THE LISTENING POST

● The bond election held Tuesday brought out some amusing things and I am still chuckling over one of them, for it concerned me to a slight extent—at least, it was said to concern me, although it did not. A friend of mine overheard a conversation between some folks downtown just after the election and one man inquired, "If the Leader had been opposed, to the bond issue, 'Oh, yes,' the other man answered readily, although this newspaper did not take any stand on the question at all, and never intended to. 'But that is easy to understand. The editor is a large stockholder in the Kentucky Utilities Company.'"

● I talked to Mr. Hite and Mr. Wester after hearing this yarn, and told them if I was a large stockholder I certainly wanted my dividends—past, present and future. It is quite evident that the K. U. has been holding out on me, for I have never received as much as a thin dime as dividends from the utility company. Mr. Wester had promised to investigate the matter when he gets back to Lexington, and if any dividends are due me he will send them on right away.

● The only way that I can imagine such a yarn started is that I do happen to own a very small dab of stock in another utility company, which is not related to the Kentucky Utilities in the least. And the block of stock is so terribly small that the last dividend I received amounted, I think, to three dollars and thirteen cents. So you can see that I am not a stockholder in the Kentucky Utilities and not a "large" stockholder in any utility firm. But I am flattered to be described as a large stockholder in anything. I wonder how it would feel to be such, but fear that I will never have the experience.

● Another funny thing occurred the day before the election. Thomas Exum was cruising the city with his loud talking outfit and headed down Main Street while Vernon Owen was engaged in an argument with Ernest Fall in front of the latter's office. Thomas went into his spiel just as he passed the two men. He was presumed, I understand, to be merely working to get the vote out, although I do not know what his instructions were. But he must have seen Vernon and decided to give him a scare, or perhaps it was merely a slip of the tongue—I don't know. At any rate, just as he passed along his huge voice began to speak, and could be heard all over town.

● "Come out and vote tomorrow," the great voice boomed. "Vote for the best interests of the City of Fulton. Vote No on the bond issue. Vote No."

● Vernon was engaged in a warm argument with Ernest, and when he heard that giant voice he jumped as if shot, and left Ernest with a sentence hanging in midair. By this time the sound car was passing the City Hall and proceeding at a rapid pace. But Vernon, thanks to his tennis training was able to meet the situation. He ran at full speed after the moving car and overhauled it about even with the postoffice. The giant voice was just starting again, but Vernon evidently choked Thomas, for he never got around to that fatal word "No" again.

● Well, well, we have voted and have carried the bond issue. Some worked for it, some worked against it, some were disappointed, some were elated. I really thought the issue would carry two to one, and the relative close race of the vote surprised me. I never had any doubt that it would carry, and the vote was the only thing that surprised me.

Party Shows New Strength In Vote Gains

Democrats, However, Still Have Control Of Senate And House

Republican gains in every broad section of the land—except the south—fired the expectations of party leaders for a successful 1940 Presidential campaign today and brought predictions of a substantial opposition to New Deal measures in Congress.

For Tuesday's balloting added eleven Republicans to the roster of the nation's Governors, increased the party's membership in the House by more than 70 and gave it at least eight additional votes in the Senate.

But even these victories did not measure completely the extent of the Republican advance. In several major contests which the Republicans lost, their party displayed much more strength than in recent years.

Against the Republican triumphs, there were offsets. One of these was a narrow Democratic victory in New York, which retained Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, in the Governor's chair.

In addition the Democrats took California, which has had a Republican Governor for many years, and replaced the Republican Governor of North Dakota with one of their own party. They also placed a Democrat in the Governor's chair in Maryland, previously held by a Republican.

But while the Democrats and the New Deal lost much, they had much to lose. The results left the party securely in control of both House and Senate, although the Republican gains vastly increased the potential effectiveness of a coalition of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats.

Frankfort, Ky. — State finances were discussed at an hour's session of Gov. A. B. Chandler's cabinet today, with Frank D. Peterson, Director of Accounts and Control, estimating expenditures for the remainder of the fiscal year, and Dr. J. W. Martin, Commissioner of Finance, estimating income.

The picture presented to the Governor indicated that the entire year's revenue would take care of the estimated expenditures, though the period of financial strain will not be over until the school year is completed in March.

The State closed business today with $117,575 in the General Fund. But the old age pensioners have not been paid. The payment was due the first of the month. The teachers have not been paid. Their payment, too, was due the first of the month. Approximately $1,000,000 will be needed for the two payments.

A plan for issuing interest-bearing warrants was discussed, but no decision reached. The plan would be to issue 2 per cent warrants to pay the teachers, using the money that comes into the general fund from usual tax sources to retire the $3,750,000 of outstanding 3 per cent warrants.

This plan, if outstanding 3 per cent warrants are called promptly, would effect a net interest saving to the State. Governor Chandler always has been opposed to the issuing of any new warrants. Recently he expressed the view that payments should be allowed to drag a little in preference to issuing new warrants.

LaGuardia Plans Parley In Behalf Of Progressivism

NEW YORK — Mayor F. H. LaGuardia said tonight he will confer next week in Washington with other Progressives on a program designed to offset what he described as a "decided setback" for Progressivism in yesterday's elections over the Nation.

In one of his race press conferences in City Hall, the Mayor, a former Liberal Republican now enrolled in the American Labor Party, said that the conferees will include Senators La Follette, Wisconsin Progressive, and Norris, Nebraska Republican, and that he will invite Gov. Frank Murphy, Michigan Democrat, defeated for re-election, and others.

He said they would discuss "a well-defined, clear, concise progressive program."

Large Audience Hears Sermon

A large audience was present last night at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to hear Evangelist Vaughn Fults speak on "A Living Sacrifice." The prayer meeting group of the First Baptist Church and the First Christian Church came in a body.

The evangelist, speaking from Romans 12-1, said: "A great need of the modern church is bodily consecration. We were saved to serve. No one can hurt the cause of Christ like those who profess to know him, yet live as those who do not. Folks sometimes say to me, Brother Fults, isn't it awful how sinners are living, but I tell them it is more awful how church members are living. A man sailing a ship across the sea need not concern himself about the waters on the other side of the ship. It is the water on the inside that will sink the ship. So it is with the church."

Services are held daily at 9:30 and 7:30 p. m. The pastor Rev. E. R. Ladd, leads the large junior choir which is a great asset to the revival and he invites all children, regardless of faith, and come and join the choir.

Tonight Evangelist Fults will speak on "The Abundant Life," and give the story of his life in the message.

JAPAN MARKING OUT NEW ZONE OF HOSTILITIES

Tokyo, Japan today marked out a new "zone of hostilities" extending 700 miles into the interior of China beyond present war areas and warned foreign powers to keep their airplanes and citizens out of the zone lest "unfortunate incidents" occur.

Notes sent to all foreign embassies, and legations described the new zone and indicated that interior points would be subjected to least to air bombardment in a campaign to close the Chinese munition transportation channels from British Burma and possibly French Indo-China.

Gene Austin Arrives Here Tomorrow A. M.

For the first time in the history of Fulton, a movie star is being brought here for personal appearance on the local stage tomorrow and Saturday. He is Gene Austin, world famous singing star, who comes here to participate in the activities connected with the "world premiere" of his latest motion picture, "Songs and Sadness," which starts him on the road to being the top western star. With him will be his accompanying artists, Candy and Coco, and the lovely Miss Joan Brooks, who is also starred in this feature western.

In other words, the actual leading cast of the picture "Songs and Sadness" will be presented in person along with the showing of the show.

Fulton is fortunate indeed in having this famous singer and actor appear here, as this is the only Kentucky town in which he will appear this year. He comes here tomorrow morning, arriving at the Fulton Theatre about 11 o'clock.

Cayce Woman Burned To Death — Sister Is Seriously Burned

Clothing Ignited From Fire In Back Yard Of Cayce Home

Miss Annie Thomas was fatally burned this morning at her home in Cayce, and her sister, Miss Allie Thomas, is in a critical condition at the Fulton Hospital, the tragedy having occurred about eleven o'clock this morning.

The two sisters had a fire in their back yard and Cayce citizens say that they were evidently washing. Miss Allie was in the yard and when her clothing caught on fire she rushed into the house where her sister was. Her sister, Miss Annie, tried desperately to extinguish the blaze in the clothing of Miss Allie, and in the attempt caught her own clothing on fire and burned to death immediately. Cayce citizens rushed Miss Allie to the Fulton Hospital.

These two Thomas sisters have lived in Cayce for over thirty years and have always been considered very outstanding citizens of that community. Both were past seventy years of age.

A brother, Jim Thomas, is a prominent citizen of Hickman, Kentucky and another brother, who lives a long distance from this section, also survives.

GOP Election Gains Send Stocks Flying For Best Day Of Year

NEW YORK — The stock market had its biggest day in a year and more today.

Combined with the industrial and business gains of recent weeks, the New Deal reversals in Tuesday's elections were followed by the heaviest buying of stocks Wall Street has known in many months and leading issues advanced $1 to around $4 a share, many of them to new high levels for the 1938 recovery movement.

The rally began immediately upon the opening of trading. Blocks of 5,000 to 8,000 shares changed hands in a few minutes. Demand for stocks was so heavy that the ticker tape, for around the first hour of trading, was five minutes or so behind the actual transactions on the floor of the exchange. The rally was extended in later trading as the returns from the nation's polls told of the increased strength of the Republicans in the new Congress. Prices closed at their high for the day.

Olson Indicates Still Plans To Pardon Mooney

Reaffirms Belief In Innocence Of Man Imprisoned Twenty Years

Los Angeles — California's new Democratic Governor-elect, State Senator Culbert L. Olson, strongly indicated today he would pardon Tom Mooney, who has served two decades in prison on conviction of bombing a San Francisco parade in 1916 in which 10 persons were killed.

Olson re-affirmed his belief in Mooney's innocence. He said his views had not changed since he supported a state legislative attempt to pardon Mooney by resolution in March, 1937.

Labor and liberal groups, including many prominent writers, have championed Mooney's cause for years, contending he was merely a martyr of prejudice against organized labor. The case has been fought through the State and U. S. Supreme Courts several times in various proceedings and has been before various California Republican Governors.

Former Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York an eloquent appeal on Mooney's behalf to the late Gov. James Ralph.

Pennsylvania G. O. P. Victory Starts Speculation For 1940

Philadelphia, — Triumphant Republicans saw their Pennsylvania election conquest expand into a landslide and began looking ahead tonight to the Presidential election year of 1940.

Red-haired Arthur H. James, Governor-elect and subject of much of their speculation, planned a vacation in the mountains to think over cabinet appointments and work out details of his Administration.

He said he wanted to rest for several weeks after the vigorous campaigning that routed Pennsylvania's "Little New Deal"—the first Democratic State Administration since 1895.

250,000-Vote Majority

By almost 250,000 votes, the one-time breaker boy and mine mule driver from the anthracite fields overwhelmed the Democratic candidate, Charles Alvin Jones, who was pledged to carry on the program of Gov. George H. Earle, Jr. who was defeated for U. S. Senator by the veteran Republican, James I. Davis, who was re-elected with a lead of more than 400,000.

The vote from 2,675 of 3,070 election districts gave:

James, 2,041,087; Jones, 1,761,137; Davis, 2,000,505; Earle, 1,801,827.

Republicans recaptured a lead in the State Legislature and took a 19-to-15 advantage in Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation. The Republicans had only seven members before.

As the Keystone State swung back to the Republican column, by margins greater than even the most optimistic party leaders predicted, talk hinged upon National significance of the election. Pennsylvania has thirty-six electoral college votes.

James gave to the State a total pledged to honor the memory of taxation which he had driven industry from the State.

Speech Not Completely Free Isn't Free At All

It is only to be expected that the silliest of all definitions of free speech should come out of the back of the head of New Jersey.

This definition was voiced by Col. Hugh Kelly, secretary to Governor Moore of New Jersey. Addressing a pro-Hague rally, the other afternoon, Colonel Kelly declared: "There is only one problem to free speech, and it won't take me 15,000 words to explain it. By free speech, the Founding Fathers meant a man should say what he wanted to in his own home, as long as he didn't propose overthrow of the government."

And somehow this reminds us of an anecdote handed down from the strait-laced 1880s, when a very prim and puritanical fresh-water college in the middle west had an iron-clad rule against dancing.

According to this story, the dean of women in this college was having a meeting with the matrons of the women's boarding houses; and one matron said that a number of the girls liked dancing because of its gay, pleasant rhythm; would be permitted, after all male callers had left the building, for such girls to dance a bit with each other.

The dean pondered, then replied solemnly: "If any girl, she said to me, that she simply must dance—if the urge to express herself rhythmically was just overpowering—let her retire to her own room alone, lock the door and pull down the shades. There, in private and solitary splendor, she might legally dance to her heart's content, but not otherwise."

Between these two positions, there is an amusing parallel.

The parallel lies not in the fact that each person contrived to take a ridiculous attitude, but in the fact that each one obviously had no use whatever for the activity under discussion. The 1880s dean clearly disbelieved in dancing, flatly, finally and completely; the New Jersey politician quite as clearly has an equally broad and uncompromising disbelief in free speech.

And while we have got past the time when all good people felt that a young person whose soul was in danger, we still seem to have a number of citizens who entertain similar views about freedom of speech.

Not many people would go as far as Colonel Kelly, of course; yet his stand is simply the "I believe in free speech, but—" theory carried to its logical conclusion.

For the point is that if speech is not completely free it isn't free at all. Once you go beyond the ordinary restrictions which the libel laws and similar time-tested, fundamental statutes impose, you are heading straight for Colonel Kelly's goal. There is no valid halfway point.—Jackson-Sun.

No Danger Involved In Removing Moles

By LOGAN CLEMMENING, M. D.

A LETTER from a reader asks:

"Will you kindly inform me as to whether it is dangerous to have a mole removed from the cheek? I have had one for many years, but a new one has just made its appearance alongside of the old one. It is in a very conspicuous place, just under my right eye."

It is distinctly not dangerous to have moles removed and, as a matter of fact, it will possibly prevent more serious trouble, so it is in the nature of a piece of hygiene rather than a danger.

There are several different kinds of moles. The usual kind on the face is what is known as a strawberry mark, which is due to a collection of small dilated blood vessels. Another type that is common on the face and around the eye is the pigment wart.

Moles about the eyelids, the nose, the face and neck are invariably unsightly. They may become irritated and have a tendency to grow larger. Eye glasses and spectacles sometimes irritate them. Many doctors advise that they should be left alone, but those who have seen the result of modern treatment are enthusiastically willing to recommend that they be removed. While the best results are obtained in childhood, it is possible to treat them at any age.

Treatment Selected

Of course, treatment must be selected for the type of mole and place where it is growing. In general, air-cured ultra-violet lamps as used by the best type of dermatologist give the best results. Radiation is used in some cases with good results.

Some dermatologists have had excellent results with the use of trichloroacetic acid, especially for the removal of moles on the eyelids or face. Trichloroacetic acid is a mild caustic, and when applied to the skin appears to have the property of attacking only the small capillary blood vessels of which moles are made up.

After the application of trichloroacetic acid, small soft moles drop off in six or seven days. Large ones take a longer time, even to three weeks.

It can be said with safety that the cosmetic results of the treatment by modern dermatologic methods, of moles, is extremely satisfactory.

How to Keep Weight Down After One Has Reduced

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
 It is more important than the rapid reduction in weight by the diet we have been prescribing during the last two and a half weeks, is for the overweight to keep that reduction.

There is no more painful sight than the overweight who accomplishes a loss of 15 to 20 pounds by a strenuous diet; only to have all the weight bounce right back on when the diet is discarded and former eating habits are resumed. All too often we see these people go to a sanitarium or health clinic at considerable expense; by a judiciously planned diet they lose as much as 25 or 30 pounds without any impairment of health or good feeling. Then they leave the sanitarium and any virtuously, "There, that's done," and start in again on the gravies and the salad dressings and the desserts and the butter muffs as if that weight loss had been removed like a tumor or an attack of typhoid fever, never to return.

We, that is not the way. The most important thing for the overweight to learn is that reduction is a way of life, to be kept up indefinitely. Other metabolic victims must learn the same thing—the diabetic is not cured when his sugar disappears, the gouty is not cured when the attack is over. For all of them, the diet must be adjusted to the life.

In many medical treatments there is what is known as the initial dose and the maintenance dose. The maintenance dose is smaller than the initial dose, but of the same kind. So in reducing, the initial diet is a rather strenuous restriction ration. When the object of that initial diet is accomplished, a low maintenance diet is instituted.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

tuted to keep the weight at the new level.

Supplies Body's Needs

The maintenance diet should be calculated to have just enough calories to supply the body's needs at the lowest possible level, at very moderate activity. It is far easier to KEEP thin than to GET thin again.

At the age of 30 to 50 from 12 to 15 calories per pound of body weight are needed per day at moderate activity. On the average, 2,000 calories a day can be calculated. I believe that every obese person I know eats at least a third more than this. That means they are ingesting the accumulation of three ounces of fat a day. (Fat yields 225 calories an ounce.)

You can almost eliminate that extra thousand calories by eating a fruit and black coffee breakfast. If your ordinary breakfast adds an egg (75 calories), toast (100 calories), with butter (100 calories), bacon (200 calories), cream for coffee (100 calories) and sugar for coffee (100 calories)—1 1/4 pounds, you can see the elimination of that extra will give you a good start.

Low Maintenance Diet Suggestions

BREAKFAST—Fruit in season, black coffee (possibly one egg and one slice of toast with Golden Spread butter or a small helping of cereal with skimmed milk).

LUNCH AND DINNER—Soups or appetizers: Any clear soup (need not be counted for calories), tomato juice or asparagus juice. Meat and fish: One helping of any kind—the one helping is the important part.

Vegetables: One helping of any kind. See "meat and fish".
Bread: Made of soy bean, glutens or Lister's flour.
Butter: Golden spread.

Salad: Any kind, with mineral dressing.
Desserts: Fruits or gelatin.
Coffee: Black.

Barkley Post Held Secure

Washington.—Senator Alben W. Barkley, winning handsomely over his Republican opponent in Kentucky, appeared almost certain today to retain his post as the Senate Democratic leader.

Despite the change made in the complexion of the Senate by the election of Republicans to seats formerly held by Democrats, there was little indication of an upheaval within the majority party ranks which would affect Barkley. Several Democratic Senators, who have been opposed to some of President Roosevelt's policies, interpreted in the Senate by Barkley, said they had no intention of initiating or joining any move to replace the Kentucky Senator.

Barkley told newspaper men recently he planned to submit his leadership to a test vote at a party caucus to be held immediately after Congress convenes.

Four Democratic Senators who might have been counted on to support Barkley if any party fight were made upon him, were defeated by their Republican opponents. They were Senator McGill of Kansas; Brown of New Hampshire; Bulkeley of Ohio and Duffy of Wisconsin.

Chemist Kills Wife, Three Tots And Himself

Fort Worth, Texas.—Oliver W. Harper, a chemist, "executed" himself, his wife and their three children by turning their home into a counterpart of the lethal gas chambers used in several prisons, authorities disclosed tonight.

Indications were, investigators said, that Harper's wife and probably the children had no foreknowledge of his intention.

Scattered through various rooms of the house were five large crocks containing an acid into which a chemical had been dropped. The resulting gas—and even the method of its manufacture—was the same as used in some lethal gas chambers, chemical experts declared.

Pinned to the door of the house was a note stating:

"Poison gas. Do not enter."

Gene Austin

and will go from here to North Carolina. The first booking for this big event scheduled the artists on the Fulton stage for only one day, Friday. Malco officials have visited Fulton frequently, however, in the past few weeks and find that Manager Gilbert has staged a wide advertising campaign here and in surrounding towns and due to the great possibilities of a very successful stage show here, these four artists have been held over here for another, Friday and Saturday.

In the afternoon, the matinee will be shown at 3:30 o'clock and Gene and his companions will make one appearance, that being at the conclusion of the feature. In the evenings, two features will be shown and the cast will make an appearance after each showing.

The charming Miss Brooks plays an outstanding comedy role in "Songs and Saddles." Strangely enough, it was Gene Austin who discovered Joan's talent and started her up the ladder of radio, stage, and screen fame. It was Gene Austin who gave her the first opportunity on the stage and again it was Gene Austin who gave the clever little singer and actress her first featured role on the screen. It is no wonder, then, that the very personable Miss Brooks thinks a lot of her "Columbus"—Gene Austin.

Mr. Austin and his two musical accompanists are America's most famous musical cut-ups. You have heard them on records and many network radio commercials in addition to Paramount, Universal, G. M. and R. K. O. pictures. They are Hollywood's most popular comedians.

Fulton citizens are very fortunate in having this opportunity to see and hear them on our own local stage.

JULIET SHELBY TALKS ON BEAUTY

HERE AT last is an innovation that will be welcomed by all of you that long for strong, well-groomed nails. It is no long drawn out series of treatments that you will as likely as not give up or forget before you have ever gotten the nails of your desire. Quite the reverse. It can be done with only a few minutes tacked on to the time you are accustomed to take when you give yourself a manicure or have one at a beauty shop. And you can get the same treatment either at your own hands or those of your favorite manicurist.

It is a new waxy base that is applied before the nail polish. This preparation has been known in Hollywood for some time, but only in the last month has the rest of the world known about the wonderful results that it has had. The protective wax in the base helps to prevent splitting and cracking of the nail. It forms a hard, even coating, encouraging the nail to grow out without breaking. So it is a real joy if you are one of the ones who have to bang a typewriter for a living or do lots of work around the house.

If you are giving yourself a home manicure you proceed in the usual way. After you have removed your old polish, cleaned your nails with warm water, a nail brush and soap, shaped your nails with your emery board, pushed back your cuticle and removed the dry dead skin, you are ready to put on the wax. The only thing to think of when you apply the base, is to cover the nail tips and leave a narrow line bare all around the base and sides of the nail. That's so you will be sure to cover the edges of the undercoat when you come to put on polish.

Easy to Apply

This preparation whips over the nail as easily as polish does. Let it dry and then put on your polish. It doesn't take long to dry, and there is no feeling of sitting around all day impatiently waiting for your nails to dry.

Because of the hard surface the undercoat provides, polish wear is improved. It acts as a polish foundation, filling up any ridges or unevenness in the nail so that polish will flow on smoothly and adhere evenly. And it doesn't streak.

You can wear as many coats of polish over the base as you wish, but it is a very good idea to put on at least two. If your nails are long enough, put a little of the base under the nail as well.

When polish requires repairing, simply apply another coat over the first, and your base can be left on indefinitely. Regular lubricant polish remover takes it off. This little aid will make your manicure stay with you day in and day out. It will be a life-saver to those of you who have thin, brittle nails.

EAST FULTON P. T. A.

IN CALLED MEETING

The East Fulton Parent-Teachers Association met yesterday afternoon in a special called meeting at the school building, for the purpose of making plans for the next meeting and making a review of the Hallowe'en carnival results.

The president, Mrs. Lynn Askew, presided and it was decided that Dad's night, which will be given on the night of November 29, in connection with the regular meeting, will be held at the Science Hall and will be in the form of a pot-luck supper. Mrs. C. C. McCollum, Mrs. L. P. Carney and the teachers of Terry-Norman were named on a committee which will engage a speaker for this event.

The treasurer, Mrs. Doran Colley, gave a very good financial report on the Hallowe'en party given by this group at the school building and reported that $77.50 was collected on the party, $65.42 of which was a clear profit. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that a part of this money will be used to buy new books for the Terry-Norman library. They will also make very needed repairs in the class rooms.

After all business was transacted the meeting was adjourned, to meet again on their next regular meeting day, in December.

THE LISTENING POST

While the ax man in Washington has not officially acted in killing the prospects for a new school building in Fulton under the present program, the board of education has received enough information to cause the belief that the project will be killed when it comes up officially. While this writer is not aware of any one certain cause for this, it is a known fact that the project was started a little too late, and too many changes had to be made before the plans were finally worked out, and this caused Washington officials to frown on making the grant. Without the grant it was not possible to finance the building program, and the chances are that nothing can be hoped for at this time.

The present board did all that it could do, and the failure of the project is disappointing to members of the board and the town at large. A new building is urgently needed, and now that the new building will not be available some costly repairs to the old building may be necessary in the near future. This has been held in abeyance while plans were thought to be favorable for a new building.

I do not believe, however, that the entire building program will be lost. I am convinced that there will be another federal program next year, and if so, the local project should be in on the ground floor for any new program that may be started. The preliminary plans have been worked out, and the board which takes over the job in January will not have to go through with all this preliminary work again. Likewise the board will have the assurance that the new building is really wanted by a majority of the citizens of the city. There is no question as to it being needed, and I am quite sure that the new board confronted with another federal spending program, will be able to secure a grant for the local school.

Failure this year, was disappointing to me, as a citizen and as a member of the board. I can say in all fairness that the board did all that it could do, and failure came as a result of certain unexpected circumstances that arose towards the last. Several times the board felt that success was almost at hand, but each time something came up to again prevent getting the federal grant. I am hoping that the same opportunity comes again next year, for I know that with the work that has already been done the new board can proceed without so much delay as making this last effort.

In this connection I feel that the voters elected a good board for the next year. In fact, no mistake could have been made, for any of the five who were on the ballot would have made good board members. In the three who were selected I feel that the schools will make steady and far-reaching progress. In my four years on the board I have come to some pretty definite conclusions about various things, and one is that new men should be placed on the board every election period. I do not believe, as a general rule, that one man should continue on the board for more than one term of four years. In exceptional cases, where important building or expansion programs were under way, two terms might not be out of place. But I believe that if more men could serve on this board, and understand its problems we would have more wholehearted support of the school system. There is no more important body in the city than the board of education, and the men who serve one term as a member will understand this clearly.

State Requires Export Licenses On Liquor, Wine

Moves To Stop Liquor Tax Evasions Through Re-Shipping To State

Frankfort, Ky. — Moving to stop liquor tax evasions, the state revenue department late today adopted a regulation requiring licenses of persons exporting whisky and wine from Kentucky, and setting the cost of the licenses at $5,000 a year.

The regulation said the premises of all exporters shall be situated within ten miles of the Kentucky border, and at or near Middlesboro, Pine Knot, Franklin, Guthrie or Fulton, and must not be used for other commercial purposes.

"Careful inspection" of exporters' books, records, shipments and sale sales will be made, and persons and companies conveying their purchases "carefully supervised," the regulation said. Certified public accountants must direct the exporters' bookkeeping.

This inspection and supervision the regulation added, will necessitate the hiring of additional field representatives by the revenue department and ten cents per case supervision and inspection fees will be charged the companies to cover this added departmental expense.

2 Utilities Map Intergration Plan

New York. — Two of the Nation's largest utility holding company systems have filed tentative plans for integration with the Securities and Exchange Commission, it revealed today.

Neither of the companies, the $925,000,000 North American System and the $600,000,000 United Light and Power Company, disclosed details of their plans. They asked that William O. Douglas, S. E. C. chairman, hold such information as "confidential" matter.

James J. Fogarty, president of the North American Company, said that tentative plans confirmed to the spirit of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

"If carried out over a period of time, this plan may fairly be calculated to protect the interests of the investors in our companies," he declared.

Germany Is World Power Again As 20th Anniversary Of Armistice

London. — The world enters a new cycle with the 20th anniversary of the armistice today.

This anniversary ends the post-war era. The League of Nations has lost its force as a peacemaker, for the time being at least. Post-war treaties have been put aside by direct action. France has fallen from her position of dominance on the European continent.

Twenty years ago today the war which cost 33 nations $186,000,000,000 and the lives of 10,000,000 men ended with Germany the loser.

Today Germany, risen from defeat, appears on the way toward mastery of Central and South-

Fulton Woman Posts Bond For Hearing On Manslaughter Charge

MAYFIELD, K. — Miss Bessie Morris, Fulton made $1,000 bond here tonight for appearance before County Judge W. H. Crowder, Jr., for examining trial to answer charges of involuntary manslaughter in the auto crash death of Walter J. Collier, Savannah, Tenn., near Water Valley late Monday afternoon. The trial probably will be held Wednesday.

Miss Morris' bond was signed by Smith Atkins, Fulton insurance man, and her mother, Mrs. Susie Morris.

Collier, a carpenter on the Gilbertsville dam, died Monday night in a Fulton hospital from injuries received when his car collided with one driven by Miss Morris.

Large Crowd Hears Sermon

Another attentive audience heard Evangelist Vaughn Fuitts speak last night in the revival at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The Evangelist brought a soul stirring, heart searching message on "Going deeper with God." He said, we get out of our religion what we put in to it. The abundant life is in reason of all, who are willing to pay the price. A woman said to a dear old saint, "I would give the world for a life like yours" and the dear old saint said, "that is the price I paid for it." The world has been crying for a cheap religion but the price will not come down.

The Rev. Fuitts drew from his own life illustrations of God's power and grace which often moved the audience to tears.

The pastor, Rev. E. R. Ladd has charge of the singing and appreciated the great response that both the senior and junior choirs are giving him.

There will be no service Saturday morning but will be Saturday evening at 7:30.

A. F. L. Says C. I. O. Routed

Washington. — The American Federation of Labor counted today on the sharp rise in Republican Congressional strength to help bring about major amendments in the Wagner Labor Act.

Federation officials interpreted many of the Democratic casualties in the Senate and House as weakening the position of the C. I. O., which has insisted that no amendment to labor's "magna charta" are necessary. The A. F. L. has contended that the National Labor Relations Board, which administers the law, is biased in favor of the C. I. O.

William Green, A. F. L. president, said the election proved the Nation was "sick and tired of the C. I. O.'s philosophy and tactics."

Mrs. Vester Freeman is confined to her bed on Second Street, suffering from injuries received in a fall at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Bulldogs Throw Scare Into Cards Before Losing Tight Game 12-6

MAYFIELD, KY. — Mayfield matched its sharp cutbacks with Fulton's ancient sleepers here this afternoon and barely came out on top in a Western Kentucky Conference game, 12 to 6.

Coach Jack Carter sent a team on the field which showed amazing improvement since early season, and Coach Ray Ross's Cardinals had an afternoon of toll before they managed to dispose of the pesky Bulldogs.

Right off the reel Fulton pushed Mayfield backward for two first downs and then after Teddy Sasseen had dashed 59 yards to the Fulton 6 with an intercepted pass, the Bulldogs line held fast and took the ball on downs.

That gave Mayfield the first indication of a new band of Bulldogs it was facing and from then on the two clubs staged quite a battle.

Sasseen went wide around his right end in the second period for 34 yards before being hauled down on the Fulton 31. Jones made 10 yards through guard and then Stroup cut through guard and reversed his field for a 16 yard gain. Thompson scored standing up on the next play. Cunningham's placekick was wide.

Early in the third period Thomas lay out on the side of the field unnoticed and caught Williams' forward flip for 28 yards. On the next play White slept on the sidelines and before the Cardinals knew what happened he had slipped behind the secondary into the end zone where he caught Williams' accurate pass for 12 yards and a touchdown. An effort to add the extra point on an end run failed and the score was tied 6-6.

Later in the third quarter Sasseen's passes to Griffin, however, Fulton but the real threat came when Sullivan squirmed through guard for 27 yards.

On fourth down Clappett caught Sasseen's diagonal pass for 18 yards just as the quarter ended. With a first down on the Fulton 14, Sasseen slid off right tackle, reversed his field and scored. Williams tore through to block the placekick.

Later in the period Fulton took the ball on downs on its own 10 and right before the game ended recovered a fumble on the Mayfield 46. A sleeper pass from Williams to Fulton player was offside and the game ended a play later.

Mayfield led in first downs, 12 to 8. McCrite, Brady, Buckingham, Thomas and Williams performed valiantly for Fulton with Sasseen, Spillman and Griffin outstanding for the Cardinals.

Editor Campaigns So Foes Can Get Vote Against Him

Doerun, Ga. — Editor H. W. Garrett of the Doerun Courier says in a front page editorial he's going to run for something in the December city election "just for the opportunity it affords me to be sociable and tell lies."

A mayor and two councilmen are to be elected. He'll seek any one of the three offices.

Explaining he was "not hot for the jobs," Editor Garrett added "in getting in the race I am not giving my friends a chance to vote for me, but all my enemies a chance to vote against me. If you have a grudge against me I want to give you a chance to get it out of your system and forget all about it as quickly as possible."

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

Next week has been set aside by Gov. A. B. Chandler as Children's Book Week, and the Governor has issued the following statement concerning this period:

The people of this Commonwealth will want to cooperate in properly celebrating Children's Book Week, November 13 to 19, 1938. This year marks the twentieth anniversary of a movement started by Franklin K. Mathies, Chief Boy Scout Librarian, and is now participated in by editors, Scout leaders, civic organizations, book sellers and publishers. I feel that the theme for this year: "New Books—New Worlds" will intrigue the interest of all youngsters. A. B. CHANDLER.

Miss Allie Thomas Follows Sister In Death From Burns

Miss Allie Thomas, 72, died at 7:25 o'clock last night in the Fulton Hospital from burns suffered in a fire yesterday morning at her home in Cayce, Kentucky, which also fatally burned her sister, Annie, 75.

The aged sisters, who have been residents of Cayce for about 30 years, were burned while preparing to do their weekly washing. Miss Allie was building a fire under a wash kettle in the back yard when her apron caught afire. She ran into the house where Miss Annie Thomas attempted to extinguish the fire. The latter's clothes were ignited and she burned to death.

Miss Eva Johnson, a neighbor, reported that she heard screams from the Thomas sisters' home and that she hurried to investigate. Upon entering she found the older sister, with her clothing in ashes, burned to a crisp on the floor. The younger sister was badly burned, but still alive, and was rushed to the Fulton Hospital.

Miss Johnson said that the fire spread to furnishings inside the house, but was extinguished before it caused heavy damage. The fire started about ten o'clock.

Surviving the sisters are two brothers, Dr. David Thomas, head of the history department at the University of Arkansas, and James Thomas, of Hickman.

Funeral arrangements were not completed this morning.

Pershing Says U. S. Must Take Action To Reinforce Defenses

WASHINGTON — Gen. John J. Pershing counselled the nation today, 20 years after he led the American Armies to victory in the World War, to take "prompt and vigorous action" to reinforce its defenses.

"The situation in the world today is as menacing as at any critical time in history," the gray, but erect, Commander of the A. E. F. said in an Armistice Day statement.

"Lest there be visited upon us the recent experience of England and France," he urged an "adequate," thoroughly trained and equipped Army, supported by a mobilized industry.

"We are the natural protectors of the freedom of this hemisphere, and we can not escape our obligations," he declared.

Fulton-Paducah Basketball Game At Skating Rink

Something new in the way of sports was enjoyed in Fulton last night when a real basketball game was played at the Fulton skating rink. The two teams, Paducah and Fulton, were on roller skates and played with an ordinary basketball and the excellent brand of basketball displayed was quite surprising. Parts of the game were very comical, especially on the balls and the ball tossed which usually resulted in, not a tip-off but a kick-off.

The usual four quarters were played and the length of the quarters was the same as any other basketball game. Probably one goal was made in the first quarter and another in the second quarter but in the last half, the boys had become very familiar with their rollers and the rules of skating ball games and piled up the points until the score read 18-10, in favor of the Fulton boys.

The line-ups included: Buchanan and Scott Lyon, forwards; Carl Willamson, Center; Wilson, Bradley, and Cavender, forwards, for Fulton; For Paducah Butler and Vaughn played the forward positions; Driver in center; and Monroe and Paris, at guards.

The most dangerous part of it all was the refereeing position which was cared for by Thompson and Parham.

The Paducah boys are expecting the Fulton lads to play them a return game on the Paducah rink in the near future.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION WILL MEET TOMORROW P. M.

A called meeting of the Fulton Ministerial Association will be held tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon at one o'clock at the First Methodist Church. All are urged to be present as important business will be transacted.

Paris Is Guarded Against Armistice Day Outbreak

Paris. — Strong reinforcements of mobile guards were concentrated tonight in Paris barracks, ready to start patrolling at dawn against feared outbreaks in Armistice Day celebrations tomorrow.

Tens of thousands of war veterans from the provinces were gathered in the capital while the Nation united to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of peace, but divided on how to preserve it.

The veterans, representing millions of their comrades, came to demonstrate for their own method. They want a "public safety" Government to rebuild the Nation.

The Government, worried that the veterans might get out of hand during the Armistice Day parades, mobilized guardsmen to roam the city in their fast "trouble" trucks.

Should the veterans demonstrate with a march on the Elysee

GOP Prepares Ultimatum For The President

Feel New Strength Sufficient To Force Him To Veer To Right

Prominent Republicans, flushed by their party's victories at the polls, appeared last night to be getting ready to serve a virtual ultimatum on President, Roosevelt in some words as these:

"Veer to the right, or face two years of stalemate in Congress!" They expressed confidence that, combined with Democrats critical of many Roosevelt policies, they could block the President if he insisted on following a "leftward" course.

On the other hand, prominent New Dealers were declaring that the election was not a repudiation of President Roosevelt's "liberal policies." Secretary of the Interior Ickes spoke of the possibility of Mr. Roosevelt's being drafted for a third term drive in the interests of continuing the New Deal.

Meanwhile, returns from Tuesday's balloting showed that 81 Republican votes had been added to that party's roster in the House, and eight in the Senate. The House figure is based on the assumption that the last contest to remain in doubt was won by the incumbent, Rep. Knute Hill, Washington Democrat. With several precincts and absentee ballots untabulated, Hill was ahead by 630 votes.

Fulton Queen Goes To Cairo For Contest

Miss Margaret Clark Hardin, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vodie Hardin, who was chosen queen of Fulton at a dance here two weeks ago, left early this morning for Cairo where she will represent Fulton in the contest for selection of the bridge queen. Besides Miss Hardin, ten other queens, each representing their respective towns, will participate, seeking the honor of becoming queen of the great bridge celebration.

The Fulton queen is being sponsored by the Young Business Men's Club. At seven o'clock tonight a dinner will be given the visiting queens and the hostesses will be Miss June Cowell, 1938 queen of Cairo, and Mrs. Bill Robinson, nee Jean Dark, 1937 Cairo queen, who was also Queen of Queens in 1937.

The Queens Ball will be formally opened by the 1937 Queen of Queens, at ten o'clock tonight and at the final ceremony, the winning candidate will be crowned, to rule during the remainder of the celebration.

The Two-Party System Is Preserved

While political oracles are dissecting the returns to determine the effect on the New Deal, The Courier-Journal, which had ventured to question their omniscience with the suggestion that the fate of the Republican Party rather than that of the New Deal was at stake, will risk the prediction that the outstanding result of the 1938 election is to preserve the two-party system for another presidential campaign, aside from the repudiation of such radicalism as has flourished in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

It halted the attrition of Republican strength which had persisted without diminution for ten years and it liquidated the La Follette third party which anticipated continued Republican disintegration and the concentration of reactionary influences on control of the Democratic Convention in 1940. The La Follettes planned to repeat, deliberately in 1940 what took place by the logic of circumstances in 1890 when the fragments of shattered parties were amalgamated into triumphant Republicanism. They expected the tremendous Democratic majority to become prey to the same element that took possession of the Republican Party as soon as Lincoln was removed, and they doubtless withdrew their support from President Roosevelt to give his enemies a free hand in furthering their ambitious project.

Over-generous nature in the grain belt, the labor war and a couple of disgraceful Democratic Administrations in Pennsylvania and Ohio, plowed the La Follette movement under to fertilize Republican "grass roots." But the New Deal survives. The people didn't rise in their might and expel the Democrats from power as they did the Republicans during Hoover's term. These urban and rural questions remain for further constructive experimentation. The Republican Party realized this year all that can be gained from merely pointing out imperfections of Democratic efforts. Its bid for power in 1940 will have to offer more substantial benefits than sympathy and criticism.

Meanwhile, the contest within the Republican Party will divide the attention heretofore confined to Democratic going-on. The election also has produced a crop of Republican material for 1940 in which names count; and with the elimination of District Attorney Dewey, the son of President Taft from the pivotal Mid-West, stands out conspicuously. If only a target for the "flings and arrows" of outraged rivals. He will be watched. His record will be scanned. He might make a pleasing compromise, a reactionary candidate with a liberal running mate on a platform promising the application of Republican efficiency and prosperity to New Deal objectives.

That might work, provided recovery didn't forestall such an issue. Then again, he might complete the party destruction his father began from 1908 to 1912. Whatever fortune may have in store for him, Senator-elect Robert A. Taft had the luck to receive at a crucial juncture a G. O. P. tradition of running for President in Ohio.

The campaign is two years off; but National politics is going to be more entertaining from now on with a double bill.

Man Without A Country Is Also A Man Without A Ship

New York.—John Dolanuk, "the man without a country" today was also a man without a ship.

For the United States liner President Roosevelt sailed for Europe without him yesterday, refusing to recognize a deportation order issued by the Department of Labor.

Dolanuk rode 17,500 miles on the ship's lines last year as an uninvited guest. Its officials refused to accept him for deportation on the grounds it was physically impossible to land him in another country.

Dolanuk was born in Austrian territory later ceded to Rumania. Immigration officials said he had entered both Canada and the United States illegally, gone to Spain as a volunteer with the Government forces, and later stowed away again for the United States.

Courts have tried vainly to straighten out the tangle of his national status. England, France, Germany and Rumania, among other countries, have refused him entry.

up, the radio was connected—everything was ready to slide it overboard and go sailing.

But, after arriving, the craft was hurriedly sent to a Marine service company for a thorough cleaning. Empty beer bottles were on the floor, cigarette stubs were strewn around and the beds had been slept in—apparently by someone with boots on.

THE LISTENING POST

Whether business is actually better and still improving may be a question that is open to discussion, but nobody can say that the automobile business is not trying. The past few weeks have seen one of the greatest drives for business in this industry that has ever been made, and I really believe that something will come of it. During the past week I have seen the two big national magazines, The Saturday Evening Post and Collier's, issue the biggest editions that have been sent out in many years. The Post, for example, printed an issue with 160 pages, and the other was not far behind. The automobile industry is also using newspaper advertising lavishly, and I really believe that such advertising is bound to develop business. The two magazines referred to carried single and double pages all the way through for various automobiles, and the sales appeal almost made me rush to the nearest dealer and contract for a new car. But I resisted the impulse for I have plenty of fish to fry before a new car is indicated for me. But the automobile advertising is beginning to look like it did in those far off years before the Great Depression hit us. Let us hope that the car makers are showing the way forward.

I have a child-like faith in advertising. I believe it will do the job if given a fair trial. I do not look on advertising as an expense, but rather as an investment. Many times I have seen men build business on the strength of advertising, and I have seen established business firms fall by the wayside because they would not make use of the potent opportunity offered by advertising. In Fulton we have long had too much shilly-shally advertising. We have been too prone to look on advertising as something designed to help out some cause, to show that we are good sports, with a metal reservation that we were merely being good fellows, and no good could be expected from advertising anyhow. This may be true with a lot of this fly by night advertising, but real genuine advertising is something that should be studied and understood. It is a force that can make or break us, and with it we can work wonders. Without it we may succeed, but lack of it puts a handicap on any man.

I am told that the boys and girls of the Fulton High School band simply stole the show at Mayfield the other day. Clad in brilliant new uniforms, and headed by four of the prettiest girls that ever marched, the band went through its marching in such a manner that the Mayfield folks took the boys and girls to their hearts. The presence of so many little folks in the band was one of the drawing cards, for these little folks looked so well in their little uniforms that it brought a lump in the throat just to watch them. It was indeed a fortunate day when the local school managed to get Yewell Harrison down here as band instructor, and also fortunate that ways were found to keep the band in training all during the past summer. This band is going to make the high school a better one through all the years to come, and it is going to get better and better as time goes on.

Chute Jump Is Checked

Chicago. — A barograph sent today to Washington for calibration will determine whether Willie "Sulicide" Jones has set a world's record for a delayed parachute jump. The veteran Negro jumped yesterday stepped from a plane at an altitude of 26,000 to 30,000 feet, plummeted for two and a half minutes, released his chute at about 1,800 feet and landed safely. At maximum altitude it was 30 below zero. Jones was almost overcome by cold.

Economists Are Expecting Good Business Soon

Business Outlook Good For Several Months Experts Say

New York. — Wall Street and Washington economists, with few exceptions, are looking for continuing business recovery at least into the spring, with prospects for further gains regarded as "good." While there is general reluctance to try to look farther ahead than six months, some think the outlook for an upward cycle lasting "a couple of years" or more are very hopeful.

A canvass of candid, off-the-record opinion among expert business analysts, both in the federal administration, and in business and financial offices of Wall Street, found a widespread expectation that the gaining momentum in heavy goods would carry on in the main, at least for several months, barring unforeseen upsets.

One of the government's veteran economists said:

"We have the best basis for stable recovery now that we have had since perhaps 1928. We have a reasonably balanced price structure. There is an absence of speculation which might throw things out of balance."

Washington sources interested chiefly in relief problems estimated that of some 3,000,000 workers (exclusive of agriculture) who lost their jobs in the slump starting in the spring of 1937, roughly a third have been re-employed.

Barkley Ahead 125,000 In State

Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic leader of the United States Senate, was 125,150 votes ahead of John P. Haswell, Republican, with 615 Kentucky precincts uncounted Wednesday night. Approximately one-third, 202, of the uncounted precincts are in Louisville, where Barkley is leading Haswell 2 to 1.

The county Wednesday pulled A. J. May, Prestonburg, away from his Republican opponent, Hillard H. Smith, and assured Democrats of eight Kentucky seats in Congress. The lone Republican in the delegation was in the last Congress, so the party representation remains unchanged.

New Three Million Dollar Bridge Open To Public At Cairo, Ill.

Cairo, Ill. — Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri joined here today in dedicating the new $3,115,000 traffic bridge over the Ohio River between this historic city and Wickliffe, marking completion of the final link connecting 7,000 miles of modern Federal highways.

Three main Federal highways, U. S. 60, 63, and 51, which were severed at the Ohio River at different points during the days of the ferry, connect here to cross the new span, erected with the aid of Federal funds.

Although the new bridge eliminates the necessity of passing through this bustling river city, situated at the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, Cairo staged one of the most gala festivals in its history. The span crosses the river a mile to the south of Cairo.

The dedication program was promoted by civic-minded citizens of Cairo. Selecting Armistice Day to formally open the new span, hundreds of persons from the three States took part in a parade through Cairo's main streets following dedication ceremonies near the Illinois side of the bridge.

Local Boys Help Dresden Organize Y. M. B. C. Thurs.

Lynn Phipps, president of the Fulton Young Business Men's Club, and the following members, Wesley Cummins, Ward Johnson, Bert Pigue, Jack Edwards, Hendon Wright, Billy Blackstone, and M. L. Parker motored to Dresden, Tennessee Thursday night where they assisted the Dresden men in organizing a Y. M. B. C. there.

Mr. Phipps and Mr. Blackstone made very instructive speeches to the Dresden club, giving helpful points of organizing the club. Short talks were made by the other Fulton boys.

U. S. To Open Air Mechanic Training Post

Washington. — Disclosure that a $26,000,000 World War naval ordnance plant in West Virginia will be used to train mechanics reflected today the Administration's purpose to reinforce the Nation's air forces.

The new training plant, announced by the National Youth Administration, was one of several preliminaries to a far-reaching armament program which President Roosevelt has been preparing for presentation of Congress.

Roosevelt has said that an anticipated shortage of aviation mechanics threatened difficult for any substantial increase in the air forces.

The air corps has eleven men on the ground for every plane in the air, officials said. To keep this proportion for a fleet of 7,000 planes such as the chief executive is reported contemplating, would mean an air force personnel of 77,000, compared with some 20,000 now.

An N. Y. A. official at Charleston, W. Va., said the long idle naval ordnance plant would be used for a "work experience project" for about 500 young men.

At the New Orleans navy yard, likewise idle for years, upwards of 1,200 youths are to be trained.

Men between 18 and 25 will be eligible for the training and will be paid $30 a month for subsistence with an additional $10 a month which may be retained or contributed to family support.

Newspaperman Watches Mobs Hold 12 Hour Revel Of Looting

Berlin. — In a tour of Berlin this afternoon this correspondent saw few Jewish stores or synagogues that escaped damage in twelve hours of anti-Jewish violence. Many buildings were destroyed.

The rioting reached a high point at the center of Berlin, where, at noon, thousands gathered in the streets to watch gangs pound to bits dozens of stores.

This correspondent saw dozens of men and women rush into a toy shop in the arcade between Unter den Linden and Friedrichstrasse and scoop up what they could get.

They went in after gangs of youths smashed the plate glass windows. Inside, counters, partitions and everything breakable or loose was thrown to the floor and smashed.

Few Police Visible. Five other stores in the arcade, known to tourists, also were plundered. Few police were visible.

A short distance away, at the corner of Jaegerstrasse and Friederichstrasse, a second-story pawn shop came in for vengeance.

Youths with lead pipes broke windows, then threw fur coats from the pawn shop's racks down onto the heads of several thousands watching in the street below.

Around another corner in the center of the city a tailor shop was looted. In the doorway, a tailor's dummy with a hat on its head hung with a rope around its neck. Further down Friedrichstrasse a nondescript crowd smashed the mystery around the city's best known black magic store.

Here, as elsewhere, the crowd used iron pipes, sticks and whatever implements were available.

The mobs worked throughout the day in various sections of the city, seemingly according to plan. The swank Kurfuerstendamm quarter which suffered earlier in the morning was revisited later by gangs who went inside shops and completed the demolition.

This correspondent started out at daybreak with the milkman. On the tour, the first damage seen was the destruction by fire of the wealthy synagogue in Fasanenstrasse, near the zoo railway station.

Clouds of smoke rose from three domes of the stone building. The interior was a furnace, with the tile roof about to collapse as the fire ate at rafters. Worship benches, books and other inflammable materials had been piled in the center.

Store Raped. During the morning this smoking synagogue could be seen by passengers on international trains arriving from the west. This temple with the city's newest one on Prinzeregenstrasse, both huge structures, were virtually destroyed by fire.

Hundreds of stores gaped open when workmen passed them in the morning. Near Alexander Square some twenty workers from the city market were helping themselves at a shoe store.

When this correspondent got there they were sitting on the curb, laughing and trying on pair after pair in a hunt for fits.

In front of other stores goods and furniture—including pianos—were piled high. Three boys sat on one piano, kicking the keys with their feet.

Six large plate glass windows in the capital's best-known children's furnishing store, on Leipzigerstrasse, were carved in.

This afternoon, the optimistic proprietor took measurements for replacement.

Annual Roll Call Tuesday, Nov. 15

The local Chapter of the American Red Cross has completed all plans for the Annual Roll Call on Tuesday, November 15th. The membership for 1938 was 400 members, or 10 pct of the population of the Chapter's territory. Only one chapter in the state, Milton, with a percentage of 37.46, has a better record. The same quota has been assigned for this Roll Call.

It is interesting to note that in addition to contributing $25.00 to the suffering Chinese and to the New England flood victims, that the local Chapter has purchased three pairs of glasses for school children and furnished funds for destitute transients in excess of $60.00. On one occasion an old gentleman would not accept direct relief, but insisted that it be a loan, he putting up his Elgin watch as collateral. Before the due date he redeemed his watch.

In Kentucky during the past year 3880 persons have been taught the principles of first aid, 611 men and women have received the life saving badge, under the auspices of the Red Cross. Red Cross nurses made over 7700 visits to the sick, and examined 8640 school children. Over and above this service, it has continued to fulfill its obligation to ex-service men and their dependents, giving assistance to 3110 cases. Assistance was rendered to 4000 needy civilian families during the war.

All of this service was made possible by the generous way in which Kentuckians responded to the Roll Call. On Sunday and Monday a trailer by Deanne Durbin will be shown at the Fulton Theatre in connection with the local Roll Call.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Woodrow Fuller Pastor. Sunday school 9:30 a. m. W. C. Valentine, Supt. Morning worship 10:50. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Our God". Vesper Worship 5:00 p. m. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Visiting Observations". Baptist Training Union 6:15. Marvin Sanders, Director.

Deep Interest Marks Services

A deep interest marked the attention of the large audience that heard Evangelist Vaughn Fults preach at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, last night on "Our Heavenly Record."

Speaking from Psalm 87-6 the evangelist said, "It is interesting to know that the eye of God never sleeps and his interest in us never wanes. He sees all we do, he hears all we say. He is writing a record of our lives all the time, and some day we must face that record. The big things and the little things, the good things, and the bad things will be there. The only way to escape seeing our sins recorded there is to have them blotted out by the blood of Christ."

Tonight the evangelist will speak on "Will we know each other in heaven?" Rev. E. R. Ladd, the pastor invites all the people to hear the messages and is appreciative of the fine spirit of cooperation from the other churches.

Monday night we will have the Lions Club as our special guest. Tuesday night the Rotary Club will be our special guest.

Wednesday night will be Rail road night.

Thursday night will be insurance night.

Friday night will be business night.

Man On Ride Grabs Pistol; Shots Call Cops

Springfield, Ill. — John Steinhoff was stabbed by Will Colvin's pet monkey over pickings from the Steinhoff lunch pail.

Jocko, the monkey, appeared while Steinhoff was unpacking the lunch in the shade of Colvin's orchard.

Jocko started picking tidbits from the pail and stabbed Steinhoff's arm with a pruning knife when the man tried to drive him off.

The monkey scampered into a nearby tree and Steinhoff was taken to a hospital.

Construction Of Auto Sales Co. Building Started

Work was started in the past few days on the new building which is being constructed by Bailey Huddleston for the use of the Auto Sales Company and which will be located on the Mayfield Highway at the side of the Huddleston Service Station.

The new building is being built thirty feet from the service station and the floor space will measure 6,000 feet. The handsome brick structure will have an all concrete floor. Thirty feet of this space will be used for a show room for the new Fords, a parts room, and the office, the remainder to be used for storage and work shop. Plenty of space will also be available on the outside of the building for the use of parking and storage of used cars. If the accumulation of used cars makes it necessary, another flat iron building will be built later for that purpose.

This new addition will be quite an asset to the city of Fulton, as it will be equipped with the very latest and modern equipment. The Auto Sales Company owners, Bailey Huddleston, Mel Simon, and James Allen Willingham, are planning to have the building ready for use before Christmas, probably in the next four weeks. These three prominent business men are also planning an interesting program for opening day.

The present location of the Auto Sales Company on Church Street will be held for a period of time and will be used for a used car lot. Contractor Frank Merryman is in charge of the work.

Mrs. Ethel Piercy In Suicide Attempt

Mrs. Ethel Piercy, 35 years of age, attempted suicide last night about eleven o'clock at her home on Carr Street when she swallowed an amount of strychnine tablets in an effort to end her life.

Mrs. Piercy took the poison and then went immediately to the telephone and called a friend to her bedside, telling her what she had done. Attending physicians said last night that there was no hope for her recovery but this morning her condition is more favorable.

She is the divorced wife of H. F. Piercy, Illinois Central Engineer.

Tipping Is Unaffected By New Wage And Hour Law

Washington. — Anyone hopeful (or fearful) that tipping would be ended by the wage-hour act can abandon the idea.

The act doesn't seem to reach into the zone of the tip-gathering help unless a person spends his time mostly riding on trains or getting on and off them.

The act doesn't apply to employees working for outfits "the greater part of whose selling or servicing is in intrastate commerce." That exempts bell boys in hotels, elevator operators, waiters in cafes and even hat check girls.

At the time we are writing this the case hasn't been decided as to whether messenger boys are in interstate commerce enough to come under the act. But we asked one of Western Union's brightest and best and he said his tips didn't amount to more than a dollar a month.

The ones who do come under the act are Pullman porters, dining car waiters and redcaps in railroad

FDR To Make Appointments Within A Week

Refuses To Say If Court Justice Will Be Named Soon

Washington. — President Roosevelt said today he soon would announce a number of appointments, probably within a week.

Asked at his press conference whether Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan, defeated Tuesday for reelection, was included, Mr. Roosevelt said nobody was on the list yet. In his reference to forthcoming appointments, Mr. Roosevelt said in reply to a question he did not know whether a Supreme Court designation was included. Nor, he added, did he know whether Governor Murphy would go to the Philippines as high commissioner to succeed Paul V. McNutt.

There has been recurrent talk in the capital that two or more members will be appointed to two other posts.

Among those mentioned have been Secretaries Swanson of the Navy, Woodring of War, Roper of Commerce, and Postmaster General Farley.

A year ago an automobile company offered Farley its presidency, and some friends predicted then he would quit the cabinet but continue as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

The administration's projected rearmament program suggested to some capital politicians that changes might be made in the war and navy posts.

One suggestion advanced in some quarters—without his encouragement—is that Woodring may be shifted to the Philippines as American high commissioner, succeeding Paul V. McNutt, who has disclosed he shortly will come back to the United States.

Corn Farmers To Get Loan Of 170 Million

Washington. —The A. A. A. made ready today to pour out a huge sum—estimated at about $170,000,000—to assure Midwestern corn farmers who complied with its crop control program an income of 57 cents a bushel on this year's production. This is about 20 cents more than current market prices.

Secretary Wallace announced that corn produced in the commercial corn belt by complying farmers and withheld from market could be stored on farms under a 57-cent Government loan. A 50-cent loan was made on last year's crop.

Tom Mooney And Caleb Powers

The election of State Senator Culbert L. Olson Governor of California after his expression of belief in the innocence of Tom Mooney, presents a curious parallel to the election of Augustus E. Willson Governor of Kentucky in 1907. The Democrats made an issue of Willson's probable intention to pardon Caleb Powers, alleged accomplice in the assassination of William Goebel, which he did.

Not quite as much capital was made of the Mooney case in the California campaign as was made of the Powers' case in Kentucky. Nevertheless, Senator Olson had supported a resolution of clemency for Mooney in the Legislature last year and declared his belief that Mooney was "convicted on perjured testimony and false evidence." Olson, like Willson, seems to regard the election as a popular referendum on the pardon question. Mooney has spent twenty years

Miss New Madrid Crowned Queen

A number of Fulton people motored to Cairo, Illinois yesterday where they participated in the celebration of the opening of the new bridge.

Probably the proudest of these was Miss Margaret Hardin who represented Fulton in the entertainments there yesterday and participated in the grand ball last night at which time the Queen of the celebration was crowned.

Miss Hardin was accompanied to the grand ball, held at the Cairo Armory, by Mr. Theodore Kramer Jr. and was one of the thirty-three queens participating in the contest. The judging of the queens was conducted in the form of a grand march with the queens marching across the stage before judges. Each queen participated in the coronation at mid-night. The representative of New Madrid, Missouri, was crowned Queen of Queens.

In addition, one Kentucky city will get a new Court House and a $1,315,000 laboratory will be built on the grounds of the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in Fayette County.

Reviewing its Kentucky program, the department said today that

"She looked for the world like any other little girl dressed up to play 'missus.'"

Woman Finds 2 Sons Dead In Their Beds

Braceville, Ill. —Two bachelor brothers, who lived apart in two houses on their farm near here, were found dead in their beds today under mysterious circumstances.

Mrs. John Peterson, their mother, went to Victor's house and found him dead. Rushing to Oscar's house, she found him dead also.

There were no marks of violence on either. The brothers always ate together and were not known to have been unfriendly.

Berlin. —An organ of the German Foreign Office today sharply attacked the United States, charging official and unofficial attempts to incite South American countries against Germany and to convince South Americans of "the evil intentions of the Fascist States."

Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz cited a radio address Sunday night by Sumner Welles, Undersecretary of State, who declared the United States was prepared to join in preserving the Western Hemisphere from "any threat of attack."

"If Americans, by calling upon their Monroe Doctrine," the paper said, "attempt to protect South American States, then it is their (South Americans') business to consider ways and means of protecting their independence."

Mountain Girl, 12, And Husband, 28, Set Up Home

Logan, W. Va. —A 12-year-old mountain girl and her 28-year-old husband set up housekeeping today in their "honeymoon cottage"—and abandoned store building—while Logan County authorities studied possible action against him and the bride's mother.

The couple, Helen Glidas and Clifford Adkins, were married yesterday in Chapmanville, across the mountain from Curry, where the bride and bridegroom went to live with her mother and a 10-year-old brother.

Mrs. W. T. Mitchell, a relief worker, reported the wedding to Prosecutor Claude A. Joyce and added:
