CANDIDATES GROCMED FOR SENATORIAL RACE

General Belief Is That Kentucky Will Elect Democratic Senator This Year.

Louisville, Ky. - With the day of reckoning at hand, when the voters of Kentucky will endorse or withhold their approval of Richard P. Ernst's senatorial stewardship during the last six years, the political prophets are getting busy. Virtually without exception the forecasts pub lished to date concerning the outcome of the senatorial race in Kentucky and appearing in newspapers in other states have been favorable to the Democratic cause. In all cases staff investigators have visited Kentucky and their summation of conditions here may be regarded, of course, as here may be regarded, of course, as absolutely unbiased and impartial.

Last week Mark Sullivan, one of the shrewdest of the country's political prognosticators, gave it as his opinion that Kentucky would elect a Democratic Senator this year. This prediction is said to have taken all the starch out of G. O. P. campaign workers and there is said to be in workers and there is said to be it consequence, a notable lessening of effort all down the line from the commander-in-chief (Senator Ernst), who has just cancelled three important speaking engagements, to the humblest precinct workers. Right in the middle of this here town, folks

We done pitched our tent in these here diggin's. Sam and Bob, they done welcum us. Miss Mary, she done said we's her show place for this town. Aunt Sue, 'lowed she ain't never yet seed no sich doings as We Us & Co. am golag to do in this town.

Honey and Tasses they both am sweet, but what sweetness do dem word Cheaper and Cheaper put in my gezzle! Ladies, swing dem corners and get ready for that New Circus Barnum what sets his tent in our midst. Gentlemen, than's good times for ye in this spot of the green earth at last.

No thorny roads will make your feet bleed any more as you do your manly part. Little boys and girls, in the way that you should walk will be the pattern of your mother and dad from tails day on.

now. It's shiaing with the newness of a silver dollar. This place in your town glistens at you as Liberty's bell. No more credit shackles will hold back your teet from walking freedom's road. No more danger will lurk in the hidden, dark places of the untidy store. No more fat will grow on the rounded form of the High Price man of yesterday.

This new store of Clarence Saunders is the gem of all jewels. It has been made to suit the average man and woman. To please the most fastidious. To all it will be the cleanest and brightest spot in Fulton. To all it will ever be the price maker to shave off of dollars the nickels and dimes for the saving bank, for a summer vacation, for daughter's school, for a million other good thrags—that's the reason for a Clarence Saunders Store.

Yah, haw! Hee, hee! If we ain't going to have plenty to eat at last!

This am't no ordinary store. You bet 'em Sweet Papa—this is a real store—tull of bargains and ever so convenient. You just wait on yourself take it belonged to you. Come right in—help yourself to as much as you want. We wrap everything in a nice paper sack and take it to you auto it the package is large. All we ask you to do is to smile at the bargains—pay the small amount asked according to the price tag and we will say "Thank You!"

For Opening Day, that all may frome and have a wild but good time, we have a band all ready with plenty of jazz to make your feet tingle and your heart gay.

Folks, no use to say this is a crazy ad for 1 know it just like you do, but listen, while 1 tell you, if I said only what one would have expected, nobody would talk about me and call Clarence a "nut." Not that I like to be called "nutty" but, sure enough, I would rather have this said about me than nothing. So go ahead and express yourself, but most important of all come to the opening of my new store.

I'll forgive you for any ankind thoughts if you will do this. I'm just human like anybody else and I do love for the folks to confe and see my new store.

I now have 191 new stores operating in 110 towns and cities from Florida to California in 18 States. This is just the start of the biggost retail business of the world. All of which will happen because a Clarence Saunders Store thinks of the people first and profits last.

ALL WILL REAP BENEFITS OF COUNTY AGENT

Judging by the newspaper reports coming from Hickman, that end of the county has been thoroughly sold on the need of a county agent, and a lot of enthusiasm has been injected in-to the farmers and business men through the efforts of Mr. J. E. Kilpatrick, the county superin-farmers all over the state have been shown the advantages of having a man on the ground who is capable of ad-vising them on the proper methods of farming and the thousand and one problems that confront them at every turn. Should Mr. Kilpatrick's efforts to provide an agent for Fulton county be successful, the merchants as well as the farm-ers will reap large returns from the investment and every merchant and business man in the county should be, not only willing, but glad to contribute the small amount necessary to procure this end.

When the committee calls on

The New ALLEN'S PARLOR FURNACE

LLEN was first to successfully apply the scientific principle of heating by circulated warm air to "above-the-floor" furnaces. With this new type of heater, from 4 to 5 adjoining rooms are made comfortable by the natural circulation of the moist. warm air. The New ALLEN'S Parlor Furnace burns wood or coal. The fire-bowl is amply large enough for burning standard cut cordwood.

In the New ALLEN'S Parlor Furnace an exclusive design and construction has been developed. It is so beautiful that it harmonizes with the very latest furniture. The natural walnut effect is mechanically reproduced in porcelain, enamel finish.

We invite you to come and inspect our splendid line of Stoves.

BARKLEY WILL SPEAK IN FULTON TONIGHT

On the eve of closing one of the most strenuous political campaigns in the history of the state, Judge Alben W. Barkley, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senate, will arrive in Fulton this evening at six o'clock from Clinton, and at 7:30 tonight will address the voters of Fulton and vicinity at the City Hall. It may well be said that Alben W. Barkley is the idol of First District Democracy. His child. candidacy fairly illuminates the political atmosphere with brightest rays of hope for a successful victory on November 2. He has often visited Fulton, but his visit tonight has an unusual significance of which we are all keenly interested. The campaign now closing is of vast importance. We all know Mr. Barkley, and we know him to be one of the cleanest men that ever entered the political arena in this great commonwealth. For many years he has been tried and never once found to the future of the child.

You can not begin too young to teach your child the value of money, to impress upon its little mind the fact that without money it will find the pathway of life a rough one to be trod. Let the child have the money. Let the child have the money. Teach it to count it, to realize its value, to speculate on what the day of the future of the child.

You can not begin too young to the future of the child.

I. Woes of Those Who Indulge in Wine (vv. 29, 30).

No more graphic description of the evils of the winebibber has ever been given. It portrays in the most impressive manner the miseries that attach to the drunkard's life.

1. The awful pain which causes one to cry out, "Oh!"

Many indeed are the pains which men suffer because of strong drink.

Bodily ills innumerable can be traced to its evil influence.

2. The bitter remorse which causes one to cry out, "Alas!"

Many are the expressions of bitter regret which come daily from the lips of the drunkard. Sometimes it is the firectly caused by their passions being adamed by strong drink. The drunk inflamed by strong drink. The drunken man is always ready for a fight.

He takes offense as we'l as gives offense. He not only has these from without, but he has struggles within.
His conscience and his appetite are warring with each other.

4. Babblings and complainings.
The winebibber complains of everything, ill'luck, broken fortune, ruined health, loss of friends, of fate and of God.

5. Wounds without a cause.

Wounds without a cause These are wounds which might have been avoided from fights in which a been avoided from lights in which a sober man would not have engaged and from accidents which are purely the result of intoxication.

8. Redness of eyes.
This has reference to the blood-shot eyes of the tippler which rules and dims his vision.

All these woes come upon those who tarry long at wine (v. 30).

II. The Attitude Enjoined (v. 31).

Look not at it. Do not put your-self in the way of temptation. The only safe attitude toward strong drink is total abstinence, and the only sure way of total abstinence is not to even enses (v. 33).

(1) This excitement causes the eyes to behold strange things. This denote the fantastic images which are pro-duced on the brain of the dreakard. Even when delirium tremens does not result, there are awful fancies which are beyond the possibility of realiza-tion. Since carnal lust always comes with wine drinking, it is no doubt true, as the Authorized Version has it, "Thine eyes shall behold strange wom-

(2) "Thine heart shall utter perverse things." His moral sense being perverted, his utterances partake of the same. He tells lies, his words cannot be believed.

3. He is insensible to danger (v.

The drunkard is unsteady. His brain reels to and fro, he is foolhardy. even as one who would lie in the top of a ship's mast where there is the greatest danger of falling off. 4. He is insensible to pain (v. 35). The drunkard is utterly ignorant of what happens to him while under the influence of strong drink. The drunkard has many bruises and wounds for which he cannot account. He did not realize when he received them.

5. His abject bondage (v. 35). After all his sufferings, sorrow and disappointment he goes on as a bond-slave to follow the ways of sin, 6. Hell at last, for no drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

The Rock of Ages

A sailor in a shipwreck was once thrown upon a small rock, and clung to it, in great danger, until the tide went down. "Say, Joe," asked his friends after the rescue, "didn't you shake with fear?" "Yes," replied Joe, "but the rock didn't." Christ is the

The Brotherhood enjoyed a very interesting meeting last Friday sight on the subject of Baptism. The subject for tonight is the Lord's Supper. This subject will be discussed tonight by W. C. Valentine, W. H. Chappell and C. H. Warren. Every man in the city of Fulton invited to attend these services.

Bro. Warren begun last Sunday morning at the morning service, a series of ten sermons on the subject, "Do We Believe the Bible?" Five of these sermons will be delivered in the mornings and five at the evening service. There will also be special music at each service. Won't you come and worship with us?

The Knit-Tex Coat Is Guaranted for 3 Years

The Knit-Tex Coat is different from any topcoat you have ever worn. Light as a feather, warm as toast, soft as velvet, never wrinkles and can be worn ten months in the year.

Knit-tex is knitted, but you wouldn't know it. It looks like a fine, imported fabric. The voke and sleeve linings are of Skinner's Satin.

In every city and town in the United States a clothing store with this Knit-tex photograph in its window carries Knit-tex in new shades of light and medium grey, oxford, brown, tan, polo, blue-grey, sage, beige, mode and heather mixture.

If some one shows you a coat without the Knit-tex label and claims the material is like Knit-tex--beware!

If the Knit-tex label is not in the coat, it positively is not made of genuine, guaranteed Knit-tex cloth.
