Thousands Attend Our Annual "Tater Day"

They saw, and they heard, traded horses—large crowd that was the annual Tater Day. The crowd was as high as 5,000. It was an ideal day for the festival. The weather was just what was needed for the festival. The sun was out, and the county, nearby and other states were beginning arriving by truck, on foot and by bus of transportation. A. M. the early visitors. Streets in court square were parking on the side shed for blocks in. It was just another old Tater Day. Notice, though, was the parks salesman and salesman. This was a sale of water pistons and other items. The children enjoyed all day.

County Board of Education Announces The Selection of County Teachers for Year '52-'53

ARREST OF 11 MAY END
MARSHALL COUNTY'S WORST CRIME WAVE

The "worst crime wave in the history of Marshall County" may have ended with the arrest of 11 men, Sheriff Volney Brien said last week.

The seizure of the pair brought to 11 the number of arrests for housebreaking and burglary in Marshall county since December. The nine persons previously arrested have been convicted.

"We haven't discovered a break in for almost a month," the sheriff said.

In custody are: H. Jones, 16, and Dale Stris, 27, both of the Aurora community. They are charged with housebreaking and will be tried on several counts in June.

Approximately 25 summer homes near Kentucky Lake were entered during the wave, which started last December. Most of the expensive summer homes raided were located in the Jonathan Creek vicinity.

Sheriff Brien said the loss would amount to several thousands of dollars. The loot included high-priced outdoor motors, fishing equipment, dailies, silverware, electric equipment and other expensive articles.

The break-ins were so frequent and serious that two state detectives were sent here to assist Sheriff Brien in his investigation.

"Our biggest problem," said the sheriff, "has been in determining when the homes were entered. We won't be able to determine the loss until some of the homes are occupied this summer."

Benton Men Get Wide Publicity In 4 Nat'l Magazines

Two partners in a business concern were given nationwide publicity during the months of March and April by four nationally known magazines.

The two men were Crossland Miller and Clifton Johnson, the owners of the Miller-Johnson Company here.

The publicity, which included pictures of the two men, came as a result of their testimony on Heatmaster electric hot water heaters.

Advertisements with pictures of the two men, together with their testimony, appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, March 22; Better Homes and Gardens, Progressive Farmer, and Successful Farming for the month of April 1952.

Body of Lake Victim Is Returned To His Home In Chicago

ACCIDENT OCCURS SATURDAY MORNING NEAR NASH BOAT
DOCKS, JONATHAN CREEK

The body of Frank Alberti, of Chicago, was returned to his home Sunday night by a Linn Ambulance. Alberti was accidentally drowned around 10 A. M. Saturday morning when huge waves from the water upset the boat and dumping three young men into the lake.

This is the first drowning reported this year in Marshall county.

Alberti and two companions, Albert Krass and Pete Bochorus, also of Chicago, were out in the Lake a short distance from the Nash boat docks when the accident occurred. Krass and Bochorus swam to shore, but the victim was unable to make it and drowned about 100 feet from the bank.

The three young men were using a flat-bottom boat. Persons on duty at the boat dock tried to get the men to stay in the dock embayment. They claimed they had had experience on Lake Michigan and did not think the Lake too rough.

A coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental drowning.

PROGRAM COMPLETE FOR EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES SUNDAY

The Sunrise Easter services program for Kentucky Lake State Park has been completed, it was announced today.

The Rev. Paul T. Lyles, of Murray, will deliver the sermon. Mrs. Eugene Garrett will direct a mixed chorus from the Murray high school and lead the audience in singing a number of hymns.

SHERIFF, COPS GET CAR BUT FAIL TO GET MAN WHO HAD IT

The Sheriff, Volney Brien and Police Chief Neal Owens landed what they believe to be a stolen car Sunday, following a chase that carried them through the streets here and out into the county.

According to reports, Chief Owens spotted a car occupied by three young men on the streets here Sunday. He suspected the occupants were drinking and proceeded to follow. As they cruised about the streets of Benton they happened by the home of Sheriff Brien, who also noticed the trio. He jumped into his car and was soon after the young men.

Owens had spotted the car again, so the chase was on—up Poplar street to 11th and the Post Office they boys turned left East on 11th. Sheriff Brien did not make the turn and hoped to head them off as they entered highway 408 on E. 12th, but again the driver got by and headed East with both the Sheriff and Owens in pursuit.

The chase ended out near the Clark's school community and after a spring on the out-of-town car and the driver leaped from the driver's seat and ran away, throwing away the keys to the vehicle. In the meantime Owens had damaged his personal car, a Pontiac, when during the chase he ran into a ditch.

The two companions of the driver returned to Police headquarters here where they were fined on drunken charges. They denied having anything to do with the other man except as passengers. The auto was said to have been stolen in Michigan. The case is now under investigation by the FBI.

Circuit court continued here this week with civil cases before the court. The suit contesting the will of the late Lee Cox is being tried this week and will probably conclude the session. This suit is said to be the largest of its kind to ever come before a Marshall Circuit court for trial.

Program Will Include "Open House" All Day With Banquet for Visitors Saturday Eve

Plans for the program for the dedication of the new $600,000 Kenlake hotel at Kentucky Lake State Park were announced this week by Henry Ward, commissioner of conservation.

The program will include an open house all day Saturday, April 19, with a banquet that night. The featured speaker will be Oscar Chapman, U. S. Secretary of the interior, Governor Lawrence Wetherby, and Senator Earle C. Clements. Other guests of honor will include Senator Tom Underwood and Conrad Wirth, director of the National Park Service.

Mr. Chapman was invited to attend the dedication because the National Park Service, which operates the nation's parks and monuments, is in the Department of Interior. Mr. Wirth has long taken an interest in the development of state parks, and his son, Ted Wirth, was one of the landscape architects who worked on development of the grounds and other facilities at Kentucky Lake State Park.

Senator Clements was governor when the contract for the hotel was awarded in 1950. The hotel was opened March 15, and is now in operation, but the formal dedication was postponed until a later date in order to get everything in readiness. It is a structure of modern design, situated on a high bluff overlooking the lake. It has 58 rooms, a large lobby and lounge, dining room, recreation room, and a sun deck overlooking the lake. Fifteen vacation cottages also are operated in the park.

The eighth Governor's tour of State Parks, sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce will be concluded at the dedication banquet.

The Risen Lord

Lesson for April 13, 1952

In all the churning Easter music, in all the multitudinous many-voiced "I believe . . ." in the midst of the Easter lilies, is it hard to believe? Some find it so; and feel ashamed that in the presence of others' bright faiths rise darkly dim, their faith once clear and warm now grown opaque and cold. It is at Easter, such a person finds his case most tragic. Doubt that echoes a universal loss of faith is almost natural; but why must doubt stand like a dark rock in a sunny meadow, cold in the midst of flowing springtime?

The Man of Dark Mind
TRAGIC such loss of faith may be; but not new. For in Christ's first Twelve—we must say first Eleven, for Judas had sold himself to another—even in that choice company there was one who, on the First Easter, when the voice of all his friends spoke as one: He is risen! could only answer, Is he risen, indeed?

The church has given the name of Saint to these eleven men; they will not deny it to Saint Thomas. For sainthood is not confined to those who have never wrestled with doubt; saints are not only those in whose eyes God and his ways have been always clearly seen.

High in the roll of Christian saints is the name of Thomas, a man of dark but honest mind. His doubt was very like him. He was not a man who most easily believed what was most pleasant.

When Jesus had set his face to go to Jerusalem, the other Ten looked for a Thomas, and Thomas for all. Thomas alone looked for death. Yet in the very hour, cheered by no bright illusion, Thomas could say what no other did: "Let us go too that we may die with him."

In the upper room at the Last Supper, again the voice of all his friends spoke as one: We know not whether thou goest; and how can we know the way?

So it could have been small surprise to the Ten that when they went to Thomas with the glad news of Easter Day, he was slow to believe.

The Last Beatitude
NOW the Lord Christ did not rebuke this man Thomas, when at last the two came face to face once more; nor did he praise him. He knew that Thomas had acted as a Thomas would.

But our Lord also looked down the centuries, to us and beyond. Thomas had not asked the impossible; but soon, soon would come the time when a request like his could not be granted.

Not forever could Christ be seen on earth with the visible eye. To only a few would be granted even the dream or vision of what Saint Thomas could have touched if he had dared.

Time was shortly coming when men must believe, if they believe at all, without seeing. Easter days would come and go, the voice of faith would rise in a thousand songs: He is risen! But not on any Easter, for twice a thousand years at least, would Christ return to break bread with his friends in such a way that doubt could no longer be blessed as they that have not seen, and yet—

The Risen Lord
SO Saint Thomas was wrong, and so right. He was wrong if he thought: I cannot believe unless I see. The Christian way is not the seeing that is believing; it is the believing that is seeing.

But he was right if he thought: I must believe, for myself, I can take no other man's faith for my own. And he was right at the last: "My Lord and my God!"

Was Thomas only a man of temperament, a man easily blown from depth of doubt to height of faith? By no means. He knew what difference Easter makes, once the truth of it comes home to a man's mind. If the message of Easter is not true, Christ is dead—rather Jesus is dead and there is no Christ; his brain is dust, his dream a cobweb in the wind of death. But if the message of Easter is true—and the whole Christian church is witness that it is true—then Christ who lived again on Easter morning lives forever past all the mornings of the world, lives to be man's only king, reigning from the very right hand of God.

If Easter is not true, we shall walk softly as befits those in mourning on the return of a day of sorrow; if Easter is true we shall say and sing with Thomas and all the saints: My Lord and My God!
