MEETING OF CITIZENS NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

PROTEST AGAINST EVIL CONDITIONS

Landlords Will Be Exposed
And Prosecuted By The Organization

COMMITTEE SECURING NAMES.

Will Report In The Open Session and Spare No One Guilty of Renting Houses.

VIGOROUS SPEECHES MADE.

Carrying their cause straight to the people, the citizens of the First and Second wards who object to the women of Kentucky Avenue moving into that section of the city, decided at a session last night to call a mass meeting in the city hall next Tuesday night. All other reputable citizens are invited to attend this mass meeting.

At that meeting, a committee appointed last night to investigate whether any bawdy women have moved into that section and to ascertain the owners of the houses rented to them, will report and they were instructed to be prepared to read any and all names out publicly.

The humor of the meeting last night was that the owners of houses, which are rented to bawdy women, should be vigorously prosecuted. The women only will be prosecuted, where they own the houses in which they live, except as a secondary means of accomplishing their purpose.

As predicted editorially in The Sun, the movement which began with a comparatively small start, seemingly is growing into a wave, which may be the most potent factor in the next municipal campaign.

Members stated last night that women have moved into houses on Eighth street and on Burnett street. In the last two days, from Kentucky Avenue, as forecasted several weeks ago in The Sun. It was further asserted that last night, while the meeting was going on, many other houses would be occupied by these women.

Speeches Are Made.

The temporary organization was made a permanent organization with the old officers continuing to serve. Several speeches were made and Attorney W. A. Berry explained the legal aspects of the movement. He said they could not prevent the women moving into the houses, but that it ought to be an easy matter to indict them for their practices, and he suggested that the owners of houses rented to such persons should be prosecuted relentlessly. Each day constitutes a different offense and the fine for each offense is $100.

Mr. Joe Potter, who was a visitor, not living in either of the two wards, suggested that if there was no written law whereby they could prevent disreputable characters moving into their section of the city, an unwritten law should be devised.

He said the city administration could help them and suggested that certain persons already living in their wards, should be swept out along with the new ones.

Mr. J. E. Wilhelm spoke vigorously against the infliction of the women on any section of the city and said it was in their rights to demand an explanation from certain city officers, and to instruct their representatives in the council, to use their authority to solve the question in a moral light.

The committee of four appointed to investigate the migration of the women expect to be prepared to carry out literally the instructions, that the names of the owners of houses rented to disreputable characters shall be read in the open mass meeting next Tuesday night.

Many new names were added to the list from the citizens present who did not attend the other meetings. With right and the law on their side, they expect to make it so disagreeable for undesirable characters to live in their section of the city that another hasty migration may be looked for.

RED LIGHT IS NO MORE.

Chief of Police James Collins said this morning: "Everything was in darkness after midnight on Kentucky Avenue. Patrolmen watched closely and saw not a sign of life in any of the houses. Lights were out promptly when the midnight hour struck."

Where have they gone? is a question being asked generally. Bus runners on trains say that three went to Cairo last night. Several went south last evening and some have moved into the outskirts. On Monday when Judge Reed convenes court he is expected to take the matter up immediately. It is expected that he will instruct his grand jury. Patrolmen are expecting to be summoned to testify as to the operations and persons who have been frequenting the resorts will probably be summoned to testify.

The meeting last night was held in C. J. Miller's tin shop at Sixth and Trimble streets and lasted for an hour and a half. W. M. Karnes presided.

The committee of four is composed of: J. J. Howell, Chris Miller, C. C. Duval, T. J. Everts.

COAL FAMINE

LEAVES MAYFIELD WITHOUT NEWSPAPERS FOR TIME.

Factories Closed Down and Workmen Are Thrown Out of Employment.

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 1.—Four factories, three newspaper plants, a foundry and various other concerns were closed down here today because of lack of coal for power. Several hundred people will be idle for the balance of the week. This is the worst coal famine that ever existed here.

Cars returning empty from the south were blocked by high water and the mines could get none. Now they are coming in and mines along the Illinois Central will be shipping from now on.

GATE RECEIPTS

WILL JUST COVER EXPENSES OF FOOTBALL SEASON.

High School and R. L. C.'s Receive
$51 Apiece for Thanksgiving Game.

Gate receipts from the Thanksgiving football game between the High school and the R. L. C.'s were $128. After paying the expenses incidental to the game, each team received $51. While that is a handsome showing for the one game, in all the other games played by either team this season, the gate receipts were not sufficient to cover expenses and the money made Thanksgiving will bring the teams through the season a little more than even, financially.

GAME STOOD STILL.

Because McFadden Shot Coon in a Trap.

John McFadden, driver of hose wagon No. 1, went hunting Thanksgiving with Stationman Morris Ingram. They bagged a few birds and contented with their luck started home.

"Look at that coon," McFadden excitedly shouted to his companion, and without delay dropped to his knee, took aim and let go.

McFadden shot both barrels of the heavy gauge gun at the coon's head. The head was blown off, and when McFadden went to claim his game found the coon securely locked in a trap.

BANK CLEARINGS STILL INCREASE

Nearly One Hundred Thousand and Over Last Year

Christmas Rush in Retail Trade and Transportation Business Anticipated.

WHAT THE WEEK HAS BEEN

Bank clearings ..... $665,030
Same week last year... 565,334
Increase ..... $99,696

Another hundred thousand increase over the same week of last year is recorded this week. With one holiday in the week, it is a good showing.

Christmas is in the air now and nearly all business transactions, whether in the wholesale or retail trades involve merchandise specially suited to the season. The whisky houses are preparing for the usual heavy Christmas jug shipments. The retail dealers are making preparations for augmenting their sales forces. The express companies and the postoffice are calculating on the usual heavy business plus the natural increase.

It is drawing near to the season when outside operations practically will be suspended. Thanksgiving this year in Paducah was observed by the publication in The Sun, of facts gathered by the department of commerce and labor at Washington, showing our industrial growth in every phase to be rapid and leading the second class cities in the state.

Actor Slightly Burned.
Mr. Tom DePew, of the DePew-Burdette Stock company, which closed last night at The Kentucky in the New York Detective, was burned slightly over his eyes during the third act. He entered a counterfeiter's den and blank cartridges were used in attacking him. He was burned, not seriously, over the eyes.

EXISTING LAWS

WILL BE TESTED BY GOVERNOR
WITHOUT DELAY.

No Extra Session Until Test Case
Has Gone to Court of Appeals.

Louisville, Dec. 1. (Special).—No steps will be taken as a result of the conference held in Frankfort yesterday to put on the lid in Louisville or elsewhere in Kentucky tomorrow, and if it should go on anywhere immediately it will be due to moral effect of the conference only.

The governor declined this morning to make public any plans determined upon yesterday but it is known that legal steps will be deferred until a conference of the lawyers, who are to move in the matter, has been held. This will probably take place early next week, either at the state executive department in Frankfort or in Louisville. It is not believed that either Mayor Barth or City Attorney Richards will be asked to participate in it, but that the plan will be to test the statutes on cases brought by the lawyers interested, probably from several cities and get them before the court of appeals, thus bringing up the law in several phases and having it so clearly defined, if upheld, that there will remain no doubt in the mind of any member of the judiciary of the state, that it is enforceable and that he must proceed under its provisions.

Milan, Dec. 1.—The first successful balloon voyage over the Alps has been accomplished by two business men of Milan, Signor Celestino Uselli and Signor Crespi, who are enthusiastic aeronauts.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

STARS IN NEW FLAG.
Washington, Dec. 1.—The war and navy department will finally decide on the arrangement of the stars in the national flag when Oklahoma comes into the Union. The second and fifth rows will contain seven stars each, while the first, third, fourth and sixth will have eight.

Traveling during Thanksgiving week swelled the ticket sales of the railroads, and both roads report a great increase over October. The freight business has been brisk. The washouts delayed freight traffic and caused an accumulation in the yards, necessitating the employment of extra labor. The Illinois Central payroll will for November be heavy.

AFTER BOLIN

DETECTIVE GOES TO LOUIS-VILLE FOR PRISONER.

Stole Chief Collins' Dinner, Robbed
Car and Broke Jail in Paducah.

Detective Will Baker went to Louisville this morning to bring back Will Bolin, alias "Bully Boy Legs," colored, wanted here for jail breaking. He is positive he has the right negro although policemen here who know Bolin say he is not the negro under detention in Louisville. Bolin is a desperado. He was arrested here several months ago after stealing the Sunday dinner from Chief of Police James Collins' table. It developed he had broken into a box car. It was for the latter offense that he was held in jail, finally succeeding in making a break for liberty. In Louisville he is suspected of a felony.

NO CLOTHES TO WEAR.

Thief Took Entire Wardrobe of U.
Dumas.

Returning home after a several days' trip on the road, U. Dumas, of 1337 Clark street, a railroad man, found that he had only his overalls and working clothes to wear. A sneak thief had entered his home and taken his entire wardrobe, even down to his supply of socks. His wardrobe, consisting of four suits of clothes, four shirts, one overcoat, several suits of underwear and about one dozen pairs of socks, was taken.

WEATHER.—Rain this afternoon, probably tonight colder. Sunday partly cloudy, much colder. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 53, and the lowest today was 45.

Mr. Arthur Martin went to Greenville this morning on legal business.

TOBACCO WAREHOUSES BURNED AT PRINCETON

Dynamite And Torch Used By Band Of Five Hundred Desperate Men
With Guns.

Policemen Disarmed; Firemen Locked
Up And Street Lamps Were Extinguished By The Mob

TWO RESIDENCES BURNED DOWN

Princeton, Ky., Dec. 1.—(Special).—Five hundred masked men entered Princeton at 1 o'clock this morning disarmed the police, locked up the fire department, drove guards out of the warehouse and proceeded to blow up and burn two big tobacco warehouses, incidentally destroying two residences adjoining, and shooting up the town generally. The total loss is estimated at $100,000.

One of the warehouses belonged to J. G. Orr and was leased by the Imperial Tobacco company. The other belonged to J. A. Steger, and was leased by G. Gallagher, limited, Belfast, Ireland.

Each contained approximately 75,000 pounds of leaf, which with the buildings were a total loss, about half insured.

The residence of J. R. Catlett, editor of the Princeton Leader, owned by Frank Wood and a house belonging to Clay Coon were burned to the ground with stables on the same lots. Had not the firemen succeeded in freeing themselves the whole town might have burned.

Citizens were awakened about 1 o'clock by the sound of horses tramping and shots fired promiscuously through the streets. No one dared venture out to ascertain the cause, but policemen who appeared were quickly overpowered by 500 armed men on foot and horseback, who subdued the guardians of the peace by show of force.

Having disarmed the police they proceeded to the fire department headquarters and put it out of commission temporarily by locking the doors tight. Then they went to the warehouses.

All plans for a successful coup seem to have been carefully prepared and executed. The city lights were cut off, leaving the city in darkness, the telegraph and telephone operators were intimidated so that no news could be sent out, and wherever a light appeared in a residence, it is said, a shot was fired by a watcher, patrolling the streets.

The managers of the tobacco warehouses had been warned by the mob itself and had stationed armed guards inside. The guards were warned that if they did not leave the buildings at once they would be blown up with them. The determination of the mob was apparent and the guards left.

Earth shaking reports showed that dynamite was being used recklessly by the desperate men. When the wreck seemed satisfactory, torches were applied and soon the ruins were a mass of flames that shot up from every side.

There was none to stay the progress of the fire and adjoining residences caught. But the firemen as soon as they came to a realization of what was going on broke their way into the building and secured apparatus. By heroic efforts they succeeded in staying the progress of the fires.

At 4 o'clock, after having fired into several public buildings with their revolvers and endangered the lives of innocent citizens, the desperadoes rode out of the city with a parting volley.

Many members of the mob are known, but the city is in such a panic that people hesitated to do anything, fearing revenge.

Two weeks ago warehouses at Eddyville and Fredonia were destroyed. Word was sent to Princeton that the same outrage would be perpetrated here.

Purchaser of Old Loeb Property May Erect Hotel At Fifth And Broadway

Paducah is to have another first-class hotel, it is rumored. A sale was consummated this week for the Loeb property at Fifth and Broadway, one of the most valuable pieces of property in the city. A persistent rumor has been current for some time that a well known capitalist and real estate man had an option on the property, and if he purchased it, would erect a first-class hotel, and this week it has developed that the property has been sold. The purchaser is not known. Members of the Loeb family, when seen by a reporter for The Sun today, admitted the sale, but said information as to the purchaser is being withheld at his request. The Loeb property is one of the handsomest homes in the city, and is the last residence in the downtown district to give way to the march of the business district out Broadway. It is 115 feet front by 150 deep, and, while no details of the sale are procurable, it is admitted the price of the property was near the $50,000 mark. Mrs. Reuben Loeb and her family, who have been occupying the property as a residence, will continue to do so until spring, when it will be turned over to the purchaser.

Investigate Shooting.

The police are today investigating a shooting which is said to have occurred on West Kentucky Avenue last night about 10 o'clock in which one man was shot. James Whittemore, a plasterer, stated this morning that he saw at a distance, one man shoot at another and the victim fall.

EIGHTH DIVISION, FOURTH SQUADRON

Gunboat Paducah Is Placed
By Department.

Rear Admiral Converse Assigns Vessels Positions for Rapid Mobilization.

ATLANTIC FLEET PREPARED

Washington, Dec. 1.—The completed plans for the organization of the fighting vessels of the navy in two fleets for service on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States, in such manner that the whole force may be readily mobilized in cases of emergency, is announced by Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, in his annual report, made public today. The concentration of the battle fleet in the American waters and the assignment of all vessels therein to the command of one flag officer, will be completed about January 1 next. Rear Admiral Converse said that, owing to our responsibilities in the Philippines and the far east generally, an adequate naval force is needed in the Pacific ocean. The assignment of the ships of the battle line to Atlantic waters, and of cruisers and gunboats to Pacific waters, is in accordance with present strategic requirements.

The tentative assignment of vessels is as follows:

Atlantic Fleet—First squadron,
first division: Connecticut, Louisiana,
Maine, Missouri.

Second division: Georgia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia.

Second squadron, third division:
Alabama, Illinois, Kearsarge, Kentucky.

Fourth division: Ohio, Indiana,
Iowa.

Third squadron, fifth division:
Tennessee, Washington, St. Louis.

Sixth division: Columbia, Des Moines, Cleveland, Tacoma.

Fourth squadron, seventh division: Dixie, Marietta, Newport, Don Juan De Austria.

Eighth division: Prairie, Dubuque,
Paducah, Scorpion.

The seventh and eighth divisions will be held in reserve when their services are no longer required for police and patrol duty.

In reserve: Texas and Brooklyn.

Second torpedo flotilla: Hopkins,
Lawrence, Mac Donough, Whipple,
Truxtun, Worden.

Third torpedo flotilla: Wilkes,
Blakely, DeLong, Rodgers, Stockton.

Asiatic Fleet—First squadron, first division: West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Colorado.

Second division: Baltimore, Chattanooga, Galveston, Cincinnati.

Second squadron, third division:
Raleigh, Concord, Helena, Williamngton.

Fourth division: Callao, El Cano, Quiroa, Villalobos.

Coast defense: Monterey and Monadnock.

First torpedo flotilla: Bainbridge,
Barry, Dale, Chauncey, Decatur.

Pacific Fleet—First squadron:
first division: Charleston, Milwaukee, Albany, New Orleans.

Second division: Chicago, Yorktown, Boston, Princeton.

Fourth torpedo flotilla: Preble,
Paul Jones, Perry, Farragut, Golds-borough, Rowan.

At an early date it is expected that the Asiatic fleet and the Pacific squadron will be merged into one Pacific fleet under the supreme command of a flag officer of the highest rank, in the same manner as the Atlantic fleet is now organized. The bureau of navigation is making every endeavor to secure a battleship strength of 16 in the Asiatic fleet, divided into two squadrons, which will furnish every opportunity for the practice of battle tactics, and will enable the higher officers to acquire facility in the exercise of a large fleet, and in maneuvering one homogenous squadron against another.

The man that registers the most complaints about this life is almost always the one least anxious to try the life-to-come.

THANKSGIVING.

How oft, O Lord, do we forget to pay
Our tithe of thanks to Thee at morn and eve;
How oft the thankful word unsaid we leave
Before Life's laden table, day by day!

Thy golden gifts we grasp, and go our way—
So used are we Thy bounty to receive.

But now, for our ungratefulness we grieve,
And grace for the whole year are fain to say.

We thank Thee, Lord, for Thy great Fatherhood,
That doth with our child-waywardness forbear,
In token of Thy love's infinity.
We thank Thee for the Past, with all its good,
And for the Present, anchored in Thy care,
And for the Future, Thou alone canst see.
—Edith Hope Kinney in Outlook.

BRADSTREET'S

New York, Dec. 1.—Bradstreet's weekly trade report follows:

Trade has been active as never before at this time of year. The only cause of complaint, a reflection in itself of superabundant prosperity, is practically the country wide congestion in railway traffic, which affects grain movements, collections and retail trade in the northwest, delays of badly needed coal supplies in entire west, interference with the movement of cotton to market at the south and hampers manufacturing operations in iron and steel, textile, lumber and other trades.

Industry still shows the record activity, iron and steel leading with foreign iron coming in freely and being ordered largely for future delivery. Prices of most products hold all strength heretofore noted and in addition to iron and steel and cotton, raw wool has a firmer tone on good buying and higher markets. Interior markets are reported buying freely of commercial paper but collection in some sections drag, but money as a whole is still very firm with little easing looked for until the first of the year.

The labor situation is a very strong feature, there being additional advances in wages by textile mills iron and steel manufacturers and railroad companies.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week, 4,205,000 bushels, against 3,707,000 bushels this week of last year. For the past 22 weeks of the fiscal year 78, 795,000 bushels against 48,578,000 bushels in 1905.

Corn, exports 1,041,000 bushels against 1,644,000 bushels a year ago; for the fiscal year to date 18,352,000 bushels against 23,477,000 bushels in 1905.

November has been an eventful month on the rivers. At this time the high water record for this time of the year was broken and more rain fell during the month than in any November within ten years. Business has been fine and the holiday month will be better. All the regular packets are running and some new ones are preparing to begin operations.

Eight and eight-tenths inches of rain fell in November. The highest stage of the river here was on the 27th, the stage being 32.8. The low stage was on the 17th, a stage of 5.3. In the ten days between the two extremes, the river varied 27.5 feet. The river now is falling as rapidly as it rose, the gauge this morning registering a fall of 2.3, the stage being 28.4.

The barge of the C. & E. I. railroad will be let off the ways this afternoon and other barges taken out. The Electric will not be finished until December 18. The Clyde probably will not be taken out next week on account of repairs to the City of Memphis which was to take the Clyde's trade. The high water still has most of the ways submerged.

The John Hopkins arrived on time from Evansville this morning and left at 11 o'clock on the return trip. The Margaret left for the Cumberland river this morning after a tow of ties.

The Georgia Lee arrived this afternoon from Cincinnati bound south for Memphis. The City of Saltville will pass from St. Louis tonight, stopping here to receive and discharge freight, and then will proceed up the Tennessee river.

The Kentucky is at the wharf, receiving freight for the up trip to the Tennessee river this evening at 6 o'clock.

The Buttrick will arrive from Nashville Sunday night and wait until Monday noon before starting to Clarksville.

Official Forecasts.
The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, will continue to fall rapidly during the next several days. At Paducah and Cairo, will fall very rapidly during the next several days.

The Tennessee at Florence, will continue falling during the next several days. At Johnsonville, will continue falling rapidly during the next several days.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to slightly above Cairo, no material change during the next 24 hours.

Two papers were lying on the table for the signatures of those who attended the meeting of First and Second ward citizens last night. One of them was the roster of members of the organization. The other was a petition for a scheme, which certain parties are furthering. Nothing was said as to the significance of the papers, and several gentlemen when called on to go forward and add their names to the list of membership, walked up and signed both papers. Others were warned of what they were doing and read the documents. The probabilities are that neither list will ever be published in full, and some of those who signed the petition may unwittingly be lending their influence to a proposition which they do not endorse, or of the promoters of which they do not approve. People should read everything to which they affix their names.

DUST COLLECTOR BEING INSTALLED

Peanut Factory No Longer To
Be A Nuisance

Cause of Much Discomfort and Litteration Will Be Overcome
By Machine.

CANNOT SEE ACROSS A ROOM

Dust from the Southern Peanut factory on First street, which has been the cause of one injunction against the operation of the factory and one suit for damages, will be eliminated as a factor in the operation of that industry.

A mammoth dust collector arrived yesterday from Michigan and is being installed in the factory. This machine is 10 feet in diameter, 15 feet high and is the largest ever sent south of the Ohio river.

At present the dust from the peanuts almost is stifling to the employees and several months ago an injunction was asked for by the superintendent of the Paducah Water company whose plant is across the street from the peanut factory, to stop the operation of the factory if the dust continued to emerge from it. This dust settled in the machinery of the water plant, injuring it.

The dust collector will be placed on top of the peanut factory. Tubes will be run to every part of the large building with the ends, funneled shaped, and the ends will be placed at the parts of the machinery where the dust emerges.

The power will be suction. The dust will be sucked along with the air into the tubes, powerful fans will force it through the tubes up to the main dust reservoir, and here a process will separate the dust and the air, sending the air out at the top and leaving the dust in the bottom. From there the dust will slip through a tube to the river front below.

Anyone who goes into the peanut factory now wonders how the employees can live at all in such an atmosphere. Sometimes the air is so laden with dust, that you can see only the outline of a person across the room from you. The dust comes from the peanuts which are shipped here with much of the dirt still clinging to them.

PROSECUTIONS

FOR SHIPPING GAME BIRDS TO MARKET EXPECTED.

Grand Jury Will Investigate Charges
Against Paducah Dealers This Month.

Will the December grand jury take up the matter of game violations?

"You bet it will," was the declaration of a well known sportsman who has been summoned on the jury, a man who was instrumental in bringing to justice the first poachers several weeks ago before the game law expired.

"I have been keeping a close lookout and am convinced that there is something in the report that game is shipped to central Kentucky," he continued. "I will be a member of the grand jury. Even if my heart was not with the sentiment against the ruthless killing of birds for commercial purposes, I would feel it my duty to bring the matter up in the jury room, and I know who are charged with being guilty of shipping game to Louisville."

Attorney Jake Corbett, of Wickliffe, was in Paducah yesterday.

Relief for Rheumatism.

These damp days are hard on people afflicted with rheumatism, and relief is sought in all sorts of remedies.

There is no doubt in the minds of people who have suffered with the dread disease and those who have studied it closely that probably more relief can be secured from the Osteopathic treatment than any other.

Of course, some chronic cases won't yield to any treatment, but instances of cases of seven and eight years' standing yielding to three months' treatment can be cited. If you are suffering from rheumatism, I should like to discuss your case with you, examine you and tell you what I can do for you. With the dry hot air treatment that I use with osteopathy I am having very gratifying success with people you know well. Dr. G. B. Froese, 516 Broadway, Phone 1407.

Beware of the Physic You Take!

A physic often does more harm than good. It is not so much the physic, though, as it is the class of physic you take.

Most preparations sold as laxatives and cathartics are dangerous. They do accomplish what they are advertised to do—move the bowels—but they entirely upset the stomach, and often produce complications.

These preparations in the form of tablets and pills, usually gripe, cause nausea, and once you begin taking them a dangerous "physic habit" is formed. The bowels soon become unable to perform their functions without the unnatural aid of the "tablet," just like some people find it impossible to sleep without taking "sleeping powders."

A safe remedy for all stomach disorders is

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

It never creates a "habit." It does not operate on the stomach and bowels as most remedies do. The pepsin contained in it is a great digestor. It quickly relieves the distress of indigestion, without any of the dangers which come with the use of soda.

As a laxative it produces quick and pleasant results. No stomach is too weak to be benefited by it; no condition is beyond its power to cure. All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1.00.

Your money back if it doesn't benefit you.
Pepsin Syrup Co. Monticello, Ill.

THEATRICAL NOTES

The American stage, where she has scored so many triumphs, unusual preparations have been made to ensure its artistic as well as financial success. Local theater-goers are fully alive to the importance of Madame Modjeska's early appearance here.

Paul Gilmore.

The new college play, "At Yale," to be seen here shortly under the management of Jules Murry, has won the reputation all along the line as giving the best picture of a college life of any play that has been seen on the American stage. Dick Seeley, the hero and stroke of the varsity crew, is a real flesh and blood hero. He makes his points swiftly and surely and wins the boat race in the same unostentatious manner in which he gains the affection of his classmates, and the hand of the girl he loves. Paul Gilmore, who plays the part, is physically superbly fitted for the role. A born athlete, he trained for the part all last summer, and looks the conquering hero, every inch of him.

"Kathleen," the new play by H. V. Esmond, announced as the next vehicle for Ethel Barrymore, has been shelved and rumor has it that her first great success, Fitch's "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines," will be revived in New York in January, following the engagement of Ellen Terry at the Empire theater.

It is practically settled that Maude Adams will act for the first time in London next July and in a new play that Mr. Barrie is finishing for her. It will be rehearsed in America in the spring and the company will be largely American. Meanwhile she goes from Boston in December westward to San Francisco.

Arrangements have just been consummated between Klaw & Erlanger and the management of the Prince of Wales theater, London, for the transference of "The Free Lance" in its entirety to that house to open the third week in April. Sousa is popular in London and Joseph Cawthorn, who is the main factor of the comic interest in "The Free Lance," made a great hit there several years ago in the support of Alice Nielsen in "The Fortune Teller."

Harrison Hunter will replace John Blair as Robert Waring in "The Shilamite" when Miss Lena Ashwell goes on tour.

In addition to her present Shakespearean repertoire, Viola Allen may appear as Constance in "King John" next season. Her further plans contemplate a revival of "The School for Scandal."

"Caught in the Rain," a farce by William Collier and Grant Stewart, was produced successfully in Washington last week, with the authors and Nanette Comstock in the cast.

Paul Potter has dramatized the novel "Letters of a Self-Made Merchant to His Son." The play has been secured for William H. Crane, and he will be seen as Old Gorgon Graham, following the present revival of "She Stoops to Conquer."

Grace George has begun rehearsal of Ibsen's "The Lady from the Sea," which was recently given in Paris by Mme. Bernhardt. Miss George intends to give special performances of the play during her present season in Channing Pollock's "Clothes."

Manager Roberts has booked Tim Murphy for Christmas day, transferring the date from January 19. Murphy is a great favorite with Paducah theater-goers. This time he will present one of his best comedies, "A Corner in Coffee."

Henry Dixey, in "The Man on the Box," has asked for a date February 8.

Frank Daniels will be here December 14.

CHAPTER III.

WHILE Louis had been affording his court which he had openly stated to be the highest of human pleasures, the sight of the guard outside had been very busy passing on the titles of the numerous applicants for admission and exchanging usually a smile or a few words of greeting with them, for his frank, handsome face was a well known one at the court. Three years ago he had been an unknown subaltern bush fighting with Algonquins and Iroquois in the wilds of Canada. An exchange had brought him back to France and into the regiment of Picardy, but the lucky chance of having seized the bridle of the king's horse one winter's day in Fontainebleau when the creature was plunging within a few yards of a deep gravel pit had done for him what ten campaigns might have failed to accomplish.

A gentleman very richly dressed in black and silver advanced, as the door opened, with the assured air of a man whose rights are beyond dispute. Captain de Catinat, however, took a quick step forward, and barred him off from the door.

"I am very sorry, M. de Vivonne," said he, "but you are forbidden the presence."

"Forbidden the presence! I? You are mad!" He stepped back with gray face and staring eyes, one shaking hand half raised in protest.

"I assure you that it is his order."

"If I could have one word with the king."

"Unfortunately, monsieur, it is impossible."

The angry nobleman stamped his foot and stared at the door as though he had some thoughts of forcing a passage. Then, turning on his heel, he hastened away down the corridor with the air of a man who has come to a decision.

"There, now," grumbled de Catinat to himself, as he pulled his thick dark mustache, "he is off to make some fresh mischief. I'll have his sister here presently, as like as not, and a pleasant little choice between breaking my orders and making an enemy of her for life. By my faith, here is a lady, as I feared. Ah, heaven be praised, it is a friend and not a foe. Good morning, Mlle. Nanon."

"Good morning, Captain de Catinat." The new comer was a tall, graceful brunette, her fresh face and sparkling black eyes the brighter in contrast with her plain dress.

"A note from Mme. de Mantesmon to the king. You will hand it to him, will you not?"

"Certainly, mademoiselle. And how is madame, your mistress?"

"Oh, her director has been with her all the morning, and his talk is very, very good, but it is also very, very sad. We are not very cheerful when M. de Godet has been to see us. But I forget, monsieur is a Huguenot and knows nothing of directors."

"Oh, but I do not trouble about such differences."

"Ah, if monsieur could talk to Mme. de Mantesmon a little! She would convert him."

"I would rather talk to Mlle. Nanon, but I—"

"Oh!" There was an exclamation, a whisk of dark skirts, and the sourette disappeared down a side passage.

Along the broad lighted corridor was gliding a very stately and beautiful lady, tall, graceful and exceedingly haughty. The lady was past her first youth, it is true, but the magnificent curves of her queenly figure, the purity of her complexion, the brightness of her deep-lashed blue eyes and the clear regularity of her features enabled her still to claim to be the most handsome as well as the most sharp-tongued woman in the court of France.

"Ah, it is Captain de Catinat!" said Mme. de Montesmon, with a smile.

"Your humble servant, madame."

"I am fortunate in finding a friend here, for there has been some ridiculous mistake this morning."

"I am concerned to hear it."

"It was about my brother, M. de Vivonne. It is almost too laughable to mention, but he was actually refused admission to the lever."

"It was my misfortune to have to refuse him, madame."

"You, Captain de Catinat? And by what right?" She had drawn up her superb figure, and her large blue eyes were blazing with indignant astonishment.

"The king's order, madame."

"The king! Is it likely that the king would cast a public slight upon my family? From whom had you this preposterous order?"

"Direct from the king through Bonnets."

"Absurd! Do you think that the king would venture to exclude a Mortemart through the mouth of a valet? Go, tell the king that I am here and would have a word with him."

"Impossible, madame. I have been forbidden to carry a message."

"To carry any message?"

"Any from you, madame."

"Come, captain, you improve. If only needed this insult to make the thing complete. You may carry a message to the king from any adventures, from any decayed goodness—she laughed shrilly at her description of her rival—but none from Françoise de Mortemart, Marquise de Montesmon."

"Such are my orders, madame. It pains me deeply to be compelled to carry them out."

"You may spare your protestations, captain. You may yet find that you have every reason to be deeply pained. For the last time, do you refuse to carry my message?"

"Such are my orders, madame. It pains me deeply to be compelled to carry them out."

GREAT LITERARY FORGER EXPIRES

The Rev. W. D. Mahan Most Remarkable Man.

Acts of Pilate, Supposed Translation Published by Him on Return From Rome.

FRAUD EXPOSED AFTER TIME.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The Rev. W. D. Mahan was the author of one of the most extraordinary forgeries ever attempted. The facts are stated as follows:

"The death of Rev. W. D. Mahan, which has just occurred at Boonville, directs attention to a most remarkable literary controversy which involved a church in turmoil. Mr. Mahan was a Cumberland Presbyterian minister of good standing in the church. He was an interesting speaker, with no special pretensions to scholarship. In 1885 he left Cooper county, Missouri, where he had been preaching, stating that he was going abroad and would spend some time in Rome. Months passed and the Boonville Advertiser printed letters from him telling what he had seen and found in the Eternal City. Shortly after his return to Boonville he published a most curious book. It was a volume of some 200 pages purporting to be a translation from a manuscript which he had found in the Vatican library in Rome and translated into English. He gave to the book the title of 'Acts of Pilate' ('The Acts of Pilate') and the manuscript, the account of the finding of which was given with much circumstantial detail, purporting to tell of the trial of Jesus before Pilate by a writing of the time giving an official record of the proceedings of the court."

"Then people began to wonder that this country preacher should have stumbled at the Vatican upon a manuscript of such transcendent importance. Rev. Dr. James A. Quarles, then of Lexington, Mo., now of Washington and Lee University, challenged the accuracy of the statements in the book. William E. Curtis, then, as now, correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, took the matter up, investigated it at Rome, and pronounced the manuscript spurious and the alleged translation a forgery."

"Mr. Mahan denied the charges, asserted the truth of what he had written. A church trial was called. The New Lebanon presbytery, of which he was a member, tried the case at length. Evidence was introduced to show that Mr. Mahan had never been to Rome, but that he had spent the month he was absent from Missouri on a farm in Illinois. The editor of the Advertiser showed that the letters that paper had printed were postmarked at a little town in Illinois. Mr. Mahan claimed that they had been sent there to be re-mailed. The verdict of the presbytery was practically unanimous, however, against Mr. Mahan. He was suspended from the ministry for two years. After the suspension he made no effort to return to the pastorate, but lived quietly at the home of his son-in-law, a hotel keeper in Boonville. He declined to make any further statement regarding the part he had taken in the preparation of the book except to say when it was told him that the literary world pronounced it a forgery."

"Well, I have been a much deceived and a much persecuted man."

Mahan's Book.

Mr. Mahan's book was published in Philadelphia and attained quite a large circulation. It was generally received as a fortunate discovery of historical evidence confirming the scripture account of the trial and crucifixion of our Lord. Many newspapers described it as an invaluable contribution to the human knowledge. As I remember Dr. Mahan explained in his preface that the original manuscript had been found by himself in the library of the mosque of St. Sofia in Constantinople, where it formed a part of the remains of the archives of the Greek church handed down from time of Constantine. Knowing that there is no library connected with the mosque of St. Sofia and no literary archives of the Greek church, after consultation with Dr. Friedland, then in the congressional library at Washington and now in the University of Pennsylvania, I wrote to Dr. Andrew D. White, then United States minister to Turkey. Dr. White replied promptly, confirming my own recollections, and further said that no such person as Rev. Mr. Mahan, of Boonville, Mo., had ever been seen in Constantinople by anyone connected with the legation or consulate or Robert College or by any of the missionaries or the representatives of the American Board of Foreign Missions. It was scarcely conceivable that an American Protestant clergyman would visit

Constantinople without calling upon the representatives of the government or the members of his profession.

The preface to the book also stated that the manuscript had been translated by the linguists in the library of the Vatican, and that the original manuscript had been deposited there with the keeper of the archives.

A letter from Father Ehrle, perfect of the library of the Vatican, stated that Rev. W. D. Mahan was entirely unknown there and that no person connected with the library had ever seen or heard of the 'Acts of Pilate' or any such manuscript. Nor had Father Ehrle ever heard of the publication.

I then wrote to Boonville to ascertain something about the author of the forgery, and a complete account of the movements and career of Rev. Mr. Mahan was obtained, which confirmed the theory that his book was a fake. Nevertheless, it is almost incredible that a country preacher, with no special pretensions to scholarship, as his obituary states, should have produced so plausible a forgery and it would be interesting to know how it was done. But so far as I have been able to learn, to his very last day, Dr. Mahan insisted upon the truth of his original story that the manuscript had been discovered by him in the library at St. Sofia, and had been translated at the Vatican in Rome.

TO WOMEN

A Chronic Sufferer Cured After 15 Years—Reported by Dr. I. J. Mizer, Canton, O.

Patient: Mrs. J. C. H.—Age 37 years, suffering from excess uric acid, causing painful and irregular menstruation and barrenness of 18 years standing. During recent years suffered fearfully from backache, pain during periods, and general physical weakness.

Patient had been unable to attend to her household duties for five years; had no appetite, was extremely nervous and habitually constipated.

Treatment: Ordered a hot sitz bath twice each week and prescribed a teaspoonful of LIFE PLANT after each meal and at bed time. Lax Root Tablets used to keep the bowels open. Four days before the expected flow this dose was taken every three hours and continued all during the period which was almost normal and without pain.

Two months of this treatment showed marked improvement.

At the end of three months the patient had recovered normal health, and gained in weight. An examination showed the generative organs to be in a perfectly healthy condition due to LIFE PLANT having dissolved the cause of most women's diseases—uric acid.

(Signed) I. J. Mizer, M. D., Canton, Ohio.

This is one of many sufferers from menstrual troubles and women's weaknesses that the leading physicians have cured by LIFE PLANT.

Any ailing woman may obtain full information of LIFE PLANT and a valuable booklet on Good Health by writing to the LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio. Write now before you lay this paper down and forget the address.

VICE-ADMIRAL MAY BE REVIVED RANK

Rear Admiral Converse Has Recommended It.

Rivers and Harbors Committee Holds Long Session on Thanksgiving Day.

POST OFFICE BOX RENTALS.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The grade of vice admiral will be revived in the navy if the navy department adopts the recommendations made by Rear Admiral Converse, chief of bureau of navigation, in his annual report. He says at least two vice admirals should be created for the commanders of the Atlantic and Asiatic fleets, who will soon have under them subordinate rear admirals and a large number of ships.

Rivers and Harbors.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives violated Thanksgiving traditions by working all day. The meeting was called by Congressman Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the committee, and its object was to start the ball rolling for a river and harbor bill at the coming session of congress, in which Kentucky is especially interested.

Aside from the regular supply bills one of the most important subjects that will come before congress this winter will be river and harbor legislation. It is conceded by common consent that there will be a river and harbor bill.

"I estimate that the bill will carry a total appropriation of between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000," said Chairman Burton.

Many congressmen and senators are hungry for "pork," and there will be a great rush to "get in on" the river and harbor bill. The recent years in which river and harbor bills were passed were 1896, 1899, 1902 and 1905. In 1902 a bill was passed carrying a total of $60,000,000. The bill passed in 1903 carried $33,000,000.

Uniform Rates for Postal Box.

Washington, Dec. 1.—An order has been issued by Post Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, effective January 1 looking toward the adoption of uniform rates of rent for boxes in postoffices. The revised rates will affect every postoffice in the United States. The new schedule adopts as the minimum rate for small call boxes in small four-class postoffices the amount (ten cents per quarter), now generally charged. From this figure the rates advance, according to a carefully graduated scale, until they reach a charge for small lock boxes, at one postoffice. (New York City), of four dollars per quarter, the amount now charged at that office.

It is not the department's intention to make any general increase in box rents. While some rates will be revised others will be considerably lowered, the aim being to correct inequalities, and at the same time to produce an average approximate to that of the rates now in force.

More Votes for Hager.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 1.—A report of the vote cast in the governor's race in the recent Democratic primary, made here, in preparing to publish the result of the primary, increases the total vote of Judge S. W. Hager by 1,000 votes, and increases his majority over General Hays from 30,891 to 31,881. According to this tabulation, Judge Hager received 87,115 votes instead of 86,115, giving him a total of three votes less than were cast for the Hon. South Trimble, who received the greatest number of votes of any candidate before the primary. Ten days before the primary Judge Hager estimated that his majority would be 31,460 votes, thus missing the exact vote by less than 500.

Fantana Tonight.

The work of Mr. William Blaisdell, who is portraying the character of the bogus count in the new musical Japanese-American comedy "Fantana," has made a decided hit wherever "Fantana" ever appeared. Mr. Blaisdell is a finished performer and his work is thoroughly enjoyed as he portrays all the characteristics of a hot-headed Frenchman and being given ample opportunity the theatre-going public of this city will, no doubt, enjoy his performance very much. Mr. Charles Swickard, who is portraying the character of Commodore Everett, a retired naval officer, in the new musical comedy "Fantana," has made the success of his career in this part. Mr. Swickard's portrayal of the character is true to life. In fact, Mr. Swickard's acting tends much to making "Fantana" the great success that it is.

"The Land of Nod."

"The Land of Nod," a musical fantasy in a prologue and two acts, by Adams & Hough, with music by Mr. Joseph Howard, as presented under the management of the Will J. Block Amusement company, will be the attraction at The Kentucky theatre Monday, December 3. The prologue shows a garden filled with flowers. Here children are at play, but they soon withdraw, all but one of them, "Bonnie," who sinks to sleep beneath a rose bush, and the change to the first act discloses her in the "Land of Nod." In this mysterious sleep land with its many strange features, a river of peppermint, a house of cards, a candy bridge, balloon trees and mushroom palaces, Bonnie starts various adventures. She encounters the Jack of Hearts and his card relatives, the Weatherman and his assistants, who make all kinds of good, bad and horrible weather while you wait; the April Fool, the Welsh Rarebit, the Sandman and his pal, Knockout Drops, who are always causing trouble, and the Man in the Moon, who is the merriest of all the queer people. The Nightmare Palace of the Land of Dreams is entered, and the plot begun in the preceding act is carried to a conclusion as logically as ever should be in the realm of sleep. A large number of popular entertainers, including the well known comedienne, Ursula March, who will be seen in the character of a Broadway chorus girl. Anna McNabb, as "Bonnie," Adele Oswald as "Jack of Hearts," Knox Wilson in his original character of "April Fool," Neil McNeill as "Welsh Rarebit," John E. Young as "Man in the Moon" and other characters by George Fox, George McKissack, Emily Huff and others. The sale of seats opens Monday, December 3.

Miss Courtenay Morgan.

The management of The Kentucky takes pleasure in announcing the appearance of the distinguished artist Miss Courtenay Morgan, on Saturday, matinee and night. On this occasion Miss Morgan will present Madame Sarah Bernhardt's remarkable stirring and beautiful drama, "A Woman of Mystery." This is one of the strongest romantic dramas ever staged and was produced by Madame Bernhardt for 450 nights at the Renaissance theater, Paris. It is of intense interest and delicately shaded. Between sunshine and rippling fountain with its pretty love scenes in the first act and the dark and somber convent with its accompaniment of supple emotion in the fourth act, there is wide divergence of dramatic treatment, giving Miss Morgan ample opportunity to display the histrionic powers of which she is so singularly endowed. Messrs. Walters & Way who are responsible for the production have save neither time nor expense in the presentation. The scenery is painted after exact sketches of that used by Madame Bernhardt and the wardrobe is made from the same plates used by her. Miss Morgan's gowns alone are said to have cost $2,500.

The Umpire.

"The Umpire," which will be seen at The Kentucky on January 3, is one of the advance guard of the common sense idea in musical comedy, that is to say; its authors are among the first to realize that the day is over for utter inanities in the theater, no matter what the style of entertainment, and that the public is demanding more substance and less meaningless piffle in their musical amusement. For instance, while the plot of "The Umpire" is out of the ordinary and treats of strange and unusual happenings, it never descends to the level of the impossible and very seldom even to the other limits of improbability. Fred Mace is the leading comedian, and the famed "brothers" are in the company.

Modjeska.

Surrounded by what is practically an all-star company of players, carrying a wealth of magnificent scenery and costumes, and traveling in a private Pullman car, Madame Helena Modjeska will soon make her last visit to this city. As this season will mark her farewell appearance upon
