In 1926 the college graduated its first degree class, composed of 11 members, receiving bachelor's degrees. Since that year the graduating classes have continually increased in number.

Fraternities, Sororities Prohibited by Regents

Publications Must Be Approved by Head.

No fraternity, sorority, or similar organization may be permitted to exist among the students of Murray State Teachers College, according to a recent resolution made by the board of regents. The regents further ruled that only those publications which have the approval of the president of the college could be "countenanced or permitted to be edited, published or distributed by the students, faculty or any one connected with the institution."

President Wells made public the ruling, which announces that the regents have resolved to encourage and foster "academic societies."

"Provided the organization of academic societies with the constitution and by-laws, must first be approved by the president of the college."

All circulars, pamphlets or other publications, whether published by the students or faculty, must have the previous approval of the president of the institution.

The resolution of the regents commends the students for their "splendid democratic spirit" and for their fellowship "without any evidence of distinction by reason of financial, social, religious or political standing or belief."

There is no officially recognized fraternity or sorority on the campus of Murray State College. Clubs for debating, science, music, and literary achievements are organized with faculty members as sponsors.

RESOLUTIONS

WHEREAS, there has been continuously maintained a splendid democratic spirit among the students of the Murray State Teachers College since its organization, and there has existed a most commendable fellowship and cooperative interest in the entire student body without any evidence of distinction by reason of financial, social, religious or political standing or belief, and

WHEREAS, it is the sincere desire of the Board of Regents of this institution that this commendable spirit and reputation, which has been established by reason of this attitude, may be maintained constantly and continuously in the future as exemplifying the true American spirit of a State institution, and

WHEREAS, it is and has been the sincere purpose to maintain and administer this institution in such a manner that young men and young women of moderate means may be provided a thorough college education and receive a cultural training which will materially aid in developing the most splendid citizenship for our Commonwealth, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Regents establish as a policy of the Murray State Teachers College that no frat-

ternity, sorority or other similar student organization be permitted among the students of this institution, and that in lieu thereof academic societies be encouraged and fostered by the students, faculty and administration of the college in order that the students may receive that training which will best fit them for the responsibilities of life; provided the organization of academic societies, with the constitution and by-laws, must first be approved by the President of the College, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that only circulars, pamphlets or other publications, previously approved by the President of this institution, be countenanced or permitted to be edited, published or distributed by the students, faculty or any one connected with the institution, in order that every activity may be in harmony with and in support of the approved activities and policies of the institution.

"Murray—the site of Murray State Teachers College, Western Kentucky's only institution of higher learning—is truly a city of ideal living conditions, materially and morally, as well as educationally."

This was the opening statement of an article on "Murray and Murray State Teachers College" which appeared in the Western Kentucky Edition of the Kentucky Progress Magazine for July, 1932.

In addition to the article, the magazine carried photographs of the new post office building, Academic procession at the college during commencement week, view of the southeast campus, the memorial to Nathan B. Stubblefield, inventor of the radio, and the Journalism class which unearthed facts relative to the inventor, the Calloway County Courthouse, and the William Mason Memorial Hospital.

The following is an excerpt taken from the article: "The Murray State Teachers College, established in 1922, is housed in a modern plant of seven buildings, an administration building, a liberal arts building, a library, Training School building, an auditorium, and dormitories for men and women. The women's dormitory, Wells Hall, contains 155 rooms and facilities for 315 women, in addition a kitchen and two dining rooms. The men's dormitory contains 88 rooms for students."

"One hundred and thirty-eight were graduated at the annual exercise in June while the total enrollment in the college department alone during the recent academic year exceeded 1,100. The Training School enrollment brought the total attendance considerably above the 1,500 mark."

MISS BISHOP READS SELECTIONS DURING WILSONIANS' MEET

Prof. G. C. Ashcraft Is Elected Sponsor of Society

GROUP HOLDS REGULAR ASSEMBLY ON JULY 19

Miss Maryleona Bishop, instructor of French in the foreign language department of Murray State College, gave two readings, "The Last Leaf" by O. Henry, and "Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington, at the regular meeting of the Wilsonian Society Tuesday, July 19, at 9 o'clock.

As an introduction to her readings, Miss Bishop gave a short quotation from Dorothy Parker and recited "The Quitter" by Robert W. Service.

Business transacted at the Wilsonian Society was the election of Prof. G. C. Ashcraft as sponsor of the society for the remaining summer term.

J. B. Stokes of Paducah, president, asked the opinion of the members of the society on the question that had been discussed between himself and Malcolm Rhoads of Henderson, Ky., president of the Allenian Society, about the two societies meeting together. All comments were favorable so Mr. Stokes announced that on the next meeting day, August 2, the Wilsonians would meet with the Allenians in the chapel. On August 16 the Allenians will meet with the Wilsonians in the auditorium.

This was the first meeting of the Wilsonian Society since its members agreed to have the programs more of a literary nature.

SHOPPING GUIDE ISSUED BY COX

Students Declare War On Depression by Publication of Booklet.

With the so called depression in swing, the merchants of the city are doing their bit to aid the students of Murray State College by offering a "Student's Shopping Guide." This guide is published and sold by college students.

Various business houses have bought advertisements in this booklet, and have added their savings coupons, enabling a student to trade by the "coupon" method and save money. Many merchants are helping in this plan, and everything can be found in the Guide from Cleaners to Filling Stations (both kinds).

These savings guides can be obtained from students on the campus or at the office of The Ledger & Times. This drive for killing the depression among students is sponsored by W. D. Cox, student of the college, and president of the World's Affairs Club. The following students have the books for sale and would be glad to explain the purpose and value of the shopping guide:

Dorothy Wyman, J. B. Stokes, Clanton Boyd, Hugh Bates, Julian Maddox, LaVelton Dye, Seth Boaz, and Burns Powell.

Miss Adene Morris, sophomore of Murray State College, who is spending her summer vacation at her home near Water Valley, Ky., spent last week in Murray as a visitor of Miss Ollie Harris.

DR. HIRE TO SEEK EXTRA SESSION OF STATE LAW MAKERS

Murray Scientist Will Speak
in Chapel Thursday,
August 4

SAYS SPECIAL TERM
WILL SAVE $300,000

Dr. Charles Hire, head of the department of physical sciences at Murray State College, will ask Thursday morning, August 4, in a chapel speech here that an extra 10-day session of the Kentucky legislature be called to remedy the present financial distress of the state.

"It has been guaranteed that if this extra session is called, an act will be passed within one week which will save the state over a quarter of a million dollars," the Murray scientist stated in his preliminary announcement.

Dr. Hire, who is listed in the "Who's Who in American Men of Science", received his Ph. D. from the University of Indiana in 1927. He is a fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a former vice-president of the Kentucky Academy of Sciences. He was lieutenant and captain in the United States Army in 1917-1919.

Having collected his material from the reports of the state treasury, the tax commission, and state officials, Dr. Hire plans to show Thursday "how and why" the state is unable to pay its teachers. In a statement for publication, he stated that the most of the state money is being kept in Frankfort where the officials receive their regular salaries, while the rural school teachers remain unpaid.

No extra tax will be assessed under this plan, he says. He further proposes to show that a redistribution of taxes is needed in Kentucky, lightening the burden on real estate. He declined to explain in advance the exact nature of the law which he is advocating be passed.

Should McIntyre Be Allowed to Enroll Is Debate Question

"Resolved that W. O. McIntyre should be enrolled in Murray State College as a freshman" was the question debated at the regular meeting of the Henry Clay Debating Club of Murray State College, Tuesday, July 26.

Paul Morgan, Puryear, Tenn., president of the club, introduced Troy McNutt, Murray, who acted as chairman of the debate. Those on the affirmative were Byron "Pete" Pennebaker, Cunningham, Ky., and Acree "Spaggetti" Austin, Mayfield, Ky. Those on the negative were Julian "Bugs" Maddox, Mayfield, and George "Squeezer" Overby, Murray.

"From what Mr. McIntyre has been writing it is evident that he needs an education, and all of you know that Murray State College is very capable of taking care of his needs," declared Mr. Pennebaker.

Mr. Maddox affirmed that W. O. McIntyre was writing in the paper for publicity only, and that he had a one-track mind open only at one end, therefore he would be dangerous to Murray State College as a student because he could not be relied upon as to what he might do next. His opposition to the college would also be detrimental to the college if he were here.

"Mr. McIntyre is a thorn to this institution," declared Mr. Austin, "and if there be a thorn in your way, why not pluck it out and plant a rose instead. We may not make a sweet smelling rose out of him but we can certainly make a rambling rose."

Mr. Overby stated that W. O. McIntyre would be ineligible to enter Murray State College as a freshman in college but might be considered for enrollment in the Training School as a freshman in high school.

After the debate Mr. McNutt took the vote of the audience to see whether or not Mr. McIntyre should enter school at Murray State College. The question was still unsettled as there was an equal number of votes for the affirmative and the negative.

Miss Elizabeth Eva Fisher spent the week-end of July 22 at her home in Bardwell, Ky.

Miss Margaret Coram spent the week-end of July 22 at her home in Paducah.

Mr. Wilson's Answer

The reply of J. F. Wilson in the Point-of-View Column of the Louisville Courier-Journal was pointed, scholarly, and conclusive. Mr. Wilson is a man whose judgment and integrity are absolutely unquestioned, not only in West Kentucky but in the whole state. As tribute to his leadership, he was appointed recently as a member of the state board of health. The College News congratulates the state of Kentucky on its selection of Mr. Wilson as a member of one of its boards.

The contrast between Mr. Wilson's articles and those of Mr. McIntyre is obvious. Mr. Wilson presented facts, figures, and statistics in a restrained, careful, and decisive manner, while the Danville critic based his charges on rumors, misconceptions, and faulty ideas.

The College News believes that the ramblings of Mr. McIntyre will find no receptive ear in West Kentucky and that the straightforward reasoning of Mr. Wilson will appeal to all.

Showers of Blessing

In this exceedingly hot weather it is a blessing to have a rain, but many students would like to have some foreknowledge of it. Students gather at the west entrance of the library building each morning at the close of the chapel period to await the opening of the library. When the students have seated themselves on the side of the fountain, some mischievous boys go to the basement and turn on the water.

The students receive a nice cool shower, which will cause the more tender hearted ones to take to flight. This has no harmful effect on the students, and gives them the much needed cooling at this time of the day. To others it gives the needed exercise to keep them from being drowsy the rest of the day.

To the spectators it gives a comical scene which causes some, who never see anything to laugh at, to break their icy stare. If this practice is continued, there will be students who will come to Murray State College for no other reason than to learn to see something comical in life and to learn to laugh.

Skippy Has Nose For News

By Owen

Would a dog be called a news hound if he came to a journalism class?

On Friday morning, July 22, a white Eskimo Spitz belonging to Dr. and Mrs. Wells visited the journalism class in the library building. Skippy came in as a well-trained dog should and took a seat on the floor in the back of the room. Several times he changed his position for one that he thought was more comfortable. His behavior was excellent.

When the class filed out of the room, Skippy got up, shook himself, and marched out in showing such an unwise choice in choosing to spend some of his time in the journalism class as the newspaper is discussed here and in this way he can learn of the happenings of the day without reading the newspaper.

Miss Margaret Bailey, librarian in Murray State College, was absent from her work Monday, July 18, on account of illness.

ALLENIANS HEAR INSTRUCTOR ON 'COCA COLA, BEER'

Extreme Heat Forces Society to Meet Out-of-Doors on July 19

TWO ORGANIZATIONS TO MEET JOINTLY

On account of the extreme heat, the Allenian Literary Society of Murray State College met Tuesday, July 19, on the campus in front of the administration building. Dr. George C. Poret spoke on "Beer or Coca Cola".

While the group was gathered, Miss Louise Graves of Bardwell, Ky., played several selections of popular numbers on the piano.

The president of the society, Malcolm Rhoads of Henderson, Ky., stated that he was extending an invitation to the Wilsonian Society to cede to the Allenian meeting in two weeks so that they could enjoy the Allenian program. Two weeks later the Wilsonians plan to entertain the Allenians.

The program follows:
Bert Burkhardt of Paducah, accompanied at the piano by Miss Louise Graves, sang two solos, "Promise," and an old Irish air, "Danny Boy."

The men's quartet sang "Heaven," "Beautiful Gondola," and "Musical Trust." The quartet was composed of Dean Dowdy of Mayfield, Ky., Loren Putnam of Fairfield, Iowa, Carl Neumeier of Arthur, Ill., and R. T. Parker of Murray, accompanied by Mrs. Italy Grippio Byrd.

Dr. G. C. Poret, instructor in the education department, gave a talk on "Beer or Coca Cola." He stated that he was of the opinion that as long as "ballyhoo" was not too high toned, it is best to have some "hokey."

"I have been told that people are more fond of beer than coca cola. I guess the reason is because it is in a larger bottle," Dr. Poret stated.

Dr. Poret thinks beer must be very appetizing, if your appetite runs that way, but he says it is a liquid no insect can stand—not even man.

"When traveling do not stop at any place and drink from a common drinking cup, or any second hand cup. Stop at a soft drink stand and buy a coca cola. It is always pure, but beer has many harmful bacteria and should be avoided," he asserted.

The president asked a number of the members to remain after adjournment to help prepare a program for the next meeting.

Miss Genella Sprague Littleton, graduate of Murray State College, and Paul Thompson, former student of Murray State, were married at Metropolis, Ill., April 15.

Mr. Thompson lives at Gilbertsville, Ky. He was graduated from Calvert City High School and has attended the University of Kentucky three years, taking a mechanical engineering course. He entered Murray State College in the fall of 1932. He has a position as mathematics teacher in the Hardin High School, Hardin, Ky.

Dr. Mayer was a former student of Murray State Teachers College before attending the medical school of Vanderbilt. While attending the Murray State Teachers College, Dr. Mayer and his brother, Jacob Mayer, were outstanding students in the chemistry department.

Dr. Mayer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mayer of Hazel, Ky. He is now assistant resident physician at the Vanderbilt Hospital, Nashville, Tenn.

WILSON REPLIES TO M'INTYRE'S CHARGE

Former Regent of Murray State College Answers Criticism.

J. F. Wilson, banker and business man of Mayfield and former member of the regents of Murray State College, in the Point-of-View column of the Louisville Courier-Journal recently declared that W. O. McIntyre's charge regarding Murray College was about "90 per cent error".

His reply follows:
THE MURRAY COLLEGE
To the Editor of The Courier-Journal:

In your issue of July 9 there appeared a communication from Mr. W. O. McIntyre, Danville, Ky., in which he suggests lack of information on the part of Miss Dorothy Wyman, a student of Murray State Teachers College.

The same criticism can be made of Mr. McIntyre's statement that the Murray College (according to his statement, the smallest of the four) had cost the state $13,000,000.

This charge is about 10 per cent correct and 90 per cent error.

I was a member of the first board of regents of the Murray State Teachers College and served in that capacity six consecutive years, and during that six years all of the eight substantial buildings, except two, were erected and the plans and specifications of those two had been made and accepted.

The cost of construction of the eight buildings was $1,251,567.47 and $100,000 of this was paid by the citizens of Calloway county.

Also he writes about a great assemblage of high-salaried colored porters. I don't know where he obtained this information as there is not now, nor has there ever been a colored porter or colored cook employed at the Murray College.

The kitchen and dining-rooms have always been served by ambitious and outstanding young ladies, who wanted an education but were unable to pay for same and therefore could not attend school without securing work to help defray their expenses. The janitor service in all the buildings is done by young men who are ambitious to place themselves on an equal plane with those who are more fortunate financially.

If Mr. McIntyre is going to persist in trying to destroy our state educational institutions he should visit each of them and get actual information about their cost and management, then give his readers facts and facts only. If this he does I have the confidence in the good people of Kentucky that they will gladly continue their support of these educational institutions to the end that our young people of the present and future generations may have an opportunity to fit themselves for the positions in world affairs they so richly deserve.

Bluejays Find Oscar

Bluejays discovered Oscar, college alligator, quietly swimming around in a hole of stagnant water near the Training School of Murray State College last Friday evening between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Oscar disappeared mysteriously Sunday night from the fountain at the west entrance of the Library building. Search had been carried on by the students for the college mascot. Friday evening the disturbance that a group of jay birds caused attracted the attention of J. C. Kirby and John Daniel Lovett, who were playing by Kirby's store in front of the Training School.

The boys went to investigate and found the alligator. They called to Ellick Owen and the others in the store that they had found an alligator.

Unable to capture the alligator single handed, Mr. Owen went to the power plant for help. Clifton McNeely and Clifton Buggs returned with him, and after some difficulty they cornered Oscar while Buggs and Ellick caught him. Mr. Buggs, being unable to leave his work long, gave the alligator to McNeely, who returned him to his proper place, at the west entrance of the library building.

Some time Sunday Oscar escaped again. About 6:45 he was seen being marched across the campus by a student. After his march from the vicinity of the administration building to the west entrance of the library building, he was placed in the pool.

Mrs. Laster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynn of near Union City. She is a graduate of Union City High School, junior in Murray State College, member of the Allenian Society, has been secretary three semesters in the department of journalism, member of the College News staff, and was assistant stenographer in Freed-Hardeman College in 1930-31.

PROF. C. S. LOWRY EXPLAINS RUSSIAN FIVE-YEAR PLAN

Instructor Speaks at Meeting of World's Affairs Club Tuesday, July 26

SAYS DEPRESSION WILL BE GLORIOUS MEMORY

"The little depression we have now will be a glorious memory to those we shall have in the future," stated Prof. C. S. Lowry in a talk about the Russian Five-Year Plan before the World's Affairs Club of Murray State College Tuesday morning, July 26.

Professor Lowry based his speech on the following point: What is the Russian Five-Year Plan? What conditions brought it into existence? What was the result of the plan? What was the significance of this Five-Year Plan and its accomplishment?

The Five-Year Plan was brought into existence by the Russians to double the nation's development and consumption in five years. This plan was inaugurated in 1928. In the four years they have accomplished their aim and will probably inaugurate another plan for the future.

Russia was isolated politically, economically, and socially from the rest of the world. If Russia was to survive, she was forced to work out some plan by which she could use her own resources.

The lack of organization Russia was responsible. The Russian government was carried on by the minority of the people. Coming at the time that it did the Five-Year Plan has been of utmost importance to the outside world, since there was balance to the production of the world.

As for the results of the plan it is plain to be seen, according to Mr. Lowry, that they are making a great success of this plan. They do not have the bread in that are characteristic of the country. They do not have the question of food and product distribution that the American people have today. They do not have the factory troubles that cause the hard times in the United States today.

The first year, the Russian people increased their production 21 per cent, the second year 24 per cent, and the third year 25 per cent. Mr. Lowry did not know the exact figures of last year's accomplishment, but he supposed that they had accomplished their standard and now had launched another Five-Year plan.

Mr. Lowry thought it significant that the success of this plan is a compliment undertaken by the people. The success of the Two-Year Plan has shown to Russian people that they can do things. Now the rest of the world is watching to see if they can keep the lock-step when the production becomes as great as that of the United States.

It is evident, according to the speaker, that the United States could not accomplish this feat doubling its national output production in five years. It would take from 25 to 30 years to do this. The Russians copy mechanical and technical ideas of the civilized world and borrowed engineers from the United States.

When she catches up with the rest of the world, the question will be "Can the Russian people keep their lock-step when the production becomes as great as that of the United States?"

LIQUOR QUESTION DEBATED BY CLUB

Audience Votes Against Repeal in Henry Clay Meeting.

"Resolved that the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America should be repealed," was the question brought up for discussion at the meeting of the Henry Clay Debating Club of Murray State College, Tuesday morning, July 12. By a vote of a majority of three the audience decided that the United States should not repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

President Paul Morgan of Puryear, Tenn., introduced the speaker, Dentis McDaniel of Murray, Ky., and Marion McCarthy of Blackford, Ky., debated the affirmative side of the question, while Joseph Glover of Paducah, and Glenn D. Morrow of Madisonville, Ky., upheld the negative.

Mr. McDaniel declared the prohibition law was a failure because of the public opinion, because it placed liquor in the hands of the youth, thereby creating a disrespect for the laws, and because it poisons the mind of the youth.

Mr. Glover, speaker for the negative, stated that the prohibition law was not passed to make men sober by law, but to pave the way for the banishment of liquor from the United States of America.

Mr. McCarthy, the second speaker for the affirmative, brought out three points to show that the prohibition law was largely responsible for the necessary relief legislation now being discussed by the United States Congress.

Mr. Morrow pointed out that financial income has shifted to the liquor traffic, and by the prohibition law this shifting had been curbed. He also asked what the people would substitute for the liquor law if it were repealed.

Abode of Men

By Bates

"Day by day in every way, the summer is getting hotter, and more hot." As proof of this statement watch the young men descend the steps of the dormitory, and you will notice more bathing suits, more golf clubs, more sun hats, and less clothes daily.

Now is the time to thank Julian Maddox and Floyd Hall, who, being too tired to help in the capture of Oscar the gator, after playing golf, gladly gave their assistance by directing the search from the shade of a willow tree. Nice chaps, these golfers, always willing to help a friend.

The boys over at our place have decided to grow "ze moustachio" and this absolutely ruins the democratic idea of the thing, for this lets J. B. Stokes and the writer completely out. We might be compared to a group of aviators—only a few close shaves annually. However, Clanton Boyd has often told me that "It's the little things that count."

With this golf tournament in full swing, nearly everyone is out trying to shoot "birdies", eagles, or sump'n.

Miss Irene Collier spent the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Collier, Kaler, Ky.

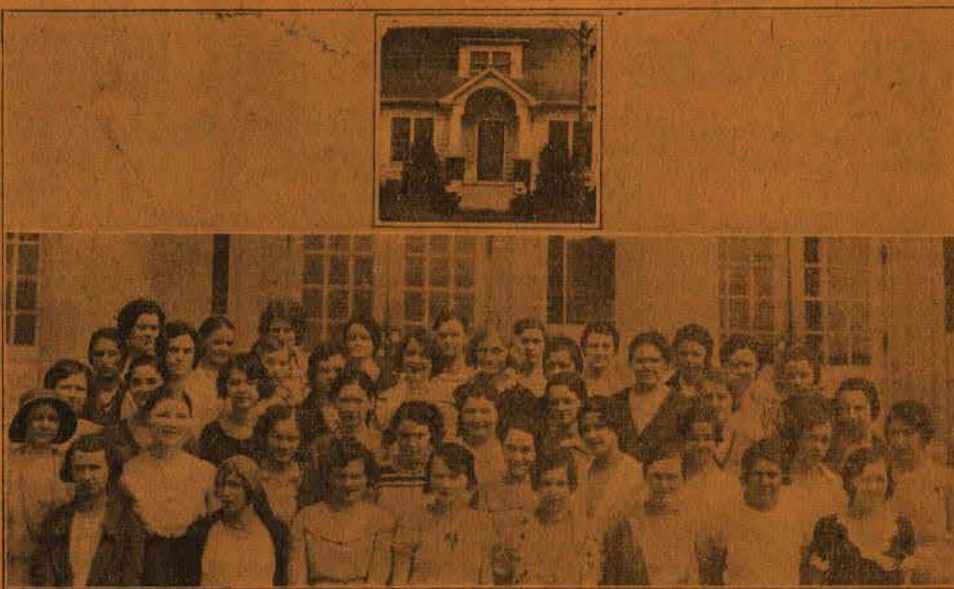

Mrs. Gordon Banks and son are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Rainey T. Wells at Edgewood. Mrs. Banks was the first instructor of music in Murray State College.

Miss Mildred Graves and Miss Margaret Crider of Milburn, Ky., former students of Murray State College, visited friends on the campus last week.

Eugene Boyd was a business visitor in Clinton Tuesday, July 5.

Ronald Brinkley, former student of Murray State College, visited Herman Shaw at Hornbeak, Tenn., Monday, July 4.

Allenians Hold No Meeting on July 5

For the first time this year, the Allenian Society of Murray State College did not meet Tuesday morning, July 5, on its regular meeting date.

The president of the society, Malcolm Rhoads of Henderson, Ky., made the announcement that the society would meet next on July 19. Mr. Rhoads stated that as there was to be no chapel exercises during the week, the society decided to postpone its meeting, but a good program has been prepared for the next meeting.

32 QUALIFY FOR GOLF TOURNAMENT

Murray Club Sponsors Event for Many Players on Local Course

To be or not to be a golf player is in the minds of many men and, more likely, their decision will be based upon their outcome in the annual tournament, which is being held and sponsored by the Murray golf club, on the local course.

Thirty-two men have qualified for the event, and the first rounds are to be completed by Monday evening, July 18. At this time there will be 16 losers and 16 winners, with the match still going to anyone, as it is a handicap affair. This handicap puts the worst player on equal terms with the man who shoots an excellent game.

Herschel Corn and Clanton Boyd qualified, and were both given a handicap of 28 strokes. The lowest qualification goes to Prof. A. B. Austin and James Distler, with a handicap of 0; the second lowest handicap going to Dr. B. F. Berry and Julian Maddox, who have been given 8 strokes.

Among the faculty members of Murray State College who are participating in the tourney are Dr. M. G. Carman, Dean Austin, Prof. W. E. Blackburn, and R. E. Broach. The young men representing the dormitory are: J. B. Stokes, Paducah; Harry Lee Waterfield, Murray; Clanton Boyd, Memphis, Tenn.; Floyd Hall, Hazel, Ky.; Julian Maddox, Mayfield, Ky.; and Hugh Bates, Henderson, Ky. If enough men have played off their first opposition this weekend, they are expected to continue with the next rounds in the quarter-finals.

MISS DEPEW WILL TEACH IN OREGON

Former Instructor of Murray Has Position in Western Normal School.

Miss Ollie Depew of Lexington, Ky., former instructor in the English department of Murray State College, has a position as instructor in English in the Southern Oregon Normal School of Ashland, Ore.

Oregon has only two normal schools—no teachers colleges—one in the northern part of the state and one in the southern part at Ashland, only a short distance from the California border. This school is in the Sierra Mountains—or at least in the neighborhood of them, according to Miss Depew in a letter to Miss Hollowell of the Murray staff.

While she was a member of the Murray College faculty, Miss Depew compiled a volume, entitled "Here Are Dogs", which was published by the Century Company. This volume was characterized by the New York Sun as "interesting", by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat as "well prepared", by the Memphis Commercial Appeal as bidding fair to "become a classic on the subject of dogs".

The book editors of the Century Company informed the author that the volume ran a close race to be chosen by the "Book of the Month Club".

From the University of Kentucky, Miss Depew received her A. B. and M. A. degrees. She obtained the M. A. degree also from Columbia University and was a graduate student at the University of Chicago.

Jess Haynes Allows Six Hits and Strikes Out Nine Visitors

SEAPORTERS HIT THREE HOMERS OVER WALL

Combining two hits, three walks, one error and a wild pitch to score five runs in the sixth inning, the Murray Redbirds handed the Helena, Ark., Seaporters their second defeat of the season Tuesday, July 12, by the score of 8-4.

Jess Haynes pitched steady ball throughout the game allowing only six hits and striking out nine men. Three of the Helena runs were homers over the right field wall.

Murray took the lead in the first inning when Creasy singled, advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt, and scored on Jim Miller's double to the right field fence.

In the third inning, the Seaporters threatened to put the game in the bag as Sikes hit one over the right field fence. Holladay doubled to score when Jenkins singled behind him. In the fourth Gilbert fadded another score with a homer over the right field wall.

The sixth inning started for Murray as Creasy walked, Mason doubled, sending Creasy to third, and Wells walked, hitting the bases. Jim Miller flied out to center scoring Creasy, the other runners advancing a base. John Miller walked and Starks relieved Dunnaway in the box for Helena. Sullivan hit the first pitched ball for a single scoring Mason and Wells. John Miller scored on a wild pitch. May was safe on an error as Sullivan scored. Shaw ended the inning by hitting into a double play.

Murray added more misery to the Seaporters in the seventh as two singles and a double by Jim Miller scored two more runs.

Helena scored one in the eighth when Holladay hit a long drive over deep right field fence.

Murray found Dunnaway and Starks for hits at all times during the game. Neither of the men was able to score a strike-out.

The Murray victory was the ninth victory in the last 13 starts, two of the defeats coming at the hands of the Helena team in Arkansas last week.

DEAN CARR VISIT BAND REHEARSAL

Murray Educator Describes Staff He Had Seen in Old Country.

During the Wednesday afternoon rehearsal, July 13, Dr. W. Carr paid the Murray State College band a short visit. At the playing of "The Song of Love" taken from one of Selbert's operas, Dr. Carr gave brief sketch of this work, a told of seeing the opera so many years ago while on a visit to Chicago.

"Someday America, too, m respect and honor her music to the extent that monuments will be erected in their memory said Dr. Carr, as he told about the numerous monuments, a statues over the old country, a particularly around Germany and Austria. In this short he brought out the fact that many operas and plays were given in honor of some famous musician, and gave the famous "Maestro Singer" of Germany an example.

Prof. Royal K. Eden, director of the band, gave a statement the effect that the college band will again appear in a ch program on Wednesday morning, July 20. Mr. Eden has hopes to make up for this quality, and tone production. Possibly the program will contain several of Schubert's compositions, as feature numbers.

11 Achieve Perfect Standing With Rank of 3.

One hundred fifty-one students of Murray State College were listed on the honor roll for the second semester of the school year 1931-32, according to a report made by the registrar, Mrs. Cleo Gillis Hester.

The standing is computed on the following basis: A counts 3 points; B counts 2; and 1 counts 1. The grade of D is passing but gives no honor points.

Wilsonians Postpone Meeting Until July 19

To carry out the plans of President Rainey T. Wells of having no assembly of the students the week of July 4-9 was the reason for the Wilsonian Society of Murray State College not meeting at its regular time Tuesday morning, July 5, according to J. B. Stokes, Paducah, president of the society.

The Wilsonian Society will meet on the next regular meeting day, July 19, Mr. Stokes stated. He also said that the program on that date would be more of a literary nature than those heretofore.

F. J. Peffer Takes Idlers on Picnic To Rogers' Lake

How to begin the vacation that was granted to the students of Murray College was the problem of a few who remained over for the Fourth of July holiday.

Frank Joseph Peffer solved the problem for the "Wells Hall Step Loafers" by inviting all those who were "loafing" on the Wells Hall steps after supper Friday evening before the Fourth to go on a picnic with him to Rogers' Lake.

This invitation struck the spot. Fifteen immediately responded. When the group arrived at the edge of the lake, where the feast was to take place, they found the trees decorated with Chinese lanterns, a bonfire built, and the food already spread.

Games were played by the fire after the meal was finished. Among the guests were Misses Geneva Belt, Martha Ruoff, Jessie Moore, Mildred Hopson, Gladys Day, and Messrs. Milburn Cooper, Harry Lee Waterfield, Ralph E. Gibbs, Brooks Ware, Vaughn Woodall, "Bobby" Hester.

Harmony

By F. J. Mellen
God is laughing, everywhere.
What Now? He weeps!
His tears are gently kissing leaves
And painting brown-grey limbs with black.
God laughs again.
I see the radiance of his smiles
In yellow puddles on the ground.
I look into the park and see
The squirrels slip on black boughs silently.
I smile, then laugh,
A flute being with the Infinite.

VESPER SOCIETY SEEKS MEMBERS

Simmons Aids President Cooper in Urging Students to Attend.

"To come or to be tough—that is the question a few of our noble gentlemen are contemplating," according to Woodrow Simmons, Charleston, Mo., popular dining hall announcer, cooperating with Milburn Cooper, Hollow Rock, Tenn., president of the Christian Association of Murray State College.

The Christian Association met Sunday evening, July 10. Mr. Simmons has been selected as one of the promoters for a drive being sponsored by the Christian Association this week in order that the attendance may be increased. It is urged that all students be present Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock, on the auditorium steps. An interesting but spiritual program is offered each Sunday evening.

Last Sunday evening Albert Thacker, Fulton, Ky., senior of the college, was the main speaker. His subject was given the title, "A Challenge of Youth." Mr. Thacker named among the challenges to youth that "what we need is more capable leaders—not demagogues." He gave suggestions concerning the world's greatest problems and indicated that it is up to the youth of today to solve them. After summing up the great task that is before the American youth today, Mr. Thacker pointed out that students must create a remedy.

Other numbers given were as follows: Songs, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," and "Day is Dying in the West"; Lord's Prayer, led by Miss Peffer; Scripture reading, Harry Lee Waterfield of Murray; song, "My Prayer," R. T. Parker of Murray, accompanied by Prof. L. R. Putnam; a reading, Miss Virginia Glass of Eddyville, Ky.; a song, Miss Mildred Alcock of Melber, Ky.; "A Challenge to Youth," Albert Thacker of Fulton, Ky.; and benediction, Frances Westerman, Henderson, Ky.

MURRAY MASCOT CAUGHT BY POSSE

"Captain" Drennon With Sturdy Crew Heroically Rescues 'Gator from Dragon's Pit.

After a fierce struggle with eight of the dormitory boys, Oscar the gator was captured at the gravel pit Saturday, July 2, and was returned to his home in the library fountain. Oscar left home last Wednesday, June 29, when the water became too high in his summer dwelling, and he took this opportunity of going on a visit.

Oscar was given up for lost until seen Saturday morning basking in the sun on the bank of the gravel pit. Two negroes, passing by, saw the creature and reported their discovery to Dr. Herbert Drennon, who immediately called the dormitory for volunteers. Led by Captain Vaughn Woodall, the crew of Jess Beadles, Clanton Boyd, Warren Allman, Albert Thacker, and Hugh Bates rushed to the scene, armed with old brooms. Dr. Drennon gave directions from shore, while the "crew" muddled the water in an effort to force Oscar to the top for air. Three times Oscar was brushed out on the bank, only to slip back through "bare-legs" into the water again.

As this method of warfare did not bring the desired result, Clanton Boyd was unanimously elected as the ideal man to go in search of a tennis net to be used as a seine. After three drags across the "lake," Oscar was caught, dragged ashore, and brought back home.

Byron Pennabaker, student of Murray State College, spent the vacation at Symonia, Ky. with his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Pennabaker, a former student of Murray State College, and daughter, Miss Jacqueline.

The game was a pitcher's duel all the way. Paris got 7 hits and Murray 6. The batteries for Murray were Hughes and Deeweese; for Paris, Greer and Williams.

Thoroughbred Gridmen Plan For Fall Games

Henry County Has 46 in Murray College

By Clanton Boyd

The fall of 1932 gave proof that the Murray Thoroughbreds was not just a name but an organization. Coach Cutchin found 59 men answering his first call as the first autumn leaves began to brown.

The old rivals, from Southern Illinois Teachers College, were met and defeated 13-12 in the first game, as the Thoroughbreds started to increase their winning streak. But not for long, for early in the season Southeast Missouri handed Murray her first defeat in two years, 13-0. The Thoroughbreds' record was smashed thoroughly, for later in the season they met defeat three more times.

Even with four defeats she had a good record: an average of 500 with four victories and the same number of defeats. Yet she scored 113 points to 97 for her opponents. The high spot of the season was her victory over Eastern Kentucky Teachers, 46-8. This not only showed up her 32-2 record but marked the first S. I. A. victory for the Thoroughbreds.

A campaign was started by the college publication, "The College News." In the issue of November, the editorial staff wrote an article stressing Murray's entrance into the S. I. A. A.

A delegate was sent to Mobile, Ala., to the S. I. A. A. meeting with entrance requirements and on December 6, 1929—the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association, America's largest athletic conference, admitted Murray with a year's probation.

The fall of 1930 marked a change in athletics. Murray found herself with two teams instead of one. Her varsity played nine games, winning five and losing four. Her best game was a 52-0 victory over Eastern Kentucky Teachers, a S. I. A. A. team. The Thoroughbreds scored 147 points to 79 for her opponents. The first freshman team in the history of the college under the coaching of John Miller, former Murray star, won three games, lost one, and tied one. The Yearlings closed the season with a 107-0 victory over Franklin High of Paducah, Kentucky. The younger brothers of the Thoroughbreds scored 211 points to 12 against them.

Enters S. I. A. A.

With the Yearlings of 1930, and the addition of two assistant coaches, Coach Cutchin began the first year of regular competition in the S. I. A. A. in the fall of 1931. At the beginning, things looked very dark until the day that marked the opening of the Murray-Western feud, which marked the opening of Western Kentucky's football classic. After taking a 7-0 defeat at the hands of the Hilltoppers, the Thoroughbreds set to work and won the remaining games of the season. They finished with a 5-0 in the conference and won four out of nine for the season. They scored 134 points to opponents 80, thus ending successfully the first year in a major athletic conference.

The Yearlings copped more than their part of the college honors in the 1931 season by scoring 217 points to none by their opponents, to win five games and tie one.

That little group of men that started in 1925 have seen their work grow to such an extent that it has been recognized by the football experts of the state. In seven short years the Thoroughbreds of Murray State College have set some sort of record. It may not be national, or even sectional, but for the short time of its history it will be hard to beat. The football team has played 59 games, won 41, lost 14, and tied only 4. As figures do not lie, we can see that this is a record. That means that three-fourths of the games have been taken in by the Thoroughbreds. In those 59 games they have amassed a total of 1221 points or a little over three times that of the total of the opponents, who have scored only 405 points.
