Tragic Accident Kills Lad As Auto Hit Him Last Week

Clyde Samples, 6, Run Over By Car Driven By Oscar Nanney, Prominent Farmer Of
Bennett Community

One of the most tragic accidents
ever to happen in this city occurred about 10:30 August 14, as Clyde Samples, 6, was run over by a car driven by Oscar Nanney, at the Bennett Cafe corner on State Line-
st. The lad, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Jack Samples of South Fulton, was rushed to Haws Memorial Hospital, but succumbed at 2:30 from abdominal injuries.

The child had left his tricycle on the east side of Paschall-st., and gone to McKinney Grocery. As he returned to his cycle he ran into the pathway of the Nanney auto.
Mr. Nanney, traveling east on State Line, stopped at the intersection awaiting the light change. He made a right turn on the Martin highway. He said that he never did see the child, but felt the car strike something. When he looked back, he saw people gathering to pick up the child.

Mr. Samples, father of the child and employee of Joyner's Liquor Store, Hugh Rushton and Ike Sanders, chief of police, ran to the child and rushed him to the hospital.

Mr. Nanney surrendered to South
Fulton authorities, pending a hearing.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at First Baptist Church by Rev. Sam Ed Bradley.
Interment followed at Eastside cemetery in Martin, in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Home.

The child leaves his parents; one sister, Elizabeth Ann Samples; his grandmothers, Mrs. Richard Samples of Milburn, Ky., and Mrs. Lizzie King of Martin.

Accused Tennessean Kills Self With Belt

Cage Vowell, Held As Slayer Of Wife, Dead At Dresden

Cage Vowell, 68-year-old Weakley Countian awaiting trial for the murder of his wife Aug. 3, wrote an end to his own case early Monday by hanging himself in his jail cell at Dresden, Tenn., Sheriff Tom Grooms reported.

Vowell previously had attempted suicide by swallowing a handful of sleeping tablets, immediately after shooting and killing 64-year-old Mrs. Lottie Vowell in the rear of a crowded store at Sharon, the sheriff said.

Vowell's body was found hanging from the overhead bars of his cell at 5 a. m. He had used his own belt, tying one end to the bars and forming a loop for his neck with the aid of the buckle
at the other end, the sheriff said.

An indictment charging first degree murder was returned against Vowell by the grand jury last week. Later, an affidavit was filed in Circuit Court in Dresden asserting Vowell was insane and "not capable of rendering his attorneys assistance, as would be necessary for trial," on the murder charge.

The fatal shooting of Mrs. Vow-ell, the sheriff said, followed her unsuccessful attempt to have him committed to a mental institution
earlier this year.

County Judge Cayce Pentecost
issued the lunacy warrant and ordered Vowell confined to an institution for observation. Vowell's attorneys, however, instituted habeas corpus proceedings, contending he had been denied a request for a jury to try him on the lunacy warrant.
Vowell won his freedom in a hearing before Judge Ethel Morris, who ruled he had not been committed legally.

The shooting followed several weeks after the hearing.

Sheriff Grooms said Vowell drove his car to the rear of the variety shop, where his wife was employed by their daughter, Mrs. M. V. Roberts. He left the engine running, the sheriff said, entered the store
with two guns, and fired five bullets into his wife, who was seated at a sewing machine.

Returning to his car, Vowell escaped amid a hail of gunfire from Marshal Goyd Wright, who fired four bullets into the fleeing auto
but failed to stop it.

Mr. Wright, with Constable Harris Brinkley, gave chase and found Vowell asleep in a cotton field near his abandoned auto. The marshal said Vowell had taken a large dose of sleeping tablets in an attempt to commit suicide.

Vowell was revived at a Martin hospital and immediately begged for the sheriff's and marshal's guns to "finish the job," the officers said. He was later removed to the jail in Dresden.

Harry Richards Won Championship In The Ken-Tenn Golf Tourney

Fulton Country Club Staged First Annual Even Here Last Week;
Plans Laid For Tournament Each Year

The Fulton Country Club, one of the finest in West Kentucky and Tennessee, was the scene of the Ken-Tenn golf tournament on August 14, when golfers from many surrounding towns participated.

Harry "Judge" Richards, of Fulton, with 71, was acclaimed the champion to the first annual tourney.
He was presented a lovely trophy by the Young Men's Business Club.

Raymond Andrus, runner-up, received a $25 war bond donated by the City National Bank. Other winners were:

Jack Moore, third; J. T. Howard
of Hickman, fourth; E. P. Shelton.
Dr. R. V. Putnam, player with most birdies; Andrus, player with most pars; W. J. Blockberger, player with most bogies.

Richards turned in a brilliant performance, making a 35 on his first nine holes in a downpour. At the beginning of the 8th hole, he was three strokes under par, but Dame Luck parted company with him, and the last two holes cost him a pair of fives.

Then in the second round, Richards came back with an even par of 36, for a total of 71 for the 18 holes. Richards is no novice when it comes to winning matches, for ever since he was a caddy at the local course, he has been turning in good performances. He won the city championship twice.

Despite a drizzling rain, the tournament was a real success, with 51 players participating. The committee, in charge of the tournament
are to be commended for the fine work they have done in getting an annual tournament started here,
and next year the event should be even bigger.

A few years ago the club house
was destroyed by fire, and will renewed interest in the Fulton Country Club, the time is not far distant when a movement will be started to erect a new building on the grounds that could be used as a civic center and meeting place for various clubs and community events.

this was unsuccessful.

OK INTRODUCES NEW CLEANING PROCESS

The O. K. Laundry of this city has introduced a new cleaning process that is gaining national attention because it enables them to do shrinkage cleaning, Vernon Owen revealed this week.

The process has been worked out by Mr. Owen in the local laundry, and is called "Operation OK." So astounding has been the success of this process which guarantees no shrinkage of clothes, Mr. Owen said, that inquiries have come in from many other cleaners seeking all the facts about how it is done.

What the nation needs is some good examples.

Field, Ill., died early Saturday morning in the Fulton hospital, as a result of injuries sustained as the K. P. Dalton, chief of police, states.

This corner has been the scene of many bad automobile accidents,
and the light should help to control
accidents.

Authorities in Fulton and South
Fulton are continuing their efforts to enforce traffic laws, and to increase safety measures in the twin-cities. Motorists are urged to co-operate in the safety program,

MAKING FRIENDS

Friends don't just happen. You have to make them. And the only way to make a friend is to be one. Make friends by being helpful. What little help we can give others is a debt we owe each other.

Friendliness and helpfulness are always found together. A friendly hand is a helping hand.

Make friends by being tolerant. Respect the rights, opinions and beliefs of others. Be gentle with their failings. Those who expect to find a friend without faults, will find themselves without friends.

Make friends by being loyal. Loyalty is the tie that binds friends together. Disloyalty breaks this tie. The other person may be unaware of your disloyalty. But you know about the tie and that's what makes the difference.

In the end, it's worth whatever it takes to make a friend.

COTTON

The OPA has authorized increases in the price of cotton textiles, that will lift cotton apparel in retail stores an estimated 8 per cent and raise the retail price of such items as sheets and towels by about 17 per cent.

THE AMERICAN WAY

In a recent article I quoted from a radio address made on March 2, 1930, by the late Franklin Roosevelt. That speech was one of the ablest, perhaps the most able, ever delivered in defense of States' Rights and Freedom of Enterprise. In that oration, Governor Roosevelt posed a question and then proceeded to answer it. The question was: "But what are the underlying principles on which this government is founded?"

His answer was: "First and foremost, the new thought that every citizen was entitled to live his own life in his own way so long as his conduct did not injure any of his fellow-men. This was to be a new Land of Promise where a man could worship God in the way he saw fit; where he could rise by industry, by thrift, by intelligence, to the highest places in the commonwealth, secure from tyranny, secure from injustice—a free agent—the maker or destroyer of his own destiny."

This writer fully agrees with this thumb-nail description of the concept on which this nation was founded, and upon which it progressed with such success for 160 years. What a pity that when Franklin Roosevelt moved from the Governor's Mansion at Albany to commence his long residence in the White House, he promptly proceeded to forget this fundamental of Americanism!

As a result, for the past thirteen years, we witnessed a rise of demagoguery in America. As has happened in other nations, our American demagogues rose to power through gaining advantage. This trick of arraying the masses against the classes—the "have-nots" against the "haves"—is almost as old as time itself. That's what happened not so many years ago in Russia, a few years later in Italy, still later in Germany and Spain, then in France, and most recently in England.

When a demagogue prevails, it is primarily the fault of the people. He appeals to their vices rather than to their virtues. He arouses envy fans it into hatred, and when sufficiently inflamed, uses it for his own selfish ends to the eventual destruction of the very people whom he makes a pretense of protecting and helping.

Yes, this has happened in America these past few years. We have seen the vices—waste and indolence—rewarded, and penalties exacted on the noble virtues—thrift and industry.

Too many of us have forgotten that people must put into a Democratic as well as take out. Recently we have done nothing but take out, and if we continue with the devastating process, we will so sap the government of its strength as to leave it vulnerable to some vulture dictator hovering nearby, waiting to pounce upon it and devour the carcass.

Continued appeals to the weaknesses—greed, envy, covetousness—of the American people, will not make for a strong and united democracy. Such foibles in a nation do not fortify it against either its external or internal enemies. Moral stamina and manly virtue in a people are what give them unity of action and the esprit de corps necessary to repel any attempt at curtailment of their liberties.

To be strong, the American people must abandon the "something-for-nothing" will o' the wisp. As a nation, we must reverse our course—we must again put into our government, not just take out.

Remember what Franklin Roosevelt said: One of the underlying principles on which our government is founded is that each individual is "a free agent—the maker or destroyer of his own destiny."

DECISION

Men must be decided on what they will not do, and then they are able to act with vigor in what they ought to do—Mencius.

There is nothing more to be esteemed than manly firmness and decision of character—Hazlitt.

No man, for any considerable period can wear a face to himself and another to the multitude, without finally getting bewildered as to which may be true—Hawthorne.

Be sure that God directs your way; then hasten to follow under every circumstance.—Mary Baker Eddy.

A determinate purpose in life and a steady adhesion to it through all disadvantages, are indispensable conditions of success.—W. M. Punshon.

A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.—James 1:8.

GOODS AND SAVINGS

The value of all goods produced in the United States, in the second quarter of 1946, exceeded $46,000,000,000, according to the Department of Commerce, which says this is a gain of $4,000,000,000 over the first quarter.

By comparison, when war production was in full swing in 1945, goods were being produced at a rate of about $52,000,000,000 a quarter.

It appears that individuals, however, are not saving anywhere as much money as they did in 1945. During the first six months of this year, net savings of individuals amounted to only half as much. For the first six months of this year, individuals have been saving at an annual rate of $19,000,000,000. While this may not be as much as the experts expected, one might remark that it is not hay.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Old-age insurance tax was frozen at 1 per cent of employees' pay and employers' pay rolls for another year by Congress just before it adjourned. The payroll tax had been due for an automatic increase to 2.5 per cent on wage earners and their employers next January 1. Federal grants for the needy aged, the blind and dependent children were increased.

THE DRAFT

The Selective Service has declared that men with 24 months of substantially continuous service in the merchant marine are to be deferred from the draft. Effective October 1, 1946, the period of service in the merchant marine for which draft deferment will be granted is lowered to 18 months.

TIDBITS

When I went to school at Fidelity, there were no grades, no graduation, no passing, no failing—we just went to school. That meant that we good-sized boys and girls practically memorized our books; there was nowhere else to go and little else to do. After going over the same books for some four or five years, we had lots of time to spare for note-writing or mischief or loafing. Fortunately, some of our teachers knew of ways to keep us employed. Almost from my first day in school I wanted to be a teacher; that gave my teachers a lead in what to do with me in spare times.

As we had all the grades in our school, one teacher was kept pretty busy. Sometimes a large boy or girl would be called to help out. And there is where I got my first experience as a teacher. I must have been all of eight years old. I knew my letters and could read before I had started to school at six; by the time I was eight, I must have been a child wonder, for I recall that I was studying Harvey's Grammar along with the big boys and girls. Along in the late summer of that year Mark and Elmus started to school. They were good-sized boys, big enough to wear long pants or reasonable facsimiles of long pants. Elmus, the older, knew a little about reading, but Mark, a namesake of my country-doctor father, did not know A from B. My teacher set me the task of teaching Mark his letters. If I had known then what I know now, I fear I would have begged off. But youth is ever hopeful. I began my hopeless task. "What is that?" I would ask. "Don't know," he would answer, very naturally. "That is A," "A" he would repeat very nasally. And on we went through all twenty-six of the strange characters. The first day I thought he must know, for he repeated after me each letter, as if he knew and wanted to know. But the next day he did not recognize any of the crooked marks, in spite of my profound knowledge and my persistent teaching.

And so I had to start all over again. With a little prompting he could name two or three the third day. Whether I ever got Mark to recognize all the letters or not it is too late to find out. Maybe I was merely to give him a head start and then let the teacher finish up. Whatever the agreement, I fear I failed on my first pupil, for I am positive that he never learned to read. Probably, if he still lives, the twenty-six characters are as puzzling to him now as they were about 1898.

But this failure in itself probably started me to teaching with a determination to do better on my other pupils. Thirty thousand have followed Mark; some of them learned about as readily as he; some caught on at once; some fell down a few times on grammar or spelling or punctuation and then rose to fight again. Several of the large number have lengthy titles after their names; hosts have degrees of some sort; and other thousands dropped out of school before graduation. But I love them all and wonder what they might have been like if I had not cut my eyeteeth as a teacher trying to get Mark, in the old Fidelity schoolhouse, to know the difference between A and B.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

One way to be thrifty with meat is to stretch it with crumbs, then use it as a filling for green peppers. Ground or chopped beef, pork or chicken may be used, said Miss Florence Imlay, foods authority at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Stuffed Peppers

6 green peppers
3 cups shredded chicken
1 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon onion
2 tablespoons pimento
1-2 cup cornbread crumbs
1-2 cup bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup chicken broth or milk

Cut off the stem ends of the peppers and remove the seeds. Boil the pepper shells for about 5 minutes in salted water, then drain. Mix shredded chicken with crumbs and seasonings, and moisten with broth or milk to make a soft mixture. Stuff the peppers with the meat mixture and bake in a moderate oven, about 350 degrees, for 30 minutes, or until peppers are tender.

Menu: Stuffed peppers, baked potatoes, harvard beets, cabbage-apple slaw, biscuits, butter and canteloupe.

DULLES PESSIMISTIC

John Foster Dulles is off to Europe, along with an American delegation, to create "common ideals the standards" among the peoples of the world to assure future peace but he is a bit pessimistic about the enterprise.

Mr. Dulles says it is a "race between what his group is undertaking and catastrophe and that if he had to bet right now, he would "bet on catastrophe." If peace depends upon the immediate establishment of common ideals and standards throughout the world the nations might as well begin mobilization.

The idea that everybody has to be alike in order to keep world peace is a mistaken assumption. All that nations, and their people, have to decide is whether they want to rob their neighbors. If they can agree upon the principle that they will not use war for the purpose of taking what doesn't belong to them, they can differ upon everything else and still have peace.

WHAT HOMEMAKERS WORK
HAS MEANT TO US

Alyna Butler, Club Sec. Retiring
In contacting Homemakers Club members we find many types of interesting and enthusiasm. Members for many years are even more interested and realize keenly the definite need for expansion into new counties. People must never lose their ability to learn. We all need to daily study to do our daily work more methodical and with better technique. Honesty, integrity and fair dealing are aims of Homemaker clubs. Creative thinking and creative working are constant for accuracy and speed.

A thousand counties in the U. S. have no county agent. Members must boost our program by disseminating all the helpful information to the public. Who is there among us who does not covet the lovely, simple abilities of our agents and club leaders and especially the graciousness of the specialists who give our lessons. Club membership is the greatest help possible to make us study constantly to be able to achieve more, making good decisions, and developing well rounded personalities.

Homemakers clubs must make our needs and wants coincide. For the coming year we are having Group Culture added to our program. The great need for such activity is plainly visible, to develop well rounded lives. Homemakers and mothers strive to be poised and gently sweet—the ideal in life is to do our best, loving the good and pure at all times. We share the experiences of our children and go places with them; they enjoy our confidence and interest in their problems. 4-H Club work has no duplicate. The individuals who put most into any project of any type get most from it—the "carry over" cannot be measured definitely. For the ultimate success all individuals strive to use self-analysis and conservation in daily life. We must be God fearing citizens who practice a degree of self-denial, working honestly and decently and enjoying our work. Homemakers club members must represent our groups with dignity, justice and worthy of the work upheld in the eyes of the world, and justification of those who elected us. Each officer has a definite assignment that she is expected to accomplish. For the two years membership, I have not missed a club meeting, local, county or district, neither have I failed to report a meeting both before and after. Several articles were gathered from members.

U. S. SHOULD PROTECT ITS MEN

The fact that official Chinese Communist agencies admit that their troops recently fought a battle with U. S. Marines will cause some Americans, no doubt, to ask why the Marines are in China?

This is not the point at issue, however. According to the Marine Corps, a motor convoy, one of the subjects entailed in the study of foods, clothing, houses and furnishings is gotten from these lessons. One member said, "I've often thought of giving up the homemaker club work because of the need of time it takes to attend, but I find that the profit thus gained compensates abundantly for all effort expended in attending and I can do much more work efficiently after the lessons."

"Retonga Enabled Me
To Remain On My Job"

Distress From Nervous Indigestion, Sleeplessness And Sluggish Elimination Relieved So Promptly He Was Surprised, Says Mr Brock. Feels Like Different Man.

"I knew that if I did not get relief soon from the tortures of nervous indigestion I could not stay on my job much longer. I finally tried Retonga and it gave me relief so promptly I was really astonished," gratefully states Mr. Moses Brock of 525 W. Vine St., Knoxville, Tenn. Discussing his happy experience with this noted herbal stomachic and Vitamin B-1 medicine, he happily continued: "I began suffering from sour stomach and belching spells years ago, and home remedies soon lost their effectiveness. My appetite left men and I had to force down whatever I ate. Sometimes I felt too restless to get much sleep and constipation kept me taking harsh purgatives. Finally I got to feeling so badly rundown I realized I could not go on suffering and keep up my job much longer. "Retonga gave me wonderful relief. Every meal now finds me ready to eat heartily. Restlessness and constipation are relieved and I sleep and feel like a different man. Retonga brought me greater relief than everything else I ever tried put together."

MR. MOSES BROCK

Thousands praise this famous medicine. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co.

regular patrols which run over the highway every third day, was ambushed in a deep cut between cornfields and the Chinese opened fire with machine guns, rifles and grenades without warning.

Whether the Marines were where they ought to be or not, they were carrying out duties assigned by the U. S. High Command. Consequently, they are entitled to the full protective force that can be applied to their defense. There should be no hesitation whatever, in letting the world know that it does not pay to attack American soldiers, sailors or Marines.

Of course, this does not mean that the United States should open war with the Communists in China but it does mean that the United States should see that its forces, wherever they are, are in sufficient strength to protect themselves.

WAYS TO AVOID LOSS OF CANNED TOMATOES

Despite the fact that canned tomatoes usually keep well, many homemakers reported to Mrs. Pearl Haak, canning authority at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, that their jars spoiled last year. Mrs. Haak offers these suggestions on how to put up this vitamin-rich food.

1. Can only perfect, ripe, garden-fresh tomatoes. Speed them from garden to jar.
  2. Scald for easy peeling. Remove stem ends, peel and quarter.
  3. Bring tomatoes to a rolling boil, stirring as they heat in their own juice.
  4. Fill clean hot jars to within a half-inch of the top and add a teaspoon of salt to each quart. Adjust lids according to type used.
  5. Process jars in the water-bath canner with the water boiling over the jars for 10 minutes.
  6. Remove jars from the water-bath and complete the seal. Allow to cool out of a draft.
- Uncooked tomatoes may be packed in hot sterile jars and then processed in the water-bath canner for 45 minutes.

TIME TO ADJOURN

There will be many American to criticize the members of Congress because of the adjournment, with much legislation left unfinished. The criticism is not well-founded.

After all, the members of Congress, or most of them, face an election this fall and many of them have important primary engagements with the members of their party. Obviously, if democratic government is to be a success a man in office must have time to do some campaigning.

POLITICS

The two major parties are preparing to pour about $1,000,000 each into the autumn Congressional campaigns, largely in about 20 states and 90 Congressional Districts, according to Democratic and Republican officials. Field outlays by both parties will go into those districts where each believes there is danger of gaining a seat or losing one.

A NEW CALENDAR NEEDED

The average person considers the calendar a fixture in human affairs and some of us find it hard to realize that, after all, it is a man-made device for the convenience of human beings.

The Gregorian calendar, in use in English-speaking countries since 1752, has some inconveniences which the World Calendar Association thinks should be eliminated by a reformed calendar. The Association is driving to get a reformed calendar accepted and in effect on January 1st, 1950.

Under the calendar proposed, every third month would have thirty-one days and all other months would have thirty. This would give equal quarters of ninety-one days, or 364 days in the year. An extra day, the 365th, would be a world holiday and every four years, an additional day would be inserted as a holiday, June 31st.

Proponents point out that dates would occur on the same day of the week every year. Anniversaries, such as Washington's Birthday, would be on the same day of the week and special occasions, such as Christmas, would also have a set place in the week's days.

We are inclined to believe that the new calendar should be adopted because it represents an improvement over that now in use.

Men have had a hard time perfecting a measurement of time but, eventually, using the rising and setting of the sun, the changes in the moon and the apparent yearly revolution of the sun around the earth, formulated the system now in use. There have been many systems of measuring time and calendars of great variety and differences. The Gregorian Calendar has been widely used because of its improvement over other systems but this does not mean that it cannot be improved or that a new calendar would not add to the convenience of peoples.

Other points in connection with the proposed calendar: Each quarter begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday, contains three months, thirteen weeks, ninety-one days. Each month has twenty-six week days—plus Sundays. Each year begins on Sunday, and the business year begins on Monday.

By comparison, the present calendar, has quarters which begin and end on different days of the week, months that begin and end on different week-days, months with a varying number of week-days and quarters of unequal length.

TEN GOOD CROP YEARS

Since the time of Joseph in Egypt, many agriculturists have expected seven bad years to follow seven good years.

The cycle theory of good and bad crops received something of a jolt by the experience of the United States where farmers are now expected to produce bumper crops for the tenth successive year. Corn is expected to set a new record and while other crops are not likely to do so, prospects are excellent.

Some experts in the business of forecasting crops do not agree with the pessimists who tell us that a bad year is overdue. Even if the exceptionally good weather does not continue, there are some factors which lead to the belief that high production will continue. It is based on the idea that some of the climatic hazards in connection with farm production have been overcome.

C. M. Galvin, of Chicago, thinks that the development of better varieties, which are steadier, more resistant to drought, pests and other unfavorable conditions, will play a major role in continued production. In addition, the growing farmers to avoid some weather hazards. As Dorothea Kahn points out, a late planting season, due to excessive rainfall, can be overcome by machinery which enables a farmer to get his land planted quicker and the same applies to the work of harvesting.

The picture of American agriculture, however, is not altogether favorable. There is still a tendency to "mine the soil," erosion continues to take an enormous toll of fertile soil and there is a danger of surplus, perhaps, when European agriculture gets back into production on its pre-war scale.

Silo Simpkins Says

Flying in the face of fortune is a good way to get your wings clipped.

The farm family that keeps the home food supply up keeps living costs down.

A well planned farm building always looks best in well planned surroundings.

The farmer who is caught without proper insecticides should receive a medal from the insects.

Farming is a many-sided occupation, and pitiable indeed is the person who sees only the hard side of it.

The farmer who keeps things moving according to sound plans doesn't have to keep moving from farm to farm.

Sally Simpkins says she agrees with Barrie: "Nothing is really work unless you would rather be doing something else."

MORATORIUM

In an effort to head off inflation, Reconversion Director John R. Steelman has halted the awarding of contracts under a $1,600,000,000 public works program. The moratorium is to be effective for 56 days with limited exceptions. Specifically exempted from the order are: projects costing no more than $3,000; new construction already under way or scheduled to begin by October 1 under contracts already signed; and veterans' hospitals and housing, overseas military installations, the Manhattan Atomic Energy project and the building of access roads to timber lands.

On October 1, 1946, the new 5-cents-per-ounce rate on air mail, approved by the recent Congress, will go into effect. The pre-war rate of 6 cents per ounce was raised to 8 cents an ounce as a war measure to raise revenue.

Voluntary enlistments during July decreased so sharply that the Army will be compelled to call for 25,000 inductees when the compulsory draft is resumed on Sept. 1, according to Army and selective Service officials.

RUSSIA OBSTRUCTS

"Our peace efforts are being obstructed by Russia," declares John Stelle, National Commander of the American Legion, who pointedly remarks that "we rapidly are approaching the position where war can be thrust upon us."

This may be a slight exaggeration but the fundamental truth of the statement applies forcibly to the future outlook of this country. The armies of Russia, under direct control of a small group at Moscow, are available for battle overnight if the rulers of Russia decide to change their international policy that fast.

It is bad situation for peace-loving nations when any country, with powerful military forces, is in such an internal condition that disposition of its might, plus the decision of war and peace, can be made without regard to popular wishes. The situation in Russia is worse because the people, as a mass, have little control of government policies and would not likely know anything about a war until announced by Moscow.

CULTURE BEFORE COLUMBUS

Some 450 years ago, one Christopher Columbus was discovering the New World, or at least, he was uncovering it to the intellect of his race and European generations. In Santo Domingo, the city of Ciudad Trujillo is celebrating the 450th anniversary of its founding in 1496, when Bartholome, Columbus' brother, moored his ship to a tree and set up the oldest settlement in the Western Hemisphere.

Even this statement requires correction, because there were many settlements in the New World when Columbus arrived. Remains of ancient civilizations have been found in several countries, suggesting that the culture and intelligence of people who lived in the Western Hemisphere was, in many ways, on a par with that of the people of Europe.

If you have never read about the ancient peoples who inhabited the Western Hemisphere, even before the noble red man, it might be a good idea for you to go to a library and get a book on the subject. You will learn something from it.

HIGHER PRICES AHEAD

The American buyer can expect higher prices but economic experts suggest that the impact on the family budget will not be measured until next fall.

While the OPA, upon its renewal issued a number of orders providing price increases, decontrols and miscellaneous adjustments, few of them reflect any of the advances in raw materials and most of them were in process when the agency was temporarily abolished by Congress.

It remains to be seen whether the new legislation accomplishes much in holding down price increases. Frankly, we have considerable doubt and the probability is that, sometime in the next year or so, the main question in American homes will be the high cost of living.

Of course, average intelligence suggests that the nation will go through a repetition of wage demands and that each time there is an increase in wages, producers will demand a price increase. It may be very baffling to the consumer, or purchaser, but it has not yet begun to tax the pocketbook nerve.

TOBACCO

A record-breaking American tobacco yield was forecast by the Agriculture Department, which estimates total world production this year as 10 per cent larger than the 1945 output. The new crop in this country was estimated at 2,126,000,000 pounds, which is 50 per cent larger than in 1945 and 42 per cent above than 1940-44 average.

During the war we read in some religious magazines that the war might have been avoided in the Pacific if the churches of the nation had sent more missionaries to Japan. Well, now is the time to send them to prevent a future fight.

Some drivers on the highway today still consider the automobile a great sporting machine. The fact that most travelers are on their way to some business appointment and are not in a mood for a good competitive fling doesn't seem to occur to them.

CAN YOU PUT THIS PUZZLE TOGETHER?

It forms the first letter of a Big Bargain for your Business

Here's a fascinating little puzzle. When properly assembled it forms the letter T—for telephone.

Now there's an instrument of progress which has grown so in value that the only puzzling thing about the telephone is how business ever managed to get along without it. Today there are twice as many telephones as there were 20 years ago—five times as many as there were 30 years ago! As telephone service has grown, so has your own business. More telephones—more customers—more business for you.

Not only in value and usefulness, but in cost, the telephone stands out as a real bargain. Consider that your telephone rate is no more today than it was years ago. This record, this genuine achievement, is becoming more and more difficult to maintain. That's because the trend of rising costs confronting all businesses is increasing the cost of everything going into the furnishing of telephone service to you.

OFFICER CANDIDATES WILL BE CHOSEN AT WEST POINT

"An example of the democratic system by which officer candidates are chosen for the United States Military Academy at West Point will be shown when 142 enlisted men of Army Ground Forces in the United States, and from technical and administrative services, will compete with approximately 200 other soldiers of ground forces overseas and other troops for 122 appointments to the Academy next July," the War Department pointed out today.

Applications are now being received by the commanding generals of the six Armies in the United States, and of the Military District of Washington. The 142 new applicants who meet the physical requirements will be selected September 1 for a United States Military Academy Training Program, and will take competitive entrance examinations on March 4.

"Through this, all enlisted men who meet the age requirements have a chance to rise to executive positions in the Army—few organizations offer personnel such an opportunity to jump ahead," Army officials declared.

Applicants must be citizens, and single, with a high school education or its equivalent. They must have reached their 19th birthdays, but not their 22nd, unless they have served honorably for a year or more in the armed forces during World War II, in which case they may apply if they have not reached their 24th birthday. One year enlisted service before July 1, 1947, and active enlisted status on that date is necessary, but prior service may be counted.
