killed in automobile accidents

There were five more than killed during a similar period in 1950.

B. Jones, executive secretary of the Governor's Com-

there was possibly causing an increase in traffic due to weather over the state business in 1951 than in 1950.

build a high dam near Kutta-wa is scheduled for discussion tonight at Hopkinsville.

Army Engineers will meet with those favoring the high dam and persons who are opposed.

The high dam would be for the purpose of further developing the power potential of the Tennessee valley. It would make possible a canal between Kentucky Lake and the Cumberland river.

Opponents of the high dam contend that it would inflict serious hardships on residents of Kuttawa and Lyon county.

on January 10, from 10 a.m. to Lengthening the campaign in 1952 from two to four weeks was made necessary because of the serious financial situation of the National Foundation founda- tion in this year when faced with 45,000 carry-over polio patients from past years and 29,000 more polio victims in 1951. The founda- tion will be about 5 million dol- lars in debt at the end of this year as a result of this heavy polio year.

Mr. Prince explained that half of the money raised by the campaign in Marshall county will be retained for local polio victims.
The other half will be used for citizens of Marshall county to

Mr. Penny Postcard Dies With Mouth Wide Open In 1951

The "Penny Postcard" died in the New Year at midnight December 31, also tolled the passing of Mr. Penny Postcard, who was born and reared in this country, many years ago.

Mr. Postcard succumbed with his mouth wide open. Death was caused by a disease known to many Washingtonians—moneyitis, a disease that is fatal in many instances. No known curre for it has yet been discovered.

This is the second time since Mr. Postcard's birth in 1873 the price has been boosted to 2 cents.
It was that way for 20 months during world war I, returning to normal in 1919.

Nearly four billion penny pos-cards were used in 1951, compared with 30 million in 1873.

If you have one of the little undused fellows around or find one sometime, it is presumed it can be used by attaching a penny stamp and you do your own licking.

little Xmas cheer to tired news-year it was two boxes of fin-tins, wrapped in Xmas wrappings, etc., and with a card of Greetings of the season.

We thank you National Store for remembering us again, and we wish you a successful and prosperous New Year, and of course another box this year of these goodies.

Soil Conservation Notes By Herbert Anderson

Roy Barlow, of the Lakeview Baptist church community, and Barkley Thomas, Briensburg, seeded several acres of fescue last fall.

Both these men have the farm. But they realize full time jobs away from there is no need for letting their land lie idle while they are away at work. A few cattle or sheep can do a lot of harvest work for the farmer who spends a small part of his time growing good pasture.

The following co-operators of the Marshall County Soil Conservation District have dug ponds in 1951 and have applied to the Division of Game and Fish for bass and bluegill with which to stock them: George Little, J. P. Stubblefield, Harold Bailey, L. J. Rickman, T. W. Seaford, Rex Anderson, E. M. Bailey, Clarence Fowler, Homer Ward, Charlie Cone, and Louie York.

A Conservation Officer will check these ponds to see if they meet the requirements to support fish. The division will notify the farmer as to the date, time, and place of delivery next spring.

Leon Powell, one mile south of the Drive in Theatre, made a complete soil and water conservation farm plan the first of December. The Soil Conservation Service helped him develop this plan.

Powell has thirty acres of the best land in the county on Ellender Creek, which runs through his farm. It is in land capability the past twenty-five years," Powell said.

"This land has been in corn each year for class one.

Land like this is capable of being put in row crop each year. However, it is now being ruined by the floodwaters from the creek.

Gullies are being cut in the fields. The topsoil which isn't washed away is being covered with sand and gravel. This land is rapidly being retired from cultivation by flood waters in the same way that about ninety per cent of the bottom land of the county has become practically useless.

Sherman Powell, Olive vicinity, received his conservation farm plan week before last.

Observations

(Old Kodger's Column)

WRITE IT 1952-IT'S HERE
 For over a half-century we Old Kodger has been in contact with the public in one way or another. We have seen good times and bad times, but never have we seen so many common, cheap skullaws as float about the world today.

PEOPLE IN WHOM THERE was confidence now betray any one for less than 30 pieces of silver. What is the reason for all of this? Everyone seems to be doing alright financially. Morally we are at a new low, and apparently for no particular reason. It doesn't take a magnifying glass to see men stooping to reach the bottom of the garbage can.

BUT, EVERY NOW AND then we can find that rare species of man that has the courage to speak out against the practices of today—useless practices that makes a man's red blood turn pale and cold when one thinks of just how stinking low our morals can go. Will it come to the point in our own back yard where we may have to pay ransom on our own flesh and blood?

IT MAKES ME WONDER
 how the Master Creator can stomach some of the things going on in the world. Hijacking of human beings may be only a few years in the future. Already the game has begun in Europe. Pretty soon some of our own may catch on and we may see the day of paying out blood money for the release of our kind. Our Federal government has just paid out $120,000 ransom money to get three or four men released from a foreign jail—the second time with in a year.

DURING THE PAST THREE weeks I have learned more about the contemptible cussedness of some than I have learned in over a half century—All for what? About the same muma greenbacks uncle Sam dished out. We have never apologized to Italy for accusing Mussolini of stabbing the French people in the back. We should. We have never apologized to Hitler for his rape of Poland, and we wonder if his bones are not due an apology.

AT TIMES IT SEEMS THAT we are caught in the current of uncertainty—a current that is so strong that it is almost impossible to overcome. The souls of those who do not wish to be swept away by the turmoil, greed, and confusion are being tried as never before. Ransom paying may become general if there isn't a change in the heart of man. Where will it come from, or will it come at all?

CAN IT BE THAT THOSE who want to live decent and honest be forced into plunging into the current that travels with more force each day. Just what is the ransom price of man today? What has become of our morals and honesty? One man recently said: "I have just about become afraid of everybody, and at times I don't trust myself too far." Facts and our present day reasoning have taken a place alongside of those who hold out for ransom money.

RANSOM IS NOT ALWAYS
 paid for with money. It can be paid in many ways, but it is still ransom. The toil, sweat, and blood of man may be the ransom paid to the embezzler of life's biggest asset—contentment and happiness of everyone deserving, and without being forced into the stream that appears headed toward oblivion.

How to Find Christ

Lesson for January 6, 1952

NOT every one finds Christ in just the same way. This was true at the beginning and it is still true. A very interesting recent book is, "These Found the Way," edited by David W. Soper. (Westminster Press, Philadelphia, $2.50.) It contains the stories of a dozen modern persons who have become Christians. No two of them have the same story to tell, yet there is something in common among all of them.

Each of them in some way has "found" Christ. It is a mistake to think that all Christians must be cast in the same mold, or that each of us must plant his feet exactly in the footprints (for example) of St. Paul.

Sensational Conversions

At the beginning of John's gospel we find the story of one person after another who followed Christ. There is only one of these who believed in Jesus on the basis of what could be called a "supernatural" experience. This was John the Baptist. He testified that he had "seen the Spirit" (that is, God's Spirit) coming upon Jesus.

Now you cannot "see" the Spirit in the same way you can see a fence-post. Even if you take the story in the most literal way, and take it to mean that the Spirit had taken the visible form of a dove, the question still is there: How would John know that this particular dove was not a dove, but the Holy Spirit?

Whatever you make of it, John was an exception. All the others in the story became followers of Jesus through some one's word, suggestion, invitation; some one introduced them to Christ. That still is true.

Very few people who are Christians today started out with some vision in the sky, some vision of a dove or an angel or of Christ himself (like Paul, later on).

Simpler Cases

Just as likely, it was not spectacular at all. (Most of the conversions recorded in the New Testament were not in the least spectacular.)

It was some one saying, "Let's go to church," or it was a Sunday school teacher saying, "Bill, isn't it time you accepted Christ for yourself?" or a girl saying, "How can I marry a fellow that isn't even a Christian?" It may be reading a tract or it may be listening to some one's testimony in a prayer meeting, it might be reading that book about how some in our time have "found the way"—or it might even be reading this column.

However it comes about, two things are always true. First, some one introduces you to Jesus. Then, you make the decision for yourself. You are not likely to come to Christ unless some one else suggests it and helps you; but no other person however good, and no church however great and true, can do for you what you alone can do for yourself: make up your own mind to say "Yes" to Jesus Christ.

Nowadays much is said about "Fellowship Evangelism". There is nothing mysterious about it. For instance, a man who has never thought about becoming a Christian and perhaps no intention of being one, joins (say) a men's club at some church . . . and one thing leads to another, and he gets acquainted in this way with the minister or with some one else who has had a real and happy experience with Christ . . . and presently his heart is stirred and he too becomes a Christian—because he has made Christian friends.

Saying a Good Word

Yet it is a strange thing: many people will talk about anything else they believe in, before they will talk about Jesus Christ.

Suppose that from the beginning every one had been as close-mouthed about Him as most church members are? Simon Peter, for one, would never have become a Christian. If it had not been for his brother Andrew, who knows what would have become of Simon Peter?

In commercial lingo, Jesus "sells" himself. First-rate things, ideas or persons always sell themselves. But even the finest articles in the world need to have their story told, they have to be introduced, people have to know about them. Every church, every Christian, ought to be (in the best sense) advertising Christ. Is yours? Are you?

They Look to You for Help

Geraldine Czarnecki visits Saul Moree during recess from schoolroom classes in polio ward of New York hospital. These two young patients and tens of thousands of others in all parts of the country look to the March of Dimes for help when polio strikes. Tripled polio incidence of the past four years has taxed the March of Dimes so severely that the 1952 drive period has been doubled to include all of January.

A Plan For The Future

Or A

Plan Of The Present

A house for a big family. Plenty of room is required for a big family and this house was designed to fit their needs. It has 4 bedrooms of comfortable size with ample storage space. If you do not need the chimney (see dotted squares labeled "C"), you can easily utilize these spaces for storage.

You will like the arrangement of the rooms. The front entrance hall has a large closet for wraps and anything you need to store there. The central hallway saves unnecessary travel through other rooms and simplifies house-keeping considerably.

The dining room can accommodate a large family, and quite a few guests; but if you prefer it may be converted into a very nice bedroom by cutting a door into the hall.

The living room, which has a wide opening into the dining room will comfortably hold large groups. A lot of window area makes it very cheerful to live in, and three walls are unbroken by doors, which makes furniture arrangement easy.

The conveniently arranged kitchen gives ample eating space for the family, plenty of counter top and work area, and enough room so that several people can work there without stumbling over each other. If you want a chimney, we suggest you place it in the corner as shown on the floor plan.

A very helpful feature is the workroom, which contains a good-sized pantry, a large closet, space for laundry equipment, home freezer, and a lavatory for the menfolk after work.

The front porch may be screened in to provide living space without detracting from the appearance of the house in any way.

In case you do not want the garage, you still can have an attractive house without it.

We hope we can be of service to you on plans for a New Home. We Invite you to discuss your plans with us.

Mighty Peace Pen

Into a fountain pen company's archive of historic writing instruments goes a pen of the type used in San Francisco by representatives of 49 nations to sign the Japanese Peace Treaty.

All of the 115 pens donated by the Parker Pen Company to the State Department for the treaty signing were retained as souvenirs by the signers except, of course, those intended for use by three nations which did not sign. The pens were engraved in block printing: "Japanese Peace Treaty—1951." The State Department's division of international conference specified that inscription, as well as the block style of lettering, which is easier read by the treaty's non-alphabet using signatories. The pens were identical except for point, grade and color. All were filled with a super permanent dry-writing ink said to remain legible as long as the paper parchment lasts.

Speaking of the three delegations which refrained from signing the document, a pen company official said as the pens were put into the archive chamber: "We are not sorry the dry-writing model is not going with them as mementos behind the Iron Curtain. It is one thing, at least, the Russians haven't as yet claimed inventing."

SCHOOL NOTES FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT
On Thursday before Christmas the Home Economics club of the Hardin High School visited the County Farm and distributed gifts and sang Christmas carols for the people at the County Farm.

CONGRATULATIONS
We wish to extend to Coach Jenkins and the Sharpe basketball team our congratulations on their invitation to the Paducah Tournament.

THE NEW YEAR OUTLOOK
As we approach 1952 we begin to think in terms for the new year of our schools for the coming year. We all realize that Marshall County is developing at a rapid rate and this development will necessitate an expansion program for the county schools. We feel that the following programs will arise during the coming year.

TEACHERS
The teacher situation will become more critical during the next school year. Teachers are leaving the profession to secure employment with industrial plants. It will be necessary to increase salaries if we expect to obtain qualified teachers.

SCHOOL BUILDING
The cost of construction will remain at a high level due to the increased enrollment we anticipate. It will be necessary to construct additional class rooms before next school year.

TRANSPORTATION
The demands for transportation will increase during the next school year. It will become more difficult to purchase new school buses. The Board will be faced with a serious problem of securing drivers for the buses unless the salaries can be increased. It will be necessary for the Board to purchase two or three new buses for replacements.

ENROLLMENT
We can anticipate an increase in the enrollment in schools during the coming year. This will be due to the industrial development that is taking place in this county.

CURRICULUM
The Board will be faced with the problem of additional courses in the high schools such as commerce training, industrial arts and more science. It will be necessary to offer these courses in order to meet needs of the students in high school.

SCHOOL TERM
The elementary school should be extended to 9 months there by giving the elementary children the same number of days in school each year as the high school children.

EQUIPMENT
It will be necessary for the Board to purchase several hundred dollars in classroom equipment for new classes rooms that must be constructed. The Board must also face the problem of purchasing new instructional material if commerce, industrial arts and science courses are added to our course of study.

Ben Thompson and family, of Detroit, visited his sisters, Mrs. Cecil Houser, Mrs. G. B. Johnston and Mrs. C. T. Wyatt here during the past week.

The Great Milk Thief—Mastitis

QUESTION: Just what is the cattle disease, "mastitis"?
ANSWER: Mastitis means any inflammation of the udder. Several kinds of germs can cause several types of infection in teats and udders. Injuries may also cause mastitis.

QUESTION: What are some common symptoms of mastitis?
ANSWER: If the case is acute, the udder may be sore and swollen; there may be a discharge from the teats, and the milk may be stringy. In chronic cases, however, there are hundreds of thousands of these—a laboratory test and physical examination may be required for a sure diagnosis.

QUESTION: What treatment is best for mastitis?
ANSWER: Several types of medication are helpful. But tests must be made first to find out what germs are causing the trouble—so the correct treatment may be used to fight that particular cause. The important thing to remember is to have a veterinarian check the animal at the first sign of trouble.

Prompt action may save a cow's usefulness. QUESTION: What can an owner do to prevent mastitis?
ANSWER: Guard against teat injuries; be sure milking machines are adjusted correctly; buy only clean replacement stock; sterilize milking equipment; milk infected cows last; work out a practical control plan with the veterinarian. Medication alone will not solve this problem. A planned control program is necessary.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

Thompson. Mrs. Davis, president, presided over the business session, after which the meeting was turned over to the leader of the Royal Service Program, Mrs. J. R. Brandon, who, with other members of the Society discussed different phases of the program. "Where Advance?" and having special prayers for peace.

At the close of the program, the group gave over to social fellowship in which they engaged in a "word-making" contest. When the contest ended, the hostess served refreshments, followed by two courses of Christmas sweetmeats. A thoroughly enjoyable evening was had by all. The stabilizing slogan of the Society is maintained in their watchword for the year: "Laborers Together With God."

Kentucky Railroads Are the Backbone of Kentucky Industry

KENTUCKY'S railroads are a vital necessity to Kentucky's industries. They haul the raw materials to the factories and mills and haul the finished products to markets all over the country.

They are especially important to the mining, lumber, tobacco, agricultural, electric power, chemical, rubber and distilling industries — which require dependable, large volume, economical transportation.

Furthermore—scouts for large industrial operations in the North and East, investigating the State's possibilities for the location of factories, depend upon Kentucky's railroads for information of all kinds essential to plant location—covering sites, raw materials, labor, transportation facilities, markets, etc.

For many years Kentucky's railroads—through their industrial development departments—have been steadily working to develop new and existing industries in Kentucky . . . thus helping to provide more jobs, greater prosperity, larger tax revenues and better living conditions all over the Commonwealth.

The interiors blend beautifully with the exterior colors. The car has all the features for comfort, safety and durability which have become traditional with Plymouth. Smooth, Easy Performance Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Orloff shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accentuated by changes in the external adornment. A new luxurious standard for interiors is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has a gleaming, lively two-tone color which sets it apart and gives it the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter-pantry. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Long-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The following color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue with Polychromatic-White Stealing Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE
A new, smoother flow of power results from the newly designed combustion chamber in Plymouth's famous floating power engine. The six-cylinder, 97 horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. Longer life for both the main and rod bearings is achieved through an improved type of base metal.
