THE LISTENING POST

● Broad hints are given out frequently that it will soon be necessary to ration traveling. On an average of once a month, I believe, such warnings and hints are issued, and perhaps some plan is really being considered. When a traveler goes the crowded condition of trains and buses, the idea comes that perhaps rationing might be the answer. Certainly there must be a great deal of unnecessary traveling—but when we get right down to cases, we realize that it will be difficult indeed to draw the line.

● Almost every person believes his trip is necessary and more cases than we realize a pretty good case could be made out. Take a man, or a man and wife or family, who have been working at some war center for a year or two years and get a vacation. They wish to go back to the home town. They have the money and the time—and so they go. Certainly that trip may not be necessary, but it would be a hard-hearted official who would turn thumbs down on it.

● Or suppose some mother and father get the word that their son is in a distant city awaiting orders to proceed overseas. I know that such things are not supposed to be possible but in some manner some parents do learn such facts. Now a trip to see that son might not be called necessary, but I have an idea if I happened to be the official who passed on that application I would certainly tell that mother and father to proceed with my blessings. I could never have the heart to say to them that their trip was not necessary. I would not have it on my conscience that I stopped a father and mother from seeing their son before he left for the battle zone.

● Every business man who needs to make a trip of a few hundred miles can do a better job for his business by seeing his wholesaler face to face or can get a better selection of merchandise. He knows that carrying on business by letter is not satisfactory, and he has been told to use the telephone sparingly on long distance. Yes, such a man would get my approval without trouble.

● After all, crowding of trains is not much more serious than I saw in the years before the automobile and bus came along. I can remember quite well that getting a seat on many trains was a serious matter and years ago I stood many times until some one vacated a seat. I have an idea that conditions now are not much worse than then, although it is true that trains are larger and can carry more passengers than then.

● Another point to consider is the revenue to the railroads. Right now the carriers are making money after many years of starvation. Passenger revenues are helping in this earning. Railroads need this revenue very much, for most of them were far in the red when the traveling boom started. I know it has been customary to say that passenger fares cut no large figure in rail earnings, but I have an idea now that these growing fares are helping railroads a lot. If the present boom enables all our railroads to get on their feet financially it will be a fine thing for the entire country, for thousands of people have stocks and bonds in railroad which have paid nothing in many years. So far as I can see the railroads are using their increased revenues wisely. Most of them are bettering their properties and paying off debts. None are rushing to resume dividends, for all know these debts must and should be paid and all were badly run down from years of depression. If all can manage to put their properties into first class condition and pay off a lot of accumulated debts they will face the future with more hope than they have had for more than a decade.

Food Czar Plan Voted By House Body

Fulmer Says Food Situation Is Getting Critical

Washington, — Disregarding President Roosevelt's wishes, the House agriculture committee today approved a measure to create an all-powerful wartime food "czar." Chairman Fulmer (D-S.C.) said: "The food situation is getting critical, and the legislation is designed to deal with the emergency."

The bill, if made law would take all food rationing and pricing powers from the Office of Price Administration, headed by Prentiss Brown, and place them with the war food administrator, Crestor C. Davis, who now supervises food production and distribution.

Mr. Roosevelt last week turned down suggestions by two bi-partisan congressional committees that such action be taken by executive order.

The measure approved by the agriculture committee would give Davis final authority on foods—not subject even to the approval of the President. However, Mr. Roosevelt would have power to replace him, in case of hopeless disagreement.

NAZI HOSPITAL SHIPS ARMED, O. W. I. HEARS

The Office of War Information yesterday quoted a Swedish newspaper as saying that Germans had mounted anti-aircraft guns on the two hospital ships, Bremen and Stuttgart, in violation of international law. The dispatch, carried in the Vastmanlands Lans Tidnings, attributed the report to Norwegian sources, which also said the Stuttgart had transported a large cargo of oil from Germany.

WOMAN DRIVER RUNS STREET-CAR; YOU KNOW REST

Baltimore, Md. — The all-female crew of a Baltimore streetcar headed north last night made a wrong turn which the motorman didn't discover for about a block.

"Gertrude, what shall I do? I'm going the wrong way," the woman motorman said to the female conductor.

"I don't know," replied the conductor. "I'm new too. I'll go call the company from the corner drug store."

Then a resident of the neighborhood came out and advised the motorman to back up to the last intersection and make the right turn.

The motorman followed his advice and headed in the right direction. Two blocks later, she slammed on the brakes and shouted: "My God! I forgot Gertrude."

Pay Debts And Taxes, Buy Bonds —This Is Advice Of All Experts

Washington, — Money today represents wealth "only in a limited sense," the Office of War Information said today, and although the average American's income now is about 1.8 times what it was in 1940, it is "not exactly the same kind of money."

If used to compete for the limited supply of consumer goods, the money would push prices upward but would buy no more goods than if wages, prices and profits stayed down, because "there are no added goods, and no capacity for making added goods."

HERE IS ONE WAY TO SOLVE VACATION PROBLEM

Jefferson City, Mo. — The 21 employees in Herman McKinney's restaurant wondered if they'd get a vacation this year the labor shortage being what it is.

The boss solved the problem shut down the works for a week. It was the first time in 33 years that the day-and-night eating place had been closed.

Mused McKinney: "I was about out of meat anyway"

Gen. Forrest Reported On Missing Plane

Was Grandson Of Famous Southern General

Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, 38, great-grandson of the famous Confederate general of the same name, was aboard an American heavy bomber which failed to return from an attack on Kiel June 13, it was announced officially today. The plane is officially listed as "missing."

Forrest was the first American general to become a combat casualty in the European theater.

He had arrived in England only a short time before he rode as an observer aboard a Flying Fortress piloted by Capt. Harry A. Stirwalt, of Spokane, Wash.

Stirwalt's plane led the raiders into what has been described officially as the greatest air battle over Europe.

Gen. Forrest is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and his wife now resides in Spokane, Wash.

SABOTEURS AID IN STOPPING FRENCH TRAINS

Many Locomotives Are Exploded Or Damaged

Washington, — The combination of Allied air raids and railway sabotage inside France has been immobilizing about 200 trains daily, according to information reaching Fighting French headquarters here through persons escaping from German-occupied Europe.

Both the airmen, who swooped across the English Channel, and the French guerrillas operating behind enemy lines, concentrate on crippling transportation, a headquarters spokesman said today, particularly by putting railway locomotives out of commission. Many locomotives beyond the range of the marauding fliers succumb to the boiler-wrecking tactics of the saboteurs or are wrecked in derailments engineered by guerrillas.

One of the most successful derailment jobs recently was carried out by guerrillas on the line between Nevers and Chagny, in Central France. Fifty-two Germans were killed and 150 injured in this wreck and traffic was blocked several days. Another derailment on the same line, the reports said upset a troop train moving soldiers to the Russian front.

Wilhelmina Visits Roosevelts At Their Summer Home In Hyde Park

Washington, — The White House announced today that President and Mrs. Roosevelt spent last Sunday at their home in Hyde Park, N. Y., with Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands as their guest.

White House officials said they had no reason for believing the visit of Wilhelmina was anything more than social.

The Queen has been in Ottawa for some time. After her visit with the Roosevelts, she returned to Canada.

The White House statement said: "The Queen was accompanied by Elco van Kleffens, Foreign Minister of The Netherlands, and George van Tets, Her Majesty's principal secretary."

It was the fifth meeting between the President and Wilhelmina.

MRS. J. E. FIELDS DIES LAST NIGHT AT HOME HERE

Prominent Woman Is Victim Of Several Weeks' Illness

Mrs. Eugenia Ann Browder Fields, 84 years of age, widow of James E. Fields, died last night at her home on Pearl street, after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services will be conducted from the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, with the Pastor Loyal O. Hartman, assisted by Rev. B. J. Russell, in charge. Burial, directed by the Homeview Funeral Home, will be in Palestine Cemetery. Active pall bearers will be the grandsons of the deceased.

Mrs. Fields, whose long and active life thus comes to a close, spent all her years in Fulton and in the nearby countryside. She was born December 12, 1858, in Fulton County, the daughter of Altheus and Caroline Brown. Her grandfather, David Brown, was one of the pioneer settlers of Fulton County.

On October 25, 1910, she was married to the late James E. Fields, who belonged to another of the pioneer families of this section. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Fields lived in their country home in the Palestine community and this home was one of the great gathering places for young people for many years. About 1934 they moved to Fulton, and Mr. Fields passed on April 21, 1940.

Seven children today mourn the loss of the mother. They are: Mrs. E. A. Thompson of Fulton, Mrs. Fred Paschal of Memphis, Mrs. Pauline White of Nashville, Herndon Fields of Alton, Ill., Jesse Fields of Fulton, Miss Ruth Fields of Fulton and Mrs. Smith Atkins, also of Fulton. Seventeen grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive. Mrs. Lula Bard is a sister and John C. Browder a brother.

Mrs. Fields was a life-long member of the Methodist Church, having joined the Palestine Church many years ago, later transferring her membership to the First Methodist Church in Fulton. A woman of kindly tolerant characteristics, hospitable in every sense, faithful to her church vows and to her neighborly duties, she made many friends during her many years in this community, and hundreds of close friends today mingle their tears with those of the bereaved family. Her memory will never be forgotten, for her busy fruitful life meant too much to so many people. While she is gone, her memory will remain with her friends like a beautiful benediction.

SOLDIERS TO BALLOT IN BRITAIN'S POSTWAR ELECTION

London, — The government announced today plans for a postwar general election—the first since 1935—in which persons serving in the armed forces will be enabled to vote by mail or proxy, a practice not permitted at the present time.

Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, told the House of Commons that the Government intended to introduce legislation which would enable any person who has reached 21 to vote.

At present hundreds of thousands of adult in Britain are not eligible to vote because the register of voters has not been revised since the beginning of the war and no provision has been made for voting by those in the armed forces who are absent from home.

RICKENBACKER IN MOSCOW FOR STIMSON

May See Stalin Before Leaving Soviet

Moscow, — Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker is in Moscow on a mission for Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, it was announced here today, and he may see Premier Joseph Stalin before he continues a tour of world battlefields.

Rickenbacker's arrival here Sunday was first revealed locally yesterday to persons attending a ceremony in the Kremlin, where U. S. Ambassador William H. Standley presented American military awards to sixty Russian soldiers and sailors.

Also present at yesterday's ceremony was Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, who in a brief speech marking the second anniversary of Russia's entry into the war stressed the Soviet belief that a second front was essential for a quick victory over Germany. A common Allied offensive, Molotov said, would be the foundation of victory and of post-war co-operation.

There was no indication in the announcement of his arrival as to Rickenbacker's activities. It was assumed that he was to see high-ranking military leaders and public officials.

SOUTH REVOLT? NO! POLLS SAY

Governors Are Only Yelling For Their "Rights"

Columbus, Ohio, — A sampling of views of Southern governors, both on and off the record, disclosed today that while there is considerable dissatisfaction below the Mason-Dixon line with certain New Deal policies, this traditionally Democratic stronghold will support the Democratic ticket next year, fourth term or no.

These State heads attending the annual governors' conference made it plain, however, that they would make certain platform demands at the 1944 national convention as "bargaining points," and that the South's big block of votes would not be cast for Roosevelt without some concessions.

Freight rates allegedly discriminatory against the South, poll tax repeal, the race question and patronage are the big "sore spots" in party affairs in their section, the Governors said. But they believed these could be healed "within the party framework."

The consensus seemed to be that while there would be opposition to the President's renomination, should he run, (and few doubted that he would) they would go along. Some felt a Southerner on the ticket as the vice presidential nominee would help to appease the Southern leaders in the belief that, if elected, he would see their problems were given "more attention."

Asked about reports of a "political revolt" taking place in the South, Governor Broughton of North Carolina said:

"There is no such revolt as has been reported. There's a sharp difference of opinion, but North Carolina will support the national Democratic ticket next year, and I think that will be true of the whole South."

ART BARGER BARKED JUST IN NICK OF TIME

Larned, Kan. — At a farm auction, Art Barger was bustling around helping Auctioneer Pat Keenan.

Suddenly he froze in his tracks like a pointer dog. Bidding was going higher and higher on a truck.

"Wait a minute," shouted Barger. "That looks like my truck!"

It was his truck. By mistake someone had shoved it into the line of equipment to be sold.

Detroit Back To Normal As Curfew Lifted

More Than Thirty Persons Killed In Rioting

Detroit — Detroit approached normalcy today and Governor Harry F. Kelly modified emergency restrictions including a general curfew and liquor ban imposed Monday as a means of curbing rioting that brought death to more than 30 persons and injury to nearly 800.

All restrictions were lifted in the outlying metropolitan areas of Macomb and Oakland counties, while in Wayne county (Detroit) tonight's curfew was set for midnight by the glass was permitted from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. and places of amusement were allowed to remain open until 11 p. m. Since Monday all theaters had been forced to close at 9 p. m.

A force of 3,800 federal troops under command of Brig. Gen. William E. Guthner of the Sixth Service Command continued to patrol city streets and, according to Gen. Guthner, will remain at least until the week-end.

ICKES WARNS MIDWEST GASOLINE SUPPLY FALLING

Washington, — Secretary Ickes said today Eastern gasoline consumption finally has been brought into balance with supplies but that Midwestern gasoline stocks are declining rapidly.

"We might have to tighten up rationing setups very suddenly in the Midwest, but no date can be anticipated for such action," he told a press conference, refusing to make any prediction.

NAVY MAKES NEW RULES FOR MAILING YULE GIFTS

Washington — It's only twenty-six weeks to Christmas. So the Navy came out today with regulations for mailing of Christmas parcels and letters to Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard personnel overseas.

All Christmas mail should be posted for those service men between September 15 and October 31, the order stated. Packages should not exceed five pounds in weight, fifteen inches in length, or thirty-six inches in length and girth combined. And, says the Navy, please don't include such gifts as weapons, intoxicants or poisons.

Canadian Press Head Opposes Any Political Union With U. S.

London, Ontario, — Arthur R. Ford, editor-in-chief of the London Free Press and president of the Canadian Press, declared his opposition to Canada's political union with the United States today "because the British parliamentary system is preferable to the American system of government."

In an address before the Western Counties Telephone Association, Ford said he believed that "with all its faults" the British system is the best yet devised for the government of man by man.

He referred to a radio forum speech June 13 in Detroit by Maj. James Clark, speaker of the Ontario Legislature, who said that 40 to 45 per cent of the Canadian people would vote for union with the United States if an election were held now.

"The question has been raised periodically," Ford said. "Generally there have been two reasons—one, the schisms which have arisen between the two main races of Canada, and the second economic."

"I believe there is greater respect for law and order under the British system than under the American," Ford remarked. "I believe, too, that as a member of the British Commonwealth of nations, we have a greater future in the coming world than we would have as a forty-ninth state of the American Union."

WLB Insists Lewis Comply With Orders

Board Refuses To Accept Work Return As Final

Washington, — Far from accepting a resumption of coal production as final, the War Labor Board resolved today to insist on full compliance by the United Mine Workers with its order in the miners' wage dispute.

The board also authorized a brief statement, pointed at Secretary Ickes, that the labor dispute has been finally determined and only enforcement of the decision remains to be accomplished.

Ickes, as custodian of the mines, summoned 29 mine owners for a conference tomorrow and in his telegram he referred to "the controversy between the mine workers and the operators which is under the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board" and expressed hope "that the controversy will be speedily settled."

When this was called to its attention, the board authorized its information director to say:

"The War Labor Board has made a final determination of the labor dispute. There is no controversy between the United Mine Workers and the operators."

Authoritative WLB sources interpreted this as meaning that the board considers the case is strictly one of compliance with its decision by John L. Lewis' union.

TRIPP PREDICTS U. S. TO RETURN TO OLD ORDER

Gannett Aides Warn Of Possible Spineless Race

Cleveland, — Frank Tripp, chairman of the Allied Newspaper Council and general manager of the Gannett newspapers, declared tonight America's next generation will be "a servile, spineless race of dependents" if it seeks only freedom from want and personal security.

Paying tribute to the nation's newsmen for their sale of $80,000,000 in War Stamps, Tripp told members of the International Circulation Managers' Association to explain to these boys "the humbug of political paternalism and screwball theories of dreaming professors, whether in bureaus in Washington or schoolrooms in universities."

The newsmen will become the man upon whom the future of America depends, he said in an address prepared for the association's annual banquet, and added:

"If that type of boy comes to think that all to which he aspires is the bunk, and that freedom from want and personal security are the sum total of American life, then the jig is up and our next generation will be a servile, spineless race of dependents, no better off than the pitiful peoples for whom we fight."

HINT OF AN EARLY SECOND FRONT

The speech of Gen. George C. Marshall before the conference of governors in Cleveland this week should allay the fears of Soviet Russia that an invasion of Europe will be too long deferred. According to the Army Chief of Staff, bombing alone cannot be depended on to defeat the European Axis. All last year while Moscow was clamoring for a second front the bombing of German munitions factories and transportation lines by the R.A.F. did little to deter the onward drive of Hitler's legions. The war in Tunisia, he declared, had set the pattern for the war in Europe—close co-ordination of land, air and sea forces. When the time comes to strike, the United Nations will not only have seasoned forces with mounting supplies but also a plan, and most important of all we have taken the initiative. But the most comforting portion of General Marshall's speech to the questioning Russians is the statement, "The failure today to surge forward with every ounce of power we possess would be to write a tragic page of history."

But the promise of an all-out offensive need cause no undue optimism. "We are just getting started," says General Marshall. There will be no impetuous move prompted by the clamor of Moscow and no move without the fullest preparation. "The way will be far from easy; the losses heavy but the victory certain." The present bombing campaign by American and British fliers over Italy, Germany and German-occupied countries may therefore be expected to continue until the enemy is sufficiently softened up to carry out the most difficult of all military operations, the landing of armed forces on heavily fortified coasts.

General Marshall, who has been mentioned by "The London Daily Herald" as the possible commander of Allied invasion forces, said all that he could say without divulging military secrets. But on an earlier occasion he was more specific. On a visit to England last year he indicated that an invasion would be launched across the English Channel, aimed at Holland, at Belgium or Northern France, the invasion point, which, according to reports, Moscow has been urging. That, however, does not rule out invasion of Italy, invasion of Southern France or invasion of the Balkans.

The undertaking is large. The difficulties of maintaining a bridge of ships across the Atlantic and lines of supply to the battlefield are tremendous. The cost in human life is certain to be heavy. The war is moving into a critical summer not only for Russia, which is in a better military position than it has been in the two years of its heroic struggle, but for the Americans and the British. As General Marshall emphasized and as the over-complaisant American people should realize, "the greatest battles lie ahead."

From Dream To Deed

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

"HORATIO ALGER is not dead in America and never will be," says Vice-President Wallace. Horatio Alger's books made his name a symbol for the career of the poor youth who achieved success. They are based on that freedom of opportunity for self-betterment which has always been an American ideal.

Rufus T. Strohm

There was a time when many people thought it smart to belittle the Horatio Alger type of ambition. It is fortunate for America that that time has passed. We are whipped by the terrible necessities of a life-and-death struggle to meet the gigantic problems created by the war. For the equally great tasks and the unprecedented opportunities that will come with peace, we must rely on the force of individual initiative that springs from ambition.

But the heroes of "Rags to Riches" and "Struggling Upward" were more than lucky dreamers. The books were written during the time when America's great industries were being built, when everybody knew personally men who had risen "from rags to riches." The Horatio Alger lads, like the living men from whom they were drawn, made good because they were able to seize opportunity when it came.

We live today in a mechanized, scientific world where ambition without technical training is no more than wishful thinking. No man today can hope for a better job or a more responsible position until he has developed the specialized ability needed to handle it. To make our greatest contribution to the war effort—either in production or in combat service—and to give reality to the possibilities that lie before us in peace, we must have knowledge and skill that come only from study and training.

With that equipment, however men and women of our traditional American ambition will create a better world for all people through the power of their own initiative.

fort, was recently inducted into the Coast Guard at Louisville and left immediately for Manhattan Beach, N. Y., where he will take his "boot" training.

WHAT IS IT GOING TO COST YOU?

WHAT is electricity going to cost you after the war? Records show that as the use has developed, costs drop. Today our average domestic rate is about half what it was only nine years ago. If this downward trend can be maintained we hope to have the cost for home-use comparable to that of the government subsidized power system within a few years.

We hope to do this and carry our part of the cost of war and government. We are paying out in taxes 21 cents of every dollar you pay us for electricity. The government owned systems, like TVA, with special privileges under existing State Law, would be required to pay only a few cents in state taxes and no federal tax. This is only one of the advantages government subsidized power systems have.

With sound business management the electric power industry is meeting all normal civilian and war plant demands for service. And in the face of rising operating costs it goes right on selling electricity at lower and lower prices. Where else can you match this record?

GLAMOROUS ISLES LACK
LAMOURS, SOLDIERS LEARN

Washington — American fighting men in the South Pacific have discovered first hand that the native chieftains' daughters don't look like Dorothy Lamour and they now look with cynical eye toward glamorous, romantic Hollywood film versions of the South Sea Islands.

This observation was made today by Lieut. Com. Arthur T. Noren, who has just returned from a month's inspection tour of recreation and welfare facilities in the South Pacific.

"For the first day or so, a lot of the islands look like a Hollywood set," Noren said. "But the palm trees soon lose their charm. The islands are dreary and uncomfortable."

and several students had been standing around a rubbish bonfire for 15 minutes when a change of weather sent them scurrying for shelter.

They were only fifty feet from the fire when an explosion, heard throughout the village, threw flaming debris seventy-five feet in the air. No one was injured.

Schwartz expressed the belief that an old keg he had thrown on the fire, thinking it contained useless lime, really contained black powder or dynamite—both used when the school grounds were landscaped three years ago.

SMALLER PLANTS BY THOUSANDS FACE EXTINCTION

Washington — Col. Robert W. Johnson, chairman of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, said today that "thousands of small manufacturing establishments face extinction" unless they receive war work. "They have not as yet been fitted into production for war and priorities prohibit normal normal purchases," Colonel Johnson said. "They are in distress. If they are allowed to die, the basic pattern of our economic system may be destroyed forever."

The message was contained in Johnson's preface to a new pamphlet issued by S. W. P. C. on the urgency of spreading war work among smaller plant and shops and on procedures by which S. W. P. C. is undertaking to aid that effort.

KENTUCKY-INDIANA BORDER PACT O.K.'D

Washington, — The Senate yesterday completed legislative action on a resolution giving the consent of Congress to a boundary agreement between Indiana and Kentucky.

All territory involved in the boundary, with exception of a portion of disputed area on which the Evansville water plant is located, goes to Kentucky under terms of the agreement.

Generally, the new boundary line is along what was the low water mark on the north bank of the Ohio River prior to a change in its course.

ATKINS INSURANCE
AGENCYWHAT HAPPENED TO
FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

AFTER SEVEN WEEKS of intensive work, laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria caused nausea.

Methods of preventing a recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture is being resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during this seven-week period, and at its beginning the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

Q. WHAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE?

A. THE SUGAR CONTENT of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change—harmless in itself—occurred in the characteristics of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the degree and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal re-oxidation during the ageing process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Q. WHY DIDN'T NORMAL TESTS SHOW THAT SOMETHING WAS WRONG?

A. THE CHANGES WHICH occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures—procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

Q. WHAT ARE THE MAKERS DOING TO PREVENT A RECURRENCE OF THE TROUBLE.

A. NOW THAT THE cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number, in verification of these tests.

Q. IS FLETCHER'S CASTORIA NOW ON SALE?

A. NO. MANUFACTURE HAS been resumed, but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Q. WILL THE PACKAGE BE THE SAME?

A. NO. THE FLETCHER'S Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

THE MANUFACTURER OF
FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

JOE (C. C.) CUMMINS, PROGRESSIVE PLANTER, LIVE STOCKMAN, OWNER SWAN LAKE, EXTENSIVE TOBACCO DEALER, THE LARGEST INDIVIDUAL TOBACCO SHIPPER TO ONE LOUISVILLE WAREHOUSE

Mr. Cummins Has Shipped From 500,000 To 750,000 Lbs. Tobacco Annually to Louisville Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, and Now Is Striving To Make Goal of 1,000,000 Annually

In His Live Stock Division, Mr. Cummins Carries Upward 50 to 100 Head White Face Cattle, and Upward of 150 Hogs For East St. Louis Markets, Plus 995 Acres of Land

Owner of Famous Swan Lake of 500 Acres, Mr. Cummins Proposes to Complete Commercial Development of that Hunting and Fishing Property to 1 x 2 Miles Square—His Son, Ralph Glynn (U.S.A.), Has Remarkable Record as Athlete

Barlow—Joe (C. C.) Cummins, progressive planter, live stockman, owner of famous Swan Lake, and extensive tobacco dealer enjoys the enviable distinction of being one of the busiest men in this part of West Kentucky; and, indeed records disclose that Mr. Cummins is the largest individual shipper of tobacco in the entire state of Kentucky to one warehouse, the Louisville Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse in Louisville, Ky., his shipments in the past, he says, having ranged from 500,000 to 750,000 lbs. of tobacco annually to that concern, and presently he is ambitiously striving to make his 1942 and succeeding annual records score at the goal of 1,000,000 lbs. and beyond. Mr. Cummins and his lovely wife, Mrs. Marie Elizabeth Cummins, both natives of Ballard county have an unusually interesting family of children: Mrs. Maurice Hinkle, popular and efficient operator of the successful Beauty Shop in Barlow; Ralph Glynn Cummins, mechanical instructor in the Air Corps for Uncle Sam at Victoria, Texas, and by the way this young man holds a remarkable record as an American athlete; and Miss Dorothy Jean Cummins, Parents Dan J. 80, and Mrs. Belle Cummins, 78, both living in Los Angeles Calif. Parents of Mrs. Cummins, J. D. Madole, 84, living, and Mrs. Ira Madole, deceased. Owing and operating 995 acres of land, Mr. Cummins produces general crops and live stock, featuring tobacco, corn and other diversified crops, and he is known to possess one of the finest herds of white face cattle in this part of West Kentucky. He carries from 50 to 100 head all the time, he says. His cattle herd carries a fine registered male, and over in the swine division, Mr. Cummins reports that he carries upward of 150 head of hogs, the East St. Louis markets being patronized. Mr. Cummins is an unusually successful man, it is learned, and having devoted all of his time to his private business interests in the past, he has avoided political preferment but always takes an active interest in the development of his community, Ballard county, West Kentucky, and the whole state; for that matter, Ballard county, and diversifying his crops, Mr. Cummins is known to farm scientifically, and he succeeds splendidly, records reveal. Being one of the most extensive tobacco dealers in West Kentucky, Mr. Cummins reports that he is the largest individual tobacco shipper in the entire state of Kentucky, making direct shipments to one warehouse, the Louisville Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse in Louisville, Ky. In recent years, it is shown by Mr. Cummins that he has been shipping that concern from one half million (500,000) pounds of tobacco to seven hundred fifty thousand (750,000) pounds annually, and presently and optimistically, Mr. Cummins is ambitiously striving to reach the goal of one million (1,000,000) pounds of tobacco for his shipments in 1942, and above in succeeding years. In addition to his own tobacco crops, Mr. Cummins has above five hundred (500) customers who sell their tobacco through him as commission agent, and he is known to always receive the best and highest direct prices. In the busy season, Mr. Cummins goes right to Louisville and stays there with the buyers so that his customers may receive the highest and best consideration and price for all their products, he affirms. It is also said of Mr. Cummins that he has one of the best, if not the best tobacco set-up in the entire United States. He says his associates in Louisville are tops. Also to be of the greatest possible assistance to local tobacco growers, Mr. Cummins announces that he finances from 250 to 300 of his customers, assisting them with what money they need without interest for some sixty (60) days or more when they need it most. This is an unusual financial service, and his patrons are known to appreciate it. And now, referring further to Mr. Cummins' personal holdings and commercial efforts on behalf of the public at large, he owns and operates the famous Swan Lake, hunting and fishing preserve where hundreds and thousands of wild geese come in season, and the lake streams, he says, are always full of fish with "good biting" for his visitors, and those who come to stay for a recreation, occupying his cottages and boats.

There are 5 cabins at the lake now in addition to Mr. Cummins' private home out there, and he contemplates making extensive improvements, he says, including additional houses, motor boats and every possible convenience for the patronizing public. Mr. Cummins says there are five hundred (500) acres in the Swan Lake property, that he is going to cut away some two hundred acres for farming purposes, and then improve the remainder for the public at large. Swan Lake, reports Mr. Cummins is the same lake where so many valuable paintings have been made by some of the world's best artists, one of whom, he says, in other years sold feathers from swans to French and other customers. There is a bit of interesting history about Swan Lake, says Mr. Cummins and only recently a strong effort was made to have it turned over to the government, he reports. The place, reports Mr. Cummins, is located on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, right across from Cairo, Ill., and is approachable easily from Wickliffe, the county seat of Ballard county, Kentucky. You are invited to come and make yourself at home at Swan Lake, comments Mr. Cummins, all kind of fish are there in abundance, he assures, and he doubts, too, if there is a better hunting place anywhere. Swan Lake when commercially developed by Mr. Cummins, he assures, will measure 1x2 miles, and will be one of nature's prettiest and best showplaces, he affirms. The biggest and finest joy coming to Mr. Cummins, and he is said to his distinct credit, is the fact of his devotion and interest in his family as a whole. He is proud of his two lovely daughters, mentioned above and particularly is this "undisputedly true of his son, Ralph Glynn who enjoys the distinction of having gone to the top in the athletic world, his record as a basketball player having earned for him All-American; and, too, he carried off 1942 trophy honors, saying nothing for the many splendid records he has achieved and accomplished that won for him national acclaim, the father happily and proudly mentions. And that fine record is going right along with Ralph Glynn, it is known in his work for Uncle Sam. As a mechanical instructor in the air corps at Victoria, Texas, young Cummins is known to be training "so the machines will be kept flying." The Cummins family in many respects occupies a position all its own, but each and all of them are known to be striving and working to even surpass their own magnificent records in whatever field of activity they may move, be it on the farm, in the tobacco warehouse, the Beauty Shop or the Air Corps of Uncle Sam. Victory in all that they do and say is characteristic of the Cummins family, and it is good to have them thru Mr. Cummins associated with others who are sponsoring the success of this special edition, advertising the natural and potential resources of the Ken-Tenn area, and particularly of Barlow, Ballard and West Kentucky as to their assistance, advocating the promotion of cheaper power, lower taxes, improved churches, schools and general public development, including better production of meat, milk, eggs and other food products. Citizenship of the Cummins type is known to be a distinct asset to any community, and here's for the continued happiness, prosperity and good help of these excellent people!

J. W. Webb, Head of J. W. Webb & Co., Merchants, Planters and Live Stockmen Known Cunningham Leader

Cunningham—J. W. Webb, head of J. W. Webb & Co., merchants, planters and live stockmen is a known leader in this part of Carlisle county, West Kentucky and he strives at all times, it is declared to help make of this sector a happier and better place in which to live and do business. He and his wife, Mrs. Emily Jane Webb have the following children: Mrs. Eva Kate Pennibaker, resident of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Opal (Lieut. Col. Calvin) Partin, Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. Model McGary, resident of Wilmington, Delaware. Lieut. Col. Partin was graduated from West Point. There are 5 grand children: Olga and John Frederick Pennibaker; Johnnie and Jimmie and Billie Partin. Parents: W. L. and Mrs. Elizabeth Webb, both deceased. Parents of Mrs. Webb: A. J. and Mrs. Kate Gupton, both dead. Mr. and Mrs. Webb are each natives of Carlisle county. They have resided here 38 years. Owing and operating 271 acres of land, grown to the production of general crops and live stock, Mr. Webb

J. A. (Joe) Mathis, Substantial Planter, Live Stockman, Booster, Worker For Laketon Area General Development

Laketon—Out here in the western part of Carlisle county there is a splendid friend and worker for general public development, cheaper power, lower taxes, better roads, improved churches, better schools and increased production of meat, milk, eggs and all essential farm products. Immediate reference is made to J. A. (Joe) Mathis, civic and religious leader of this sector, where he operates 330 acres of land. He is a native of Carlisle county, Tennessee, but came to Kentucky in 1877, and what are featured on Mr. Mathis' land. He carries some 30 head of white face cattle, his herd carrying only a few miles east of Old Man River. You can view three states, Kentucky, Missouri and Illinois from the Mathis farm, it is observed. Mrs. Mathis and her wife, Mrs. Mary Etta Mathis, the latter of this locality have the following children: Mrs. Edith Florin, Paducah, Ky.; Baron (Mrs. Goldie), Bardwell, Ky.; James Harrison (Mrs. Lois), Laketon, Ky.

John S. Kendall, Substantial Planter, Live Stockman, Well Known Political Leader, Genuine Friend Carlisle

Morris Valley, Bardwell and Paducah Road Sector—John S. Kendall (Mrs. Ruth E. A. Royal, 21, U. S. N.), and Miss Virginia Frances enjoys the enviable distinction of being one of the best known citizens in this part of West Kentucky; indeed, Mr. Kendall has enjoyed nationwide reputation as producer of famous Blue Sees, which have been sold as far up with and become a part of Northwest Tennessee, making it possible for a new state within this territory, he affirms. Mr. Kendall served in the U. S. Navy in World War No. 1. He declares that it was he who started the "Third Term Idea", and that he has served as District Commander of the American Legion, he having held this office four (4) terms, and is said to have been the only Legionnaire in the entire United States to have enjoyed such an enviable distinction. Featuring short horn, Poland China, Jersey and Hampshire sheep, Mr. Kendall is making a fine record in that direction, it is declared. St. Louis, Clinton and Fulton markets are patronized by Mr. Kendall, who has served as a school trustee and in every way possible he is known to be the friend of man, it is declared. He joins in the general enthusiasm for the "God's" where wool, lambs, grain and other earth productions in the area are known to be the best in these United States, and at no time has the grade and prices ever fallen below the Boston wool markets, concluded an enthusiastic endorsement by Mr. Kendall. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall thoroughly enjoy their modern rural home show place, and Mr. Kendall is known to be establishing himself as a successful master farmer and live stockman, it is affirmed. He is actively supporting this publicity advertising effort, and with the other sponsors has made possible its splendid success.

Hon. James Henry Payne, Progressive Planter and Live Stockman; Retired Banker and Merchant At 81 Sees Bright Carlisle Future

Arlington—Hon. James Henry Payne, 81, who represented this district in the Kentucky legislature in 1928, who served as president of three banks at one time, W. Arlington, Milburn and Columbus, and for 20 years served the public in the mercantile business at Arlington, optimistically and enthusiastically looks upon many promising and bright years for Carlisle county, and other sectors of West Kentucky, he made it known in a recent interview. Owing and occupying a magnificent two story home a few miles east of Arlington, Mr. Payne manifests considerable interest in the future planning and development of his community and this entire area, it is assured. He and his wife, Mrs. Salie Payne have no children of their own but they have raised a number of orphan children, each and every one of them being as dear and dear unto them as if they were of their own flesh and blood, declares Mr. Payne. Two of these children in particular were raised from infancy, one of them being DeWitt Payne, 30, manager of the plantation and live stock interests of Mr. Payne on his 500 acres of land in Carlisle and Hickman counties, West Kentucky, and Mrs. Anna Craig Neville, Parents: J. W. and Mrs. Mary Jane Payne, both deceased. Parents of Mrs. Payne: R. B. and Mrs. Clarissa Neville, both dead. Mr. and Mrs. Payne are each natives of this sector, and for 61 years they have lived here. In addition to the production of general crops, Mr. Payne says, he handles upward of 100 head of cattle annually, and features from 200 to 300 head of hogs, the St. Louis and local markets being patronized. As the distinguished representative in the Kentucky

W. B. (William Brents) Adcock, 68, Popular Arlington Planter-Live Stockman Offers 250 Acres Carlisle County, West Kentucky Lands For Sale On Easy Terms

Mr. Adcock is Known as Constructive Friend of Public, and it Was He Who Donated Mile Right of Way for Bardwell and Arlington Road—His Father and Brother Were Christian Ministers

Arlington—Carlisle county has not better citizen, declare his friends and neighbors than W. B. (William Brents) Adcock, 68, a native of White county, Tennessee, who came to Kentucky in 1894 and located at Bardwell. In 1933, Mr. Adcock moved to his 250 acre farm a short distance northwest of Arlington, and today he is offering that property for sale on a cash or easy term basis, this announcement being authorized by Mr. Adcock who invites prospective purchasers to visit him on the farm, or communicate with him via R. F. D. Arlington, Ky. He and his wife, Mrs. Mac Adcock, the latter a native of Carlisle county West Kentucky, have two children: William J. Adcock, (U. S. A.), and John M. (Mrs. Elizabeth) Adcock, residents of Akron, Ohio. William is 37 and John 25, reports the father, who is popular and beloved by a legion of friends, it is affirmed. Parents: Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Adcock, the father having been a Christian minister for 40 years, reports the son. Both parents of Mr. Adcock are deceased. Parents of Mrs. Adcock: James and Mrs. Mary Brown, both dead. One of Mr. Adcock's brothers, Rev. Joe Leonard Adcock spent 10 years in the Christian ministry before his death, the surviving brother reports. Soon after coming to the Arlington sector, Mr. Adcock set about to bring substantial improvements, particularly so as to roads he says he cheerfully donated an entire mile of right of way. Mr. Adcock was also anxious to secure the completion of the Arlington and Bardwell road running via his property but, he says, there were two property owners who refused to sign up for a acre of right of way, and this temporarily delayed matters; however, according to Mr. Adcock he is living in hopes and some time in the future, he declares, he prays for a better day. Meanwhile this aggressive citizen continues his interest and work on behalf of the public welfare, and he says he really covets opportunities where he may be of general assistance and help to his community, and its people. Mr. Adcock says he made an effort to secure a Post Office at one time for his sector, and also named his farm "Mount Adcock" by which it is known today, he says. Growing general crops and live stock, Mr. Adcock is known to be making a fine success of his agricultural efforts. He carries upward of 20 head of Hereford cattle, and from 50 to 60 head of Poland China hogs, the St. Louis and local markets being patronized by Mr. Adcock, he says. Among other things, Mr. Adcock operates a Jersey cattle dairy, the products from which (cream) find outlet in the local markets, he reports. Before coming here, Mr. Adcock says he "learned his experience by living three years in Arkansas, he having sojourned about Batesville in that state, he says, long enough to be graduated from that state back to Kentucky, and here it is he has and still proposes to help do yeoman service toward the end of the greatest possible local public development as, if and when the time is ripe for such undertaking. In the interim, says Mr. Adcock he proposes to help keep the home fires burning, so to speak, and do all he can to aid in the progress and prosperity of Arlington, Bardwell and Carlisle county as a whole. In their earlier years, Mr. Adcock reveals that both himself and wife taught school for many years, and that today their interest on behalf of educational advancement is sincere and active. All West Kentucky, assures Mr. Adcock has his best wishes and cordial good wishes for the greater strides come along, and you take state back over as the future years come along, and you are interested in a nice 250 acre farm, Mr. Adcock says he is ready, willing and able to help you acquire it on cash or term basis. Mr. Adcock's generous support and influence toward helping to make of this special edition the splendid appreciation it enjoys is genuinely appreciated by the coming years continue to be kind to this good man and his family!

JUDGE HENRY DAVID BRINEY, ABLE FRIEND AND BOOSTER CARLISLE AREA

Kirbyton—Judge Henry David Briney, who served one term as Magistrate of this district is an able friend and booster for the development of all Carlisle county, he declares. He and his wife, Mrs. Nannie Briney are each natives of Carlisle county. They have the following children: Delbert (Mrs. Katherine), and Mrs. Vaneda Mullin. There is one grand son: David Wilson Briney. Parents: Dave and Mrs. Kate Briney, both dead. Judge Briney located here in 1913, he says. He carries 180 acres of land, using same for the production of general crops and live stock. St. Louis and local markets are patronized by the Judge, who is appreciated and esteemed by his neighbors and friends as an able booster and worker for the best possible development of all West Kentucky.

JOHN C. WEBB SUCCESSFUL FARMER, POPULAR ORCHARDIST, FRIEND AREA

Buffalo—Out here in the northwestern part of Carlisle county is located John C. Webb, successful planter, live stockman and orchardist. He owns and controls 330 acres of land; thirty of these acres being his own property, he states. General crops and live stock are produced by Mr. Webb, whose chief claim to fame, perhaps, lies in the fact that he is about the only orchardist in this part of West Kentucky who has a fine peach crop. He has 6 acres in luscious peaches and 15 acres in apples, the entire orchard as to both fruits being heavily laden, it is observed. Mr. Webb says by experience he has learned how to spray his orchard and aid nature toward its best possible yield. From 600 to 1000 bushels of peaches, and from 300 to 1000 bushels of apples come from his orchards annually, Mr. Webb reports. He has gained his practical knowledge, he says thru actual experience and in this way he says it is easy, perhaps, for him to accomplish what others may not be able to undertake. In many regards, Mr. Webb is accepted as a master-farmer, it is declared, and deservedly so. As a friend of civic and religious progress, Mr. Webb says count him as a friend of all West Kentucky. Carrying upward of 40 head of cattle and more than 125 hogs, Mr. Webb is a liberal patron of the St. Louis and local live stock markets, it is pointed out. He features corn, hay, cattle and hogs on his farms, the Hereford strain of cattle being handled. Mr. Webb carries a fine Hereford male in his cattle herd. Noble Essex, famous O. I. C. Boar owned by Mr. Webb is said to be second best in Kentucky, and its services are at the disposal of the public, he says. Horse power is employed by Mr. Webb, who is a local native and his wife, Mrs. Cleavie Webb is a native of Graves county. They have 5 children: Ezra (U. S. A.); James (Mrs. Dathel); John C. Jr. (Mrs. Annette); Mrs. Iris Galloway, Detroit, Mich., and Billie. There are 4 grand children: Shirley and James Cleveland Webb; Anne Webb and Mary Galloway. Parents: Brockmridge and Mrs. Bettie Webb, both dead. Parents of Mrs. Webb: Walter and Mrs. Lee High, both dead. You are invited to see the Webb orchards.

AVERY L. DEWEES, ACTIVE MERCHANT, PLANTER AND STOCKMAN

Cunningham—Avery L. DeWeese (Mrs. Artie Lou; Barbara Lewis and Wayne Wright) is an active merchant, planter and live stockman of this sector, where he operates 109 acres of land. General crops and live stock are produced by Mr. DeWeese, who established his general store and service station here in 1931. He is a native of this county, where his wife was also born and raised. Parents: Wayne and Mrs. Mandy DeWeese, both deceased. Parents of Mrs. DeWeese: Henry and Mrs. Ganie Wright, both living. Mr. DeWeese located here in 1930. He Leath and Hugh Cecil; 1 grand child: Rob Jackson Leath) is the son of the lamented Robert and Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson. His wife, is the daughter of the lamented Haywood and Mrs. Margaret Love. Mr. Jackson is a native locally and enjoys ownership and occupancy of the old home place, where his deceased parents lived during their life time, he says. Mrs. Jackson is a native of Bardwell, this county. For 16 years, Mr. Jackson has lived at his present place, and constantly, it is known, this progressive young citizen is always active in the civic and religious life of his community. In Mr. Jackson's own words he "stands for the general public welfare", and he says he favors all of the progressive programs advocated in this special edition. Carrying 294 acres of land, Mr. Jackson is known to be a success in the production of general crops, and over in his live stock division records disclose that he carries some 35 head of cattle and upward of 100 hogs, Durocs and Poland China being featured in the latter classification, it is ascertained. Local and East St. Louis markets are patronized by Mr. Jackson, who is known to be a genuine friend and booster for all West Kentucky.

A. A. TODD, PUBLIC SPIRITED AND SUCCESSFUL CITIZEN, ABLE FRIEND AND WORKER CARLISLE AREA

Bardwell and Mississippi—A. A. Todd (Mrs. Reulah; Mrs. Annette Webb; 1 grand daughter, Miss Anne Todd Webb) is revealed as one of the better known and progressive planter-citizens of Carlisle county, where he has served as school trustee, road overseer and maintenance engineer with Carlisle county roads for 5 years, breeding and diversifying his crops. Mr. Todd is known as a scientific planter. He carries 125 acres of land, and knows how to farm. He is enjoying excellent success with his agricultural efforts, records disclose. All West Kentucky, and particularly Bardwell and Carlisle county sectors have his unequalled and enthusiastic endorsement and influence of their very best public development, it is assured. Civic and religious efforts also find Mr. Todd very active in these worthy causes, it is pointed out. Subscribing his support and influence to the success of this special edition, Mr. Todd is known to be one of the aggressive and influential citizens in the general advancement and development of the best interests of this entire area. He is the son of the lamented William and Mrs. Elizabeth Todd, pioneer citizens in their day, and Mrs. Todd is the daughter of Louis and Maggie Jennings, both deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Todd are each natives of Carlisle county and they have resided here 55 years, Mr. Todd reports.

JOHN F. HUNT, NATIVE TENNESSEAN LOVES TO SING; ALSO ABLE PLANTER

Shenault and Bardwell—John F. Hunt, native of near Weakley county, Tennessee enjoys several unique distinctions, among them being the fact that he loves to sing and participate generally in religious singing; he is a successful planter and live stockman, and is also an able business man being president of Carlisle Hardware Company at Carlisle. His wife, Mrs. Lydia Hunt is a native of Carlisle county. They have the following children: Mrs. Mabel (Grover) Thomas, residents of East St. Louis, and Elmo (Mrs. Elton). There are 6 grand children: Robert Thomas, Washington, D. C.; Robert, James and Ray and Roy Thomas, the latter two twins, Bobbie Hunt, and one grand daughter, Miss Sharon Ann Thomas. Parents: James D. and Mrs. Melina Hunt, both dead. Parents of Mrs. Hunt: B. F. and Mrs. Phoebe Brent, both dead. Mr. Hunt came to Kentucky in 1888, locating first at Arlington and 46 years ago he established himself in the Shenault sector, where he owns and operates 126 acres of land. Jersey cattle and some 80 to 100 Duroc hogs are featured by Mr. Hunt, his cream product being sold locally and St. Louis markets otherwise being patronized. He also features and says he could not get along without them. Serving as chairman of the anti-liquor committee in Carlisle county, Mr. Hunt says he reaped a rare joy when the people by a good majority voted demon rum out of his county. He is serving now as a member of the Carlisle County Draft Board, and in all worth while civic and religious movements this good man is known to be active along the progressive programs advocated in this special edition.

Water Valley Canning Company, Owned and Successfully Operated By Wm. R. Craddock, Substantial Planter And Able Live Stockman

Several Hundred People Employed by Mr. Craddock During Canning Season—He Started in Canning Business 19 Years Ago at Humboldt, Tennessee, and Owns Land Both in Kentucky and Tennessee

Water Valley — Water Valley Canning Company, successfully owned and operated by Wm. R. Craddock, progressive planter and able live stockman is known to be the pride industry of this section. It is located almost on the Graves and Fulton county lines and gives employment to between 200 and 300 people during the canning season. Mr. Craddock announces. He is ably assisted in the operation and management of his Water Valley plant by his young son in law, Warren Johnson. Mr. Craddock has another son in law, Chas. M. Wilson in the canning business at Barlow, Ky. Both of these young men are appreciated as excellent business men and admirably good leaders in their respective communities. Mr. Craddock got his start in the canning business at Humboldt, Tennessee. That was some 19 years ago, he relates, and in 1920 he came to Kentucky and established his Water Valley plant, which carries a capacity of from 90,000 to 100,000 cans daily, which, he says, is the equivalent of 3,000 to 4,000 cases. After setting aside 35 per cent of the plant's output for the soldiers, Mr. Craddock states that the remainder of his output is sold on the general markets throughout the country. Mr. Craddock is known to put up only quality canned goods, consisting of tomatoes, corn, potatoes, beans, spinach and other cannable products. In addition to his operation of Water Valley Canning Company, Mr. Craddock owns and operates upland of 500 acres of land in the Ky-Tenn. area, on which he produces general crops and live stock, practically all of the major crops being grown by him, including cotton, corn, tobacco, hay, wheat and other diversified lines. He rotates his crops, he says and employs both tractor, mule and horse power. In his live stock division, Mr. Craddock carries upward of 50 head of Hereford cattle, his herd having a fine registered male, and annually he is known to handle upward of 400 or 500 head of hogs, the local markets being patronized by Mr. Craddock. The Water Valley Canning Company was established in 1928. Mr. Craddock purchased it in 1930, modern machinery being installed and operated, it is observed. Known and appreciated as a dynamic personality, Mr. Craddock is beloved and esteemed by his legion of friends both in Kentucky and Tennessee, declare his neighbors and friends. Modest and somewhat retiring of disposition, Mr. Craddock does not hesitate, tho, in his efforts to help make of his respective communities happier and better places in which to live and do business, investigation finds. In his public relations, Mr. Craddock, and his family, find great joy in their civic and religious activities. It is pointed out, the churches, schools and general public development having Mr. Craddock's unqualified support and influence. It is pointed out, He has served as a school trustee and is also a retired R. F. D. mail carrier. While he was in the latter service, Mr. Craddock enjoyed a national recognition when he was elected and served a term as President of the National Rural Free Delivery Carrier's Association. He is also Vice President of the Kentucky-Tennessee Canning Association. It is revealed, and in all of his public and private relations, Mr. Craddock is known to have put service and duty above all other considerations, affirm those who know him best. The entire Ken-Tenn. area is known to have a staunch friend and booster in Mr. Craddock, who has subscribed his support and influence toward the success of this publicity advertising effort on behalf of better production of all farm products, especially meat, milk, eggs, cannable products, and live stock, both cattle and hogs. Mr. Craddock is a native of Kentucky county, Tennessee, where his wife, Mrs. Cora Craddock was also born. Parents: John and Mrs. Sallie Craddock, both deceased. Parents of Mrs. Craddock: Bryant and Mrs. Cora Millard. Children: Miss Elizabeth Craddock, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Wilma Wilson, Mrs. Yvonne (Warren) Johnson, associated with Mr. Craddock. Mr. Wilson operates the canning plant at Barlow, Ky. There are 2 grand children: Billie Wilson, and Miss Susan Johnson. A general story about Mr. Wilson appears elsewhere in these pages.

FULTON ICE COMPANY, CAPACITY 50 TON CAPACITY, LOCALLY OWNED
Fulton — Fulton Ice Company, the plant carrying 50 ton capacity is owned and operated by Robt. Hilary Wade, who is also a well known farmer and live stockman. The plant was established Feb. 1, 1938, as an 8 ton outfit. Several equipments have been added, says Mr. Wade and he now carries 50 ton capacity, serving both a local and general trade. His principal output, he says, going to the railroads. Last month, Mr. Wade reports delivery of 1,000, 000 lbs. of ice to the railroads. He has a 2,000 ton storage capacity and is prepared for any emergency, he declares. On his 100 acre farm, Mr. Wade says he produces general crops and live stock. He also owns the popular Sunny Dip Swimming Pool here. Cattle and hogs are featured by Mr. Wade on his farms, the local markets being patronized by him. In his public relations in years past besides serving Fulton on its city council, Mr. Wade also served one term as Mayor. Active in civic and religious efforts, Mr. Wade is known to be a staunch friend and booster of all West Kentucky. Partners: Richard Henry and Mrs. Elizabeth Wade, both deceased. Parents of Mrs. Wade: E. W. and Mrs. Sallie Ing, both dead. Mr. Wade is a native of near Trenton, Gibson county, Tennessee, and Mrs. Wade comes from Humboldt, Tenn. They have the following children: Mrs. Elizabeth Snow, Mrs. Irene White, Miss Florence, Mrs. Ruth Anker, and Mrs. Lillian Blagg. There are 6 grand children: Bob and Jack Snow; Jane and Robert White, and Barbara Lyn and Wade Anker.

PIERCE-CEQUIN LUMBER COMPANY, ALSO SAW MILL AND PLANTATION OWNED BY C. A. STEPHENS
Fulton — C. A. Stephens, who served two terms as Mayor of Fulton, and gave service as city recorder, also membership on special school trustee work and county board of education, is the owner of the Pierce-Cequin Lumber Company, the Stephens-Grisson Saw Mill, the latter with a daily capacity of 2,000 feet, and the Stephens Plantation of 322½ acres. His lumber business was established by the late Mr. Cequin in 1887. He took over in 1938. Native son, Mr. Stephens is known to be alert at all times on behalf of his community, and its people. Mrs. Stephens is also a native of Fulton. General crops and live stock are produced by Mr. Stephens, who also has one of the nicest home orchards, carrying a variety of choice fruits, in the whole of the Ken-Tenn. area, it is known. At retail, Mr. Stephens carries a general line of building materials, and at his saw mill he does considerable custom work from native timber in addition to his regular dimension sawing. Wholesale and retail departments are maintained at the saw mill, he says. In the civic and religious life, Mr. Stephens and his family are active, and when it comes to working and boosting for Ken-Tenn. area, Mr. Stephens is declared to be a progressive leader. Parents: Abraham Roland Stephens, deceased, and Mrs. Emma Maggie Stephens, Memphis, living. Parents of Mrs. Stephens: J. B. Cequin, deceased, and Mrs. Dora Cequin, living. Children: Mrs. Margaret (David O.) Sundwick, of Chicago, she having enjoyed a recent visit here following her honeymoon, and J. C. Stephens, Mrs. Stephens before her marriage was Mrs. Lucile Cequin.

AIRLENE GAS CO., INC. DIRECTED BY R. B. JONES, SECRETARY-TREASURER
Fulton — Serving a territory from Hills, Tenn., on the south to Paducah, Ky., on the north, and from Mississippi river on west to McKennie and Milan, Tennessee on the east, the Airlene Gas Company, Inc., ably directed by R. B. Jones, secretary-treasurer, is reported to have enjoyed a phenomenal business since it was organized here in March, 1939, and presently with practically everything "frozen", the company, according to Mr. Jones is maintaining a complete service to its customers, including refueling, etc. The company maintains an 18,000 gallon bulk storage plant in Fulton, and two 1,000 gallon bulk storage plants at Paducah, he says.

for the immediate convenience of his patrons. Operating a fleet of trucks, Airlene Gas Co. installs plants throughout its territory. Mr. Jones is 35, and his partner Paul G. Boyd, is an U. S. HUNTER WHITESSELL, OWNS AND CONTROLS APPROXIMATELY 1,000 ACRES
Fulton — Owning and operating approximately 1,000 acres of land, located in both Fulton county, Kentucky, and Obion county, Tennessee, Hunter Whitesell, who resides on the old home place a few miles south-west of Fulton is known to be one of the successful and progressive major planters and live stockmen of the Ken-Tenn. area. The fine old brick home, occupied by himself and family was erected by his grand father, Jesse Whitesell probably before the Civil war, it later being taken over by his parents, Robt. P. Whitesell, deceased, and his mother, Mrs. Clara Hunter Whitesell, living. It is calculated that the Whitesell lands have been in the family probably a hundred years. Parents of Mr. Whitesell: W. W. Dougherty, deceased, and Mrs. Bell Dougherty, living. Mr. Whitesell was born on the old home place, and his wife is a native of Liberty, Mo. They have 3 children: Robert, 16, Hester Byrd 12, and Miss Bell, 10. The deceased father of Mr. Whitesell helped to organize the Old National Bank and the Bank & Trust Co. at Union City, and he served both of these institutions as president for a long period of years, records disclose. During World War No. 1, Mr. Whitesell was a 2nd lieutenant in the Aviation division, serving as pilot. He also organized Company I, 117th Tennessee Infantry, and served as its Captain. History also finds that the lamented grand father of Mr. Whitesell donated the hand brick farm which the first brick Baptist church was erected in Fulton. Being a member of a well known planter family, Mr. Whitesell is known to be a substantial friend of the Ken-Tenn. area as a whole.

Trainmasters Buck and Jones, and Gen- eral Foreman Eaker Confirm I. C. R. R. Handling Big Volume Business at Fulton, Ky.

Fulton—That the I. C. R. R. is known to have been and is now handling one of the largest volumes of business in its history, and that the families who are directly and indirectly connected with this great public carrier make up the greater part of the local population, the declaration is made, therefore, that Fulton, Ky., is the largest railroad center between Memphis and St. Louis, this announcement being made after interviews with Trainmaster H. K. Buck, Trainmaster S. C. Jones, and general round house foreman C. T. Eaker, each of whom are taking a progressive and leading part in the general upbuilding of the entire Ky-Tenn. area, it is revealed. The I. C. handles an average of 125 freight trains and upward of 30 passenger trains via Fulton, these gentlemen disclose by their records, and affirm that the largest volume of business in the history of the I. C. R. R. is being efficiently handled. The I. C.

came here in 1942 to serve to the same capacity. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have three interesting children: Miss Carolyn, Henry K. Jr. and Miss Ethel Jones. Parents: Dr. J. T. Buck, deceased, and Mrs. Alice Buck, living. Parents of Mrs. Buck: W. T. Jones, deceased, and Mrs. Louisa Jones, living. Mr. and Mrs. Buck are active in the civic and religious life of Fulton, so is Mr. Jones, it is assured. Mr. Eaker comes from a veteran railroad family, his father John Eaker, 60, having served with the I. C. for 50 years, he says, and is now on a pension. The latter's wife, Mrs. Mattie Eaker is also living at 60. Native of Paris, Tenn., Mr. Eaker has spent some 45 years with the I. C. R. R. in various capacities, he says, these including service as air-brake foreman at Jackson, Tenn., in 1935 and here in June 1941 as general foreman of the round house. Before going to Jackson and coming here Mr. Eaker had journeyed in various states, he says. Parents of his wife: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitner, both living. Mr. Eaker is a native of Middlesboro, Ky. Parents of Mr. Eaker live at Princeton, Ky. Commenting on the work of his plant, which is said to be one of the most modern south of St. Louis, Mr. Eaker states that he handles upward of 1,000 engines every month thru his round house where 110 men are employed, including those in the round house. Cars are also repaired in Mr. Eaker's supervision, it is revealed, and all in all, the I. C. R. R. shops at

Fulton are known to be one of the busiest places in this part of the South, observation finds. As newcomers to Fulton, Messrs. Buck, Jones and Eaker are making of themselves invaluable citizens
