Matthews In 'Thrill Finish' Wins Crown

BOBBY MATTHEWS WIN TITLE OF SOUTH BY BEATING FIRPO

Bobby Matthews of Fulton won the right to the Middleweight crown of Kentucky, when he defeated Henry Firpo, one of the best middleweights in the country. Altho Matthews entered the ring with odds against him, he displayed to the satisfaction of all his ruggedness and ring generalship against a master ringman, Henry Firpo, who has over 250 fights to his credit.

Matthews has proudly defended the boxing honors of the Purchase, and deserves the hearty commendation he has received from his many friends.

Communication was received here today from Jim Mullens, Chicago fight promoter, that he plans to use Matthews on a card there Feb. 15.

MORE ARRESTS

A study of the records of the city police court indicates that public drunkenness heads the list of cases. This week the jail was overcrowded as arrests bagged an unusual number of "drunks." Judge Adams had his hands full for a while examining the cases. Records for last year show that 93 percent of arrests were made on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

STOCK BARN BURNS

A stock barn belonging to R. H. Wade of this city, and located on Highway 45 one mile north of town was destroyed by fire Sunday night near 11:30 o'clock. The loss was placed at $2,000, including 100 barrels of corn, 50 tons of hay, six head of cattle and one horse.

It is believed that the fire was accidentally started by some tramp as the barn provided refuge for many "knights of the road."

Miss Julia McCampbell of Fair Heights will leave Sunday morning for Jackson, Tenn., to enter business college.

FAREWELL PARTY

Miss Louise McAnally was honored with a farewell party given Wednesday night by Miss Mickie Marsh at her home on Fourth-st. About fourteen friends of the honoree were present. Games of bridge were played and dancing was enjoyed for several hours to the music of radio.

VOX POP

Dear Editor:

Inasmuch as it is the policy of your paper to promote helpful suggestions for the good of the community, we would like space enough to make a suggestion.

It seems to us that it would be a mighty good thing to encourage a drive for discarded clothing. So many of our people are in desperate need and could use garments others would discard.

The Boy Scouts or one of the local civic clubs could promote and back a drive for collection of old clothing from the home of Fulton. Then this clothing could be distributed to those needing it most. They are going under-nourished and without sufficient clothing to keep them warm. It is only the human thing to do to give them what comfort we can.

What doesn't some organization get behind a community-wide movement for collection of discarded clothing.

A READER.

CORRECT THIS HAZARD

May be mistaken but I believe that the city of Fulton has an ordinance prohibiting vehicles from congregating and parking in a block where a fire is happening. The fire department was called out this week and when the truck arrived at the scene there were many cars gathered in the way of the firemen. It seems to me that some regulation of this nuisance should be enforced. For nothing should hamper or delay our firemen, when property and some times lives depend upon their efficiency.

A sharp fine slapped on those who flaunt the rules of safety and stop in one block of a fire, would do much to correct this bad condition.

A TAXPAYER.

WHO WAS RIGHT?

A recent automobile accident caused by poor parking regulations, and neglect of city officials and officers to enforce definite action on a situation long recognized as serious.

Two cars smash at the corner of Fourth and Lake streets. Both drivers contend they were in the right, although one had to drive to left of the center of street in order to get around the corner because of traffic congestion caused by cars being parked on both sides of the street at this point.

THIS CORNER IS DANGEROUS

and the city officials and police department are responsible because they have done nothing to remedy a serious traffic problem. Public sentiment is against the continuance of such a condition, which is liable to result in some accident that will bring death with it.

Must the city of Fulton wait until that time, when it may find itself with a lawsuit on hand because of its neglect? We hope not, and also hope that the editor of this paper will co-operate by printing a motorist's sentiments on the matter.

A CITIZEN.

THREE MILLION LOST

That every changing cycle of events is steadily taking place in these United States. Years of agitation preceded the adoption of prohibition. Even the drinking classes assumed when the blow fell in 1920 that because it was the law—not a State statute or a city ordinance—prohibition was going to be enforced. Every one knows how badly we were mistaken.

In much the same easy American spirit, we abolished prohibition at the end of 1933. We expected revenue from taxes on alcoholic liquors. That was one motive behind repeal. The federal government and the state governments jacked up the taxes. Anticipating repeal the federal government cut the prohibition enforcement unit, which had paid federal taxes on about 130,000,000 gallons of distilled liquors a year. Congress even reduced the appropriation for the Coast Guard which for thirteen years had been fighting Rum Row along our coast line. All these conditions and other worked together in furthering illicit trafficking in distilled liquors, and it is estimated that 30 to 50 per cent of all liquor drunk in the United States is bootlegged, despite repeal of prohibition. Meanwhile, Uncle Sam and the States are losing $150,000,000 to $300,000,000 per year in taxes.

In the period between 1912 and 1916, the distillers and rectifiers paid federal taxes on about 130,000,000 gallons of distilled liquors a year. Now, they are paying taxes at the rate of 57,000,000 gallons a year, although the country probably is drinking as much distilled liquor as before 1916.

Taking a minimum estimate, a third of our hard liquor is bootlegged, the federal government is losing in revenue $100,000,000 a year. If half of it is bootlegged, Uncle

Sam is losing $200,000,000 a year. Nor is that all. The bootlegger is evading state and local taxes as well. What's to become of all this muddle?

WAR ON CRIME

Governor Horner of Illinois made a revolutionary and sensational proposal before the Illinois crime conference last week. He urged that court forfeit the estates of convicted predatory criminals unless they can prove their wealth was honestly made. His dramatic suggestion was made before 800 mayors, law officers and prosecutors from all over Illinois.

A war program containing 20 points was laid down at this conference. Governors of many states are responding by pledging conferences to ratify the findings of the national crime conference in Washington. Every section of the nation is conveying its enthusiastic approval of the war on crime. The crime crisis which faces America can be met adequately only by an aroused public indignation such as would inflame our citizens were we threatened by an enemy from without, even though the menace were not as sinister as that which confronts us in the war of the gangster and the racketeer.

The campaign to end crime in America is imperative, and it will go on and go through.

EUROPE'S DISASTROUS YEAR
Nineteen hundred and thirty-four was a most disastrous year for Europe. Guglielmo Ferrero, Europe's foremost historian declares, and summarizes events.

On the threshold of 1934, on the 30th of December, 1933, the Russian Prime Minister Ducas was assassinated.

In February Paris was plunged in blood by riots and Vienna by civil war.

On the 27th of June the massacres in a town of the opposition, both right and left, took place in Germany.

In July the Nazis failed in their coup in Austria and killed Dollfus.

In October Spain attempted a social revolution which was drowned in blood; and King Alexander and the Minister Barthou were massacred at Marseilles.

How much blood has been shed! And at the same time poverty has increased all over the continent. In the over populated countries, as in Germany and Italy, and in Russia where a reign of oppression is in sway, and the people are literally dying by the thousands from starvation.

Our country has had its troubles, but we have much to be thankful for, when we consider the terrible conditions existing in Europe. We should be justly proud that we have a national government that has gone about the problem of working out the salvation of our country in a sane and human way.

FARMERS' WIVES SHOW KEENER INTEREST IN ELECTRIC POWER USE

Farmers are again showing a lively interest in electricity as a source of power for operating machinery of various kinds, for lighting and for powering various household appliances.

Reports of various utility companies in communities adjacent to rural districts tell of extension of their power lines and of the addition of hundreds of new customers. Much of the additional electrical equipment is being financed under the credit plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

The increase in the use of electricity on the farm is shown by the fact that more than 644,500 of the country's 6,288,648 farms now use this power in some form.

To the average farmer electricity means good light, adequate power for water supply, machinery and radio. The farm wife, however, has long seen the possibilities of applying power to kitchen and other household appliances and she wants these labor saving devices installed without delay.

This farm wife envisions installation of a motor or motors which will above all, put an end to that weekly wash-day slavery. She wants butter-making and dish-washing machinery. She wants an electric refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner.

It is lighting and the innumerable small uses to which such power may be applied that the power companies see the larger appeal to the farmer. They point out that every home should have electric light, for safety, then for the conservation of health.

The importance of electric appliances varies with the individual need, but there is a widespread demand for machinery to run the separator, butter-maker, feed slopper and water pumps.

Most of these appliances are included in the list of eligibles upon which modernization loans may be made, and all of the apparatus required for independent power units comes under this head.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 11—Merchant Supply Orders issued by the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration to the needy and cashed by merchants for purposes other than designated upon the face of the order will not be honored in the future, George H. Goodman, administrator, announces.

Each order, Mr. Goodman said, bears on its face its purpose whether it be "food," "clothing," "fuel" or "rent." Merchants supplying goods of a different kind than those specified on the order whether by mistake or otherwise will lose by the transaction, Mr. Goodman said.

SMALL POX

The history of small pox dates far into antiquity. The skin manifestations of this disease have been found on an Egyptian mummy of the twentieth dynasty. History states that small pox first invaded America in 1529, when a negro slave with the troops of Cortez entered Mexico. From this one slave an epidemic of smallpox resulted, killing 3,500,000 people. Many tribes of Indians were entirely exterminated.

Smallpox was one of the worst scourges known to man, killing people by the thousands and rendering many of those who survived disfigured for life. Smallpox is so rare in this country today that few of the older generations rarely think of the grave epidemics they have gone through, and the younger generation never having visualized an epidemic can have no conception of its devastating effects.

The rarity of smallpox today is due to one thing, and one thing only, and that is vaccination. There can be no doubt that vaccination for smallpox is saving more people from a loathsome and deadly disease than any other prophylactic measure in use today. As our freedom from smallpox is due entirely to the almost universal use of vaccination, we must not lose sight of the fact that should we become lax in the use of vaccination smallpox will return with all of its deadliness. For the past several years smallpox is increasing in certain sections of the United States, due entirely to the people in those sections not being vaccinated.

Every infant should be vaccinated between the third and sixth month, and revaccinated at the age of six when it enters school. An infant at this age if vaccinated will not only have less trouble from the vaccination, but will have a longer immunity. Every citizen should not only be vaccinated himself, but should see that all of his family is properly vaccinated.

Anyone can make these small monthly payments, and it will reduce your burden a great deal when sorrow comes into your home. We don't have the space here to fully explain all of the details but will gladly explain to any one any question that they may ask. There is not any use of any one saying it cannot be done.

There are thousands of Burial Associations in operation, and the plan is operating successfully and satisfactorily.

Lowe's Burial Association

WAYS OF VIOLATING TOBACCO CONTRACT

Farmer who have tobacco contracts should be very careful not to sell more tobacco than they are allotted on the allotment cards. Fifteen percent more dark tobacco may be sold than the allotment but the producer must pay the tax on this excess and only in a few cases will the excess return more money after the tax is taken out than the allotment payment would be on this number of pounds. If the excess sold is larger than 15 percent of the allotment the contract is automatically cancelled by the Tobacco Section.

One other way a producer may cause his contract to be cancelled is to permit another person to use his allotment card to sell tobacco. When the contract is terminated this way the producer is required to refund to the Secretary of Agriculture all of the checks that he has received and also to pay the tax on all tobacco sold.

Another DON'T that should be kept in mind is not to spread tobacco that cannot be sold on plant bed or on land that is to be planted in tobacco next year. A good use can be made of this tobacco since it must be destroyed is to scatter over pastures. An increased amount of growth can be secured from the grass as tobacco has a large amount of nitrate stored in the leaves and stalks.

HOME AGENT PRESENTS HER ANNUAL REPORT

According to the Annual Report of Home Demonstration work done in Fulton and Hickman counties during the past year much has been accomplished in this work. The report which has just been submitted to the University of Kentucky and the United States Department of Agriculture includes the Home Agent's and Homemakers' activities during the year.

Mrs. Anna C. Thompson has been the Agent and has worked through sixteen Homemakers clubs, three of which have been organized during the past year, that have a total enrollment of 250 members and nine Junior 4H clubs that had 117 girls enrolled as members. The Home Agent's activities have included 76 days spent in the office and 212 days in the field during which time she has attended a total of 419 meetings at which 9083 persons have been present. Seventy-two local people serving as leaders have assisted with the program for the year.

During the year the Fiscal courts of both Fulton and Hickman counties have made appropriations for the work so that it could be continued without being financed by the Clubs.

Outstanding accomplishments include the preparation of a Demonstration House for National Better Homes Week. Over 800 persons registered at the house during the week and saw refinished furniture, walls and floors, new curtains of inexpensive material made in the correct way, slip covered chairs, home made rugs, attractive accessories and rearrangement of the house, furnishings and surroundings for comfort, convenience and attractiveness.

In connection with the Foods and Nutrition project 34 Homemakers have reported buying new pressure cookers during the year. Improved attendance at training schools with the leaders taking more responsibility has been an accomplishment.

Time Lost is Money Lost

It costs money to be sick. You see it directly if your pay envelope is short. You lose out on some important work if you live on a farm or if you are one of the few who are not docked for lost time. You can't afford to show up on the job unless you are feeling fit. The boss wants results—not excuses.

How many times do Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, "That Tired Feeling," That "Morning After" Feeling, Neuralgia, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Muscular or Periodic Pains keep you at home or interfere with your doing a full day's work?

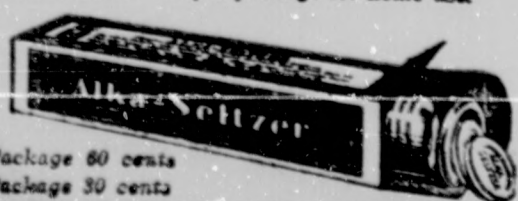

All these troubles are caused or made worse by too much acid in your body. To correct this condition take
