Four-H Members Urged To Aid Famine Relief With Garden Projects

Junior Farmers Can Boost Food Production By Use Of Good Seed, Best Cultivation Method

Four-H boys and girls will have an important part in alleviating the worst food famine in history, judging from their role in helping feed the Nation in the past few years, says G. L. Herrington, State Four-H Club specialist. With the greatest need for extra food in prospect, and with a National of 20 million Victory Gardens, Herrington has urged more Four-H club members than ever to include gardens, food preservation, etc., in their list of projects.

"Every bit of food that can be grown and saved will release that much for famine-ridden lands," the Four-H leader said. "Last year 24,390 Four-H boys and girls completed home garden projects involving more than six hundred acres. In addition, more than 2,600 Club members completed projects in market gardens, truck, and canning crops, which covered more than one thousand acres. This record should be exceeded this year."

From their projects, last year, Club members canned almost 2,000,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables. In addition, more than 75,000 lbs. of fruits, vegetables, and meats were dried, cured and stored. This, it will be noted, came chiefly from garden projects, and does not take into account field crops, livestock, and dairy products.

Four-H Club members can boost the food for famine relief by using carefully selected seed, adoption of best production methods, most proficient use of fertilizers and equipment, and by carrying all garden projects to completion.

Brooks Henderson Opens New Country Club Sub-Division

Fulton's newest sub-division is the Country Club Court, located on the Country Club Highway east of Fulton, offers some fine building lots, B. B. Henderson, owner, stated this week. There are about 50 lots in the court, and the first lot was purchased by Mr. C. D. (Spud) Edwards.

Mr. Henderson prior to opening his sub-division, improved the grounds, planted trees, and laid out the lots with a T-street running through its center, permitting frontage for all lots. He plans to asphalt this street as the court develops.

All lots are well drained, located on high ground, and both city lights and water are available. Terry-Norman school is only a short distance, and the Fulton Country Club just a few hundred yards up the highway. Mr. Henderson has placed restrictions on building, which will be an asset to property owners, because only better type homes will be built. His advertisement in this issue of The News will provide further information.

A LOCAL NEWS STORY FROM CENTRE COLLEGE

Miss Imlay In Fulton And Fulton County

Miss Florence Imlay completed a series of lessons on child training, April 9, with twenty mothers and several children in the home of Mrs. Robert Thompson on Middle-road. After two instructive lessons at Mrs. Thompson, Miss Howard, Home Agent accompanied Miss Imlay to the regular meeting of Terry Norman P. T. A. at the school. A well filled room of mothers and teachers, including several visitors of the other city schools, enjoyed the brief discussion.

"Give the children the right place to go, entertain them at home, share their problems," says Miss Imlay. "The ball of responsibility is tossed right into the laps of parents for most of the problems of children." Teach children to think, not just follow the leader.

"Play the game of life with them. Develop their talents. Create a love for work and responsibility—make them good sportsmen, good showmen and christians." She urged Fulton to carry out prevailing plans for a play ground, saying it only takes a few "fired" leaders to accomplish such.

The need for closer and closer cooperation by Parent-Teachers and Homemaker groups is clear since this lesson. It is hoped that Miss Imlay may again visit the Fulton territory in the future.

THE AMERICAN WAY

As pointed out in a previous article, a great future is ahead for us. But one must know how to proceed in such a day and age. The wisest of all Books gives us that information. It pictures St. John meditating upon the affairs of his time. One day he had a vision that changed his thinking. He said, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth."—by that he meant he had a new insight, a new idea of what God was trying to do. One has an entirely new outlook on life when one gets a vision of what God is trying to do in this world. I think He is doing something wonderful right now.

For example, we now have the atomic bomb. Are we thinking properly of this new found force? We refer to it as something sinister, as a diabolical instrument of death, as an instrument of inhumanity, and it is all these things. It is unfortunate that the first use of atomic energy had to be the destruction of two cities, but even so, we need to think positively about atomic force.

"I saw a new heaven," that is to say Almighty God wants to do something with this earth, and finally has become convinced that mankind is ready to peer into a crack which He is opening in the universe and in which He has revealed the greatest power yet known to man. He has more confidence in man than man has in himself. He is saying to man, "Here is atomic force, take it, use it to make a better world."

So man took it, and the first thing he did with it was to blast two cities out of existence. But man now holds this marvelous power in his hand; power that God gave him because God, first of all, put it into the universe, and then gave man the brains and the ability to find it. And God cracked open the universe, a little bit so man could get it. Every other power that God has given us may be misused—sex, alcohol, the motor car, the airplane, money—every one of these may be used destructively, but each may also be used for the advancement of mankind.

We did not turn away from the automobile because it was ten times faster than the horse. We used it—we had to use it. God gave it to us. God also has given us this atomic force which we must and will use to build this great future which is before us.

Of course, man must change in order to be able to handle atomic force. There are some tremendous ideas in the mind of God which man is discovering. He is saying to humanity, "You have fought and devastated the earth, now rebuild it and make of it something glorious."—"I saw a new heaven and a new earth."

From the personal standpoint, nothing in 1946 or in all the future can defeat you if you get a new viewpoint on the way God will help you if will call on him.

An industrialist went to a famous doctor for an examination. The physician said, "here is nothing wrong with you that cannot be cured by a new outlook on life. To get a sure cure, get a spiritual outlook."

"What do you mean?" asked the

Let Your Tractor Do It.

THE TRACTOR REVOLUTIONIZED FARMING, THEN HIGH-COMPRESSION REVOLUTIONIZED THE TRACTOR.

"EXTRA POWER AND SPEED SAVE TIME."

THE NEW TYPE TRACTOR NOW GIVES UP TO 30% MORE POWER, BESIDES GREATER SPEED AND EASIER STARTING AND IDLING. THE NUMBER OF TRACTORS ALMOST DOUBLED IN TEN YEARS.

"CLARENCE DAUBERMAN DAY" WAS CELEBRATED JULY 31, 1944, ON DAUBERMAN'S FARM, BY AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS, FARM AND INDUSTRIAL LEADERS, RADIO NETWORKS AND HUNDREDS OF GRATEFUL FARM FAMILIES.

industrialist in surprise. "Just what I say," replied the doctor. "Get some real religion into your thinking and I believe you will be all right."

Having paid plenty for this advice and wishing to get money's worth, the industrialist went to a minister. He got his thinking changed. He saw a new heaven, that is, he saw what God could do for him, and so he saw a new earth—the world for him was changed. It is remarkable how this principle operates. It is so exact as to constitute, I believe, not only a spiritual but a scientific formula. Get God into your thoughts and a great future is ahead for you—like St. John, you will be able to say, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth."

SUNDAY, APRIL 21
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 21, 1946.

The Golden Text is "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but also for the sin of the whole world." (1 John 2:1, 2)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation." (II Cor. 5:18)

BOOSTING GOVERNMENT SALARIES

There are a lot of politicians serving the Government in top posts receiving $10,000 a year. Congress is putting the O.K. on the continuance of those high salaries. The House of Representatives recently voted to give a $400 yearly pay increase to each of 980,000 Government employees. A sort of face-saver was sprung at the same time in Congress when a bill was introduced by a Republican Congressman. That is an oft-repeated suggestion on Capitol Hill but it never goes through—apparently just the same old bluff!

"Voice Highways"

for the Cavalcade of America

An unseen multitude of voices are crowding the telephone long distance "Voice Highways" to all parts of the nation. The result is that occasionally you may experience a delay in getting your call through. When this happens you can help by making only calls that are really necessary. As fast as materials become available, thousands of miles of new lines and circuits are being built to relieve congestion. When this big job is done you will again be able to talk as much as you want, whenever you want and wherever you want. In the meantime, your cooperation is appreciated.

Are you really one of the best drivers in YOUR COMMUNITY?

Here's a way to rate yourself in the POLICE TRAFFIC SAFETY CHECK

Let's be honest, now... remember, your own safety and that of your family depend on the way you drive.

- |   |  |   |   |   |   |
|---|--|---|---|---|---|
| YES NO  | 1. Do you always signal before turning or coming to a stop (never play guessing games with the driver behind you)?       | YES NO  | 4. Do you obey traffic lights—even when you're in a hurry?                | YES NO  | 8. Do you know and observe the rules of the road in your community? (Frankly, now, have you ever looked them up?) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |  | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   |
| YES NO  | 2. Do you always come to a full stop at a stop sign (never coast through)?   | YES NO  | 5. Do you drive in and turn from the proper traffic lane?                 | YES NO  | 9. Do you keep alert when driving—keep your mind on traffic?  |
| <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |  | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   |
| YES NO  | 3. Do you give the pedestrian a break even though he may not have the right of way? (Remember, you walk sometimes, too.) | YES NO  | 6. Do you refuse to drink before driving? (Think, now, before answering.) | YES NO  | 10. Do you drive within the speed limits—never yield to the temptation to do a little "low altitude flying"?      |
| <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |  | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   | <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> |   |

10 "YES" answers—Are you really that good?

8 to 10 "YES" answers—Good driving. We need more of you!

6 to 8 "YES" answers—Fair driving. You must improve.

Less than 6 "YES" answers—Poor driving. You're headed for trouble; possibly injury and serious financial loss!

P. S. Take another look at your score. Would your family and friends rate you the same?

Seriously, don't you wish when you and your family are on the streets that all drivers could truthfully answer Yes to all ten questions? Of course you do—and the next driver feels the same way about it. So start today to improve your score.

CHECK YOUR CAR!

These are the mechanical features that will be examined in the Police Traffic Safety Check:

BRAKES—Do they need adjustment? How about the hand brake?

LIGHTS—Do any bulbs need replacing? Are headlights properly focused and aimed? Are tail and stop lights in good condition?

TIRES—Are they all in safe condition? (No cuts, fabric breaks, excessive wear?)

WINDSHIELD WIPERS—Do they operate satisfactorily? Do blades need replacing?

HORN—Does it operate easily and when you need it?

Are there any other safety items that need attention, such as steering, defects in glass, rear view mirror, muffler, etc? (Have these checked regularly.)

Telephone folks make up a big family—a total of more than 35,000 people. They are the largest group employed by any single company in the nine southeastern states we serve.

Add in Mom, Dad, Susie and Joe, and close kin—and the number quickly grows into a large portion of the population interested, directly or indirectly, in supplying you with the kind of telephone service you want.

They are your friends and neighbors—the kind of people you like to meet, to know, to visit with. They are keenly alert to civic movements... eagerly participate in community activities.

With their earnings and purchases, they are an important factor in local prosperity. And you'll find them everywhere—for the Telephone Company is a local business, multiplied by all the many localities where we serve, and operated by hometown folks like you.

We're proud of the telephone family. You can be too.

Retonga His Number 1 Medicine Says Grocer

Mr. Owen Says He Regained 12 Lbs. Works and Rests Well Again. No Longer Resorts To Harsh Laxatives.

"Thanks to Retonga, I now rest well every night, get up refreshed and ready for a hearty breakfast and I have regained twelve pounds of my lost weight," gratefully declares Mr. J. E. Owen, assistant manager of the Bell Wholesale Grocery Co., of Baxter, Ky.

"I got to the point where it was surely an effort to stay on the job," continued Mr. Owen. "I had no appetite and did not know what it was to get a good night's rest. I seemed full of toxic poison and was compelled to use laxatives practically every day. My weight was down fifteen pounds and I felt so miserable every waking hour that it was difficult to concentrate on book work and calculations.

"I had heard so much about Retonga that I bought several bottles and took them home. One bottle gave me so much relief I knew I was right in deciding to use this famous medicine."

"I began to crave food, and rest well. It wasn't long before I found I had regained twelve pounds. Also, the constipation has been relieved and I am no longer a 'laxative hound', as the saying is. Of all medicines, Retonga is No. 1 with me and I always keep it in my home."

Retonga is purely herbal stomachic medicine combined with liberal quantities of Vitamin B-1 and is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. There is only one Retonga. It may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co.

THE INVINCIBLE UNITED NATIONS

After the most cruel war in history the victorious nations pledged themselves one and all to observe and maintain the peace of the World. In completing the organization all loopholes for escape by rebellious nations were closed. But strange as it may seem Soviet Russia has been growling, and howling, about the rest of the World almost from the time our enemies surrendered in Europe and the Orient. Practically every American familiar with conditions in Russia repeats over and over again, the same statement that Russia has withheld the news of the Council from her own people. Their newspapers and radios have suppressed the news of the Russian walkout on the UNO Security Council in New York.

While the American and British Governments have exercised the patience of a pair of Jobs, the Soviet so-called "statemen" at the New York Council meetings have not only been unmanageable, but they have tried to impose Soviet dictation on the nations of the World.

Your own Washington correspondent finds no evidence in the National Capital that the United States Government will be bluffed or bulldozed, or submit to any compromise with the Russians that will be to the detriment of Iran, or any other small or large nation.

When peace was being mapped in Paris at the close of World War I our President Woodrow Wilson, was outclassed by our own Allies. But Wilson took a chance and did his level best to land the League of Nations on a firm base. But the foundation was weak, and the United States backed away, and dropped out of the picture. This terrible failure has served as a warning in creating the organization known as The United Nations.

Russia will have to crawl back into standing with the new World forces and live up to the principles and the ideals for which it stands. Russia will most likely take its licking, and come back into the Council. The British Empire and the United States are not going to knuckle-down under Communism. Russia can't buck the World, or weaken the determination to outlaw future wars.

MAIN OPA CONTINUATION ARGUMENT HELD FALSE

Economists who remember what occurred to our economy in the postwar years of 1919-20—and even those who weren't even born at that time—agree that the OPA argument for its continuance, based on alleged similarity of inflationary causes now and after World War I, are "demonstrably fallacious" for these reasons:

1. World War I came at a time when industrial production was already at peak levels. The war demand, coming on top of this, caused prices to rise sharply—103 per cent.

2. After the end of the war there was a brief decline of prices, and then they rose to a new high in May, 1920—the rise being 22 per cent, or about one-fifth of the wartime rise.

No Repetition

The causes of the price rise after World War I, these economists point out, show that there is no reason to expect a repetition of this postwar rise of prices if OPA controls on manufactured goods are removed.

"At the end of World War I," they assert, "foreign buying of goods in our markets increased by leaps and bounds.

"An increase in foreign trade now, comparable with what happened after World War I, would mean exports of almost $25 billion within the next year.

"Even the most optimistic estimates, allowing for foreign loans, are not more than half of that amount."

Capacity Increased

The second reason prices advanced after World War I was that, during that war, our manufacturing capacity—as measured by actual output—increased only 28 per cent.

During World War II, on the other hand, our capacity increased 105 per cent — and this increase came on top of a capacity already almost double that at the end of World War I.

"This means," say the economists, "that the nation is many times as well prepared to meet the pent-up demand as it was at the end of World War I."

The final reason why prices advanced after World War I was that, due to lack of reliable statistical information on production and supplies, business feared a continuation of shortages, and bid frantically to get goods for its inventories even though basic supplies were adequate.

Danger Absent

"Today," the economists emphasize, "there is no danger of an 'inventory inflation' because of lack of information. Today, business has all the statistical tools necessary to keep it from bidding up prices because of 'feared' shortages which do not exist.

"Clearly, then, the record of what happened to prices after world War I is no excuse for continuing OPA at this time.

"Nor is there any reason to assume that the pattern of events after World War I will be repeated if price controls on manufactured goods are removed."

Silo Simpkins Says

A good face-lifting of the farm is good face-saving for the farmer.

The "domon" of home work is constantly being removed by home demonstration work.

The "feed a fighter" wartime slogan has been changed to a peacetime motto of "feed a friend."

Gardening is one of the most popular productive projects of Tennessee Four-H Club members.

If feed cannot be bought for hens and baby chicks, the wise choice will be in favor of the chicks.

It is much easier to keep insects out of the garden than it is to run them out after they get started.

If the brooder house is overcrowded, the poultry raiser should thin out occupants before Nature does it for him.

Farm fires destroy about 90 million dollars worth of farm property each year or more than 10 dollars worth in the time it takes to read this sentences.

TIDBITS

AGREEABLE FANS

In all the ten years and a half that these articles have appeared I have received literally hundreds of fan letters all of which I have deeply appreciated. I have tried to answer each one, too, thanking the writer for his words of commendation and also for his suggestions for future articles. Later, when my Passing Institutions appeared in print, other letters came from everywhere, all of them in the same appreciative vein. Here is what I cannot understand: not one letter or card or telephone call or word sent by a messenger has ever been curt or discourteous. When you think how many things I have written about and how many types of people have written to me, you can only wonder why some one has not objected strenuously to what I have said.

If there is any reason for this situation, I suppose it is to be found in my care to tell only what I can vouch for. I have sought no adventurous fame by writing about folk customs as many people like to believe are or ought to be. I have made no effort to curry the favor of any group of people, for I am democratic enough to dismount most groups, anyway. I lived a perfectly normal life as a child on the farm near Fidelity, and when I write, I try to present my own experience of thousands of other people in my time and before. I am not running for office: I do not want your vote for anything. But I do crave your respect for my efforts to tell the truth. You may disagree with me on my way of presenting these simple little insights into folk life and folk customs; maybe you think that I should say they instead of I. But I am not writing about them; I am writing about the typical person, and I know of no better way than to identify myself with that typical person. Too many people, as I have said probably wearisomely, look down on the folk, forgetting that they are of the folk themselves and not some sort of mighty being elevated above just ordinary folks.

People often talk about a free press. That is what this column is. I have never received a single nibble for any contribution that I have made in the eleven years or nearly so that these essays have been appearing in some eighty papers weekly. They cost me no money, they bring me in no money directly, but they give me a chance to make hosts of friends that I would never have known otherwise. And, also, they give me a chance to air, in a slightly serio-comic vein, some of the views that have been taking form in my mind since I plowed my red mule back in the fields near old Fidelity. I felt then, and I still feel, that our little village and its immediate surroundings were good samples of human nature the whole world over. There were some local distinctions of a sort, but the best and the worst made the same sort of mound in the Fidelity Graveyard when they ended their struggle. In times of stress, too, whatever distinctions we pretended we had in normal times grew rather dim. A neighbor in trouble was just a human being like us; his crops in the grass needed our attention, or his burned-down house needed to be restored by more fortunate ones who lived in the same little world. Basically, I early learned, people are very much alike and are to be judged by the adaptation that they can make to a time and place rather than by accidental cheats of birth or worth or brains. Many a "mute, inglorious Milton," in Gray's phrase, I have known. Many a heartbreak I witnessed, for our hearts at Fidelity were made of the stuff that poets' hearts have much of. Few of the sufferers could tell their woe and thus relieve much of their agony. They lived and died silent, except for the plain, unvarnished words of daily life as they went about their tasks. I wanted then, and I still want, to be a partial spokesman for the many who could not write or speak. I may never succeed in this, but that ambition has been responsible for these hundreds of essays on simple things that made up the daily lives of millions of unknown and unnoticed people, people just like you and me.

HOUSING CRISIS

It has been determined that 27 percent of the families of the United States are affected by the housing shortage. There is a shortage of building materials; a shortage of workman. More important, real estate trusts are getting away with "bloody murder" in nearly every part of the United States. The Government has thousands of buildings that could be converted into good living quarters for several million people. But the Government isn't helping to flatten out real estate trusts.

Drain used fats into the salvage cup, not 'down the drain'.

IT MAY BE SOON . . . !

Mrs. Smith and Miss Smith, Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones—and every other Mrs. and Miss in America soon may be able to get the things they want, at prices they want to pay.

Gone may be the days of not being able to buy what they need, because the things simply aren't made.

And of having to take a can or a package or a pair of something they don't want—and can't use—so as to get what they order.

And sometimes having to whisper what they want—and pay twice what it's worth—when it's brought out from under the counter.

And of trying to mend, patch, and mend again the ragged old things that still have to be held together somehow—because good, new things can't be bought, except perhaps at robbers' prices in the black market.

Congress is getting ready to decide on either keeping the OPA way of fixing prices, which manufacturers say has driven a host of products out of the market, or getting rid of that system and letting manufacturers compete freely in meeting customers' wishes—and in giving them what they want, at prices the customers think are fair.

The American woman is said to do 85 percent of the nation's retail buying. It she controls prices, and keeps them fair, production of merchandise will step up—fast.

Silo Simpkins Says

Paring vegetables, thickly helps to keep the food supply thin. Real 'pay dirt' is what the farmer gets for honest soil building.

Only the farmer who has money to burn can afford to burn up his soil.

Save food to save lives is the current motto recommended for homemakers.

What you take out of the garden depends largely upon what you put into it.

"Food today is the most sought after commodity in the world,"—President Truman.

Not to overweight people: hold down the foreign bread line by holding down the waist line.

Production of small fruits is one of the most neglected ways of increasing the family food supply in city and country.

An adequate food supply will get a community 200 points in its community improvement contest; but there is no way of measuring its total value in famine relief.

Announcement To Farmers

The Water Valley Canning Company will again be in operation this season, under new management of Charles N. Wilson and Chap Taylor, who have taken over the business. The plant has been thoroughly reconditioned, and is now ready to go into operation.

NEW MACHINERY HAS JUST BEEN INSTALLED TO HANDLE SPINACH AND MUSTARD GREENS NOW BEING RECEIVED AT WATER VALLEY.

400 Acres of Tomatoes Wanted

We are now signing up ripe tomato acreage, and urge all growers to tell us what they plan to grow this season. We will pay top government supported prices, and will need lots of them. Contracts are available at the plant. IF YOU NEED TOMATO SEED WE HAVE THEM—AND WE WILL HAVE TOMATO PLANTS LATER.

Don't Wait About Signing Up—

DO IT TODAY

For we must make our plans soon, and know what acreage to expect in order to obtain materials and get cans. Your fullest co-operation will be appreciated, and will mean you will receive more efficient service at the plant.
