WAR ON CRIME

Governor Howe of Illinois made a revolutionary and sensational proposal of the Illinois State legislature last week. He said that the state should buy all liquor distilled in the state and distribute it to the people of the state free. Governor Howe is the first governor to suggest such a program.

In much the same way that the state of New York has been able to control the distribution of beer and wine, it is possible, Governor Howe believes, that the state can control the distribution of liquor. He suggests that the state should buy all liquor distilled in the state and distribute it to the people of the state free.

The Governor's program has been criticized by many bootleggers, but it has been supported by many residents of Illinois who are tired of the racket of bootlegging.
