much interest.

The Elks lodge was instituted in Fulton, December 29, 1909, by Smith T. Bailey, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler for the Western District of Kentucky with a chartered membership of forty-two. Now the membership is around 200, comprising the very best element of the citizenship of this community. The leading citizens of every walk in life in Fulton are to be found in this order. The order of Elks is a charitable and social order. It stands primarily for charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity, and these virtues have been exemplified in this community to a far greater extent than the outside world has any idea of. This order believes that the proper way to do charity is to do it and say nothing about it.

The order is in good hands for the ensuing year and under the able and efficient direction of these officers, assisted by the efforts of each individual Elk it is predicted the membership will be largely increased. May the antlered tribe of Fulton and surrounding community soon be a thousand and more.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Next Tuesday night will be the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, and every member should be present as there will be offered an Constitutional Amendment, and an amendment of the By-Laws, affecting the number of members to be elected to the Board of Directors.

The announcement of various committees will also be made and a number of other matters of interest for the coming year will undoubtedly be announced.

Mrs. Jake Huddleston is visiting friends in Memphis and attending grand opera.

Tobacco News

Twenty-four dollars was the high water mark for tobacco at the loose leaf floor last Friday, with 117,000 pounds sold.

The market was lower on trash lugs but steady on common leaf. An indication of the satisfaction of the farmers with the price was shown in the decidedly smaller number of rejections.

Reports from the managers of a steady delivery, and this report is borne out by the casual observer on the streets, who may see numerous loads of the leaf coming from the country from every direction.

One reason for the deliveries is probably, that there are many farmers who have delayed deliveries, hoping for better prices, but as the season is getting short, and spring work beginning to crowd them, they are hurrying their crops to market before the spring work occupies all their time.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The Fulton Poultry Association held its February meeting last Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce and started its program for the coming poultry show which will be held this fall in connection with the Fulton Country Fair.

A number of ideas were advanced by those present and if the plan laid are carried out, the exhibition next fall will surpass that of the last show, which was, admittedly, the best that has ever been held in Fulton.

Another meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m., at which time the question of joining the American Poultry Association will probably be decided. If the Fulton Association becomes a member of this national organization, it will mean that all birds shown at the Fulton show, and that qualify, will be eligible to show in any exhibition in the United States and the ribbons given will certify that the holder, the owner of birds that are up to the standard specifications and any one purchasing eggs from the holder is sure to obtain first class stock.

All persons interested in better poultry are cordially invited to attend the next meeting of the Fulton Poultry Association, whether members or not.

Mrs. George Gourley of Memphis, has been the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Gourley this week.

Misses Dorris Huddleston and La Verne Browder will leave this afternoon for Memphis to visit friends and attend grand opera.

Masons Are Active In Fulton

Last week was a very active one in the Masonic circle of the city. On Tuesday, Jerry Moss Chapter Royal Arch Masons began work in the afternoon to confer the several degrees on a class of neophytes and worked until 6:10, when they filed in the dining room and were seated at tables laden with a variety of good eats, the chief one being that famous Kentucky stew, Burgoo, prepared by Mr. M. I. Anderson, who is an expert along that line.

On the following Friday, Fulton Commandery Knights Templar met for the purpose of work and inspection, they began work in the afternoon and continued until called to refreshments, which consisted of quite a number of dishes, together with brick cream and cakes, but one of special mention was the celebrated Butterly salad made by M. I. Boulton, who has become quite famous in serving that delectable dish.

After enjoying some good cigars, the Knights returned to the hall and received the inspecting officer, Sir Knight Fred Acker of Paducah, Grand Sword Bearer of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky. Then the work was continued until finished. The inspecting officer made an interesting and instructive talk along the line of Templarism.

There was a number of pleasant remarks made by the different knights that were enjoyed by their hearers, the meeting was a success and enjoyed by all present. There was quite a number from out of town present.

CITY LINING UP BIDDERS ON SEWERAGE CONTRACTS

Mayor Shankle and his board of Councilmen are leaving nothing undone to get work started as early as possible on Fulton's sewerage system. Contractors are being notified to get ready to send in their bids and within the next 60 or 90 days' work may be started on the project.

NOTICE

The Fulton Poultry Association will hold a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, March 12, at 7:30 P. M., at which time the plans for the coming County Fair meeting will be perfected.

Every chicken fancier, whether they are members of the association or not, are invited to attend this meeting.

TRAFFIC GUIDES ORDERED FOR FULTON

Councilmen Hold Busy Session Monday Night

One of the hardest municipal problems is automobile traffic through towns and villages. While Fulton has been unusually fortunate in having but few accidents on the streets, the city "dads" are doing all in their power to prevent accidents at all and have ordered a number of traffic guides to take the place of the "tombstone" posts in the center of the streets now. The traffic guides ordered are dome shape, lighted by electricity and only eight inches high and equally conspicuous day or night. By day it appears a bright yellow dome, while at night the vertical ribs reflect the light so that the whole dome appears a brilliant red and at a distance the grating cannot be noticed. Within the dome is the bowl made of special ruby glass, one fourth inch thick on the sides so that there is no danger of breakage.

DAWES-CAVENDER

At the McDade home on State Line Street Sunday afternoon Miss Sallie Dawes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dawes, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Pet Cavender, of the Dukedom vicinity, Esq. S. A. McDade officiating. The bride is an accomplished young woman and has a large circle of friends, while the groom is a prosperous farmer and highly esteemed by a large acquaintance.

After the ceremony the happy couple left immediately for their home near Dukedom to receive congratulations from their friends.

Chestnut Glade

A sad death occurred in the community last week. Newman Todd, son of Joe Todd and three other boys, started to Florida in an old car. It seems the car gave out before they reached Memphis. In trying to catch a freight train for home, Newman fell under the car, which ran over his foot, cutting it off. He was taken to Fulton for medical attention, but did not recover after the operation. He was 16 years and 7 months old; just entering into manhood. The bereaved family has our deepest sympathy.

The Ladies' club met Thursday with Mrs. Jim Burke. Quite a number of ladies were present, also several visitors. One new member was enrolled, Mrs. T. D. Butts.

The regular business meeting was held, several items of new business were discussed. In order to more perfectly understand the work of the health unit in the county, a motion was made and carried that we invite the health doctor and nurses to arrange to come to the school house some evening in the near future and make an address upon this subject for the benefit of the community, and thereby obtain a more intelligent and hearty cooperation of the people.

We decided to accept the proposition of the Curtis Publishing Co., to take subscriptions for their magazines, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the school at Chestnut Glade.

So if you need either a farm, home or business magazine, see some member of the ladies' club and give them your subscription.

Letters and an article were read in regard to the Federation but no definite action was taken in regard to it. This was followed by a shower in honor of the bride, Mrs. Lindsay Breeden. Many useful articles were received, after a few well chosen words of thanks by Mrs. Breeden. We adjourned to meet with Mrs. Roy Ray, on Thursday, March 18. The subject to be discussed being, "Better Homes."

NEW MACHINE NOW AT WORK

AIR DRIED CLOTHES FROM A MODERN LAUNDRY

The missing link to laundry perfection has been welded in the chain of modern equipment at the O. K. Steam Laundry, of Fulton. The Vorelone Tumbler, the Twentieth Century Laundry wonder has been installed.

It is the greatest laundry development in years. Because, now the modern laundry not only washes clean whatever you choose to send, but also duplicates in every respect the method of drying that the housewife has employed for time immemorial, namely, the hanging of the washing on the old-fashioned close line, to bask and dry in the glorious sunshine.

This new method of drying by air eliminates for all time that unmistakable odor which has branded the work of the power laundry in the past.

Thousands and Thousands of Cubic Feet of Concentrated Sunshine.

The scientific application of air as a drying agent in the power laundry is accomplished by the perfection of the Vorelone Drying Tumbler. This most wonderful machine harnesses clean fresh air in such great volumes that it almost entirely eliminates the necessity of heat to dry clothes with. It dries clothes by air, evenly and gently, ventilating them thoroughly, freeing them entirely of all lint, leaving them soft, fluffy and perfectly odorless. Clothes dried in this manner are never shrunk, discolored or left with a harsh feel.

The Vorelone Tumbler used in the O. K. Laundry is the only drying tumbler that does not depend solely on heat to dry clothes, it is the missing link in an otherwise perfect laundrying process.

Be sure to see this wonder machine at the O. K. Laundry anytime, feel and smell the clothes it dries, notice how fresh and sweet smelling they are.

With perfect satisfaction the O. K. Laundry can now take your family wash and return it clean and sweet with the proper amount of starch used to give utmost satisfaction and delight to the housewife, yet when it is returned home it will be soft and fluffy without that harsh feeling.

For those who prefer to do their own ironing at home we now take the family washing and return it home clean and dry (not ironed) for 6 cents a pound. You will find many of the pieces so perfectly washed and dried that ironing will be unnecessary.

O. K. STEAM LAUNDRY

Community Building

Entrances Into Town Should Be Attractive

It is a fact that there is no lack of beauty along the railroad lines in England, France, Germany and other places. Liberal planting of grass and shrubs, either by the railroad or the various municipalities, has transformed these railroad lines into lanes of beauty.

The aim of American civic authorities should be to make the railroad highways of the country as attractive as any of those in the old countries. Particular attention will be given to the approaches to towns. The idea is spreading rapidly. The American Railway Development association has passed resolutions recently to further the aims of the real estate men by co-operating with them in this important work.

Committees have been organized in New Orleans, Milwaukee, Duluth, Atlanta; Erie and Lancaster, Pa.; South Bend, Dayton, Des Moines; Trenton, N. J.; Providence, R. I.; Lockport, N. Y.; Dade City, Fla.; Warren, Ohio; Mishawaka, Ind.; Kankakee, Ill.; Madison, Wis.; Little Rock, Ark.; Arkansas City; Ogden, Utah; Casper, Wyo.; Albany, Ore.; Pasadena, Venice and Riverside, Cal.

They will urge upon the manufacturer located along the railroad the advantages to him, his business and the town of keeping his factory yard as clean and attractive as it is economically possible.

The plan calls for new station signs prominently placed. Besides the name of the town, it will give the total population, real estate and business wealth, and the town's chief industry.

Painters Have Much to Do With City's Safety

The house painter is as vital a member of a city's public safety forces as the fireman according to J. P. Rising, president of the Illinois Master House Painters' and Decorators' association.

"His position is unofficial," he said, "but he protects the citizens from destruction more devastating than fire and from losses far greater than they might suffer at the hands of the most unscrupulous burglar."

The painter, according to Mr. Rising, saves life and property by means of his commodity, paint. Rot and rust attack unprotected surfaces. Disease germs flourish in the decaying parts of wood and on all rough, damp surfaces. Rot and rust are more insidious than fire, but their action, an oxidation of wood and metal, is a "slow-motion picture," as Mr. Rising termed it, of the more spectacular flames.

"The difference is," he added, "that whereas fires are occasional occurrences, rot and rust are at work continually. A house must be always protected against them."

Home and City Synonymous

Home is more than the house, it is more than the grounds. It is deeper than any designation of physical boundary and more rich than anything made with hands. It is the dwelling place of the spirit—if the liberal thinkers will admit that each of us has such a thing—as well as of the body, which they seem to admit that we do possess. The house is the center of home, but it is no distortion of the truth to say that the city of one's abiding place is his home also. It is the wider home, but it is his. As a man labors to provide for his house, as a woman gives of the best of her strength and forethought to make goodly the house that is her own, so ought they both, proportionately, to do their best to make their larger home, which is their city, a prosperous place.

Garden Adornment

Garden architecture must echo and reflect and be consistent with the architecture of the house itself. Pergolas of classic design cannot unbend to a rambling, careless little bungalow, nor can a rustic pergola rise to the dignity of a Georgian mansion. Naturally, if there is architectural adornment in the garden, it should be interrelated with that of the house. The use of a pergola is to support vines and to provide a pleasant, shady walk. But there is no reason for its existence if there is no vine for it to support, no destination to lead to.—The Designer Magazine

John Deere-Syracuse Slat Moldboard Plow—1471 Series

This plow works well in soils where any solid moldboard—chilled or steel—cannot be made to shed. It does good work in practically all conditions.

Plows of this series are exceptionally strong. The high-arched, double-beaded beams of high-carbon steel are guaranteed not to bend or break. Here's another big feature: the malleable standards are die-dropped, which insures the uniform shaping of each standard—the moldboard, shin, landside and share assembled on this standard, are held rigidly together; repair parts fit perfectly.

Syracuse chilled iron is the hardest metal used in plow bottoms—one deep-chilled Syracuse share will outlast two similar shares of other makes.

Come in and see this better plow and let us explain the interchangeability of parts that means long life and uninterrupted good service.

One Death Per 1000 Autos in a Year Is Record of U. S.

One out of a thousand is the relationship between the annual automobile fatalities and the number of motor vehicles in this country, according to the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, which has undertaken a strenuous campaign of automobile safety and accident prevention.

And for every fatality there are at least 28 accidents serious enough to get on record. This does not take into consideration minor sprains and bruises or people suffering from nervous shock as the result of being in an automobile accident.

To appreciate what a vast array of killed and injured is annually conscripted by the reckless motorist and careless pedestrian, a comparison may be made with American casualties in the great war. Over a third as many people are killed annually by the automobile as there were American soldiers killed on the field of battle during the entire war, while the number injured each year is nearly three times as great as the number of our boys who were wounded throughout the war.

Pedestrian Greatest Victim of Automobile Accidents

THE PEDESTRIAN is the greatest sufferer in automobile fatalities, according to records analyzed by the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents. No complete record is available for the United States as a whole, but a report based on 3,023 auto fatalities occurring in the first seven months of 1925, covering a population of thirty-one million, is significant. Two thousand of these 3,023 fatalities have been classified according to type. Sixty-eight per cent of the victims were pedestrians, 11.5 occurred with another motor vehicle; 7 per cent with horse vehicles, 4.2 with fixed objects such as lamp posts, 3.5 per cent with street cars, 2.7 with railway trains and 1.4 per cent with bicycles. The remaining 6.8 per cent involved no collision. The small proportion involving railway trains is encouraging and doubtless due to the gradual abolition of unguarded grade crossings. The doubtless due to the gradual abolition of unguarded grade crossings. The measure to the pedestrian, however, is alarming, and calls for greater care on his part in crossing streets and on the drivers for more careful driving.

Emergency Pantry Meets Home Need

By META H. GIVEN
(Home Economist)

Efficiency and economy go hand in hand in the home as well as in the business world. The emergency pantry, latest in innovation in the cuisine of the modern housewife is particularly indicative of the truth of this statement.

This new sort of pantry—it may just be a shelf in the regular larder—does away with that long list of the home maker, the surprise guest. Every woman has had the experience of welcoming an unexpected visitor when supplies were at low ebb and has searched high and low to find something presentable to put on the table. The emergency shelf in the pantry does away with such worries in short order.

A can opener and— presto—a veritable banquet can be prepared in a few minutes. The housewife may have her choice of many excellent meats, corn, tomatoes, mushrooms. If she is short of milk or cream, a can of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk sterilized in the can and with sixty per cent of the water removed will do the trick. In fact she may have two hundred or more savory dishes ready to her hand.

When the surprise guest does arrive the hostess naturally wishes to be hospitable. She doesn't want to be tied to the kitchen range half the afternoon. She wants to entertain as she has been entertained.

It isn't possible if she has to phone frantically for the butcher, the grocer and the baker.

But that's only one of the places where the emergency pantry comes in. Backed by a well-stocked emergency shelf, the wife can get together a splendid luncheon or dinner in a jiffy. The spontaneous wish that comes at the last moment to entertain is inviolate a few friends for lunch can be gratified at once with the aid of the new pantry.

Afternoon tea for the bridge club is an equally easy matter. A glass of preserves or jelly, a platter of bread and butter, tea, and a dish of cookies will meet the ordinary demands of the casual caller and a can of evaporated milk will answer the milk or cream need.

Be a Milk Tippler, Says Dr. Schireson

Peaches and cream complexion of American women have their foundation in a milk diet, according to Dr. Henry J. Schireson, famous Chicago dermatologist and facial plastic surgeon.

Doctor Schireson has won fame by beautifying motion picture, musical comedy and vaudeville stars and many society women of America. He transformed Fanny Brice's nose, rejuvenated Eva Tanguay's face, removed sixty-four pounds of adipose tissue from Truly Shattuck in one operation, straightened the cross eyes of the leading lady of Singer's midwest, and has performed other corrections for making people young and beautiful.

Doctor Schireson has one infallible prescription for the attainment of beauty. It is: "one quart of milk a day, one hour of sunshine, and repeat ad infinitum."

"Beauty specialists and cosmetic makers," says Doctor Schireson, "would be driven out of business in a few weeks if all the women of America would drink their quart of milk a day."

"Babies and children have complexions of angels for the reason that they are fed largely on milk. Milk used externally or internally is a beautifier. Anna Held, I believe, was the first actress who adopted the milk bath. While this was a novelty at the time, and her press agent undoubtedly made the most of it, the principle in itself was sound. But a beauty secret of even more value is the daily quart of milk taken as a part of the diet."

"The milk-fed girl is easily distinguished by the velvety texture and the healthy color of her skin. Milk is a wonderful body builder, because it contains every structural element. It is, in a way, an elixir of life."

"Authorities agree that milk is the most nearly perfect food but it is an extremely delicate one as well. Heat sufficient to kill all bacteria is the essential of absolutely pure and sterile milk. One of the advantages of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk with sixty per cent of the water removed, is that it is entirely sterile and is more easily assimilated than ordinary market milk."

"Milk is mentioned forty-seven times in the Bible. The Promised Land of the Israelites was said to flow 'with milk and honey' and Ovid graded milk as second only to nectar, the drink of the gods."

Egg Eaters Increase in 1925
Prices Highest in Five Years

Egg prices during the past year were higher than they have been since 1920, according to the annual review of the egg market made by the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. While there has been very little difference in the total production this past year as compared to 1924, the higher prices during 1925 indicate larger consumer demand.

MAKING FARM
RECORDS TALK

By D. H. OTIS
Agricultural Director,
American Bankers Association.

Any one who has driven an automobile in a new country knows the value of a good road map. Farm accounts, properly kept, are a reliable road map to aid the farmer in directing the business management of his farm.

D. H. OTIS

In farming communities where records have been kept in considerable number it is not uncommon to find differences in net income of $1,000 per farm between the average and the poorer farms of the community. It is also frequently found that there is a difference of over $1,000 between the average farm and a few of the better farms of the community. These differences of from $1,000 to $2,000 per farm in the net income are of vital concern to any farm in any community.

Where to Get the Facts

Farm records and inventories will reveal the reasons for these differences. The various colleges of agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture have a collection of records and farm management surveys from which they find it possible to construct standards or guides showing actual attainments under good systems of management. Figures of this kind are available to county agents and farmers who desire to use them. It is also possible to organize farm accounting groups in a community and with the help of the College of Agriculture to develop community standards showing what the average and what the better farms are doing. These standards or examples of what the more successful farms are doing, when handled in such a way as not to divulge the identity of the owners, are a wonderful help in pointing out to the less successful farmers the weak spots in the business management of their farms.

How to Use the Facts

The farmer who keeps a careful record of the factors relating to the business management of his farm is in position to compare his farm with the average and with the best in the volume of business, as number of acres, total investment, number of cows, total receipts and total expenses. He can check on his diversity of income by comparing his income from sale of cows, sale of livestock, livestock products and sales from miscellaneous sources. The quality of business can be studied by comparing such items as income per acre or income per cow, etc.

By such a process the farmer is in position to make his records talk to him and point out the weak and the strong features in his farm operation. There is no tax that we pay today that compares with the tax we pay for our ignorance. This is true or the farm as elsewhere. Farm records, including inventories from which it is easy to form financial statements, will do wonders in reducing the tax of ignorance and placing farm business on a business basis and inspire confidence in the farmer, himself and with all those with whom he deals.

BANKERS HELP

Minnesota bankers played a constructive part in boosting the attendance at the Northwest Dairy Exposition held in connection with the State Fair in September. Five hundred members of the Minnesota Bankers Association received letters from the chairman of the agricultural committee asking them to assist in forming delegations from their respective communities to attend the show.

The Atlanta, Ga., Clearing House gives the boll weevil no rest. In an effort to effect a concerted and statewide poison war on the boll weevil, this institution sent letters recently to all the bankers in the state asking that they assist in emphasizing the need for a wholesale war on the pest. According to a recent survey poisoning is being done on the larger farms, but not to any appreciable extent on the small farms. According to reports by the Department of Agriculture, the boll weevil infestation is heavier this year than ever before, and it allowed to go unchallenged the crop will be destroyed. Immediate and extensive action is urged.

Over two hundred bankers in Iowa recently made an arrangement to attend the Iowa State University for a two-day period and study farming and farm problems. The bankers will sit as students under the professors in the agricultural department, and will dig right down to the bottom of the many subjects which are of mutual concern to themselves and the farm. This action on the part of the bankers of Iowa shows a real spirit of interest and a determined intention to understand.

Clark County (S. D.) Bankers have appointed an agricultural committee of five to aid the county agent in putting across the latter's program of work, with especial emphasis on a ten acre corn contest and eradication of cornborers in the county.

PAVTRY

RAISING GEESE IS QUITE PROFITABLE

During the past year I have been raising geese and I have found them to be profitable. There is a good market for geese.

In the first place geese require less grain than any other fowl. That is important. The geese derive a great part of their living from pasture and roaming about, and they get just what they require in the way of feed. In winter it's different. We must feed them, but they do not eat like other fowls, and I have found they will fatten more quickly than other fowls. I am a writer in the Indiana Farmer's Guide. The important thing that I do not want overlooked is the fact that the goslings are the easiest of all fowls to raise. That has been my experience of many years past, perhaps ten years or longer. Once they are hatched out, with ordinary care, they will thrive and grow with rapidity to maturity. The thing that is hardest is to get them hatched. I have found so many eggs that were infertile, so I always set plenty of them.

The little goslings will seldom touch feed other than bits of grass until after three or four days. One thing is essential, and that is having plenty of drinking water. They must have this, and require it, for that seems to be their very nature.

The hen and goslings are kept in their coop, where it is warm for the first week. Sometimes I keep them in ten days when it is damp and cold. After that they are allowed all the free range they want, except on rainy days.

The first feed I give the goslings is hard-boiled eggs mixed with milk and cornmeal. That is the best thing in the way of feed that I have ever tried. The milk must be sweet for best results. The eggs may be crushed up, shell and all, and mixed with the milk and cornmeal.

The first month the goslings are fed about four times a day. I have always done this, for while young and growing they require nourishment often, although sparingly fed each time. It is folly to overfeed and it is also injurious.

The breeding birds are fed carefully during winter. I give them clover, vegetables and sprouted oats, so they do not get too fat.

Young Turkeys Require
Shelter in Wet Weather

Young turkeys are susceptible to wet weather. One precaution that must always be observed in handling the young poult is to see that they have a dry place where they are protected from the rainstorms, and that they have a dry place to roost.

Turkey hens will lay when a year old if they are well matured. It is probably best to keep the majority of the flock older hens, but it is necessary to keep some of the better young hens to gradually replace the older ones. In this way the flock can be kept in the best of condition.

In feeding and caring for young poult, there are as many different methods and methods advocated as there are for chicks.

No food should be given to the young poult for the first 36 to 48 hours. During the first week hard-boiled infertile eggs chopped fine and mixed with equal parts of rolled oats and fed in limited quantities three times a day is a satisfactory ration. Sour skimmed milk or buttermilk is excellent for drinking purposes. After the third or fourth day cracked corn, hulled or steel-cut oats, cracked wheat or other similar grains may be scattered in the light litter or in the short grass outside of the brood coop in order to encourage the poult to exercise in getting their food.

June Is the Best Time to Caponize Cockerels

While capons are produced only in small number where their quality is known, they sell for fancy prices, according to D. H. Hall, extension poultry specialist of Clemson college, who suggests that the month of June is the best time to caponize young cockerels. At this season the market is usually low for broilers and it will pay to caponize cockerels and keep them for capons.

In selling these capons the local market must be developed first. Some of our tourist towns are already providing good market for capons and are paying good prices for them. Several men in South Carolina are caponizing their flocks, and are marketing their products for them at a small cost.

The operation on the cockerel is not difficult usually, but should be performed with care. If the cockerels are starved out from 36 to 48 hours before the operation, it will help greatly. If the intestines are full of food the operation is very difficult.

Dirty Feet Retard Eggs

When yards and houses are wet and ooze with moisture most of the time, it means cold and dirty feet for the hens. A hen that "gets cold feet" seldom lays the right quota of eggs, and dirty feet make dirty nests and dirty eggs. In cases where a suitable dry location is hard to get, along with other desirable factors, place a three-inch tile even with the bottom of the foundation on the outside, and provide proper outlet for excess moisture.

THE HIGHEST COURT

You are the judge and the jury. Your verdict is final. There can be no appeal for the judgment of the high court of Public Opinion is final.

The wares of the world must stand your inspection—the product of every factory—the merchandise of every store. The things that fail to measure up to your requirements are quickly condemned to oblivion.

The merchant who advertises deliberately places his merchandise on trial. He openly courts your critical inspection. He invites comparison. He directs your attention to his goods and then forces those goods to stand on their own merits.

If he were not sure of his wares, he would not dare to advertise. For advertising would put him to a test he could not meet, and thus hasten the end of his business career. It would be business suicide.

You can depend on the man who advertises. He knows his merchandise is good.

That's one reason why it pays to read the advertisements you find in this paper. It is through the advertisements that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to keep before you.

SCOLDERS

People don't differ much in the matter of scolding. Few deserve punishment under the penal code for common scolds but petulant scolding is one of the most universal of human traits. Whether we know it or admit it we are all chronic critics of our fellows. Perhaps there is some truth in the expression, "we love each other for our faults."

Cartoons and comic strips are given to gross exaggeration, especially as regards the marital state, but where is there a happily wedded pair which is not scolded into married bliss? Of course, they are intended as helpful suggestions and household hints, but those remarks about bills, cigar ashes, late dinners and delayed dinners, and other conjugal annoyances are but examples of everyday and unnoticed family scoldings. Our neighbors alone are aware of their presence.

The statistician affords us rare opportunities for giving vent to our natural propensity for complaining. How the men scold the women for their extravagances when the revenue bureau announces what was spent for cosmetics and silken hose in the preceding year and what a babel is set up by the wives and mothers when the tobacco statistics are broadcasted. A new source of scolding is the automobile. Non-owners charge the motorists with forcing the world into bankruptcy, and automobile owners scold the pedestrian for something just as reasonable.

LINK WEST KENTUCKY IN SUPERPOWER UNIT

Hundred Communities and Many Lines Included

Chicago, March 1.—A number of the principal communities of Western Kentucky are being linked together to form a Western Kentucky superpower system, according to a statement made today by Halsey Stuart & Co., Chicago. The statement was made in connection with the offering of $1,000,000 Kentucky Utilities Company first mortgage lien 5 per cent bonds. The bonds, yielding 5.35 per cent, are offered at 94.50.

Inter-connection has been completed in many places and a number of new lines under construction or contemplated will join more than 100 communities and a number of important coal mining properties.

It is also stated that the Kentucky Hydro-Electric Company is now owned and controlled by the Kentucky Utilities Company. The former company owns and operates the Dix River dam hydro-electric station, one of the largest in the country.

In Case of Emergency

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

If every person in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy those urgent needs.

The Best
Buying
Policy

You should do your part towards keeping local business alive and in a constant state of betterment by doing all your trading at home. It will be profitable to you as well as to the entire community.

Shakespeare Up-to-Date Tells Motorists' Terrible Toll

SHAKESPEARE'S seven ages of mankind made no reference to the number who were cut off in their prime by automobiles. If he had, suggests the Stewart-Warner Safety Council, it might have run something like this parody on his famous lines:

Killed by a truck while in his nurse's arms,
And then the careless schoolboy with his marbles,
Playing in the streets after his lessons
Are over. And then the lover,
Absent-minded, walking with a box of candy
Under his arm, to see his loved one,
Is struck by a taxi and hurled to the ground.
Next comes the gay young blood
Out for his evening's entertainment, whom
Sixty miles an hour lands forty years too soon
Upon a slab in some unfriendly morgue.
And then the banker, full of worldly pride and honors,
Jog-walks across the street between two mighty deals of finance,
And wakes to find Saint Peter quizzing him.
Next, the family man, with years upon him,
Confused and jostled in the crowd,
Missteps, and dies amid thanksgiving
That his last premium was paid up.
And last, hoary age, tottering and feeble,
Perhaps with crutch, or eye too dimmed with time,
An easy victim for some selfish motorist.
Sane care, sane thought, sane skill, sane everything—but speed.

The chart above shows what proportion of all accidents happening to each age group are automobile accidents. The toll is highest for the very young and very old. This situation is explained partly by the heedlessness of the young and the infirmity of old age. Moreover, these two groups are least involved in industrial accidents which makes their automobile casualties constitute a larger part of their total accidents.

Zero Hours of Automobile Accidents, 4, 5 and 8 P. M.

ONE thousand and thirty of Chicago's 11,785 auto accidents last year, according to the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, occurred between five and six o'clock, just when congestion is at its worst in the home-going rush. Only 47 of these 1,030 accidents were fatal.

Four o'clock is the children's zero hour. Thirty-three of the 182 children killed by autos in Chicago last year came to grief at four o'clock, playing in the streets after school.

Seven to nine is the dangerous time for adult auto fatalities, according to Chicago's 1924 record. Eighty-six of 353 such deaths occurred around the theater-going hours.

Youth of Nation Tops Death List in U. S. Auto Fatalities

YOUTH pays the heaviest toll in annual automobile fatalities. From five to fifteen years is the period when the greatest number of fatal accidents occur, for both sexes. The chart shows the age distribution of automobile deaths for men and women as given in the latest mortality figures prepared by the government. These figures, says the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, emphasize the need for more playgrounds and increased safety education among school children.

Complete statistics are not possible, as only 85 per cent of the United States keeps mortality records. About 22,000 a year is generally conceded to be the annual number of automobile fatalities. For 8,621 males known to have been killed in one year there were only a third as many women, or 2,845, in spite of the fact that the male population is only 4 per cent greater than the female.

This chart does not take into consideration the 600,000 Americans who are injured annually by automobiles. Such figures are not available except in certain states, but that boys and girls again make up the bulk of such casualties is indicated by the records of New York state kept for the first nine months of 1925. Here 11,768, or practically one-third of the 38,392 injured, were under fifteen years of age.

WHY HE FAINTED

A young wife went into a grocery shop and said: "I bought three or four hams here a month or so ago, and they were fine. Have you any more of them?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the grocer, "there are ten of those hams hanging up there now."

"Well, if they're off the same pig I'll take three of them."—The Bits.

His Last Hope

Benevolent Mrs. Smithers (who has discovered a youthful burglar in her dining room)—Young man, instead of sending you to jail I've decided to give you another chance.

Burglar—Thank yer, mum, thank yer. Only when yer do, mum, will yer see that them chairs ain't in the way?—Saratoga Herald.

SUPPLYING THE MEANS

His Wife—I saw a lovely gown that I can get for a mere song.

Alf (shipwrecked)—Ow far would yer say land was, Bill?

Bill—Mile an' 'arf, I reckon. 'Ow far can yer swim?

Alf—I can only manage a mile, Bill.
Bill—Then we'll just do it between us. I can swim 'arf a mile.—Goblin.

Not Particular

"I suppose," said the kindly financier, looking through his pocket book for a new note, "you would rather have clean money?"

"Oh, that's all right, sir," said the taxi-driver. "I don't care how you made your money."

Teacher—Johnny, what is it called when four persons are singing?

Johnny—A quartet.

Teacher—And, William, what is it when two persons are singing?

Willie (after brief hesitation)—A phinet.

Thought Comes Too Late

Formal and official city planning is comparatively a new art in this country. Most American cities have been allowed to grow in a haphazard way, and the way is usually to their disadvantage in attractiveness and convenience. It is only after they are well established that residents usually begin to think of the future development and to regret earlier mistakes. To correct all the unwise features and to remove or reconstruct obstructive and ugly buildings is too costly an undertaking, and for the most part the planning that can then be done looks to the suburban growth and to public and business structures that, as time and progress go on, are necessary to replace old ones.

Plant Flowers

"The tenant who has flowers growing in his front yard is the future home owner," observes G. H. Fuesten, first president of the Richmond (Pa.) Real Estate exchange. Esthetic decoration of the home, and the deep-rooted instinct to merge the house with its surroundings through the planting of shrubbery probably date back to the nicely trained vines near the opening of the first cave, the National Association of Real Estate Boards suggests. Wouldn't it be the vine and the fig tree that announced to the primitive world in general, "This abode belongs to someone?"

Importance of Prosperity

There is nothing of more importance to any of us than the prosperity of our own town and community, so let's get together and work to that end. The more prosperous the town or community is as a whole the more prosperous will be each individual. And the only way any community can be really prosperous is by a co-operation on the part of all in making it so. We can never expect to amount to much if we persist in the idea of "going it alone." Let's work together.—Marion County (Ala.) News.

Economy in Building

The actual value of the house, its upkeep, and the health and comfort of the family, are to a very large extent dependent on the character and quality of its heating, lighting, plumbing, and mechanical equipment. Home builders are advised not to select poor equipment because it seems cheap. True economy lies first in careful planning, second in buying good materials as cheaply as possible, and third in seeing that the equipment is properly installed.—Indianapolis Star.

THE ACHIEVEMENT OF YESTERDAY Is the Heritage of Tomorrow

THE details and results of the operations of the Southern Group of Bell Telephone Companies during the year 1925 enable you to be familiar with the progress of the telephone industry in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. This presentation is but a continuation of our policy of taking the public fully into our confidence, and expressing the appreciation of the telephone workers for your friendly interest and co-operation.

IN these nine States there was an expenditure last year of approximately $23,668,700 for gross additions to the telephone plant.

There was a net gain of 54,186 new telephone stations, which required that 173,931 telephones be installed and 119,745 be removed.

Service is now rendered to 1,147,590 telephone stations in the nine States. Of these 772,979 are Bell owned, 336,430 are owned by other companies, but connected with the Bell System and include thousands of telephones located in farm homes.

The investment in service, December 31, 1925, was $143,962,506, not including $2,355,011 of construction work in progress.

This investment includes such permanent property as 890 central offices, with their switchboards and other associated equipment; 2,600,845 miles of wire (3.5 miles per telephone); 39,086 miles of pole line and 2,897 miles of underground duct.

To build, operate, maintain and manage this system requires the services of an army of skilled men and women, whose annual payroll amounts to $20,835,362.

The duties of citizenship impose the responsibility of sharing the cost of government by the payment of taxes. Last year the tax expense amounted to $3,966,784, which is three times as great as the tax bill for the year 1913.

The use of the service is a measure of its value and efficiency. Last year there was an enormous increase in the volume of calls, and it is a matter of pride that the character of the service rendered was of a high order—the best for any year since the war.

Another source of satisfaction has been our happy relations with our customers and with the public. This has been reflected in the fact that there are now more than 11,548 stockholders of the Bell System in this territory, who own 218,016 shares of stock.

The telephone workers appreciate your friendly co-operation, and it encourages them to strive continually to render the kind of service you want.

Cow Uses Four Stomachs to Digest Its Daily Food

ALL the four stomachs of the dairy cow must work as a unit if she is to produce the most milk year after year, states the Larrow Institute of Animal Economics. The first stomach serves as a storehouse for bulky feeds and the second as a separator room, while the third stomach acts as a wringer to squeeze out water from the food, leaving it in a mealy condition, ready for the fourth stomach, where real digestion begins.

How the four stomachs, backed by a plentiful supply of well-balanced feed and pure, fresh water, can be made to pay big profits, is well illustrated in the official cow-testing association record of Sadie, the world's highest record grade cow. In one year through the stomachs of this plebeian daughter there passed 5,800 pounds of a prepared dairy ration, 777 pounds of dried beet pulp, 2,133 pounds of mixed clover hay and 5,182 pounds of corn silage, which were turned into 21,688 pounds of milk—enough to fill over 10,000 quart bottles! In other words, for every pound of grain entrusted by Sadie to her quartette of stomachs, they repaid with three pounds of milk in the bucket.

YOU can't go wrong. Just say "I want Purina Chick Startena for my baby chicks." 50% of the baby chicks fed average rations die. You can save 90% when you feed Startena. Dead chicks are expensive. Be in the 90% class. Give your baby chicks a chance to earn large profits for you. Phone us for Startena. Start them growing today!

Lesson for March 7

JESUS WASHES THE DISCIPLES' FEET

LESSON TEXT—John 12:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many.—Matt. 20:28.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Loving Service of Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Loyal Service of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Dignifies Loyal Service.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit of Christianity Illustrated.

With this chapter we enter into the very holy of holies of the book, namely, the inner revelation of Christ to His disciples.

I. Jesus' Amazing Love for His Own (vv. 1-3). Jesus was fully conscious of what was upon Him. He knew that the cross with all its anguish was just before Him. He knew that His disciples would shamefully forsake Him within a few hours. He knew that segment in the hands of the devil in His betrayal. He knew that all things were in His hands—was fully conscious of His deity. He did not withdraw His love from them because of their weakness and the shameful failure which He knew would soon be made manifest. "He loved them to the end"—to the uttermost. True love does not consider circumstances or the shortcomings of the person loved.

II. Christ Washing His Disciples' Feet (vv. 4-11). This act is symbolic of His amazing love for His disciples. Jesus did not regard His hands too holy to do this menial service.

1. Steps in This Service (vv. 4, 5). (1) He arose from supper. (2) Laid aside His garments. (3) Took a towel and girded Himself. (4) Poured water into a basin. (5) Washed His disciples' feet. (6) Wiped them with the towel wherewith He was girded.

These steps symbolize Christ's work of redemption. His rising from supper represents His rising from His place of enjoyment in the heavenly glory. His laying aside His garments is putting aside His vesture of majesty (Phil. 2:7, 8). His girding Himself is taking the form of a servant in the incarnation (Phil. 2:7). The water in the basin, His cleansing blood. His washing their feet, their sanctification by actual cleansing men through His Word (John 15:3; Eph. 5:26). His taking His garments again, His return to His place and position of glory (Luke 24:51).

2. Peter's Impetuous Ignorance (vv. 6, 9).

He goes from one extreme to the other. His failure to understand the significance of this service caused him to behave strangely.

3. The Significance of This Service to Those Who Participate in It (vv. 10-12).

(1) It is a Spiritual Cleansing (v. 8). Fellowship with Jesus is only possible as we are continuously cleansed from our sin. "He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet but is clean every whit" (v. 10). The cleansing here is not the washing of regeneration (Tit. 3:5), but that of sanctification (John 17:17). Even regenerate people need the continual cleansing of Christ's blood in order to have fellowship with Him. He that is regenerated—washed in the blood of Christ (symbolized by baptism)—does not need a repetition of the act, he only needs the cleansing of sanctification symbolized by the washing of the feet. After regeneration, as we go through this world we are contaminated by its sin.

(2) A Badge of Brotherly Affection. This act showed His abandonment to the service of His own. This is a lesson that is much needed today. We need more and more the fulness of brotherly love. Only can true love be proved by the service it renders.

(3) A Proof of Humility.

This was a lesson much needed by the disciples and much needed by us all. They had just been disputing as to who should be the greatest in the Kingdom. Their selfish motive was expressing itself. Christ's action was a concrete expression of His Spirit.

(4) Equalization.

As they would thus stoop to serve each other in the name of Christ, there would be the sure destruction of caste among them. Such service in the spirit of Christ is the great leveler of humanity.

III. An Example for Us (vv. 12-17).

The disciples of the Lord are under obligation to do for each other as He did unto them. This obligation rests upon His Lordship (v. 14). All who call Him Lord in sincerity will obey Him.

THE LUXURY OF YESTER- DAY AND THE NECESS- ITY OF TODAY

In talking about the good things we have in Fulton we should not overlook the superb system of local and long distance telephone service of the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company.

There are but few telephone users today who ever stop to think and make comparison of what the conditions were before the telephone was invented and what they are today.

It is worth while for you to stop and think for a few moments of the great advantages the business men of today have over those of yesterday, and see what luxuries we are enjoying through the necessities.

We have the railroads, steamboats and steamships, the automobiles, electricity, radio, the telegraph and telephone, yet despite all these blessings, there are a few of us prone to kick at not having something better still. Occasionally a business man will seem inclined to criticize one of these public utility corporations because he cannot get what he wants immediately. The railroads possibly cannot give him a sufficient number of cars; the steamboats cannot accommodate his freight on a certain date; the telegram that he wants immediately may be delayed for unknown causes; his telephone may be in use by outside parties. Then it comes down to a question of whether or not the modern business community is fully supplied or equipped with ample telephone service. The telephone is recognized as one of the greatest labor-saving devices that is being used to advantage by business houses, as well as enjoyed as a luxury in residences.

To bring this article to bear on the local situation, the people of Fulton, Ky., are served by the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company's superb system of local and long distance lines. They have around 1200 subscribers and this list is rapidly increasing. They not only get the benefit of the service in the city, but free service is given throughout the entire county.

Taking everything into consideration, the Cumberland Company is to be commended for its prompt service and courteous treatment of all its patrons, and nothing but favorable criticism can be heard on every side of its service, both local and long distance. The people are served here by a competent corps of operators and a manager, Mr. D. Mitchell, who is thoroughly informed as to his business, catering to public's wants in the telephone line, who makes it his special aim to please the customer. Mr. Mitchell came to Fulton two years ago from Owensboro, where he served his company nine years. He has under his supervision, the exchange at Hickman, Clinton, Columbus, Wickliffe and Fulton. He is loyal to the best interests of his company and the people they serve.

The company employs about twenty people here with a nice monthly payroll, practically every cent of which is turned loose in Fulton business channels.

The Cumberland is to be congratulated too, on having as its district manager, D. K. McNish, of Paducah. Mr. McNish was formerly manager of the Fulton exchange and cemented many warm friends for himself and company during his residence here.

In conclusion, it is a well established fact that the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company strives to please all of its customers and patrons in its vast territory covering nine states. Not only the citizens of the city are offered the advantages of an efficient service day and night and every day in the year, but the farmers are offered this same service at very reasonable terms and many are taking advantage of the opportunity of putting themselves in closer touch with their neighbors, their dealers in town, the physician, and in fact, everyone of prominence.

The telephone workers appreciate your friendly cooperation, and it encourages them to strive continually to render the kind of service you want.

GOOD ROADS MEETING IS HELD IN DYERSBURG

Speakers Urge Completion of Hard-Surfaced Highway

Dyersburg, Tenn., Feb. 27.—A banquet and good roads meeting was held here last night in the basement of the Methodist Church, attended by delegates from Memphis, Tipton, Lauderdale, Obion and Lake counties in Tennessee and counties in West Kentucky interested in the Jeff Davis highway. The banquet was given under the auspices of the City Club and Rotary Club of this city, assisted by the ladies of the Methodist church.

M. S. Summers presided as toastmaster. Music was furnished by the City Club quartette, Mrs. Henry Fowlkes, Mrs. John Atkins and Mr. Simmons, the latter the Chautauqua singer from Hickman, Ky.

The first speaker called upon by the toastmaster was Hon. T. B. King of Memphis, the secretary of the Jeff Davis Highway Association since its organization years ago. He said the question had already been settled. We just must have roads. He stated that it was the issue in every campaign. He said the auto was here to stay and was a factor in our economic life and that the hour is upon us to prepare for the auto. He urged the building of the highway at once and especially that part through the Obion River bottom. He commended the administration in building highways on the pay as you go plan and did not approve of the North Carolina method, by which they have accumulated a bonded indebtedness of $75,000,000.

Sam Bratton, member of the Legislature from Obion county, was the next speaker. He compared his trip to Dyersburg today in a high powered car in an hour and 50 minutes to his first trip to Dyersburg 40 years ago, when it took two days and one night to make the same trip in a wagon. He said that the State of Tennessee had built more roads during the past three years than had been built in the state since its beginning up to three years ago.

Other speakers were Judge Sam Patton, Lauderdale county; R. H. Baker of the state highway department; T. K. McCaun, division engineer for West Tennessee; N. W. Calcut, Dyersburg; J. C. Barnett, Tiptonville; E. H. Markham, Tiptonville; T. C. Brigham, Tipton county; Joe Davis, Fulton, Ky., and Judge Star, Hickman, Kentucky.

Resolutions were adopted, signed by committeemen from Dyer, Obion, Tipton and Lauderdale counties, urging the state highway commission to let all contracts for the completion of the Jeff Davis Highway from Memphis to the Kentucky line, and especially that project from Newbern through the Obion bottom to Troy and including the bridge across the Obion river, the latter by the Gov. Peay plan if necessary. Another resolution was adopted by committeemen from Dyer, Tipton, Obion, Lauderdale and Lake, urging the completion of the road from Alamo through Dyersburg, Ridgely and Tiptonville and on to the Kentucky line.

There were 300 men in attendance on the banquet, one-half of whom were from outside counties. It was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this community. Many of those present made the trip to and from Dyersburg in their automobiles. Many of the prominent road men were present at a conference in the afternoon. There was nothing but praise for the present highway commission. Not a single criticism was uttered as to the good work they are doing and every man present was willing to work to the best interests of all the counties in this end of the state so that all would get their due proportion of attention.
