Mrs. Houston says the society has made tremendous gains in the last year. A total of $10,000,000 new adult business was written in the year ending October 1 and 19,765 were admitted into the juvenile branch of the society. The society's assets are $2,500,000, and its total combined membership is 158,587.

The Woodmen Circle has invested $66,000 in Kentucky securities. Mrs. Houston is president of the Woodmen Circle for this district and is also chairman of the national board of directors. One of the most recent welfare activities of the society is the Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children, to be built at Sherman, Tex. The organization hopes eventually to have on its 214 acres of land at Sherman not just a single home, but rather a community of homes. Mrs. Meadows will attend the ground-breaking ceremony, with which a pretty sentiment is connected, for the date on which ground will be broken, November 14, birthday of National Secretary Nora Alexander Talley of Omaha, Neb.

There is to be an Avenue of trees leading to the Home and members throughout the jurisdiction are donating the sum necessary to purchase a tree. Each tree is to bear a metal band telling in whose honor or in whose memory money for the tree was given.

Next month, due to the large surplus over its required legal reserves, the society will make the regular monthly payment for its members.

Murray's New Fire Truck Is Received

Murray's new and modern fire truck arrived Wednesday, was unloaded Thursday and will be ready for service Friday afternoon. It is announced by the council and fire chief Hughes. The truck was built by the Seagrave people, cost approximately $9,000 and is of the same type as used in Mayfield, Hopkinsville, Paducah and Louisville. It is a pumper and has a capacity of between 600 and 750 gallons a minute. The motor is exceptionally high powered.

The new truck will be tested and accepted this week.

The type of truck purchased for Murray is the same as that used in Detroit, the heart of the automobile industry, and is the last word in modern fire-fighting efficiency.

TIGERS EASILY DEFEAT HICKMAN

Entire Squad Sees Action as Locals Pile Up 47 Points to Six

The Murray high school Tigers with every man on the squad of thirty getting into the game, defeated the Hickman high school team here Friday by a score of 47 to 6.

Bishop quarterback, mixed up his plays to the complete bewilderment of the visitors and place-kicked and drop-kicked five points "after touchdowns." A collection of sparkling end runs, driving tackle plays, and well executed passes were featured by the Murray team.

Outstanding on the offense was "Red" Lewis, Murray halfback, whose work against Tilghman Blue Tornado last week won much favorable comment from all who saw him. Red gained consistently every time he was called upon, being aided by Chambers and Rowlett, regular backs.

Captain Bowman played his usual steady game as the line. Hickman's lone score came early in the first period when Buck Reilly covered a Tiger fumble and raced sixty yards for a touchdown.

Murray will play its fourth conference game this week, meeting the Fulton Bulldogs at Fulton.

SMITH SAYS G. O. P. HAS DODGED ALL CAMPAIGN ISSUES

Briefly Restates His Position on Vital Points in National Campaign

HITS HOOVER FINAL OREY OF SPECIAL FARM SESSION

Newark, N. J., Oct. 31.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith tonight declared Herbert Hoover's proposal for a special session of Congress to tackle the farm problem "seems to be a surrender for the purpose of securing votes," and demanded to know what could be accomplished at such a session in view of the Republican candidate's position on the farm question.

The Democratic standard bearer in an address prepared for a one speech drive into New Jersey argued that Mr. Hoover's opposition to the "underlying principle behind the remedy for farm depression" was well known and said his rival for the presidency had "refused to accept the principle of the control of the exportable surplus," he added that without such control "there can be no adequate farm relief."

The Democratic candidate also accused Mr. Hoover with failure to make his position clear on various issues in the campaign.

"I have made myself perfectly clear," he said. "The man who has not made himself clear is Mr. Hoover."

"Prompt Action, No Relief!" "He and his advisers on farm relief are in effort saying to the farmers of this country: 'We have given you nothing in eight years but broken promises. Forget the past; give us a renewal of power on the sixth of November; we will give you prompt action, but no relief.'"

As Senator Norris said, speaking to the farmers of the country: "I want to say to them, as I look at it, if you still believe in what you have been advocating, you haven't a leg to stand on unless you come out in this great contest and support Governor Smith. I am tired of promises."

The nominee added he had no doubt the talk of an extra session would be regarded by the farmers of the country as one more promise that will produce no results.

On the prohibition question, which Mr. Hughes refers to as a sham battle, he said he also had made himself perfectly clear.

Here again he is trying to becloud the issue, and an increase he felt would be shown in the up-state vote.

Hoover will arrive at Louisville at 10:10 o'clock Friday when he will leave his train for a parade through the city to the Jefferson county court house where he will make a 30 minute speech.

HOOVER NOW OUT FOR EXTRA SESSION

Would Call Congress Together To Consider Farm Relief Question

Washington, Oct. 27.—Herbert Hoover announced today that if the Republican party is victorious in November he would call an extra session of Congress to deal with farm relief if adequate legislation would not be enacted during the coming session. "The question of a special session of Congress after March 4th, in the event of the return of the Republican party, has been under discussion for some time," said the formal statement, issued by the Republican Presidential nominee.

Alice Brady refused to pay income tax on money spent for beauty treatments. If the rest of the American women follow her example, the U. S. Treasury may find itself in a bad way.

HOOVER CONFIDENT IF REPUBLICANS GO TO POLLS TUESDAY

Treasurer Shows Republican Nominee Has Paid Income Taxes Since Law Was Passed

WILL ADDRESS VOTERS IN LOUISVILLE FRIDAY A. M.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Firmly confident that he will win if the people who believe with the Republicans go to the polls, Herbert Hoover tonight went into the home stretch of his race for the presidency.

On the eve of his departure from Washington for the long journey to his California home to vote, the Republican candidate reiterated his New York declaration of a week ago that he expected his party to emerge victorious next Tuesday.

"We shall win this election without any question," he said. "I doubt if the people who believe with us go to the polls," the nominee said in response to a question in his final press conference before he begins the westward trip.

"Nothing to be added?" "How big is that?" a correspondent inquired.

"There is nothing to be added to the first statement," Mr. Hoover responded.

Late today a letter from Secretary Mellon to James Francis Burke, general counsel for the Republican national committee, was made public at the Hoover headquarters in which the secretary of the treasury said that the records of the bureau of internal revenue showed that Hoover had filed income tax returns yearly since the enactment of that law and that he had paid his taxes in accordance with those returns.

The letter was in response to one from Burke, which he propounded that question.

To Make Five Talks The remaining five days of the campaign will see him in action five times. Beginning with a speech at Cumberland, Md., late tomorrow the candidate will make addresses in Louisville, St. Louis, and Pueblo, Colo., on his way across the continent.

His final speech of the campaign will be made over a nationwide radio hook-up on Monday night.

On the prohibition question, which Mr. Hughes refers to as a sham battle, he said he also had made himself perfectly clear.

Here again he is trying to becloud the issue, and an increase he felt would be shown in the up-state vote.

Hoover will arrive at Louisville at 10:10 o'clock Friday when he will leave his train for a parade through the city to the Jefferson county court house where he will make a 30 minute speech.

SENATOR NORRIS TO SUPPORT SMITH

Outstanding Progressive of Northeast Praises New York Governor.

Omaha, Oct. 27.—(Special)—George W. Norris, Republican United States senator from Nebraska, declared himself for Alfred E. Smith here tonight in a carefully prepared speech of more than 12,000 words. He spoke at a meeting held under the auspices of the Progressive League for Alfred E. Smith, a non-partisan body of which Frank P. Walsh is chairman and Frederic C. Howe is executive secretary.

Senator Norris praised Governor Smith's stand on water-power, farm relief, and foreign relations, predicted that he would keep his promise to enforce the Volstead act, and closed with a strong plea against permitting religious prejudice to influence the choice of a candidate.

As vigorously as he praised Governor Smith Senator Norris scored Herbert Hoover for his record on water-power and his silence in the face of official corruption, declared that Mr. Hoover's proposals for farm relief were ineffective and inadequate and asserted as to prohibition that "there never has been a fair and honest attempt to enforce it."

HELP! HELP! PLEASE HAVE PATIENCE

The Ledger & Times is absolutely swamped with changes in the two mailing lists and begs its subscribers' indulgence in delays in making changes in addresses, catching up on duplications and adding new subscribers to the list. Operating from two plants is extremely inconvenient and we are obliged to spend about as much time going from plant to plant for something better as operating.

Until the new addition to the Ledger building is completed and machinery can be moved from the Times-Herald plant we are on an emergency basis and we can give full assurance that as soon as the physical merger is completed and we get into the necessary daily routine that our service will be many times better than that we are now able to give.

Your aid in giving us news items is again solicited. You have been very kind to us in cutting with us and we appreciate it deeply. And a call to telephone 55 will bring speedily any kind of service we can render.

CLEAN LEAVES OUT OF GUTTERS, VALLEYS, FIRE CHIEF SAYS

All residents of Murray should remove leaves from the gutters and valleys of their homes immediately, Chief Hughes, of the Fire Department, requests this week. They are also asked to see that none accumulate there to prevent fire hazards.

A large number of fires are caused annually by dead, dry leaves accumulating in the gutters and eaves of homes, and this can easily be avoided by a few minutes time taken in removing them.

The polls will be open Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock and remain open until 4 and voters are urged to cast their ballots early in order to avoid last minute rushes.

An unusually heavy vote is anticipated and if the voters delay balloting until the closing hour, officials at the polls will have difficulty in handling the crowds.

CITY THREATENED WITH RELAPSE ON PROGRESS MARCH

Has Saved City and County Many Times Over Operating Cost Each Year.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS DURING TWO YEARS ARE REVIEWED

Murray's Chamber of Commerce expired yesterday and reorganization must be speedily accomplished if citizens wish the city to proceed with the marvelous progress it has made within the past two years under the leadership of the Commerce body. November 1st was the date of the contract and today the organization does not exist.

During the two years of its existence the Murray Chamber of Commerce has done many times the work ever expected of it when it was formed and has vitally contributed to the material progress of Murray and Calloway county. It has many times over earned the amount of its annual budget and has been one of the best investments ever made by the city of Murray.

When the body was organized there were only three acres of strawberries in Calloway. Through the organization's work more than 360 acres were produced last year. Saved $3,000 on Coal Annually.

The annual savings on coal freight rates, effected by the Murray Chamber of Commerce, amount to considerably more than double the annual operating budget of this civic body. Reductions to this amount were made last year by the railroads through the direct instrumentality of the Commerce body.

On the highway from Murray to the Mayfield-Paris road, the Chamber of Commerce saved Calloway county more than $6,000 on the cost of right of way and secured the right of way within the short time limit set by the highway commission and prevented the road from going over another year by default.

When the Chamber of Commerce assumed the problem of the right of way between Murray and Lynn Grove was $6,000. Through its efforts the property was secured for $800.

Get North Right of Way

The Murray Chamber of Commerce has also secured all of the right of way for the highway from Murray north to the Marshall county line.

Mrs. Grove's Estate
Valued at $298,570

Widow of Founder of Medicine Company Left Nearly Bonds

The inventory of the estate of Mrs. Gertrude Grove, widow of the founder of the Paris Medicine Company, who died June 20 last, disclosed personal property valued at $298,570.

The inventory also failed to mention of a trust fund established by Mr. Grove before her death, in which she conveyed practically all of her one-third interest in her husband's $10,000,000 estate to her.

Mrs. Grove renounced her husband's will shortly after his death and elected to take her one-third interest outright, thereby preventing a division of her share between her son and a stepdaughter. The will had provided the estate was to be held in trust with the income to be paid to the three beneficiaries. At Mrs. Grove's death the son and daughter were to divide the estate.

Mrs. Grove's estate consisted mostly of bonds, valued at $182,650 and note $103,000. The other personal property consisted of cash, $4431.68, and chattels $6389.25.

Mrs. Grove was a native of Murray and was a first cousin to Mrs. Nat Ryan, sr., of this city.

Smith's School Record

New York school figures taken from records of the Secretary of State:

During Smith's term as Governor he has spoken, worked and voted for and caused to be passed legislation erecting 250 high schools in the state, only three of them Catholic schools; has cut down number of Catholic schools in state from 40 to 24; teachers from 482 to 123, though the number of students has increased 12 per cent.

Five public school teachers in New York were being paid an average monthly salary of $43.25 when Smith first became Governor, and now, through his untiring efforts they are paid an average of $92.00, and through his work and influence the state appropriations have increased from nine million dollars to seventy-three million dollars a year for public school work.

FINANCING AIRSHIPS OUR PEOPLE THE "BEST" OF THEM REMOVES OWN APPENDIX

Dr. Eekener and his fellow officers of the big Zeppelin hope American capital will interest itself in the building of five airships for trans-Atlantic flights.

A big New York bank is said to be interested. We are all interested in the development of aviation. Every useful new thing helps general prosperity. If we can't build the airships ourselves, the next best thing is to finance them.

Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors, and his associates will sooner or later get into the airplane field.

McClintic, Marshall—a firm of Pittsburgh now constructing ready-made steel frames for houses—might well turn from steel to aluminum to build all-metal dirigibles and frames.

Great demand for automobiles, keeping all plants at capacity production, is one proof of prosperity. The Northwest and Middle-West report good business.

If we were much more prosperous, we could hardly stand it. That is to say, some of us could hardly stand it. But it is not so with all, unfortunately.

In New York a man, fifty years old, having vainly sought a job open to gray hairs, tried to hang himself from a thirty-story window. He did not succeed in hanging himself, but fell and was killed.

Mr. Roy Howard looks before he leaps and decides not to leap, after having alcoholic drinks analyzed in many of New York's "best" speakeries.

In eight "high grade" establishments his agents purchased liquors actually deadly. Only two or three places out of twenty-eight sold whiskeys non-poisonous.

Since alcohol, as fools use it, is always a poison.

Something new in modern surgery.

Dr. Robert Meale, young surgeon of Hollywood, thought that shock after surgical operation is caused by anaesthesia, not by the operation.

To test his theory he removed his own appendix, lying on the operating table propped up, asking the assistance of a brother surgeon only in locating the appendix and removing adhesions.

A fine display of self-control and "courage".

Local anaesthesia was employed, but could not prevent internal pain.

This operation again raises the question, "What is courage?" It reminds us that not long ago before anaesthetics were used, all operations were accompanied by terrible pain.

The clergy said it was a shame to use anaesthetics because it defused the will of God, who defused his creatures to suffer. That opinion has been abandoned.

Japan will send to Brazil at least 1,000 colonists each year.

Nachiro Fukuhara, head of a $5,000,000 Japanese syndicate, will direct colonization in the rich state of Para, source of an excellent rubber.

Already one city in Brazil is inhabited almost exclusively by Japanese.

The Japanese are kind to their children. No Japanese ever strikes a child. Consequently the children thrive, and families are big.

Grandchildren of Americans now living may see an important branch of Asia established on the continent south of us.

That is the business of Brazil and Japan, not ours.

Mussolini says the Italian press is perfectly free, but it must not criticize Fascism, or his politics. Newspapers MAY criticize his violin playing if they choose.

Mussolini said, "My government could not last two weeks if I allowed liberty to the press."

Extraordinary are Mussolini's success and good judgment. He appears on the page of history, a cross between the Mohammed and Marco Aurelius, and apart from his assertion that liberty is an unimportant word, we find little to criticize in his doings, remembering that if Italy had not had Mussolini it would have had anarchy.

Ton Litters Make Money for Farmers

Washington county farmers raising ton litters of pigs made good profits, according to County Agent O. W. Gardner. P. K. Begley of Washington county won the grand champion at the State Fair on a litter of Poland-Chinas weighing 3,025 pounds when 180 days old.

Mr. Begley's feed and labor cost totaled $192. He fed 52 bushels of corn, 1,000 pounds of ground rye, 550 pounds of ground wheat, 1,165 pounds of shorts, 392 gallons of milk, 200 pounds of tankage, 300 pounds of pig meal, and the litter ran on rape pasture. He charged $15 for the work of raising the litter.

Lee Good, another Washington county farmer, made 10 Spotted Poland-Chinas weigh 2,250 pounds when 180 days old. They cost $8.25 per 100 pounds, all the feed being purchased.

The Japanese are kind to their children. No Japanese ever strikes

MOVIES

Hoot Gibson's boyhood ambition to become a famous cowboy and make a million dollars doing it has been achieved and in a way that exceeded the wildest flights of his youthful imagination. Gibson's newest screen success, "The Flyin' Cowboy," will shortly be seen here when it opens at the Capitol Theatre starting Friday. Ollie Hasbrouck, who plays opposite Hoot Gibson in "The Flyin' Cowboy," Universal picture which opens here at the Capitol Theatre Friday and Saturday was formerly a student at Hollywood High School.

Hollywood's streets were in a turmoil for five days and the staccato rattle of machine guns blotted out the hum of traffic during the making of the Clara Bow starring picture, "Ladies of the Mob" which has been booked for the Capitol Theatre starting Monday.

The picture is described as being a raw slice of the underworld, a dramatic vehicle of spectacular climaxes and thrilling action in which all of the resources of the great Paramount organization were concentrated during its making.

Motivated police of the Los Angeles department were drafted to duty during the making of "Ladies of the Mob," for much of the action was taken on the broad thoroughfares of the motion picture capital and there was always danger of accident to bystanders.

The story of "Ladies of the Mob," "mob" in this case being the underworld parlance for gang, was written by Ernest Booth, well known as a writer of short stories. The adaptation for the screen was the work of O. E. P. Garrett, former New York newspaper man and the continuity is from the pen of John Farrow.

This historic "Dempsey-through-the-rope" scene in the Dempsey-Firpo fight has been reproduced for the screen in "The Patent Leather Kid," Richard Barthelmess' big First National comes to the Capitol Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, following its long Broadway engagement.

At the Hollywood American Legion stadium, the thrilling prize-fighting sequences were enacted under the direction of Alfred Santell with technical advice from several noted pugilists, including Micky Walker, present holder of the world's middleweight championship. In the scene alluded to, Barthelmess, as "The Kid," knocks Mickey McMahon, who in real life is an ex-pugilist, through the ropes, only to be knocked himself in the next round.

Expert judges will award the prizes.

LOST

Time from Work

Mr. Albert Garland, of Somerset, Ky., recently said: "I need to work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of a cold I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache."

"My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken."

"I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suitcase. My health is better now than it has been in years."

Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality. Price 25c. Try it.

So when I came away, I thought, "Through the library again?" Brennan asked.

"No, Mr. Drane, let me out by this door."

"So you didn't see Mr. Dart again?"

"No. I went down the driveway there and walked home."

"You haven't any idea what it was Mr. Dart wanted Mr. Drane not to do?"

"Not really," Carter said. "They be they had been talking over Amy and me and Mr. Dart didn't care for me enough to have me marry Amy. Mr. Drane and Dart were old friends—what they call 'cronies' almost. Or it may have been giving Amy so much money in a lump that Dart objected. I don't know. But your impression was that Mr. Dart referred to the talk you about to have with Mr. Drane?" Brennan asked.

"That's what I thought," Carter admitted. "I hadn't any doubt of it. I thought to myself 'What business is it of his anyway?' I don't like him much anyway."

"And now, Miss Drane," Brennan asked without a pause, "have you ever seen anything that made you think, even in the slightest degree, that your uncle was a woman?"

"No," Amy said without hesitation, and immediately changed her answer to yes. "Never while he was alive," she said. "It never entered my head, not in the very slightest. But now I can see things. He was so kind to me."

"Might not an uncle be kind?" Brennan asked.

"Yes, but not in that way. Affectionate is what I should say, probably. I don't know, you see—I didn't think now a man—would be, but I can see now, Mr. Brennan, that he was more like—more like a mother in the way he—in the way he kissed me and smoothed my hair. More like a woman, more like a mother."

"Have you any reason for thinking he was your mother?" Brennan asked and Amy stared at him with wide eyes.

"Uncle John my mother?" she gasped and put her fingers to her lips as if in fear. "Oh, he couldn't be my mother—he—"

"You knew your mother?" Brennan asked. "You see, Miss Drane, I don't know any of the facts; I have to ask for them. Did you know your mother?"

Bob Carter frowned annoyance that Amy should be annoyed. He looked at her and turned to Brennan.

"I can answer that," he said. "Amy told me all of that."

"Let her tell me," said Brennan but his tone was kindly.

"I never knew my mother," Amy said.

Brennan leaned forward in his chair.

"I'm not digging into this from curiosity," he said. "I have plenty to do without wasting time. That way, my job is to find who murdered this woman who posed as John Drane. There may never been a John Drane."

"You bet your boots there was!" declared Simon Judd. "John Drane and me was boys back there in Riverbank. Regular boys and no mistake, and don't you forget it, mister! You can prove that by me any time you want to."

"There was a John Drane then," said Brennan. "You knew him."

"And I knew him a blame long time, black my cats!" Simon Judd exclaimed. "Why look here—John Drane was born along about when I was along toward 1853, and we chummed together, thick as thieves, for a long time. Yes, until '83—that was when he went out West. He was thirty then. All that time we hung together, me and John. Thirty years—we was born together as you might say. Sure there was a John Drane!"

"I was going to ask you a few questions later," Brennan suggested.

"Excuse me for buttin' in!" Simon Judd said with hearty good nature. "Go right ahead and I'll shut up till you want me."

"I was saying Miss Drane, Brennan said, "that I am only trying to gather some details of the life of John Drane as he was known here, and matters that might have some bearing on this murder. I know nothing, you understand, and I have to ask questions. You say you did not know your mother—that means she died while you were too young to know her?"

"Yes," Amy said.

"You're about how old?"

"I'm seventeen."

"Do you know when your uncle—to call him that—came to West-cote?"

"Yes, I remember hearing that. It was in 1892. He bought this house then. He said not long ago he had owned it thirty-two years."

"And you were not born here?"

"Oh, no!" said Amy. "I was born in California. You see, I'm uncle John's brother's son's child."

"What did you say?" asked Brennan, turning to Simon Judd.

"I'm not saying a word, Judd said. "Excuse me! I forgot myself."

"But you said something," Brennan insisted. "What did you say?"

"All I said," Simon Judd said, "was which brother?"

"Well, which brother was it?" Brennan asked Amy, showing the first impatience he had shown.

"It was Daniel," Amy said.

"Daniel went to California and married Mary O'Ryan there, and they had one son—Thomas Drane, who was my father. He married Mary Gartner, but just after I was born they were drowned in a flood. Some river overflowed and they were drowned. Grandfather was dead then too, and grandmother had died before that. So I was put in an orphanage and that was where Uncle John found me."

"He went to California? When was that?"

"I wasn't a year old," Amy said. "It must have been in 1908. Uncle John said he had always corresponded with father and when the letters stopped he was worried. He wasn't well that year and he thought California might do him good—it was in the winter—and he went West for the two reasons."

He wanted the warmth and he wanted to find father if he was alive. He found only me."

"And he brought you East?"

"No, not right away. He found a home for me there, lovely people who were always good to me! They raised me; uncle John used to send them money for my expenses and he wrote me letters—"

"You have some of the letters? They're in the same hand that this"

uncle John writes, or did write?"

"Yes, exactly the same—a big round, hand," Amy said. "So then when I was old enough, I was sent to a school near Pasadena. I stayed there until I finished last year. Then uncle John had me come East. He wanted me to live with him, he said."

"She told me all that," Bob Carter said.

"Yes, it was not a secret," Amy said. She waited for Brennan to ask his next question.

"Can you tell me anything that would throw any light on this murder?" he asked.

"I don't think so," Amy answered. "I may think of something but it's all so horrible still."

"You don't know anything out of the way about this William Dart?"

DUDLEY JOHNSON—BEN HOOD

Murray has one of the best and most complete exclusive music stores in Kentucky in the Johnson-Hood Music Co. Neither of these gentlemen need any introduction to Calloway county as both are natives and have spent their entire business careers here.

Mr. Johnson, the senior, has been in business in Calloway county for 25 years, 18 of which have been in Murray. He opened the first ten-cent store in this city and has been in the furniture and music business for more than 12 years. Mr. Johnson has always taken an active and conscientious interest in civil development. He was a member of the city council at the time Murray's paved streets were built and has always been identified on the side of progress and community welfare. He is a Mason and a member of the Board of Stewards of the Murray Methodist Church.

Mr. Hood, though one of the city's youngest business men, is one of its most capable and progressive. He has been connected with the firm for the past two years. He is a graduate of Murray high school, attended the teachers college one year, and belongs to the Methodist church and the Exchange Club.

The firm will handle everything in music from a Jew's harp to a Grand piano. They will especially feature the Gulbransen piano and radio, and the Victor phonograph. Small musical instruments, sheet music and records of all kinds will be carried in stock.

Both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Hood have enviable reputations for courtesy and service in their business dealings and customers at their store will be assured of instruments and commodities of known name, and fair prices and quality and service.

LOCAL DEMOCRATS APPEAL TO VOTERS

Ask Democrats to Revoke Illness Campaign Waged
on Smith

It has been circulated all over Calloway County on the country generally that Governor Alfred Smith is in favor of a school system that he is opening the flood gates to foreign immigration; that the Pope will run the country; and that he is opposed to our public school system. These reports have been investigated and found to be absolutely false. It is highly important that each voter of Murray and Calloway County make investigations of these scurrilous accusations, and when that is done go to the polls on Next Tuesday and revoke these wilful misrepresentations by voting the Democratic ticket, stamp in the circle under the rooster's feet. This is the final appeal of the Calloway Democratic committee before the election next Tuesday.

Electing Governor Smith to the presidency of the United States would be to the best interest of the agricultural district because he has done more for the farmers and common people in his state than any other Governor; he has done more for the women and working girls than any other Governor; he has done more for the public schools than any other Governor; he has placed on the statute book of his state a law to pension widows.

The Democratic party is and has always been the party of the common people and Governor Smith is and has always been a true blue Democrat. An just as he has devoted his time and ability to the people of his own state during the last quarter of a century, we may rest assured that his best efforts will be spent in promoting the welfare, interest, and happiness of the people of this state.

Let's go to the polls early Tuesday morning and vote in the circle under the rooster's feet.

BETTER TIRES REQUIRED BY

HIGHER SPEED AUTOMOBILES

One of the latest subjects for debate among motorists is whether constant improvement in tires made the present small wheel, low slung, automobile possible or whether the constant improvement in cars made better tires imperative. According to Beaman & Parker dealer in Goodrich tires here, there are so many points that favor both sides that the percentage remains at about six on one side and half-don on the other.

Such argument will get about as far as the old subject for dispute, which was first, the hen or the egg," Beaman & Parker say.

But there is no question about the demand for quality in tires. They are better today than they have ever been—they have to be better.

Recently the Goodrich Company added a new Deluxe tire to its Silvertown line. It has heavier tread from six to eight piles of fabric. In fact it is built heavier in every way. It is designed for speed.

While the Deluxe Silvertown is an economical buy for all motorists, the regular Silvertown is as popular as ever and in greater demand. Regardless of why, we have the best tires and cars we have ever had.

NASH "400" LEADING SIX CYLINDER CARS IN SALES

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 29—Official automobile registration lists, received from eighteen departments and covering the sale of cars during the late summer and early fall periods in all sections, indicate that universal appeal of the famous "400" Series models has swept Nash to first place in the six cylinder motor car field in many of the principal motoring centers of United States, and in several instances has brought Nash to the coveted third place among all motor car registrations for nine months in 1932.

Sales department officials announced today that company records for all time have been broken by the unprecedented and consistent demand for these new type automobiles and cited the registration standings issued in the East, South, North, and Middle West to show Nash leadership in the highly competitive six cylinder field, and interesting changes that have occurred in the automobile industry's sales race since introduction of the "400's" late in June.

State department lists, showing separate county registration in the South give Nash third place among all cars sold in September in nine counties, third in seven counties. In Wisconsin Nash ran first in Kenosha and Racine counties, third in seven counties, and second ahead of Chevrolet—in Warren county. Other standings give Nash third place and leadership of the entire six cylinder division in counties reporting from Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Kansas, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, Florida, Arkansas, Montana, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, West Virginia, and Connecticut.

In order to meet this overwhelming demand, sales officials estimated today that more than 100,000 of the new "400" Series cars will have been sold by late in November, a little more than five months after their public introduction.
