Police Seek To Unravel Robbery

Police are still endeavoring to unravel the robbery which took place here Monday night shortly after 12:30 o'clock, but the trail of the four bandits who held up the R. J. Lamb Distributing Co., wholesale liquor dealers here, seems to grow dimmer. Under the pretense of purchasing, two of the robbers entered the wholesale house, started conversation with Wallace Gordon, who was in charge of the place, Buster Sprigg and Kernel Rucker, negro porters were also present. During the conversation, George Hays, manager of the company, returned from the Elks club banquet. One of the bandits ordered them all to put up their hands, then made them turn around to a counter and place their hands upon it, with their lives threatened if they failed to obey. One of the other robbers ransacked the place, taking $2,457 in cash.

The stick-up was herded, Gordon, Hays, the two negro porters and Earl Thomas, porter for Law's Cafe, who had taken some sandwiches over, into the back of a car waiting outside. The robbers drove north on Mayfield highway, and about two miles out of town tied the men to a fence with wire. One of the negroes worked loose, releasing the others. Manager Hays reported robbery to police. Nothing had been bothered at the warehouse except the money. This was probably the biggest robbery ever pulled in Fulton.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL

By Louise Freeman

The following teachers attended the regular monthly meeting of the Fulton County Teachers' Association at Union City Saturday: Miss Lena Stokes, Miss Sarah Pickle, Miss Alene Williams, Prof. Orvin Moore, Prof. W. C. Roberts, Mrs. H. J. Priestley and Prof. H. J. Priestley.

BASKETBALL.

After winning from the boys tied losing to the girls team of Chestnut Glade the South Fulton team went to Union Friday night and split a double header. The girls won handily by a 43 to 12 score. Coach Robert sent his second string men in to play on even terms with the Union boys for three quarters. The entire first team went in the last quarter but could not start clicking so they lost by a score of 16 to 15. Celia Maynard was at her best in the girls game. She scored 26 points and hawked the ball constantly. Irene Doran made 17 points. Todd and Margaret Maynard teamed well at the guard positions. Allen scored all of Union's points and Fields guarded well. No player was particularly outstanding in the boys' game.

Cloverdale will bring two veteran teams to South Fulton Friday night for a double header. The fourth and fifth grade and parents of the players will be admitted free to these games.

The Hi-Y Club held its regular meeting Tuesday, Nov. 6. A very interesting program was presented by the new members of the club. The older members are well pleased with the interest the new members are showing. One of the traits which the club upholds is "clean sportsmanship" and it is interesting to note that seven out of the twelve members are on the basketball squad.

At the next meeting they are planning to select a club song, a club motto and the club colors. Most likely the song will be "Follow the Glean" and the colors orange and black as they have been adopted by the conference.—Hi-Y Reporter J. D. Hall.

Soph News—Hattie Lou Stubblefield

Here are a few things that would help to make our History class better:

For Billy Meacham to be on time.

If Marvin Payne, Preston Watts and Hyman Ashley would be regular.

For Preston Watts to stop giggling long enough to give a correct answer to a question.

And for John D. Smoot to stop whining long enough to answer a question.

Just imagine:

James D. Hall not grinning when he comes to sponsor period.

Eva Williams and Edithanna Burrow saying "I don't know."

Johnnie Lancaster not missing a word in spelling.

Stanley Jones staying awake in Geography.

John D. Smoot answering a question in Geography.

Stanley Mills attempting to catch a fly in Geography, the result was the late study hall.

Junior News—Jimmy Robertson

The Junior Class has a post graduate in the Economics Class that works crossword puzzles and day dreams (think nothing of it).

The Juniors lost their play book Tuesday. That should be good for those fellows who do not want to be in the play, as Shannon, Norman and James A.

Mr. Priestley and Billie Meacham carry on splendid conversations in the Ole Junior Economics Class. (Their discussion for Tuesday was prohibition). A very intoxicating subject, isn't it? Huh?

The "News Topics" on Wednesday are very interesting. Mr. Priestley makes swell comments on every one of them.

That Sophomore reporter (we all know her) turned over the roses in Mrs. Priestley's room. She had to promise to bring some more roses at the close of the summer. The old desk of Mrs. Priestley's got a fairly good cleaning. (She did not intend washing it). It got full value of the petty tragedy, if nothing else did.

Seniors (pessimistic)

The Senior Class is really dumb.

In spelling and the rest

And always asking "how come?"

NEWS BRIEFS

Clarence Reed, in charge of the Lions program last Friday introduced Judge C. L. Walker of Hickman who discussed the county government, and explained the changes made since he was elected to office. He said he had tried to extricate the county from creating further indebtedness and work wholly under a budget plan. He estimated that the county now owes close to $600,000.

After failing to make $300 bond when tried before Judge Adams, Lillie Mae Hodges, colored, awaits the action of the grand jury on a charge of malicious cutting. She inflicted knife wounds on Floyd Lee Hubbard when the two became embroiled in an argument.

Work is progressing nicely on the Duketown road, and trucks are hauling the gravel for surfacing of this road. It is expected that the road will be finished early in December if bad weather does not delay the work.

Congressman Jere Cooper, of Dyersburg, Tenn., was the Armistice Day speaker here Sunday—at the First Presbyterian church. Robert Lamb, chairman of the Legion Post here, conducted the devotional and introduced the speaker. A good attendance was present.

Henry Ford, 27, son of P. C. Ford, Usona Motor operator here, suffered painful injuries in an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon when his car struck a culvert two miles north of Mayfield. He was rushed to a Mayfield hospital, to be brought home later in the day. A negro accompanying him suffered minor lacerations and bruises. The car was badly smashed up.

Late Tuesday afternoon fire destroyed the home of J. C. Koelling on Fourth-st. The residence was built years ago by the pioneer Whiteside family. The blaze is believed to have started from a spark falling on the roof. The roof and the second floor were destroyed and the rest of the house badly damaged. Loss was placed at $2,500.

Abetted by a strong north wind, a blaze which started in the home of Mrs. J. S. Humphrey in Pearl Village, spread to the homes of Mrs. T. I. Koonce and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bennett, destroying the Humphrey home and badly damaging the other house. Both buildings were covered by insurance. Practically nothing was saved in household effects from the Humphrey home.

The next time Fred Todd, colored, may think twice before he commits a robbery, especially if he has a cut finger, for Officers Boaz and Dalton are "bloodhounds." Last week Underwood Grocery Store was broken into, and the miscreant left blood stains about the store. Cigarettes, cigars, tobacco and miscellaneous merchandise were taken. Officers started searching for some one with a "sore finger." They found Todd and the stolen merchandise. Tried in Judge Adams' court and defaulting on $500 bond the negro was taken to the Hickman jail to await action of grand jury.

SINGING AT CITY HALL DREW NICE CROWD

The Singing at the City Hall here Sunday afternoon was well attended and very much enjoyed by those who heard the program. Local singers were assisted by singers from Paris Union City, Latham, Mayfield, Columbus, Water Valley and the surrounding territory.

An interesting talk was made by Rev. J. S. Robinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

But they are doing their best. In English and Chemistry. They're having an awful time. In French and in History. They're doing anything but fine. Though they're supposed to be dignified. They are really not at all. And they may all be identified. In the last study hall. But they're hoping and praying. That their whole Senior Class. Will win their diplomas by paying. The price that it's taking to pass.

In negotiating reciprocal trade agreements, the government has no intention of yielding concessions except where a particular country is the chief source of our supply of a commodity. This assurance was given to American business by Thomas Walter Page, chairman of the Tariff Commission and in charge of assembling the facts upon which our trade negotiations will depend.

SPECIAL MEETING W. C. T. U. HELD NEAR LONE OAK

A call meeting of the officers of this district was called by the District President, Mrs. J. J. Owen of Fulton, to gather at the Highland Cumberland Presbyterian Church near Lone Oak on Tuesday, November 13th. Rev. Gardner, pastor host, gave the morning devotional, using the Scripture Eph. 1:4, pleaded for unity of spirit among God's people, to hold on to Him by faith and give our best to promote righteousness in the land. Solo by Rev. Barnes, pastor of the Methodist church of Lone Oak, "Think On the Way," a very timely message in song.

There were many good talks given. One especially helpful was by R. E. Goldsby of Fulton, giving information as to what is being done on the lines of the W. C. T. U. or showing where the efforts of this great organization would have to strengthen the lines, and advocated above all else prayer, showing that God and one is a majority in any cause.

An article was read by Mrs. Owen which was a clipping from a column of a local newspaper, which was the report of the National Convention of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Owen lauded the Fulton papers for their hearty co-operation in giving the organization space and for giving the news locally and nationally of the efforts made.

Noontide prayer was given and lunch was served at the Mance. The afternoon devotional was given by Mrs. H. L. Hardin of Paducah and was an inspiration to all.

Dr. Gore of Lone Oak gave an instructive talk on the commercializing of drugs and especially showed how that one drug commonly known as Indian Hemp is being used in many ways and that while it is not restricted by law as a narcotic, it is a dangerous drug and is habit forming. A playlet was given by the Lone Oak union, The New Deal or Temperance and Missions, showing that God hates intoxication and blesses those who abstain from drink.

A report of the State Convention was given by Mrs. Owen and the recommendations of the State President at that convention were voted on and adopted by the district. It was voted that the next meeting be held at the Broadway Methodist church in Paducah on the second Thursday of February.

FULTON HIGH NEWS

By Kathleen Winters

The Freshman football team chalked up their first victory of the season, Wednesday afternoon with a score of 52 to 0 against the Union City Freshman team. The touchdowns scored in the game were made by Ernest Hancock, Jack Parker and Tom Carter. The funny part of the game was that no one had even thought about Ernest Hancock playing football and when he started doubling up around that ball and going through the line, it was a sight to behold. There was some nicely blocking on the part of both teams, but Union City just couldn't seem to come through our line. We may be Freshmen but we're slowly learning what it's all about.

BOBBY MATTHEWS KNOCK-OUT TECHNICAL SCORE-OUT

The fight between Bobby Matthews of Fulton, present middle-weight champion of Kentucky, and Freddie Eiler of Louisville, was filled with most thrilling moments of any ring episode ever witnessed in West Kentucky. It was a return match between this pair, and both fighters seemed determined to carry over the victory, and cut loose with all they had from the first round until the final gong. Every round was a whirlwind of action with both boys giving and taking some terrible punches.

Put Matthews had the best of the fight. He landed more effectively, and was successful in backing Eiler's hardest swings. In the fifth round Matthews came out of a corner strong and met his opponent, more than half-way. Sending a breath-taking punch to the midsection, he followed up with a left hook to the jaw and a right over the heart. Eiler caved in and crashed to the carpet for a count of eight. The bell rang. It and replacement of a torn glove on Matthews right, gave Eiler time to recover.

The last five rounds were divided, with Matthews holding a slight edge. The judges awarded the decision to Matthews.

FULTON COUNTY FARM BUREAU HOLDS MEETING

A meeting of the Fulton County Farm Bureau was held at the court house in Hickman Wednesday night with a large attendance. O. R. Wheeler, former county agent, was present and made a splendid talk on the New Drive for Membership. A well rounded program was planned, and committees appointed to assist in pressing forward to the goal which is 100 new members by December 31. Twenty-five new members have already been obtained besides about 100 old members. Their names will be published in this paper at a later date.

No one, who keeps up with international affairs, can fail to see the evidences of increasing tightness between Japan and other world powers over questions arising in the Far East. The trade policies of Manchukuo, protested by several powers, seem to be instigated by Japan but the Japanese government when asked about them, falls back on the alleged "independence" of the new state. As other powers have not recognized the "puppet state" an impasse results.

Recently, the League of Nations sharply queried a Japanese diplomat in regard to the fortification of mandated islands turned over to Japan after the World War, and particularly questioned Japan's apparent unwillingness to allow foreigners to visit the islands. Moreover, at the naval conferences in London, Japan's determination to secure naval parity in principle or else abrogate existing treaties and launch a ship-building race is too plain to be doubted. The suspicion that the Island Empire intends to "rule or ruin" her sphere of the globe is gradually becoming a certainty to observers everywhere.

W. P. Murrell continues ill at his home in East Fulton.

Of course, it is impossible for the Bureau to examine the returns of all taxpayers and, therefore, some get by with exemptions that others fail to secure. Moreover, some officials differ in interpreting the cases that arise in the twilight zone of income taxation. But, generally, the Treasury is determined to follow a severe policy toward deductions and compromises and to abandon the easy attitude that existed in flush times.

Man 11 Miles Away Gets 5000-Mile Call

The longest way 'round is sometimes the shortest way home, even for telephone calls. So it proved, at any rate, in the case of a call which traveled 5,000 miles to reach a man who was a mile and a half away as the crow flies.

It was that about a mile and a half from the Point Reyes radio telephone station, near San Francisco, which is the receiving point to connect the Manila-Java Hawaii radio-telephone circuits to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company long distance lines, there is a small cabin for making tests. In this cabin a telephone engineer works with an assortment of testing instruments to check radio signals across the Pacific in order to learn more about atmospheric and magnetic conditions for the benefit of radiotelephone transmission.

For a while after the engineer occupied the cabin, there was no telephone line between the cabin and the receiving station. One day this engineer was in touch by telephone with Honolulu, and the Point Reyes station a mile and a half away was also in touch with Honolulu by telephone. The station had a long distance telephone call for the engineer in the cabin, and requested Honolulu to tell him so. In about half an hour the engineer arrived at the station, in response to a request that had traveled 5,000 miles.

COMMENTS

The New Deal, triumphant in its first election test, enters a new phase with President Roosevelt in command of the political situation more completely than any peace-time president since party warfare was inaugurated in the United States. This does not mean that the Chief Executive will be able to have his way, even among his own followers, but that organized opposition all but toppled to the ground in the election last week.

The amazing sweep of the Democratic party, which brushed aside almost every remnant of the Old Guard Republican element, carried with it an unheard of sensational majority, which may be reduced but cannot be overcome for nearly a decade. The supporters of the administration maintained the overwhelming House majority and took over governorships in states which had not drifted out of Republican control since the Civil War. Indicative of the utter rout of the Republicans is the fact that Pennsylvania, ancient stronghold of the G. O. P., not only sent a Democrat to the U. S. Senate, a governor to the state capital but sends more than two-thirds of its House delegation to Washington as Democrats.

It is too early to attempt to analyze the effect of the election upon the Republican party's future. Certainly, until the bewilderment has passed there can be plans laid but when the time comes to take counsel for the 1936 election you may put in down as certain that Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, will have a lot to say and that he will be listened to with great respect. He came through the recent catastrophe, carrying his state. His attitude toward the New Deal was flexible and he endorsed much liberal legislation. In fact, when he came to the Senate he was considered somewhat wild by the Old Guard but he has come through and they are out of the picture.

For the Democratic party the triumph may be so complete as to invite division and bitter dispute. Possibly, conservative and liberal Democrats will diverge, and it is not beyond the realm of political events for the division to seriously cripple the vast strength that was gained last week. President Roosevelt's attitude will have much to do with this. If he continues what one might call a middle of the road policy he will likely hold most of his party behind him, losing the radicals and the standpatters. If he turns strategy to the right or the left he will probably alienate a considerable faction, which will either form the nucleus of a new opposition party or else join with like-minded Republicans. Conversely, there will be a faction of Republicans drifting to his support, and thereafter the two parties, while holding the old names, will be completely reformed along lines no one can now foresee.

DID YOU VOTE?

Did you go to the polls and vote? If you did not neglected a grave responsibility, and failed to pay a debt you owe your community.

Every good citizen, who is concerned with good government, should go to the polls and exercise a conscientious judgment to select the best possible men for office.

Unfortunately, it is very hard for some men and women to know which way is better. Demagogues and political tricks often mislead and confuse those who do not have enough first-hand information to know.

The only advice we can give such citizens is to seek the judgment of some well-informed, impartial neighbor, and find out which candidates are the most likely, as far as can be known, to carry out their duties fairly, reasonably, and impartially.

Passion and prejudice should not control voting. The cause of good, clean government is not served by demagogues seeking to stir up emotions and ranting against indefinite evils, hoping that out of the confusion and excitement they can get the votes and occupy some offices.

The individual citizen, seeking to vote for the good of his or her state or community, oftentimes has a difficult problem. It should be faced honestly and solved rightly as far as possible. Let the welfare of the State, or County or Community, be the prime factor in determining how you cast your ballot. And don't neglect your duty as a citizen to go to the polls and vote when the next election rolls around.

MOVES AGAINST WAR

The problem of preventing war is a complex one that will not be solved for many years. In fact, so long as economic inequalities exist or social and racial differences affect mankind there is danger of conflict.

However, war may be made less likely by taking away the profit motive and making it a burden to be shared by all citizens. For that reason we call attention to a recent declaration by John Taylor, legislative representative of the American Legion, who says the next national convention will advocate stiff penalties for profiteering and a universal draft law.

LET'S GO AFTER BUSINESS

It's about time for merchants and business men of Fulton to look ahead and resume plans for business as usual.

While there has been an excusable let down in the past few years the tide is beginning to turn, the buying power of the people is improving and trade will naturally come to the merchants who go after it.

In this connection, we point out that one of the greatest factors in advancing the commercial and business interests of any city is a community newspaper with a large family of readers throughout the trade area. The Fulton County, which circulates in Fulton, South Fulton and surrounding rural sections, is indispensable in any concerted trade promotion.

We do not mean and would not advise that merchants in any city should support a newspaper solely because it is published where they have their places of business. But we do say that, where a newspaper is published in a given city, with adequate coverage of the trading area and a comprehensive service to the people of that section, merchants and business men would do well to advertise in that publication.

Fulton's business will grow almost identically with the success of its journalistic enterprises. The support from advertisers, which insures newspaper success, widens the field of influence for a publication and brings back dividends to the business men involved. There is no question about the truth of this conclusion.

It would, perhaps, be unbecoming for us to say that The Fulton County News is such a worthy representative of the publishing world and the question is left for answer from our business interests. If they concede that this newspaper is a good sales man for this section and will give us the support that such a representative deserves there will be a decided improvement, and, among the first to feel it, will be the advertising business men of Fulton.

TAKE OFFICE IN JANUARY

The Congress elected last week will take office in January with only two months intervening between election and succession to office. This comes about as a result of the Norris amendment to the constitution, eliminating the "lame duck" session which used to begin in March following an election. Under the old system the Congress elected last week would not convene until December, 1935.

Naturally, such a delay in taking office was not necessary in this modern era of transportation and transmission of intelligence. However, it may be discovered, later on, that two months is not quite long enough to wait after an election and that changes in governmental policy come too rapidly. Newly elected Congressmen have a lot to learn before assuming to direct the affairs of this republic and vote upon the many important matters that come before them.

FACING FULTON'S DUTY

We know that the government is doing much to aid those who would otherwise become discouraged victims of the depression, and while some may criticize the expenditure of public funds for this purpose we cannot condemn it in principle. Certainly, there are those who need help, and they should have it, even though it means, as it inevitably does, that scoundrels and chiselers will horn in and take money that they are not entitled to receive.

The estimate is that 23,000,000 people will receive relief this winter from the government which has been forced to assume the task because private charity could not bear the burden. However, the government which passes out food and clothing

TEACHERS SHOULD WARN PUPILS

School teachers of this section should not hesitate to take a few minutes out of their work every week to discuss with their pupils the dangers of the highway, with modern automobiles whizzing by and children being accidentally killed at the rate of eighty a week.

Not only should this slaughter have the attention of school teachers but other organizations should help in the fight against this terrible toll. Children must be repeatedly warned to avoid the dangers that lurk in careless use of the highways of the nation.

It's time for us to quit taking for granted the death of eighty children a week and almost that many adults every day. The price is too much to pay for speed and carelessness that can cut down the death toll appreciably.

HAVE WE TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT?

Now that the election is over and the officials named for ensuing term it might not be amiss to direct attention to the cost of our system of government.

According to recent census figures the taxpayers of the United States support 3,062 county governments, 10,658 city governments, 128,548

RED CROSS RELIEF GIVEN TO VICTIMS IN 163 DISASTERS

Tornadoes, Fires, Hurricanes,
Floods, Epidemics, Make
Record of Year

A history of the disasters in the United States in any year is written annually by the American Red Cross, according to Chairman John Barton Payne, commenting on the report for the year ending June 30, 1934, which has just been issued in Washington.

"Because of the charter provision which places upon the Red Cross the responsibility for disaster relief, our chapter and staff workers are notified of all calamities of storm and fire and flood," he continued. "The emergency period may prove to be brief, in cases where the victims have their own resources to draw on. While it lasts, however, whether it brings the immediate need of food, clothing and shelter for the homeless, or entails a program of investigation and rehabilitation, the Red Cross is the official director of all relief."

A great variation in type, and a wide geographical distribution, characterize the 163 disasters reported last year. Tornadoes, hurricanes, hail storms and other storms made up almost one half of the total. Especially

Fires on Morro Castle and at Nome, Alaska, Received Help of Red Cross Workers

A number of tragic and unusual disasters have recently called for Red Cross relief.

Included in them have been a flood in Kentucky, following a series of cloudbursts in August, epidemics of disease which threatened several sections, including some caused by drought conditions. Red Cross workers found much to do for the survivors of the Morro Castle fire and for those engaged in rescue work, and Red Cross relief went by airplane to Alaska when the famous old gold camp, Nome, burned in September.

numerous were the tropical storms which swept in from the sea to the Atlantic and Gulf Coast region. There were 21 storms of this type, establishing a new record for frequency.

Next in number to storms were disasters of fire, the report shows. Red Cross aid was given following 25 fires in the United States and insular possessions. The most spectacular was the Chicago stockyards fire, where Red Cross workers arrived shortly after the fire started, administering relief until the emergency period passed, giving first aid to about 1,000 persons.

Floods caused serious damage in some sections, 17 calling for Red Cross relief. Three explosions were reported and three epidemics of malaria and typhoid fever. A school bus wreck was one of the year's tragedies for which Red Cross funds were needed for relief and rehabilitation.

"Technique acquired by the Red Cross in these disasters and the hundreds of others we have handled is at the service of the public," Chairman Payne said. "To make this possible the disaster relief service has issued a manual containing instructions for chapters interested in advance preparations for emergencies. Disaster institutes were held last year in 21 strategic locations, to enable Red Cross and civic workers to formulate plans for possible disaster emergencies in their communities."

Support of the disaster relief activities of the Red Cross comes from the annual roll call held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

SCABIES OR ITCH

For the past few years many people in this locality have had scabies or itch. While this condition is not dangerous, it is very annoying and aggravating, and no one wants it.

Itch is an infectious disease of the skin, produced by a very small bug or mite, barely perceptible to the eye. Both male and female mites live on human skin. The female only burrows into the horny layer of the skin, as does a mole in the ground. At the end of the burrow she deposits her eggs. The eggs hatch in from four to eight days.

At the beginning of the burrow there is a small bump or pustule and in some skins the course of the burrow can be seen. The most common location of the burrows is on the webs of the fingers, arms, armpits, front of the abdomen and breasts. Rarely is the face or head invaded. As the little mite burrows in the skin preparing her nest, the nerves of the skin are irritated and a pronounced itching results, then scratching takes place. The finger nails near the top of the little burrows, and in many instances the skin is infected with different pus germs, adding more trouble.

In the past sulphur has been the chief anchor in the treatment of itch but recently other preparations have been introduced which seem to be more effective. The object of treatment is to exterminate the mites not only on the skin but on the bedding and clothing of the infected individual. This is best done by the application of ointments to the skin. The treatment has to be continued for some time to be most effective. Bathing should be frequent and the bedding and clothing should be changed daily for the first few days and boiled. Each case should be under the direct supervision of a competent doctor, as in many cases a pronounced inflammation of the skin or chronic eczema ensues.

HUNTING SEASON

ENDANGERS LIVES

Sportsmen Urged To Follow Rules of Safety.

Already emblazoned in the headlines of papers all over the country one reads "Hunter Killed Accidentally." Yes, that happens every season and it seems that we should take warning and use the necessary caution, but somehow, we don't.

It is said that one generation profits from the mistakes of other generations; that we learn to leave off doing certain things when a glance into the past shows that those things are dangerous, but how true is this saying? It certainly does not prove true when it comes to hunting accidents, automobile accidents and the like, does it?

We'll, we all get the idea that we couldn't do such a foolish thing. We wouldn't drag a loaded gun over, under or through a fence. No, not us, we have too much sense to do that. We wouldn't get so interested in a hunt as to shoot at a moving bush and perhaps accidentally kill our hunting companion.

Isn't it peculiar that we can never attribute such foolish acts to ourselves and yet right here in this section, some one is going to be seriously wounded, or perhaps killed by such carelessness during the hunting season which is now upon us?

Every season The News issues a warning to those who are planning to avail themselves of the privileges and pleasures of the hunt. Hundreds of sportsmen read these articles but fail to apply the warning to themselves. We will be adding our bit to the effort to cut down this unnecessary toll of accidents if we offer here some "Don'ts" to the hunters of this section. Here they are:

1. Don't point the muzzle of your gun at anything you don't want to kill, whether the safety is on or not.
2. Don't lean your gun against anything where it may slip off, fall down and discharge.

3. Don't handle your gun by the muzzle. The stock was made to take hold of.

4. Don't pull a gun toward you over, through or under a fence, or out of a car, holding on to the barrel.

5. Don't fail to unload your gun before entering camp or your car.

6. When walking with a gun, carry it pointed up, or at the ground especially so if someone is walking in front or behind you.

7. And, above all, don't shoot at moving shadows or crackling brush. It may be your hunting partner, or another hunter.

Of course, there are many other "don'ts" which could be mentioned, but if all hunters bear the above cautions in mind, there will be fewer hunting accidents during the current season.

It's extremely rare for a public official to conclude that he is getting too high a salary.

As far as we are concerned we are willing to do without a hurricane this fall.

Some high school class might debate this query "Resolved That People Suffer Most Through Ignorance."

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Do they torture you by day?
Keep you awake at night?

What is it that keeps hospitals open and doctors busy? NERVES.

Nine times out of ten it's NERVES that make you restless, worried, haggard.

When nerves are over-taxed, you worry over trifles, find it hard to concentrate, can't sit still. Nerve Strain brings on Headache.

Nervous people often suffer from indigestion. There may be absolutely nothing wrong with the organs of digestion, but the Nerves are not on the job to make the organs do their work properly.

War Veterans' Problems Increase

Last year American Red Cross chapters dealt with the problems of nearly 400,000 veterans and their families. The workers find that as the years go by their responsibility increases rather than decreases. Changes in legislation, the increasing age of veterans and the consequent increase in physical illia, bring new needs for sympathetic treatment, by trained Red Cross workers in addition to this service to veterans the Red Cross served as the official medium between the people and the men in military and naval service, giving aid through this service last year to 6,979 men in the army, navy and marine corps.

WOMEN INTERESTED IN MODERN KITCHEN

Women visitors to the Century of Progress Exposition are showing a significant interest in the modernized kitchens featured there, according to Mrs. Dorothy McGeehan, home science expert and director of the Kitchen Planning Institute of New York.

"In a recent visit to the World's Fair," says Mrs. McGeehan, "I was impressed by the crowds of women attracted to the eighteen model kitchens scattered among the various household exhibits, and I was even more impressed by the types of questions which these women were asking."

It is not merely the modern appliances which interest these modern housekeepers: It is more particularly the basic idea that present kitchens can be re-arranged at comparative small cost to provide greater efficiency and easier working conditions.

Much of this modernization can readily be done by the local carpenter, when applied on top of the old keep the cold out, but a dead-end. Not only is there a new surface to siding, provide additional insulation, plumbers and sheet metal workers. Built-in cabinets, sinks and working surfaces, and the other conveniences of a permanent nature can be financed through the home loan plan of the Federal Housing Administration, thus providing a good start towards bringing the kitchen up to date.

WINTER OVERCOAT

A new overcoat may be all the old house needs to keep it warm this winter. The comfort, of the home, as well as its appearance, will necessarily improve with the addition of one of the many effective siding materials over the old siding.

1. brick veneer, stucco, stone, checkered, shingles and other products is formed between the two sidings, and this space is greatly effectively retaining the heat inside and preventing the outside cold from entering. It operates to the contrary in the summer, repelling the heat rays and facilitating the cooling of the rooms inside.

When shingles and clapboards are applied to masonry or stucco, wooden strips are first applied, horizontally for shingles and vertically for clapboards. The strips are placed equal to the weather exposure at which the shingles or clapboards are to be laid.

It is necessary, when overcoating to place a strip of molding around window and door frames so that the added thickness of the wall does not

All Operators Volunteer for Duty While Flames Sweep Town at Night

Some of the telephone operators and men employees who voluntarily reported for duty during the disastrous Newburyport fire.

Every telephone operator in the city volunteered her services during the recent $500,000 fire in Newburyport, Mass., the worst conflagration in that city since 1811.

Starting in the middle of the night, the fire swept a quarter of a mile or more along both sides of Merrimac street. Immediately, the local telephone office was taxed to its utmost by the volume of calls.

At the time, there were only two telephone operators on duty—enough to handle Newburyport's infrequent calls between midnight and 6 A. M. But it didn't take much time for the town to realize the seriousness of the situation. Even before their help was requested, every one of the 30 operators regularly employed in the Newburyport central office, and five part-time operators, reported to offer their services.

Several employees of the plant department also arrived to offer their aid in the emergency.

It was an unusual sight which greeted Traffic Manager Louis G. LaPointe when he arrived upon the scene from his home in Salem. Along the length of the entire switchboard were girls attired not only in ordinary street dresses but in evening gowns and even in pajamas and bathrobes. The latter were worn by operators who had hastened from bed to help at the switchboard, while the evening gowns were worn by some who had been attending a dance and who came directly from the dance floor to the telephone office.

City officials, including the mayor and chief of the local fire department, commended the operators for their service in calling fifteen out-side fire departments and for their help in securing other assistance.

bring the latter beyond the edge of these frames.

Modernization loans sponsored by the Federal Housing Administration are available for overcoating jobs costing $100 to $2,000 if the owner of property cannot pay cash for the work.

A new hard-boiled policy has been put into effect by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which is rigorously pressing for payment of all income taxes and other payments which it believes are due the government. According to officials, the Bureau has no discretion but must enforce payment in full. Protests are disregarded and compromises are permitted only where there is doubt as to the liability of the taxpayer or the collectibility of the tax.
