A GREAT WAR AGAINST BOSSISM

(St. Louis Republic.)

Long differences between the two men resulted in a change in the present stem of the editorial staff. Mr. John Starrett is the new editor. Mr. Starrett has for the most part been a strong advocate of the present administration.

The present administration has been widely praised by the public, and it is expected that the new editor will continue to support the same. The new editor has been a writer of many articles on various topics, and it is believed that he will bring a fresh and interesting viewpoint to the editorial pages.

In his inaugural address, Mr. Starrett said:

"In the past, the paper has been a strong advocate of the present administration, and we intend to continue to support it. We believe that the policies of the present administration are the most successful in the history of the country."

Mr. Starrett also expressed his hope that the new editorial staff will be able to attract a larger audience and increase the circulation of the paper.

The change in the editorial staff is expected to have a significant impact on the paper's content and style. It is hoped that the new editor will bring a fresh perspective to the editorial pages and continue to support the policies of the present administration.

The change in the editorial staff is expected to be announced in the next issue of the paper.

TO BE A CITY FIERG AGAIN

New Orleans, Tex. (C. N. C. Recorder.)

The elementary school in this city is in need of a new building. The present building is very old and in need of repair. The school board has been working on plans for a new building for some time, and it is expected that the new building will be completed within the next year.

The city council has been working on plans for a new building, and it is expected that the new building will be completed within the next year.

The new building will be a three-story structure, with a basement and an attic. The basement will be used for storage, and the attic will be used for classrooms. The Pipe or the Cigar Habit (UIII Or. Chicago).
The writer has seen a great many cases of this character
in the practice of his profession. Many of these cases have been caused by the excessive smoking of tobacco.

The symptoms of the disease
are often very indefinite.
The patient may complain
of constipation, nervousness,
headaches, dizziness, and other ailments. The symptoms may be so mild as to give no indication of the danger that may result. In many cases the symptoms
may be so severe as to cause
death.

The cure of tobacco poisoning
is difficult, and often im-corner. The patient should be advised to give up the habit of smoking.
