ROAD WORK A FEATURE AT

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce has "started something" according to reports made by several members at the November meeting held last Tuesday night and the thing "started" is an awakening on the subject of good roads. Everybody wants them now.

And it all started when Squire Hagler secured a number of cars of gravel from the I. C. and which the Chamber of Commerce has been putting on the State Line Road east of town.

This started the Dukedom people to wanting a good road all the way to Fulton, and they called a big meeting of their people for Thursday night, when the community will be organized to gravel the road at least as far as Oak Grove, by the residents of Dukedom. Then the people living between Oak Grove and the end of the present gravel "got busy" and are organizing to cover the intermediate section as far as the point where it is hoped that Hickman county will build a levee to raise the grade so as to be above high water. If this is done, there will be a fine road all the way from Dukedom to town.

With the gravel not needed on the east end of State Line, the road west of town along State line will be graveled for 1,500 or 2,000 feet as far as the gravel will reach. In both sections of improved road the farmers living, either directly on the road improved or who use the same, have been most enthusiastic in furnishing the teams and trucks needed to haul the material from the railway to the roadbed.

L. A. Winstead, vice president, called the meeting to order Thursday night, in the absence of ex-president Kramer, resigned. Owing to the rather unpleasant weather the attendance was not large, but the few present made up in interest what was lacking in numbers.

A committee composed of Walter Butt, Joe Davis, Joe Browder, Amos Stubblefield, E. C. Hardesty and Squire Hagler was appointed to attend the meeting Thursday night at Dukedom and offer any assistance needed in their road plan. Jim Si Cavender has donated all the gravel needed for this road, and has been very active in arousing enthusiasm for the project.

One surprising feature of the movement is that a number of Dukedom women have organized to put in sixty days on the road, that is, the women will supply a team and a woman driver for sixty days. This move has put the men on their mettle, and the road is sure to be built.

Mr. Gus Bard made a report of the United Charities Association work since its organization last fall. This report showed some 70 persons cared for and a balance of cash on hand that will partially meet demands for the coming winter, but it was deemed wise to make solicitations from those who, for various reasons, did not contribute last year. No one who gave last year will be asked this time.

In making his report, Mr. Bard paid a well deserved tribute to Squire Hagler for the hearty cooperation of the Fiscal court, through the squire, in all cases where needed.

Mayor Shankle was present, and endorsed all the road work being done and other work of the Chamber.

Mr. Davis stated that the State Road Commission had extended the time of the contractor on the Fulton-Hickman highway, and unless very extremely bad weather should prevent, this road will be completed this fall, as the contractor has stated that he has a large number of trucks at work and they would haul from early light until too dark to see to distribute the material.

Mr. Bard also said that as he had been appointed again to take charge of the Red Cross Tuberculosis stamp sale, that he asked the same splendid report this year as had been given in the past. The drive will be put on Thanksgiving week.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE IN SESSION AT PARIS, TENN.

Bishop DuBose Presiding—Recently Dedicated Two Churches in Fulton County

The eighty-seventh annual session of the Memphis conference of the M. E. church, South, convened at Paris, Tenn., Wednesday.

Bishop H. M. DuBose, president of the Memphis, Holston and Tennessee conferences, is presiding. The Bishop was appointed in charge of Methodist interests in Tennessee at the quadrennial session of the general conference at Memphis last May. During the previous quadrennium he was in charge of the conferences in the far west. Bishop DuBose has recently returned from an extended archaeological expedition in Egypt and Palestine, where he participated in the uncovering of the ruins of ancient Shechem and other Biblical cities.

Last week Bishop DuBose was a visitor in Fulton, coming here to dedicate the new church building at Palestine, near the city, and the new church building in Riceville, adjoining the city.

Friday afternoon he was an honored guest of the Fulton Woman's club at their meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, when he addressed the members with an interesting, inspirational and educational talk on arts in the galleries of Florence, Italy. In the evening he addressed an audience at the First Methodist church, reviewing his travels abroad, which was entwined in one of the most interesting sermons heard in this city in recent years.

Rev. Freeman Preached Farewell Sermon Sunday

Rev. J. V. Freeman closed his conference year as pastor of the First Methodist church of Fulton, Sunday, and preached his farewell sermon before leaving for the annual conference at Paris. This is the third year that Rev. Freeman has served as pastor of the Fulton church, and he carries a splendid report to conference. The official board of the church unanimously ask that Rev. Freeman be returned. Their recommendation finds an echo, not only among the large membership of the church, but also with the service clubs and entire citizenship of Fulton.

Rev. Freeman is one of the strong men of the conference, is a good pastor and citizen. The people of Fulton of all denominations will hope that he be returned for the coming year and that he and his estimable wife remain as citizens with us.

To Our Correspondents.

Next week we especially want all of our correspondents to send us a nice news letter so it will reach us Monday evening if possible on Nov. 15.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Rev. J. V. Freeman, Mrs. R. M. Redfearn, Rev. A. N. Walker and J. J. Owen are attending the M. E. Conference at Paris, Tenn., as delegates from the local church.

Lest We Forget

THE NATION CELEBRATES ARMISTICE DAY

On November 11, 1918, eight years ago, in a little village in northern France, an armistice was signed, forever ending the deadliest conflict in the annals of recorded time. A weary civilization became impressed with the futility of its continuation.

In the stillness of peace which pervades the atmosphere we pause in silent retrospection, and offer thanks to a merciful Providence who has decreed that peace should reign again. Today we live in the memories of glorious deeds of heroism, valor and exploits. We are proud of those who donned the khaki and the blue, carrying the standard of victory on land and sea, wholly undaunted and undeterred by the horror of the twentieth century's outstanding test of power.

Coal Prices Going Up.

From all indications the coal situation is becoming acute. Prices are being boosted, attributed to the British demand on our products, and it may be that war-time prices ranging from $9 to $12 per ton will prevail before the winter is over. Those who did not buy their coal early are experiencing the necessity of paying the increase and there is no way to tell how high it will go.

Much of the coal mined in West Virginia, East and West Kentucky and Illinois is being exported to Europe and unless the British strike is ended soon, operators may decline to enter into contracts for future delivery at any price. Operators are of the opinion that prices will rise steadily as long as the British strike continues.

Some who are not acquainted with the coal situation in foreign countries may think that local coal dealers are taking advantage of them in charging higher prices now. When the truth of the matter is, they are paying more for coal and making less profit on the tonnage than they did awhile back. Before any advance in prices were made in Fulton, prices in neighboring towns and cities had already advanced fifty to seventy-five cents a ton.

Take a tip from us and get your winter's supply of coal as quickly as possible.

High School Notes

The big football game of last Saturday resulted in a victory for Paducah by a score of 6 to 0. This contest was unquestionably the best of the season and the local team put up a splendid fight. This week the gridiron warriors will invade Mayfield that stronghold of their ancient foes, to combat the Mayfield Cardinals.

The magnificent statue of Robert E. Lee, seven feet and two inches in height and weighing seven hundred and fifty pounds, has arrived and will be unveiled on Sunday afternoon, November 21 at the high school auditorium. The exercises will consist of music and addresses.

The interclass declamatory contest will be held Wednesday. The class representatives are as follows: J. W. Morehead, freshmen; Clanton Boyd, sophomore; Howard Patterson, junior; Richard Thomas, senior.

A new high school quartet has been organized, consisting of Virginia Joyner, Agatha Gale, James Warren and Seldon King.

Mr. Alexander gave, on Tuesday, a very interesting address on "Bo" MacMillan, the famous football star. Mr. Alexander is a personal friend of the football celebrity and his reminiscences were much enjoyed by the student body.

The Lyceum course sponsored by the Parent-Teachers will be given on the following dates: The Mollusk Nov. 20 Neopolitan Serenaders Dec. 14 Pantheon Players Jan. 14 Gerhardt Duo Feb. 28 James Tandy Ellis (to be arranged).

MOVIES GET A RAISE

The City Council Monday night raised the license on moving picture shows in Fulton from $50.00 to $125.00 per annum. Five cents additional to present prices at the show houses will soon make up the additional raise and then some.

SEWERAGE SYSTEM WORK PROGRESSING NICELY

From present indications, if weather conditions are favorable, the sewer system in Fulton will be completed by January 1. $34,000 has already been paid the contractors and the work is about half completed.

Canning Factory for Fulton

Fulton will have a first class canning factory if the farmers will sign up to grow the vegetables in sufficient quantity to keep the plant running, and will receive cash for doing so.

Mr. W. C. Harward, of Halls, Tennessee, has been in Fulton looking the ground over and has decided that this point is most advantageously located for his business, both from a shipping outlook and also from the possibilities of growing all the various kinds of vegetables that are usually canned.

Mr. Harward has operated a canning factory in Halls for several years, and is thoroughly posted on the business, and in seeking for new fields, has, as stated above, settled on Fulton as the most advantageous place for locating.

Mr. Harward was in town some time back, and has written one of our best known business men that he will be here again shortly, when he will select a site for his plant and make arrangements for building his factory.

He is optimistic to a very great degree as to the possibilities of growing tomatoes in this section of the country, and it is seemingly only a question of getting enough farmers to agree to raise the required amount of them to secure the establishment of a plant.

There is no doubt as to the advantages to the farmer, as in every community where tomatoes have been grown for canning, the farmers have made good money, and Fulton should prove no exception to the rule.

COUNTY AGENT FOR FULTON

E. J. Kilpatrick, District Agent of the State Agricultural College, passed through Fulton Tuesday morning, en route to Hickman, where he spent the day arranging a meeting of the farmers of the central part of the county to arrange for the procuring of a county agent for Fulton county.

The western end of the county is taking great interest in the project and some hundred or more farmers and business men have signed up to support the project for the next three years, both financially and personally.

The eastern end of the county has not been canvassed as thoroughly as the western end, but there is little doubt that as soon as the committee gets into action.

At the meeting at Jordan on Tuesday night, W. C. Johnson, county agent of Paducah, McCracken county, spoke, and told the gathering of the work being done in his county, and the wonderful benefits that have been procured for the farmers.

Thomas Beadles Enlists In Army

Thomas W. Beadles, age 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Beadles, 404 Carr street, was accepted for enlistment at the local Recruiting Office of Sgt. George M. Dearing for Air Service Chanut Field, Rantoul, Illinois. Thomas will attend the Technical Motor school at Chanut Field and after completing the course will be eligible to enter the Cadet Flying School. Thomas is one of Fulton's most promising young men and will no doubt make his mark in the Branch of his choice.

SPORTSMEN HAVE THEIR DAY ON WILD GAME

Ignorance of Law No Excuse for Any One Violating It

It is timely to review the game laws in order that there may be no mistaken ideas. There are no changes in the state laws since last season.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one, and while the game wardens do not like to make arrests for a violation that results from a lack of knowledge of the laws, they are sworn to do so, and by the sportsmen familiarizing themselves with the laws, embarrassment is avoided on both sides.

Undoubtedly a large percentage of game law violations committed are the result of carelessness on the part of hunters rather than wilful desire to become law breakers. Some do not post themselves on the law, others are unable to distinguish the protected species from those having an open season, but again there is a tendency on the part of others to shoot first and think afterwards, while with a small number it is just pure cussedness.

All of the open season remain the same in Tennessee, viz: Doves, September 1 to December 15; ducks and waterfowl, November 1 to January 31; rabbits, opossums and all other fur-bearing animals, November 15 to February 15; quail, November 25 to February 1; turkeys, no open season; deer, two deer, bucks, with two or more spikes, December 20, to December 31. There are a few county exceptions to the above.

The bag limit is the same: 15 quail, 20 ducks and 20 doves.

A place where hunters should watch their step is on Reelfoot Lake in reference to time to shoot, which is not before 8 o'clock nor after 4 o'clock.

No effort has been made to quote the full text of the law, with reference to any kind of birds or animals, nor even to touch on but a few phrases, but merely to call attention to a few special features and to emphasize the necessity of "knowing your stuff" before hand rather than when it is too late.

The department is always pleased to mail a copy of the game and fish laws upon request.

FULTON JOINS IN NATION- AL EDUCATION WEEK

In the hope that our citizenry may better appreciate the utmost importance of this nation-wide observance as American education week, November 6-13, let us urge all to co-ordinate their efforts in the hope that this observance may be crowned with brilliant success and profit.

The role of an educator assumes the dignity, rank and high usefulness enjoyed by the representatives of life's truly great professions. It is on a parity with the lawyer, the doctor and the minister of the gospel.

The city of Fulton is indeed most fortunate in its educational agencies. Its institutions of learning are of the very best. Those delegated with the solemn duty of educating and developing the child mind to grasp the fundamentals of life's rugged struggle; their earnest efforts to mold the mind and character of pupils of tender and more mature years, bear the rich fruit of achieving the highest good in a seasoned and substantial citizenship.

FINDING CONTENTMENT

Practically everyone who comes into the world and stays long enough to comprehend the surroundings starts in pursuit of that elusive thing called happiness.

One may look for it in climate, in diversion, in companionship, in wealth, in goodness knows what. But there is one place it can surely be found—in congenial employment.

The happy man and the happy woman are those who have found the work that they are best suited to do and like the best to do, and happiness is impossible without this.

Comparatively few are satisfied with their work. Comparatively few are happy in their work. They do not know where the trouble lies. They only know they are discontented and that work is drudgery. Beginning Saturday night, they dread Monday morning. Day after day, week after week, month after month, year after year, it goes on. But for the everlasting and blessed hope that springs eternal in the human breast, people would quit right where they are.

Getting out of uncongenial employment is usually not easy. At least, it impresses one as not being easy. In the first place, the average person does not know for what he is fitted or what he really wants to do. Even though a man has a desire for a given line of work, the trouble is he is not willing to do the necessary drudgery between him and the attainment of his desire.

As most great things are simple, the formula for finding one's niche is comparatively simple. The first ingredient is diligence. It is a powerful factor.

Somewhere within you is a talent. There is only one way to develop that talent and that is through diligence. Genius, after all, is but a special capacity for hard work.

The man who applies himself diligently and conscientiously, day after day, year after year, is going to climb, step by step, as surely and as positively as the days themselves roll by. He cannot help it. And every step he takes will be toward his niche. He may not know where those steps will lead when he starts. They may lead him through an intricate maze of toil, hardship and difficulty, but if he will keep on—if he will never permit himself to slip back—he will of a certainty find his niche, and with his niche, he will find contentment.

A FARM WAGON THAT IS GUARANTEED

The amount of satisfactory service that a wagon will give depends entirely upon the material and skill the manufacturer puts into it. We want to show you a wagon that is built of the best materials by men who know how—

THE JOHN DEERE WAGON

The Wagon That Is Guaranteed

A special machine automatically measures the inside of the skinn of the John Deere farm wagon and shapes the axle to fit accurately. The skinn is set in red lead under high pressure. It has exactly the right pitch, and the axle has the right gather to make the John Deere wagon run lighter than other wagons. With the John Deere sand- and dust-proof big feature—the heavy malleable fifth-wheel with corrugated coupling—no bending or breaking of kingbolt—holster does not get out of line and rock—no danger of tipping when handling large, top-heavy loads.

Only carefully-selected oak and hickory are used in the John Deere Wagon, and every piece of wood is air-seasoned under cover in our own yards for at least two years. The tires are set hot under hydraulic pressure and under a gauge that assures proper dish—the load is always carried on plumb spokes.

And don't forget this other big feature—the heavy malleable fifth-wheel with corrugated coupling—no bending or breaking of kingbolt—holster does not get out of line and rock—no danger of tipping when handling large, top-heavy loads.

Come in and see this wagon—read the guarantee on the tool box. Let us explain the many fine points embodied in it.

PRELIMINARY TEST FOR WEST POINT

Enlisted men of the regular army who can meet the requirements again are offered the opportunity to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point and, upon completion of their course as cadets, become Commissioned Officers in the Military service.

According to a communication recently published by the war department, to be eligible to take the entrance examination, the soldier applicant must be between the age of 19 and 22 and have served in the army for a period of at least one year.

Having in mind the high type of men necessary to become officers of the regular army, the mental, moral and physical qualifications of the candidate for admission to the examinations will be taken into consideration.

Before being examined, the soldier who is eligible and desires to embrace the opportunity to become a cadet at West Point will be carefully interviewed with respect to his antecedent history, his ideals, ambitions, and general attitude toward the military service. The point will be stressed that upon his admission to the military academy he will be discharged as an enlisted man in the army and that under the oath he takes as a cadet he assumes among other high obligations, one to serve for a period of eight years, unless sooner discharged by competent authority.

Men desiring to become officers in the United States Army have this opportunity, any man who is a citizen of the United States who has an honorable upright character, can take the examination after serving one year of his enlistment. We have openings in the U. S. army, today, for Hawaiian Islands, Panama, and a number of places here in the states. There are all kinds of trade and elementary schools, also preparatory schools for men who desire to enter West Point, or go to some Technical College. A new law recently enacted by congress permits enlisted men to go to these colleges at government expense. Call at the recruiting office for full information, as to special assignments. CHOOSING CURTAINS FOR "BETTER HOMES"

Good Curtains of Flowered Cretonne for a Room With Plain Walls.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Choosing curtains for the house brings to mind fabrics of charming color and texture hanging in graceful folds. But it is not always easy to get just the effect the mind first pictured, and cost much be considered. To curtain the windows of even a five-room house, about 30 yards of material is needed, and curtains generally have to be renewed every few years.

As a help to homemakers, the United States Department of Agriculture makes suggestions about curtain fabrics and ways of hanging them. Curtains are an excellent means of freshening up an old house, or are needed as the finishing touch to a new one.

In planning curtains remember that windows are put in houses in order to admit light and air. Make your curtains as simple as effectiveness will permit. Elaborate curtains defeat the purpose of windows and are out of place in the average home.

Shape and Size of Window.

Look carefully at the shape and size of the windows and how they are placed in the walls. Picture the effect of curtains of various styles on those particular windows and how they will appear from the outside as well as the inside of the house. If there are lovely views from the windows, study how to keep them without sacrificing privacy and an attractive interior. An unattractive view may need to be screened by curtains, but beware of shutting out too much light.

Study the general style of your room. Curtains can help to make a room homelike and inviting or dignified and formal, depending on the kind of material used and how it is hung.

Gloss curtains made of thin material and hung on a straight rod inside the casing close to the glass, soften and change the color of the light coming into the room, lend an air of privacy, and are a protection to side draperies. Glass curtains should be just long enough to escape the sill.

Side draperies useful. Side draperies give a finished appearance to the window, are useful as shades if arranged to draw, and are a good means of adding color to the room and of modifying poor proportions. In small homes, side draperies that end on a line with the apron of the window are more suitable. If a more formal effect is desired, let them extend to the baseboard or an inch above the floor.

A valance used with or without draperies carries the eye across the top, and has the effect of decreasing the height of room and window. Before buying curtain material, get samples of the kinds that seem most suitable and see how they go with walls, woodwork, floor and furniture, by both day and artificial light. Strong light shining through curtain fabrics often brings out striking effects not suspected until put to this test. Excellent curtain materials can sometimes be found among the dress goods.

Fabrics and colors that will clean well and withstand light, are the best bargain in the end. Examine also for defects in the weave that may show up when the curtains are hung. With figured wall paper, choose plain-colored curtain material. If the walls and most of the furnishings are plain the curtains may be figured, but preferably with the background the same color or slightly deeper than the walls. With cream walls, for instance, a cretonne with soft tan background and figures that repeat the colors used elsewhere in the room might be suitable for living and dining rooms.

In selecting figured materials give preference to conventional designs that will stand the test of being looked at day after day.

PROPER FOOD FOR YOUNG CHILDRENEssential Facts About Food in Popular Discussion.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The time-worn question, "What shall we eat?" has been attacked from a new angle in a government bulletin written for junior homemakers. Miss Williams Circular No. 1, "A Guide to Good Meals for the Junior Housewife," recently published by the United States Department of Agriculture, approaches a group not previously represented in the literature of nutrition. The interest of younger children has for some time been attracted to food and health themes, by illustrations of animated milk bottles, grinning cereal bowls, and dancing egg cups. Adults have been encouraged through many publications, both popular and technical, to choose the right food for themselves and their offspring. But the adolescents at the breakfast table, whose growing stage have not until now had a government bulletin solely for themselves.

The authors, both Van Demant and Caroline L. Hunt, are specialists in the bureau of home economics. They have presented the essential facts about foods in popular discussion. A novel introductory paragraph suggests that if all kinds of foods in the world were to be assembled in one market where people of all races came to buy, the combinations they chose would have similar food value though made up of very different foods. For instance, the Japanese might select fish, rice, certain legumes, soy sauce, bamboo sprouts, and persimmons, while the American chose meat, eggs, milk, bread, a variety of American fruits and vegetables. In each would have the makings of a well-balanced diet. The youthful readers are introduced to the term "calorie" in such a way that it can no longer hold any mystery for them. They are also advised to keep track of their weight, to include an abundance of vitamins and minerals (from the vegetable and fruit groups) and to limit the quantity of sweets used.

The circular containing these valuable suggestions to home makers of the future may be had while the supply lasts by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Merits of Soft Custard and Cream Are Outlined

Some people always make a soft custard for pudding sauce instead of using cream. As to the relative merits of soft custard and cream used in this way, the United States Department of Agriculture makes the following explanation: Soft custard, for which the proportions are a pint of milk, the yolks of three eggs, one-quarter cupful sugar, one-eighth teaspoonful salt, and any desired flavoring, is very much like ordinary cream in composition except in the matter of iron. Of that important element a given amount of custard contains three or four times as much iron as the same amount of cream. It is to be recommended, therefore, for those who specially need iron. Children who get most of their protein from milk are likely to be more in need of iron than of calcium. Adults, on the other hand, who get most of their protein from meat are likely to need calcium more than iron. In general, therefore, the soft custard is better for children, and cream just as good or better for grownups. Since cream differs in price very little with the season, the economy involved in using soft custard depends chiefly on the price of eggs.

Do Not Kill Germs

Septic tanks do not kill disease germs. Some of the harmful germs in sewage die during their passage through a tank, but a septic tank has no more power of killing germs than does an ordinary barrel, box, or cistern. A portion of the solids in the sewage decompose or rot, but the escaping liquid is still foul and dangerous.

Serious Fire Risk

Oily cloths used in polishing floors and woodwork are a serious fire risk. Cloths moistened with linseed oil are especially liable to spontaneous combustion, and serious fires have resulted from this cause. They should be either destroyed immediately after use or kept in a tightly covered fire-proof container.

Preserve Pie Crust

To keep the undercrust of a custard pie from rising up in bubbles, pre-bake it before putting in the custard mixture, and before you put the crust in the oven prick it in several places with a fork. This will let the steam out and prevent the crust from rising up in bubbles.

POULTRY FACTS

QUALITY IN EGGS QUITE ESSENTIAL

Eggs are still more or less plentiful at this season, and a little later on they will not be quite so plentiful. The result will be that there will appear the temptation to hold eggs before selling so that the price will go up some. Here is where the danger lies in that practice: on most farms, that is, general farms, and fruit farms too, where poultry is not given all the attention it should have, the males are permitted to run with the flock in summer as in the spring, when breeding is done. The eggs thus obtained are, therefore, fertile. With the hot weather of summer, these eggs are very likely to start developing if they are held very long before selling. Eggs should be disposed of twice a week at least, preferably three times a week.

This, then, is one factor that affects quality in table eggs. Another is the fact that quite often hens will steal their nests and lay a number of eggs before the nest is discovered. Many of these eggs will be unfit for use, but sometimes they are included in the lot that is to be sold. This should be watched carefully and avoided. It is a good plan to have a home-made egg candler handy and test all eggs before they are sold. Such a candler is not difficult to make; a piece of stove-pipe with a hole in it about the size of an egg will do very well. Set the pipe over the lamp so the hole comes opposite the flame, and by holding an egg up to this hole, a great deal can be determined about the inside of the egg. A normal egg that is fit for consumption will appear clear except for the orange colored yolk, and the air cell will be very, very small if it is a strictly fresh egg, that is, a trifle less than the size of a 10-cent piece in diameter. An egg that is dark or black shows that some embryo growth has taken place, and it is therefore unfit for food.

It is difficult under some circumstances to maintain quality in eggs during the summer months, but it can be done. Hold eggs at a temperature of not higher than 65 degrees, if possible; make sure that all eggs are gathered every night; sell eggs often—twice or three times a week; remove the males from the flock to produce infertile eggs; don't let the eggs set in the sun on the way to market.

Gapes Is Troublesome Disease of Chickens

Gapes is a disease of young chickens caused by a small reddish worm which attaches itself to the inner lining of the windpipe. It is often called a forked worm, for the reason that the male and female worms are often found attached to one another at an angle which gives the appearance of a single worm. The presence of the worms may be demonstrated by passing a loop of horsehair or small wire down the windpipe for a short distance and turning it to loosen the worms.

By stripping a feather of all its web except a small tuft at the end and dipping this in kerosene and inserting it into the windpipe where the worms are attached will often cause the worms to loosen their hold. However, the main remedy must lie in prevention. Badly infected stock should be killed and burned and all rubbish, run and houses cleaned up and thoroughly disinfected. The ground should be spaded up or plowed and thoroughly limed. Rotation of runs for the chickens will do a great deal to stop the trouble.

Save Market Eggs

A detail of the poultry business which means a good deal in the final figuring of profits is the packing of eggs which are sent to market. This may seem like a small thing at first thought, but the loss of even a few eggs in each case may amount to a total of respectable size at the end of the year. Eggs should be packed in a manner which will assure the minimum of loss. Observance of a few simple rules will cut losses very largely, and it is just as easy to pack the eggs right as wrong.

Trained Eye Is Asset

A trained eye is one of the most valuable assets that the poultry man can develop. Through it he may forestall serious epidemics; through it he may turn loss into profit. The trained eye will tell him when the chicks are not making proper growth which experience or reliable advice will teach him to correct. Again, the trained eye will detect the slightest variation in the reaction of the fowls to a change in their surroundings. It will be a constant guide.

Ducks for Market

Ducks are one form of poultry that can be adjusted to commercial or factory-like methods. On the larger plants one will find the incubator rather close to the dwelling. The ducklings are moved from here to the first house when heat is supplied and then by regular stages to other buildings that differ in construction according to their needs until they end up at the killing room. This, in most instances, is a plant where they are turned as green ducks.

Schedule of Odd Jobs Will Help Home Owner

It is a good thing to have a monthly schedule of repairs for the home, so that the various odd jobs can be anticipated and done in the proper season. A midwinter blizzard is no time to patch a leaking roof, nor is the dry period suitable for repairing screens. There is also the point of service and economy in buying equipment, as a heating plant in the off-season, and likewise in hiring certain work to be done.

The following schedule of odd jobs and repairs for the summer and fall, which may be modified to suit local conditions, is recommended by John R. McMahon, a national authority on home ownership, in Popular Science Monthly.

July: Make thorough repairs on the roof. Replace all missing or rotted shingles and stop leaks. Inspect gutters and leaders for patching, painting or replacement.

August: A good time for excavations of any kind. If foundations or cellar walls need tarring or cement plaster, do it now. All kinds of general building can be done without much need for weather protection.

September: If a new heating plant is needed install it now. Apply weather stripping. Renew floors. Fix up the coal bin and put in a supply of winter fuel.

October: Get the heating plant ready to fire up. Clean chimney from the roof down. Point up loose bricks with cement. Connect furnace smoke pipe—new if required.

November: Take down screens and screen doors. Rake up leaves around the house. Start furnace.

Mistakes in Building One's Home Are Costly

All normal men and women plan, some day, to have a home of their own; a place with trees, flowers, a garden; a home for the children. But most people building their first house usually make mistakes that can be avoided. An architect, in an article on home-building in Liberty Magazine, says: "Most architects make a mess of the first house they build for themselves. I made one of mine. I was lashed about it so much that I decided to let a few of the wife's wishes prevail in my next one—there was bound to be a next one, for the mistakes in the first were too accusing."

"Instead of going at the job from a running jump the next time, I took counsel with my wife all the way through. No building again in a valley, with its wet mornings when the hill tops were bathed in sunlight. No western exposures, with their sun-baked rooms. No more scourge of mosquitoes. No laboring uphill through snow and slush on my way to work—that was a job in itself. No, in our new home we'd eliminate most of these blunders. We'd live on a hill."

Standardized Cities

Fifty years from now the traveler in America will be impressed with the similarity in general plan and appearance of American cities. This has been made certain by the passage of zoning ordinances in practically every important center of population in the United States. Latest figures by the Department of Commerce indicate more than half of the urban population live in zoned cities and towns. In 1916 only a tenth resided in communities where zoning ordinances governed building activities and city development. The number of zoned cities increased from 6 in 1916 to 75 in 1921, 205 in 1923 and 425 in 1925. Grouped according to population, 17 of the 48 largest cities in the United States having over 100,000 population and 150 of the 287 cities and towns having over 25,000 population have zoning ordinances in effect.—Lincoln Star.

Rose-Trellis Worth While

An alluring little rose-trellis is a fascinating adjunct to any country or suburban home, or, in fact, any home that is not cramped for space.

Even the amateur carpenter can construct an article like this, since it is little more than an arch over a seat. The arch is made of lattice work so that a climbing vine may find a firm hold. A back of open wood-work for the seat is in keeping with the airy nature of the trellis. Grouped according to population, 17 of the 48 largest cities in the United States having over 100,000 population and 150 of the 287 cities and towns having over 25,000 population have zoning ordinances in effect.—Lincoln Star.

Cities With Zoning Laws

Half the urban population of the United States live in cities that have been laid out or rebuilt to comply with modern principles of zoning, according to a communication from the United States Department of Commerce.

The number of cities and towns at the present time is 425, the communication states. In 1913 only six cities of the country had zoning laws or ordinances.

Cleveland is one of the cities in which the zoning and planning commission is working out a special program.

The Reduced Rate is for You

Why not Use it?

TELEPHONE users frequently wait until 8:30 o'clock at night to make a long distance call at the reduced rate, and then make a person-to-person call at the higher rate.

The reduced rate, both day and night, applies only to calls for a number, but it is not necessary for you to know the number. To make such a call, give the operator the number of the distant telephone if you know it, or if you do not know the number, tell her the name and address under which it is listed.

This is a "station-to-station" call. If you cannot remember this term, tell the operator you wish to make a call at the lowest rate, and do not wish to speak to a particular person.

It is a simple matter and you can make a big saving on your toll calls if you will let the long distance operator help you.

BRIDGE COURTESY

Mrs. Eli Bynum was a most gracious hostess Friday, when she entertained with an afternoon bridge at her home on Fourth street, honoring her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Brubaker, of Springfield, Ohio, and Miss Mary Norman, a bride-elect.

Baskets of garden flowers and vases of bitter sweets graced the big living room and lent a gala appearance to the scene, making colorful background for the group of modishly attired guests.

Four tables being in play, attractive tallies of colonial girls were used. Miss Norman was charming in one of her trousseau gowns, black flat crepe made with close waist in tolero effect, trimmed with shell pink crepe. She wore a metal hat in harmony.

Mrs. Brubaker wore for the occasion a handsome model of rose Elizabeth crepe. Beautiful prizes for high and low score were given.

Mrs. Bynum's gift to Miss Norman was a lovely compact, to Mrs. Brubaker a deck of cards. Following the game an elaborate salad course was served.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Horace Owen, of Paducah; Mrs. Ivan Sebastian, of Fort Pierce, Fla., and Miss Helen Sebastian, of Martin.

FULTON WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

Splendid attendance and unusual interest were given at the regular meeting of the Fulton Woman's club held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Main street, Mrs. J. E. Fall, presiding, Mrs. Don Taylor acting secretary in the absence of Mrs. Jake Huddleston.

The business was dispensed with crispness and interest. Reports of the various committees were given. Eight were elected to membership of the club.

The president's report of the First District Federation, which convened in Princeton, Ky., on October 26, was deferred until the next meeting.

Following the business session Bishop DuBose, of Nashville, Tenn., an honored guest, thrilled the audience as he talked of his visit to Florence, Italy, "The city of flowers," and its wonderful art.

Mrs. Gus Bard, chairman of the program committee, presented Mrs. I. D. Seay, who, in a sweet voice, sang "Where Did You Come From, Baby Dear?" by Dudley Buck, with Mrs. Clarence Maddox as accompanist.

Miss Bell, instructor of music in the schools, played with much expression, Prelude in C Sharp Minor, by Rachmaninoff.

As this was Education Day designated by the club, Supt. V. C. Myers, of the city schools, gave an interesting talk on the eminent German musical composer and unrivaled organist, John Sebastian Bach.

Fall flowers were used to brighten the room, while the president's table held a lovely basket of pink radiance roses, with baby breath ferns.

Several out-of-town guests were present.

Delicious tea and sandwiches were served.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames R. M. Redfern, W. W. Morris, Mesdames B. D. Maupin, S. W. Brown, J. M. Culver were pages.

NORMAN-McGINNIS

A wedding of affectionate interest took place Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church, when Miss Mary Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Norman, became the bride of Mr. H. F. McGinnis, the Rev. C. H. Warren reading the marriage vows in the presence of a few most intimate friends.

The beautiful young bride was radiant in a chic fall model of jungle green, with coat of brown, fur trimmed, and gold metallic hat with harmonizing accessories. The bride is one of Fulton's most attractive and charming young ladies and is endeared to a wide circle of friends.

Mr. McGinnis is manager of the Fulton branch of the American Cigar Company, a young man of sterling qualities and highly esteemed in social and business circles. During his two years' residence in Fulton he has been active in the work of every good movement for the betterment of the city and is a member of the chamber of commerce and Lions' club.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on their honeymoon trip cross country, to St. Louis and other points of interest. After returning to Fulton they will be at home to their friends after November 10, in Fair Heights, with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Taylor.

Egg Dressing Used in Place of Oil in Salads

Hot slaw with egg dressing is particularly acceptable to those who do not like the flavor of oil in salads. The ingredients you will need are: 2 eggs, 4 tablespoonfuls water or cabbage stock, 3 tablespoonfuls vinegar or to taste; 2 tablespoonfuls shredded green pepper or 1 teaspoonful onion juice, or 1/2 teaspoonful celery seed; 1 teaspoonful salt, a few specks of dry mustard, 1/2 a medium head of cabbage—about 1 quart; a tablespoonful sugar.

Shred the raw cabbage finely. Beat the eggs well, add the salt, sugar, mustard, and water or stock; cook in the double boiler until it coats the edge of the spoon, thickening like a soft custard. Then add the vinegar and pour it over the cabbage while it is still very hot. Let it stand a few moments to blend the flavor of the dressing with that of the cabbage. This may be served cold as well as hot. The United States Department of Agriculture states that the egg yolks used in this dressing contribute iron, fat, and other valuable constituents to the diet, and that the raw cabbage itself is one of the best food we have as a source of vitamins, so let the family enjoy this good slaw frequently.

Color Fastness Depends on Chemical Composition

It is a common fallacy that green, lavender, or some other color is less fast than blue or pink. Fastness depends on the chemical composition of the dye used, not on the color, states the United States Department of Agriculture. Dye-stuffs are grouped into various classes according to their composition, and the dyes in some classes are more fast than those in others. Thus, a green, blue, or any other fabric may have received its color from any one of a number of different dye-stuffs varying widely in permanency. Without knowing just what kind of a dye was used—and it is practically impossible for the consumer to tell this—the fastness of color in two fabrics cannot be predicted. A dye that is one of the poorest of its class may have been used on one of the fabrics, while the other may have been dyed with one of the best.

Hen Beats Doctor as a Mixer of Spring Tonic

Egg-yolk heads the list of iron-rich foods and is one of the best possible means of supplying the body with this valuable mineral, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It contains phosphorus and calcium, too, elements needed to build bones, teeth, and other tissues. The white of eggs come very near to being pure protein, which is one of the chief substances of our bodies. Eggs are also rich sources of vitamins, those A B C's of the diet needed to promote health and proper development. Taken all and all, then, the hen beats the doctor as a mixer of spring tonic, for she combines minerals with other valuable foods in a form that the body finds particularly useful.

TAILORS' GUILD ORGANIZED TO UPLIFT THE PROFESSION

ORGANIZATION of the Born Tailors' Guild, an association of master tailors, with headquarters in Chicago, was announced today by W. A. Churchill, executive secretary of the new league. The slogan of the Guild is "Tailors are born, not made," and its two-fold object is to lift the tailoring trade to a higher plane of perfection in the art of making clothes for men, and establish in the minds of men and boys a definite appreciation of style, fabric and tailoring in men's clothes, just as the Parisian designers have made every woman a connoisseur of feminine fashions. Wage scales, labor controversies and price fixing will have no place in the work of Born Tailors' Guild, according to Mr. Churchill.

W. A. Churchill.

"Our purpose in organizing this Guild," said Mr. Churchill, "is to bind together the master tailors of America, united in an effort of raising the standards of our trade. There is real artistry in the making of clothes and our idea is to place our trade in the class of art. Our objective is for the making of better clothes for men, the perfection of our trade to the very highest point possible."

Back to craft organization of early English times, Mr. Churchill and his associates went to get a model for their association. In those times each craft had its own guild and received a charter from the king. Occasionally the kings were members of them. Guild members were bound by oath of brotherhood to uphold the standards of the profession and to pass down from generation to generation the treasured secrets of that craft. Before a man could become a master tailor he had to serve seven years as an apprentice, then as a journeyman for two years.

During which time he was taught all the skill and secrets of the trade. After preparing an exceptionally fine piece of work, his masterpiece, which he submitted to the Guild Assembly, the journeyman became a master and was admitted to the Guild. The spirit of this ancient type of craft association has been made the background of the Born Tailors' Guild, according to Mr. Churchill.

"We seek to bring back into the tailoring craft some of the old-time romance and idealism of Tooley Street," he said. "We want our master tailors to reassert their pride in perfection of workmanship and to study men's dress as a profession. Such an idea should mean better-dressed men and more economy throughout the industry."

The first president of the Guild is Edgar R. Born, of the tailoring house of M. Born & Co., established fifty years ago. It was named in his honor.

Edgar R. Born.

MEN'S DRESS

By
W. A. Churchill, Secretary

BORN TAILORS GUILD

Taking Care of Your Clothes

NO MAN can ever be well dressed who does not take proper care of his clothes. Even the man who prefers to wear them hard and replace them often will find he cannot be well groomed without giving a certain amount of attention to the upkeep of his apparel.

The average man, however, buys his clothes with a view to getting good service and having them look well during their entire reign. For this reason he buys good materials, conservative styles. The dash of color and the note of originality can be secured in the accessories—socks, ties and belt that can be discarded when out of style.

Plenty of changes is one secret of getting full returns from your clothing investments. It is poor economy to put on an everyday suit and wear it constantly and the same applies to shoes, hat and gloves.

The suit that has been worn all day is as much entitled to a good night's rest as is its owner. It should be put on hangers, and, if possible, hung out in the open and not shut up in some airless closet. Shoe trees take only a second or two to slip in and are excellent in preserving the shape of the shoe.

The value of frequent cleaning and pressing cannot be overestimated. Dirt is one of the greatest enemies to the wearing qualities of materials. Some men leave a standing order with the cleaner to pick up a suit or overcoat a week at the same time that he returns one. In this way, one's wardrobe is kept constantly in condition. A bottle of cleaning fluid kept on the bathroom shelf is a necessity. A spot of grease or staple stain should never be allowed to stand overnight.

In Case of Emergency

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

If every person in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy those urgent needs.

You should do your part towards keeping local business alive and in a constant state of betterment by doing all your trading at home. It will be profitable to you as well as to the entire community.

Chestnut Glade

Ora May, little daughter of Beckham and Ruth Vaughan, died Sunday night, October 31. She was a dear little girl, who has been afflicted almost all of her life. She bore her pain patiently and had a sweet and cheerful disposition.

She had been confined to her bed three weeks when death came to relieve her of her sufferings.

She leaves a father, mother, two little brothers and a baby sister to mourn her going.

Mrs. Vaughn is very low with flu. Her mother, Mrs. Will Morrison, of E. St. Louis, is with her, having left her son, Glenn, in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis and another son, Bruce, threatened with pneumonia. We hope for their speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Croft arrived last week from Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lum Cunningham left last week for Port Arthur, Texas, where they will spend the winter with Mr. Cunningham's children who have been living there many years.

The movie put on at Chestnut Glade Friday evening was exceedingly good—"The Ten Commandments," said to be one of the best ever filmed, and I am sure each Bible reader, who has seen it will agree with me that it was well worth the time and money spent for it. One feature which added greatly to the pleasure of the evening was the beautiful old hymns played by Mr. Jim Fay on the violin, accompanied by Mr. Francis at appropriate parts of the play. I am no movie fan, but one show each month of the very best could not fail to benefit any community.

Singing Sunday afternoon was largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

Several visitors came over from Kentucky. Splendid singers from Mt. Zion community. Their quartet, composed of Mr. Bryan, his daughter, Miss Loudean, Messers Duke and Elliott, accompanied on the piano by Miss Robey, favored the audience with several numbers.

Mr. Bryan's ready wit and humor enlivened the occasion. Come again next First Sunday and bring some one else. Mr. Gaither Johns from New Hope also assisted the leaders of this community.

We are missing you other leaders who have been coming, come back and help us.

In the word "penetration," is a secret manufacturing process that has made Senour's Floor Paint a popular favorite for over 40 years.

If a floor paint does not penetrate or grip into the wood it will soon begin to crack, chip and peel.

Senour's Floor Paint dries over night with a high gloss enamel-like finish, but at the same time it sinks into the pores of the wood and forms a film that will withstand the hardest usage and will withstand repeated washings without dimming the lustre.

Lesson for November 14

CALEB'S FAITHFULNESS REWARDED

LESSON TEXT—Josh. 14:6-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—I wholly followed the Lord my God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Brave Spy Rewarded.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Reward of Service.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Caleb, the Courageous.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Blessings That Follow Whole-hearted Obedience.

I. Elements of Caleb's Character.
1. Independence of spirit (Num. 13:30).

Though the multitude clamored to follow the report of the ten, Caleb determined to stand alone. This is an element in human character which is highly important. One should stand for what he knows to be right, regardless of the sentiment of the crowd.

2. True to convictions (Josh. 14:9, cf. Num. 14:6-9).

What Caleb knew and felt he spoke out. He did not wait for the opinion of others and then modify his to suit the populace. A true man and one who can be trusted will be loyal to his convictions.

3. Unselfish (14:12).

He did not ask for some easy place. He did not wish to thrust someone else into the place of difficulty. He wanted to go into the place where it would require fighting in order to drive out the giants which were in the land.

4. Courageous (Josh. 14:12, cf. 13:30).

This courage he displayed when he insisted that they were able to go up from Kadesh-Barnea and take possession of the land. Forty-five years have elapsed since that time. He would be considered an old man now, but still he desired that place for an inheritance which would require some fighting. He said, "I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me, as my strength was then, even so is my strength now for war."

5. Loyalty to God (Josh. 14:8, cf. Num. 14:24).

He served God with whole-hearted devotion; indeed, this is the way to his character.

II. Caleb Laying Claim to His Inheritance (vv. 6-12).

Caleb did not come alone to make his claim. He came in the presence of the children of Judah, lest he be suspected of taking advantage. He did not wish to wait until after the lot was cast, for God had already given a certain portion to him. It were useless to ask God to decide a matter which He had already determined. The basis of his plea was:

1. The ground of his service (vv. 6-8).

He had endangered his life in spying out the land—had gone to Hebron when the giants were there. He brought back a true report when his brethren were all against him. He bore his testimony and insisted that they go up and take the land though to do so incurred the displeasure of his brethren and necessitated his standing practically alone.

2. On the ground of the oath of Moses to him (v. 9).

Joshua had respect for Moses, and was bound to follow the counsels of his faithful master whom he had succeeded. This plea was effective.

3. On the ground of God's providential dealing with him (vv. 10-12).

God had preserved him in bodily health. Though he was now eighty-five years old, his natural forces were not abated. He said, "I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me, as my strength was then, even so is my strength now for war."

III. Joshua Giving the Inheritance to Caleb (13:14, 15).

1. Joshua blessed Caleb (v. 13).

He not only acquiesced in Caleb's claim, but bestowed the blessing of God upon him in it.

2. The inheritance given (vv. 13, 14).

Hebron was the name of the inheritance. The name Hebron means fellowship. It was given because Caleb had fully followed the Lord. Only those who fully follow the Lord can enjoy fellowship with Him. Though Caleb now legally possessed Hebron, it was necessary for him to fight to drive out the giants who infested it. In Christ we have an inheritance which God has given us. We, too, must fight because the enemy is unwilling to relinquish his claim upon it.

Believing in Christ

Many men do not believe in Christ because they do not want to do what Christ demands of them. Their doubts are not intellectual, as they pretend, but practical. They deny Christ so as to escape obligation and effort.—Young People.

Praying for Others

I have been benefited by praying for others; for by making an errand to God for them I have gotten something for myself.—Rutherford.

The New ALLEN'S PARLOR FURNACE

ALLEN was first to successfully apply the scientific principle of heating by circulated warm air to "above-the-floor" furnaces. With this new type of heater, from 4 to 5 adjoining rooms are made comfortable by the natural circulation of the moist, warm air. The New ALLEN'S Parlor Furnace burns wood or coal. The fire-bowl is amply large enough for burning standard cut cordwood.

In the New ALLEN'S Parlor Furnace an exclusive design and construction has been developed. It is so beautiful that it harmonizes with the very latest furniture. The natural walnut effect is mechanically reproduced in porcelain, enamel finish.

We invite you to come and inspect our splendid line of Stoves.
