MURRAY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1908.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY TUESDAY.

SOME FACTS FOR VOTERS AND OFFICERS WHO WILL PARTICIPATE.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 3, is the date of the democratic primary.

The Ledger considers it a duty it owes to all voters to call attention to the facts contained in the call, the requirements of the law governing voters who may offer to participate in the primary and officers who hold the election.

The qualification set forth in the official call as issued by the county committee is as follows: It will be seen from reading the call and Sec. 1559 of the Kentucky Statutes that all voters must comply with the call of the party before being permitted to vote in the primary:

THE OFFICIAL CALL.

"All persons who have on said day, Nov. 3, 1908, VOTED THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET PRIOR TO OFFERING TO VOTE IN SAID PRIMARY SHALL BE ENTITLED TO VOTE AND NONE OTHERS, except young men who will have attained their majority before the November election in 1909 and who desire to affiliate with the democratic primary.

LEGAL REQUIREMENTS.

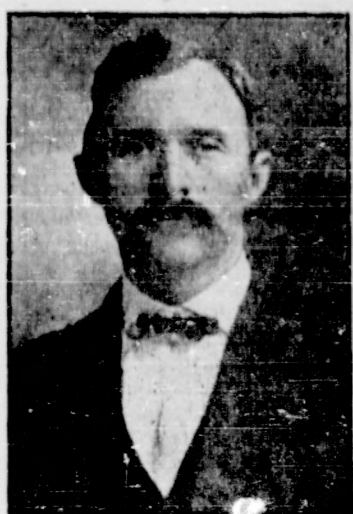

Section 1559 of the Kentucky Statutes requires that all voters must comply with the party call before being permitted to vote. The section in full is as follows:

"PERSONS WHO MAY VOTE—CHALLENGE: In all counties, districts or precincts in which no Registration is held the Primaries of General Law, all legal electors shall have the right to vote at any primary election held by any political party IF THEY CONFIRM TO THE CONDITIONS AND QUALIFICATION PRESCRIBED BY THE COMMITTEE OF GOVERNING AUTHORITY of the political party having direction and control of such primary by applying at the polls of the precinct in which they reside and making known the fact that they conform to such conditions and qualifications as have been so prescribed. In case the officers of such primary election be in doubt as to the right of any person to vote such person shall be sworn by the judges of election, and if after examination as to his right to vote he is allowed to vote. The word "sworn" shall be marked on the stub of the ballot containing such person's name. Any bystander may also challenge the right of any person to vote and in all such cases. Such persons whose right to vote is so challenged shall be sworn and examined as he can before set forth."

RECORDING ILLEGAL VOTES. To enable all election officers to know the duties required of them regarding the receiving of illegal votes and the penalty for failure to comply with the law we reproduce Section 1583 of the Kentucky Statutes, which is as follows:

"Any officer of election who shall receive, or assist to receive, or record a vote at an election at a time or place known by him not to be the time and place lawfully appointed, or who shall knowingly receive the vote of ANY OTHER THAN A QUALIFIED VOTER, or so refuse to receive the vote of a qualified voter, shall, for every such offense be fined from

W. A. PATTERSON.

TO THE VOTERS:—

My candidacy for sheriff is before you and I only ask a consideration of my claims upon merit and qualification. If elected I promise to execute every duty of the office to the best of my ability. I have no enemies to prosecute, no clan or gang to reward and if elected I will go into office unhampered in any way and will give all the people in every section of the county my very best service. Vote for me if you believe I am qualified and I will always feel grateful. Thanking you for the many expressions of esteem and good will and promises of assistance, I am

Yours truly

fifty to five hundred dollars, forfeit any office he then holds, and be disqualified from ever holding any office."

It is accepted that the county committee intended the call for a straight democratic primary and it is also accepted that all officials connected with the election will carry into execution the wishes of the county committee and the democratic party of the county. Above all things it is strictly a white man's primary and no negroes will be allowed under any circumstance to participate.

Where Bullets Flew

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done is worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c. at H. D. Thornton & Co's drug store.

THE AFFIDAVIT

The Alexander-Phillips Controversy Causes Much Talk in The County.

So much has been said regarding the Burken affidavit introduced in the race for county judge that the Ledger is herewith reproducing the instrument in full that the voters of the county might know exactly what is contained therein. The affidavit is sworn to by A. J. Burken and its truthfulness is attested by Joe Burken, brother of the principal affiant. The Messrs Burken are two of Calloway county's most splendid and highly esteemed citizens and their reputation for truth and veracity is not questioned. The affidavit in full is as follows:

"The affiant, A. J. Burken, states that on the morning of September 11th, 1908, while visiting at Mat Peeler's, about daylight he received a written communication from one E. P. Phillips by messenger boy from Murray, Ky., in which he was asked to meet the said E. P. Phillips at Dexter, Ky., by the noon train, that the E. P. Phillips had some business of great importance to this affiant and Joe Burken.

"Affiant further says that he and his brother, Joe Burken, went to Dexter on September 11th, 1908, as requested by Mr. Phillips in his written letter to this affiant, and had a private conversation with Mr. Phillips at the hotel in Dexter, Mr. Brooks, proprietor.

"This affiant says when they secured their room E. P. Phillips began the conversation by saying to this affiant, and his brother, Joe Burken, who was also present with him during the entire conversation, that he had something he wanted this affiant to do, and they then would do something for Joe's boys. Phillips further said I have talked with all four of the lawyers, first one of them came to me, I wouldn't take the promise of one, two or three. I wanted all four of them—Coleman & Linn, R. T. Wells and A. J. G. Wells—they all agreed with me that if you, meaning this affiant, will vote for Esquire Swann for county chairman of the tobacco association, they will release Joe's boys from the indictment against them for night riding.

"Phillips further said that Joe must be patient and give them time, said if they could not throw the case out of court they would reduce them to a fine, and that it should not cost Joe one cent. Phillips further said, it doesn't matter to you all where the money comes from so it does not cost Joe anything, it is already made up.

"Phillips further said I am confident those fellows, meaning Coleman & Linn, R. T. Wells and A. J. G. Wells, do not furnish the money but the tobacco men do. I think Phillips said he knew I, meaning this affiant, was instructed for John Keys for county chairman of the tobacco association, but that the committee would have a secret session and I could vote as I pleased.

"Phillips further said we are just working a little 'twist of the wrist' keep it a secret and don't let anybody know where you have been."

Signed --- A. J. BURKEN.

OLLIE JAMES

Eloquent Congressman Makes Masterly Appeal to Calloway County.

Hon. Ollie M. James, the First district's eloquent and brainy congressman, delivered an earnest democratic plea to the voters of Calloway county here Monday afternoon.

Thousands cheered the big congressman as he played the lash of truth to the naked hypocrisy of republicanism.

Gov. Augustus E. Willson, the "holier than thou" trust loving governor spoke here in the forenoon to a small crowd. His apparent object in speaking here was to attach all the blame for recent unlawful acts occurring in the state to the tobacco association and the democratic party. He labored zealously in the interests of the trusts.

Congressman James was present at the time Willson spoke and asked the governor for a division of time but Mr. Willson pleaded that he must leave at 12 o'clock.

Mr. James took the governor and held him before his immense audience and literally "skinned him alive." It was stated that governor was coming to Calloway to show the citizens here that "he had neither horns, hoof nor tail." He can truthfully tell the next audience he appears before the above and tell the truth, for when James finished with him he had neither horns, hoof, hair, hide nor tail.

Mr. James took up the governor's plea and charges and showed that when the democratic party and himself were pleading for the enforcement of the law the republican party, aided by Willson and a dirty gang of mountain assassins, were planning and carrying into execution the damnable murder of Governor Goebel. Mr. James further stated that while he was pleading for law enforcement that Gov. Willson was signing a pardon for the release of the men charged with the bloodiest crime known to America. He charged that Willson came with the black flag of the republican party in one hand and a hypocritical plea in behalf of the trusts in the other.

Mr. James spoke for two hours and was often greeted with a mighty applause. He placed the principles of pure democracy before plain people in a plain way and pleaded for all lovers of the common people to stand shoulder to wheel and roll up the largest vote in the history of the county for William Jennings Bryan.

F. F. ACREE.

TO THE VOTERS:—

I desire to publicly express my thanks to the hundreds of good people who have aided me in my canvass for county attorney. If elected I will go into office free of any gang and will discharge every duty in a fair and just manner. All prosecutions will be given my personal attention and every accused man will be given a trial as the law directs. THE TOPICS OF A WEEK

With an additional $10,000 practically pledged from citizens of Trenton, Tenn., as a reward to be added to the amount guaranteed by Gov. Patterson for the capture of the murderers (dead or alive) involved in the Reelfoot lake tragedy, in which Capt. Quintin Rankin, a prominent attorney, lost his life and in which Col. R. Z. Taylor, one of the richest men in the state, narrowly escaped, the hunt for the mob members continued Thursday in three counties of Tennessee and into Kentucky with the militia and several posses headed by the sheriffs of the various counties and special officers taking part. Governor Patterson himself headed one party and assisted in the arrest of 30 suspicious characters living in the immediate neighborhood of the hotel on Reelfoot lake, from which Captain Rankin and Colonel Taylor were taken after midnight Monday.

A majority of the prisoners were later released but John Cochran, a look-alike leader of the "pot hunters" and "squatters," who have openly threatened the people who have been legally awarded possession of the lands on which they have earned a living for several years, is detained. Cochran attempted to escape in a skiff. He rowed through the underbrush and into the broad expanse of the lake which is more than 10 miles wide, but was overhauled by a gasoline launch. Thursday night all reports from the rural districts and from Samburg, where martial law has been proclaimed, is to the effect that quiet reigns, but a renewal of the trouble is regarded as sure to occur, as the natives, hundreds of whom are in sympathy with the fishermen, resent bitterly the presence of the uniformed soldiers with loaded guns in time of peace, as they claim. Governor Patterson's friends took the precaution to have him constantly surrounded by a heavy bodyguard. This was deemed necessary, not only because the mob members are believed to be as desperate a set of men as ever attempted to defy the state authorities, but because in several places where notices had been posted of the reward of $10,000 offered by the state for the capture of the murderers another placard had been posted during the night to the effect that the governor would be kidnapped unless he left the community and called off the militia.

Ten thousand jack rabbits were killed in Antelope valley near Lancaster, Cal., Saturday afternoon in the greatest drive ever held in the West. Five hundred men, women and children joined in the big fun-like net before which the jacks were driven into a wire corral half a mile in length and triangular in shape. The jacks were put to death with clubs, furnishing sport to the hunters and relief to the farmers. Just 57 minutes after the killing began the last rabbit was dead. The rabbits had ruined a large part of the crops and the drive was made necessary as a relief measure.

Crazed by the action of wife who left him, eloping with another man and most of the family wealth, after she had persuaded Governor Patterson to grant him pardon, Paul Madison, N. M., Sunday night as the Tennessee insane asylum recently, died Wednesday of paralysis of the heart. The Madisons were believed to be worth a hundred thousand dollars.

Twenty friends and relatives of Capt. Quintin Rankin, the attorney of Trenton, Tenn., who was tortured and then lynched, at Reelfoot lake, Tenn., attempted to take the oath of vengeance over the body of the dead man when the corpse arrived at Trenton Tuesday night, but were prevented by the calmer judgment of others who prevailed on the determined little body of men to hasten to the aid of Governor Patterson and assist legally in the effort to apprehend the guilty parties. Governor Patterson has offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of the person or persons guilty of the murder of Captain Taylor and Captain Rankin. Announcement of the history, was made after a long distance conference with his office in Nashville.

After being given up for dead, reported to have been swallowed up by the ocean, J. M. Webb, a wealthy oil man of Houston, Tex., has just been rescued from the depths of the earth. Webb disappeared at Galveston while surf bathing five months ago. His clothes, watch and jewelry were found in a bathhouse, but as no trace of him could be found it was supposed he had been drowned. Mrs. Webb put detectives on the case, and they finally located Webb working in a zinc mine at Joplin, Mo. His mind is believed to be affected.

Lieutenant Frank T. Evans of the battleship Louisiana, who recently was court-martialed at Yokohama, on a charge of absenting himself from his post while officer of the deck, disrespect to his superior officer and intoxication, has been found guilty of the two former charges. Rear Admiral Sperry received the papers while the battleships were at Manila and has just announced his verdict. The sentence pronounced provides that Lieutenant Evans shall lose 150 numbers and shall be publicly reprimanded. The command-in-chief adds that in his opinion the sentence is inadequate, but has approved it in order that Evans shall not entirely escape punishment.

In addition to money already subscribed by Memphis congregations for the big Tennessee-Arkansas-Mississippi hospital, proposed by Baptists of the sister states and to be located in Memphis, $12,000 was raised Saturday at the Tennessee State Convention of Baptists by ministers. TO STOP NIGHT RIDING

One of the Objects of the Memphis Cotton Convention

Atlanta, Ga.—Night riding and the burning of gins in the cotton belt will be discussed at the convention of cotton growers and allied interests, which has been called by President Hargis Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, to meet in Memphis, November 10, 11 and 12.

"The situation is a grave one," said President Jordan today, "and unprecedented in the cotton belt. The Memphis convention will try to find a remedy. The cotton growers of the South were never in a more desperate frame of mind than now. They are faced on the one hand by a low price of cotton and on the other by a high price of commodities. The situation is made worse by the fact that there seems to be no natural basis for the condition, and this has led to discontent and threatened violence and lawlessness in some sections."

"Local authorities have shown their inability to cope with it, and meanwhile property is being threatened and life menaced."

"The only sure remedy I can see is a higher price for cotton. Much as I deplore the condition in the South, I am compelled to see only that solution of the difficulty."

"I believe the Memphis convention will take steps to advance the price of cotton, and if that is done there will be an end of night riding."

GOVERNORS WILL MEET.

Conference to Be Held Immediately After the Election.

Frankfort, Ky.—A conference of the governors of the tobacco and cotton growing States in which night riders have been operating will probably be held shortly after the election for the purpose of devising measures to abate the evil which, starting in Kentucky and Tennessee, has apparently spread and found lodgment in many other States. The suggestion that the conference be held came from Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, and originated directly from the recent outrage at Reelfoot lake. Gov. Patterson, in a published interview, suggested such a conference and his suggestion was brought to the attention of Gov. Wilson today by a telegram from a New York newspaper. The call for the conference will probably be issued in a few days, naming a date subsequent to the election in November.

The governors of the following States, and possibly others, will be asked to attend: Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

"Contest of Labor Is for Justice, Not Office."

"Washington, D. C., Oct. 23, 1908.
"Hon. W. J. Bryan, Jersey City, N. J.:
"Just saw President Roosevelt's attack. I deem it my duty to advise you that I am preparing an answer. Some newspapers are trying to embarrass you by declaring that you will appoint me member of your cabinet if you are elected president. You may say that I have publicly, emphatically and frequently declared that under no circumstances would I accept any public office, either elective or appointive, and this declaration is irrevocable."

"The contest of labor is for justice and not for office."

BRYAN ARRIVES AT LAST.

Has Bit of Pleasantry at White House, New Jersey.

White House, N. J.—"What place is this?" inquired William J. Bryan to the crowd at the station upon his arrival here.

"This is White House," came the response.

"I am here at last," said the candidate amid great applause and laughter. "It has been rather a long journey, but happily ended. I do not know whether it would be proper now to outline the policy of the next administration or not. I believe it is the duty of the president on the day he enters the White House to forecast his administration, and it is much easier for me than presidents generally, for my work has been simplified by the Denver convention. The platform has clearly outlined the remedial legislation which we desire enacted, and I can simply promise that the platform will be carried out in letter and in spirit so far as I am able to give effect to it."

CONVERSED WITH CLUB ATTACHE

Then Stranger Placed Pistol at His Head and Robbed the Place.

Lexington, Ky.—The boldest hold-up in the history of Lexington occurred in the Climax club. John Ray, one of the attackers, was alone in the house when a stranger entered and took a seat.

He conversed pleasantly with Ray about matters of a trivial nature for a few minutes, when he got up, saying: "I lost $11 in here and I am going to get it back." With this he put his hand in his pocket, as if to get out some money, but when he pulled his hand out it contained a gun. Pointing the weapon at Ray he commanded him to put up his hands and stand with his face to the wall under penalty of death if he moved.

In a rack on one of the tables there was $100 in gold and $400 in silver, and in a drawer in this table there was between $400 and $500 in paper money. Stepping over to the table the robber picked up the gold, and pulling open the drawer he pocketed the paper money and a revolver that was lying near it. He then backed out of the door and was down the steps into the street and gone before Ray could raise an alarm.

FEATURE AND FUNCTIONS

Of Masonic Law in Kentucky Changed in New Constitution.

Louisville, Ky.—Many amendments to the constitution of the "Grand Lodge of Kentucky" Masons were adopted in the final session here. These changes various features and functions of the Masonic law, but contain, according to the members, nothing especially sweeping.

The chief work of the day was the informal installation of the new officers and adoption of a vote of thanks to the Covington chapter for its position of giving the Royal Arch degree.

Major J. H. Leathers, re-elected grand treasurer for the 13th time, distributed $10,000 for the delegates' expenses in attending the lodge.

Interest Eighty Cents.

Covington, Ky.—In accordance with a judgment and order of sale entered recently in the case of W. T. Harris against Mary Mooney, a farm located near Independence was sold by Master Commissioner John L. Rich for $2,000. The farm belonged to the deceased Harris, and was the entire estate. The peculiar feature of this case is that there were 90 heirs, and the largest share to be received by any of them will amount to only $10, while some of them will get as little as 50 cents.

Sues For $30,000.

Covington, Ky.—Florence McCourt sued Nettie McCourt in the Keaton circuit court for $30,000 damages for alleged alienation of the plaintiff's husband's affections. The petition states that the plaintiff lived happily with John McCourt and was separated from him through representations by the defendant to him. Mrs. McCourt sued her husband for divorce, alimony and restoration to her maiden name, Florence Griffin.

All Chapters Represented.

Lexington, Ky.—The annual meeting of the Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution began here with all chapters in the state represented. The session opened with an address of welcome by Miss Anna Chandler Coff, of the Lexington chapter; response by Mrs. T. W. L. Van Meter, of Paducah; and the reading of the report of Mrs. C. D. Chenault, of Lexington, regent for the state.

Whisky Dealer Assigns.

Frankfort, Ky.—W. P. Strader, whisky dealer, of Lexington, has filed petition in bankruptcy in federal court here. Assets, $10,183; liabilities, $15,779. Passage of an act in 1906 prohibiting shipments of liquor from one county in this state into a local option county is said to have injured Strader's business.

Plans Conference on "Riders."

Frankfort, Ky.—A conference of the governors of the tobacco and cotton growing states in which night riders have been operating will probably be held shortly after the election for the purpose of devising measures to abate the evil which started in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Cattle Breeders Organize.

Louisville, Ky.—With 38 charter members the Kentucky Jersey Cattle club was organized here. Its purpose is to stimulate breeding fine cattle. R. O. Gathright, of Louisville, is president, and T. R. Webber, of Shelbyville, secretary.

Warrant For Cincinnati.

Louisville, Ky.—In connection with the litigation over the building of the Galey theater here, Conrad Crader, a contractor, took out a warrant for R. K. Hynicka, of Cincinnati, O., for violating the building ordinance.

Woolen Mills Resume.

Louisville, Ky.—The Mayfield woolen mills, one of the largest factories in this section, has resumed work after having been shut down for months. Two hundred and twenty-five men are employed.

NIGHT RIDERS MURDER CAPT. QUENTIN RANKIN

Thrilling Story of the Escape of Col. R. Z. Taylor From the Outlaws.

Governor Patterson Goes to Scene of Trouble to Take Charge of Situation—Ten Thousand Dollars Reward for Capture of Murderers.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Col. R. Z. Taylor, aged 60 years, and Capt. Q. Rankin, both prominent attorneys of Trenton, Tenn., were taken from Ward's Hotel at Walnut, Tenn., fifteen miles from here, at 12 o'clock Monday night by masked night riders.

Capt. Rankin's body was found Tuesday morning, riddled with bullets and hanging from a tree one mile from the hotel.

Sheriff Eastwood of Union county and a posse of armed men left Union City Tuesday morning for the scene of the murders. These men are determined, and if they meet any of the night riders, it is expected that a pitched battle will be fought. Sheriff Haynes of Lake county is also on his way to the scene with a posse from Tiptonville.

The trouble which resulted in the death of Capt. Rankin and the probable murder of Col. Taylor was caused by the passage of an act by the legislature regulating fishing in Reelfoot Lake, a short distance from Walnut.

The first news of the murder was received at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. Ward, manager of Ward's Hotel at Walnut, telephoned Sid Waddell, a stockholder in the West Tennessee Land Company, stating that about twenty-five masked night riders came to his hotel at 12 o'clock at night.

Ward's Story. According to this report, the night riders lined up outside the hotel, pulled out their revolvers and called Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin. The two men did not suspect trouble and came down immediately.

As the attorneys passed into the front yard of the hotel, the night riders covered them with their revolvers. Before Capt. Rankin and Col. Taylor had an opportunity to retreat, they were surrounded and seized. They were put on horses behind night riders and carefully guarded.

The night riders then quietly took up their march from the hotel, turning down the road toward Reelfoot Lake. Guests at the hotel in a few minutes lost the sound of the hoof beats and nothing more was learned of the fate of Capt. Rankin and Col. Taylor until Tuesday morning.

Proceeding to the edge of Reelfoot Lake, the night riders pulled out a rope, with which they had provided themselves, and placed the rope about Capt. Rankin's neck.

Capt. Rankin Hanged. Capt. Rankin was strung up from a limb on the bank of the lake, for the fishing privileges of which he had contended with the night riders. The masked men then stepped back and opened fire on the swinging body, riddling it with bullets.

The trouble between the inhabitants of the banks of Reelfoot Lake and Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin originated several years ago, when the latter men incorporated and organized the West Tennessee Land Company.

Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin, who were the incorporators of the company, have been also representing it in the capacity of attorneys. Letter after letter has been received by them, threatening violence if they did not relax their position concerning the "rights" of the lake community people.

Thought Things Quiet. Fearing trouble, Capt. Rankin and Col. Taylor have remained from the vicinity of the lake for some time. Recently, however, they heard that the feeling against them had somewhat subsided. There were some legal papers at Walnut which needed attention and the attorneys went there to see about them. Their presence was soon made known to all of the fishermen, and a band of men was quickly formed.

They lost no time, but proceeded to the hotel, after the guests had retired for the night, and quietly accomplished their purpose.

Treachery of Place. The vicinity of Reelfoot Lake is treacherous. People unaccustomed to the community may easily get lost, and it would be an easy matter, it is said, for the night riders to hide in places known to them and shoot down members of the posse, before they themselves could be detected.

Col. Taylor and Capt. Rankin are

Special Term of Court. Union City, Tenn.—Judge Joseph E. Jones will convene the circuit court of Union county in special session Friday morning. A venire of twenty-five men will be called by the court, and the judge will pick his own men. From this number a special grand jury will be impaneled to make an investigation of the murder of Capt. Rankin. This unusual legal proceeding was decided on this morning after a conference in which a number of leading lawyers of West Tennessee took part.

GOVERNOR IS THREATENED

By Night Riders—Names of All of Rankin's Assassins Secured.

Samuel, Tenn.—Gov. Patterson's vigorous action against the night riders of Union county may lead to his assassination. While he was in town Friday morning a crowd of sympathizers with the murderers of Capt. Rankin jeered at the governor and two or three of them shouted: "You'll never live to run for another office." Others in the party made similar remarks. All appeared in an angry mood, and it was an ill-natured looking assemblage.

Friends of the governor went to him and pleaded with him not to go to Walnut, but to proceed at once to Union City under a heavy guard of soldiers, and to remain there until the danger of an attack from the night riders is past. To all their pleadings he turned a deaf ear.

Accompanied by a detachment of soldiers, under command of Maj. Morton, the governor went to Walnut and spent several hours investigating. As a result of his examination of witnesses ten men were arrested, and from them was secured information that will lead to the arrest of the entire band of outlaws that killed Capt. Rankin. On the testimony of T. C. Ward, proprietor of the hotel, was arrested and carried back to Camp Nemo, where he is now in the guardhouse.

Two Farmers Arrested.

A second detachment, under command of Capt. Zoph, was sent to Webb's store, six miles south of here, and they arrested Knox Morgan and Elmer Tait, both small farmers and stockraisers at that place. They were brought to camp and are now in the guardhouse.

Col. Tatom fears that Camp Nemo will be attacked by the night riders during the night, and has thrown out three picket lines and a Cossack outpost. The guardhouse is surrounded with soldiers, and soldiers are inside with the prisoners. Orders have been issued for every man to shoot to kill and to show no quarter in case of an attack.

Maj. Morton and his command proceeded to the spot where Capt. Rankin was lynched and rounded up every man in that vicinity. Ten were arrested and carried to a quiet place near the scene of the lynching and closely questioned. What they told the court of inquiry was not revealed by either Morton or Hogan, but it was learned that the names of the night riders were given up and information as to the assassination that will lead to the apprehension of every man implicated in it.

These informants have been terrorized by the night riders, some of them whipped time and again, and all are now living in dread of murder. Yet they told their tale without hesitation, saying they stood ready to abide by the consequences.

Morgan and Tait Taken.

Capt. Zoph led the detachment to Webb's store. They found a number of loungers in the stores there, and after making some purchases and questioning those around them, they placed Morgan and Tait under arrest. Both submitted without offering resistance, and each one denied having had anything to do with the Rankin affair or with night riding.

Two sheriffs are now in the field with large posies, assisting the soldiers. Another posse of 21 picked men is being organized tonight in Union City, and it will be led by a member of the national guard. In all there will be six posies in the field besides the soldiers.

Samberg has been without law since April 11, when the night riders burned a large fish dock here, on which occasion the mayor vacated his office. Since then the outlaws have run the town, and it has been a lawless community until the troops took charge.

MEETS RANKIN'S BROTHERS.

Col. Taylor Weeps in Arms of His Friend's Kinsmen.

Trenton, Tenn.—Not only Trenton, but the surrounding country, thronged the station here Thursday to witness the arrival of Col. R. Z. Taylor, who so miraculously escaped the fury of the night riders at Reelfoot lake Monday night. Col. Taylor's appearance was greeted with wild cheering by more than 500 people.

A crowd, headed by Judge W. C. Caldwell, rushed forward to carry the colonel on its shoulders, but he objected, saying: "My body is too sore from the bruises and scratches, gentlemen," and he, with some difficulty, made his way through the throng to his carriage, greeting friends on the way. At his carriage he was introduced to the three brothers of Capt. Rankin. The four men fell in one another's embrace and wept incessantly.

Asile from the great fatigue and exhaustion from want of food and sleep, Col. Taylor is doing well.

JAP ADMIRALS CARRY GUESTS

AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS
LIFTED UPON SHOULDERS OF THEIR HOSTS.

FLEET HAS LEFT YOKOHAMA

After Week of Unparalleled Entertainment Uncle Sam's Warships Sail Away—No Disturbances Marred Visit.

Yokohama, October 25.—To the ringing cheers of thousands of Japanese assembled along the harbor of Yokohama, the American fleet under Admiral Sperry prepared to sail Saturday, after a week of festivities such as were never seen before in this city.

The night ended up with a brilliant function on board the Japanese flagship Mikasa, during which Ambassador O'Brien and Rear Admiral Sperry were carried about the deck on the shoulders of Japanese Admirals and captains.

Rear Admiral Sperry attended the funeral of General Count Nedzu, and placed a wreath upon the casket. The American Rear Admiral, accompanied by his staff, walked through the streets of Tokyo to a banquet prepared for them at the Shiba Palace. All along the streets of Tokyo the party was cheered by thousands of Japs lined up along the route.

Children Wave Farewell. After the banquet the American officers started for the Yokohama station. There they were greeted by thousands of school children waving flags and cheering the American officers and sailors.

The day's entertainment included both Japanese and European dignitaries. The American Friends Association entertained 250 officers of the American fleet, and scores of prominent ladies of Tokyo were present.

During the course of the entertainment Baron Kaneko presented to Rear Admiral Enomoto, who represented Rear Admiral Sperry, a picture of the landing of the men of Commodore Perry's fleet at Kuliama. The picture was a present to the Japanese people from Commodore Perry. It was painted by a Japanese artist now 86 years old, and framed in Oregon pine.

All through the festivities the American jacks behaved exceedingly well. No disturbance or fights of any kind marred the visit.

BRYAN TALKS ON LABOR PLANK.

New Jersey Voters Give Ovation and Cheer Candidate's Utterances.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 25.—New Jersey Friday poured out her hosts to greet W. J. Bryan. Refreshed by a long sleep following two laborious days in Ohio and West Virginia, the Democratic candidate was in splendid form and took advantage of this to inject into his utterances a spirit which enabled him to impress his audiences everywhere.

Traveling at a nerve-racking clip over a zigzag route, he was accompanied by a special train in charge of State Chairman J. R. Nugent. Mr. Bryan was enabled to talk to great numbers of farmers, laboring men and others in the farming and industrial centers of the state.

Evidently inspired by President Roosevelt's recent declaration on the subject of labor, in which President Samuel Gompers and himself were severely criticized, Mr. Bryan chose for his main text the labor question, and in most of his speeches, of which there were sixteen, made merry with the president.

He accused the president of butting into the campaign again and deposing Mr. Gompers, and said sarcastically that he expected before long that he himself would be deposed, and Nicholas Longworth, the president's son-in-law, placed at the head of the Democracy.

He never lost an opportunity to define the difference between the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties with respect to labor, and explained with minute detail the pledges which the Democratic party made at Denver to secure the remedial legislation for which, he said, labor was crying, but to which the Republicans had turned a deaf ear.

ADRIET WITHOUT FOOD 3 DAYS.

Man in Boat Cut Off From Land by Thick Smoke.

Salt Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 25.—Gus Martat of Munising was brought here Saturday in a weakened condition by the steamer Hovey & Mason, having been adrift on Lake Superior without food in a rowboat from Monday night until Thursday noon.

While he was lying asleep his boat broke away from the power launch that was towing him and the thick forest fire smoke prevented him from finding his way to land.

L. C. Mann Out On Bail.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Laman C. Mann, indicted for the alleged murder of Mrs. Frances Glimor Thompson, was released from jail Friday on bail of $25,000 furnished by his parents.

TO BALK AUSTRIA

BRITISH DIPLOMATS SEE DISSOLUTION OF ALLIANCE.

BULGARIA THREATENS TO REVOLT

Turkey to Head Federation of Balkan States Against Austria, the Common Foe.

London, October 25.—The complete overthrow of Austria-Hungary in her recent scheme of aggrandizement and the still more staggering blow of the dissolution of the triple alliance are plainly reflected, Saturday, in British opinion on the developments in the Balkan situation.

English diplomats believe to be imminent: A complete understanding between Turkey and Bulgaria.

The final breaking off of negotiations between Turkey and Austria. The throwing off of Austrian allegiance by Bulgaria.

The formation of a Balkan federation with Turkey at its head. The participation of Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Roumania in a common move against the triple alliance, Austria.

The dissolution of the triple alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy, on the initiative of Germany.

Germany is Guardian. An attempt by Germany to play the role of guardian angel of the new federation.

Turkey's rejection of all Austrian proposals, that are promised on the recognition of Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, is believed here to be part of a deep-laid scheme to delay matters until the announcement of a Turko-Bulgarian pact is practicable.

Bulgaria's part in the scheme, as England sees it, is that of an ungrateful child, but Prince or Czar Ferdinand is known to be a man who does not stand for the niceties of international relations.

The news that Turkey and Bulgaria still undoubtedly come to an agreement, with the breaking off of the relations between Turkey and Austria, as its sequel, has caused a big commotion in certain chancelleries that were involved in Austria's schemes. Proof of the apprehension is found in statements heard at many of the embassies here today.

Austria is in such disfavor with the powers generally through her propensity to kick up international rows that such a bold stroke as here outlined could be pushed through, than far less chance of war following, than attended the recent Austrian coup.

SLAIN BY OLD RIVAL.

Husband Is Shot Immediately After the Wedding.

New Orleans, Oct. 25.—On her bridal tour which had begun scarcely one hour before, and seated in a railroad coach almost between her husband and a former suitor for her hand, Mrs. Fred Vanden, Saturday night saw the flash of the suitor's revolver, felt the sudden grip of her husband's hand as the bullet struck and killed him, and then turned and fought for her life. When the girl appeared about to become the victim of a second bullet from the revolver, her uncle rushed up and thrust his thumb beneath the hammer of the revolver, jamming the mechanism and rendering the weapon harmless.

This was the story which the passengers on the Texas and Pacific "Cannonball" told when they reached this city Friday night, but the principal actors in the tragedy, most of whom are connected with Louisiana leading families, have so far refused to discuss the affair.

FRANCIS FILLS BRYAN DATE.

Speaks to Jersey City Audience When Nebraska's Train Is Late.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 25.—David R. Francis, former governor of Missouri, at a meeting held at the Elks Hall Friday night, made the prediction that Bryan would carry Missouri by 20,000. He also said that Bryan would carry two states out of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, but he did not say which two.

Bryan had been scheduled to speak, and a crowd of 5,000 persons assembled in three different halls to hear him. After three hours had elapsed the chairman announced that Bryan's train had been delayed and he could not arrive in time to speak.

Kern Jr., Some Better.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—There was a shade of improvement in the condition of John W. Kern, Jr., Friday night. His father was at his bedside all day. "He is perhaps a little bit better Friday," said Mr. Kern, "but the improvement is so slight that I can scarcely notice it. He had a fairly comfortable day. Whether or not Mr. Kern continues his campaign trip next week will depend entirely upon the condition of his son."

Two Killed in Shooting Affray.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—A special to the Sentinel from Waukesha says: Two Macedonians were killed in a mysterious shooting affray Friday afternoon in the Cook House at the gravel pit of the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction company, 12 miles west of Waukesha at the Waterville road crossing.

BREAKS RECORD IN AUTO RACE

AMERICAN COVERS 258.06 MILES
AT AVERAGE OF 64.3 MILES
AN HOUR.

WERE NO SERIOUS ACCIDENTS

New Yorkers Remained Awake All Night in Order to Reach Track in Time—Hotels and Restaurants Did Record Business.

Motor Parkway, L. I., Oct. 25.—George Robertson, driving a 99-horsepower American Locomobile, won the Vanderbilt Cup Race Saturday and at the same time broke all American track records by averaging 64.3 miles an hour for the eleven laps around the 23.46 miles track. Herbert Lytle, driving a 50-horsepower Italian Isotta, was second, being less than two minutes behind the winner, whose elapsed time was 4 hours 48 seconds for the 258.06 miles.

The race was run over a track made slippery and dangerous by a drizzling rain that began about daylight and continued all forenoon, but there were no serious accidents. The only fatality connected with the race occurred last night, when a resident of Long Island City stepped in front of a trolley car while dodging the stream of automobiles coming to the track and was instantly killed.

Many of the 18 cars that started were put out of the race by accidents to tires and machinery, and Foxhall Keene was burned slightly when his car caught fire. But there were no serious accidents.

At the time of the finish W. K. Vanderbilt Jr.'s 110-horsepower German Mercedes, driven by W. O. Lutzgen, was running third with a safe lead, so that to it must be accorded third place, although it was not permitted to finish.

A drizzling rain which arrived while dawn was breaking turned a magnificent surface into one that made each of the sharp turns an extra hazardous risk. Yet the cars kept right down to work, making up on the long back and home stretches what they lost at the angles.

ZEPPELIN SAILS NEW CRAFT.

Ascends With Ten Passengers and Remains in Air Over Three Hours.

Friedrichshafen, Oct. 25.—Count Zeppelin made a triumphal ascension Friday in his reconstructed dirigible balloon. Ten passengers accompanied the daring aeronaut, and the airship went through a number of evolutions and showed great speed and stability. The trip lasted three and one-half hours, and the descent was made without mishap. The balloon traveled at an average speed of 29.31 miles an hour at an altitude of 2,800 feet.

Count Zeppelin tested both steering gears, the movements of the big airship being controlled first by both motors and then with a single motor. An ascent was made from the balloons shed on Lake Constance. Then the balloon was pointed toward the north-east and traveled well against a stiff breeze that was blowing at the time. Then the course was changed and the airship was seen to travel in the direction of the palace grounds.

The King of Wurtemberg was there to wave a greeting to Count Zeppelin and his passengers. Queen Charlotte watched the maneuvers from the deck of the royal yacht. It was proved that the new Zeppelin airship has much more speed than the one destroyed at Echterdingen.

Fire Surrounds Village.

Lowelltown, Maine, Oct. 25.—The village of Skinner, five miles north of Lowelltown, was surrounded by flames Friday night, and millions of feet of lumber have been consumed. The Canadian Pacific railway has a large store pre-empting its property, and in the event of the destruction of Skinner, will remove the inhabitants.

Kills Neighbor and Self.

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 25.—After a quarrel with his wife, Charles Smith, an aged farmer of Poseyville, Michigan, shot and killed himself and his neighbor William Duchan, a neighbor at whose home Mrs. Smith had taken refuge, and then committed suicide. Duchan had no part in the quarrel that preceded the shooting.

Court Sells Fruit.

Kansas City, Oct. 25.—A large quantity of canned apples and blackberries was ordered sold by the United States court Friday. The fruit was grown in Arkansas, canned in Michigan and labeled Michigan grown. The court decided that this labeling was a violation of the pure food law.

No Stein-Porter Indictments.

Ashland, O., Oct. 25.—The grand jury Friday failed to return indictments against Mrs. Stein and Mrs. Bayard of Des Moines, Iowa, in connection with the Stein-Porter murder case, declaring the evidence insufficient.

Gov. Willson could not conceal his hatred of the tobacco growers and his determination to destroy the tobacco association in his speech here Monday.

Wrench the ring out of your nose and be your own boss for once. Vote for men who represent the people.

Augustus I, the governor who released from the penitentiary red handed assassins, preaching law enforcement! When is the devil to appear in Murray to proclaim the religion of the lowly Nazarene?

Fighting Bob Evans, in command of a division of American war vessels at Santiago during the battle between the Spanish and American fleets cried out to his men, "Give 'em hell bullies." That's what Calloway county voters will do next Tuesday.

Gov. Willson, the paid hireling of as damnable gang of robbers, thieves and assassins as will ever grace the cells of hell, comes in to a law-respecting, law-loving community preaching law enforcement! Such rot stinks to heaven.

A republican governor called out the state militia to protect the assassins of Governor Goebel and still we hear the present republican governor, Augustus I, clamoring for the destruction of a farmers' organization which has for its purpose the preservation and protection of its members homes, rights and liberties. Truly Trusty Gus loves his trust.

WHICH IS THE WHICHNESS?

He (Gov. Willson) took up the question of law and order, and what he said along this line could not be objected to by only those who take the other side of the question. --Calloway Times.

Well, I'll be damned.

The trouble with Gov. Willson is, he does not make a distinction between the real true members of the Association and the night riders. He puts them all in the same class. We are as much opposed to night riding and lawlessness as the so-called governor, but he must not class the good, law-abiding farmers' Associations with these midnight prowlers; and his claim that the Republican party alone stood for law and order is as false as other assertions he is making against good people all over the State. --Calloway Times.

Well, I'll be damned again.

WELL DESERVED.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Murray People.

One kidney remedy never fails. Murray people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Murray testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. A. V. Tutt, living in Murray, Ky., says: "I cannot express my gratitude for the great benefit I obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was afflicted with kidney complaint. I had a dull pain in the small of my back which bothered me almost constantly, and when stooping or lifting sharp twinges would pass through my loins, and caused me the most excruciating misery. My back ached at night, and when I arose in the morning was lame and sore. I became tired easily, felt languid and occasionally was very nervous. Headaches and dizzy spells were of frequent occurrence, and at times there would be a blurring before my eyesight. A too frequent action of my kidney secretions caused me great annoyance. Learning of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured them at Dale & Stubblefield's drug store and when I had used the contents of two boxes, I came to the conclusion that I was cured as no sign of the trouble remained. However, in a short time a recurrence took place, but I immediately resorted to this remedy. I am still using it and a great improvement is noticeable in my condition. I am now able to go to bed and rest well. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven of great benefit to me, and I take pleasure in recommending them to other sufferers."

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must suffer. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by H. D. Thornton.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired, feeble, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hesitate to tell others how much good it has done me."

A LIBERAL OFFER

Dale & Stubblefield Guarantee to Cure Dyspepsia. If They Fail The Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people of Rochester that indigestion and dyspepsia is curable and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will effect the cure, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give complete satisfaction to anyone giving it a trial.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth, Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and their agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specifics for acute indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is manufactured by a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and exerts a tonic influence upon all the glands which supply all the other elements necessary to proper assimilation and digestion.

The carminatives add properties which promptly relieve the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food.

The perfect combination of these ingredients make a remedy absolutely incomparable and invaluable for the complete cure of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so positively certain of this that we sell Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee that they will either cure you or cost you nothing.—Dale & Stubblefield, Murray, Ky.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in mouth, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, rapid liver with indigestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such bilious conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. L. H. Bartlett, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Mahanomet Med. College, Chicopee, Mass.; John King, M. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above named authorities and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which Golden Medical Discovery is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They can be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

TO THE VOTERS OF CALLOWAY COUNTY:—Gentlemen. It has been impossible for me to see every voter at his home and personally ask for his vote. I shall be very glad to have you become interested in my race for Supt. of Schools to the extent that you vote for me and speak to your friends of my candidacy, ask them to look into the educational affairs a little, see whether or not it is better under the present conditions for the public school interests to be superintended by experienced hands.

Compare the educational interest of the county now with what it was when I came in office. Consider the heavy demand that will be made upon that officer for the next few years by the complicated school law we now have.

I have advised against this law upon the grounds that it places the power to employ teachers too far from the people he is to serve. I believe in that old principle of democracy "That government is best that is closest to the people." It also makes it possible to elect a negro trustee, who would not only have charge of the white school in his sub-division, but would have a vote in electing white teachers in his entire division. By quick action I have prevented a negro from being on the board in this county and will abolish every negro school in this county if necessary to keep them off the Board of Trustees. The county is the unit of taxation for school purposes, there will be several thousand dollars collected on the county. The County Superintendent is the advisor of the county board in the spending of this money for building, incidentals and every other purpose.

In districts not having 50 pupils must be enlarged or abolished. This will necessitate the building of several school houses and changing many boundary lines.

Consider this matter from the facts before you and conditions in educational affairs, then go to your voting place and vote as you think best. If you give me your vote I will be grateful to you and will do in the future as I have done in the past, use every effort for the educational interest of the county. Very truly, L. A. L. LANGSTON.

Why Conservation

Save the Waste; Develop Our Resources

By GIFFORD PINCHOT,
Chief of Forestry Department, United States Dept. of Agriculture.

The conservation of natural resources has often been taken to mean simply the prevention of waste. It does mean the saving of those resources which we are now engaged in using, but this definition is too narrow. The conservation of natural resources includes both the prevention of destruction and the prevention of waste from non-use. Conservation means development not less than saving.

There are two forms of waste: One is such as takes place in the destruction of our forests or the waste of our soil from washing. There is no better example of this form of waste than the frightful and wholly unnecessary forest fires, which, in the last few months, have caused the loss of tens of millions of dollars in property and many human lives. Another illustration is found in the enormous loss of fertility which the farmer suffers from the washing of soil from his best fields into the water courses to pollute their currents, clog their channels, and entail large expense for its removal.

The other form of waste is far less spectacular, but no less real. When we allow the tens of millions of potential horsepower in our streams to go to waste for lack of use we are breaking the law of conservation almost as fully as if the streams themselves were destroyed. When we allow the water power to flow unused we draw unnecessarily and waste fully upon our stores of coal and fuel oils to replace the power we waste by non-use. When we fail to use the rivers for navigation, we make huge and unnecessary drafts on our supply of iron and coal. It is estimated that to transport freight by water requires less than one-half as much coal and iron as to transport it by rail. Unnecessary use is waste. When our coal and iron are gone they will be gone forever. Water power will last as long as the sun gives us rain.

Let us fix it firmly in our minds that conservation means development as much as it means prevention of waste. Conservation is the common sense use of all the resources of this great country of ours for the best good of all the people for the longest time, and it demands development just as insistently as it demands the preservation of our resources and their efficient and economical use.

Lesson of the Faded Leaf

By REV. W. C. BITTING,
Detroit.

Many a poet has written of autumn leaves. They tell most persons a true but melancholy story of how life budged, was green, flourished for a summer, then ripened, turned brown, fell and became the sport of winter winds. But that is not the tale with the one who makes a wonderful prayer of which our text is a part. He speaks of an inner self that has gone through moral experiences, not physical.

"We are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment; and we all do fade as a leaf and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. And shall we be saved?" This man is kin to us all. We share his confession, for who is there of us that in serious moments has not said the same thing?

The truest patriot is a good citizen. Every person in our land who tramples justice in dealing with another, who crushes righteousness in civil or commercial realms, who is a mere idler in luxury, whose occupation is degrading to himself or others, is turning our leaf from green to brown. The shiftless poor, and the idle rich; the anarchist who wants no law at all, and the equally bad anarchist who thinks to buy exemption from obedience to law; the bribe givers and takers; the criminals of bottom, middle and top of our social order, all help to tear from our foliage the leaves that are for the healing of nations. Every institution that harms our national life must go, if our glory is to stay.

But, there can be no fading nation unless there are faded men and women. There is no such a thing as a nation apart from the persons who make it. How many a high purpose has become only the arboreal of present moral decline, as our low lives turn it over and over, as the October wind does the faded leaf!

Great Men Remain Obscure

By ADA MAY KRECKER.

This is one of the findings of Lester F. Ward, himself a luminous instance of the concealment of the great. Although the sociologists of America pronounce him facile princeps among them, and although there have been appreciations from abroad, even the foreign scientific circles are largely unacquainted with his momentous contributions to knowledge. And as for the world at large the author of "Dynamic Sociology," of "Pure and Applied Sociology," with their epoch making ideas, is a nonentity. The facts in turn which Dr. Ward has mustered in support of his magnificent theories are themselves the unrenowned croppings of innumerable laboratories and almost unknown men, scientific investigators pursuing their toilsome researches with little fame and less fortune, apostles, albeit, of human gladness and comfort, priests in the cult of truth and reason. It is they that discover the laws which lesser minds can apply, that give us our wireless telephones, our airplanes, our turbines, our sermons.

But the world knows less about the greatest among them than it tells of in every evening's entr'actes above the average chorus lady of the average play, less than it chatters every morning about the average fighter in the average ring, less than it argues every afternoon about the average politician of the average plank and party.

DINE ON FRIED RATTLESNAKE

Party Makes Meal on Strange Dish and Declares it by No Means Unpalatable.

Eight persons partook of a meal recently in a hotel here at which fried rattlesnake was the principal dish, says a Newton (N.J.) dispatch to the New York Press. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. William Erb, Thomas Erb and Frank B. Allen of Bernardsville; Mrs. C. J. White and the Misses Charlotte, Caroline and Augusta White of Harrison. All asserted the rattlesnake was palatable.

The snake was killed in the day by Allen as he was inspecting a farm near Lake Okauchee. As it was crossing the road he drove up and killed it by striking it with his whip. He had eaten rattlesnakes many times in North Dakota, where the natives call them "prairie eels."

She was a little conscious of the scrutiny of a man by the door as she went out, but she tried not to show it, gave him a nod and smile in passing. She knew that he would follow her and she knew, guiltily, why. But as he joined her she did not speak, until he touched her arm.

"Oh, it's you," she said. She did not speak very cordially, but there was a sort of affection in her tone, too. He was plainly a person she was used to.

"Will you come over to that park and sit down for a moment?" he asked. "I've got something to say to you. It isn't," he added in answer to her swift upward look. "It isn't what you're afraid I'm going to say."

"You're going to scold me," she demurred. "Tom, you know how I love you—I've always thought the world of you. Why won't you stay friends?"

They had reached the little green park and he motioned her to be seated. "Look here, Mamie, I do want to be friends," he said eagerly. "You say you've always cared for me—why, my dear, what about me, who knew you when you were only a little thing, toddling around my father's house."

"Why the old folks always loved you better than they did me—and I was their own. But I was slow and clumsy and plodding and you were as bright as gold. I never felt about it, for I thought more of you than I did of anyone else myself. That's why I'm going to say this to you. Tell me you ain't going to take it hard from me, Mamie."

"When you came up to the city and took up that dancing so natural and then got to making so much money, I let go of that hope I'd always had that sometime you'd come to care for me as I wanted you to. But I wasn't going to let you out of my sight for all that. That's the reason I'm a traveling stage carpenter to-day, and you know it."

"Mamie, I've seen this life take you away from me. I've seen it make up to you for father and mother and home. But there's one thing I ain't going to stand around and see. I ain't going to let it drag you down to the level of some of those women—women I'm ashamed to have you meet and speak to. If you ain't strong enough to take care of yourself, I'm here to do it for you. First of all you've got to stop going around with that cad—"

"Hush!" she said sharply.

"You don't like that, do you? Well, it's true, Mamie, what do you think the old folks would say if they'd seen you last night?"

There was a little silence. Miss Dunn's eyes suddenly smarted and a lump rose in her throat.

"You wouldn't have done that yourself, my girl, if it hadn't been for him. I saw you go off after the performance and I followed—yes, I did. I wanted to see just what was happening. When you went into that supper room I stayed outside and waited. It was two hours before you came and when you did, Mamie, I saw you'd been drinking. You, who never knew the taste of the stuff before you came to this place."

"There was no need of paint on those cheeks now, for they were scarlet."

"You don't care for him, do you?" he asked, watching her.

"I don't know," she faltered.

"I want you to send him about his business. If you don't I shall. Now remember."

A moment before it had looked as if she were near repentance. Now a swift reaction set in and she rose almost angrily.

"I'm not a baby, Tom. I shall do as I please. I told you I care as much for you as I would for my own brother, but there are certain things that I won't take from you. I haven't asked you to take care of me—and from now on, I'll manage my own affairs. Good-bye."

When he looked up she was already out of sight, almost running in her haste. The tears which she had repressed in his presence would not be stopped any longer, and she hurried on blindly until the hotel door was reached and her own room hid her from view. There she flung herself on her bed in an agony of despair and self-disgust.

"If I'd never had this life—if only I'd grown up good and simple and loved Tom and married him!" she moaned.

That night something happened. The flame dancer at the great theater was carried to the nearest hospital in a great hurry and her company was seen there no more. No one knew much about the particulars. She had been dancing around the small fire and when the signal was given for it to be extinguished and the electrical effects which made a holocean of the robes of the dancer to be thrown on, there was a mistake somewhere.

The fire caught the lace and gauze and there was a quick curtain and afterward an assurance that the audience was perfectly safe, but that La Flame had had an accident and would not appear again. The public did not think much of it, and the next week a new favorite had attracted its attention.

As he looked at her he felt as if the day of the fire dancer had been a dream. Time seemed to turn backward until it left her the little Mamie with whom he had grown up, but he said nothing until one day the other man called and sent up his card, and she, with her old pretty independence had given him the right to send him away. He knew then that his own time had come.

"Mamie," he said, "if you've come to the place where you could make up your mind to come to me, and let me take care of you, my heart's ready for you, my dear, as it has been these many years."

She broke into sobbing as he held her up with his arm.

"Oh, Tom! So disfigured—so helpless—so lonely—"

"So dear to me," he reminded her, gently.

IN HANGING PICTURES.

A safe rule to remember when hanging pictures is that the middle of the picture should be on a level with the eyes. Of course, if you are unusually tall this rule does not hold good. Do not mix several kinds and types of pictures together. Let all the water colors, oils or engravings be placed in separate rooms, or, at any rate, on different walls. Above all, do not overcrowd your walls. A few well-chosen pictures look far better than a number of mediocre ones.—Home Chat.

ALGIERS IS PROGRESSIVE.

Women are progressive in far-away Algiers, Mlle. Blanche Azoulay having recently been admitted to practice law in that town, the event being celebrated with a banquet, at which all the lawyers were present and another lady who expects to be a lawyer in the future. The lawyers seemed very glad to welcome the ladies and were very nice about it, apparently.

A REAL GRIEF.

"Why does that pretty young widow grieve so after her rich old husband? I should think after his crinkiness and all the nursing he required, she would feel it a relief."

"So she does, but then black is so unbecoming to her style."

THAT WHICH ENDURED

La Flame, behind the footlights, in a glittering mass of drapery and idealized by electrical effects, was a creation of ivory and roses; a thing whose beauty was radiant, ageless, Miss Mamie Dunn, who emerged from La Flame's dressing room, an hour after the performance, was a different person entirely.

Miss Dunn had the look of a person who had not slept enough. Dark hollows under her eyes made her too pink cheeks a mockery, and she walked as if she were glad the performance was over and wished there might never be another.

She was a little conscious of the scrutiny of a man by the door as she went out, but she tried not to show it, gave him a nod and smile in passing. She knew that he would follow her and she knew, guiltily, why. But as he joined her she did not speak, until he touched her arm.

The tears which she had repressed in his presence would not be stopped any longer, and she hurried on blindly until the hotel door was reached and her own room hid her from view. There she flung herself on her bed in an agony of despair and self-disgust.

"If I'd never had this life—if only I'd grown up good and simple and loved Tom and married him!" she moaned.

That night something happened. The flame dancer at the great theater was carried to the nearest hospital in a great hurry and her company was seen there no more. No one knew much about the particulars. She had been dancing around the small fire and when the signal was given for it to be extinguished and the electrical effects which made a holocean of the robes of the dancer to be thrown on, there was a mistake somewhere.

The fire caught the lace and gauze and there was a quick curtain and afterward an assurance that the audience was perfectly safe, but that La Flame had had an accident and would not appear again. The public did not think much of it, and the next week a new favorite had attracted its attention.

As he looked at her he felt as if the day of the fire dancer had been a dream. Time seemed to turn backward until it left her the little Mamie with whom he had grown up, but he said nothing until one day the other man called and sent up his card, and she, with her old pretty independence had given him the right to send him away. He knew then that his own time had come.

"Mamie," he said, "if you've come to the place where you could make up your mind to come to me, and let me take care of you, my heart's ready for you, my dear, as it has been these many years."

She broke into sobbing as he held her up with his arm.

"Oh, Tom! So disfigured—so helpless—so lonely—"

"So dear to me," he reminded her, gently.

IN HANGING PICTURES.

A safe rule to remember when hanging pictures is that the middle of the picture should be on a level with the eyes. Of course, if you are unusually tall this rule does not hold good. Do not mix several kinds and types of pictures together. Let all the water colors, oils or engravings be placed in separate rooms, or, at any rate, on different walls. Above all, do not overcrowd your walls. A few well-chosen pictures look far better than a number of mediocre ones.—Home Chat.

ALGIERS IS PROGRESSIVE.

Women are progressive in far-away Algiers, Mlle. Blanche Azoulay having recently been admitted to practice law in that town, the event being celebrated with a banquet, at which all the lawyers were present and another lady who expects to be a lawyer in the future. The lawyers seemed very glad to welcome the ladies and were very nice about it, apparently.

A REAL GRIEF.

"Why does that pretty young widow grieve so after her rich old husband? I should think after his crinkiness and all the nursing he required, she would feel it a relief."

"So she does, but then black is so unbecoming to her style."

PERUNA A TONIC OF GREAT USEFULNESS.

HON. R. S. THARIN.

Hon. R. S. Tharin, Attorney at Law and counsel for Anti-Trust League, writes from Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C., as follows:

"Having used Peruna for catarrhal disorders, I am able to testify to its great remedial excellence and its ability to give it my emphatic endorsement and earnest recommendation to all persons affected by that disorder. It is a tonic of great usefulness."

Mr. T. Harcourt, West Aylmer, Ontario, Can., writes: "Last winter I was ill with pneumonia after having a gripe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well. I also induced a young lady, who was ill run down and confined to the house, to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring. I can recommend Peruna for all such who are ill and require a tonic."

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

TOO MUCH.

Arabella—Ah, John, there was a time when you couldn't see enough of me.

John—Well, I can see plenty of you now, can't I?

NOT UP TO THE RECORD.

Boy Had, at Least Once Seen Larger Pedal Extremities.

A pupil of one of the public schools in Chicago sends this communication:

"Dear Sir: In our school this morning an amusing dialogue took place.

"A primary teacher of Chicago, wishing to impress on her pupils the necessity of greater quiet, said:

"I am a great deal larger than any of you, yet I don't make any noise when I walk around the room."

"Perhaps," remarked little seven-year-old Kenneth, "you don't wear shoes."

"Oh, yes, I do," quickly replied the teacher; "just look. Did you ever see any larger than mine?"

"Kenneth surveyed them carefully.

"Yes," he replied, slowly, "once—in a show."—Waverly Magazine.

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR

Old Lady Got Well with Change of Food.

A great scientist has said we can put off "old age" if we can only nourish the body properly.

To do this the right kind of food, of course, is necessary. The body manufactures poisons in the stomach and intestines from certain kinds of food stuffs and unless sufficient of the right kind is used, the injurious elements overcome the good.

"My grandmother, 71 years old," writes a N. Y. lady, "had been an invalid for 18 years from what was called consumption of the stomach and bowels. The doctor had given her up to die."

"I saw so much about Grape-Nuts that I persuaded Grandmother to try it. She could not keep anything on her stomach for more than a few minutes."

"She began Grape-Nuts with only a teaspoonful. As that did not distress her and as she could retain it, she took a little more until she could take all of 4 teaspoonfuls at a meal."

"Then she began to gain and grow strong and her trouble in the stomach was gone entirely. She got to enjoy good health for one so old and we know Grape-Nuts saved her life."

"The doctor was astonished that instead of dying she got well, and without a drop of medicine after she began the Grape-Nuts." There's a Reason.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases, Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

LETTERS FROM WOMEN About Pe-ru-na.

MRS. CLARA L. MILLER. MRS. S. L. JEWELL. MRS. MAHALA REID.

The following testimonials represent actual experience of every-day life. They are the truthful utterances of women who have been ill and have found a reliable remedy in Peru-na.

It means a great deal to the women of America to have at hand a remedy capable of giving such relief. Constipation, rheumatism, kidney trouble, bronchitis and a host of other catarrhal conditions are relieved by Peru-na. At least this is what the women say. They have no object in saying such things, except to render truthful testimony to their suffering sisters.

Peru-na is making such friends every day. It is the testimony of the people that has made Peru-na so justly famous.

Chronic Bronchitis. Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia, S. C., writes: "I have been suffering from chronic bronchitis for many years. I have tried many remedies, but none have given me any relief. I have been told that Peru-na was a good remedy, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better than I have for many years. I have been told that Peru-na was a good remedy, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better than I have for many years."

A Good Word for Pe-ru-na. Mrs. S. L. Jewell, R. F. D. 1, Freeport, Pa., writes: "I have been suffering from chronic constipation for many years. I have tried many remedies, but none have given me any relief. I have been told that Peru-na was a good remedy, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better than I have for many years. Constipation, Kidney Trouble. Mrs. Mahala Reid, Cortierville, Ont., Canada, writes: "I have been suffering from constipation and kidney trouble for many years. I have tried many remedies, but none have given me any relief. I have been told that Peru-na was a good remedy, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better than I have for many years. Nervous, Tired and Weak. Mrs. Clara L. Miller, Box 71, Columbia, S. C., writes: "I have been suffering from nervousness, tiredness and weakness for many years. I have tried many remedies, but none have given me any relief. I have been told that Peru-na was a good remedy, and I have bought it. I have taken it, and I feel better than I have for many years. Peru-na in Tablet Form. For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have been incessantly laboring to create Peru-na in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been rewarded with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peru-na tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peru-na. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peru-na.

Benton R. F. D. No. 3. A good rain would be enjoyed by everybody. Sowing wheat and grass is the go. Harper Tucker says it is a boy at his house. McRadford is talking of going to Arkansas this winter. We wish him good luck. A series of meetings closed the past week at Mt. Carmel with very good success. Bud Russell and wife have returned home from Fulton, Ky., where they have been visiting the past week. Irvan Dunn had the misfortune of losing his horse the past week. Our school is moving along nicely, with Hunter Gingles as teacher. Bud Tidwell lost a fine cow last week. John Sanders is improving from a fall he received some time ago. Marce Henley and wife, of Paducah, are visiting Riley News-weather this week. Where have our law makers gone to? We think they ought to make some more new laws to prohibit selling hard cider. The boys get pretty boozey sometimes on cider and red eye, and we wish our officers would look into this matter and put a stop to it. It looks bad on our official to see such as this going on. I will close for this time. TRUE BLUE DEMOCRAT.

How To Gain Flesh. Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens. Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking SCOTT'S EMULSION. How To Gain Flesh. Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens. Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking SCOTT'S EMULSION.
