WARNER BROS. FULTON THEATRE OPENS TOMORROW

Magnificent Warner Bros. Theatre Receives Finishing Touches Today
First Showing In New Show House Tomorrow Night—Interest Keen

The feature picture for the opening of the new Warner Bros. Fulton Theatre will be "The Good Earth" with Paul Muni. The box office will open at 3 P.M. Saturday afternoon, in that patrons may purchase their tickets early. There will be no reserved seats. The doors will open at 7:15, and the performance is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, with a professed "Coquette" in the cast, followed by the Beauty Pageant to be held to determine who shall be "Miss Fulton County." The beauty pageant will feature charming and beautiful girls of Fulton County who, with the exception of the Miss Beauty Pageant to be held to determine who shall be "Miss Fulton County,"...

gotten into its news stories when attention is called to them.

I have an opportunity of seeing interests of Fulton join in hailing the opening of this splendid picture house for the time, and it has kept pace

by the fashion in Little Theatre circles to make show-houses an ambition to be a hostler and hitch up the fast grays as stable. But somehow, despite the fact that I loved livery

Anderson can remember how his booming laugh used to almost destroy a picture. I remember one... Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Knoxville have returned home after a trip to the tropics. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McClain were in Mayfield last week... Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Riddle, former pioneers of this community... a place of hostilies.

And so, I salute the new, with wistful memories of the old.

On another note we find Miss Andy Kirk of Detroit are visiting their parents.

Detroit are visiting their parents.

You have an address with the office.

CHURCHILL... REBUKF... GARDEN OF TRANQUILLITY... and the news will get around and we will all be one.

Three Fulton Men Play Important Role
In Getting Warner’s New Fulton Theatre

Three Fulton men, J. E. Fall, Joe D. Davis and H. R. White, are responsible for having Warner Brothers back in the business of remodel and re-con- stuction of a theatre. These men were the mediumship between Warner Brothers and the city, they helped Warner install the proper equipment, acoustics and other equipment necessary for the operation of a theatre.

LOUISE KILLEBREW, FLORIST, Offers the Best in Flowers

FRANK MERRYMAN, CONTRACTOR

FRANK Merryman, general supervisor of the construction of Warner Brothers' New Fulton Theatre, has just completed the factory building and the theatre building, on April 7, drawing out his own plans and specifications, and working from sixty-eight to seventy men. On August 8th the factory job was completed, and on August 20th the theatre building was finished.

Mr. Merryman personally supervised both jobs, giving freely of his time, thought, energy and efforts. No detail too small or too large for him to attend to, and the beautiful buildings will stand for a long time as a monument to his ability and integrity as a contractor. All work on the theatre building was supervised by him with the exception of the heating, ventilation and wall decoration, which was installed by Warner Brothers.

"I sincerely trust that the people of Fulton will get as much pleasure out of their new theatre as I have gotten out of the building of same, and that it will tend for a long time to add to the comfort and sociability of our town, and be known far and near for one of the most modern and attractive shows in this section, equipped throughout with up-to-date and modern conveniences for perfect filming of the most accurate scene to be shown. This is a true home theatre of beauty, a perfect home theatre of beauty, a perfect beauty, and I have no hesitancy in recommending the same to all.

FULTON THEATRE COMPANY, R. H. Wade property manager, announces that for forty years, the Fulton Theatre has been one of Fulton's most progressive citizens. The entire property is owned by a trust company at the factory building.

"In no other town of its size, and in many towns and cities twice the size of Fulton, can you find a theatre as beautiful, as large, as modern and as well equipped as this new theatre, and I take this means of extending best wishes and good luck to the management of this theatre."

FRANK Merryman

This firm is happy to express appreciation to Warner Brothers' Officials and Burgess. W. Wattum, local manager, for the beautiful Warner Brothers New Fulton Theatre just completed, and to congratulate all those who took part in the erection of this modern structure.
New Theatre Has Modern Air Conditioning

WARNER BROS. NEW FULTON, year round. In the summer this Theatre is air-conditioned through the Tench Brothers Air-Conditioning Company, Inc., of New York, which has been in operation for about sixty years. The winter months between seventy and eighty degrees Fahrenheit will prevail in this Theatre, and a person would no longer expect the weather to be anything less than comfortable, even in the most severe cold.

From the Theatre air conditioning. Perhaps the most important item to be considered is the need for a modern air-conditioning system. The principal source of heat is the theatre air-conditioning, which is operated by an electrical motor. A great advantage is obtained by the theatre managers in having the air-conditioning system of their own choice. This permits them to provide the comfort of the theatre at the lowest cost possible.

The theatre air-conditioning system is made up of a number of air washers. These air washers are mounted on a platform well. The water for this theatre is supplied by a 4-inch flexible hose connected to the theatre of the theatre. In operation, the water is taken directly from the supply lines and delivered to the theatre by means of piping systems laid in the floor to the bottom of the well. The water will again find its way into the theatre, and will be cooled. The air flow is then directed through the theatre by means of the air washers.

The specially driven deep-well to supply the water for the theatre is dug about 50 feet from the theatre building. The well is 30 feet deep. The water in the well is stirred by means of a paddle wheel, which is operated by an electric motor. The water is then drawn off by a 10-horsepower, electrically driven pump. A 4-inch flexible hose connects the pump to the supply lines, which are connected to the theatre by means of piping systems laid in the floor of the well. The water in the well is then cooled by the air washers and the water is again delivered to the theatre.
