Its Delicacy of Flavor

And the efficacy of its action have rendered the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular. It cleanses and tones up the clogged and feverish system, and dispels headaches, colds and fevers. Samples, bottles free, and large bottles for sale by H. B. Garner.

Married.

Mr. Charles M. Barker and Miss M. C. Hamby were united in the bonds of matrimony, on Thursday, April 22, 1886, by Rev. T. H. Moore. Charles is a prosperous and energetic young farmer of North Christian, while the fair girl whom he has been permitted to claim as his bride hails from Hopkins county near Nortonville. Started out on the path of life while young, and surrounded by all that is calculated to make the heart glad, may they ever continue on as happily as the beginning. And as the years pass away and old age approaches may they then be as happy as now, and in heaven be crowned at last the wish of a FAIRY.

Elocutionary Entertainment.

A delightful entertainment was given yesterday at the Public School building by Mrs. Helen Stuart Richings. As an elocutionist, her vocal is seldom met, and all those who have had the good fortune to hear her, have enjoyed a rare treat. At the request of those who heard her yesterday, she has kindly consented to give an entertainment on next Friday, at half past 2 o'clock in room No. 11, of the Public School building. The admission fee is only the nominal sum of 15 cents. Considering the character and merit of her recitations, and that the entertainment will be given for the benefit of the Public School Library, the room should be well filled. Mrs. Richings will include several new pieces in her programme.

Music Societies and Festivals.

A friend who is a lover of vocal music, and who is not—remarked the other night that no amusement assemblies ever awakened more interest or drew larger crowds than the music festivals of the large cities, which have lately sprung into existence. Many persons are indifferent to the feats of virtuosity on the cornet, piano, or violin, and yawn wearily in the midst of the most florid harmonies, or a fine voice or stirring tones of a fine voice or stirring strains of a well organized choir. The music festivals of this country owe their success largely to the exertions of the German element whose fatherland makes musical instruction a feature in the public schools. There musical societies abound in all the cities. They are a source of endless and varied amusement, diversion and instruction. The Germans are practical and money-making, but they take time to cultivate the fine art of song.

As music grows in popularity here there is good reason for considering whether all places with the refinement and culture of Hopkinsville should not organize a permanent public music society. It would serve as a means of culture, recreation, amusement and pleasant informal social intercourse. It would supersede and force into the background other questionable, and far less sprightly and attractive modes of recreation. It is innocent, healthful and refining by common consent. Every intelligent pastor and church member knows the value of animated, stirring and attractive sacred music. The popular evangelists of the day are always accompanied by the sweet singer who preaches in song from Carversville to Chicago. The wonderful spell which the Catholic church still holds in the souls of men is largely owing to her sublime choral service. A proposition to take music from the service of the church would be almost unanimously rejected in the Protestant churches. Music societies could be organized and maintained at trifling cost in Hopkinsville, Henderson, Owensboro, Bowling Green and other neighboring towns, which would be a source of local profit and delight. It would be possible then to hold a series of union music festivals in which several hundred well drilled singers could participate. The influence of these festivals on the social habits and culture of the whole population would be immense. The only trouble would be in securing halls large enough to hold the audiences which would attend. Let the accomplished musicians, teachers and virtuosi of the music in this region take this matter in hand and they will not only provide a noble diversion for the masses, but largely increase the interests in their individual professional labors. Hopkinsville has talent enough to inaugurate the movement.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own True Laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Mr. H. B. Garner. Sample bottles free and large bottles at fifty cents and one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidney and Bowels gently, yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion and kindred ills.

Butchers report spring lambs as scarce and high. Very few have appeared in the market although mint and asparagus call in green abundance for their old playmate.

Rev. W. L. Nourse of the Ninth street Presbyterian church preached the introductory sermon before the Middleburg Presbytery which met in Bowling Green last Thursday. Rev. Nourse was elected Secretary and Rev. Charles Hall of Greenville Moderator. The Session concluded Tuesday.

For Sale.—A new custom made top buggy and good set of harness. Inquire at this office.

The game of base ball between the married and single men in Sharp's field Monday afternoon attracted a large crowd. The game was one-sided owing to the absence of a number of players and resulted in favor of the single men by a score of 48 to 29. Another game will be played in a few days.

I am receiving a large lot of the latest style Boys' Youths' and men's Clothing, for spring wear. Call and examine before buying elsewhere.

M. LIPSTINE.

Deputy U. S. Marshall Adams, of Bowling Green, arrived Monday night with the Vinson charged with robbing the post-office in this city. Vinson was brought before United States Commissioner Lands Tuesday morning. The Post-office Inspector was not ready with his witnesses and the trial was postponed till Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and the accused was held over under a bond of $2,500.

All the latest novelties, dress goods and trimmings at Mrs. Carrie Hart's.

A Peabroke farmer thinks that he must have given a job to an Eight-hour emigrant last week. The tramp first asked for breakfast and ate for an hour greedily. He then worked very leisurely until dinner-time when he ate for another hour. He then slipped off to the shade and slept until supper-time, when he would have satiated his appetite for an hour more. But the farmer lost patience and told him he had better evacuate the premises.

One of the best farmers of this county said last week: "The mud-holes between my house and Hopkinsville have been actually impassable this season for a loaded wagon. I want to sell my tobacco in Hopkinsville. It is my county-town and very naturally the best market, and I will do so whenever the roads will permit me. But I cannot risk my team and my trip in such mud-holes as these are on my road to town a large portion of the year." This gentleman is a large tobacco seller. Every mud-hole is costing us a hundred dollars this season.

It has come to light that the prison-officials of Nashville penitentiary who are paid by the State and are supposed to protect their interests have for a long while been in the pay of the lessees of convict labor. The Nashville Banner remarks on this: "It is not right for State officials to be in the pay of a private concern which is peculiarly interested in the conduct of the affairs controlled by the officials. And yet this custom is a logical outgrowth of the lease system, which has cursed this State. The whole thing should be wiped out. The Louisville Times thereupon adds that practically the same company leases the convict-labor of both Tennessee and Kentucky."

The Clarksville Tobacco Leaf has no idea what plan the committee will report for completing the Clarksville and Princeton railroad, but says: "Our people are at this time impressed with the great practical benefits to be derived from the building of this road. Although running only thirty miles it can do the business offered it. At stations all along the line last week, we understand at this time tobacco was being shipped to Clarksville whether the road was built or not, but a large portion of it would go to Hopkinsville and other points but for this road. It is a waste of time to talk about the need for this road. The great good to come to Clarksville if it is built is demonstrated day after day."

Just received a fine lot of stylish Spring goods, which I am going to sell at bottom prices. Gents' clothing and ladies' furnishing goods in all styles. Call and examine my goods and you will purchase.

M. LIPSTINE.

The charms and attractions of the finest landscape, whether gently undulating, hilly and varied, or rugged and mountainous, are heightened by the intersection of pleasant roads which bring to view every feature of utility and beauty. The well graded winding drive is a joy to the heavy loaded team as well as to the pleasure carriage; to the farmer hauling his crop to market, to the young people going to school, to children on their way to church. A correspondent of the Courier-Journal writes: "Take a list of advertisements of farms to be sold, and if located on a turnpike this fact is stated even prior to all other claims. With due deference to the quality of soil, etc., I do not think I am making the statement too strong when I say turnpikes have made the celebrated Bluegrass region of our State what it is." The writer adds on a topic already discussed in our columns: "I have very recently been through a large portion of Kentucky where turnpikes are almost unknown, and took occasion to discuss the turnpike and convict question with a great number of both merchants and farmers, and in not a single instance did I hear a dissenting voice; they all wanted good roads, and thought the idea of using convict labor on the roads entirely feasible." It is encouraging to note the widely spread and growing interest on this subject among the farmers of Kentucky. To the farmers of Christian and Trigg; and to the tradesmen of Hopkinsville and Cadiz it is a question of vital and pressing importance, whose magnitude cannot be over estimated.

A wide circle of friends will hear with much regret of the severe illness of Mrs. Dr. Wm. Hill at her residence on Main street.

The House of Representatives has tabled the bill, by a vote of 21 to 22, "to provide against the payment of wages in script, check, orders, etc., payable otherwise than in money, and requiring county attorneys to enforce the same."

The utterly detestable and unprincipled Colorado potato bug, has made its appearance in the patches. Newspapers in all parts of the country report that they have already begun to attack the crop. The potato growers should prepare to fight it at once.

What is wanted for the prosperity of the State is a perennial Legislature, an infinitesimal subdivision of counties, impassable mud-holes every half mile on all highways, abolition of the school tax, elections every month in the year, and strikes in everything but lightning. With these measures and the allowance of pensions to everybody, the millennium would cease to be an object of concern.

At the last stated meeting of Moore Commandery, No. 6, K. T., held last Monday night, the following officers were elected: Sir Kt. F. L. Waller, E. C.; Sir Kt. Hunter Wood, Generalissimo; Sir Kt. Thomas Rodman, Capt. Gen.; Sir Kt. Geo. Poindeexter, Prelate; Sir Kt. L. S. S. W. Sir Kt. B. W. Stone, J. W.; Sir Kt. Wm. Skerritt, S. D. Br.; Sir Kt. E. W. C. Edwards, S. W. Br.; Sir Kt. H. H. Abernathy, Warden; Sir Kt. J. W. Pritchett, Treasurer; Sir Kt. C. H. Dietrich, Recorder; Sir Kt. Wm. B. Lander, C. G.

The hanging of Fowler, the girl murderer at Morganfield, seems to have been a general picnic. Lemonade, candy, ginger-bread and cane-peddlers sold their goods to the crowd around the scaffold, and profanity and drunkenness witnessed the hanging. The murderer's brother was abundant in the crowd, and an open window of the house adjoining the jail and witnessed the execution, unemotionally until the black cap was placed over the friend's head; she then covered her face with her hands. Although it was a singular spectacle.

A young gentleman of Bowling Green who had formerly been a patient at the Western Lunatic Asylum and had been discharged was brought here again this week for readmission. He was brought without an order of Court and consequently could not be received and was taken back. An erroneous impression prevails that a patient can be placed in an asylum any number of times on one order of the County Court. This is true if the patient escapes or is taken away without authority. If he is discharged regularly the order of the Court ceases to have force and a new one is necessary for his readmission. In the present case there seemed to be rather more willful wilfulness than insanity and some grounds for doubting whether the patient is really a proper subject for a lunatic asylum. A jury has no right to burden the State with the support of a patient who is merely troublesome and perverse.

Tobacco Stemming.

The stemming of Ware & Ware on North Main has been bought by Mr. W. A. Lowry, the tobacco broker, for Backus, Garth, Scholer & Co., of Louisville, who will engage extensively in stemming tobacco, and probably largely increase the capacity of the building, with additional drying facilities. Hopkinsville has superior facilities as a central and natural market of dark tobacco, for the stemming business, and it is certain to be profitable aided by the capital of the firm, which has taken charge of it and the ripe experience and judgment of Mr. Lowry who is the manager of the firm of which he is also a member. Its success is assured. The excellence of Hopkinsville as a point of supply for such establishments is yearly growing more marked. The material abounds in the surrounding country and here is its natural market. It is a decided addition to the industries of the place. The old stemming worked some fifty hands and the working force will probably be doubled with a corresponding distribution of wages and circulation of small change. The new firm will have the good wishes of the whole community for its complete success.

TOBACCO.

LOUISVILLE.

The Courier-Journal of the 26th inst. says: "The week's sales have been the least favorable to sellers since the crop now passing through the market was cut. There has not been any important quotable change carried through the week, but the disagreeable and gloomy feature is the apparently unmovable depression which rests upon the market with a leaden weight, and sinks values steadily but so gradually that accurate differences are almost imperceptible."

For the betterment of the situation the Courier-Journal says: "Reduce your crops and concentrate your efforts on creating quality instead of quantity. The latter is superabundant, consisting largely of kinds of tobacco which are nauseating the trade. The former, quality, is exceedingly scarce, and bears a high premium. In instance, at one end of the list, of both dark and heavy tobacco of Burley, is $1, and at the other end of each are $15.25 and $18.50. An overgrown yield inevitably means an inferior yield, and with inferiority the channels of trade are glutted."

Married Men vs. Single Men.

Editor New Era:

In your issue of last Saturday you announced the game of ball between the married men and the single men. In speaking of the game you used the following language: "The single men's nine contains much 'fresh' material but their friends hope they will bloom in the spring."

I have the pleasure to inform you that we bloomed last Monday as the following score will show:

Married men.....29
Single men.....48

The features of the game were the batting of Phelps, Higgins, Lindsey and Anderson and the excellent fielding of Dick Holland for the single men, while the married men sustained their former reputation by chronic kicking.

We have every facility to build houses and manufacture wagons at the lowest possible cost. We are determined to use every means in our power to do good work and sell the best goods that can be obtained, sell as cheap as it is possible for us to do. We employ the best mechanics and warrant all work to give entire satisfaction. We most cordially invite all of our friends and customers to call and see us at our new office on Main and Tenth streets.

Respectfully,
Forbes & Bro.

STRIKERS

Dr. J. H. Wright, of Hopkinsville, Ky., writes: "I have been a sufferer from chronic rheumatism for many years, and have tried every remedy known to man, but have not been able to get any relief. I have been told that Dr. J. H. Wright's medicine was the best, and I have tried it, and it has cured me. I am now able to walk and move freely, and I am very much pleased with the result.
