10 CENTS PER WEEK

SHOPPERS BUSY ALONG BROADWAY

Started The Christmas Trade
Earlier This Year

All Lines Report That Quality Is Considered First and Expense Last.

BIGGEST SALES IN HISTORY

Variegated as the moods of a woman, the holiday shopping has begun in earnest this week. Despite the concentrated bombardment of the idea of early shopping, through advertisements, into the minds of the public, the shoppers in many lines are out no earlier than last year.

But each year finds an increasing number of shoppers who appreciate the advantages of being the early bird. The larger part of the public look upon the urgent appeals of the merchants to shop early, as simply an allurements to get them to buy, but there is too much solid commonsense in such reasons, as the freshness of the clerks, broader choice, better attention, and leisurely inspection, for the public to hold back many years longer, and coupled with their own personal experience each year along exactly those lines, the new future may be expected to see something of the merchants' and clerks' paradise—early shopping.

Few persons realize, what is to the merchant, the most acute problem of merchandising, the effect weather always has on shopping. For instance the shoe merchant knows each day that if the sun is shining tomorrow, his trade will be dull; and vice versa, the jeweler or the high grade dealer in any line knows a pretty day is his salvation. People will not buy necessities in pretty weather. Imbibing, probably something of the essence of the atmosphere, their thoughts lightly turn to things of pleasure and ornament. But the rainy day reminds them sharply that new shoes are needed or heavier clothing, or some other indispensable requisite.

Quality Is Wanted.

Quality is the key note of this year's holiday trade. Then utility comes in second and ornamentation is last. It has not been so many years ago that the reverse of that order was observed in purchasing Christmas gifts. But now the needs of the person are studied and a present which nearest will combine those qualifications is bought.

People have more money to spend this year than in any previous year. The merchants have bought a better grade of goods than ever before, and the general rise in the prices of commodities, combine to place business on a higher level than ever before.

The facilities for buying are especially adequate this Christmas. Everything about the stores is arranged to afford the greatest ease in shopping, possible. And the windows are the most marvelous part of the entire establishment. Here the window dresser has endeavored to solve the gift problem, which tortures every mind. In one window you may see suggestions for every member of the family.

What They Give.

What are the people giving this year? They may be divided into two classes. The standbys and the new things. Of course handkerchiefs and gloves among the other perennially popular gifts, are conspicuous in the first category. But this may be called distinctively a year of books. Books are being bought for presents in the most astonishing quantities. "We've sold more already than during the whole holiday season last year," said one bookseller. "I do not know exactly how to account for it. It is probable that public taste is rising in culture through the stimulation of the public library. It may be because there are such a myriad of attractive books—attractive in price and appearance, as well as contents."

Stationery is proving popular as gifts. In the dry goods stores scarfs, furs, and high grade lace handkerchiefs are selling largely—and fans as usual are going well. In the clothing stores handsome suspenders, ties and other dress accessories to the gentleman's wardrobe, are the leading holiday sellers.

It is in the furniture stores especially that the high level of prosperity is evidenced. Here the best is being bought, as proven by the fact that while fewer sales are recorded than for the same time last year, the amount spent is larger. In the jewelry stores, shopping has started early and high grade goods principally are sold. "We don't know whether the high grade trade simply is coming earlier and the cheaper grade later, but we do know that quality is the chief consideration thus far," was one jeweler's comment.

The toy merchants report this season's supply to be much more costly than ever before and prospects are that they will be absorbed by the trade. Yet with all the urging, with all the self-evident reasons why people should shop early, the same old thing of a grand rush is expected Christmas.

SENT TO SMITHLAND.

Lovie Lathan Wanted for Cutting at Grand Rivers.

Lovie Lathan, colored, will spend her Christmas in the Livingston county jail one year after the date of the crime of which she is accused. She was arrested in Paducah this morning and turned over to officers from Smithland. She is charged in an indictment with maliciously cutting Cora Halsey, colored, at Grand Rivers on Christmas day, 1905. She claims to have been acquitted at a trial held at Smithland last summer.

FIND OIL

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS PROMISES TO HAVE BOOM.

County Near Kentucky Line Produces Gusher and Real Estate Values Go Up.

Oil has been discovered in Hamilton county, Illinois, eighty miles from Paducah in big quantities and property in that county and adjacent counties is rising sky high in values. A 500 barrel gusher was opened yesterday after boring only to a depth of 1,257 feet.

The well is on the farm of J. R. Campbell, of that county, a former congressman and present owner of the McClensboro Times. It has a capacity now of 500 barrels. Hamilton county is separated from Paducah only by Pope county and Saline county, with a narrow strip of Massac county. The new field is 150 miles south of the famous oil fields of Illinois, considered the best in the west. There the Standard Oil company has large interests and one of the two biggest refineries in the United States.

The discovery of the gusher yesterday is expected to start a boom in oil prospecting in the whole southern end of the state. The surface conditions are similar and every owner of property is expected either to develop it himself or sell it to the syndicates which will be organized to develop the field.

Hamilton county is the birth place of Dr. Frank Boyd, of this city, who knows the country well and heard the news yesterday.

ADJOURNS

STATE PRINTING COMMISSION MEETS AGAIN IN MAY.

Frankfort Chosen as Place for Holding Next Session—Little Work Done.

The state printing commission finished its business at the Palmer House this morning and at 9 o'clock adjourned to meet again in May at Frankfort. The commissioners will go home tonight.

The commission did little work in Paducah. The opinion of Attorney John K. Kendrick saying that a maximum price for printing must be inserted in the report, was the only matter of importance acted on. The remainder of the work yesterday and this morning was in changing the wording of the sub-committee's report.

The commission did not decide on a maximum price for state printing, but referred the matter to the sub-committee.

Silver Is Going Up.

Denver, Dec. 15.—Simon Guggenheim, head of the smelter trust, predicts that silver will reach 75 cents an ounce soon.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

BANK CLEARINGS STILL INCREASE

Tobacco Sales And Christmas Trade Lively

Best Year in History of City Coming to Close With Conditions Promising.

OIL BOOM HELPS PADUCAH.

Bank clearings $776,900
Same week last year . . . $79,000
Increase $ 97,900

Ninety eight thousand dollars increase in bank clearings this week will sustain the average maintained throughout the year over a similar period of last year. In every way the most successful year, industrially, Paducah has ever known, is drawing to an end. The bank clearings this week were again swelled by the movements of tobacco. The merchants, too, have used a great deal, and the wholesale houses in proportion are using more money than at this time last year.

The holiday shopping next week will make business good. The circulation will be much more active and in a larger quantity. The farmers who have been realizing on their tobacco will come to the city next week to do their Christmas buying and it will be larger this year, because they have more money. It is costing more to live, but better wages are being paid and the whole industrial mechanism is on a higher level of operation than ever before.

The nearness of the new oil field, if it proves successful, will help Paducah. It will give Paducah wholesale and manufacturing concerns, a larger field of demand from the increased population and wealth.

MISS CUSHMAN'S LECTURE

Was Well Received by Large Audience Last Night.

Miss Cushman's lecture on art at the auditorium of the High school last evening was a success in every way. Several hundred persons attended and pronounced it excellent. A stereopticon was used to illustrate the address. Miss Cushman is head of the art department of the University of Chicago and is a forceful speaker. She will lecture again this afternoon.

Bayfield, Wis., Dec. 15.—The wrecked steamer Ireland is believed to have foundered off Sand Island. One of her crew was killed by having his head crushed while at the wheel. CAB IS Mired.

Driver Unable to Extricate It Until Daylight.

Joe Wood, a cab driver, drove into a soft place in Eleventh street near Ohio street this morning at 1:30 o'clock and one of his horses was mired. The cab sank so deep that it was not released until daylight. The soft place in the street is where excavations were made for the sewers. Wood's hack was not damaged.

PERSISTENCY REWARDED.

Crackmen Return, Complete Job and Get $4,000.

Shorville, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Five weeks ago burglars blew open the outer doors of the safe of Mather's bank. Early today they came back and completed the job by blowing open the inner doors, securing $4,000 and $1,500 in checks.

Street Contracts Revoked.

Contracts let to E. C. Terrell for improving Nineteenth street from the Mayfield road to Guthrie avenue, and Boyd street from Sixth street to Seventh street, were revoked by the board of public works, the city engineer stating it would be impossible to do the work this winter on account of inclement weather. New bids will be asked for, the work not to be done until spring.

Kolb Bros. Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Kolb Bros. Drug company to do a wholesale business were filed today. The capital is $75,000 divided into shares of $100 each. Louis F. and George C. C. Kolb, owning 200 shares and Henry F. Kolb, owning 50 shares, are the incorporators.

FIRST ARSON REWARD.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 15.—The first rewards for convictions for arson under the new state law were paid today by State Fire Marshal Mott Ayres, Patrolman Gourieux, of Paducah, receives two rewards of $50 each. Under the law there is a standing offer of $50 for a conviction for arson. Gourieux arrested and worked up the evidence on which Mary Jackson and Lena Johnson were convicted of having set fire to a building in Paducah.

WINFREY IS INDICTED.

Albert Winfrey, who shot and killed Owen Clark at the home of the latter's wife, Wednesday night, was indicted today for murder in the first degree. The grand jury returned a large number of indictments and was discharged. Mayor Yeiser and members of the "Frontier Committee," were examined by the grand jury. Judge Reed will sentence convicted prisoners Monday.

CHIEF INQUIRES INTO ACCUSATION

To Learn Facts About Police Directing People to Brothels

Will Have Cab Driver Before Him and Find Out Name of the Policeman.

OR PROVE CHARGE IS FALSE.

Chief of Police Collins is wrought up over the statement made by a colored hack driver to a member of the "Frontier Committee," that a policeman told him where brothels were located, and the chief will start a little inquiry on his own hook to ascertain the truth or falsity of the accusation, and make an example of any policeman who has been guilty of such conduct.

"I can scarcely credit the report," said the chief, "but I shall make a thorough investigation. I will have that hack driver before me and see what he knows about any policeman acting as guide to such houses. If any policeman is doing that or has done that I want to know it. As the matter stands it is a reflection on the whole department, under which we cannot afford to rest. Of course, I know it is such a vague and broad accusation that some people might not pay any attention to it, but I am going to find out if any policeman has done such a thing, or I am going to show that the accusation is without foundation in fact."

MISS GIBSON RECOVERS.

Victim of Accidental Shooting Is Much Better.

Miss Leonora Gibson who shot herself while drawing her revolver to defend herself against possible attack while crossing the Tennessee street fill Saturday evening, is reported "about well" by attaches of Riverside hospital, and will be discharged next week. "The ball pierced her lungs."

Another Unsuccessful Attempt.

Moscow, Dec. 15.—Another unsuccessful attempt was made to kill Admiral Dubassoff, former governor general of Moscow today, while he was riding in his carriage. A bomb was thrown at him by two men. He was only slightly injured. The would-be assassins were arrested.

CHARITY CLUB'S NEW ENTERPRISE

Will Include Free Employment Bureau

Temporary Headquarters Located in City Hall With Mr. Jap Toner as Secretary.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

THE OFFICERS.
Pres.—Mrs. George C. Wallace.
Secy.—Miss Martha Davis.
Treas.—Miss Elizabeth Sinnott.
Gen. Secy.—Jap Toner.

All preparations for the re-organization of the Charity club and the opening of an office in the city hall building have been completed, and the work of caring for the needs of the worthy poor of the city will begin next Monday morning. The general secretary's desk has been placed in the main corridor of the city hall and the office will be open from 8 until 12 o'clock each forenoon. The club works now as the philanthropic department of the Woman's club.

It will be the purpose of the club to take care of all emergency cases at once by providing fuel, food, medicines and other necessities upon application. All cases, however, will be thoroughly investigated before assistance is extended and whenever it is found possible to relieve the need of applicants, by finding employment for those able to work, that method will be pursued. It is designed to make the club something more and something better than an almsgiving organization. The officers, sub-committee, chairmen and members will seek to help needy applicants by giving them an opportunity to help themselves rather than to pauperize them by the extension of mere charity.

The officials of the club have supplied themselves with a vast amount of literature issued by various charity organizations in the larger cities, and some of the methods pursued by such societies in caring for the poor have been adopted by the local organization. The ultimate purpose of the organization will be to eliminate charity in so far as this is possible rather than encourage certain persons and certain families to learn to depend upon the gifts of charity. Inclined people and upon the city poor funds to carry them through the winters.

According to the plan devised by the club the city has been divided into eight districts, each one of which will be looked after by a district chairman and sub-committee. Members of these sub-committees will visit the homes of all applicants and by getting acquainted with the particular needs in each case will be able to render valuable and necessary assistance.

Employment Bureau.

The club will also establish an employment bureau, under the charge of the general secretary, where applications for help can be filed by anyone desiring help either male or female and it is expected the organization will become an agency through which much good can be accomplished.

The real purpose of the club reduced to a few short sentences which may be used in a pamphlet soon to be issued by the club are expressed as follows:

To put an end to house to house and street begging.
To prevent the children of the poor from growing up to become paupers.
To prevent indiscriminate charity.
To prevent duplicate charity.

To unite all charitably inclined persons in one general organization through which their charities can be dispensed without creating a pauper class in our midst.

Will Be Permanent.

It has been decided that the Charity club shall become a permanent organization, and that an open office shall be maintained during the whole year. New philanthropic features will be added as the seasons progress.

Aside from the appropriation of $100 a month secured by Mayor Yeiser, the money, fuel and provisions to be used by the society during the coming winter months must be contributed by charitably inclined persons and it is expected the response to the appeal of the ladies of the club will be both spontaneous and generous. It is desired to avoid a general canvass of the city, and the officers and members of the organization express the hope that the many citizens who will naturally be interested in such a movement will send their contributions, both large and small to the club treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, 228 Ninth street, to whom all checks should be made payable.

The office of the general secretary at the city hall, will be open only in the mornings between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock and that official will spend his afternoons investigating the cases of all applicants. A record of all cases investigated will be kept for future reference and thus as the work progresses will the process be simplified.

LUMP OF LOVE.

Teddy Fell Has Noted Ossian Beaten By a Block.

New York, Dec. 15.—"I refuse to produce my prose poems of passion from 'Teddy Fell,'" said Miss Alma Robert, the youthful concert soloist who is suing him for $25,000 damages for alleged breach of promise, when interviewed at her home today. "I will, however, give you an excerpt from one of his love letters. If I may be pardoned the allusion, he has the noted Ossian beaten by a Gotham block. Just listen to this." "Sweet lump of love, I married for money. Now, dear heart, I want to marry for love. It is because I love you and only you and never have loved until I met you that I propose to get a divorce and then we shall be oh, so happy, in our own little dove-cote. I love you, baby blue eyes, I love you, I love you, I love you."

WATER

CAME DOWN COPIOUSLY AND INDISCRIMINATELY.

Rainfall for Twelve Hours Was Two and One-Half Inches—Growing Colder.

One of the hardest rains of the season fell last night. It began at noon and fell steadily until dark when it ceased a short time. It began again shortly after 9 o'clock and fell steadily until daylight, when lowering temperature caused it to cease.

The rain was general. It fell hard throughout western Kentucky and between Paducah and Cairo traffic on the Illinois Central was delayed last night a few miles from Paducah. The rain covered the track and trains had to "crawl." No washouts were reported.

Every creek and outlet was converted into a miniature river, and the volume had not diminished at noon. Hollows were filled by it, the culverts not being large enough to carry the water off as fast as it came.

The rain softened places where several excavations had been made, and on a firm near the I. C. depot one of the Palmer Transfer company's baggage wagons was mired for over an hour this morning. The wagon was loaded with 14 heavy pieces of baggage and sank into the soft mud and gravel to the hub. Other similar accidents were reported.

The rainfall was 2½ inches.

"County Fair" Presented.

At Brookport last evening local talent presented "The County Fair" very realistically for the benefit of the local order of Eastern Star. There were 70 prominent people in the cast and it was quite an enjoyable and successful presentation.

CHEAPER

ARE TURKEYS "ON THE FOOT" THAN AT THANKSGIVING.

Eggs Remain Firm at 30 Cents With No Prospect of Decline in Price.

If anything, turkeys will be cheaper for Christmas than they were Thanksgiving. "On the foot" they are several cents cheaper a pound, but the price for dressed turkeys will be nearly the same. The egg market is firm here around 30 cents a dozen. It is not likely that they will be cheaper by Christmas, unless, as happened in Chicago this week, the high price attracts the reserve stock to the market in such quantities as to glut the market. Butter is firm at 25 cents a pound. Winter vegetables are bringing good prices and meats are still high.

Montana Christened.

Norfolk, Dec. 15.—The United States armored cruiser Montana, a sister ship of the South Carolina, Tennessee and Washington, was launched at Newport News today in the presence of 10,000 people. The cruiser was christened by Miss Minnie Conrad, of Great Falls, Mont.

WEATHER—Clearing east, fair west portion tonight. Colder Sunday. Fair and colder central and east portion. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 53 and the lowest today was 30.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE WILL BE CONCISE

Intends To Recommend Purchase of Park

Board of Police and Fire Commissioners Will Not Meet Until After Christmas.

FEW CHANGES ARE EXPECTED.

Consideration of his annual message in a general way, is as far as Mayor Yeiser will admit having gone in preparing that document for submission to the general council the first meeting night in January.

"I will say this much about it," he admitted. "It will be brief. I have not given it much thought, but I think I may be able to compress my recommendations in a small space. I shall profit by the criticism of the president's recent message," he added with a smile after a moment's reflection evidently reading what was in the reporter's mind.

"I shall urge them to make all needed appropriations, and I have no hesitancy in saying that I shall strongly urge the acquisition of the nucleus for a city park system. It need not be paid for this year. We acquired the library site and the municipal lighting plant the same way I suggest purchasing a park, making a down payment and annual installments."

"What other recommendations I shall make, I have not yet formulated in my mind. I shall get at the message as soon as the annual reports of departments are in my hands."

Police Commissioners. The board of police and fire commissioners will not meet to name patrolmen and firemen until after Christmas. This is announced finally. It is believed the names of the officers and detectives are practically decided, and few changes are expected. The principal work will be adding new names to the roster of policemen.

The board has not made its annual report. It is probable that the erection of a fire station near Broadway and Fountain avenue will be recommended. This probably will be the only additional expense in the estimates for the department except the nine new policemen.

ENGLAND IS COLD TOWARD REFORMS

Will Not Join in Congo Free State Movement.

Cape to Cairo Railroad Concessions Put Ahead of Moral Considerations.

GERMANY CANNOT ASSIST HER

Washington, Dec. 14.—Keen interest is being shown in diplomatic circles over the cable advices that the British government is negotiating for a slice of the Congo Free State. Those behind the agitation for an investigation of conditions in Central Africa and for correction in the abuses in the Congo Free State have expected the British government to take the initiative, that it is to be denied the active or moral support of Great Britain.

Germany has flatly refused to interfere with the plans of King Leopold. No where has as much indignation been aroused as in England by the atrocities practiced upon the natives of the Congo Valley. It appears, however, that while sentiment is being aroused in the United States, and this government is preparing to take the initiative, that it is to be denied the active or moral support of Great Britain.

Can See British Policy. Diplomats familiar with the situation assert that they see in today's cable dispatches a disclosure of British policy. The British possessions in Africa are separated by the Congo Free State and German East Africa. The British government realizes the importance of bringing these widely separated possessions into touch.

It is impossible for Great Britain to cross German East Africa without provoking war. The only avenue open is through the Congo Free State. For years the British government has been impressed with the necessity of the Cape to Cairo railroad. Much work upon it has already been accomplished. It seems to the diplomats that the opportune moment has arrived when Great Britain will subordinate humanity to commercialism and in return from King Leopold of concessions of a right of way through the Congo Free State for the Cape to Cairo railroad, the British government will not join in promoting a conference of the powers, nor give its support to any movement initiated in the United States or elsewhere looking to a conference of the powers to take control of the Congo situation.

Delay in Resolution. Fear is expressed by members of the Congo Reform association and others active in trying to prevent further atrocities in the Congo state that when the resolution introduced by Senator Lodge is passed giving the president the support of the senate in any efforts he may make to bring about a better condition of affairs in Central Africa, Great Britain will have lost all interest.

The committee on foreign relations of the senate today had the resolution under consideration, but no definite action was taken. It is the opinion of a majority of the committee that the senate will adopt the resolution. The objection of some senators, developed today during the consideration of the Moroccan treaty to the United States meddling in European affairs, will probably not be raised to the resolution, because the purpose is purely humanitarian and not political.

There is some hope that whatever the movement may lose through indifference of the British government, purchased at the price of land concessions for its Cape to Cairo railroad, will be offset by an awakening of Germany and other continental European powers to the importance of preventing the consummation of the compact.

Has Much to Lose. Germany has much to lose politically by acquiescing in a policy that will purchase England's silence at such a price. German interests in Central Africa can be promoted by keeping the British possessions to the north and south separated, and while King Leopold is at work upon what he considers a master stroke to appease British indignation he may be forcing the German government into a change of attitude.

The situation grows more complicated politically, and it may be discovered when President Roosevelt comes to make advances that a seriously strained condition of affairs, so far as the European governments are concerned, exists in Central Africa—one that is so involved and complicated that the corrective humanitarian measures so earnestly desired will become of secondary importance.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

One simply awful thought.
Comes to me o'er and o'er;
I'm nearer to Christmas each passing day
Than ever I've been before.

Nearer the awful push,
Where strong men wax insane;
Nearer the frantic, fateful time
Of tissue paper reign.

Nearer the padded cell,
Nearer the maddened cry;
"Who in the world did I buy this for,
And when and where and why?"

Nearer the hopeless hour
Of many cares perplexed;
And though I am drawing ever nearer Somehow I cannot get next.

—Louisville Evening Post

Announcements.

Mrs. Helen Hecht, of 1619 West Broadway, will entertain at cards on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in honor of her guest Miss Gertrude Wolff, of St. Louis.

Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. James M. Buckner, of Jefferson street. It is the regular December meeting and the election of officers will take place.

Miss Helen Powell, of Fountain avenue, will entertain the P. D. C. club with a Christmas dance on Wednesday evening, December 26, at the K. P. hall. Many of the girls and boys of this younger society set will be at home for the holidays and will add to the pleasure of the occasion.

The Five Hundred club will be entertained by Mrs. Ed G. Boone Thursday evening, December 27, at her home on South Sixth street. It will be an evening affair in special compliment to the husbands of the club members.

There will be no more meetings of the Entire Nous club until Christmas week when it will be entertained by Miss Lillie Mae Winstead, of Washington street.

My Lady's Christmas Shopping.
The noblest of Christmas shopping is something My Lady is pausing to consider as never before, these 20th century days. No longer is she prone to go about it as thoughtlessly as of yore. The work of the Woman's clubs, the ever-growing Consumers' League, in the large cities which urge an early Christmas shopping, no shopping on Christmas eve by those who can afford to do it earlier, and the not crowding the stores at night by those who can go early in the day, when they are opened to meet the demands of the workers who must perforce do their shopping at night, so taking the space of these shoppers and prolonging the hours of the tired clerks. This does require some self-denial, on the part of My Lady, for there is an attractiveness about the glitter and glare of the night-time shops that no cold, dull grey daytime can lend; and it is hard not to be in the jolly, good-natured push of Christmas eve, but something is due to humanity, more at Christmas than any other time and the great heart will respond gladly to every call made upon it.

Here is a bit of advice sent out by the Kentucky president of the Consumers' League this year and it is good to ponder:

"The members of the Consumers' League of Kentucky are urged to be considerate of those who sell the Christmas goods and to try in every way possible to prevent the rush and confusion of the last days before Christmas."

"Strive to complete most of the Christmas shopping by December 18 instead of December 24."

"Shop early in the day."

"Impress upon others the needless exhaustion that is caused those behind the counters by thoughtlessness in postponing Christmas buying until the last moment."

"Remember that the best Christmas presents to those workers will be consideration for their welfare during the coming weeks."

"Always let the 'Christmas spirit' be the guide in how and when to buy as well as in what to buy."

Handsome Card Party for Bride and Visitor.

One of the handsomest card parties of the season was given on Wednesday afternoon at the Standard club by Mrs. M. Livingston and Mrs. Harry Livingston in compliment to Mrs. Abe Livingston, a recent bride, and to Mrs.

Samuel Livingston, of Memphis.

A pretty Christmas effect in red and green was emphasized in the decorations of the handsome parlors, where the nine tables were attractively arranged, and holly was everywhere in evidence. The tallies were small hoops of red and green and tiny gold bells were attached to mark the games. A charmingly appointed four-course luncheon followed the game.

Miss Viola Ullman won the first prize and Miss Adele Harris the second prize. Mrs. Hattie Morse, of Memphis, captured the visitors' prize and Miss Irene Ullman the one-hand prize. The booby prize went to Mrs. Felsenthal, of Jackson, Tenn. The prizes were all handsome pieces of hand-painted china, the holly design being appropriately used.

There were forty-two guests at the luncheon after cards.

Series of Card Parties to Visitor.

Complimentary to her sister and guest, Miss Mary Walker, of Morganfield, Ky., Mrs. Henry Hughes gave a series of pretty card parties on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at her home on West Broadway. The house was attractively decorated with palms and ferns. There were eight tables of guests on Tuesday and six on Wednesday. A prettily planned three-course luncheon was served after the games.

On Tuesday the game prize, a cut glass bowl, was won by Mrs. William Marble. Miss Virginia Kinney, of New York, captured the visitors' prize. The guest of honor prize, a dainty silk scarf, went to Miss Walker. The out-of-town guests were Miss Lockett, of Henderson; Miss Kinney, of New York, and Miss Walker.

Mrs. Bertie F. Campbell captured the game prize on Wednesday afternoon and Miss Clara Park the one-hand prize. They were each pretty hand-painted plates.

Carpe Diem Club.

Miss Katie Grogan was the hostess of the Carpe Diem club on Thursday evening, entertaining very delightfully at her home, 922 Trimble street. Euchre was played and the girls' prize was won by Miss Minnie Pieper in a cut with Miss Maggie Lydon. Mr. Joseph Roth captured the boys' prize. An elegant course-luncheon was served after the game in the dining room, which was attractively decorated. The club numbers sixteen members and is a fortnightly evening affair.

Miss Audrey Taylor will entertain the club Thursday evening of Christmas week.

Standard Club Euchre.

A very delightful euchre was given at the Standard club rooms on Broadway on Thursday evening. The ladies' prize, a beaded opera bag, was captured by Mrs. Herman Wallerstein. The prize for the gentlemen, a stein with silver decorations, was taken by Mr. Herman Wallerstein. An elaborate luncheon was served.

Magazine Club.

Miss Anna Webb was the hostess of the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon at her charming home in the Smith Apartments on South Fifth street. It was a delightful meeting of the club, the last until after Christmas.

Mrs. Victor Voris, from the Literary Digest, very graphically discussed the South American problem. Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips and Mrs. Vernon Blythe interestingly featured the Christmas Harper's. Mrs. Bertie F. Campbell gave from "Hubbard's Journeys to the Homes Great Lovers" an attractive account of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton. A pretty course-luncheon was served during the afternoon. At a brief business session the club decided to become a part of the Woman's club. It already belongs to the state federation.

The next meeting off the Magazine club will be with Mrs. Armour Gardner, of Fountain avenue, on Thursday, the 27th.

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club held its regular fortnightly meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the Eagle parlors on Broadway. A delightful musical program from miscellaneous composers was featured. Piano solos from Chaminade, Schumann and Mozart were rendered by Miss Mary Scott, Miss Isabel Mohan and Miss Virginia Newell. Mrs. Lela W. Lewis, Miss Mabel Shelton and Mr. Richard Scott gave vocal numbers. "Musical Life of the Old Roman Empire" was ably discussed by Miss Jennie Gibson.

At the business session which preceded the recital the club voted to become members of the Woman's club. Arrangements were also outlined for Haydn's oratorio "Creation" which will be given by the club about January 18.

The meeting of the club for December 26, was postponed until January 2.

Skiddoo Party.

Mrs. John L. Dunn, of Clay street, gave an enjoyable "skiddoo party" on Wednesday evening in compliment to the 23rd birthday of her son, Mr. Herman Bolds. Games, music and delightful refreshments were features of pleasures. Those present were: Misses Minnie Roark, Nellie Roark, Mary Emma Bolds, Mable Epenheimer, Emma Rawlings, Catherine Robertson, Grace Billings, Messrs. John Curd, Jr., Guy Holiday, Roy Templeton, Claude Ford, Ed Maynerd, Claude Epenheimer, Nelson Bolds and Herman Bolds.

Pleasant Occasion.

Miss Bonnie Senter entertained a number of her friends most pleasantly on Wednesday evening at her home on Clay street. It was an enjoyable social occasion. Light refreshments were served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Staten, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lynch, Misses Fannie Rhodes, Rosa Thomas, Lizzie Moore, Minnie Thomas, Clara Rhodes, Sadie Moore, Gertrude, Lela and Ida Thomas; Messrs. James Watson, Walter Sanders, Vera Phillips, Jack Elliott, Sanders Miller and Jack Senter.

Delphic Club.

The Delphic club held a most interesting meeting on Tuesday morning at the Carnegie library. The later Spanish explorers were discussed, "Cortez in Mexico" was ably handled by Mrs. David A. Yelzer. "Pizarro in Peru" was pleasantly characterized by Mrs. C. B. Austin. Mrs. Frank Bernard's fine paper on "Ponce de Leon in Florida" was read by Mrs. Frank Parham in Mrs. Bernard's absence. Mrs. Muscoe Burnett gave an agreeable outline of "De Soto on the Mississippi." The club will have no more meetings until January 2.

Social Occasion.

The Furnishing society of the First Christian church held a very delightful "open meeting" on Monday afternoon at the hospitable home of Mrs. Frank L. Scott on North Ninth street. There was a large attendance of the members present, it being the final meeting for the year. An attractive musical program was a pleasant feature. Those taking part were: Mrs. W. C. Gray, Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, Mrs. George B. Hart, Miss Adah Brazelton and Mr. Edward Skelton. An elaborate luncheon was served by the hostess.

Monday Afternoon Lectures Close.

The Rev. David Cady Wright this week closed the very delightful series of Monday afternoon Bible talks which he has been making to a large class for two years. The epistles of Timothy was the final lecture. These addresses have been very fine, marked by all Mr. Wright's power and versatility of thought, originality and eloquence. The lectures were discontinued to make way for the Union Sunday school teachers' training class, which will be taught by Mr. Wright and will begin in January. Bible study will be a feature of this also and the meetings will be on Monday nights.

To Issue Year Book.

The Paducah chapter, U. D. C., is preparing a new year book outlining their program work for 1917. The motto selected for the chapter by the executive committee is from Father Ryan: "The Glory they won shall not wane for us."

P. D. C. Club.

The P. D. C. club is being entertained this afternoon by Miss Lucyette Soule at her home on North Fifth street. The club meetings are informal Saturday afternoon affairs.

Christmas Wedding.

On Christmas day Mr. Charles J. Kennerly and Miss Ada Wahl will be united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wahl, near Palma, Marshall county. ASSOCIATION'S VICTORY.

The Dark Tobacco Growers' association has won a signal victory in the decision of the circuit court at Owensboro upholding the agreement between the association and its members and making permanent an injunction restraining one of the members from selling to a warehouseman other than the association. The case came up on injunction, T. D. Cole and other members of the association averring that the association and its members as a contract for which there is ample consideration and it was ensured. The case has been appealed.
The contract is as follows:

"We, the undersigned persons, whose signatures appear below, for and in consideration of the sum to be advanced by the Lou-ville Tobacco Warehouse company, and other sums that may be procured on the following named grades of tobacco: Extra A $6.00, A $5.00; Extra B $5.50,
B $5.00; C $5.00; D $4.00;
Extra O $4.00; O $3.50; H $3.50;
Trash $2.00; Common Trash $1.00; hereby appoint, engage and employ the executive committee of the Green River Tobacco Growers' association of the American Society of Equity of Davies county, Kentucky, viz:
T. A. Coke, J. W. Dunn, J. E.
Monarch, W. E. Thompson, J.
H. Daniel, Paul Waltham, J. A.
Thompson and their successors, our sole agents to sell for us our respective crops of tobacco to be raised by us, or that we may own or control during the year 1906, and we agree and bind ourselves to it to prepare for market all of the tobacco that we may raise or own or control during the year 1906, in the way and manner it may desire or designate, and deliver the same at the place and to the person it may name, and to allow said committee to have full and complete control of the sale of same, and do agree to abide by,
and conform to all of its decisions and acts and to fulfill all of said committee's contracts and engagements connected with the preparation, delivery or sale of said tobacco."

TWIN PROJECTS.

At last we see some hope of getting a ship subsidy bill free from graft and scandal, and limited to that trade the building up of which is of vital importance—that of South America. The decline of our merchant marine is a matter of humiliation to every American. Especially keen must be the shame of one who sails into a foreign port and sees floating at the mast-head of majestic liners, the flags of every nation—save ours. This feeling was expressed by Secretary of State Root, an American of Americans, when he describing conditions as he found them in the South American ports.

But it is a matter of more vital importance than a balm of healing to our national pride, that we establish a merchant marine. Situated between two oceans we must perform be a maritime nation. We have interests to protect and we must have a navy.
The merchant marine is a school for the navy, training men to the life of the sea, and affording auxiliary ships in time of war.

Again, the flag seen in every harbor impresses other nations of the world, particularly the impressionable Latin and oriental races, with whom we are trying to build up a trade. The sight of the flag earns us respect and with respect comes confidence—and business. More than this, our own ships will do more to foster our trade than will foreign ships. With an American line to Brazil making fast and frequent trips, goods will be ordered more regularly and the communication thus set up will make the United States the natural producer for things
South America has not and wants, and South America the producer of things we need. As Secretary Root says, the two continents are complementary. When the trade develops the wants and the wants become better known, industries catering directly to the consumers to the south of us will be instituted and thus employment given to many in new lines. It is not only the seaports that are visibly enriched by the coming and going of ships. The interior states as well must feel the good effects of foreign trade. The ships must have something to carry and that something to carry must be raised on the fertile plains, dug out of the ore laden mountain sides, or manufacture close to the fuel and ore, the cotton, wool or timber sources.

It is too often that we take the narrow view of things, and imagine that just because one man directly connected with an enterprise is to be enriched, the rest of us are to secure no benefit.

The development of foreign trade along legitimate lines must benefit the whole country and in some ways the interior more than the seaports.
But along with this building up of our ocean traffic we must not lose sight of the necessity of securing the best and cheapest transportation facilities to the sea coasts, and therefore the waterways improvements must go hand in hand with the steam ship subsidy.

Along with a lot of other ancient customs that have marked a free and independent people, encouragers of the arts and sciences, true sons of a hardy pioneer race, the free distribution of seeds by congressmen is to be stopped. Many a grizzled head will shake at the suggestion, just as it wagged when Roosevelt walked upon the gangplank of the Louisiana, just as it wobbled when John Hay proclaimed friendship with England. Why should the free distribution of seed be stopped? For decades our representatives in the lower house have been forwarding them to us. To be sure they weren't extraordinarily good seeds, but they enabled us to get something at the expense of the government, which is being touched constantly by inside interests, and it made us feel of some importance to have our congressmen remember our names and addresses. It showed that he was attending to his duties of looking after his constituents. We are sure, we don't know what Democratic congressmen can do for their constituents with the seed graft gone, except send copies of the Congressional Record.

Republicans of Kentucky need have no fear about good gubernatorial timber. There are men in the state a-plenty capable of making a winning fight and giving a successful administration. Another star has loomed above the horizon of possibility in the person of Judge William H. Holt, of Louisville once on the court of appeals bench, and more recently federal judge in Porto Rico.
In both trying positions he won the confidence of the litigants and the approval of practicing attorneys. He is no less fitted with administrative and executive than judicial qualifications, and if Judge Holt will accept the nomination, of which there is little doubt, he will make a successful fight.

It is gratifying news, that the Paducah Charity club, reorganized and rejuvenated, is ready to resume its activities in behalf of the city poor and afflicted. A noble purpose and efficient work have ever distinguished the career of this excellent organization of women. The season of keenest suffering and hardship to the poor and the children of the poor is approaching, and there is no other institution in the city covering the field of the Charity club. In all its enterprises of mercy the Charity club is assured of the sympathetic co-operation of The Sun.

We think politics is bad because some unscrupulous politicians graft off the public funds. That is true, but it is worse for the fellow that is in it than it is for the rest of us. The public usually stands it better than the grafter in the long run.

The exoneration of William Winters, charged with complicity with the mob that burned the tobacco warehouses would throw some light on the attitude of Princeton toward lawlessness, if we just knew why the crowd cheered.

Manifestly the board of public works appreciates the fact, that one never gets any more than he asks for.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

Mr. Bauer's Statement.

Replying to a reference to the case of A. V. Bauer, on September 15, 1906, I will say that I have been in business at Ninth and Washington streets, 22 months. I have never had a violation of the Sunday law, never was before the city court, never was arrested, and there never was a fight nor an arrest in my house. Also I have no wine room nor back yard open, nor any rooms in connection with my saloon and grocery. I have not had any disorder of any kind in my house and if the police, Emil Gourieux and Thomas Potter, have ever seen any disorder around my place of business they have failed to comply with their duty as officers in not making the arrests.

AMERICAN SYNDICATE.

Obtains Valuable Concessions in Congo Free State.

New York, Dec. 15.—According to the official bulletin of the Congo Free State it is learned here the rights conferred upon the Ryan-Gugenheim-Rockefeller syndicate by royal decree, dated November 9 last, give it the right to prospect for metals over the whole of the unassigned public domain in the Congo Free State for a period of six years. The American syndicate paid $150,000 down, and it is pledged to bring the total payment for its half of the concession up to $1,500,000. The grant covers an area of about 2,500,000 acres. Besides mining rights, the syndicate has a grant of about 741,- 000 acres of forest land, and the right to harvest a rubber producing plant over an area of 2,470,000 acres.
Besides the concession of 2,470,000 acres, the syndicate has secured rights to 12,000 acres on each bank of navigable streams, and a ten-year option in 1,000,000 additional acres.

YOUNG CHORUS GIRL.

Kept by Millionaire Manufacturer in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 15.—As a climax to a series of sensational episodes in which she has figured since last August, when she was taken in a wholesale raid upon questionable hotels Margaret Burkle, a pretty 17-year-old chorus girl, was arrested today at the home of Charles Muhke, her alleged cousin, in Marinette, Wis. When Miss Burkle was arrested in the Rensu hotel last August it developed that she had given up her position in the chorus at a local theater and was living at the hotel un-

Drastie French Measures.

Paris, Dec. 15.—The cabinet met today in order to decide upon the new legislation to be presented to parliament, but the text of the measures decided upon will not be ready until tomorrow. The steps to be taken are of a sweeping character. It is proposed to amend the law of 1905, providing for the separation of church and state, by which a year's grace was allowed before the permanent alienation of the church property, and to suppress the privilege of forming new cultural or diocesan associations during that period, and all church property, including the seminaries, will be immediately handed over to the state, to the departments and to the communes under conditions insuring that the churches themselves will be retained for religious uses.

Chicago Banks' Best Year.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—The banks of Chicago have in this year of 1906 enjoyed the largest earnings in their history. The oldest bankers here do not recall a time when the profits were as good and the prosperity so general. It is estimated in round figures that the total profits for the year will be something over $11,000,000. Every individual institution has made a record and the surplus earnings will average more than 100 per cent in excess of dividends.

BRADSTREETS.

New York, Dec. 15.—Bradstreet's weekly report follows: The holiday trade now in full swing, attracts most of the attention. Business which is of foremost proportions bids fair to eclipse previous records, significant feature being the demand for high grade goods. In other respects retail trade is irregular, good in the north-west and parts of the south, where mild weather has abstracted the demand for heavy weight wearing apparel. Jobbing and wholesale lines display a slight falling off but only by contrast with the activity prevailing early in the season, but this trade is more than seasonable active, especially in dry goods. Industrial lines were never so active and the labor situation far as grievances are concerned seems to have improved. Wages are still being advanced and supply of help still continues scarce, although this is the season for comparative suspension of out-door activities.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. The one medicine which fulfills all these requirements is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements. It is not given away in the form of "trial bottles" to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilarating effects may seem, for a time, to do good, but which in the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. It has been carefully adapted to woman's needs by an experienced physician—a specialist in their diseases. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvic, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has gnawing feeling in stomach, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic, "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dress-makers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is of known composition and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential and all answers are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

PEACE REIGNING IN PHILIPPINES

Report of Conditions Submitted To Congress

Lower House Sternly Declines to Increase Salaries of Its Own Members.

NEWS OF NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The report of Secretary of War Taft on the Philippines which was made public today, follows:

I include in this annual report the report of the Philippine commission for the year ending June 30, 1906, with its accompanying reports of the various heads of departments of the Philippine government. It gratifies me to be able to say that conditions in the Philippines show steady improvement.

In every part of the islands, except in the two provinces of Leyte and Samar, peace and tranquillity obtain.

The capture or surrender of eight or ten of the leaders of ladron bands in the island of Luzon, comprising all but one of those who have next the peaceful inhabitants of the Tagalog provinces, has brought about a better condition than ever before existed in the islands.

In Samar and Leyte there has been for a long time a bitter feud between the mountain people of those two islands, known as Pulajanes, and the people of the coast towns.

The census was completed late in the spring of 1905, and under the organic act of the Philippine Islands, passed July 1, 1902, an election for a popular assembly to act jointly with the Philippine commission as the legislature of the Christian Philippine provinces was to be held two years after the completion and publication of the census. If the president should find the conditions as to peace and tranquillity satisfactory.

The depressed condition of business in the islands seems to have continued especially in respect to the rising and exportation of sugar and tobacco.

The finances of the government are in a good condition. After all bills were paid June 30 last there was a surplus of a million and a half gold.

The harbor of Manila is now protected and has 30 feet of water behind the breakwaters, with an area sufficient to let the merchant fleet of the Orient ride at anchor safely during the southwest monsoons, which blow for six months with great force.

House Is Too Modest.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—The house of representatives was brought face to face with the proposition to increase the salaries of its own members, senators, vice-president, speaker of the house and members of the president's cabinet while the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was under consideration, and while it passed favorably on the proposition as applied to other officers.

FIRST SIGNS ARE IN THE BACK

It Is Best Not To Neglect Nature's Danger Signals

Too Much Kidney Trouble Here Valuable Prescription Given at Small Cost.

ANYONE CAN PREPARE THIS

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

A local physician stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no alcoholic patent medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation will restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

Ammunition Vessels Needed. Washington, Dec. 15.—Declaring that in the design of vessels in the battleship fleet the space and weight assigned to ammunition has been so restricted that the ammunition on board, under certain conditions of battle, would be exploded in less than an hour, Rear Admiral N. WHY ELECTRIC POWER IS ECONOMICAL

It is the most efficient and the least wasteful. It minimizes the risk of breakdowns. You pay only in proportion to your actual needs. There is more room in your factory—you can condense operations. Electric power is clean. Individual motors avoid shafting and friction loads—in some instances found to be over 60 per cent.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,
Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1923, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Do you dare," he cried, with flashing eyes, "to call the charge of my children a mental position? I say that there is no higher in the kingdom. Go back to Meudon, sir, this instant and never dare to open your mouth again on the subject."

The young man bowed low and walked with dignity from the chamber. The king's first hot anger had died away by now and had left behind it a cold, bitter spirit which was even more formidable to his antagonists.

But he had little breathing space. His assailants knew that with persistence they had bent his will before, and they trusted that they might do so again. It was Louvois, the minister, now who entered the room, with his majestic port, his lofty bearing, his huge wig and his aristocratic face, which, however, showed some signs of trepidation as it met the baleful eye of the king.

"Well, Louvois, what now?" he asked impatiently. "Has some new state matter arisen?"

"There is but one new state matter which has arisen, sire, but it is of such importance as to banish all others from our mind—your marriage, sire."

"You disapprove of it?"

"Oh, sire, can I help it?"

"Out of my room, sir! Am I to be tormented to death by your importunities? What! You dare to linger when I order you to go!" The king advanced angrily upon the minister, but Louvois suddenly flashed out his rapier. Louis sprang back, with alarm and amazement upon his face, but it was the hilt and not the point which was presented to him.

"Pass it through my heart, sire!" the minister cried, falling upon his knees, his whole great frame in a quiver with emotion. "I will not live to see your glory fade!"

"Great heaven!" shrieked Louis, throwing the sword down upon the ground. "I believe that this is a conspiracy to drive me mad. Was ever a man so tormented in his life? This will be a private marriage, man, and it will not affect the state in the least degree."

Louvois gathered himself up and shot his rapier back into its sheath. "Your majesty is determined?" he asked.

"Absolutely!"

"Then I say no more. I have done my duty. He bowed his head as one in deep dejection when he departed, but in truth his heart was lightened within him, for he had the king's assurance that the woman whom he hated would, even though his wife, not sit on the throne of the queens of France.

These repeated attacks, if they had not shaken the king's resolution, had at least irritated and exasperated him to the utmost. He was accordingly no very cordial face when the usher in attendance admitted the venerable figure of Father in Chaise, his confessor.

"I wish you all happiness, sire," said the Jesuit. "And I congratulate you from my heart that you have taken the great step which must lead to content both in this world and the next."

"I have had neither happiness nor contentment yet, father," answered the king peevishly. "I have never been so pestered in my life. The whole court has been on its knees to me to change my intention."

The Jesuit looked at him anxiously out of his keen gray eyes.

"Fortunately your majesty is a man of strong will," said he, "and not to be so easily swayed as they think."

"No, no, I did not give an inch. But still it must be confessed that it is very unpleasant to have so many against one."

"Then there is the more credit to your majesty for having resisted them. You have done nobly, sire. You have earned the praise and blessing of holy church."

"I trust that what I have done is right, father," said the king gravely. "I should be glad to see you again here in the evening, but at present I desire a little leisure for solitary thought."

Father in Chaise left the cabinet with a deep distrust of the king's intentions.

It was obvious that the powerful appeals which had been made to him had shaken if they had failed to alter his resolution. What would be the result if more were made? And more would be made. That was as certain as that darkness follows light. Some master card must be played now which would bring the matter to a crisis at once.

The bishop of Meaux was waiting in the anteroom, and Father in Chaise in a few brief words let him see the danger of the situation and the means by which they should meet it. Together they sought Mme. de Maintenon in her room. As the two plotters looked upon her perfect complexion, her regular features, so calm and yet so full of refinement, and the exquisite grace of her figure and bearing they could not but feel that if they failed in their ends it was not for want of having a perfect tool.

She had risen at their entrance, and her expression showed that she had read upon their faces something of the anxiety which filled their minds.

"You have evil news!" she cried. "No, no, my daughter. It was the bishop who spoke. But we must be on our guard against our enemies, who would turn the king away from you if they could."

Her face shone at the mention of her lover. "Ah, you do not know!" she cried. "He has made a vow. I would trust him as I would trust myself."

But the Jesuit's intellect was arrayed against the intuition of the woman.

"Our opponents are many and strong," said he, shaking his head. "We must bring the matter to an end."

"And how, father?"

"The marriage must be at once, this very night if possible."

"Oh, father, you ask too much. The king would never consent to such a proposal."

"It is he that will propose it."

"And why?"

"Because we shall force him to. It is only thus that all opposition can be stopped. When it is done the court will accept it. Until it is done they will resist it."

"What would you have me do, then, father?"

"Resign the king."

"Resign him?" She turned as pale as a lily.

"It is the best course, madame."

"Ah, father, I might have done it last month, last week, even yesterday morning."

"Fear not, madame. We advise you for the best. Go to the king now, at once. Say to him that you have heard that he has been subjected to much annoyance upon your account, that you cannot bear to think that you should be a cause of disunion in his own family and that therefore you will release him from his promise and will withdraw yourself from the court forever."

She cast a light mantle about her shoulders.

"I follow your advice," she said. "I believe that you are wiser than I. But, oh, if he should take me at my word!"

"He will not take you at your word."

The king had remained alone in his cabinet, wrapped in somewhat gloomy thoughts. Suddenly there came a gentle tap at the door, and there was the woman who was in his thoughts standing in the twilight before him. He sprang to his feet and held out his hands with a smile.

"Françoise! You here? Then I have at last a welcome visitor, and it is the first one today."

"Sire, I fear that you have been troubled."

"I have indeed, Françoise."

"But I have a remedy for it."

"And what is that?"

"I shall leave the court, sire, and you shall think no more of what has passed between us. I have brought discord where I meant to bring peace. Let me retire to St. Cyr or to the Abbey of Fontevault, and you will no longer be called upon to make such sacrifices for my sake."

The king turned deathly pale and clutched at her shawl with a trembling hand, as though he feared that she was about to put her resolution into effect that very instant.

"No, no, Françoise, you must not leave me! You must stay with me and be my wife!" He could hardly speak for agitation, and he still grasped at her dress to detain her.

"Some time must elapse before our wedding, sire. Yet during all that interval you will be exposed to these annoyances. How can I be happy when I feel that I have brought upon you so long a period of discomfort? A day would be too long, sire, for you to be unhappy through my fault. It is a misery to me to think of it. Believe me, it would be better that I should leave you."

"Never! You shall not! Why should we even wait a day, Françoise? I am ready. You are ready. Why should we not be married now?"

"At once? Oh, sire!"

"We shall. It is my wish. It is my order. That is my answer to those who would drive me. Let it be done secretly, Françoise. I will send in a trusty messenger this very night for the archbishop of Paris, and I swear that if all France stand in the way, he shall make us man and wife before he departs."

WOMEN INDICTED WITH GAMBLERS

Grand Jury Goes After People Previously Immune

Some Sensations Expected When Names Are Made Public—North Side Cleaned Up.

LITTLE BUSINESS IN COURT

Women who live lives of shame, and gamblers, were subjects of a majority of the indictments returned by the grand jury yesterday. It was one of the biggest returns in the history of the court for such a short sitting, and the jury has worked hard.

Four women on the north side, who have heretofore not appeared in court, were indicted for maintaining a nuisance in a respectable neighborhood. One firm was indicted for spreading immoral literature and pictures and a corporation was indicted for nuisance. About one-third of the indictments are for gaming and many young men were indicted, several in two counts.

The court refused to give out the indictments because the defendants are not before the court.

Today the only business of importance transacted in circuit court was receiving the report of the grand jury.

This morning in the indictment against L. T. Conner, R. L. Kelley and Coit & Kelley, an agreed fine of $45 was entered against Conner. He and the two Kelleys fought on the steamer Buttrick several months ago and were held over from police court on the charge of malicious assault. Conner was clerk on the boat and the Kelleys passengers.

Yesterday afternoon an appeal was taken from the order made in circuit court by Judge W. M. Reed transferring the suit of F. G. Rudolph, administrator of the estate of Pink Underwood, against the Illinois Central, Phil Kothelmer and Will Foster, to the federal court. The suit was brought in the state court, transferred to the federal court and later dismissed without prejudice and brought anew in the state court.

Lena Hale was granted a divorce from John Hale and restored to her maiden name of Lena McCauley.

A judgment for $60 was entered for W. A. Gardner in the case of F. G. Rudolph, administrator of Mrs. Wilson Thompson's estate, against Bertie Wilbur, W. A. Gardner, et al, for settlement.

A judgment for $135.40 was entered in the case of L. E. Stevenson, administrator of C. B. Billington, against S. J. Billington. Boot Skillian was fined $25 and the costs for carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

Suits Filed.

G. M. Wilson, Jr., administrator of Victor Quetch, filed suit in the circuit court against Sallie and James F. Coyle for $1,942.71, for property on Trimble street.

Suit was filed by the Paducah Banking company against J. D. and J. R. Copper for $127.50.

T. E. Russell, administrator of John T. Russell, against L. B. Spann for $146, alleged to be due the estate for two notes.

R. L. Shemwell against Lee Thompson and R. R. Wood for $75, alleged to be due as rent on a farm in the county, which the two held after Shemwell purchased it at a sale.

"I have indeed, Françoise."

"But I have a remedy for it."

"And what is that?"

"I shall leave the court, sire, and you shall think no more of what has passed between us. I have brought discord where I meant to bring peace. Let me retire to St. Cyr or to the Abbey of Fontevault, and you will no longer be called upon to make such sacrifices for my sake."

The king turned deathly pale and clutched at her shawl with a trembling hand, as though he feared that she was about to put her resolution into effect that very instant.

LARGE ESTIMATE FOR FISCAL YEAR

Board of Public Works Asks For $52,500

Includes Items Heretofore Covered by Contingent Fund and Some Few Extras.

APPARENTLY NOT EXCESSIVE

Estimates of probable expenditures by its various departments, amounting to $52,500, were made by the board of public works at a special session last night. Compared with the appropriation this year—$26,000—the aggregate appears enormous but is really conservative when analyzed. The estimates include $5,000 for culverts and fills, and $5,000 for flushing the streets and taking care of the apparatus. The street flushers were purchased this year, while the expense of building culverts has come out of the contingent fund, so that their inclusion in the estimates merely transfers an item from one account to another, without putting an additional expense on the city. As the work must be done under the supervision of the board and the need of the improvements is apparent the item is modest.

The estimates are as follows:
Streets $20,000
Street cleaning 5,000
Culverts 5,000
Lighting plant maintenance, 10,000
Lighting plant repairs 2,500

Total $52,500

The item of streets includes repairing, improvement and maintenance. This year only $18,000 was allowed, but the board has created a deficit of over $7,000, spending up to December 10, $23,741.93, with two more payrolls to hear from. The board asked for $28,000 this year and had not the work been shut down would have spent it. Each year the travel and consequent wear on the streets increase while the road beds deteriorate and it requires more to keep them up. The board has added only $2,000 to this year's estimate and expects to erect barns and sheds for the horses and equipment of the street force.

The municipal lighting plant is no cheap institution. The board estimates the necessary expenses on it next year at $12,500. This year it has cost so far $9,342.83, with two pay days remaining. The allowance was $5,000. In addition to the $9,342.85, the city has spent $11,000 for new machinery and approximately $7,000 for installing it and new lights and other equipment. The total cost for two years to the city will approximate $42,000.

The wharf and market, which come under the jurisdiction of the board of public works, are allowed nothing in the appropriation for the department of public works, as they would make a bad showing, if their expenses were charged up in one department with no corresponding credits for licenses and fees collected. Their expenses come out of the general fund.

Farmers to Insure. Guthrie, Ky., Dec. 15.—Members of the Farmers' Dark Tobacco Protective association here have taken steps to form an insurance company with a capital stock of $200,000 to carry insurance on tobacco warehouses and prize houses controlled by the association in the dark tobacco district of Kentucky and Tennessee. This movement is the indirect result of the recent Princeton fires since which some of the insurance companies have shown a disposition to withdraw policies on some warehouses in the dark tobacco district.

Lover Refused, Shoots. Eddyville, Ky., Dec. 15.—Oliver Doom became infuriated with the 13-year-old daughter of Robert Sadler and tried to kill her with a shotgun. He then tried to cut his throat with a razor, inflicting wounds which are pronounced fatal. Doom has been confined in the asylum, and his mind is still unbalanced. Miss Sadler, who is a mere child, refused to marry him, and the tragedy was the result.

HAD TRIED MANY REMEDIES

N. S. Wilbur, the popular Secretary of the Louisville Base Ball Club, says:

"I was a sufferer from Chronic Piles for a period of ten years or more, and while I used practically all of the known remedies, I received nothing but temporary relief. One night while traveling my suffering became so intense that in desperation I used Paracamp it being the only preparation that I had with me. I did not think for a moment that I would get relief, but in my condition was willing to try anything. Much to my surprise after the first application my suffering became less, I was able to go to sleep and when I awoke in the morning my pain was all gone. I applied Paracamp two or three times afterwards, not because I experienced any suffering but I feared a return of the pain.

I am glad to state, however, that the trouble has entirely disappeared and I believe myself, for the first time in over ten years cured.

I regard the effect of Paracamp in my case as simply wonderful and would not have believed it possible for a remedy to do what it has done had it not been for my actual experience with the preparation."

Paracamp positively does not contain anything that will injure the most delicate skin. It is a clean, safe, cooling, soothing, application that every one can use every day with pleasing and satisfactory results.

A trial will convince you. So get a bottle of Paracamp to-day from your druggist. We guarantee every bottle to give satisfaction. If it fails to do what we claim, go back to your druggist, the man you know, and get your money. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good but I have found the best thing at last. My face was full of pimples and black heads. After taking Cascarets I feel fine and am recommending the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel fine when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets."

THEATRICAL NOTES

Saturday Matinee and Night

Sale of seats begins for Richard Mansfield "Texas Sweethearts"

Sergeant Brue-a Hit.
In Sergeant Brue Frank Daniels has a great vehicle for a display of the mobility of his face and the facility of his humorous trunk. The vehicle is an English musical comedy, with real comedy and real music, and plenty of action. The star has surrounded himself with a good company, the best looking chorus (not show girls, pony ballets, etc.) that has been seen and heard here this season, and situations entirely novel. The story of the piece has to do with the adventures of one, Sergeant Brue, of the London police, whose brother died in South Africa and left him $10,000 a year on condition that he attain the rank of inspector. Crookie Scrubbs, a thief, suggests to the sergeant that he arrange a series of different kinds of crimes, in which the sergeant may arrest the offenders and so earn his promotion. Naturally with the kind of policeman Frank Daniels could impersonate the result is ludicrous. Among the supporting company the work of Charles H. Drew, as Crookie Scrubbs, stands out most prominently, and his depiction of the "ticket to leave man" has much to do with the success of the piece. Ella Snyder as Aurora, Brue's daughter, and Julia Frary as Lady Bickenhall, also made individual hits with the assistance of the chorus. The male contingent of the chorus looked well in dress suits and sang excellently. Sergeant Brue isn't uproarious, but it doesn't lack any of the qualities of real humor for all that.

"Texas Sweethearts."
"Texas Sweethearts" plays at the Kentucky Saturday matinee and night.
The Muskegon Exchange of Thursday, May 31, 1906, says: "Texas Sweethearts" as played at the Strong last evening was a genuine success. The audience followed every action from the curtain's rise to its last fall with attentiveness, showing its appreciation by frequent and hearty applause. The play was one to delight the hearts of all, dealing with love and intrigue on a Texas ranch. Its plot led Pearl Lewis, as "Texas," the owner of the ranch, through the scheming of her covetous foreman, into a den, where she was in the power of the schemer. Alan Villiar, as her lover, happened around and was himself bound and made helpless but cleverly burning himself free from his bonds by his lighted cigar, he set the house wild by escaping from the den with "Texas." This was only one of the many strong situations in which the play abounds, the last act being exceptionally interesting, ending in the most realistic duel ever presented on the local stage, and the prospective marriage of "Texas" and her lover, "Jack."

Mansfield Coming.
There have been unceasing manifestations of delight over the return of Richard Mansfield. An especial piquancy is added, however, to his night at the Kentucky theater on Monday, December 24 next, by his consent to play "Beau Brummel." As there have been so few subtle, finished and exquisite creations as Mansfield's Beau, so there have been few characters on the stage so universally beloved as this masterpiece of elegance, fashion, impudence, but tender-hearted egotism. Affectionate sympathy links itself with ardent admiration in the universal favor of "Beau Brummel." Mr. Mansfield's impersonation of Brummel has been known to our stage for fifteen years. He played that part for the first time on May 19, 1890, at the Madison Square theater, New York City, and he has kept it in his repertory ever since. The part is a remarkable one, and the performance touches the extremes of exceptional character, eccentric conduct, droll humor, and simple pathos.

The authorship of the play of "Beau Brummel" has been claimed by Mr. Clyde Fitch, according to William Winter, "and is commonly attributed to him, but, as a matter of fact, it had a different origin, for Mr. Fitch wrought upon an idea and a ground plan that had been furnished to him, and much of the piece as it now stands, was invented and written by Mr. Mansfield himself.

"The first acts are bright, crisp, incisive, piquant, replete with character and emphatic effect. Its last act is diversified with expressive incident touchingly pictorial of possible hardships and miseries in actual vicissitudes of life, and exceedingly pathetic."
Mr. Mansfield is to arrive by special train on Monday morning, December 24. His company is the same so, too, is the production, as surrounded him during his latest New York season. The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock and carriages may be ordered for 11.

Bispham's Opera a Success.
London, Dec. 15.—One of the most signal successes of recent years in London was the production of a new light romantic opera, "The Vicar of Wakefield" at the Prince of Wales' Theater, by David Bispham and a strong local cast. The opera was written by Laurence Housman and Liza Lehmann and rarely has new music been received with such unqualified enthusiasm. It includes several songs which promise to become popular. The piece as a whole was a splendid production brilliantly presented. Bispham received a great ovation.

STATE JUSTICES IN LONG COATS.
Uniform Dress Adopted for Illinois Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 15.—Justices of the Illinois Supreme court will hereafter wear a uniform dress coat on the bench. The new coats have already arrived, and have been put to use. They are Prince Albert cut, somewhat long and with silk-faced lapels. Altogether they form a most dignified garment, and are one step nearer the regulation gown. While the coats are intended for wear on the bench, they are also serviceable for other purposes. As a matter of fact, the justices always have been somewhat indifferent to the style of dress worn while the court was in session. Some of the members have worn a coat of a pattern similar to the new ones, while others have appeared on the bench in light colored cloth. The adoption of the new coats simply means uniformity of style and color.

LAYMEN NOT AFFECTED.
May Worship According to Law and Papal Sanction.

Paris, Dec. 15.—Cardinal Richard has issued a communication which will facilitate a way out of the present church difficulty. This communication sets forth that declarations made by laymen relative to worship are not in disobedience to the instructions of the pope, provided their purpose is honestly to avoid disturbances, and admits that such declarations do not infringe upon the hierarchy, as the Vatican has only forbidden clergymen to carry out the required legal formalities. This will permit of worship in accordance with the law, but in the meantime the church officially maintains its position of not submitting to the state.

Killed for Applauding Play.
Chicago, Dec. 15.—An unidentified newboy was killed last night in the gallery of the Majestic theater for applauding a player on the stage whom George Dunraven, another spectator, was displeased with.

Dunraven who is a laborer, ordered the boy to cease his demonstration. When the lad refused Dunraven tried to hit him with an umbrella. The boy tried to dodge the blow and the point of the umbrella penetrated his brain through his left eye and he died while being removed from the theater. Dunraven was arrested.
