NEWS BRIEFS

Monday night at Steve Wiley, city attorney, was walking from his home to the city hall to attend council meeting he was accosted by two youths, who stuck "guns" in his back and marched him to an out-of-way place near some negro cubans lower end of Third st. A negro resident heard Mr. Wiley's voice and investigated with a flashlight. The robbers fled, but were caught later. The attorney would not press charges against the youthful hold-ups. About nine o'clock, three youths in a car bearing a Tennessee license drove into the Copeland & Taylor service station on West State Line street, held up Attendant Doris Slaughter and took the cash register containing $42. Slaughter was taken to the residential section of town and put out.

TWO PER CENT DISCOUNT ON TAXES BRINGS RESULTS IN DECEMBER COLLECTIONS

The city of South Fulton has been able by business-like methods to clear much of its bonded indebtedness despite depression and slow tax collections. During 1934 further payment of $1,500 was made on school bonds, saving the city $52. In the past three years $2,000 of the school bonds have been paid at savings. In 1933 South Fulton lowered their assessed valuation of property and raised the tax rate from $2 to $3. Then in 1934 with the assessments remaining the same, the tax rate was lowered from $3 to $2.75.

Mayor Steven and his board of councilmen inaugurated back in November a two per cent discount on all taxes paid during the month of December. This plan was adopted in order to encourage the payment of taxes, and it brought surprising results. During December, 1934, only $662.30 was collected in taxes, with most payment coming in February of the following year, totaling $3,862.04. But introduction of the discount plan brought in December, 1934, $4,142.50 in tax collections.

Three biggest tax payers were the railroad, $1,650.74; Swift & Co. $1,078; Southern Bell Telephone Co. $148.06.

Rev. W. D. Ryan. An entertaining program was carried out. A trio from the First Methodist church composed of Miss Ruth Fields, Mrs. M. W. Hawes, and Mrs. Joe Pigne. During the program the pastors of other churches in and out of town made brief talks welcoming Rev. Ryan. Visitors were Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Daugherty, pastor and wife of the First Christian church of Mayfield; Rev. Charles Martin, assistant pastor of Mayfield; Rev. and Mrs. Murray, pastor and wife of the Christian church of Clinton; Rev. and Mrs. Fritts, pastor and wife of Union City. Local pastors present were Rev. E. M. Mathis of the First Methodist church, Rev. L. E. McCoy of the Comb Presbyterian church and Rev. J. S. Robinson of the First Presbyterian church.

After the program a pleasant social hour was enjoyed in the parlor of the church which was appropriately decorated with cut flowers. Delicious refreshments were served.

Lee Milan, age 44, farmer of the Rutledge neighborhood in Weakley county, Tenn., was killed instantly early Wednesday morning near the hour of two o'clock when struck by a northbound C. M. & N. freight train, near Grymes Crossing, about two miles south of Fulton. It is believed that Mr. Milan was returning to his home from Fulton, and while walking down the railroad was run down by the train.

Funeral services were conducted from the New Hope church Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, with interment following in charge of Lowe's funeral home. The deceased is survived by his widow and nine children; his father, Jim Milan; three brothers, Frank, Joe and Carl Milan; and one sister, Mrs. Lucy Gibbs.

Yesterday announcement was received here from Howard Wagon, zone manager of Warner Bros. theaters, that immediate reductions in week-day admission prices at the Orpheum Theater here, which is operated by the Warner circuit. Following are the new prices which will take effect Saturday, January 12: "Balcony seats, 2:30 P. M. to 5 P. M. 10c, Evening Balcony 25c; Nat. 10c, Balcony 11 A. M. to 1 P. M. 10c, 1 to 11 P. M. 25c; Lower Floor, Matinee 25c, Evening 35c; All children anytime 10c.

Following is a statement made by Mr. Waugh:

"I have letters in my files that I have compiled during the last 20 days from 123 towns, and cities the size of Fulton and larger, where the average license fee for picture shows runs from $50 to $100 top. The proposed $500 license fee for Fulton is the most exorbitant charge that I have ever heard of in my history in the show business.

"It is a well known fact that a properly conducted theatre in the town influences many dollars into local stores, Fulton has been watched very carefully because of its nearness to Union City, Martin and other towns of similar size. It costs money to play new pictures when they are new. We could go along on the same old Fulton pictures long after they have played in other communities, and in six months, I venture to say that no one from the surrounding towns would care about coming into Fulton to look at the attractions.

"It is unfortunate that there is a competitive price war in Union City. Two opposing factors are trying to cut prices to put each other out of business. This is not the fault of our company.

"We have offered the mayor of Fulton a substantial reduction in admission prices, if he will reduce the license. We have also offered to come in and spend several hundred dollars in improving the Orpheum Theatre, to make it more attractive for not only the residents of Fulton but for out-of-town people as well.

"Fulton has not been a profitable town for us. We have gotten very little return for the money that we have spent in the town. I say very frankly that we cannot afford to pay such an exorbitant tax. What the outcome will be, I do not know."

THE COMING ELECTION

The year 1935 will bring about many changes, many of them for the better.

This year is going to be a big political year, with Congress in session, and many candidates announcing for various state and district offices throughout the nation. Here in Fulton we will have an election of a mayor and city council.

People of this community, naturally, are more interested in who is chosen to govern this municipality than they are other political offices.

Although our councilmen receive practically no remuneration for their services, it is no reason for us to encourage and assist in the selection of the most capable men to fill these responsible positions. To sit on the side lines and have no voice in choosing a mayor and council, is bad policy for any citizen to adopt, and when they don't further our good government by voting at the polls, they have no room to criticize and find fault with others; omnipotence versus Altyssa though.

No public servant, whether he be councilman, mayor, representative, congressman or president, should allow personal feeling and amendment to interfere with his capable and honest service for the best interests of the people who placed to public office.

The mayor and council chosen by the people of Fulton in the election this coming August, will have many problems to work out, commanding more careful consideration than will their own personal affairs. For their every act must be weighed and tested by the scales of honest and sincere desires to serve the best interests of all the people. The individuals elected to guide our community through another two years will undertake a grave and important task. The next two years will bring many changes in this country. The vision and executive ability of our government officials will play a vital part in the advancement of our nation, state and community.

It is well now that all the citizens of Fulton begin to give some serious consideration to the coming election. And the only way the people can have so choice in who shall represent them is by placing MORE THAN ONE ticket in the field, and then go to the polls and vote for those you feel like are most capable and will administer his public duties with sincerity and honesty.

It is not the time and place for petty politics (you scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours kind), but time to select the best talent offered for our public offices. The general goal of our community, state and nation must be served for the good

A study has revealed that of the 1930 prisoners in the state prison at Nashville: 21 percent are illiterate, 76 percent never reached the seventh grade, 2.6 percent only high school graduates, and three tenths of one percent are college graduates.

In connection with these facts we quote a poem by F. G. Johnston as it appeared in the January issue of the Tennessee Teacher.

To teach is not alone to tell a thing or two. And say it well, And knock into the dinner pates, A repertoire of facts and dates. To teach

Is not alone to drill And force to march up learning's hill. Upon their bold and weary legs A squad of little human piers. To teach

Is not alone to curb Eager youth who school disturbed And make reports and hand out grades. And deal with ponds as with shades. To teach

Means to reach And find the laws of human mind. In boy to see the exciting man. Then shape him to a splendid man. This is to teach.

THE LOWER GRADE ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

BANKING EVOLUTION

By R. S. HECHT
President American Bankers Association

BANKING at one time was a private business, but more recently has developed into a profession—a semi-public profession. This change has not come suddenly but is the result of an evolutionary process. Banking has grown and changed with the growth and change of our country.

R. S. HECHT

The banker who has survived the trials and tribulations of the past few years has proved himself a man of courage and ability, and we may well expect him to meet the problems that lie before him with resolution and sound judgment. Changes of momentous importance have occurred in our economic structure and bankers have had a difficult road to travel. Some will argue that all of these changes were evolutionary and inevitable, while others look upon many of them as revolutionary and unnecessary. It is extremely difficult to trace with any degree of accuracy the real causes for many of our troubles and it is not always easy in judging these developments to distinguish properly between cause and effect.

Unfortunately it has become the fashion to blame our banking system all the troubles which the depression has brought. As a consequence we hear much of needed reform of banking by law. No one will deny that certain defects have developed in our existing banking laws which need correction, and that certain abuses were committed which no one wishes to defend or have remain possible in the future. Never before were bankers more determined than they are today to bring about whatever changes in our banking system are called for by the public voice.

The best results can and will be accomplished by normal processes and gradual adjustments of our present private banking structure—suitably supervised by proper authority—rather than by the passage of still more drastic laws, offering panaceas in the form of more government-owned or government-controlled financial organizations.

The Basis of Good Laws
Lasting laws relating to any phase of human need are formed and modeled in the rough school of practical human experience and are usually the result of sound evolutionary processes rather than of sudden impulses to change fundamental principles.

If we analyze the new banking picture which has developed during the past eighteen months, we cannot help but arrive at the conclusion that evolutionary changes which have taken place in banking, and the economic life of the nation of which it is a part, have justified much of the banking legislation recently passed. As we look ahead and consider the new problems which are factor as we must inevitably come to the conclusion that some further changes in our banking laws will be some necessary.

It is not enough that bankers merely acquiesce in banking imposed by law. Zeal for evolutionary banking reform must be more aggressive than that banking practice itself, without compulsion of law, can and should reflect the changes and lessons of the times and difficulties through which the nation has passed and, even to a greater extent than law, render banking more truly a good public servant by voluntary self-reform. In no small measure is this accomplished by the better training of the members of the banking fraternity and by instilling constantly higher ideals in those who are ultimately responsible for bank management.

As we march on into the world of tomorrow the banker has a greater opportunity for usefulness than ever before, and I hope that the service he will render to society will be so conscientious, so constructive and so satisfactory as to merit general approval and assure him his logical high place and leadership.

NATIONAL SAVINGS MARK INCREASES

NEW YORK.—The annual savings compilation of the American Bankers Association for the year ending June 30, 1934, shows that for the first time since 1929 total savings in all American banks recorded an annual increase. A statement by W. Espey Albright, Deputy Manager of the association in charge of its Savings Division, in the organization's monthly magazine "Banking," says that savings deposited in banks as of June 30, 1934, gained 2.1 per cent as compared with a year earlier.

"The aggregate is an increase over last year of $742,182,000, the first since the year which closed June 30, 1929," he says. "This is a notable achievement for the decline since 1929 had been precipitate and all-embracing. In that year savings had reached the all-time high of $39,478,931,000. A year ago the amount was $21,125,524,000, a loss in three years of $18,353,407,000. This year the figure stands at $21,867,666,000." "Depositors, too, have gained in number, going from 29,262,442 on June 30, 1933, to 29,562,174 on June 30 this year, a gain of 299,732. Four years ago there were 22,729,423 depositors, or one depositor for each 2.3 persons in the country. Now there is one account for each 2.2 persons."

MRS. HEMPHILL COMPOSES AND READS CLEVER POEM

The following poem was given by Mrs. J. A. Hemphill, retiring president of the Business Girls Circle of the First Baptist church. It is her own composition.

I wish I were a poet and had words to express
The longing I have had for the Circle's success.
Many are the things we have strived to do
But I couldn't have done them alone without you.
We've all worked hard, but have not done our best,
Let's start the new year and work with more zest.
The task we have is one that is great,
Let's don't be satisfied to sit down and wait.
I am thankful for you and for your good work,
And may you strive on and your duty never shirk.
And now to the officers who served this past year,
I thank you from my heart for what it's meant for you to be here.
And now to every member, I love you all;
And let's fill our places whether large or small.
This is just a note to everyone to thank you for the work you've done.
One year is finished, another begun,
Let's do better, no work shun.
This year has been one of happiness and let's hope one of success,
But let's ever continue on to climb to things greater and more sublime.
To me you're every one dear, you've helped me through the past three years.
Yet, if we've won no honor or fame,

May we ever be willing to serve in His great name.

THE MODERN HOME

The home of the last century had a cold, unused parlor, but every inch of the modern home is lived in. Invention has added comfort and luxury to the house of today; running soft water; air-conditioning; electric lights, fans, refrigeration and other electrical machinery; and cupboards, shelves and closets galore.

The home of yesterday was more or less dark and ill ventilated. With our sleeping porches, sunparlors and walls lined with windows, we now bring the outdoors indoors. The newer home overflows its four square walls and spreads out on its terraces and the landscaped gardens which we annex to our living room in the spring and summer time.

Damp cellar and dusty attic have become play rooms or hobby rooms for family recreation. Through the older home housed a large family, its furnishings were for adults. The modern home may boast an only child, but the well-equipped nursery is a part of it.

Material trappings may change, but the spirit of the home is constant. Home was, is, and doubtless ever shall be the arena for family life, the retreat for repose and privacy, the filling, renewing station, the haven of understanding and sympathy, the nursery for the young and the blessed center of the heart's affection.

J. C. Davis visited this week in Obion.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES

A Nickel at a Time—
It costs a few cents a day to have a telephone—but it costs as much or more to try to do without it.
You pay for doing without a telephone a nickel at a time. Instead of calling the grocer or druggist, you have to make a trip. If you must get in touch with a friend, you have to go in person or send a message. And in bad weather, such trips are none too pleasant.
When an emergency comes and you want a doctor, fireman or the police QUICK—a few minutes delay may be costly. You would give a lot then for a telephone...
Let the telephone go to work for you right away. Just get in touch with the telephone business office, or any telephone employee you know. Then make a check, if you like, and you will find your telephone more than pays its way in convenience, comfort and protection.
