JUDGE SMITH ENDS NOVEMBER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT HERE

Byers Verdict of $11,000 in Railway Accident Will Go to Court of Appeals.

CITY OF MURRAY COLLECTS $1000 PEACE BOND MONDAY

Judge Ira Smith wound up the regular November term of Calloway circuit court here Monday afternoon, after two weeks sessions at which many cases were adjudged. Judge Smith will rest a few days before convening the December term of Lyon circuit court at Eddyville Monday, the 3rd.

Judge Smith overruled a motion for a new trial on behalf of defendant attorneys in the case of Mrs. Byers against the N. C. & St. L. Railway, in which she was awarded damages of $11,000. The case will be taken to the court of appeals. There are two other cases companion to the Byers case, that of T. H. Stokes, administrator of Mrs. Vaughan and son, who were killed in the fatal accident at the south railroad crossing last December when Mrs. Byers was injured. All three cases are identical in evidence and it is regarded likely that the verdicts in the latter two will be based on that in the Byers action. The will come to trial in the spring of 1930.

The commonwealth collected for the use and benefit of the City of Murray a $1,000 peace bond, on a liquor charge, against John O'Grady and William Wells.

Other cases decided on the final day of the term were: W. C. Holland and Sons vs. N. C. and St. L. Ry. company, defendant's motion for new trial overruled and defendant granted an appeal.

W. C. Ward vs. City of Murray, plaintiff's motion for new trial overruled and plaintiff granted an appeal.

Flossie Tyler etc. vs. Hassel Windsor, defendant's motion for new trial overruled and judgment abated from $600 to $300.

L. W. McDaniel vs. Eugene Tarry, judgment for the defendant. Commonwealth of Kentucky for the use and benefit of City of Murray, vs. John O'Grady and William Wells, judgment against defendants for $1,000, on liquor peace bond.

T. W. Crawford, committee, etc. vs. Farmer Pardon Motor Company judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $122.

The following cases were decided by juries Friday:

Case of W. C. Ward vs. City of Murray seeking water damages in the sum of $1,000, the plaintiff was given a verdict for $233.

Case of J. C. Wynns vs. Peter Hepper, damages for an automobile accident in which case both plaintiff and defendant were seeking damages, the jury returned a verdict for neither.

Cases of Commonwealth of Kentucky against Grate Gardner, George Skinner, Alford McElroy, Will Marvel, Herbert Blanton, charged with violation of liquor law, continued until April term.

Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Okus Puckett, charged with having liquor in his possession, given $100 fine and 30 days in jail several days ago, defendant's motion for new trial overruled and given 60 days to appeal.

Friday's business finished the commonwealth docket for this term of the court. John T. King, commonwealth's attorney, left for his home at Cadiz Friday afternoon.

The petit jury was dismissed for the term Saturday afternoon, at which time judgments were returned as follows:

Flossie Tyler etc. vs. Hassel Windsor, seeking damages in the sum of $1,000 for slander, verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $600.

Case of E. J. Beale Motor company vs. J. A. Washer, seeking judgment on account for $150, verdict for the defendant.

OFFICIAL VOTE IN STATE IS CERTIFIED

934,592 Votes Cast New High
Total; Minor Party
Vote Is Less.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 26th.—The largest popular vote ever cast in Kentucky in a presidential election gave Herbert Hoover an official majority over Alfred E. Smith of 175,722 votes, according to the returns as certified today by the board of election commissioners.

Out of a total of 934,592 votes Hoover received 555,157 and Smith 379,435. The three minor parties the Socialist, the Workers Communist, and the Socialist Labor, divided what remained.

Only two Democratic candidates for Congress were able to withstand the Hoover landslide, and nine Republican congressional candidates were elected by majorities ranging from 3,400 to almost 33,000, the tabulation showed.

The presidential election this year was the first since 1920 in which a third party did not poll sufficient votes to have controlled the balance of power. In 1920, the Democratic nominee received only 4,911 votes more than the Republican candidate, and the Socialist ticket was given 6,409. In 1924, President Coolidge was given 24,111 votes, more than Davis, and the Progressive party polled 35,465 votes. The total vote in 1929 was 935,386 and in 1924 was 813,735.

TEACHERS CAPTURE CONFERENCE CROWN

Thoroughbreds Easily Defeat
West Tennessee 40-0 at Memphis Saturday

Coach Carlisle Cutchin's Thoroughbreds of the Murray State Teachers College are champions of the Mississippi Valley Conference for 1929. The last obstacle, the West Tennessee Teachers, was easily hurdled last Saturday when the local gridgers galloped to a 40 to 0 victory at Memphis.

A large crowd witnessed the game and several fans from Murray made the trip to see the boys gain undisputed possession of the crown. It was the eighth consecutive victory for the thoroughbreds, the worst they have done this year was being held to a tie by the Southern Illinois Normal, at Carbondale, early in October.

"Ball" Wells led the scoring attack, pushing over three touchdowns while Brodie, Haynes and Jim Miller added one each to their season's records. May also performed brilliantly with the ball.

Chambers, Wallis and Bowman, in the line, added materially to the days success by spectacular work on both offense and defense. The locals made sixteen first downs to three for the Tennesseans and outclassed their foe in every phase of the conflict.

Almo Defeats Kirksey 40-16 Wednesday Night

Almo vanquished Kirksey easily Wednesday night on the latter's floor, winning by a score of 40 to 16. Hurt was high point man with 27 points. The Kirksey lads were no match for the victors at any stage of the game. Venable put up a good game for his team's points.

In a preliminary fight, the Almo second team defeated the home second quintet, 18 to 12.

WESTERN SHIPS IN TURKEY GAME WITH THE THOROUGHBREDS

Cutchin Offer of Game After Eastern Cancels Tilt at Bowling Green.

ARTICLE IN C-J WEDNESDAY MORNING SAID FOR WANTED

Bowling Green football fans were disappointed in not having a football game Thanksgiving Day but if their football team had not disbanded so rapidly they could have had the season's piece de resistance in a battle royal between Coach Carlisle Cutchin's Thoroughbreds and the men of Edd Diddle.

An article appeared in the Louisville Courier-Journal Wednesday morning under a Bowling Green date line saying that the game between Richmond and Bowling Green teachers had been cancelled by Eastern on account of the illness of five players and that Bowling Green team was making frantic efforts to close the two day meeting of the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women held at Hamilton College.

Soon after the article was received here, Coach Cutchin of the Thoroughbreds wired Bowling Green that his team would be glad to furnish the opposition.

A return wire stated that the team was already disbanded and that Coach Diddle had left for his home in Oklahoma so that the challenge could not be accepted.

The Murray players and fans have long sought to play Bowling Green and the answer of the sister college was very much disappointing here. Bowling Green has one of the best teams in her history this year but so do the Thoroughbreds and local players and fans are willing to back their judgment that Murray can give Bowling Green a good licking.

KIRKSEY QUINTET BEATS
LYNN GROVE FIVE 23-22

Lynn Grove, Nov. 24.—In one of the hardest fought games of the season the Lynn Grove quintet was defeated before the raging attack of the Kirksey Blue and White.

The close score of 23-22 indicated a fast game that was hard fought from beginning to end. In a previous game played on the Kirksey floor Lynn Grove succeeded in winning from the Kirksey boys a hard earned victory. It was with the sting of this defeat that the Kirksey Blue and White entered this second game with the determination to avenge themselves and this they did. The game started off rather slowly with Lynn Grove taking the lead. Kirksey's first marker was a long shot by Harrell.

This was followed by a rapid series of scoring on the part of both teams. At the end of the half the score stood 10-12 Lynn Grove. In the last quarter Kirksey obtained a lead which Lynn Grove was never able to overcome. Two free shots made by Venable turned the tide in favor of the fighting blue and white. It is impossible to give any player special recognition for every man on the floor played excellent ball.

The score was as follows:

Kirksey 23	Lynn Grove 22
Harrell 5	F. Fogue 2
Cain 0	F. Jones 8
Venable 18	C. Douglas 4
Adams 0	G. Atkins 7
Stark 0	G. Waldrop 0

Substitutions: Lynn Grove, C. Jones for Fogue, Ray Fogue for F. Fogue, C. Jones for Waldrop.

Hilson Guier Tells Feeling of Owning Champion Cow

Hilson Guier's story of his National champion cow, Proud Princess May.

Being the owner of Proud Princess May the new world's champion senior three-year-old butterfat producing heifer I am naturally the happiest boy in America.

About two years ago our County Agent organized a 4 H Jersey club in the County and with the permission of my father and mother I decided to join. After I had done so the next thing was to find a suitable heifer for my club project and how was I to finance it. The year before I had a small tobacco patch of my own and when it was sold I put the money in the bank so I decided to draw on this money to buy me a nice heifer. One day accompanied by my father I visited a number of different breeders in the County looking at and pricing heifers. That night at home we were discussing which one I should buy. Father made the suggestion as to which one I should take but neither was the one I had decided. I wanted. After much pleading he finally consented for me to buy Proud Princess May, which I call May. She cost me one hundred fifty dollars, that being a high price here for a Jersey heifer. I brought her home and at that time I thought I was the happiest boy there was.

Calf Paid for Cow

I had not owned her long until she dropped me a bull calf. This I did not like very much so I sold it for seven dollars and a half and bred her again to a good bull out of a Register of Merit cow with a good record, hoping this time to get a heifer calf. She calved again the last day of Dec. 1927 and much to my sorrow I had another bull calf. This time some of the breeders in the County had started official testing and Father had decided to test his cows so I got

Kirksey Students Horor Young Guier in Chapel for Cow Mark

By FRANK PETERSON, JR.

It was with a deep feeling of pride that the entire student body of Kirksey high school gave a special program in honor of Hilson Guier, the owner of the world's champion senior 3-year-old cow in the production of butterfat. For the past three months young Guier has been a student in our school and we felt that the first words of praise after the actual feat had been accomplished was due him from his own teachers and classmates. For the past ten months Hilson has labored manfully to enable his cow to beat the world's record. To do this it required constant care and attention to the cow on which he believed some day would be focused the eyes of the world. The fight is fought, the goal is won, the thing to which we have all been looking forward has become a reality.

Bought With Tobacco Money
Something like two years ago

Hilson bought his cow with money earned from his tobacco crop, paying $150 for it. At the time she was only a calf and her future possibilities were undreamed of. Later when she came into production he decided to have her tested and it was through this test that he came to the conclusion that she had unusual ability and a short time later had her put on an official test. For ten long months he weighed and tested her milk under the supervision of the American Jersey Cattle Club, and what a great feeling of relief and triumph to receive a few days ago a telegram from the office of the American Jersey Cattle Club notifying him that his cow had beaten the former world's record by 11.36 pounds of butterfat.

Calloway Wins Title
This is not only a great honor to young Guier, not only to Calloway county but it is an honor to the state.

The Call For Farm Relief

One important farm organization which refused to support the McNary-Haugen bill was the National Grange, and now Louis J. Taber, Master of the Grange, has declared that the McNary-Haugen bill is dead beyond recall. He urges farm organizations all over the country to forget past difficulties and unite behind a new program which Congress would accept promptly at the coming session and which the President would approve.

It will not be easy to persuade the McNary-Haugenites to follow this advice. Bringing the various farm organizations and Mr. Coolidge to an agreement is difficult, as proven by the fate of the Fess Bill two years ago and of the Curtis-Crisp bill at the last session.

The advocates of the McNary-Haugen bill seem to be in no mood to accept this sort of legislation for they have repeatedly denounced it as futile. Indications seem to be that they would prefer no action at the coming session, was a rather for the several session to be called by Mr. Hoover.

The Pre-School Child Health Series No. 1

When the baby gets through his "second summer", even though he is still less than two years old, the mother usually feels that her worst job is over. After he passes his second birthday, she is likely to think that she can at last relax her vigilance a bit, that he has safely weathered the storms of babyhood and may now be left to "just grow", like Topsy. For this reason, the period from two to six—the pre-school age—has been called the neglected age. Fortunately, the pre-school child is less neglected now than formerly. It is true that the child generally grows; but in the process of growing he may acquire many undesirable physical and mental characteristics, to an extent that may cause his parents to experience a shock when the report of his first physical examination in school is sent home. The period between two and six years of age is one of rapid development, and in what seems an incredibly short time the child may change from a normal to a defective one.

Because of the swift changes taking place between this period of infancy and the school age, it is important that the pre-school child should have careful supervision. Physical examinations of school children have shown that defects are common in the lowest grades. Data obtained by the officers of the United States Public Health Service showed that enlarged tonsils and enlarged cervical glands were most prevalent at six or seven years of age. The incidence of adenoids was high at six with its peak at eight years. Speech defects were most numerous in the six and seven years old group, and decay of the teeth was widespread at seven. Other investigations have found that poor posture is common in children from two to six, and that many visual defects are found in children from four to seven. These facts all indicate that the pre-school age is a fertile field for the growth of physical defects, some of which it may have been possible to prevent.

KIRKSEY HIGH SCHOOL

(Wildier F. Paige)

The Kirksey Blue and White had the satisfaction of giving Lynn Grove a thrilling last Saturday night. The game was one of the hardest fought games ever witnessed by the writer.

There was action from beginning to end. Every man in blue and white seemed determined to see that Lynn Grove should go down and this they did. The score was close from the first whistle to the last. It may have been a complete upset of the odds but it is not the first time that Kirksey has upset the odds.

Somebody said that Kirksey was not in the running this year let's see what they have to say now. We beat Lynn Grove last Saturday night and we can beat Almo Wednesday.

The faculty and student body had the satisfaction of hearing one of the county's most distinguished citizens Wednesday morning, Dec. 21, in chapel, Hon. T. H. Stokes. He spoke to us on the subject "The importance of knowing ones self as capable of good works and deserving of the best in life." He gave interesting sketches concerning his visit to Valley Forge and the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln. Every one present enjoyed the entire address immensely. We are always glad to have visitors in our school and extend our invitation to anyone who wants to see a real, wide awake school in action to come out any time he sees fit. We want you.

School will be dismissed Thursday and Friday and every one is planning on a big time that with big dinners and hunting we don't doubt but what that the time will be well spent.

The primary and intermediate departments under the supervision of Miss Tucker and Miss Chester gave a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon. Quite a number of patrons were in attendance and the fellows about town appreciated by everyone.

The Blue and White pep team has a lot of pep and is planning to win with a ball game we will not lose any more because that bunch certainly can yell.

A former student of K. H. S. was seriously wounded last Saturday afternoon. It is thought that she will recover not withstanding the gravity of the calamity. Miss Myra Handly was the victim of Cupid's piercing dart it going completely through her heart. The arrow laden with its load of tenderness was in the hands of Mr. Robert Tyree, a young man of the neighborhood. The ceremony was solemnized at Paris, France.

The bride and groom was accompanied to Paris by Miss Greyelle Watson, a cousin of the bride, and the groom's brother, Napoleon Tyree. We wish them a long and happy life free from as many of life's hardships as possible.

Plans are being made for the coming fiddler's contest. A hand ball containing the program has been distributed. We plan to have some of the best musicians in West Kentucky here on that night so it will be worth our time to come out on that night.

The teachers and quite a number of the students are planning on attending the F. D. E. A. to be held at Murray the latter part of the week.

Don't fail to observe the prize offered for the best school quartet at the fiddler's contest. If your school has a quartet let us see what it can do.

Coach Polts is immensely pleased with the work the ball team is doing and the squad is doing intensive raining for the Almo tilt.

A number of debates have been held in the debate subject for the season and each time we dig in a little deeper. We think we are going to like the subject fine. We have made up our minds that the debate cup now in our possession will be defended in a way that becomes K. H. S. We expect that cup to set on the piano another year. And we are beginning to believe it will have company. You know that there are two other cups at large in county waiting for someone to give them a home for another year.

Prof. Wrathe has begun to look forward to the coming poultry contest to be held sometime later in the winter. The agriculture class has been doing a lot of pouring over poultry books.

to put my heifer on test. I thought since I was going to test I would keep this calf and if my heifer made a Register of Merit, I might sell the calf for a good price.

After the second month's test it began to look like she was going to make an unusually good record so one of the farmers in the County offered me a hundred fifty dollars for the calf and I sold it. This was the price paid for the cow so I thought I had made a good trade but I see now if I had the calf back I could get much more for it. It has developed nice and is a fine one.

Fed, Milked Cow Himself

I fed and milked my cow all the time during the test. Papa and my older brother milked her occasionally but not often. I was selling the whole milk to a condensation and she cleared me nearly a dollar a day most of the time for the milk. With the assistance of the County Agent Dairy Specialist, My Agricultural teacher and some of the breeders I worked out the following ration for her, which was changed occasionally during the test. I fed legume hay, three pounds of soaked beet pulp a day and the following grain mixture: 21 per cent dairy feed, wheat bran, corn and cob meal, linseed oil meal, and crushed oats. I fed on an average of one pound of grain to every two and one half pounds of milk produced. Toward the end of the test some cottonseed meal was added to the ration and I fed more liberal than anytime during the test. She was never off feed and was always hungry when she finished eating what I had given her.

Visited by Hundreds

After she had been on test a few months she began to get lots of publicity, which brought hundreds of people to the farm to see her. I have had as many as forty guests in one day. I have had visitors from all the adjoining states and I think from everywhere from N. Y. to Florida. I always took pleasure in showing my cow to visitors but never realized until the record was finished how important it was.

One of the most interesting things during the contest came when my County Agent asked me to enter the butterfat contest for club boys competing for free trips to State Fair and National Dairy show which was given by Gray Von Allman Milk Co. of Louisville. Both of which I won. I shall always feel indebted to Gray Von Allman for the wonderful time shown me while at State Fair and National Dairy Show. I saw many interesting things on these trips and everything was paid for by Von Allman.

I am fifteen years of age and am in my first year of high school. I keep my cow and make her pay my way through the Agricultural College at the University of Kentucky. After which I hope to be able to develop a real herd of Jerseys for there is nothing in the world I like better.

HOPTOWN HELD TO 19 TO 0 BY TIGER

Bowman, Lewis Chambers Stand Out; Edwards Big Gun for Conference Leaders.

Putting up a game battle but failing to stop "Bull" Edwards, 185-pound half back at all stages, Murray high school fighting, went down before Hopkinsville high school here Friday afternoon by the score of 19 to 0. A huge crowd of local people went out to cheer for the Tigers and the attendance was increased by a large number from Hopkinsville.

Sanford's men fought gamely and brilliantly and made practically as many first downs as the visitors. They had several chances to score but could not take advantage of their opportunities though a passing attack in the final period gained many yards.

Lewis and Chambers made many nice gains during the conflict and "captain Bowman's work in the line was again up to his peerless standard. Murray fans will be much disappointed if Bowman fails to win a place on the mythical all-conference eleven.

The visitors, who lead in the race for the conference championship, scored in the first, second and final periods. Straight football with Edwards and Pierce doing the bulk of the work, counted for two of them while the other came on a long pass from Anderson to Lowe. Murray held the powerful offensive of Hop-town to below expectations but Edwards hit the line for good gains several times.

The Tigers will conclude the season here Thanksgiving when they will meet the Groves high school of Paris, Tennessee, on the high school field.

COLLEGE ORATORS WIN AT GIRARDEAU

First Debate Successful; To Meet Union and West Tennessee Teachers.

The Murray State Teachers College debating team, composed of W. Aylor Raburn and Wells Overby, defeated the debaters from Southeast Missouri State Teachers College of Cape Girardeau Friday night at Cape Girardeau. The Missouri-Kentucky debate was the first debate in the history of these colleges. More than 700 representatives from the high schools of Southeast Missouri attended the debate on the question: "Resolved, That the English Cabinet Method of Legislation is More Efficient in England than the Committee System in the United States." The Cape Girardeau debaters were men of two and three years experience while the Murray arguers were engaging them in their initial inter-collegiate encounter. Raburn and Overby are residents of Calloway county and both are juniors in the Murray State Teachers College.

Prof. L. J. Horton, Prof. E. H. Smith and Albert Greer attended the debate. Dr. J. W. Atkinson, of Lebanon, Ill., judged the debate. A return debate will be arranged at Murray with the Missourians. Murray State Teachers College is scheduling debates with Union University and West Tennessee Teachers.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

A RECORD IN POLITICS
THE EYE OF THE NEEDLE
GOOD SOUP, GOOD SERVICE.
WHAT IS A RICH MAN?
CAPTAIN OF YOUR SOUL.
NO SOCRATIC METHODS.

The President cast his first vote in Northampton, was elected councilman there, long ago, and has been steadily in office ever since, nominated nineteen or twenty times—never beaten. A record in politics as good as Cromwell's in war. Cromwell never lost a battle.

The old farmers would observe with pleasure that being President with $75,000 a year salary, a White House and a big yacht, have not spoiled Calvin Coolidge. Next March he will move from the White House to Northampton and resume life in a small house which he rents for $32.50 a month.

Such a man is not dependent on money. But the President could save plenty of it. More than one law firm would be glad to guarantee him three times his Presidential salary. And he would not have to work hard. Perhaps the President chooses to wait awhile, look around and possibly take a second elective term in the White House, eight years hence.

The erection of a fine statue to the great Frenchman, Pasteur, honors Chicago. Excepting the Lincoln statue, none in Chicago is erected to so noble and useful a man.

Dr. Leopold Stieglitz, of New York, able scientist and brilliant diagnostician, brother of Professor Julius Stieglitz, who teaches chemistry at Chicago University says, "We need a Pasteur to solve the cancer problem. That task calls for a man free of preconceived notions and prejudice; not a man of medical training, seeking to explain cancer according to old methods."

The ignorant sometimes ask "Of what real use is science?" Bismarck taking five billion francs from France after the war of 1870, thought he had reached the limit. Dr. Stieglitz reminds you that the cash value of France of Pasteur's discoveries far exceeds five billion francs, to say nothing of his work against human disease and suffering.

What Dr. Stieglitz says of Pasteur and the cancer problem encourages men of no special training. Clear thought and accurate observation work wonders. The inventor of the sewing machine did not know how to sew. Had he known, it would not have occurred to him to put the eye of the sewing machine needle in the point of the needle, rather than in the old place, farthest from the point. That one idea made the sewing machine possible.

Mussolini, wiser than superficial critics in America, has only praise for moving pictures. Quite accurately, he classes them among the greatest agencies for the education of mankind. The other two are movable type and photography.

Chefs of many hotels competed in New York to see which could make the best soup. Six wise men, including Clarence H. Mackay's French chef, Combes, allotted first prize to E. Elliott.

That competition means more to human welfare than the average man realizes; more, for instance than Olympic competition.

Soups contain vitamins and other valuable nourishment and stimulate the flow of digestive fluids. To manufacture good soup an ideal great deal of it is to render public service.

Income tax returns show 283 Americans with net incomes of $1,000,000 a year or more. The number has increased by fifty-two in two years. Citizens reporting incomes of $5,000,000 or more number only TEN. There were fourteen of them in 1926.

Once a man, with a million, was considered rich. To be REALLY "rich" now you need $1,000,000 a year.

There are several billionaires in existence that modestly refrain from talking about it.

Many a young person has spouted: "It matters not how strait the gate, How charged with punishment the school."

I am the master of my fate.

I am the captain of my soul."

The Reverend E. H. Edmest, Congregationalist, says those who talk about being "captain of my soul" are only "whistling loudly in the dark, making 'an outward noise to cover up an inward fear and disquiet."

It is hard to be sure that you are captain of your soul in these modern times. Scientists say you haven't any soul anyhow, and you don't know where your soul is going later, if anywhere, or where this earth itself is going, with the sun passing through space.

However, a man CAN be calm in an emergency, and that's what the poet meant.

William McAndrew, who was superintendent of Chicago schools, leaves for Athens to spend a year studying His plan may heaven thwart it, is to revive the Socratic method in modern schools.

Socrates, if Plato describes his method accurately, touched a new peak in boredom. Instead of saying what he had to say, he went around Robin Hood's barn with questions and answers tireless beyond measure.

Whether or not Socrates was guilty as alleged, or filling young Greeks with disrespect for the gods, and in spite of the marvelously heroic hemlock drinking episode, you can hardly blame the Athenians for getting rid of him.

What modern education needs is moving pictures, with condensed verbal elucidation, not Socratic dialogue.

"Ruth, amid the alien corn," would be interested in three other Ruths, all in American politics. Three women were elected to Congress, and all three are named Ruth. Ruth McCormick, daughter of the able Mark Hanna, in Illinois; Ruth Bryan, in Florida; Ruth Pratt, in New York. All three possess intelligence and ability well above the Congressional average.

If you believe in omens, name your next daughter Ruth.

We won't really have films in natural colors until the stars stop using make-up.

"I suffered a long time, before I tried Cardui," says Mrs. Lillie Pruitt, 130 "K" St., Anderson, S.C.

"I was badly run-down in health. My nerves went to pieces, and I had to go to bed."

"I got so bad I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild."

"One day I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it. It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly several months, and my improvement was so remarkable my family and friends were delighted."

Mrs. Scott To Be Brought From Murray to Cadiz

Mrs. H. B. Scott, of Murray, who has been critically ill for some four months past, a part of the time being in the hospital at Murray, is to be brought to Cadiz about the middle of December by the local train. Mrs. M. D. Kuttis on East Main street. She is suffering from a severe heart affection and improves very slowly. The sister, Miss Sue Parsley, has been with her in Murray for some weeks.—Cadiz Record.

Big Returns From Jap Clover Seed

The production of a 2,630-pound litter of pigs in 170 days, by Joe Watson, of Crainston, Kentucky, in Fleming county, has set a dizzy pace for other hog breeders in the county, notes County Agent R. H. Lickert. This litter was fed a simple ration consisting of corn, skim milk and tannage and alfalfa pasture. There were 12 pigs, the heaviest weighing 265 pounds.

TRUCK LIME TO FARMERS

At the suggestion of County Agent R. H. King, a Carter county truck owner last spring began to retail and deliver limestone to farm. From March 1 to Sept. 1 he delivered 615 tons to 51 farmers. Four trucks are now delivering limestone to farmers of the county.

POULTRY FLOCK PROFITABLE

Three hundred and fifty White Leghorns averaged 219 eggs for the year ending October 31, and returned R. V. McWhorter, East Bernstadt, a profit of $1,129. He now has 800 layers in winter quarters. More than 4,000 well-bred hens in Laurel county are being hatched and sent to other sections made by County Agent K. J. Bowles.

Plan to Get Eggs When Prices High

How to get many eggs during the season when prices are high is the problem of poultry raisers who desire to have a highly profitable business. J. E. Humphrey, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, lists the following requirements for high egg production: Hatch early, so that half of the pullets will come into production by the latter part of August, and the remaining half by October 1.

Where possible use lights in the laying house.

Keep the flock free from internal parasites, especially tape and round worms.

Use only hens in the breeding pen, and mate them to male birds that are from at least 200-egg hens.

Place 66 to 90 per cent of the flock with pullets each fall.

Above everything else, keep the poultry house and yards clean and sanitary.

Tobacco grown on limed land in Barren county cured bright, while that grown on unlimed land cured up red. Corn on limed land produced a fourth more than that on untreated soil.

The new Ford has a very simple and effective lubrication system

THE lubrication system for the engine of the new Ford is as simple in principle as water running down-hill.

A gear pump in the bottom of the oil pan raises the oil to the valve chamber reservoir. From here it flows on to the main crankshaft bearings and the front camshaft bearing. Overflow oil drops into the oil pan tray and runs into troughs through which the connecting rods pass.

As the ends of these rods strike the oil they scoop up a supply for the connecting rod bearing. At the same time they set up a fine spray that lubricates the pistons and other moving parts.

From the tray the oil runs into the bottom of the pan, and is again drawn up through a fine mesh screen and pumped to the valve chamber.

This system is so effective that the five-quart contents of the oil pan pass through the pump twice in every mile when you are traveling at only 30 miles an hour. Yet there is only one movable part—the oil pump.

As a matter of fact, the lubrication system for the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no service attention.

There is just one thing for you to do, but it is a very important thing... watch the oil. Change the oil every 500 miles and be sure the indicator rod never registers below low (L).

If the oil level is allowed to fall below low, the supply becomes insufficient to oil all parts as they should be oiled.

To insure best performance it is also advisable to have the chassis of your car lubricated every 500 miles. This has been made easy in the new Ford through the use of the high pressure grease gun system.

Proper oiling and greasing mean so much to the life of your car that they should not be neglected or carelessly done.

See your Ford dealer regularly. He is especially well-fitted to lubricate the new Ford and he will do a good, thorough job at a fair price.

Litter Weighs 3,630 Pounds at 170 Days

Shelby county farmers are reporting good profits from growing lespedeza seed. Caldwell Bird, W. A. Newton, Austin Taylor, Owen Booker and R. M. Gille are among the growers. Caldwell Bird has a lot of 316 bushels of Korean clover seed. A. B. Kent threshed 80 bushels and Geo. Yates 50 bushels. W. A. Newton obtained 80 bushels from three and a half acres, or seed worth more than $200 per acre. Owen Booker seeded eight acres with four bushels in oats, cut the oats for hay, and then threshed $760 worth of Korean seed. A. B. Veatch reports that a field that produced 80 bushels of corn to the acre yielded 60 bushels of the seed, after it had been in the field for two years. William Ross of Mt. Eden cut two tons of lespedeza hay to the acre.

REGISTERED JERSEYS TO REQUIRE TATTOO AFTER JANUARY 1ST

Information, Instruction on New Ruling Given: Wilson
Offers Assistance.

The attention of all owners of registered Jersey cattle in Calloway county is called this week to the recent ruling of the American Jersey Cattle Club after January 1st no animal will be registered unless plainly tattooed in the ear in indelible ink with such letters and numbers as the owner may select; no two animals (in the same herd) to have the same number. Both ears may be used, and the marks and numbers in the ears must be stated on application for registration. The ruling has been made on account of the solid color and lack of distinctive markings making identification difficult in many cases.

In order that tattoo outfits may be in reach of all the Jersey Cattle Club has purchased a quantity of them which will be sold at the cost price of $2.85 postpaid. The outfit includes a marker, one bottle of ink, one set of numbers, all packed in a wooden box. Letters are 10 cents each and additional sets of figures are 80 cents. Mr. Wilson announces that he will be glad to assist anyone who wishes a tattoo outfit.

The following information and instructions are given by the American Jersey Cattle Club:

It takes but a few moments to tattoo an animal and the identifying mark is permanently fixed in the ear. Needle points form the design of letters or numbers and these points are held in position in the head of the marker which is like a large pair of pliers. The needle points are covered with indelible ink or past. The instrument is then set in position and the needles penetrate the ear on the inside carrying the ink well under the surface of the skin. Ink is immediately rubbed into the slight wound made by the needle points and the job is done. There is practically no bleeding, and the operation is scarcely noticed by the animal. It is recommended that the ear be tattooed before it is cleaned with alcohol, before it is and other foreign matter and insure a clean surface on which to work.

"The new ruling on tattooing has been very favorably received by breeders and agricultural leaders. The subject of tattooing will be of interest for some time to come as there are eleven million Jerseys in the United States and of this number over three hundred thousand are registered purebreds."

Bath Farmers Will Raise More Poultry

Bath county farmers, largely as the result of encouragement by County Agent J. Ed Parker, are making plans to raise more and better poultry.

Clark Ramey, of Shrapshire community, has completed a Kentucky type shed-roof poultry house 24 by 20 feet. Plans were furnished by the Experiment Station, and Mr. Ramey's flock will be used to demonstrate the profitableness of poultry when methods are employed.

J. F. Dickens, also of the Shrapshire community, has built a poultry house 20 feet square.

William Otis, of Salt Lick community, has built a house 16 by 81 feet for his flock of 400 White Leghorns. After the pullets were placed in the new house their production jumped from 30 to 120 eggs daily.

W. E. Harris, of the Salt Lick community, has remade a barn into a poultry house.

Raymond Snedegar, of Wyoming community, has built a Kentucky type shed-roof house 20 feet square.

Charles Darnell, of the Owingsville community, has a new poultry house 10 feet square.

Fifteen Bath county poultry farmers accompanied Mr. Parker to Lexington to the annual poultry meeting in October.

How to Feed for Egg Production

No one ration will fit all conditions, notes Prof. J. Holmes Martin, head of the poultry section of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, in a revised edition on circular 1806, "Feeding for Egg Production."

"The cheapness and availability of the feeds should be considered. Ready-mixed poultry mixes are very satisfactory and, if readily available and not too high priced, are best."

"If corn and corn meal are the only available feeds, a dry mash of three parts corn meal and two parts meat scrap should be fed with the whole or cracked corn. In this case the birds should be made to consume twice as much grain as mash, by weight.

"Feeding should be done at regular hours, preferably twice a day, once in the morning and once in the evening.

"Keep the water pans clean and filled with pure, fresh water.

"While the appetite should always be kept keen, nevertheless the birds should be fed all they want to eat.

"Feeding is but one of the four essential means of securing high egg-production. The other three are: Purebred birds of high-laying strain; vigorous, healthy birds; and a comfortable house with plenty of room or exercise. From this it may be seen that correct feeding alone cannot give maximum egg-production."

Sigurd Hoeberth Von Shwarzthal of Vienna is president of the League of Men, an organization to "combat the growing domination by women." Among Americans giving him moral support is Charles Chaplin. Charlie always did seem to have a sense of humor.

LOST Time from Work

Mr. Albert Garland, of Somerset, Ky., recently said:
"I used to work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of sick spells I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache.

"My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken.

"I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suitcase. My health is better now than it has been in years."

Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality. Price 25c. Try it.

STATE DEMOCRATS' FUTURE

(From the Owensboro Messenger)

Senator A. W. Barkley is closing up the affairs of the Kentucky Democratic campaign committee in Louisville preparatory to returning to Washington. Senator Barkley was made chairman of that committee after others who saw the "handwriting on the wall" had declined. He was at sea at the time and did not know for ten days afterward that he had been selected for the position. It was by no means a desirable undertaking, but he did the best he could with the "burning elements" on his return to Kentucky. He never favored the nomination of Al Smith and was diametrically opposed to Smith's position on the prohibition, tariff and other questions, but when it became evident that the New Yorker's nomination was going to be made at Houston, Barkley, like a good soldier, put his shoulder to the wheel to help out the old Democratic chariot.

The Democrats of Kentucky must forget some of their past animosities and desires for vengeance upon one another if they ever hope to win another election in this state. The other was most hurtful in the campaign just closing.

It is very fortunate Kentucky had no senator in 1922. County officers must be chosen next year, but

When the fire alarm is given it is requested that all cars on the streets pull in to the curb and stay until the fire engine has passed.

It is strictly forbidden that any person get on the machine, unless he be one of the regular firemen employed by the chief of the fire department.

The city will not be responsible in case of accident and a fine of $5.00 will be imposed for each offense.

By order of the City Council of the City of Murray.—T. H. Stokes, Mayor.

The Democrats of Kentucky must forget some of their past animosities and desires for vengeance upon one another if they ever hope to win another election in this state. The

It is very fortunate Kentucky had no senator in 1922. County officers must be chosen next year, but

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History - a Six in the price range of the four!

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History... a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past... notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field an entirely new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor, with sensationally greater speed and faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding... even to those who have been driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Throughout the entire speed range, it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that have never before been approached in a low-priced automobile. At the slower speeds of city traffic it idles along with wonderful silence and ease. On boulevards and country roads it responds with an eagerness that is a constant delight. It takes the longest and steepest hills with an abundant reserve of power that is a source of pride to the driver. And its economy of operation averages better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

This revolutionary performance has been achieved as a result of the greatest array of engineering advancements that Chevrolet has ever announced. A high compression, non-detonating cylinder head... a new heavier crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced... automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism... semi-automatic spark control... hot-spot manifold... gasoline pump and filter... new and larger carburetor, with automatic acceleration pump and improved venturi choke... fabric camshaft gear... heavier driving gears... heavier differential gears... improved crankcase breathing system... improved lubrication... new 4-wheel brakes that are powerful, safe and quiet under all conditions—these indicate the importance of a group of engineering advancements that embrace every major unit of the entire chassis.

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is destined to become an automotive sensation—so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers.

With their modish new colors, their smart dual mouldings and their distinctive concave pillars, they achieve a degree of original beauty that has seldom been equalled in motor car design.

You are cordially invited to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

KIRKSEY STUDENTS HONOR YOUNG GUIER

of Kentucky. Only a few short years ago, Calloway county awoke to the possibility of the improved Jersey.

Up to this time we had been content with the cow of the past, thinking the cow only of minor importance on the farm and worthy of little attention. Through the sponsorship of some of our business men we imported a number of pure bred Jersey cattle and began a drive for the eradication of the scrub bull. In a short time we succeeded in stripping Todd county of her title, "Todd county, Jersey Island of Kentucky!" and took over that title ourselves.

Calloway now has the honor not only of having the state champion heifer owned by Miss Rogers of Browns Grove, not only the five champion heifers of the United States, but the cow has the champion butterfat producer of the world. Anyone would have been scoffed at five years ago if he had prophesied this.

Cow Will Pay College Expenses. Hilson, who is fifteen years old, is now in his first year of high school and he says that he intends that his cow shall pay his expenses through college. If he continues to display the same grit that he has displayed in the past he will go through college cow or no cow. He has been offered fabulous sums for Proud Princess May but he steadfastly refuses to part with her, and this we sincerely admire in him, that the love of the cow is greater than the love of money.

During the special program dedicated to Guier and his cow, Hilson, Prof. S. E. Wrather and Hilson's classmates were seated on the stage. Several numbers pertaining to rural life were given after which a detailed history of the cow and boy was given by Prof. Wrather, who for some time had been doing the official testing of the cow. He told very much the story I have related to you here.

Hilson Makes a Speech. At the end of the program Hilson was introduced amid a great burst of applause and said a few words. He said that he was very glad to be a student in Kirksey high school. He stated that he appreciated the program given in his honor, that he had already begun to feel that he was a part of Kirksey school despite the short time that he had been directly associated with us. It was then that he said he meant to have the cow pay his way through college. He further stated that he would like to have every student in Kirksey high school

Judge T. R. Jones remains ill at his home on West Main street.

Miss Thelma Holland, of Detroit, is in the county visiting relatives.

Judge Bunk Gardner and Attorney John McDonald of Mayfield attended court here Thursday.

Commonwealth Attorney H. H. Lovett of Benton attended court Thursday.

James Overby, an employee of the Jackson Purchase Oil company, who fell a few days ago and has been confined to his room, is improved. Mr. Overby is in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Muke Overby, Sr., on North Fifth street.

Miss Lurelle Bourland spent the week-end in Memphis with friends.

James Speed, editor of the Southern Agriculturist, Nashville, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Calloway county. While here Mr. Speed went to the farm of Hilson Guier and visited Proud Princess May, new holder of the world's butterfat production record and gathering a large amount of material for articles about her in the Southern Agriculturist.

W. P. Holland and family, who have been visiting in the county, have returned to Detroit.

to go out and see his cow, and this invitation he said he wished extended to every person in Western Kentucky. He said that he was not only glad to go out and see his cow, but he was also proud of the fact that the cow was a product of Calloway county and of the state at large.

that the cow was his but he was also proud of the fact that the cow was a product of Calloway county and of the state at large.

MOVIES

Buzz Barton, the little 13-year old delinquent of western roles, is booked to appear at the Capitol Theatre on Friday and Saturday in his latest, FBO starring vehicle, "Rough Ridin' Red."

If newspaper criticisms may be judged correctly, the picture is all right. "Rough Ridin' Red" is the tale of a freckled-faced kid and his much older pal, Hank, who happen upon a traveling medicine show very much in distress. It is up to them "put it over" against insuperable odds. And the manner in which they accomplish their job provides five solid reels of hair-raising entertainment.

Southern California hills and canyons, in the vicinity of Hollywood, were used to advantage in the filming of the new Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton team comedy, "The Big Killing," and became, temporarily, a backwoods section of mountain country, alive with "moonshine" distilling plants, warring mountaineers, semi-primitive log cabins and pretty romance.

In selecting the outdoor settings, care was taken to choose scenery similar to that of the mountains locale required but the natural beauty of the locality was a factor in selecting it and beautiful vistas of the California hill country are recorded in the picture.

"The Big Killing," which will be the attraction at the Capitol Theatre for the first two days of next week, is the second of the Beery-Hatton melodramatic comedies. The first of this distinctly new type picture undertaken by this team of comedies, "Partners in Crime," was exceptionally well received by audiences throughout the country and seemed to strike an advance note in moving picture comedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brown of Greenville, Ky., are visiting with relatives in the county.

Fred Burton, manager of the Peoples Barber shop, was stricken with paralysis Monday night at his home on North Fifth street and is in a critical condition.

TENTH INSTALLMENT

What Happened Before

Simon Judd, amateur detective, and William Dart, an undertaker, visit John Drane an eccentric man of wealth, at the Drane place. Suddenly John Drane is murdered, and Dr. Blessington, after examining the body, makes the astounding revelation to Amy Drane that her "uncle" is a woman and not a man.

All the servants in the household were called by the doctor had entered the house Brennan did not act as if he thought the suggestion unimportant.

Have you seen anything to make you think there has been murder of that sort done?" he asked Judd, but the woman was unable to say that he had.

"Now, don't you go to payin' too much attention to what I say from time to time, Dick," he said. "I'm galley, I am. Always was an old fool when it come to shootin' off my mouth, nation hits me in the head and I blab out like a kicked billy goat. Wouldn't surprise me a mite if I was all wrong about these sick and half-hired hands 'n' murdered, probably just one of my fool notions. Doc wouldn't go and bury nobody without findin' out what they died of."

"He certainly would not—if he suspected anything," Brennan said. "But if he had no reason to suspect?"

If he saw in a death only the operation of the disease he had been treating? There may be a lot in this idea of yours."

"Pshaw, No!" Simon Judd said with exaggerated carelessness. "Just the fool talk of a fat old fellow that don't know nothin' much. You better forget it, Brennan. Go on and ask some more of the help about things."

"I never forget anything, Judd," Brennan said, but he did continue, as his next step, the questioning of the servants. The local reporters had by this time had word of the murder and began to arrive, and Brennan referred the first to Dr. Blessington and the others upstairs and told Norbert to send any others to Dr. Blessington.

To have privacy for his further questioning he went into the library and had the servants sent to him there.

From the servants, however, he was able to draw nothing new. With Simon Judd's murder suggestion in mind he dug a little more into that phase of the life in the Drane home.

tion I wasn't what I let on to be. Seems reasonable to me, some ways. I ain't sayin' you had anything to do with it, doc. Don't think you had, myself. You ain't that sort."

"Why—why—" Dr. Blessington stammered, still too angry to have control of himself.

"Never mind, Blessington," Brennan said soothingly. "Our friend here is a new hand at this business. He only thought he had found some thing interesting. Don't let it worry you. Stop as you go out, if you want to talk it over; it's probably unimportant."

But the doctor had entered the house Brennan did not act as if he thought the suggestion unimportant.

From the servants, however, he was able to draw nothing new. With Simon Judd's murder suggestion in mind he dug a little more into that phase of the life in the Drane home.

Norbert said that he had succeeded a houseman who had died, and the cook Maggie Maney admitted that she had come while her predecessor still lay dead above stairs, but she insisted she had known the former cook and that she had always been sickly and weakly. The others had followed servants who had gone to other positions as their health improved, or had been sent to sanitariums by John Drane.

Dr. Blessington's eyes were intently watching her as she went on, drinking and as Brennan's questioning passed and she was alternately laughing and crying.

Top of her voice—and maddeningly fearful, her huge body shaken by rather ridiculous sobs. She became so hysterical finally that Brennan told her he would not bother her more then, for it was plain she was an apoplectic and he was afraid she might break a blood vessel if she carried on any worse. But she would not go.

All Brennan had managed to get from her were assertions that John Drane, "poor woman that she was" had been a "heavenly angel, God rest him," and that a poor woman had a right to a "swallow" of drink when her heart was broken, and that she could tear the hair from the heads of "them that came sneakin' an' snoopin' in, tryin' to blacken folk's car-carters."

All right, then, Maggie," Brennan told the excited cook, "we won't sneak and snoop any more. You go back to the kitchen and take it easy, and don't let it worry you. And just send the chauffeur in, will you?"

The cook flared up again.

"I'll not have him bulldozed by the likes of you," she shouted. "All shame to you, stirrin' up strife in the house. Go on about your business an' leave us be, why don't you?"

"Now be easy," Brennan urged good naturedly. "I'm Irish myself and you don't want to get me angry, you know. It'd be a terrible row. You just tell George I want to see him here, that's all."

The cook went out mumbling and growling, but George did not come and Brennan had to send Norbert for him.

"What got into that stout lady cook, do you think?" Simon Judd asked while they waited for the chauffeur.

"Some of the worst sort of whiskey now being bootlegged," Brennan said, smiling. "I imagine John Drane kept the lady pretty severely off the stuff and she's having her first real happy time for many a month."

"Black my cats!" Simon Judd exclaimed. "It feels my time how they get hold of the stuff, with prohibition and all."

"They get it," Brennan said drily, but Norbert's return cut short further explanation. He said George the chauffeur was sorry but he had gone to bed and didn't think he could bear to get up.

He says, Mist Brennan, how the growth in his stomach got mighty bad all of a sudden-like while back and he ain't able to stand it. Yes, sir. He says how the pain is mighty terrible. He ain't hardly able to stand it, he says. So he took—

What he's got and went to bed. Yes, sir."

"Well, what's the rest of it?" Brennan asked. "I can see that's not all; you've got something else on your mind."

"I was only thinkin', Mist Brennan," Norbert said, "that if he got a pain or ain't he got a pain if ain't goin' to be much trouble? George right now. No, sir. Seems like he been indulgin' in alcoholic liquor to a very considerable extent."

"Drunk, is he?"

"He certainly has been indulgin'," Norbert said seriously. "I ain't seen a man what has indulged more completely 'n' quite some time. No, sir!"

"We'll put George off for the present then," Brennan said. "Are there any more servants I have not seen?"

"No, sir," Norbert assured him. "We've seen 'em all."

"This George," Brennan asked. "What do you know about him, Norbert?"
