Holiday Season Opened In Fulton

Children Greet Santa Claus at Baldridge's Store and Were Given a Warm Reception.

CHRISTMAS IS NEAR

Now that Thanksgiving for 1926 has come and gone, the next big eventful day of the year is Christmas, of which we all have the keenest interest. It closes the year's festival events and affords an opportunity for each and everyone to show his good will by the presentation of gifts to family, relatives and friends, also the exchange of greeting cards. And with cheeriness extend a package of joy to our fellow men who are less fortunate.

There isn't any other season of the year at which time is found such an expression of good will as at Yuletide. To the heart and then to action, does humanity take those fine words: "Peace on earth, good will toward men"—first sung to shepherds by those angels who carried the first news of the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem, 1926 years ago.

The Christmas holiday season was opened in Fulton, Friday afternoon, when Santa Claus made his appearance at Baldridge's store to distribute gifts to little boys and girls under 10 years of age. The store was literally jammed from 2:30 to 3:30 and the street in front, too. Little kiddies, content in their unwavering faith in Santa Claus and his annual pilgrimage to Fulton from his North Pole home, gazed agape as Santa Claus himself in this Toyland, leaned down to chuck them under the chin and promise them their wish at Christmas, at the same time placing in their hands a gift—souvenir of the occasion. No one was disappointed. Their little faces were radiant with joy. The little tots were not the only ones made happy. The faces of parents fairly beamed with joy in watching the children in their happiest mood.

Barney Fakes Returns To His First Love

All farmers are not discouraged with farming, as is shown by the return to a farm near Fulton by Barney Fakes and family.

Barney moved his family to St. Louis some two years ago, and sought to become reconciled to city life, but the whole family was discontented and sighed for the pleasures of rural life, and made frequent trips back to Fulton, and nearly every member spent most of their visit in the country.

Recently Barney came to Fulton and purchased the old Snow farm in the Walnut Grove district, and the latter part of last week the whole family came home, and as soon as the present occupant of the farm can arrange to move out, the Fakes will move in.

With so much being written and talked about the bad times that farmers are having, a good deal to make one wonder just why there is so much time wasted in talk.

Barney Fakes has been a farmer all of his life, so that the business of farming is not an experiment with him or his family, and they have had ample opportunity to make a thorough test of both modes of living, and the final decision to return to the farm should make some of the people of Fulton and vicinity stop and think before quitting the farm and trying to make a living in a city.

High School Notes

Both boys and girls are now interested in the basket ball season which is impending. Mr. Cheyney will coach the boys and Mr. Stitt, assisted by Miss White, will direct the girls' practice.

On Friday night of this week the annual football banquet will be held in the dining room of the high school. The banquet will be in charge of Mrs. Weeks, assisted by the members of the faculty.

The annual Little Ten Conference, the foremost athletic association of Western Kentucky, will be held in Princeton, Saturday, Dr. Hughes and Mr. Alexander will attend as members of the Fulton High School faculty. The subject of the "Roving Athlete" will be discussed at the conference, among other matters, and an effort will be made to eliminate this undesirable quantity in present day athletics. Also the question of changing the "Little Ten" to a "Little Twelve" conference will be discussed.

At the meeting of the Western Kentucky Teachers Association last week Mr. Alexander, principal of the high school, was elected committee man from Fulton county and by a very narrow vote barely lost the secretaryship of the high school division of the conference. Miss White was elected as vice-president of the science division.

The manual training department is located in its permanent home in the manual training room of the high school. Mr. Stitt plans to build, among other things, a trophy cabinet for the high school athletic department.

The Turkey Day game was one of the most interesting of the season. From first to last it was anybody's game and no doubt the most enthusiastic of our opponents were glad when the final whistle blew with the score of 9-6 in Murray's favor. James Kinney, captain of the Murray team and their football star is an old Fulton boy and was formerly a member of the Fulton squad.

Buster Shuck and Everett Norman were selected as members of the mythical all-Purchase team for the season 1926.

Remember December 14 as the next Lyceum date at the high school auditorium. The number is the Neapolitan Serenaders.

W. H. Moore Passes Away

The news of the death of W. H. Moore was received in Fulton with general regrets. Mr. Moore passed away at his home in Beelerton early Tuesday morning. He was well known and highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. At the time of his death he was 63 years old. He is survived by his widow, who has the sympathy of the entire Beelerton community in her loss. Funeral services and burial were conducted by the Rev. A. N. Walker, at Wesley church, Wednesday.

Brieflets

The friends of Supt. H. W. Williams will be glad to learn that he is recovering from a recent operation he underwent at the I. C. hospital in Paducah.

A report was sent out from Hickman last week that Clyde Grissom and Belmont Campbell killed a deer near the city while hunting rabbits. The animal was said to be more than a year old and had never been seen by any of the natives during all that time. Some months ago the same writer sent out a special about a bear in that vicinity. But the deer story is the best yet, because it was said to have been killed and brought to Hickman.

A marriage of interest to Fulton folk took place in Memphis last week when Miss Sunshine McCuan, a former Fulton girl, wedded Mr. Gordon Dodds at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. McCuan, on McLeamore Ave.

Eddie Vernon Babb, of near Fulton, and Ruben C. Camp, of Clinton, have joined the U. S. Army. They were enlisted at the Fulton recruiting office so Sgt. Geo. M. Dearing reports.

So anxious are the contractors to complete the road work between Fulton and Hickman they are working on Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis French are the proud parents of a pretty little daughter, the latest arrival at their home in the Highlands.

The Kentucky Utilities Company salesroom on Lake street is filled with a brilliant array of electrical gifts for Santa Claus. It is a real treat to view the display and note the courtesy with which visitors are received.

From general appearances on entering Bennett's Drug Store on Main street, one would think old Santa Claus left all of his gifts and toys at this popular drug store. They are displaying a beautiful line of gifts in toilet goods and other pretty things to gladden the heart of the recipient.

Bob Hubbard left Sunday night for Chicago to confer with I. C. officials.

Manager Hardesty and his crew are kept rather busy these days by the breaking of service wires caused by the frequent moving of the big ditching machines of the sewer contractor.

Attila Hemphill has returned from St. Louis. He says he likes Fulton best and has accepted a position with Lon Pickle at the Twin City Service Station.

Dr. Boyd was a busy man the past two weeks. Besides all the work entailed by the recent visit of the Bishop, he received a large number of fruit trees and shrubbery that had to be put out at once, so that between digging and church work he put in almost full time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Valentine announce the arrival of a pretty little daughter at their home Sunday night in Forestdale.

F. M. Barrett has opened a confectionery and lunch counter in the Beard building near the bridge on Fourth street. Luscious grapes and various kinds of fruits displayed in the windows give the place an inviting appearance. Mr. Barrett is well known in Fulton business circles as a live wire merchant and in business here for years.

Lesson for December 5

RUTH AND NAOMI

LESSON TEXT—Ruth 1:14-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of Ruth.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Ruth a loyal daughter.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ruth the Loyal.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message of the Book of Ruth.

In order to grasp the matter contained in the lesson subject, there must be swept into view the whole book of Ruth. The lesson text which is to be printed has been confined to the first chapter, verses 14-22.

I. Ruth's Connection With Naomi (1:1-15).

On account of famine in Bethlehem of Judah, Naomi with her husband and two sons sojourned in the land of Moab. After the death of her husband her two sons married Moabitish women. After a time her sons died also. After the death of her sons Naomi resolved to return to her homeland, having heard that the Lord had visited his people in giving them bread. They went to Moab to escape trouble but only got into more. It was not until Naomi was thus chastised that she resolved to return. One purpose of God's chastisement is to cause His children to return. Naomi had the good sense to recognize that the hand of the Lord was upon her for good. When the time came for her to go, Ruth and Orpah accompanied her for a distance. This she permitted but determined to place before them frankly the difficulties which would necessarily confront them.

II. Ruth's Noble Choice (1:16-18).

Much as Naomi loved her daughters-in-law, she would not have them go into this matter blindly. She wished them to know the seriousness of their undertaking. She told them the worst that could come upon them. This principle ought to be carried out by us in all our relations in life. In this respect Jesus is our supreme example. 1. No chance to marry again. Naomi told her that she had no more sons for whom she could wait. In that day to be unmarried was the greatest disgrace. Society differed then from now. No avenues were left open by which a woman could earn her living and be independent. Furthermore, it was against God's law for the Jews to marry outside of their own people.

2. She must renounce her gods.

Her idolatrous worship could not be carried on in the land where God's people dwell. This was delicately touched upon when Orpah went back (v. 15). Orpah went back when it was plain there was no chance to get a husband. Now Naomi puts an additional test upon Ruth, that of giving up her religion. Ruth was equal to the occasion. Her mind was fully made up. She was willing to accept as her God the one who was able to produce in His subjects the nobility of character she had observed in Naomi. Naomi's very frankness in dealing with her caused Ruth to be more determined to cast her lot with her. Ruth's position was so definite and unflinching that the very expressions have come down to us in words which "no poetry has outwitted, and no pathos has exceeded, and which have gone through centuries with the music that will not let them be forgotten." She was determined to share Naomi's journey, her home, her God, her lot in life, and her grave.

III. Blessings Which Attended Ruth's Faithfulness.

Ruth was never sorry for her choice, because:

1. She found the true God (1:16).

Instead of her heathen god who was unable to help her, she now had the living God, the God of Israel.

2. She found human friends (ch. 2).

As she went to glean in the field she was led to the field of Boaz, a man of wealth and grace. The servants of Boaz treated her with consideration.

3. A good husband and a happy home (chs. 3, 4).

She not only secured a husband, but a man of God who had an abundance of this world's goods.

4. An honored place in the Israelitish nation (4:13-17).

Though she had to forsake her own people she became one of a nobler people.

5. She became a link in the chain of Christ's ancestry (4:18-22; cf. Matt. 1:5).

The one who fully decides for Christ and gives up all for Him shall gain a hundredfold in this life, and in the world to come eternal life.

Depend on God

Remember that nothing can ever harm you when you have given your life into the keeping of God. Man is powerless against Him who is fortified of the Almighty. You are a child of God—immune, secure.—R. J. Campbell.

Jesus' Achievements

One is sure that a great deal that Jesus achieved He achieved because He was able to give this deathless hope to the hearts of those to whom He spoke.—Robert E. Speer.

PAUL BUSHART BUYS INTEREST IN NEWSPAPER

We understand from reports that Paul Bushart has purchased an interest in The Commercial, a newspaper published at Union City, Tenn. Mr. Bushart is a former Fulton boy and graduated from the 1925 class in public schools of this city. He is a young man with a brilliant mind and has been engaged in newspaper work for some time. He is a good mixer, courteous and of affable disposition and we predict for him a brilliant future in his chosen profession.

Above all, he is a young man of excellent moral character and from all we know can be fully relied on in every way. We join his Fulton friends in wishing him abundant success.

FULTON COUNTY SHOULD BE AMONG THE PRIZE WINNERS IN 1927

Next month there will be gathered at the International Stock Show, at the stock yards pavilion, boys and girls from all over the United States, showing their stock in competition for many valuable prizes and special cash prizes. Too bad there will be no representative from Fulton county.

These boys and girls are members of the "Baby Beef Clubs," which are organized by the different county agents throughout the country, and win the trip through their efforts in raising the best beef in their community or producing the most butter fat from their dairy cow.

The boy that produced the champion baby beef at the last show sold the beef to one of the large hotels of Chicago for three dollars per pound. Did it pay him to use his efforts for production of better beef? Was his trip to Chicago with all expenses paid, worth while? Will what he learned on the trip make him a better farmer and stock raiser in his community? All three questions can be answered by one word—yes.

What is done in other communities can also be done here in Fulton county. All it takes is to get in behind the movement to bring a county agent to this county, and back him up and not knock him and his work.

Besides organizing beef and dairy clubs there will also be poultry clubs, home canning and home economic clubs, and in three years Fulton county will again be on the map and be making progress instead of standing in a rut.

Any boy or girl under 16 years does not have to wait until the county agent is employed to get into a poultry club for the Fulton Poultry Association is organizing one now to be ready for the spring hatch. If you want to get in on the ground floor, rush your name in to Mr. Stansbury, secretary.

The Pine Tree and a Christmas Inspiration

THE creaking, crunching snow under foot, as well as the crisp, frosty air bespoke a temperature some degrees below zero. However, native mid-westerners looked for, anticipated and expected a quantity of snow and cold weather for the Christmas holidays. Their expectations were usually right with an added cold stretch long before the holidays, and long after them.

The hard lines of the massive, bulky, stone Central Administration building of the college was delightfully contrasted against the dead white, fluffy, fairy-like snow all about it. This building, as did four others, faced a huge stretch of campus, with groupings of trees scattered pleasingly about to break the wide expanse. Trees, heavily hung with the almost artificial-looking cottony webbing formed an artistic group across the road and in front of the building. In the center of the group stood a well formed, tall, perfect specimen of a long-needed pine. It was singled out to be the proud possessor of many colored lights distributed about generously among its branches. Deserving of praise was this awesome tree, and its surroundings.

Silhouetted against the sky, forming a background for the proud pine tree stood the campanile, the pride of every student on the campus. In the dull afterglow of the winter twilight the chimneys were extolling the Christmas carols.

At the foot of the narrow winding staircase of iron which leads to the belfry of the campanile, upon close inspection could be seen a maid and young man—not the first time, nor would it be the last time the campanile should witness such a sight. The meeting had been planned in view of their separation on the morrow when both would go to their homes. Moved by the sight of the proud pine, its symbolism, and the chimneys, they bade each other farewell in fond embrace, carrying away with them the spirit of the proud pine tree in their hearts.—Eleanor E. King.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

HAPPY fatigue. Rushing, hurrying, sitting up late. Doing up bundles. Posting packages. Delivering presents. Getting so tired-out you don't know how you can ever finish and then a new vigor and energy and Christmas spirit coming over you so that you feel you can continue more than ever. Wondering whether it will snow and the snow arriving just in time for Christmas, the stars twinkling down on the white, white earth. Bright red apples with the real flavor of the country. Memories of other Christmases and New Year's, blurred at other times somewhat, but poignantly vivid in the happiness of Christmas-tide. This is the Christmas season.—Mary Graham Bonner.

Making Others Happy Will Bring Happiness

AUNT ELIZA had lived alone for many years; her finances had dwindled, and her health as well.

It was Christmas Eve and as Aunt Eliza returned from town with a few little things that her scant purse could buy, her heart was a little heavy, for the winter was before her and her strength was failing fast.

"I'm glad I got that knife for crippled Jim; he so enjoys cutting out those animals. Life is worth while so long as we can give others pleasure, and there is always some one that we can help. I'll read to blind Jane tomorrow and that will help her and me pass away the day. Tonight I must try to think of some way that I can earn money. Sister would help me if she knew, so would the church ladies, but I simply can't tell anyone. Well, the only way to be happy is to make some one else happy, so I'll take Jimmy's knife to him. God has never forsaken me." All this was going through Aunt Eliza's mind.

As she opened the door she stood face to face with her only sister. She was overcome with joy.

"Oh, Eliza, all the children want for Christmas is you, and they sent me for you. We have a nice home next to ours, for you. We will start tonight so we can get there for dinner tomorrow. You shall never feel lonely again."

Eliza continues to believe that making others happy brings happiness.—Emily Burke Adams.

For the Tree

Has any one ever tried cutting little stars, circles, fir trees, etc., from pumpkin rind for the Christmas tree? Peel pumpkin with as wide a peeling as possible. Then cut out your circles, etc., with scissors or knife and fasten to a piece of card.

Christmas Day Brides

According to an old belief Christmas Day brides are inclined to be frivolous and fond of pleasure.

Making the Home Town "Just a Little Better"

There are several things a fellow ought to do for the old town. One step in the process will be to study the other man's town. Learn how he made his success. Use his methods where they will work to advantage. Mix a little brains with observation and improve on the past. Why shouldn't you put the pins on his success?

Then, too, one must line up the resources of the old town. Practically every place has some advantage. That should be capitalized to its full worth. Not in our likeness to other towns but in our differences lie the distinctive agencies that will insure success.

And not least among resources should be the good will of its people. Few towns put forth any real effort to cultivate the interest of their citizens. If people are interested they will work for the town, usually for what they can get out of it. Our proposal then calls for lining up everybody as a matter of patriotic duty.

The next step is to sell the town to folks outside of it. Don't be afraid to tell your town's advantages. When other towns advertise match the "ad with one of your own." Even if you don't sell much to other folks the process will add much to your own estimate.

So, boost the old town. It will add dividends and raise the place you live in to one of pride and satisfaction. It's a great game. Try it.—Kansas City Times.

Carelessness of City

Visitors to Country

No longer are spring flowers the chief adornment of our country roads. The hepatitis has had to yield place to the pop bottle, the wind flower to the wind-blown fragments of the Sunday supplements, the adder's tongue to the tin can.

Out of our cities pour an increasing horde of people who sell forth a dawning after the fashion of tent caterpillars, to leave destruction in their wake. Accustomed to a life where they ever-ready "white wing" and the garbuge collector function as regularly as the rising and setting of the sun, these city dwellers have little or no conception of the beauty and dignity of clean earth. They break down fences, strip flowering shrubs, and all too frequently lead one to wonder why the word "urbanity" ever came to mean what it is supposed to mean and why "city" should have been the distinguishing mark of those who dwell in cities.

Our large centers of population sometimes wonder why they are so unpopular in the rural regions. One reason is to be found in the trash littered along our country highways.—Editorial in The Outlook.

Look to the Driveway

Nothing adds more to the beauty of any home than walks and drive ways. These are nearly always built of concrete, and the pleasing light gray color dresses up the appearance of the home surroundings in a delightful manner.

It is advisable that all walks, approaches and drives be constructed at the same time the home is built. Then the contractor has his material and equipment on the job and the cost of the work is lessened considerably.

In addition to lending charm to the home place, concrete walks and drives prove a boon to the housewife by eliminating the tracking of mud into the house.

Trees Not for Streets

It is a mistake to use a tree for street purposes just because it is rapid-growing, because most such trees are short-lived, weak wood and generally dangerous. Among such trees may be mentioned:

Silver maple—a maple that has quite pendulous branches and deeply cut leaves. The branches have dark bark.

Box elder—a maple with divided leaves. A more or less globular, low branched tree.

Western catalpa—very short-lived. Flowers are very messy.

Also the following: willows, European ash, birch, Carolina poplar and tulip tree.

Clean Up Stable Manure

House flies are here with their perennial transportation program for disease germs. They specialize as common carriers of typhoid fever and diarrheal bacilli. They ply between the germ incubators and the dining room. What they lack in per capita horsepower they make up in preponderance of numbers. Stable manure is the most prolific breeding place of the fly, a part of which can become the ancestors of many million offspring in a single season.

Make Home Beautiful

It doesn't cost any more to make your home beautiful than to have it ugly. Beauty is not gained by dressing the house up with scroll-sawed ornaments, cut-up roofs, dormers and fancy-shaped windows. A well-proportioned house looks beautiful with an all these. Your local architect experienced in these problems and can help you here. It will pay you to consult him.

KEEPING UP A FRONT

"Steve, dear," whispered the burglar's bride as he started on his evening's work, "try to be a little more quiet when you come in tonight."

"Cult'ly, kid," replied the fond husband. "Did I wake youse up last night?"

"No, but you awakened mother. And I don't want her running up to the penitentiary and complaining to father that I married an amateur."—American Legion Weekly.

THE VALUE OF GOOD SERVICE

The remarkable improvement that has been effected in the efficiency and economy of railway operations has exerted a great beneficial influence upon the economic life of the country. In support of that view we have the well-informed testimony of the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Hoover. In his recent annual report upon commercial conditions in the United States, Secretary Hoover made the following statements with respect to railway service.

"Probably the most outstanding single industrial accomplishment since the war has been the reorganization of our American railroads. Our transportation not only was demoralized by government operation during the war but had suffered from chronic shortages and insufficient service, not only after the war but for many years before. The annual loss from this periodic strangulation in transportation was estimated in the department's annual report of 1925 to amount to hundreds of millions of dollars.

"The railroads during the past five years not only have built up adequate service and given a complete correction to these ills, but they have, by great ability of their managers, greatly reduced transportation costs and thus made rate reductions possible which would not have been otherwise the case."

These accomplishments are a matter of record. For example, in the year ended June 30, 1926, the railroads handled more loaded freight cars, carried more tons in the average freight train, moved freight cars more miles per day, performed more freight service per employee and received a smaller average revenue per ton-mile of freight service than in any of the five fiscal years preceding.

The result of this great improvement upon the whole economic fabric of the country has been far-reaching. It has stabilized and increased the efficiency of all production and distribution.

A share of the credit for improved railway conditions belongs to the splendid co-operation between the various industries and the railroads. Outstanding examples of this co-operation are the regional advisory boards, composed of shippers and receivers of freight, which help the railroads to forecast traffic conditions and to obtain more efficient use of their facilities.

If the railroads are to continue to provide good service, with its beneficial effects upon all production and distribution, there must be a continuance of conditions favorable to successful railway operation. The railroads as a whole must be allowed to realize net earnings sufficient to safeguard their credit and to make possible the further expansion of their facilities. The difference between good service and poor service is nothing more nor less than the difference between adequate and inadequate railway net earnings. Good service is worth many times its cost.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

Remember, the First Sunday Singing begins promptly at 2:30. The orchestra will entertain from 2 till 2:30 with a program of the songs we all love—folk songs. Old Folks at Home, Darling Nellie Gray, My Old Kentucky Home, Juanita, Blue Bells of Scotland, and as many others as time will permit. Our singing is greatly appreciated by this community, and we hope a great many of our friends from other communities will be with us this First Sunday, the last singing for this year.

Our community has a custom which dates back to the days of Christ upon the earth, of caring for the sick and needy in our midst. This was exemplified last week when a shower to meet their present needs, was planned for Mr. and Mrs. Beckham Vaughn. There has been much sickness in the family for months. A little child, after much suffering, was called to its final rest. The mother is still in a critical condition, with three small children to be cared for. The husband, with his hands full in the house and his crop to gather. Neighbors helped get his wood and cared for the sick and still there was need. So Thanksgiving evening, the ladies of the community gathered at the home with their offerings of food, clothing and household necessities. Mrs. Vaughan's eyes filled with tears of gratitude as her bed was heaped with things which meant comfort for her little ones, and we realized that it is truly "More blessed to give than to receive." I am very thankful to live in such a community.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner, their immediate families. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, their daughters, Helen and Madeline, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watts and children, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Watts and their families. This was in the nature of a reunion as several were visiting from Detroit and are leaving this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Justine Nanney have taken rooms with Mrs. Ernest Rawls in Fulton for the winter.

Miss Tommie Hunt visited in the community last week.

Quite an audience gathered at Mr. Golden's, Sunday for the music which was enjoyed very much. Mr. Sid Moore had a hemorrhage Sunday night but is resting very well now.

AN EXHILARATING EFFECT

A bottle of Herbine on the shelf at home is like having a doctor in the house all the time. It gives instant relief when the digestion gets out of order or the bowels fail to act. WHICH ROAD WILL YOU TAKE?

At this season of the year, there are two roads to follow, and both are beckoning to you. One leads to disappointment—the other to satisfaction.

If you take the road to satisfaction, you will begin your Christmas shopping at once. Then you will be contented Christmas—will rejoice that you shopped early and were able to find just the things you wanted for Christmas gifts.

If you take the road to disappointment, Christmas will be a day of regrets because you were unable to buy what you had planned to give.

The road to satisfaction is straight and smooth. It is a paved highway with no detours, and on it are many stops where timely merchandise can now be purchased.

If you wait until the last moment, the road to satisfaction will be closed and a detour—the road to disappointment—will be the only avenue on which to travel.

It all rests with you, Mr. and Mrs. Christmas Shopper. You can reach your destination safer and happier by starting TODAY. Indecision may cause you to miss the main road.

PRIDE IN HOME

Pride as a rule is not commendable, especially in the material things of life. Even worse than pride are the false values that it creates.

Pride in an individual is self-destructive, if permitted to run its course unchecked, but a certain amount of pride is necessary for people to keep their self respect and the respect of their friends.

However, pride in our home community may be pardoned—in fact, is needed, if the community is not to lie dormant or go backward in the competition that exists between towns and cities.

A community pride that sees no good in any other community is unpardonable. A community pride that does not recognize the favorable points in every other neighbor defeats its own purpose, that of advancing the community in the eyes of others.

The thing most to be guarded against is not a spirit of boastfulness, although it exists in some citizens to a degree that is harmful to the community, but the opposite extreme which causes citizens to feel that greater opportunities exist elsewhere.

There are many places, of course, which are superior in many ways to our own community, but we of Fulton have advantages in which we may take justifiable pride.

There is a halfway ground on which all loyal citizens may stand. We should guard against either extreme—dissatisfaction and false pride which is equally as harmful, and all the while do all we can, each in our own limited way, to advance the interests of Fulton.

CHRISTMAS THE YEAR 'ROUND

What a world it would be if all of us kept up the Christmas spirit all through the year!

How much of happiness, or discontent, or unrest, would we all be spared? How many foolish quarrels and useless bickerings would never be if our hearts held the message of love and peace that they do today?

How many homes would be unbroken and how many men and women would work together in a new and deeper bond of love and service? How trivial and small would appear some of the reasons that estrange us from each other? How petty and mean the little jealousies and misunderstandings that hamper our way and vision?

How different our fellow-men would appear in our eyes—their little weaknesses and failings would be things to stir our hearts to pity instead of to scorn and contempt.

Well it would be for the world and for each one of us as individuals if the spirit of peace, love and good will toward men burned in our hearts through all the year with the fervor it does today.

In all human experience there is no page more replete with joyous association than Christmas. The first Christmas we remember only as described in sacred story, and we visualize the influence through the spirit exemplified in the lives of our fellow men.

The next Christmas none of us can recall. Then followed anniversaries teeming with visions of sleighs, Santa Claus, candy and toys, when the romance of the Yuletide was so real. None of us ever forget those days.

But how mystically they merge into another epoch of our lives. With the diminishing vision of Santa Claus we become aware of a better Christmas in the conscious love and loyalty of others.

In the years that follow, the Christmas season becomes richer and more beautiful. It has lost the confusion of toys and confectios. But in all these years there has been growing a tree that is ever green—upon it a thousand lighted spangles—hallowed memories of those who played with us around our earliest Christmas trees, or shared the season's festivities in later years.

Refreshing are the recollections that flood upon us as a newer generation takes our place in the pleasures and the happy illusions of Christmas.

May this Yuletide be brighter and happier than all that have gone before.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

This is the season of the year when our hearts and minds naturally turn to those who are near and dear to us, with an affection that apparently is greater than at any other period of the year.

It is a time when our love and sympathy for little children are enlarged; when we feel like we want to do something for every person, great or small, young or old; when our natural impulses are to bestow a gift on every one and bring good cheer and happiness to the whole world.

This is the Christmas spirit at work in our hearts. It is the subconscious love of the Master of men, manifested in our wish to give to our friends and associates some token as an expression of our esteem and affection.

Love is indeed a most wonderful and powerful force. It bids us to home, to duty, and to the principles of truth and righteousness. It is the bond that holds society together.

Love is an innate part of every human being and it manifests itself in many ways. In some it is smothered; in others developed into a fine flower that finds expression in their daily lives.

It exists always, but never is so fully expressed as at the happy Christmas season. Then we call it the Christmas spirit, which is a synonym for kind words, good deeds and wholesome thoughts.

We complain that the Christmas spirit is manifested only a short time in the year; that it should always be uppermost in our lives. It is ever present, but the opportunity to show its presence comes but once a year—then every human being with a spark of love left rekindles the fires of affection for all held dear, and the Christmas spirit is again at work making hearts light and cheerful.

ADVANTAGES OF SPECIAL DELIVERY SERVICE DURING CHRISTMAS RUSH

There is no other feature of the Postal Service that is worth so much for such small cost as the Special Delivery Service during a rush period such as the Christmas holidays. To have your mail sent by special delivery costs only 10c, 15c or 20c, according to the weight of the mail matter, a schedule of which is given below:

On all letters and packages weighing less than two pounds the special delivery fee is 10c; on all parcels weighing more than two pounds but less than ten pounds the fee is 15c and on all parcels weighing over ten pounds the fee is 20c.

The special delivery fee not only insures the quicker and better handling of mail in transit but causes it to be delivered to you or to the party you have addressed it to immediately upon arrival at the post office by a special messenger, thereby avoiding the delay incident to delivery in the ordinary way.

We especially urge all merchants who have occasion to make last minute orders for Christmas goods to specify that they be sent out Special Delivery and thereby allow the Postal Service to give them the best of service and also allow them to give their customers quicker and better service.

Again we wish to stress the importance of early shopping and early mailing for Christmas, but if for any reason it is not possible for you to mail early don't overlook the special delivery service.

Senour's FLOOR PAINT

"It Penetrates"

IN the word "penetration," is a secret manufacturing process that has made Senour's Floor Paint a popular favorite for over 40 years.

If a floor paint does not penetrate or grip into the wood it will soon begin to crack, chip and peel.

Senour's Floor Paint dries over night with a high gloss enamel-like finish, but at the same time it sinks into the pores of the wood and forms a film that will withstand the hardest usage and will withstand repeated washings without dimming the lustre.

Every can of Senour's Floor Paint is guaranteed to give satisfaction if directions printed on the can are followed or money back upon receipt of empty can.

It's only a very short time until the busy Holiday season is here again. Before we realize it, all of us--old and young--will be counting the days until Christmas.

We want to suggest right now, while there is time to decide without haste, that you make your Christmas greeting decidedly personal this year.

Select from our display of beautiful designs and charming sentiments the card that exactly expresses your good wishes. Then permit us to print your name below the verse or seasonal greeting, and the message will be doubly personal.

Call at our office whenever convenient--but remember, those who come early will have first choice of a delightful assortment.

COOPERATION OF PUBLIC IN HANDLING CHRISTMAS MAIL

Prepay postage fully on all mail matter.

Address all matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box number whenever possible. Place sender's name and address in upper left hand corner of parcel.

Pack articles carefully in strong containers. Wrap parcels securely, but do not SEAL, except when bearing a PRINTED LABEL reading: "Contents Merchandise. Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas." This being allowed in order to encourage early mailing.

Do not enclose letters in parcels as this will subject the entire parcel to the letter rate of postage.

Written greetings such as "Merry Christmas," etc., may be enclosed but no other kind of greetings are permitted.

Christmas seals and stickers should not be put on the address side of the package.

Last, but not least, be sure to mail early--and early in the postal service at Christmas time means at least a week before Christmas day.

If you will observe the above suggestions your mail will be sure to be handled in good shape and delivered to the addressee on or before Christmas Day.

What Shall I Give For Christmas?

This very pertinent question is answered—exhaustively, thoroughly, comprehensively, suggestively. We mention gifts appropriate for every member of the family—father, mother, brother, sister, relatives, friends or sweethearts. And with the selection as varied and attractive as it is this year at this store, Christmas shopping and gift selecting is more of a pleasure than a drudgery. You come into this store and see so many beautiful things that are suitable gifts for the loved ones in mind that you are happily perplexed in not knowing which ones of the hundreds to buy. We offer you the result of months of buying and looking around for Christmas goods. While we are always desirous of selling just as low as we possibly can, yet quality is our foundation, and you can rest assured that any article bought for a present will give satisfaction and pleasure to the recipient every time he or she has occasion to use it.

We are mentioning a few of the appropriate articles suitable for Christmas and purposely omitting prices in order that you may forget all about the cost in anticipation of the pleasure of giving.

Fostoria

Is the name of fine crystal and decorated glassware. It is distinctly a quality product. There is clear colored glass, the new blue, amber, canary and green; mother-of-pearl and Spanish lustre iridescent; coin gold band ware; encrusted gold ware; needle etchings and deep plate etchings. Something to suit every taste—every purpose, and every pocketbook! And whatever is marked with the Fostoria label is without qualification the finest glassware you can buy. All sorts of designs, patterns and pieces. This week we are featuring Fostoria goblets and Fostoria perfume bottles.

And here come, too, the father, son or friend who wishes to pick out a sure-to-be-valued gift.

Here you will also find the newest patterns in glassware and PYREX Ovenware.

Indeed we are selling silverware. The famous Rogers line. More of it is going out this month than ever went out before. Rogers silverware will stand the test of time and wear, because it is the best quality plate made. The maker says so and we back it up.

The beauty and character of the silverware which we are displaying, make gift selections easy.

They represent the very newest thought—among the mechanical effects in the imported toys are many remarkable inventions that will furnish delightful amusement for parents as well as for youngsters. The Dolls in construction are the best procurable. They have the prettiest faces, the brightest eyes, the glossiest hair—in short they are irresistible.

In the displays are wagons, tricycles, coasters, scooters, skates, and everything to make the little ones happy.

We invite you to make our store your Headquarters and shop EARLY while stocks are at their best.
