THE TRI-WEEKLY NEW ERA

SAURDAY, JUNE 19, 1922.

THE MULE-SHOE CURVE.

As long as the railroad, for over 100 miles of its course, meekly traversed the valleys of the foot of the mountains...

Just before the daily passenger train is due from the north, there issues from the engine house a large and powerful locomotive...

To understand their conversation, we should know something about them. Do you ever realize, gentle reader, that the magazine or paper in your hand, at the wide window of the drawing-room car...

Suppose the grimy fellow in overalls, sitting in the "cab" of the great engine, with his hand on the throttle...

Between the average Mexican who dwells under the American flag and the average American pioneer, there is apt to be but little affection.

It was a little dull at times in the "new town," and if one had no liking for drinking and gambling, he might find the evenings long.

supper at a restaurant called, with savage irony, "Delmonico of the Mountains."

"Let you to ten, Jack," said he, "before he opens his mouth, that this young fellow's got something serious to tell me."

"Well, I should say so," said Stanley. He told his story rapidly and concisely. The Mexican scowled, but he said a grudge against Tom Lewis.

"I told him so," interrupted Burke. It was Jose and Carlos, and they were the ones who had been arrested by the police.

"Only throwing his train off the track to avoid arrest," said Stanley. They gave all the details of the plan, as discussed in his hearing, and designated the place which they had selected where they would draw the spike from the rail.

The expression of his hearers' faces, as they listened, boded ill for the future welfare of the town.

Personal.

Richard Seales, Evansville, is in the city. Mrs. W. T. Radford was in the city yesterday. G. L. Street, of Elton, was in the city Thursday. Mrs. D. D. Clark has returned from an extended visit to northern Kentucky. Misses Betty Hart and Phoebe Brest, of Lexington, are visiting relatives near the city. John Feland went to Morgantown yesterday with Misses Cora Palmer and Mary Feland. Mrs. W. H. Henson left yesterday for Cincinnati. She will probably sail for Europe next month. Mrs. Geo. V. Lander and mother-in-law, Mrs. Wm. B. Lander, left Friday for New York, where they will spend several days visiting relatives. Mr. Fred H. Perry, of Louisville, who will make his home in Los Vigas, New Mexico, came down to see his sister, Mrs. Montgomery May, last Wednesday.

Around Town.

Mrs. Martha Wood received a fall Wednesday with severely sprained her ankle. Breathitt & Sittler, attorneys, have located their office into the Hopper block next door to H. A. Phelps & Son.

Another "Hugger" yesterday. The crowd went out by two and three to eat spring chicken and drink lemonade. George W. Jolly has filed a suit against Davies county for a fee of $25,000 for services as attorney in several real estate cases.

Two of the pastors of the city unite in asking that the pastors of the various churches, together with the superintendents, meet at Bro. Wick's study, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Yesterday morning a delapidated old tramp staggered into the lot opposite Smith's grocery store and fell asleep. The boys got one of the transparencies used in last night's procession bearing the letters "L. & N." and erected it over his sleeping form.

Mr. Vanmeter, of Elizabethtown, has received the appointment as day operator at the L. & N. depot here, as an additional force to the office. Mr. Porter Smith, who formerly held the position was promoted to the clerkship in the freight department. Both are wide-awake, energetic and lively business men.

I have the largest and best selected stock of men's, boys' and youths' clothing, latest style, cheaper than any other house in this city. Call on M. LIPSTINE.

Early Closing Hours.

In consequence of the oppressive warmth of the weather and prevalent slowness of trade at this season, several of the leading Main street houses have determined to close their places of business daily, Saturday nights excepted, at 5:30 p. m. on Sunday, until September 1. This will give the merchants and their clerks a grateful and wholesome breathing spell without inconveniencing the public. The move is a good one, and seems worthy of imitation.

The Todd county primary election got into such a muddle that it finally fell into the hands of the County Commission. The committee threw out the 31 illegal votes, and the 133 doubtful ones were permitted to remain on the returns. Then, after a count, the following were declared the nominees: C. G. Christian, Circuit Clerk; W. H. Wells County Clerk; J. N. Cartwright, Sheriff; Ben. T. Perkins, Jr., County Judge; J. H. Rickman, Jailor; H. C. Miller, Assessor; J. E. Byars, County Attorney; J. E. Browning, Surveyor; and J. A. Davis, County Superintendent.

Death of Two Estimable Ladies.

Death has reaped a rich harvest this week. Thursday two of our most valued citizens were called to their reward. The gloom of sorrow is cast over the city, and mourning friends join in the grief of two desolated homes. Mrs. J. W. L. Smith, the wife of our esteemed railroad agent, passed away Thursday morning after a weeks illness. About a week ago she was stricken with paralysis and never again left her room. She was a woman of kind instincts. A noble christian, affectionate mother and kind friend, she leaves a void in the hearts of those who knew her. May the hand of Providence sustain the afflicted household.

But a short time after the death of Mrs. Smith, the news reached us that Mrs. Judge J. D. Tyler had passed away. She had been a sufferer for several years, but in her affliction her friendships of her active life were but brightened and sanctified. She was a conscientious christian and a lady of the highest womanly qualifications. Those who knew her best will miss her most—and those who have enjoyed the sunshine of her life will feel that a kind tender, generous, noble woman has gone to her reward. These two ladies, who have contributed by their lives so much to the society of our town, will be laid away with the universal conviction that two saints have arisen to eternal glory. The funeral of Mrs. Smith took place at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock yesterday evening, and Mrs. Tyler at the Presbyterian church at 3:30 o'clock. Hosts of sorrowing friends followed the remains of each to the cemetery where their dust shall sleep under the sentimentality of angels.

The Blackberry Pickers.

It is blackberry time. Breaths there the boy with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said, "This is my own sweet blackberry patch." "This juicy berry I will snatch, Nor care one cent for the owner's catch." It is doubtful if a boy so old, common place and dead to the joys of appetite and the delights of adventure ever lived in Kentucky. For what the wild turkey is among American game birds or the deer among American beasts of the chase, the blackberry, the jet and juicy fruit of the bramble, is among American berries. The wild strawberry is not to be ignored but it is too partial and exclusive, and too limited in its habitat to suit the wants of American democracy. The blackberry flourishes with the same luxuriance in the warm-fence rows of the far West or the old fields of Virginia, and with never failing punctuality offers its black diamonds in full clusters every summer to the million. "If reasons were as plentiful as blackberries," quoth Falstaff, using a symbol of abundance. Reasons might be as plentiful as blackberries, but they certainly never are so good. Ask the school boy who seizes great clusters of fruit glistening like polished brilliants, rushes into the thickest of the patch to seize them heedless of bleeding fingers or torn shirt. Ask the careful housekeeper as she takes from the oven the delicious blackberry tart baked to a golden brown, or fills her jars with delicious jam, or corals the jug of cordial whose healing virtues shall be a potent remedy for all the surrounding neighborhood when it doubles in the throes of stomach cramp or the pangs of colic. The lines of a busy berry picker, which file in from the highways and by-ways deserve patronage as public benefactors. They earn their small coins richly and worthily. Empty their overflowing buckets and baskets and let them return home rejoicing.

Our Live Advertisers.

Honest John Moynan is one of our best dry goods merchants. He has established an extensive trade, and the popularity of his goods and the low prices at which he sells them give him assurance of increased patronage. He is always glad to have his friends call on him.

C. P. Noland & Co. is one of our best grocery firms. They keep an excellent line of goods and are doing a big business. Their bar is fitted up in the most attractive style. They are constantly increasing in popularity and will soon become one of the leaders in the grocery business in Southern Kentucky.

The firm of Wilson & Galbreath, confectioners, is probably as well known and is essential as any in the city. The splendid line of goods they keep has made their house the most popular trade resort, and they are doing a commanding business in their line. They keep a full supply of fancy groceries, candies, fruits, cigars and tobacco, and their ice cream parlors are superbly fitted up. Give them a call.

Perkins & Holt offer groceries now cheaper than they were ever sold before in this city. They carry a full line of groceries, vegetables and eggs. Fresh but, the best on the lot. They kindly invite the public to call upon them as they will take pleasure in serving them and try to make it to their interest to call again.

One of our most active young men is Mr. Chas. West, the agent for the White and Domestic sewing machines. He has been in the business a long time and knows all about it. He is prepared to do all kinds of repairing work on short notice. Give him a call.

Mr. Geo. O. Thompson's furniture store is one of the most complete establishments in Southern Kentucky. All grades of furniture sold on this market are kept constantly on hand. His stock of funeral furniture is complete in every respect.

Andrew Hall is our dealer in granite and marble monuments. His workmanship is not surpassed and he sells his goods at the lowest prices. He is always glad to see his friends at his place of business, corner of 8th and Virginia streets.

Forbes & Bro. are doing a tremendous business in their planning mill. They have been one of the largest contractors for years and most of the building which has been done in our city for a long time has been accomplished under their direction. They are also dealers in agricultural implements and sell the Minneapolis binders. They manufacture and have a big run on the Excelsior wagon. Their planning mill is one of the largest in the state. They are prepared to do all kinds of work.

Chas. McKee & Co. conduct one of the largest grocery businesses in the city. Their trade in fancy groceries and staple and heavy goods is quite large. They also keep the best brands of whiskeys, cigars and tobacco. They have the confidence of the public as straight forward, energetic business men.

Mr. J. D. Russell is the proprietor of one of our most popular dry goods houses. He knows how to buy and always keeps a most attractive and desirable line of goods. He enjoys a large trade. He sells his goods low and his customers can always feel assured of getting the best quality of goods.

Metz & Timothy, though lately in the field, are doing their share of the dry goods business. They have a stock complete in every respect. This firm is one of the largest and most popular in Nashville, their house here being a permanent establishment. They are building up an immense trade as their goods are of the best quality and sold at the lowest prices.

One of the most complete harness and saddlery houses in Kentucky is kept by Mr. John W. Poff. Mr. Poff is a practical workman. He knows his business, and can and will give satisfaction. His business is constantly increasing because of the public in his goods and in his work.

It is useless to mention that one of the best grocery houses in the city is kept by Mr. J. G. Hord. He keeps a first-class line of goods and you can always feel assured of getting your money's worth by dealing with him.

Mr. M. D. Steele is the agent here for the Walter A. Wood harvesting machines. The excellence of these machines is well established. Mr. Steele is a thorough mechanic and a gentleman of integrity, and as an agent he is one of the best in the country.

Col. and Mrs. James F. Buckner Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

From the Courier-Journal, June 17. Col. James F. Buckner and wife were the recipients of many congratulations yesterday, at the family residence near Second and St. Catherine streets, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The aged couple were married at Hopkinsville in 1836, and both are now enjoying good health. The maiden name of Mrs. Buckner was Gabriella Hawkins. Col. Buckner is seventy-two years old, and his wife is sixty-seven years. They have three grown children, all living—Lewis Buckner, Jr., James F. Buckner, Jr., and Mrs. Thos. Speed. Col. Buckner is one of the best known Republicans of this State. He was born in Christian county, and graduated at the Transylvania Law School, at Lexington. He represented his county in the Legislature from 1839 to 1859, at the former date being the youngest member of the House. He represented the House of Representatives. During the war he was an intense Unionist, and raised a regiment, which was captured by the Confederates before it had fairly entered the service. Col. Buckner was also a Lincoln Presidential delegate, and aided materially in nominating the "Great Liberator." For the past twenty years Col. Buckner has lived in Louisville. He prospered law for a while, and finally was appointed to the office of Collector of Internal Revenue at this point. His name was afterwards appointed to the same office. During late years Col. Buckner has retired to private life, and is now enjoying a happy, green old age.

TECHNIQUE.

Nashville Union 16th Inst.: It is believed that planters having learned a lesson from sad experience will endeavor to produce a better article for the next season. There is already a sufficiency of poor stuff on the market to last a number of years, and it is clear that unless they turn out a good, well handled and marketable product it will be difficult to get it off their hands at the cost of producing it.

WHEAT MARKET.

In Chicago on the 17th June wheat closed at 73 1/2.

Farmers were gladdened yesterday with bright and glorious harvest weather. The country resounds with the rattle of the reapers and song of the shockers.

The Nashville American of the 16th says: From the best information obtainable about 80 cents seems to be the highest figure, while some dealers insist that the market price will not exceed 75c for the first receipts.
