THE LISTENING POST

Make a date right now to see the Fulton High School band in its last football appearance for the season at Martin Friday afternoon. Martin school officials were here yesterday to make arrangements for a big parade in Martin prior to the game, and bands from both schools will take part in this parade. Later at the game both bands will take part in the ceremonies at half time, and Mr. Harrison is preparing to put on a real show for this closing of the football season. The band may have a new instrument for this particular appearance if it is possible to secure it before that date. The band will also appear on the streets here Thursday afternoon to welcome the Memphis special train which is due to be here late in the afternoon on that date. Mr. Harrison is very anxious that a large number of Fulton folks attend the football game in Martin to give support to the band and to the football team. The Bulldogs are going to try to end the season with a victory, and the band is going to do its best to put on a real show.

Speaking of the Memphis party that is to visit here, all local business men should be on hand to meet and greet these men. The party is on a trip that covers West Kentucky and West Tennessee, and like the rural trips made by the local Chamber of Commerce, the men from the big town on the bluff have nothing to sell except friendship. In fact, this is not offered for sale—it is offered in exchange for our own. The Memphis men simply want to know us and to know more about this section of the country. Many of the big men of Memphis will be in the party, and all will visit the local business section during the time the train remains here. But we should have a crowd at the stopping place of the train—in front of Lake Street—and show the Memphis (that we are glad to see them, and that they have our friendship. Let's make the Memphis party remember Fulton as a real town with real friendly folks in it. Remember, they will be here Thursday afternoon at 4:50 and will remain here for only a half hour. The party will spend the night in Paducah, so I understand, and will come here from Union City.

The special midnight show at the Fulton Theatre Saturday night, in addition to being a cracker-jack good show, will furnish funds for a most worthy cause. The Lions Club is sponsoring the show to raise money for the annual Christmas Charity distribution, and all the proceeds will go towards helping some families really enjoy Christmas that might otherwise have a dreary time on that date. For the past several years the Lions Club has distributed these Christmas baskets on Christmas Eve, and it is really a worth while cause. Members of the Lions Club now have tickets for this special midnight show, and they are selling for 25 cents, tax included. The show is an air picture, said to be one of the smash hits, and there will also be an added stage attraction, as well as interesting shorts. Make arrangements to attend the show, or at any rate, buy some tickets. You will be helping somebody enjoy Christmas by doing this, and this is the best way for you to really enjoy Christmas yourself.

Ross Funeral In California Monday

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Dunn Ross of Whittier.

Hull Instructs Ambassador To Return Home

Government Aroused Over Persecution Of Jews In Germany

Washington. —The United States government, plainly aroused by the sweeping measures taken against Jews by German Nazis, called its ambassador home tonight for "report and consultation."

While officials issued no statement about the move, it was clear that it was intended to convey to the Reich's leaders and to the world that Washington strongly disapproves the treatment meted out to minorities in Germany.

The ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, was directed to make his journey home immediately. Much significance has attached to the move, since it is one taken only in cases of outstanding importance. The step does not, however, mean a break in diplomatic relations.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, protesting tonight what he described as the "assaults against civilization" taking place in Germany said in the prepared text of a radio speech:

"No nation can live unto itself alone. The time comes when neither man nor nation can live without the decent respect of their fellow men."

Declaring that he spoke not as an official but as a Christian and human being, he asserted that anti-Semitic attacks not only against the people from whom Jesus sprang; there have been attacks against the very ideas for which he died.

Senator King (D.-Utah) asserted that the United States and other nations have had ample reason to advise Germany that they would break off diplomatic relations with her if she continued her persecution of Jews.

T. V. A. Power Assured 22 West Tennessee Towns By Halls Vote

HALLS, Tenn. — Tennessee Valley Authority electricity apparently was assured 22 West Tennessee communities today when the Halls board of aldermen voted to purchase the West Tennessee Power & Light Company's water plant here.

With this action the way was paved for consumation of an agreement between the towns and the utility to pay $1,600,000 for the properties through which it is planned to distribute TVA power.

One of the provisions of the agreement was that Halls buy the water plant. For a while the deal appeared to be jeopardized when the board of aldermen balked at paying $40,000 for the property—the amount demanded by the power company.

But today the board reversed its earlier decision and Mayor W. N. Beasley signed a contract for the sale. The vote was four to two in favor of the $40,000 price.

Before the vote was taken, Earl Wall, regional TVA manager, told the board failure to purchase the water plant might mean that the 22 towns "possibly never would be able to get cheap TVA electricity."

Henderson Home Destroyed Early Today By Fire

About six o'clock this morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Henderson on the East State Line was completely destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is not known as Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were not at home, having spent the night in town, but it is known that the blaze originated on the inside of the home. It is thought that perhaps the wiring in the kitchen was the cause.

The Fulton fire department went to the scene about 6:15 o'clock, knowing that water was not available as the home was located about 900 feet from the city limits, but thinking that perhaps they would be able to save belongings. The entire home and furnishings were blazing when they arrived.

A loss of $2,000.00 is estimated, the home being valued at $3,000 and the furnishings at about $1,500, only partly covered with insurance.

High Interest In C. P. Revival

An unusually large Monday night crowd heard Evangelist Fults of Murfreesboro, Tenn., preach at the Cumberland Presbyterian church last night on, "A question no one in Fulton can answer." Speaking from Heb. 2-3 "How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation." The Evangelist said, "the most successful method the devil has of winning men to hell is the way of neglect. A man need not commit murder, or highway robbery or any other outrageous sin to be lost. All one need do to be lost is to neglect the Lord Jesus Christ. The devil is not trying to win you by making you disbelieve in God and the Bible. He has an easier way of winning you, that of neglect. Christ says come today, the devil tells you to say tomorrow. That is the method by which he is winning you." The Evangelist illustrated his message with gripping and stirring illustrations that did make plain the way of the devil with a man.

The Lions Club was the guest of honor last night and tonight the Rotary Club will be the honored guest.

The Junior choir led by Rev. E. R. Ladd continues to grow larger with increased interest each night. A welcome and a blessing awaits the people of Fulton at each service which are conducted at 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Tonight Rev. Fults will speak on "A message from a man in hell."

Red Cross Begins Drive At Early Hour Today

At nine o'clock this morning various committees and workers started work throughout the business and residential section of the city, representing the local chapter of the American Red Cross, and it is hoped that these workers may make every single business man in the city and a majority of the housewives a member of the Red Cross.

The final plans were made at the banquet which was held last night at 8:30 o'clock in the dining room of the First Christian Church and attended by 61 people, 41 of whom were workers, which is the largest crowd ever to attend a Red Cross banquet in Fulton. Appreciation was extended to the committees who made this affair such a great success. Appreciation was also extended to the Brown Ice Cream Company.

The tables of the dining room were arranged in the shape of a cross and that motif was cleverly continued throughout the dinner. Attractive place cards were of red crosses, ivy ran along the center of the tables, and at the intersection, a huge bouquet of red and white chrysanthemums had been placed.

The meeting was presided over by Superintendent J. O. Lewis, who is chairman of the local chapter, and who spoke on the various works done by the American Red Cross. He said that too often people were of the opinion that the Red Cross did not work except in the case of an emergency, but this is positively not true. He reviewed the work which is done continually by this organization which gets little, if any, publicity at all. That of serving the veterans; the emergency Red Cross stations along various highways, ready at all times for any kind of an emergency there; the public nursing project; life saving; the administering of home hygiene and caring for the sick; nursing in the mountains of Kentucky; Junior Red Cross Work; and a number of other things done by the chapter which is realized very little by a number of people. Mr. Lewis called the attention of those present to the many major emergency which have occurred in recent years. The tornado and flood of Texas to which the Red Cross gave $30,623.00. The flood of March, 1937, $440,000.00. Floods of the mid-west, $222,000. Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, and Missouri floods, $63,000. Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia, sufferers, $557,000. The amount of money given to the recent flood sufferers of the New England states was not stated but is sure to be hundreds of thousands of dollars and more calls are still coming in for help. There is never a time when the Red Cross is not working and meeting some emergency. Always ready to serve the people when needed. The above figures were read by Mr. Lewis, to show that the Red Cross is never at rest. Its constructive program is continued indefinitely, helping people so that they might become more dependable.

It is not unusual then that the local chapter is asking the people of Fulton to take part in this nation-wide campaign. Mr. Lewis recalled the thrill of the local workers last year when they were called upon for only $800.00 for the flood sufferers of the Ohio River.

M. E. Conference Convenes Tonight At Martin Church

Members of the First Methodist Church of Martin, Tennessee will act as hosts this week when methodists of West Tennessee and West Kentucky will open the ninety-ninth annual session of the Memphis Conference there tonight in the conference's last meeting as a unit of the Southern Methodist Church.

Bishop U. V. W. Darlington of Huntington, W. Va., will preside, due to the illness of Bishop Hoyt Dobbs. Tonight's session will include a sermon by the Rev. W. F. Maxedon of Galloway Memorial Church, Memphis, followed by the conference communion service.

Hosts to the conference are Rev. W. C. Barham of Union City, presiding elder, and Rev. E. C. Thurmond, local pastor. Paul Meek, head of the University of Tennessee Junior College, heads the Martin committee of arrangements. Highlights of conference business will be the election of six clerical and six lay delegates to the uniting conference to be held at Kansas City on April 26, 1939, to complete plans for unification of the Southern Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Protestant Church. Much time of the morning business sessions will be devoted to hearing reports from the 200 pastors and from various committees. Appointments for the new year likely will be read Sunday afternoon or night.

Bishop W. T. Watkins of Atlanta has been invited to preach a series of sermons during the conference. Should his attendance be prevented, various ministers in the body will preach each afternoon. Night sessions are given over to church causes.

Few major pulpit changes are anticipated. Three presiding elders, the Rev. H. B. Taylor of Paris, the Rev. L. H. Estes of Jackson, and the Rev. C. B. Clayton of Lexington, will go to new assignments due to church rule which forbids a minister remaining in the eldership more than four consecutive years and requiring him to spend four years in other work before he can be returned.

Several prominent pastors have finished four-three terms and likely will receive new appointments. They include Dr. Fred H. Peeples of Covington, the Rev. R. L. Davis of Halls, the Rev. T. C. McKelvey of Henning, the Rev. W. Davis of Newbern, the Rev. E. F. McDaniell of Bemis, the Rev. W. M. Tidwell of Bolivar, the Rev. R. P. Duckworth of Hayes Avenue, Jackson, the Rev. R. A. Wood of Milan, the Rev. H. J. Deshazo of Camden, the Rev. U. S. McCaslin of Selmer and the Rev. O. C. Wrather of Union City, along with several Memphis pastors.

A special conference feature will be a dinner honoring Dr. G. L. Morelock of Nashville, for a number of years president of the old McFerrin Institute, Martin. The dinner will be given Tuesday night by the alumni of the school. Dr. Morelock is now general secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities and will speak during the conference sessions.

Leading Attorney Dies In Benton, Ky.

E. Lawrence Cooper, 56, who has been a very prominent Western Kentucky attorney for many years, died at 10:10 o'clock last night at his home in Benton, Kentucky after a long illness. Mr. Cooper was well known in law circles throughout the state and was a member of the Benton Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Cooper, and two sons, Bert Thomas Cooper, Marshall county attorney, and Elbert Cooper, who is attending law school at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. A brother, Raymond Cooper, of Memphis also survives. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper will be in Fulton for a short visit today, enroute to Benton where they will attend the funeral, to be held some time tomorrow. Mrs. Cooper will visit her brother, Guy Duley, of this city.

McKellar Predicts All Tennessee To Have T. V. A. Power In Year

WASHINGTON —Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.), predicted today that within a year every city and town in Tennessee would be served by TVA power or have a contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

He also "ventured the suggestion" that "no man will be elected mayor of Nashville next May who isn't wholeheartedly in favor of TVA."

With other cities signing up, McKellar said, "it will not be feasible from the economic standpoint for cities using private power to compete with the TVA cities."

Mayor Thomas L. Cummings of Nashville, here seeking a $12,000,000 slum clearance allotment, agreed with McKellar's prediction, and asserted he was a TVA advocate. Cummings said Nashville had filed application with the Tennessee Valley Authority for a long-term contract.

Much Interest In Fire Hazard Survey Thurs.

Much local interest has been aroused in the fire hazard survey which is to be made in Fulton Thursday, November 17. The story in yesterday's paper stated that the survey would be made "next week, but this was an error, as the survey is set for the coming Thursday. Experts will be here to make the survey and it will be to the interest of every business firm in Fulton to see all trash and rubbish removed from local business places before that date. All these things constitute fire hazards, and insurance rates are based on the hazards that are found in buildings within a town. While no increases are expected from this inspection, it is well that every business firm in town see that his business premises are in order.

Morgenthau Says No Tax Plan Ready

Washington — Secretary Morgenthau said today the Administration has not drafted any tax program for the next Congress.

Although the Treasury's tax staff has been doing research on various tax proposals since mid-summer, the Secretary said he did not know whether a general tax bill will be offered.

He and John W. Hanes, Under-Secretary of the Treasury, have conferred frequently with President Roosevelt on the tax situation. Among the questions to be decided are the strengthening of the undistributed corporate profits tax and the capital gains tax, which President Roosevelt advocated when he criticized the 1938 tax bill. Extension of expiring manufacturers' excise taxes, proposed heavier taxation on middle and lower income brackets, and simplification of the estate and gift taxes also are matters under consideration.

Fire Department Is Burning Grass

The Fulton Fire department has this week started their annual duty of burning all dead and dried grass inside the limits of Fulton. This dry grass is being burned under the supervision of the fire chief and his workers so that no more trouble will be caused from grass fires.

This work is also being done in connection with the fire prevention investigation which will be held in Fulton Thursday.

CIO Considers FDR Plea For Labor Peace

Committee To Draft Report For Union's Initial Convention

Pittsburgh. —The Committee for Industrial Organization tonight summoned its peace committee into consultation in the wake of a renewed plea by President Roosevelt for peace and unity within labor's ranks.

Seeking an end to the year warfare between the CIO and American Federation of Labor, Mr. Roosevelt in a letter called upon the first CIO constitutional convention to leave open "every possible door to access to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States."

CIO Chairman John L. Lewis said the letter would be given "earnest and profound consideration." One high official of the CIO, who refused to be quoted, said the peace committee would draft a report for the convention and recommend some definite future course.

The chief executive's message was his second in recent weeks and substantially the same as that sent to the AFL convention in Houston where it was received without demonstration.

"If the great gains already made are to be consolidated, for the benefit of the workers as well as the management," Mr. Roosevelt wrote, "it is essential that there be cooperation among the wage-earning groups, and because of this, I venture to express the hope, as I did to the American Federation of Labor, that every possible door to access to peace and progress in the affairs of organization labor in the United States be left open."

District Governor Lawrence Hager At Rotary Today

Lawrence Hager of Owensboro, district governor of Rotary International, was the guest of the local Rotary Club today and delivered an inspiring address on the "Four Objects of Rotary." Mr. Hager, who has been district governor for the past four months, is visiting several clubs in this part of the state and spoke at Mayfield last night. He came to Fulton after the meeting in Mayfield and spent last night with Paul Hornbeak, they having been fellow students in Center College.

Mr. Hager, in outlining the aims and objects of Rotary, stated "that while Rotary as we know it today was launched by Paul Harris in 1905, it is really an organization that goes back much farther. "Rotary in reality is but the evolution of all the unselfish dreams of men for ages past," the speaker declared. "It is the product of many men and many minds, and it will continue to grow and change as long as human hearts feel these unselfish dreams."

"While some declare that Rotary is idealistic," Mr. Hager remarked, "it is my own firm belief that it is really a product of ideas. For years I thought the motto Service Above Self was the product of a scholarly Englishman and was probably idealistic, I have recently learned that the idea itself came from the brain of a hard-headed, practical contractor, and the scholar merely took the idea and translated it into its beautiful phrasing. But after all it was a practical idea from a practical man."

Following the regular meeting Mr. Hager met with club officials to discuss club work.

Mr. Hull's Notable Victory

The settlement of the controversy between the United States and Mexico over the expropriation of some $15,000,000 worth of American-owned land is an auspicious curtain-raiser for the Pan American Conference at Lima, Peru, next month. It removes a dispute which threatened the Good Neighbor policy and the spirit of friendly cooperation in inter-American affairs. It reaffirms the principles of international laws as to the rights of nationals owning property in another country. It renders greater security to the billions of dollars of American capital invested in other Latin American republics.

After much specious and futile argument, the Cardenas Government of Mexico comes around to the views of Secretary Hull as set forth in his clear-cut and unequivocal notes of July and August of this year. Instead of expropriation without adequate, effective and prompt compensation, which the American Secretary of State branded as "confiscation," there will be an immediate token payment of $1,000,000. The seized lands, most of which were small farms, will be assessed by a mixed commission made up of one representative from each country with a third person to be named by the commission in accordance with the Gonda treaty. After the first payment, intended to indemnify those whose lands were expropriated since August, 1937, annual payments, none of which will be less than $1,000,000, will be made until all claims are adjusted. The agreement is in complete accord with the lines laid down by the Washington Government.

By serving notice that this settlement does not establish a precedent in the controversy growing out of the seizure of the $400,000,000 British and American-owned oil properties, Mexico admits the weakness of its case in that dispute. Property is property and derricks, wells and tanks are no different from land. If compensation must be made in the case of one it must be made in the case of the other. In both expropriation without prompt, effective and adequate compensation is confiscation. President Cardenas is seeking to evade his nation's obligation, however, by proposing that an all-

Mexican commission instead of a mixed commission shall assess the value of the oil properties and that the Government indemnify the former owners in ten yearly installments.

The clear thinking, straight talking and patient persistence of Secretary Hull have scored a notable and far-reaching victory.—Courier-Journal.

area, and they were fortunate enough to send in a check for $2,300.

In the absence of two guest speakers, who sent word at the last minute that they would be unable to attend, Mr. Lewis called upon Rev. William D. Ryan who spoke briefly and said that everybody should be ready and willing to help human suffering. To help those who are in distress and that we must be aware of the cries from across the ocean.

The quota for the local chapter this year is 400 or 10 per cent. of the population. Fulton is ranked second in the state of Kentucky in terms of quota in proportion with population.

The executive secretary, Mrs. Nora Alexander, spoke briefly on work she has done during the past year and Mrs. Annie Moore, treasurer, also gave a report. In the absence of Rev. Fuller, the nominating committee was unable to make a report but their representative, Gus Bard, said that the report of new officers would be made at the next meeting.

Mrs. Mansfield Martin, chairman of the Roll Call Committee, made a report on her plans and announced the following chairmen who are working among Fulton people today: Rev. Woodrow Fuller, Mrs. Ward Johnson, Mrs. Will Beard, Mrs. H. B. Houston, Mrs. Paul Workman, Elizabeth Butt, Mary Royster, Mrs. A. G. Baldrige, Bailey Huddleston, Mrs. Hazel Scruggs, Mrs. T. M. Franklin, Mrs. James Warren, Mrs. Paul Turbeville, Bill Browning, Mrs. Harry Bushart, and Bob Binford.

J. D. Davis made a brief talk and made a motion that the Fulton chapter appropriate $200.00 for contribution to the city health department. This motion was seconded by Gus Bard and voted upon favorably by all present. John Earle then spoke briefly.

At the conclusion of the night's program, James Warren led the group in leading "America."

Wage Decision Seen By Ayres As Obstruction

Cleveland — Col. Leonard P. Ayres took a gloomy view of business recovery tonight.

The Cleveland Trust Company vice president, in his monthly review of business conditions, held "no one is wise enough to know as yet whether this business recovery will prove to be of relatively long duration and vigorous development, or be instead comparatively brief and restricted."

"Possibly the issue has already been decided by the report of the fact-finding board which presented its finding in the wage dispute between railroad managements and the unions. Perhaps that re-

Navy Bidding Is Dramatic

Washington — Have you ever seen people bid on $200,000,000 worth of battleships?

The conclusion of this first stage of the drama by which the United States steps out to become the master of her share of the waves is calm, precise, dignified.

Back of it lies an agony of preparation, thousands of blue prints drafted and redrafted, discussions in ship yards, financial houses, in the White House, in technical quarters in the Navy and in committees of the House and Senate.

When all this is finished, months later a group of the Nation's foremost seadogs cluster around the desk of Secretary Swanson of the Navy.

Stampede Begins

The bids will be opened at "high noon," says the announcement. An hour before the door to the Secretary's office is opened the hallway outside is jammed with men. Some are hard-bitten shipyard operators. Many are "small operators" hopeful of an earful that will give them an inkling of where they can sell an order of insulation or a few rugs for the officers' quarters on the ships.

As the main door opens the crowd rushes forward. A marine stops them. He lets in a few at a time to seek places in orderly fashion about the room. Nearly 100 men, a woman or two as well, sardine into the room.

Back at Swanson's desk is a huge brass clock of seagoing design, but it is an old grandfather's clock in the center of the room that starts off the party.

"Ding," it begins, with the first beat of twelve patient strokes to signal that "high noon" has arrived.

May Never Fire Shot

The Navy is prompt. At the instant of the first "ding" Admiral DuBose, chief of construction, is on his feet. The Secretary, formerly Senator from Virginia, has little part in the final ceremony. Admiral DuBose explains the terms of the bidding, then opens the first bid. Bethlehem Ship-buildings Corporation offers to build one ship for $52,149,000. New York Shipbuilding Corporation will do it for $54,794,000. Newport News Shipbuilding comes somewhere between with a bid on slightly different terms.

The Navy wants three built in private yards. It will put another together in its own yards. Likely each private yard will get a contract for a ship, after some conferences on prices.

When the private yards are finished with their part of the shipbuilding—which includes building the hull and stuffing it with machinery, the Navy must take them over and load them with $20,000,000 more of guns, armor and fighting gear.

When finished, each ship will cost $70,000,000, maybe more. And like our other present battleships, they may never fire a shot at an enemy in battle.

New Pay Act Ruling Made

Washington, —Calvert Magruder, general counsel for the Wage-Hour Administration, has issued an opinion that production employees of a company doing intrastate business do not come under the wage-hour law even though the company imports raw materials from another State.

Magruder's opinion was issued in response to a request from the wheat flour milling industry for an interpretative ruling on the status of a plant obtaining raw materials outside the State for the manufacture of products sold only in intrastate commerce.

The Wage-Hour Act is applicable only to interstate commerce. Magruder said, however, that an employee engaged in purchasing the raw materials from outside the State or in receiving or unpacking the goods might be held to be "in commerce" and thus subject to the wage-hour law.

Meanwhile President Roosevelt studied a report from Administrator Andrews estimating that less than 50,000 workers have lost their jobs as a result of the act.

These 50,000, Andrews said, represented less than one-half of 1 per cent of the workers affected. And, he said, "a number of field reports suggest that when all readjustments are completed, total employment will have been increased rather than decreased as a result of the act."

England Drops Partition Plan

London. —The British Government announced today abandonment of its proposal to partition Palestine.

Instead, a conference of Jews and Arabs will be summoned in London and an attempt made to work out an amicable settlement. If the conference fails, the Government will "take their own decision in the light of their examination of the problem and of the problem and of the discussions in London and announce the policy which they propose to pursue."

In a statement issued simultaneously with the report of the royal commission headed by Sir John Woodhead, the Government announced its conclusion that "political, administrative and financial difficulties in the proposal to create independent Arab and Jewish States inside Palestine are so great that this solution of the problem is impractical."

strict German Jewish refugees in France would evolve from the shooting here of a Nazi diplomat by a young Polish Jew.

The Paris newspapers reported that the German embassy asked that Herschel Grynszpan, 17, be extradited to Germany for trial because his attack upon Ernst von Rath, its secretary, occurred in the embassy building which is considered Germany territory.

Extradition would be most difficult, however, since French law provides against extradition for political crime.

Informed sources believed Premier Daladier would restrict German Jewish refugee immigration in the interests of friendship with the Nazi government and his desire for a French-German understanding.

Two doctors sent by Chancellor Hitler from Berlin—Dr. Brandt, his personal physician, and Prof. Georg Magnus, director of Munich University Surgical Clinic—arrived to attend von Rath.

They went immediately to the hospital, where the diplomat's condition was considered "very grave." It was expected that a second op-ration to remove a bullet from his abdomen would be performed. A bullet was removed from his right shoulder yesterday.
