Cutts at Murray to Manchester, Postmaster.

N. F. Hall, chairman of the American Bankers' Association, and editor of the American Banker, will be glad to announce that the Association will hold its annual meeting at Manchester, New Hampshire, in July, 1892, to consider the various problems confronting banking and commerce today.

Local banks are invited to participate in the deliberations and share in the benefits that accrue from such meetings. The meeting will be a signal opportunity for bankers to exchange views and experiences and to discuss matters of common interest.

The Association is a strong advocate of banking reform and believes that progress in the field of banking can be accelerated through the active cooperation of all members. The annual meeting will provide an excellent platform for the presentation of ideas and proposals that can improve banking practices and enhance the public's trust in the banking system.

The meeting will also feature a variety of educational sessions and workshops designed to meet the needs of bankers and their staffs. These sessions will cover a range of topics, including financial management, risk assessment, and regulatory compliance.

The American Bankers' Association is committed to fostering a spirit of cooperation and unity among banks and bankers. The annual meeting is a key event in achieving this goal, as it provides a forum for open discussion and collaboration.

We urge all local banks to consider attending the meeting and to contribute to the ongoing effort to improve banking practices and enhance the stability of the financial system. The meeting promises to be a valuable resource for bankers and an opportunity to strengthen the bonds of cooperation and mutual support among members of the profession.
