J. E. HANNEPHIN FOR STATE LEGISLATURE

In this issue of The News we are authorized to announce J. E. Hannephin as a candidate for the office of State Representative from Fulton and Hickman counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 3rd.

Mr. Hannephin is a well known business man of this city, being a member of the firm Hannephin-McClellan, and he has many friends in both counties who have encouraged him to make the race.

Mr. Hannephin has for many years been active in civic and business affairs in Fulton, having served as councilman for a number of years, and has held responsible positions in various civic organizations. He is now president of the Lions Club, and his wide interest in government has prepared him for the office he seeks.

Mr. Hannephin is opposed to the sales tax and favors outright repeal of this law, which he believes has placed a burden upon those least able to pay. He favors the strictest economy in the management of the state government in order to place the state on a sound financial basis. On an inside page appears his full and formal platform.

HUDELESTON IS STRONG CONTENDER FOR GOVERNOR

Elam Hudleston, State Treasurer who is now a very important contender for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has recently become "big news." He is making news as he campaigns. With the sales tax an issue, Hudleston not only came out in favor of junking the sales tax, but he had something to offer in its place. That was news. That was something the other candidates had overlooked.

As State Treasurer, Mr. Hudleston realizes that it takes money to keep the State Government functioning, so in place of the sales tax he will advocate a luxury and an income tax. He borrows a page from President Roosevelt's new order of making the rich pay the taxes for the poor. He, as State Treasurer, has studied the expenditures of the various departments and he promises to save the taxpayers four and a half million dollars annually in the operation of the State Government.

Mr. Hudleston is speaking fifteen or twenty times a day. He will be in the central and eastern parts of the state the balance of this week and next and will return to the First District the week of July 22. He is expected to be in Fulton county during that week.

Stubblefield is acting as chief of police for the south side, until the mayor and board of council appoint another chief at their regular meeting Friday night. The South Fulton city days have decided to do away with an assistant chief in the future. Many applicants have been seeking the vacancy.

Mrs. Dora Palmer, 57, died Tuesday, July 9, at 9:00 o'clock at her home on Edgington after a continued illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Hornbeak Funeral Home conducted by Rev. E. M. Mathis. Burial followed at Boaz Chapel.

Baker of Memphis, Mrs. Robert DeMyer of Fulton; one son, Smith Palmer of Mayfield; two brothers, Albert Smith of Fulton, Will Smith of Mississippi; two sisters, Mrs. Sallie Parker of St. Louis, Mrs. Fronie Dalton, Akron, O., and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Palmer had been a resident of Fulton all her life, attending school here as a girl. Early in life she joined the Methodist church at Boaz Chapel, later removing her membership to Fulton. In 1934 she married Lon Palmer to whom she has four children: two sons, all of whom survive. She will be sadly missed by all who knew her.

Reidy, stations manager of Rock Island, Ill., was also present.

CHANDLER SCORES LAFOON-RHEA; AND OUTLINES PLATFORM HERE SATURDAY

"Failure of the Laffon forces to their obligations and promises to the people of no additional taxes is turning the voters to me in this gubernatorial campaign," Lieutenant Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler said in his speech at the city hall here Saturday night.

Several hundred persons gathered in the circuit courtroom and an overflow crowd stood on the walks and streets in front of loud speakers to hear the lieutenant governor make his plea for support in the campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The lieutenant governor launched an attack on extravagant spending which he said despite the sales tax and other revenues had increased the state debt from $16,444,626.94 the date the sales tax went into effect to $18,566,188.61 in six months' time.

Chandler is the man who gave the state the primary and the only candidate opposing the sales tax, his supporters state. "Governor Laffon and 'Sales Tax' Tom (Thomas S. Rhea) were victorious in passing the sales tax," Chandler said, "and to them and to the senators and representative who constitute the bi-partisan combine of parasites have gone the spoils and you are paying the bills."

Chandler said he favored a complete reorganization of the state government, especially the State Tax Commission, which he charged

POLITICS WARM UP AS ELECTION NEARS

For one more month the voters must listen to the pleas of candidates and the candidates themselves have the hardest work just ahead of them.

During the next few weeks activity of the campaign is expected to grow in intensity, climaxing with a heavy vote throughout the state on Saturday, August 3.

Council races will tend to bring out a big vote locally, while the representative race along with the selection of state officers, insure heavy balloting in all Fulton county precincts.

In the race for the governorship of Kentucky there are four candidates who have gained recognition in this end of the state: A. B. "Happy" Chandler, Frederick Wallich, Elam Hudleston and Thos. Rhea.

In the senatorial race for this district of Kentucky, J. W. McDonald of Mayfield is unopposed.

In the representative race from Fulton and Hickman counties, four men seek election: W. L. Hampton, Ed Hannephin, Dee L. McNeill and R. A. Tribble of Clinton.

In the council race in Fulton, four of the old council seek re-election: T. T. Boaz, Albert Smith, T. H. Iby and L. S. Phillips. Nine new candidates are out for the council: Ward McClellan, Raymond Peoples, Ross Neely, Kelly Lowe, Bert Newhouse, E. N. DeMyer, Joe Clapp, Claud Linton, and J. N. McNeill.

Two members of the present council, have declined to run for re-election. Mr. Murrell's health has been bad for some time and he believes he should not stand for re-election inasmuch as there are many good men out.

Mrs. Fannie Brent Dunn, 79, mother of Mrs. M. F. DeMyer of Fulton, was killed on Wednesday last week by a passenger train near her home in Arlington. The body was horribly mangled when the train struck her as she crossed the tracks. Friends of the family and The News extend sympathy to the bereaved.

Little Miss Nell Genung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Genung on College-st., sustained a painful injury to her hand on July Fourth, when a firecracker exploded in her hand, splitting open her thumb and two fingers.

Enrollment is being taken this week at the County Agent's office in Hickman for the annual summer camp of 4-H Club members. It is estimated that 165 boys and girls of the Purchase district are expected to attend the week's camp beginning August 5. The camp will be held at River View, in McCracken County.

has grown to be a political agency which has wasted millions.

The youthful gubernatorial candidate said, "the question of taxation is always a difficult proposition with which to deal. I do not admit that government must be unjust to the people in the levy of sufficient taxes to support government in its every essential function. It is admitted by all persons versed in matters of political science that taxes to be just must be levied in accordance with the ability of the people to pay. The retail sales tax does not square with the sound principle I oppose that method of financing government. It lays taxes on the mass of people beyond their ability to pay and is unjust to them. I stand for social and economic justice and not social and economic injustice."

In closing he said, "I have no doubt as to the verdict of the voters on August 3. It will be a righteous verdict and Kentucky democracy will repudiate the 'Old Deal' in Kentucky. All Democrats are interested in the success of the party. If it be admitted that the policies of Laffon and Rhea, if transferred to the nation's capital would sink the Democratic party as a national party, then what chance in Kentucky? If the Roosevelt policies are good for the people of the whole country they are good for the people of Kentucky."

W. L. HAMPTON ASKS SUPPORT IN RACE

W. L. Hampton, business man and farmer of Fulton County, and a candidate for the office of State Representative from Fulton and Hickman counties in a special message to the people, asks their support in the coming election. On an inside page appears a large advertisement in which he seeks the influence and support of his friends and voters who go to the polls August 3.

LOCAL BANK TAKES $10,000 BONDS ON FULTON CITY HALL

The City National Bank of Fulton has bought the $10,000 five percent bonds on the city hall, to replace those voted in 1904 for building of this edifice. The deal was consummated this week between representatives of the bank and the mayor and council. The bank purchased the bonds at a par plus accrued interest from January 1, 1935, and also agreed to pay for printing of bonds and other expenses incidental to issuance. The bonds are in $500 denomination, and will run for ten years, one being paid off every six months.

In their last meeting the council fixed the tax rate at 75c on each $100 and 6c of this amount is to be placed in a sinking fund to retire these bonds, which will free the city hall of the debt in 1945.

MISS CULTON WILL REPLACE SISTER

At a meeting of the Advisory Council of the Fulton-Hickman counties, Homemakers Association held in Hickman on Wednesday, July 2, Miss Catherine Cullton, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent was appointed successor to Mrs. Anna C. Thompson, whose resignation as Home Agent was accepted at the meeting. Mrs. Thompson came to Fulton county three years ago as successor to Miss Aida Henning. She has done an exceptionally fine piece of work. During the time the two counties Hickman and Fulton have jointly supported the work, so that she is well known and loved in both counties. Her exceptional ability as an organizer and outstanding qualities of leadership have made for growth and progress in the Homemakers and Junior Club work of the county. It was with real regret the women accepted her resignation.

Miss Catherine Cullton, a sister of Mrs. Thompson and a recent graduate of the University of Kentucky who is now acting as assistant Home Demonstration Agent, has been in the two counties on several previous occasions and has become acquainted with the women and they with her. She is one of the outstanding Home Economics graduates of 1935 having an excellent scholastic record. Her charming personality gains friends for her wherever she goes and the University of Kentucky felt very fortunate in having Miss Cullton to "step as suitable successor to her efficient sister."

TOO MUCH POLITICS HURTS EVERYBODY

One of the worst phases of restrictive, tax-creating, destructive legislation is its effect on the agencies to which the public works looks to safeguard its savings and investments—life insurance companies, banks and trust companies.

Institutions of this kind, for example, are heavy investors in the securities of our basic industries—utilities, railroads, and grade-A industrial concerns. Anything that makes it difficult for these industries to progress, prosper and pay interest and dividends strikes directly at the institutions entrusted with billions of dollars of the people's money—money which principally belongs to persons of small means, who count on it to protect themselves and their dependents from want.

In addition, universities, research organizations, libraries, endowed hospitals and similar non-profit-making institutions which serve an essential purpose, customarily receive a large part of their total revenue from industrial investments. If political policies force industry to retrench, the services of these institutions must likewise be curtailed.

When we strike at an industry, the blow is felt throughout the entire social and economic structure. It destroys jobs, opportunities, investments. It imperils savings. It forces retrogression. Everyone loses and no one gains.

Holders of life insurance policies, savings bank accounts and industrial securities have had this forcibly impressed upon them by loss of dividends, a large part of which is due to destructive legislation and regulation—in other words, too much politics.

"WE MISS YOU, DADDY"

The following editorial was printed in the Rockville, Conn., Journal, about a year ago. Thereafter, to the editor's surprise, it was reprinted by most of the other papers of the state, and was used by highway safety officials, insurance companies, accident prevention organizations, motorists' publications and by others who are fighting the great war against the toll of automobile deaths. Here it is—and any motorist will surely think twice about taking chances after reading it.

"Tuesday morning the was a fatal accident on the Minterburn Hill and when the medical examiner was going through the pockets of the dead man—a telegram was found. It was not very long, just the ordinary ten-word length, but it was a message that would make any father happy. It read: WE MISS YOU! DADDY. WHEN ARE YOU COMING HOME?"

"That was all. It was a message sent by one of the children of the man who was killed. He had received the message and was home-ward bound. The clothes were minus money but in his pocket he carried that message.

"Those who have little children, and those who were once little children, can think of the great blow to the child when the father did return home—DEAD.

"Daddy will be missed by those children in the long years ahead. No longer will they have his support, his earnings, and, more important, his companionship.

"If ever there was a reason for people driving more carefully on the road, it is that they might get in an accident and deprive their own child or some other child of their 'Daddy.'

"More might be written, but just let us repeat those words: 'We miss you, Daddy. When are you coming home?'"

LONG SUFFERING MOTORIST

The motorist is a helpless victim of taxation because there is no practical substitute for gasoline.
For almost any other commodity the consumer can use a substitute. But when it comes to gasoline, it's pay the tax or stop driving.

The states started taxing gasoline "moderately" but, as with all special taxes, the gas tax soon became exorbitant.
Then the federal government decided to take its pound of flesh from the motorist. Motorists have it in their power to demand a reduction of exorbitant gas taxes, including the actual repeal of the federal gas tax. They also have the right to demand that gasoline taxes be not used for other than road purposes.

When taxes run from 25 to 50 per cent of the retail price of any article, as the gasoline tax does, it is high time to correct the error.

IT'S REALLY SO

It is Hard to Tell Who Was Shot

A duel was once fought in Texas says Facts and Fancies, between Alexander Shott and John Nott. Nott was shot and Shott was not, according to circumstantial evidence. But, as many remarked, it was better to be Shott than Nott. There was a rumor that Nott was not shot, but Shott avowed that he shot Nott, which proves either that the shot Shott shot at Nott was not shot, or that Nott was shot notwithstanding. It was made to appear at the trial that the shot Shott shot Nott or as accidents with firearms are frequent, it might have been possible that the shot Shott shot Shott himself and Shott would be shot and Nott would not. It appeared to some that the shot Shott shot not Shott but Nott, and to others that Shott was shot by Nott. Any way, it is hard to tell who was shot.

FREAK LAWS

Our state lawmakers bodies introduce and sometimes pass many freak and amusing bills. One such bill provided that "No one shall operate a political steam-roller or band-wagon on the public highway." In 1932 a bill was introduced in the Kentucky state senate prohibiting boxing and wrestling within the state and making attendance on such contests sufficient grounds for divorce. It was referred to the Committee on Drains and Ditches. Some Federal laws are just as comical. For instance, the one that prohibits the landing of sponges at any port in the United States smaller than four inches in diameter. This certainly is a small port.

To the Democrats who sincerely desire to defeat Tom Rhea, in the second primary, the Huddleston candidacy offers you your only hope of success.

To the Democrats who desire to defeat the Republicans in November Huddleston is your only chance.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

Do your glasses fit? It would seem, in these days of superabundant service right at our elbows, that all fitting spectacles could seldom be found. Personal experience, however, leads me to write this letter on this very important subject.

For years I struggled with "bi-focal" lenses. Every time I descended stairs, or walked up and down terraced steps outdoors, I groped through the reading segment of these lenses, and I can assure you, it was quite a cross to bear—Looking at the steps through segments of glass that were made for a 17-inch reading distance, converted for me a fitted lens into a most ill-fitting one.

Ill-fitting spectacles have a most marked effect on the gait and general comfort of wearers of glasses. I have seen a chronic dizziness and even severe headaches set up by badly-corrected eyes. I often send the dizzy patient to the optician, instead of giving him a packet of liver pills, to possibly sicken him more.

If you are a wearer of glasses, try to see that they are perfectly adapted to your eyes. It will repay you in comfort to do so. The eye is perhaps, your most delicately-poised fixture—do not neglect it. And, to older patients—do not hurry into a pair of "bi-focal" lenses; a pair for distance and one for reading are better.

FULTON COUNTY HAS SIX STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL

Six students of Murray State College from Fulton County were on the honor roll for the spring semester. To be listed on the honor roll of the college, a student must have an average of 2.2 on a semester work, computed on the following basis: the grade A represents three points per semester hour; B is worth 2 points; and C 1 point; and D does not give any credit.

The following Fulton countians were on the Murray scroll of honor with standings of 2.2 or above: Lydia Blow, Hickman 2.4; Harry Brady, Fulton, 2.6; Christine Brown, Fulton, 2.5; Cleveland Holladay, Fulton, 2.5; Agnes Pharis, Fulton, 2.7; and Serena Townsend, Hickman 2.3.

With an increase over the fall semester of 24 honor students, the honor roll for the past spring semester at Murray State College reached a new mark of 130, with 11 students making a standing of 4 or all A's.

Murray State is expecting a banner attendance this fall semester, which begins Sept. 16. Besides the excellent curriculum and many advantages offered by the college in order to meet the new teacher's requirements, another inducement is the desire to secure additional college work, and to the new facilities recently installed in the college. The new, 11-year-old institution last year added a new stadium, and a new commerce department, and prospects are exceedingly bright for three new buildings on the campus in the near future.

FARM REPAIR CREDIT GAINS OVER NATION

Marked increase in the number and amount of farm modernization loans granted by financial institutions over the country were reported for the month of May, as compared with an average of all previous months in 1935, according to the Federal Housing Administration.

A total of 1,326 farm modernization loans were made in May, totaling $532,418.55. From January thru April there were a total of 4,020 loans made, totaling $1,913,497.01.

This sign of increased modernization activity in rural sections is reported concurrently with notice that farm purchasing power is on the upgrade as compared with two years ago. A reliable source points out for example, that monetary return today on 119 bushels of corn will purchase a hot-water heating equipment, while in 1933, 422 bushels would have been required to finance such a purchase. Similarly today 327 pounds of butterfat will purchase a 750-pound cream separator as compared with 653 pounds of butterfat in 1933. Similar comparisons are shown in other farm products.

Officials of the Federal Housing Administration anticipate additional increases in farm modernization projects during the late Spring and during the Summer. With increased purchasing power and lulls between planting in various localities, reports indicated that modernization projects were being planned in virtually every agricultural state.

Modernization credit advanced to farmers is not necessarily repaid in monthly installments, as is the case with urban modernization credits. Arrangements may be made with lending institutions to make payments concurrent with completion and sale of crops.

New barns, additions and repairs to farm homes, paint projects, roofing, heating, electric and water systems, wells, pumps, septic tanks, wall, floor, and other interior repairs, brick, silos, fencing, are only a part of the numerous modernization projects for which lending institutions make credit available under the insured plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF

If you suddenly discover that the gasoline in your car is about exhausted don't speed up in order to reach the next filling station—slow down. Experiments have proved that, other things being equal, more mileage is obtained from a gallon of gasoline when an automobile is driven at moderate speed than when it is driven at high speed. You will understand this is true from the fact that more force is required to propel a car at high speed than at low speed, because of the wind resistance.

True Tales About The Telephone

THIS TELEPHONE WAS PUT IN JUST IN TIME

One of the first uses to which a telephone recently installed in a home at Huntington, Ind., was put was to call the fire department. As a result, the house was saved from destruction. The subscriber had formerly had a telephone, but on moving had discontinued it. Finally she was persuaded to have service installed again, and one of the reasons was its possible use in case of emergency. The service proved its value at the first opportunity.

A bee, weight for weight, is thirty times as strong as a horse. A very small bug can drag six matches—the equivalent to a man pull three hundred and thirty beams as large as himself. ANNOUNCES FOR REPRESENTATIVE FROM FULTON-HICKMAN COUNTIES

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON AND HICKMAN COUNTIES

I wish to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the office of State Representative to the Legislature from Fulton and Hickman Counties. I am setting out below, some of the things which I believe necessary for the good of the State and for which I will contend should I receive the nomination and be elected to this office.

1. I favor the outright repeal of the present gross receipts tax, more commonly known as the sales tax. I will oppose the passage of any sort of a selective sales tax because I believe it to be bad in principle and imposed upon those who are the least able to pay.

2. I oppose any additional tax upon real estate.

3. I favor a $2500 real estate exemption from taxation and, if necessary, I will support a constitutional amendment for the passage of such a law.

4. I will support the passage of a law to immediately take advantage of the new Federal "Social Securities Act" including old age pensions.

5. I will support the taking over by the State of all county roads, in order that the counties may be relieved of the expense of maintenance.

6. I will support all measures to put schools and other public institutions of the State on a sound financial basis, and to provide a retirement system which will care for superannuated teachers in their old age.

7. I will support measures for the enactment of a reasonable tax on incomes of both corporations and individuals but will not be in favor of taxing small incomes.

8. I will support the re-enactment of the old primary law which requires all candidates of all political parties to be nominated at a primary election and making nomination by conventions unlawful.

9. I will support all measures looking toward the strictest economy in the management of our State Government do all in my power to put the State on a sound financial basis.

I conceive the above measures of utmost importance in the next Legislature, and I think all who know me, realize the fact that I will do strictly what I say.

It will be impossible for me to see all the voters of Fulton and Hickman Counties, but if you believe in the principles and measures set out in the above paragraphs, I invite your support and influence, and assure you that it will be highly appreciated.

'The Divorce Court Murder'

By Milton Propper

SIXTH INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS—Six persons are in an inner office of the law firm of Dawson, McQuire and Locke at Philadelphia. A master hearing in the divorce case of Rowland vs. Rowland is under way. Mrs. Rowland, represented by her lawyer brother, Mr. Willard; Mr. Rowland, the defendant, and his attorney Mr. Trumbull; the court clerk and Mr. Dawson, the master, are the six persons. There is a new development in the case. After failing to defend himself against the charge of adultery in earlier hearings, Mr. Rowland digs up evidence and asks the court's permission to produce witnesses and resist the suit. Judge Dawson overrules the heated objections of Mr. Willard, and orders the witness brought in. Rowland's lawyer goes to get the witness but finds her dead—chloroformed. She is Mrs. Barbara Keith, wife of a prominent Philadelphia business man. Judge Dawson phoned for the police. Detective Tommy Rankin is assigned to the case. He is now questioning all of the parties involved in the case. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"If Hugh Campbell is involved in this at all, he'll be too clever to do anything so conspicuous or suspicious. In fact, he'll probably come forward as soon as he learns Headquarters wants him." He paused. "Phone the Bureau, Jenks, and tell Gordon to inquire for him at all the best hotels in town. If he's staying in Philly, and isn't with friends, he'll check in only at the finest."

He deliberated a moment and then finished his instructions.

"Besides, he has connections here through which he might be traced. Let's see—there's Gussie Morton at the Morton Club and Nick Albert, manager of the Organdy Club on South Broad street. Tell Gordon to visit them for a chat."

Jenks made a note of the addresses mentioned, and superior continued. "Now, what else have you learned from the office force? Who visited the firm during the afternoon?"

He nodded toward the chairs lined against the wall beyond the rail.

where a man and woman waited whom Rankin had barely noticed on his arrival. They sat apart, the woman demure and chic in a gray dress that revealed an attractive figure; about twenty-three years old she was physically small, with petite features, pretty in an unobtrusive manner.

The man was as large as she was small. Close upon fifty years, he was tall and broad-shouldered. His eyes were dull and unmagmatic and altogether he radiated ponderous energy, without alertness or sagacity.

Studying them each in turn, Rankin asked his colleague: "For whom were they witnesses, Jenks? Who are they and what do they know about the case?"

"The girl's name is Jill Edmond," Jenks replied. "Earlier, I understand, she worked as Mr. Rowland's secretary last December and January."

"Worked is right, but not only longer," Rankin commented with a smile. "Because she happens to be his correspondent—the woman with whom he had the affair that caused his wife to sue for divorce."

It was the other's turn to smile—knowingly, with a slightly lascivious smirk.

With regard to the order of entrances and exits that afternoon, Jenks fully corroborated Rankin's own inquiries. He time-table, together with some notes and observations, read as follows:

2:20—Mrs. Rowland and Mr. Willard arrive and enter library.

2:25—Mr. Trumbull arrives, waits in outer office.

2:30—Allen Rowland and Mrs. Keith arrive, and with Mr. Trumbull, pass into library.

2:35—Jill Edmond arrives and waits in outer office.

2:38—Hugh Campbell arrives and waits in outer office.

2:38 (about)—Allen Rowland leaves Mrs. Keith in 1505, and rejoins Mr. Trumbull.

2:39—Mrs. Rowland joins Campbell, has brief conversation. (Find out what about.)

2:40—Allen Rowland and Mr. Rowland leave suite through main office. Rowland to dismiss chauffeur. Mrs. Rowland returns to the library.

2:41 (about)—Mrs. Rowland leaves suite through main office, and Mr. Trumbull returns to phone his office.

2:57—Mr. Henry Dawson arrives, and enters his office.

3:00—Mr. Simpkins, court clerk, arrives, also enters Mr. Dawson's office. The hearing begins.

"And that about covers the ground, Tommy," Jenks concluded his summary of this data.

He turned away from Jenks and rejoined the group waiting in the library.

"Mr. Simpkins," he addressed the clerk, "I'd like to see your notes of the evidence presented at the hearing. Your typed record. Have you got it with you?"

The clerk produced a large loose-leaf notebook from a voluminous pocket.

"With pleasure, Mr. Rankin," he responded. "Here you have it complete."

Rankin took the book from him, and, excusing himself, retired into Mr. Dawson's office. There he closed the door and spread the notes on the lawyer's tables for study.

Although on the surface the details of Allen Rowland's dalliance with Jill Edmond appeared to have no direct bearing on the tragedy, he would not neglect the circumstances which it helped to bring about.

The preliminary testimony established Mrs. Rowland's right to sue for separation in Pennsylvania. She had resided at her estate in Parkway Road, Germantown, continuously except for her vacations. Allen Rowland had also lived there until she discovered his infidelity. Then he went into bachelor apartments he had already evidently been occupying in West Philadelphia.

The marriage certificate was offered in evidence. She had met him four and a half years before, while wintering in Miami. As a life-guard at the beach, he had performed for her some service, not clearly detailed, which first brought them together. Before that he had led a cowhand in Texas, a movie extra wandering, adventurous life—a in Hollywood, a riding master in Chicago. They were married by an Episcopal clergyman at Fort Lauderdale, on December 28, 1928.

Jill Edmond, of course, was the twin. Adele and Allen Rowland. A month before the past New Year, one of the fatal contentions between Mrs. Rowland had advertised for a secretary in the columns of several newspapers. The "ad" required a young and personable girl of more than average intelligence and ability. It would be her duty to attend to her employer's correspondence, manage her social engagements and in general serve as a companion. Of all the applicants, Miss Edmond, clever and willing, had appeared most suitable for the post.

Mrs. Rowland first had reason to suspect the girl's relations with her husband less than three weeks later. She had remained at home from a bridge party on the 23rd of the same month, because of a headache; but she retired without informing Miss Edmond of her indisposition. Descending unexpectedly from her room at four o'clock, she found her in the library, ostensibly writing letters at her desk, while Allen Rowland bent over her, his arm around her shoulder. Their nonchalant air in attempting to carry off the embarrassing situation did not deceive her.

Confronted by this discovery, Adele Rowland consulted her brother, who arranged to hire detectives to watch the couple. Both parties were to be trailed every moment wherever they went, whether separately or not.

There followed in the notes, a resume by the detectives of their movements in watching the subjects of their vigilance. On Thursday afternoon after they began work, young Rowland kept a rendezvous with the secretary at a park in Germantown and took her to supper in town. Two days later they trailed Rowland alone to the Westview Apartments in West Philadelphia. Investigation revealed that for eight months he had had an establishment there under the name of Seymour King.

The crisis occurred on Wednesday, February 1st, the girl's next holiday. At four o'clock that afternoon, so Mrs. Rowland related in her testimony, she accidentally noticed a scrap of paper in her husband's writing in the secretary's library wastebasket. Evidently he realized at last that they were suspected and employed this indirect method of communicating with her.

In the note, he made an appointment to meet her that very evening at nine o'clock. Therefore, when the girl, during supper, specially requested to be excused from duty that night, her employer granted the favor. Rowland was not at the table nor had he been at home that afternoon.

In the meantime, Mrs. Rowland telephoned the detective and apprised him of her knowledge. Then they called Mr. Willard and prepared plans for trapping the faithless couple.

So it was that when Allen Rowland reached the rendezvous that Wednesday night, his wife, Mr. Willard and the detective were already hidden there; they watched un- seen from the lawyer's car. Rowland drove up alone in a coupe on the hour, and his paramour joined him. They followed him beyond the city limits along the Bethlehem Pike as far as Quakertown. Forty-five miles from Philadelphia, Rowland turned off the main highway to reach the fashionable and expensive Sunset Inn, which, however, like many such roadhouses, possessed a questionable reputation. It was 10:39 when he arrived with his companion. As they went inside, the pursuers, careful lest their quarry observe them, halted a hundred yards from the building.

For some time they waited patiently. In ten minutes, a new light illumined one of the second floor rooms and Allen Rowland appeared at the window and lowered the shade. At 11:15 the three trailers entered.

The chamber the husband and his companion occupied was number 212 on the second floor. (Here the hotel book was placed on the record to prove Allen Rowland's registration for both of them as husband and wife. In his handwriting was the entry for Mr. and Mrs. King of Allentown Pennsylvania.) Without warning, Mr. Willard knocked on the door; and when it opened, it revealed a scene that could hardly be more compromising. The guilty man stood in the doorway, chagrined and astonished in colored pajamas, a robe and slippers, while Jill Edmond, pale and breathless, sat on the bed in negligee.

It was at this precise juncture that Mr. Mortimer Keith stalked angrily into the Inn bedroom, took in the situation with a hurried glance and, offering no explanation departed as abruptly as he had arrived.

When Rankin reached this amazing statement in the record, he sat back with a jerk, audibly expressing his bewilderment. It came from the private detective, volunteered casually in his complete description of what occurred in Room 212 after the invasion.
