The Babies Cry For It
And the old folks laugh when they see that the pleasant California liquid remedy, Syrup of Figs, is more easily taken than any other medicine. It strengthens the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowels, while it arouses them to a healthy activity. For sale by H. B. Garner.
Methodist Revival.
The series of religious meetings which have been held at the Methodist Church for the past four weeks, closed Sunday night. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity with an audience which listened with profound attention to an earnest and powerful sermon by Rev. W. L. Nourse pastor of the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, from the text: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life." The discourse was timely and deepened the existing interest. The meeting has been a remarkable one. During its progress forty-four persons of all ages and classes have made profession of Christianity. The pastor's diligent labors have been warmly seconded by the church. Rev. J. W. Bigham, the minister of this circuit, or as an old-fashioned Methodist would prefer saying, the circuit rider, has labored with great vehemence, fervor and tact, and grown in the esteem of his audiences the longer he labored.
Business of all kinds, here as well as at all points of the compass, is feeling its way at present very cautiously and in the most conservative manner. There is little or no speculative trading in anything, and buyers in all departments of business limit their purchases to the supply of immediate demands instead of looking about for the possible wants of the future. This mode of doing business differs so widely from the bustle and excitement of speculators in seasons when there is a "boom" that the contrast impresses observers more unfavorably, perhaps, than the facts of the situation justify. If trade doesn't yield dazzling wealth it is at least safe, while men buy little and pay as they go. It is not hard to account for slow trade in Kentucky, where the short wheat crop and poor tobacco crop of last year has cut short the income of the farmers some millions of dollars. It is a consolation to know that the country is not bankrupt, nor going to make an assignment; that there are hundreds of millions of money belonging to the people lying on deposit in the banks of the country, which will flow out to turn the busy wheels of trade as soon as the way seems clear. Meanwhile let us be hopeful.
In Hoc Signo.
The following paragraph appeared in the New Era last Thursday:
"The time of E. M. Flack and O. S. Brown as Trustees of the Public School expires the first of May. The people should fill their places with competent men. Election last Saturday May."
The paragraph was re-published in the South Kentucky Friday with the following interpretation gratuitously offered by the editor of that paper:
"The two gentlemen whose terms expire are among the most competent members of the present efficient Board of Trustees and there are no better qualified men to be found in the city. Their experience has thoroughly familiarized them with the duties of the position and there is no need for fill their places with new men. We hope to see both gentlemen re-elected, as they doubtless will be."
It is hardly necessary to state that the paragraph in this paper above referred to could not possibly be construed into any open or hidden opposition to the two gentlemen mentioned without great violence to common sense. The paragraph as it appeared in this paper was written out by one of the gentlemen and handed to us for publication, and it also received the endorsement of the other member of the Board whose time expires in May.
Messrs. Brown and Flack are accomplished gentlemen and excellent business men, and no two of our citizens are more competent to participate in the management of the public schools. It is highly improbable that any one has misconstrued the paragraph in this paper into any supposed or real opposition to Messrs. Flack and Brown, and it is to be presumed that they are both gentlemen of too much self respect and common sense to publish a paragraph detrimental to their own characters.

The newspaper out of Mr. Hearst, the new California millionaire Senator, bears a strong resemblance in its outlines to our townsmen. Mr. V. M. Metcalfe, the distinguished agricultural lecturer. If the Senator shall fertilize the Senate with good measures, as successfully as Mr. Metcalfe has fertilized the soil, he will prove himself a public benefactor.
Rev. Alexander Proctor is conducting the meeting at the Christian church. It is seldom our people have the pleasure of hearing so delightful a thinker as Rev. Proctor. His discourses are profound and at the same time they possess the charm of simplicity. He will continue the meeting throughout the week. Sunday night fourteen converts were received into the church.
Some one broke into the new ware room of McCann, Bonie & Co., opposite their carriage factory, Saturday night and carried off a supply of advertising pamphlets, circulars and note books. It is supposed that some boys committed the theft out of pure wantonness. Boys who don't think pamphlets cost money should have the lesson rubbed into them with a strap.
Our citizens doubtless noticed a ragged negro boy wandering about the streets last week. He was quite deaf and was apparently on terms of strict equality with the public. He slept in door ways and lived by begging. He formed a great attachment for Judge Winfree and looked upon him as a protector. Saturday Judge Winfree found a home for the poor little fellow at Mr. Alex. Winfree's.
The Muhlenberg Presbytery will meet in this city on next Thursday at 7:30 p.m., at which time a sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator Rev. W. L. Nourse, of Hopkinsville. The session will continue over Sabbath and there will be preaching every evening. There will be a sermon on election on one of these evenings by Mr. Nourse, by appointment of Presbytery—Boring Green Deacons.
The everglowing sunshine and warmth of last Sunday was a fitting beginning to Holy Week as the Catholic calendar terms the week preceding the Easter festival. It was once called the Week of Sorrows in the days of Christian Martyrdom, but the church prefers to look upon the sunny and hopeful side of the eventful story of the Great Teacher, and calls the days by a happier and more auspicious name. At the little Catholic church on the hill-side, bright evergreens were worn to typify the triumphal fronds of Palm Sunday borne long ago in the memorable entrance into Jerusalem. The other churches were attended by numerous congregations, with a sense to feel the charming influences of a glowing April sun. Lilies, hyacinths and roses bloomed in rich beauty, and the sunny faces of many living flowers, and children, rioted in the excellence of their enjoyment, which earth and sky lavished in their grand "Gloria in Excelsis." It was a Palm Sunday long to be remembered.
