Brilliant Opening Wednesday

Graham Furniture Company Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Anniversary in their New Store Building

Those who attended the Graham Furniture Company's opening of their new home on Walnut street Wednesday afternoon and evening were loud in their praises of this popular furniture establishment.

The Graham Furniture Company is owned by J. Ray Graham and sons and is one of the largest and oldest furniture establishments in Western Kentucky. The building is one of the most substantially built in the city and the sales and display rooms occupy 20,250 square feet of floor space. In the basement linoleums and second hand furniture is artistically displayed. On the first floor a general display of furniture is exhibited. In the balcony pretty vases and novelties are displayed. On the second floor beautiful draperies, rugs and living room suites, etc., are attractively displayed. The artistic arrangement of the displays are effectively brought out in half dozen or more rooms so the prospective purchaser may see and know just exactly how the furnishings will look in their own home.

In conversation with Mr. Warren Graham, one of the popular members of the firm, the Christmas spirit was injected into our thoughts when Mr. Graham said:

"At this glad season of the year we are all thinking of the spirit of giving and making others happy."

"We think that your home should come first on your gift list, don't you? A gift for the home is the most useful gift for all, because its beauty, comfort and convenience can be shared by all the family. In many homes this season entire families will pool their Christmas funds and buy one big gift for their home instead of giving small presents of no lasting value to each other."

"Never before have we shown so many new and beautiful pieces for the home. In fact, everyone agrees that furniture is prettier than it has ever been. People have gotten away from the rule that everything should match perfectly in design and color. They should harmonize, 'tis true, but not be so near alike as to be monotonous."

"We carry many novelties in addition to our complete line of furniture, rugs and draperies. We have pretty vases for the table or wall, elaborate desk sets, book ends, pictures, sewing cabinets and other lovely things for every room in your home."

"When you think of lamps, you should find the type here that you wish, whether it be bridge, table or junior floor lamp. We are showing more and prettier lamps than ever."

High School Notes

The Neapolitan Serenaders gave the second number of the Lyceum Course Tuesday night. They are among the most gifted of artists and the Fulton public were more than delighted at the presentation. In the Neapolitan Serenaders, violin, voice, and harp unite in artistic achievement. The Parent-Teachers Association is to be congratulated in securing this high-class lyceum course.

The Fulton High School basketball team journeyed to Martin, Tennessee, Saturday night and met the boys and girls teams of that place. The game was an interesting one; the boys contest was a rather close one, though the Fulton girls were defeated by a large score. Both teams enjoyed the trip and report a good time and courteous treatment.

The Fulton City Schools will close for the holidays December 22 and will re-open January 3rd. The schools will close at the regular hour Wednesday afternoon.

The gymnasium is now a much used room. About fifty pupils are in regular practice.

The high schools orchestra is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Bell.

The W. C. T. U. is sponsoring a state wide essay contest on the subject of alcohol and its dangers. The Fulton schools will participate in this contest. All English students in the schools will be required to write an essay on this subject based on information furnished by the W. C. T. U.

The Girl's Declamatory contest of last week was an interesting one. The classes were represented as follows:
Seniors... Annie Watt Smith
Juniors... Agatha Gale
Sophomores... Jane McAdams
Freshmen... Grace Hill

The judges were: Mrs. Braun, Mr. Nugent, and Mr. McDaniels. Annie Watt Smith was awarded the first place, giving the victory to the senior class.

The boys basketball team will meet Troy, Tennessee, team on the latter's home court. An interesting game is expected.

HALL-MOODY TO BE MERGED WITH UNION UNIVERSITY

College at Martin Will Be Consolidated with Jackson
University

Jackson (Tenn.) Sun. An announcement of wide interest in Baptist educational circles over the entire South was made this morning when Union University officials announced the consolidation of Hall-Moody College at Martin with the local Baptist university. The merger will take place in September, 1927. Equipment of Hall-Moody will be sent to Union and the faculty will be added to the Union university faculty, it was declared.

This announcement was made after the official action of merging the institutions was made at Memphis yesterday at the meeting of the executive committee of the Tennessee Baptist convention, and it came as a distinct surprise as no intimation of the merger had been given out previous to today's announcement.

The reason why the colleges were consolidated was explained as a move to remove the indebtedness of Hall-Moody by the sale of its buildings and applying the remaining sum to Union's debts thereby strengthening the local institution considerably.

Union is now in its eighty-first year and although Hall-Moody was considerably younger its work had become widely recognized and the college at Martin was regarded as one of the leading Baptist schools of this entire section.

All records of Hall-Moody alumni will be transferred to Union and will be kept with Union's alumni records and the two colleges, beginning next September, will be regarded, and operated as one under the name of Union.

This merger will greatly increase the enrollment at Union and it is believed the annual enrollment this year will exceed 1,500.

SCHOOL TO CLOSE

Cayce School to be Discontinued Unless Citizens Raise Money.

Because of a technicality on which the recent election in that district was declared null and void, the Cayce school will be closed at the end of the December 24, unless the citizens are able to raise $1,435 in some manner to keep it open the remainder of the year. The situation has caused much comment around the county and The Courier has obtained the following account of the entire affair from County Supt. of Schools J. R. Wall, so that our readers may know just exactly how the matter stands. Plans are on foot now to continue the school in session if possible.

"The school election held in Cayce declared invalid by the Court of Appeals. Reason for said decision being that the amount ($1,435) derived from the 25c tax was not stated on the election notice posted."

"We want everyone to understand why the county school board has decided to close said school on December 24, 1926, so for this reason, I am giving the following information:

"Total valuation of local property in the district is $391,306, at 15c per $100 equals $586.96. Total valuation of M. & O. property is $182,763, at 15c per $100 amounts to $274.14, thus the total taxes is the sum of these two figures, which is $861.10.

"The salaries of the two high school teachers are $160 and $125 per month, or a total of $285 per month, which for four months amounts to $1,140. Insurance, janitor service and coal added makes some over $1,200 total expense."

"By using per capita money due the district plus the $861 derived from the 15c tax we can carry on the school until Dec. 24th, or four months and pupils get credit for a terms' work. In order that the school may be carried on for the remaining five months it will be necessary for the people of the district to raise $1,435 in what ever manner they may see fit, otherwise pupils of Cayce school district wishing to continue in high school may do so by going to the high school nearest to them."

"There were two bond elections held early in the year before I came into office. These elections were held in Jordan and Sylvan Shade districts and carried but due to irregularities in the elections these bonds cannot be sold, so we want the people of said districts to know that there is no bonded indebtedness on them but just as if the elections had never been held."

"The Board decided that schools of the county may close for one week for the Christmas holidays, but not more than one week."

J. R. WALL, Supt."

Christmas Team Work— and It Was for Keeps

IT HADN'T been a good Christmas season for the little maiden lady in her little Economy store.

Economy was an apt name for it—only the strictest economy prevailed there.

The next day was the last before Christmas, she reasoned, and a lot of her cheap toys were not sold.

The little maiden lady made a resolution. She had always wanted to be rich that she might bestow fine presents upon all the boys and girls. She liked boys and girls, but somehow they always treated her distantly when she made her timid overtures.
It was very evident she was never going to be rich—she would do something now; so she made a big sign and put it in her window:

"A Christmas toy for each of the first fifty children who come in at four o'clock the day before Christmas."

Miss Watkins didn't think there were fifty in the whole town, but she was mistaken. At four o'clock the next day they came trooping in—in such numbers she never knew how many toys she gave away.

It was all exciting and very thrilling. It was the most fun she had ever had. The "Thankyous" and the "Merry Christmases" were all so genuine and overwhelming, and right in the midst of it who should appear but the kind-faced, white-haired gentleman who kept the small candy shop across the street, and he invited them all over to partake of his wares. He looked like Santa Claus himself with his round rosy cheeks, shining blue eyes, and white hair curling over his fur collar.

When everything was quiet once more and Miss Watkins sat with folded hands thinking about the Christmas joy the simple giving had brought to her, Santa Claus from across the street again appeared:

"Pretty good team work we made of it, didn't we, Miss Watkins?" he chuckled.

And Miss Watkins uttered a surprised "Yes, indeed!"

Santa Claus chuckled again and put his hands on the surprised lady's shoulders:

"Don't you think we could team it together the rest of our lives?"

And Miss Watkins looked up and blushingly stammered:
"Yes, indeed!"—Florence Harris
Wells.

What Shall I Give For Christmas?

This very pertinent question is answered—exhaustively, thoroughly, comprehensively, suggestively. We mention gifts appropriate for every member of the family—father, mother, brother, sister, relatives, friends or sweethearts. And with the selection as varied and attractive as it is this year at this store, Christmas shopping and gift selecting is more of a pleasure than a drudgery. You come into this store and see so many beautiful things that are suitable gifts for the loved ones in mind that you are happily perplexed in not knowing which ones of the hundreds to buy. We offer you the result of months of buying and looking around for Christmas goods. While we are always desirous of selling just as low as we possibly can, yet quality is our foundation, and you can rest assured that any article bought for a present will give satisfaction and pleasure to the recipient every time he or she has occasion to use it.

We are mentioning a few of the appropriate articles suitable for Christmas and purposely omitting prices in order that you may forget all about the cost in anticipation of the pleasure of giving.

Fostoria
Is the name of fine crystal and decorated glassware. It is distinctly a quality product. There is clear colored glass, the new blue, amber, canary and green; mother-of-pearl and Spanish lustre iridescent; coin gold band ware; encrusted gold ware; needle etchings and deep place etchings. Something to suit every taste—every purpose, and every pocketbook! And whatever is marked with the Fostoria label is without qualification the finest glassware you can buy. All sorts of designs, patterns and pieces. This week we are featuring Fostoria goblets and Fostoria perfume bottles.

Great Meeting Tuesday Night

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

"Let's go, and go a trotting," was the motto expressed by the members of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night when the members considered the subject of reorganization and putting on a drive to make Fulton the center of the community in fact as well as name.

G. A. Abbott, secretary of the Extension Department of the Tennessee Manufacturers Association, of Memphis, presented a plan for reorganizing the present body and suggested a change in the name to the Fulton Community Association, as that of Chamber of Commerce did not adequately cover the field which it was desired to cover.

He was followed by Joe Davis, who called on all present to express their opinions, and the general idea seemed to be that all former animosities should be laid aside and the whole community should get busy and develop the many resources we have and make this one of the very best sections in the south in which to live and do business, and by business, was meant farming as well as merchandising.

The committee which has been seeking plans for this end will immediately start work and will call in such others of the town and country as will be needed to successfully secure the means and plans for the work.

Many present expressed their hearty endorsement of the plans and said they were ready to do anything necessary. The opening quotation thoroughly expresses the way many of them stated their willingness to work.

Ex-president Kramer introduced Judge Boltz, who stated that he was the "Original Good Roads Fan of Kentucky," having been the first man in the state to be elected on a good roads platform, many years ago. Ever since, he has been in the work and at present is representing the Portland Cement Association, of the U. S. He gave a talk on concrete roads and streets and offered the services of his association in planning for the paving of the streets of Fulton, explaining that this would be done at absolutely no cost to the city.

C. W. Harward, formerly of Halls, Tennessee, made a short talk, offering to put in a canning factory if he could obtain sufficient cooperation from the business men and farmers. A committee composed of R. H. Wade, A. M. Nugent and Arch Huddleston was appointed to meet with him and see if the plan could be put into operation.

There were a number of straight talks made by the members and others, among them being the mayor, who said that both himself and the city council would do everything within their power to make the reorganization and building up of the community a success.

Tuesday night's meeting bids fair to be an epoch-making event in the affairs of Fulton, and it will be, if every citizen makes up his mind to do his best to make the plan an unqualified success.

ARRAYED IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Reynolds' Store Ready to Serve the Holiday Shopper to Perfection

The Reynolds' store on Church street is beautifully arrayed in holiday attire. Mr. Wiggins, the clever manager, has been providing stocks for months to supply the holiday trade and a peek into the show windows only give you a faint idea of the beautiful things on the inside. An attempt to enumerate the lovely things appropriate for gifts at this store would require columns of space. Just go and see how easy it is to make selections, and the earlier the better.

BROTHERHOOD BANQUET DECEMBER 19

Fulton Division, Lodge No. 801, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, will hold their regular annual banquet Sunday, December 19, in the Moose Hall at one p. m. sharp, to be followed immediately by the selection of officers for the ensuing year and other matters of interest to their organization. A goodly number of out-of-town members will be present from the entire division and also the general chairman from Chicago and a wonderful inspirational meeting is expected.

JOIN POULTRY CLUB

Now that the county agent is assured for Fulton county, let us get busy and start the good work in advance of his arrival. The Poultry Association is going to work hand in hand with the agent and do all in their power to make Fulton county one of the bright spots in West Kentucky. We want to put Fulton and Obion counties on the map and to do this we must have more thoroughbred poultry and more breeders. Now, we would like to have at least twenty join from each county. We are organizing a boy and girl club of poultry breeders, and want any boy or girl sixteen years of age or under who will tend to their flock to send in their name with the breed of fowls they want and we will furnish the eggs for hatching and getting them started. They will be expected to show a pen at the Fulton Fair and will compete for three sets of CASH prizes. In addition there will be several special prizes worth going after.

Now boys and girls if you are interested in thoroughbred poultry, now is the time to get started and if you apply yourself this may be the starting of your fortune.

The date of closing the club will be January 15, 1927, but you can register any time prior to that by sending or bringing your name to Mr. H. S. Stansbury, secretary, who is now located at the Kentucky Utilities office or with the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce or by addressing your letter to J. T. Watkins, Show Superintendent.

TAX NOTICE

For the benefit of the Tax Payers of the McAlister District, Hickman county, I or one of my deputies will, on Friday, December 17, 1926, be at the City National Bank, in Fulton, Ky., from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., for the purpose of collecting your 1926 taxes. Please meet us there and pay your 1926 taxes, and save the penalty of 6 per cent, after December 31, 1926.

THE BIG FRANKLIN STORE IS READY FOR HOLIDAY SHOPPERS

On entering the Franklin Store on Main street, one is simply astounded at the lovely exposition of holiday goods. You may revel for hours in this big store and the more you look the more confused you become on what is the prettiest gift to select. The windows are handsomely arrayed with gift ideas and the store within is a charm of loveliness. Gift selections stare you in the face in every direction. The best and safest plan to make your shopping a delightful pleasure at this store is to take advantage of the expert advice of one of the clever salespeople, who are especially trained in rendering just that service characteristic of the Franklin organization.

It may truly be said that this is the Christmas store of Fulton. They invite you now to select your gifts and have them put away till wanted. They also make a specialty of wrapping your gifts for mailing.

DELIGHTFUL GUILD MEETING

"But we pause, and in November
We remember, we remember."

The November meeting of Trinity Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Mack Roach on Second street, twelve members answering roll call.

The Rector, Dr. A. C. Boyd, opened the meeting by reading a scripture lesson.

Mrs. Roach read the minutes of the last meeting being followed by the treasurer, Mrs. Charles Binford, who made her report.

The President, Mrs. Don Taylor, summed up the work done by the guild during the past year and outlined plans for the coming year. Her words, fitly chosen, were like "Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver." From them we take increased devotion to that cause whose principle is "Not to be ministered unto but to minister." In closing she read a beautiful poem which was like a benediction.

Mrs. Harvey J. Alexander gave the program for the afternoon, which consisted of a resume of the Mission Study Work. Then the Free Will offering was made which is the annual custom of the guild to make the first meeting after Thanksgiving and is given by the members in lieu of holding a bazaar. Mrs. Charles Karmire sent a generous donation which the guild acknowledged by a vote of thanks.

While the offering was being taken, Miss Virginia Swiggart sweetly sang, "Holy Offerings, Rich and Rare," accompanied by Miss Hallie Mae Godfrey.

Plans were perfected for the Christmas entertainment which is the children of the Church school each Christmas Eve.

A committee was appointed for the Christmas altar decorations, which will be all in white. During the social hour Mrs. Roach, assisted by Misses Swiggart and Godfrey, served a delicious salad course. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Charles Binford the first Monday in January.

Lesson for December 26

REVIEW

REVIEW—Moses to Samuel.
GOLDEN TEXT—Surely His salvation is high them that fear Him, that glory may dwell in our land.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Stories of the Quarter.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Stories of Israel's Leaders.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Great Men and Women of the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Great Teachings of the Quarter.

Three good methods may be used for this review.

I. Assign to the members of the class a week ahead the task of preparing a description of the outstanding events of each lesson. The length of such descriptions will depend upon the number of pupils in the class and time allowed for the lesson.

II. Assign to the pupils the outstanding personalities of the quarter the task of making an analysis of these characters, pointing out the strong and weak points thereof. The principal persons appearing in the quarter's lessons are Moses, Joshua, Caleb, Gideon, Ruth and Samuel. Two pupils may be assigned to report on the same character, the one on the strong points and the other on the weak points.

III. Ask the members of the class to bring a written report on each lesson, giving the principal fact and the leading lesson thereof. The following suggestions are offered:

October 3. Moses sought the help of Hobab in guiding Israel through the wilderness. Though Hobab was a shrewd child of the desert, the Lord God was a better guide than he. Like Moses, we should acknowledge the leadership of the Lord, even though it may mean confession of our own failure.

October 10. Through unbelief spies were sent to Canaan. The majority report was brought by the ten spies. Joshua and Caleb recognized the difficulties equally with the ten, but because they had faith in God, counseled taking possession of the land.

October 17. Because of an act of disobedience Moses was debarred from entering the promised land. Though he had to suffer this loss, the Lord gave him a place in the very front rank of His prophets.

October 24. Upon Moses' retirement and death, Joshua was appointed as a new leader of Israel. Though God's servants die, His work goes on because the Lord has always in readiness capable leaders.

October 31. Six awful woes are pointed out as coming upon those who indulge in wine. The only safe attitude toward the intoxicating cup is not to look at it, not to come into its way; total abstinence is enjoined upon all.

November 7. Jericho, the key to the land of Canaan, fell prostrate through faith in God. Spiritual victories are won upon principles and by means which are utterly foolish in themselves.

November 14. Because of Caleb's sterling character and his loyalty to God, he came into possession of the inheritance which God had chosen for him.

November 21. In Joshua's farewell address he brought to the attention of Israel God's providential dealing with them and appealed to them to renew their covenant with his God. The people entered into a formal covenant at Shechem. In order to clinch this obligation Joshua wrote down their agreement in a book, and as a further help set up a large stone as a witness.

November 28. Gideon's army was reduced to 300. All who were cowardly were permitted to withdraw. Others were likewise permitted to withdraw. A small company trusting God can win the victory over a mighty host.

December 5. Ruth chose to be identified with the people of the Lord. Because of this choice she came into possession of the blessings of the true God and her name has become immortal.

December 12. Because God gave to Hannah a son in answer to her prayer, she gave him up to service in the house of God.

December 19. As Samuel in his old age was retiring from the place of Judgeship in Israel, he challenged the people as to the integrity of his conduct among them. Everyone in public life should be ambitious to leave an untarnished record at the close of his career.

IS IT A SACRIFICE?

Is it a sacrifice to cut some five million trees for the annual Christmas festival? And if it can be justly called a sacrifice, isn't it justified?

In recent years some unfavorable comment has been heard, in view of the rapid depletion of our forests and a consequent increase in waste land area.

There are those who stoutly contend that it is a foolish custom of pagan origin, not worthy of perpetuation in this enlightened Christian age, and that it is a senseless destruction of millions of young, thrifty trees that are so much needed to supply the timber requirements of the country.

But strangely enough, the foresters as a class, those who are most interested in conserving tree growth, do not share this concern about the Christmas tree. They are interested in growing trees and having them used for their highest good. If a ten-year-old tree, of which 2,000 or more can be grown upon a single acre, can give so much joy, what better use can be made of the trees?

The custom is so well established that it will never be wholly discarded, and why should it be? Is it not the Christmas tree that gives the setting for the celebration? What is more delightful to children than the Christmas tree with its candles or electric lights, silver trimmings, tinsel and the other things that go with it? Take away a Christmas tree and you have removed the chief charm. It is the something that is eloquent of sentiment and that has a much higher value than the cost of the tree. It is not to be measured by economic considerations or commercial computations.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

Only a few days remains for Christmas shopping. The days before Christmas can almost be counted on the fingers of one hand. And how quickly they will slip by!

Are you going to be numbered among those who wait until the last minute to do their gift buying? Are you going to be one of those who rush into stores at the eleventh hour and are disappointed because they can't find what they had planned to buy? Are you going to join the class of citizens who procrastinate at this all important duty of buying gifts for Christmas?

Resolve today that you will do your Christmas shopping at once. Don't postpone it another day. Remember your experiences of past years when you foolishly waited until it was too late to get what you wanted.

The merchants of Fulton are anxious to sell you just what you want. But they can't anticipate your desires in every detail. Some article may be in unexpected demand. Those who bought early showed the trend of the buying. They gave merchants an opportunity to restock where necessary. If you are one who waited until the last week this year, make a resolution never to do it again.

DON'T WAIT ANOTHER DAY.

CHRISTMAS BONUSES

The customary "prosperity" story about Wall Street bonuses has appeared, always a forerunner of Christmas. Out in the byways of America it never sounds very good.

That Wall Street employees should receive $50,000,000 in the form of bonuses indicates that prosperity exists in the home of the mighty more than in name only.

The year-end distribution of wealth is not confined to employees alone. Stockholders of large commercial and industrial organizations have already cut "melons" for dividing this month which run into the hundreds of millions.

In some this may arouse envy, in others a dislike bordering on hatred for those who have wealth, but neither passion should be allowed to gain the upper hand. Only harm can come from permitting envy or hatred to dominate.

Those less fortunate in accumulating this world's goods should rejoice in the prosperity of others, and count their blessings, such as are not measured by dollars.

All the while, however, they have the right to wonder if there is not something wrong about a system that makes it possible to concentrate so much wealth in one place.

CHILDREN'S FATAL DISEASES

Worms and parasites in the intestines of children undermine health and so weaken their vitality that they are unable to resist the diseases so fatal to child life. The safe course is to give a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge. It destroys and expels the worms without the slightest injury to the health or activity of the child. Price 35c. Sold by

THE CHRISTMAS GROUCH

Along about this time of year the Christmas grouch begins to breathe feebly, but he dies hard.

There is scarcely a family which hasn't a Christmas grouch—someone who thinks gifts are foolish and that money spent in making others happy at this season is wasted.

It pains him sorely to see money wasted; it grieves him to see the Christmas trees cut down; he thinks it is a sin to tell the children the legend about Santa Claus; he scolds about shopping; he is sorry for the postman who has to carry so many large bundles; he becomes the fate of those who indulge in Christmas buying because they will all be in debt and start the new year wrong; he believes the sentiment that formerly attached to Christmas has all gone because it has been commercialized; he thinks Christmas trees are a menace to life because he once knew a house that was set on fire by one; he declares it is a sin to spend money for flowers at Christmas.

The Christmas reformer has hundreds of ideas about how Christmas could be improved. He opines that the Christmas holidays mean nothing to him and that he will be glad when they have passed.

But Christmas remains Christmas just the same, for all the grouch's protests, and will be the same forever. The grouch casts a gloom over the household for a time, but even he can't resist the appeal of the happy Christmas season. Sooner or later he will be ashamed of himself and join the merriment.

TAKING INVENTORIES

Every city likes to grow, and every town likes to develop into a city. It is human nature to desire progress, and it is the progress we make which marks us from the lower animals. Of course every city cannot develop into a metropolis, and all towns cannot develop into great manufacturing cities. But in nearly every city and town it is possible to get better year by year.

There are different ways of developing. The commonest one of course is to bring new industries into the community. Before this is undertaken the community might well take a survey of its industries and its natural advantages. This ought to be done every year or two so that any work performed by the commercial club or civic organization will not be done blindly, but with some definite plan in view. Every enterprising merchant takes an inventory of his business once or twice a year. Why should not the city and town take stock of what it has and what it expects to do in the succeeding twelve months?

Some cities and towns are ideally situated for certain kinds of industries, and other communities would naturally attract different industries.

The thing for the enterprising community to do, of course, is to find out the kind of business it can get and then go after it.

If this be done there is little doubt that the average community can do some developing. There are many industries anxious to leave the congested centers of population for various reasons. As a general thing small factories which are apt to grow into big institutions do a town more good than the larger kind which are apt to make its industrial life one-sided. And as like attracts like one or two industries of a certain kind are likely to bring similar or correlating industries into the city.

Why not take an inventory of our town and see what can be done?

There was no service held in Clinton last Sunday on account of the bad weather, and it is likely that this service will be suspended during the winter, as the roads will probably be impassable a good part of the time.

The Course of Study for the Parish Institute was started in the Church School last Sunday, and it is expected that interest in the school will correspondingly increase.

The Church School will have the usual Christmas tree exercises this year and the children are drilling for the event.

The Woman's Guild will provide the tree and decorations, as well as the candy and other "goodies" for the Christmas entertainment.

Mrs. Hubert Barber is suffering from an attack of tonsillitis, but was able to take charge of her class on Sunday.

The Woman's Auxiliary met at the Rectory on Monday afternoon, for the purpose of studying Mission Work.

There was a fair attendance at the morning service Sunday in spite of the rain and mud. Several cars got into difficulties with the ditch in front of Trinity. Most of the congregation coming in cars walked from the Post Office corner or from State Line to the Church.

Provided Breakfast

for Old Santa Claus

"Do YOU think?" inquired small David of his father, "that Santa is coming 'bout this time?"

"Why, not quite so early, son. A little later, perhaps. Still, if you listen carefully, perhaps you can hear his bells."

Small David stood on tip-toe near the window and cocked his pink ears. "I think," he said slowly, "I think I hear 'em!"

The family rather forgot small David in the next half hour. There was much to do. But finally father looked up. "Where's the boy?" he asked.

David had disappeared. They scurried about hunting for him in every room. No David. Then some one heard a faint noise on the front porch. Father stepped out to see what it was.

A small, square figure in very short pants was bending over something.

"Son," called father, "what are you doing out here?"

"S-s-s-s!" warned small David. Father stepped nearer.

"See," said small David reaching up on tip-toe to whisper. "See, I brought out a bowl of breakfast food for Santa Claus. He might get hungry."

Father gathered up his son, amused and pleased.

"That's the very first time I ever knew of any one thinking about Santa's comfort. Bless you, boy! That's the right holiday spirit!"

Next morning small David found a note pinned to his stocking:

THANK YOU
MY BOWL OF BREAKFAST FOOD!
—SANTA CLAUS.

His Christmas Dream

and It All Came True

HE WAS such a beautiful little darling that his mother looked at him and forgot what she was going to say, when she was about to give him a lecture about pulling the cat's tail. And when he went with her to the hospital with a basket of flowers, and passed up and down the wards with a smile and a Christmas flower for every sufferer, they felt as though an angel had appeared again.

It was in his cozy room at home that he had a dream house. There he had day dreams, as well as night dreams. There he entertained "Mr. Bethlehem" and "Betty Bosbuckle," and her brother "David." On the chimney shelf was a lunch for Santa Claus, and near it was a letter that registered a few of his hopes. He preferred chocolate elephants rather than chocolate horses, as they amounted to more. He conferred with his white rabbit mascot about the chipmunk skin that served as a rug for his garage, built for the coming automobile. There must have been a radiola in the room, it was so full of happy thoughts and sweet, faint sounds. "Listen," he said to Mr. Bethlehem, "I hear them singing." "Davy," he cried, "he's most here. Look, Betty, look there's the star!"

And it was so. That very night brought all that imagination had visioned, and the darkness fled before the glorious light of Christmas morning.—Christopher G. Hazard.

Sounds Reasonable

"Pop, I want Santa to bring me a razor for Christmas."
"What in the world would you do with a razor?"
"Well, you call me a little shaver, don't you?"

Singing Christmas Carols

Christmas carols will, of course, add beauty to the holiday season. Also they will bring about an increase in communal singing.

Flowers for Christmas

When flowers are at a premium, why not give a few bulbs or a potted plant as a Christmas present to the woman who likes flowers?

Children and Christmas

It is good to be children sometimes, and never better than at Christmas, when its mighty Founder was a child Himself.—Dickens.

All Glory Be to God

All glory be to God on high,
And to the earth be peace;
Good-will henceforth from heaven to men
Begin, and never cease.

Christmas Emblem

As an emblem for Christmas, hang up, with the mistletoe and holly, Dad's crushed pocketbook.

FARM POULTRY

BUILDINGS MUST BE COMFORTABLE

A poultry house which is dry, light, clean and free from drafts or sudden changes of temperature is essential for success with poultry. Hens must be comfortable if they are to be good producers.

It is not always the showy house that produces the best results. Conservatively built houses that provide comfortable quarters are often as good from a practical standpoint as more expensive houses. In fact, at the present time, the small house which can be moved from place to place is rapidly gaining in popularity on account of the benefits derived from moving the chickens to fresh ground in order to avoid diseases by germs that may be lurking in soil long occupied by poultry.

Poultry investigators agree that lack of vitality which has resulted in loss of birds when shipped is the indirect result of increased size of our flocks without a corresponding increase in housing facilities. This is another reason for added attention to poultry buildings.

From the standpoint of satisfactory returns poultry pays as well as any other class of live stock and no other live stock, unless it is the dairy stock, responds so readily to good housing conditions as does poultry. Good locations are essential in order to make good houses give results.

Poultry houses should be located conveniently to the other farm buildings and so that the chickens will range toward the house. If possible the ground should slope toward the south and face in that direction in order to give the birds the maximum amount of sunshine on short winter days. The house should be protected with a windbreak. If no natural windbreak is available some trees or shrubs should be planted to afford shelter.

A good many of the experiment stations have excellent bulletins in poultry-house construction. This is a good time of the year to build a house and get the benefit of it this winter.

Improper Feeding Will

Cause Bowel Disorders

This is a time of the year when a good many bowel disorders come from improper feeding or from feeds that are not in first class condition. During warm weather it is very easy for some of the mixtures to spoil and if feeds of this type are fed to the chicks the results are usually diarrhea and sometimes death.

The commercial feeds of the large manufacturers are usually kept and sold under conditions which protect them from spoilage, but if large amounts are stored on the farm they should have a dry place.

Another danger at this season of the year is dead animals. Dead rats, mice, rabbits, and often chickens are allowed to lie where the chickens may pick at them. During hot weather such carcasses often develop ptomaine poisons with the result that a heavy loss of both chicks and mature fowls occur before the cause of the trouble is discovered.

Chicken Raisers Trying

Canaries as Side Line

Chicken raisers and poultry fanciers in increasing numbers are interesting themselves in canary breeding. The man who raises chickens finds that he has enough spare time and experience on his hands to breed canaries, and the large profits in this business have attracted poultrymen in surprisingly large numbers.

One new reason for rising demand for canaries, according to the trade, is the fact that interior decoration methods now make such wide use of the bird cage in the average American home. That this is possible is due to the new type of cages, made of pyralin instead of brass, which come in a score of colors and soft, harmonious blends. Many are finished in the duco process. Tests are now being made to determine the amount of the favorable effect which such cages exercise on the canaries' singing.

Substitutes for Milk

There are several of the so-called milk substitutes on the market which are sold under various trade names. Good ones can also be mixed at home. One of the best home-mixed calf meals is the one known as the Purina mixture. It consists of equal parts of hominy feed, linseed meal, red dog flour, and dried blood. This meal is mixed in the proportion of one part of the meal to seven parts of warm water and fed to the chicken flock in the form of a slop.

Moist Mash for Change

Sometimes it is advisable to feed a moist mash to the hens. Take the same mash that is ordinarily fed to the hens dry, and moisten it with buttermilk or sour milk until it is crumbly, not wet and sloppy, and they will relish it as a change. Hens approve a change in diet sometimes just the same as human beings do. In feeding moist mash, however, extra care is necessary and only as much of it should be fed as the hens will clean up quickly.

Senour's FLOOR PAINT

"It Penetrates"

IN the word "penetration," is a secret manufacturing process that has made Senour's Floor Paint a popular favorite for over 40 years.

If a floor paint does not penetrate or grip into the wood it will soon begin to crack, chip and peel.

Senour's Floor Paint dries overnight with a high gloss enamel-like finish, but at the same time it sinks into the pores of the wood and forms a film that will withstand the hardest usage and will withstand repeated washings without dimming the lustre.

Every can of Senour's Floor Paint is guaranteed to give satisfaction if directions printed on the can are followed or money back upon receipt of empty can.
