The first quarterly meeting of the conference year will be held at the Methodist church this week. Rev. G. H. Hays, D. D., the new presiding elder, will preach Friday night at 7 o'clock, and Sunday, morning and night.

McGee-Cox.

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. N. F. Cox, near Bellevue, Mr. Sam McGee was united in marriage to Miss Lizette Cox, the Rev. A. W. Meacham officiating. The bride is a general favorite with her acquaintances, beautiful and highly cultured. The groom is well known in our county as a gentleman of sterling qualities, and his numerous friends will be glad to hear of his good fortune in winning so fair a lady for a life partner. Mr. McGee and wife will board at Mrs. McKee's at Longview. He is a member of the firm of T. A. McGee & Co.

Death of an Estimable Gentleman.

At his late residence, at Madisonville, last Thursday morning, between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock, Mr. George Y. Woolfolk died of congestion of the brain, in the 25th year of his age. The news of his death reached this city Thursday morning from Mrs. A. D. Rodgers, sister of the deceased, who had been called to the bedside of the dying brother after his life was extinct.

Well-known Society People.

A reporter, who was aboard the evening train Sunday, occupied a seat in the parlor car just behind two handsome and elegantly attired ladies, and from their running conversation concluded that they were in some way matrimonially inclined. A word to the conductor confirmed the news man's suspicion, and before reaching his intended destination he was introduced to the ladies by their gentlemen escorts. The happy party was the groom-elect, Mr. Sam McGee, and his affianced, Miss Lizette Cox, of Morton's Gap, accompanied by Mr. E. G. Ashby and Miss Mollie Baker, of Madisonville. They were en route to Nashville. They arrived there Sunday night and were married at the Maxwell house about 9:30 p. m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. George W. Davis, a leading merchant at Morton's Gap. The groom, Mr. Mike Cain is connected with St. Bernard Coal Company. It appears that the only objection to the marriage by the parents of the bride was the fact that Mr. Cain is a Catholic.

Messrs Tom Green, Jr., and Lem McKee had a buggy upset with them Saturday evening, but escaped with whole skins.

DIED—PALMER—In this place, Sept. 27th, Mrs. Mary Palmer, aged 81 years and 9 months—Rushville (Cal.) Herald.

A black spring on S. H. street which has heretofore appeared almost incessantly in the gutter, has gone dry, for the first time since the war.

A shooting affray occurred Friday near Fairview. Dennis Malone a subcontractor on the pile got in a row with a negro, who fired a shot at him, but did him no damage.

Mr. F. H. Renshaw, School Commissioner, has let contract to Forbes & Bro. for a handsome cottage on South Virginia street. The structure is to be an entirely new design and quite unique.

Mr. Eugene Wood's horse, attached to his platoon and hitched in front of his residence a few days ago, got frightened at some mice coming down the street and ran away, completely demolishing the vehicle.

Wednesday afternoon Dave Butler, who was knocked inensible by a fat cat on Main street, is now recovering.

We have heard of two removals of Main street business men, which will occur about the first of the year. Mr. Lipstone is to take the house now occupied by McKee & Co., who will move up to the vacant store-room next to Russell's.

On next Tuesday Mr. Sam McGee will be married at Bellevue to Miss Lizette Cox. Mr. McGee is an enterprising business man of Longview and very popular. His bride-elect is a most charming young lady and a favorite in Bellevue society.

STOCK HOLDERS MEETING OF CHRISTIAN COUNTY A. M. ASSOCIATION—will be held in the office of Secretary, on Monday Nov. 7th, County Court day at 2 o'clock p. m. prompt, to supply six vacancies in the Directory. Oct. 30th 1887. John W. McPherson, Sec'y.

Wednesday night a disgraceful scene was witnessed on West Main street. About 9 o'clock a gang of negro ruffians, with harps, horns and tin pans were chasing a poor negro woman about the streets. It was kept up for some time and not a policeman intervened.

With active, energetic warehousemen—thoroughly versed in their business—a liberal board of buyers, splendid storage facilities, and the finest growing country in the United States in back it, there is no wonder that Hopkinsville is such an important tobacco market.

Mr. John W. Richards, who drew $5,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery, received his fortune Wednesday morning. Five one thousand dollar bills were counted to him and he in return paid $21.00 express charges. Mr. Richards immediately deposited his money in one of the banks.

Judge Champlin's condition remains materially unchanged. He has partially recovered the use of his right side, which was paralyzed and is now apparently conscious, but he remains speechless. He does not appear to suffer, but his is a state of stupor and physicians say it is impossible to predict what a day may bring forth in his case.

The office is indebted to Esq. T. C. Tinsley for a pair of large new law papers for the "Ben Davis" variety. They are the finest we have seen this year, and the average measures 5 inches in diameter. Mr. Tinsley gathered $10 worth of these apples off of 6 trees from his orchard, near Chalybeate Springs, which were sold to Wilson and others.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Payne have the sympathy of the community in the loss and bereavement at the loss of their infant daughter, Margaretta, aged 6 months, who departed this life Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to repose on the bosom of God. The little sufferer died of pneumonia. The funeral ceremonies were conducted at the family residence Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. W. Lewis, interment in city cemetery.

The handsome residence of Mr. John Browning at Church Hill was destroyed by fire Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. The origin is supposed to have been from a defective fire. A negro man, who was a quarter of the distance, saw the flames and reached the burning dwelling in time to give the alarm to the family, who were asleep unconscious of the imminent peril to which they were exposed.

The Bosch cottage, near the Foundry, recently occupied by Dan Mendel left Louisville, had a narrow escape from being consumed by fire Saturday morning. Warm ashes carelessly thrown into an old ash barrel were fanned into a blaze which ignited the staves. A fence close by the residence caught fire, and had almost burned down when Mendel awoke and extinguished the flames by throwing on several buckets of water.

The following is a good one on a dashing young married man in town: "I wish you would stop at Latham's on Main street and get a yard and half of lace similar to this sample. It is to go around the neck of my new ball dress," said the wife. Husband—"A yard and a half? Your neck isn't a yard and a half in circumference, is it?"

It is said that Hon. Asher Caruth has been exceedingly fortunate in his law practice since he retired from the office of Commonwealth's Attorney. His extensive reputation and acquaintance were serviceable to him in building up a paying business, which is very hard for any lawyer to do in Louisville, where the clientele of each attorney remains unchanged for years. Mr. Caruth looks better than he has for a long time. The duties of Commonwealth's Attorney were somewhat trying, and their removal was a relief—Courier-Journal.

A wealthy young lady of this city was prolonging the life of her sixteen-year-old poodle-dog, and thinks of taking it to Paris for a change. We may remark, if not too late, that she is liable to make a grave mistake. If she wants to lengthen the life of her pet, let her black one of its eyes, cut off its tail short, clip one of its ears, half-starve it, break two of its ribs, smash one of its feet, tie its can to the rim of its ear, and start it down the street. Dogs that are treated like that never die. They live even longer than popular celebrities.

An old church in the Hubbardville neighborhood has been the scene almost nightly for two weeks, of most disgraceful conduct on the part of a lot of hoodlums. They congregated there at night and shoot off their pistols. Not long ago one of them fired off a double barrel shot gun, the contents of which went crashing through the front door of Mr. Frank Waller's residence, badly frightening Mrs. Waller and children. The accident had never been traced. Mr. Waller was not at home at the time of the occurrence. He says it is shameful that our local authorities can not stop such outrages.

Probable Killing at West Park.

News of a shooting, and probably a fatal one, at West Park, on the railroad 14 miles south of town, reached here last yesterday evening. From the large information obtainable, it appears that section boss, Martin Kelly had ordered a negro hand named Tott to go to work on the line. The negro refused to do so and was followed. Mr. Kelly kicked the negro, who attempted to draw a pistol but Kelly got the drop with a self-acting Smith & Wesson and shot Tott near the heart. It is stated that the negro had hung around for several hours refusing to work and threatening to kill the boss if he did not let him go. Considerable excitement among the two gangs of negroes, about twenty in number, was aroused by the shooting and they all quit work. At last accounts Tott was not dead but it was thought impossible for him to recover.

B. Garner, Hopkinsville, Ky.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Ellis & Co's. Merchant Flooring Mill Totally Consumed. Loss $60,000.

Saturday morning about 2 o'clock, our citizens were aroused from their slumbers by the ringing of fire bells, and shortly the streets were filled with people hurrying to the scene of the conflagration. The fire broke out in Ellis & Co's. flooring mill, immediately on the railroad track, one square south of the L. & N. depot. The flames were discovered by Mr. Lee Ellis, one of the firm, who occupied a sleeping apartment directly over the office. The noise from his pack of hounds aroused him. Some of the flames were coming out at the rear end of the building when the alarm was given, and before the fire company could reach there with the engine all of the west wing of the building was enveloped in flames and too far gone to be saved, even had the supply of water been sufficient. The fire company went manfully to work, ably assisted by the L. & N. railroad officials, who rendered valuable aid and worked with untiring energy to try to save the warehouse and 4,000 barrels of flour, ready for shipment. The origin of the fire is unknown and it is impossible to tell how it started, but it is thought, and is the general opinion, that it may have been caused by a defective electrical installation. This probably is the best theory that can be surmised. The journal which is thus supposed to have been heated came in contact with accumulated flour, and ignited the same.

The mill was a five story structure, 40 feet high from the foundation, and contained all the latest improvements for manufacturing flour. It was one of the largest and most flourishing merchant mills in the South, earning out daily, when in full operation 300 barrels of flour. The building was valued at $40,000, and the grain and flour at about $30,000 with about one-half covered by insurance distributed among various companies.

It was one of the leading factors in the Hopkinsville industry. Two much praise can not be bestowed upon the railroad officials who manifested unselfish interest and who worked with untiring energy to protect property. Nothing of their railroad tank to replenish the fire cistern from the river. Over 1440 barrels of water were taken from the river and made to flow into the mill by water from West Fork, ten miles distant.

Sixteen cars, all heavily loaded stood on the track immediately in front of the mill—but by the timely appearance of the yard engine, they were switched out of danger. Three of the cars, contained 375 barrels of flour and 13 were loaded with coal and coke. The grain and flour the railroad agent had signed bills of lading for the flour the evening before. The officials had their engine near with full crew on hand in case a wind should fan the flames.

The mill machinery was a complete wreck. The cylinder head of the engine exploded with terrific force, sending a portion of the head 300 yards away. The fly wheel, weighing 10,000 pounds is ruined beyond repair. The engine cost $2,000.

The insurance on the mill, storehouses and contents and the companies who will suffer are as follows:

On the stock, insured with Long, Garrett & Co., in the Providence Washington Co. $2,000; Hartford, $2,500; Orient, $2,500; Guardian, $1,750; Washington, $2,000; Lancashire, $2,000; National, $2,333 and Anglo-Nevada, $2,584.

On the mill building and machinery, placed with Wines & Kelly, in the Home of N. Y. $3,000; Insurance Co. of North America, $2,500; N. Y. Underwriters, $2,500; Western of Toronto, $2,500 and Liverpool, London & Globe, $1,500. Placed with A. D. Hicks in the Springfield Fire and Marine, $2,000. Placed with Callis & Co., in the Northwestern National, $1,000. Placed with companies, $3,500. Total insurance $35,500.

FLYING PAPERS.

One hundred and twenty-five barrels of flour were saved and unharmed in the least.

The valuable tools and papers were saved from the safe and stored.

The smoke stack which was 70 feet toward the sky presented a magnificent sight during the flames. It looked like some grand illuminated cathedral spire.

Mr. R. A. Peck, engineer at the mill, had the misfortune to lose $200 in valuable tools, which he had had in his possession nearly 30 years.

The old Walker homestead, now owned by Mack Holmes, caught fire but unfortunately was not burned up. It is an old dilapidated structure.

On the west of the mill about 50 yards distant, stands the old Bennett building. This, too, caught fire, but unkind Providence decreed that it should stand.

Mr. Lee Ellis lost his entire wardrobe, valued at several hundred dollars.

The burnt wheat that is scattered over the burnt district is being taken up. It will be used for hog feed.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased part of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. It is not a case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

F. J. CERRY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75 cents.

A Whiskey Ager.

Messrs. J. M. Giese and Henry Glass, the inventors of the whiskey aging machine, which has attracted so much attention in the city to display their machine. They set it up to-day in the Boley building at Fourth and St. Ann, where it will be operated. The invention is guaranteed to take down whiskey, right from the still, and in two or three weeks time, by the process through which it is carried, made it exactly like old whiskey in appearance and all other qualities. It is a singular invention and will attract considerable notice.

The outfit belongs to the Davies Company, which is at once and purifying company who will at all times be the business of aging and purifying whiskey here—Owensboro Inquirer.

Nourse-Morrison.

At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Eugene Morrison, near Pembroke, at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Mr. Richard N. Nourse of Logan county and Miss Ida Rose Morrison were united in marriage. Rev. E. N. Dickson, of Fairview performed the ceremony. Messrs. H. Samsom and W. C. Nourse, of Logan, with Miss Agnes Barclay, of Bowling Green, and — Johnson, of Pembroke, were the attendants. The couple took the evening train at Pembroke for the groom's home near Russellville.

Mr. Nourse is a substantial young farmer of excellent character and prospects in life, while the bride is a young lady in every way worthy of her husband. The New Era wishes them much happiness and prosperity.

The more progress he makes in his southern journey the more enthusiastic are the greetings that the President receives. This is one country and one people, and the militant little fellows that are trying to make the fact appear otherwise are succeeding in making themselves ridiculous.

The more progress he makes in his southern journey the more enthusiastic are the greetings that the President receives. This is one country and one people, and the militant little fellows that are trying to make the fact appear otherwise are succeeding in making themselves ridiculous.

Mr. Nourse is a substantial young farmer of excellent character and prospects in life, while the bride is a young lady in every way worthy of her husband. The New Era wishes them much happiness and prosperity.
