The Merchant—The Siege of Metz.

It is written: "All the world's a stage." It might be written with equal truth that all the world's a market. The market is vast, the merchandise infinite, and the merchants the whole human race. The market has its romance, its picturesque features, its oddities and its comicalities. The peddler is a tramp merchant, and so is the Gypsy, in his way. One merchant holds strictly to a rigid classification. Another, who holds forth on the line of the Chesapeake and Southwestern railroad, announces himself on the sign over his store as "Under-taker and Dealer in Family Groceries." There is variety and range enough to satisfy the most unreasoning. The C. O. & S. W. railroad seems to have attracted an original type of merchants, for another one proclaims on his sign, in beautifully designed letters, that he is a dealer in "General Merchandise." That merchant must hold his customers spell-bound.

Hopkinsville has had some prosperous merchants and several notable instances of success. The corner building on Main street, just South of Court Square, has lately given an example of remarkable mercantile thrift. Messrs. Metz & Timothy were conducting two large retail dry goods establishments in Nashville and a branch in Chattanooga, having heard of the rich territory around Hopkinsville, examined the field and at once determined to open a large branch house here. The determination was formed in the dull days of last spring when there was prevailing sluggishness and despondency. The firm, nevertheless, did not wait for a more convenient season to put their project in motion. They made their scheme materialize at once, and determined to conquer success. A heavy miscellaneous stock of dry goods was immediately placed in a room which, having been occupied as a grocery for several years, had been vacant and deserted by its patrons for several months.

They did more. They knew by experience the power of print and the newspaper will go into every family, and they determined to advertise largely, lavishly, properly. The public were astounded by the boldness of the new merchants whose daily motto was, "Advertise! advertise! advertise!" People wondered; they dropped in out of idle curiosity, and came out buyers. Within a week Metz & Timothy had made their firm name a household word and had conquered success by their daring. Their counters were literally besieged by buyers. It was another siege of Metz. A statement of their sales during a remarkably dull season would seem fabulous. A hint of their amazing energy is given in the fact that their cash checks alone printed by the New Era steam printing press amounted to the prodigious number of 300,000 copies.

Is there not a genius for "merchandise" as the Chesapeake and Southwestern trader has it? Is there not a potency in printer's ink and a magic spell in the voice of the newspaper? Behold the convincing proof!

The success of this firm is evidenced by the fact that they have just leased for three years, the deserted corner store which they rented as an expedient, and have contracted for the entire remodeling of the upper story for their growing trade. They will open a large and elegant room for the sale, at popular prices, of cloaks and wraps of all kinds, in plush, fine cloths and furs, which they say shall be the best ever offered in this market. They will also open a special department for fine trunks, valises and traveling bags. Besides these special features they will handle more largely than ever fine lines of ladies' dress goods, gentlemen's elegant furnishing goods, ladies' underwear, gloves and hosiery of the most fashionable styles and choicest quality, and a linen, lace and general notion department without a precedent for general excellence and utility in the trade.

Merchants like Metz & Timothy are an acquisition to the city. They enlarge the limits of its trade and invite buyers from other counties, by a continual succession of novelties. They never suffer the grass to grow under their feet. Their store is a house of industry, and they keep the public posted weekly on the newest features of their market by continual advertising. They win success by merit.

News From Crofton.
CROFTON, KY., Aug. 10, 1886.
Editor New Era.
John B. Lyell died on McFarland yesterday of age. He was about 28 years of age and leaves a family.

John M. West, of our town, is confined this week to his room from Manington, after visiting relatives in our town.

Judge A. V. Long, of your city, has been spending a few days with Job Clark near here.

The woods are said to be full of gray squirrels.

Several new dwellings will be erected here during the fall, the foundations of which are already made—that is the plans are revolving in the minds of those who contemplate it.

Our town, while it is true, has been infested with the usual amount and variety of the annoyances and vexations of life such as usually attend villages, has reason to congratulate itself of the exemption of a brass band and a base ball club.

It is somewhat strange how active our minds become and what wonderful rapidity they run when stimulated by circumstances. They may be perfectly at rest, inactive, when sudden and unexpected events start them to running with that suddenness and velocity that water turned on a Turbine wheel starts machinery. When I was a boy sitting beside the limit of a persimmon tree picking the luscious fruit that in my boyhood days was regarded with such favor, my mind was not particularly running on anything until the limb snapped and I started to the ground. During that free ride of twenty feet my mind ran enough to fill a dime novel. I wondered if there were any rocks below me and whether it would main me for life, or whether my remains would be discarded as refuse of my grandfather's house where they dressed my wounds. So in life circumstances change our thoughts and set them agoing or leave them at rest as they occur.

Pond River Sparklets.

EVERYBODY, KY., Aug. 1886.
The North Christian gentlemen who attended the trial of the negroes implicated in the murder of Col. Ebling, while in your city had a good time generally, and conducted themselves like true Kentuckians. The affair is to be deeply regretted, and we trust the negroes got what was due them.

Miss Minnie Robinson, who has been teaching school at Dogwood Chapel in the Pond neighborhood, is at home quite sick. Her sister, Miss Lattie, will take her place until she recovers.

Mr. Ben Lacey, a son of David Lacey, one of the first settlers of Christian county, is 76 years old. The first vote he cast was for Andrew Jackson for President, and he has been voting the straight Democratic ticket every since.

I regret to chronicle the death of J. R. Henderson, of the Fergusonville neighborhood. He was a clever gentleman and a good citizen. May he who noticed the "Fall of a Sparrow" console the bereaved widow and afflicted children.

Judge Champlin and County Attorney Pain will please accept my thanks for special favors. I regret the Judge's defeat, and from what I can learn, some of his best friends "went back on him." Be of good cheer, Judge, sometimes "defeat is better than victory."

Mr. David Smith, of White Plains, knows exactly how to treat his friends when they call on him.

I met the following North Christian gentlemen in Hopkinsville this and last week, viz: Squire Johnson, Hight, Powers and Messrs. Robt. Hunter, A. W. C. Meacham, John Ebling, W. Davis, Robt. Fears, Novel Spurlin and others too numerous to mention.

Your Fergusonville correspondent T. A. T. is sending some spicy letters from that place.

In my last scribble you made a mistake about the organization of Anti-C. Cumberland Presbyterian church. It was organized in 1812. Its first pastor served the people for 17 years and never received an appointment. For the whole 17 years he received $52.50. How is this for cheap gospel work?

From what I can learn the tobacco crop this year will be inferior.

SQUANDER.
TIE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to BILHOTH'S CONSUMPTION CURE. Sold by J. R. Armistead."

A Cowboy Cavalry.
KIOWA, KAN., Aug. 9.—Two hundred volunteers for a Cowboy cavalry battalion organized here to day, and will offer their services to the Secretary of War, awaiting orders to Mexico.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why over such a large number? Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. B. Garner offers you relief, has reason to congratulate itself of the exemption of a brass band and a base ball club.

It is somewhat strange how active our minds become and what wonderful rapidity they run when stimulated by circumstances. They may be perfectly at rest, inactive, when sudden and unexpected events start them to running with that suddenness and velocity that water turned on a Turbine wheel starts machinery. When I was a boy sitting beside the limit of a persimmon tree picking the luscious fruit that in my boyhood days was regarded with such favor, my mind was not particularly running on anything until the limb snapped and I started to the ground. During that free ride of twenty feet my mind ran enough to fill a dime novel. I wondered if there were any rocks below me and whether it would main me for life, or whether my remains would be discarded as refuse of my grandfather's house where they dressed my wounds. So in life circumstances change our thoughts and set them agoing or leave them at rest as they occur.

BLOOD AND MONEY.

The blood of man has much to do in shaping his actions during his pilgrimage through this troublesome world, regardless of the amount of present or expected money in pocket or stored away in bank. It is a conceded fact that we are not the best, the happiest, the healthiest, the purer the blood, the happier, healthier, prettier and wiser we are; hence the oft repeated interrogatory, "how is your blood?" With pure streams of life-giving fluid coursing through our veins, bounding through our hearts and plunging through our physical frames, our minds become better, our constitution stronger, our intellectual faculties more acute and grander, and men, women and children happier, healthier and more lovely.

Unparalleled demand the unparalleled curative powers and the unmistakable proof from those of unimpeachable character and integrity, point with an unerring finger to B. B. B.—Botanic Blood Balm—as by far the best, the cheapest, the quickest and the grandest and most powerful blood remedy ever before known to mankind. In the relief and positive cure of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Skin diseases, all taints of blood poison, Kidney complaints, old ulcers and sores, cancers, catarrhs, etc.

B. B. B. is only about three years old—a baby in age, a giant in power—but no remedy in America can make or ever has made such a wonderful life-giving cure of Scrofula, Rheumatism, Skin diseases, all taints of blood poison, Kidney complaints, old ulcers and sores, cancers, catarrhs, etc.

Letters from all points where introduced are pouring in upon us, speaking in its loudest praise of the wonderful cure B. B. B. has made from twenty, thirty and fifty and even one hundred bottles of a blood disease of incurable and non-medical roots and branches of common forest tree. We hold the proof in black and white, and we also hold the fact.

Policeman's Views.
Mrs. M. M. Prince, living at 28 West Fair St., Atlanta, Ga., has been troubled for several months with an ugly form of catarrh, attended with excruciating and offensive discharge from both nostrils.

Her system became so affected and reduced that she was confined to bed at my house for some time, and received the attention of three physicians, and used a dozen bottles of all advertised blood remedies, all without the least benefit.

She finally commenced the use of B. B. B. with a medical aid, and in one week, and when bottles had been used, she was entirely cured of all symptoms of catarrh.

It gave her an appetite, and increased her strength rapidly, and I cheerfully recommend it as a quick and cheap tonic and blood purifier.

J. W. GLOER, Policeman.
Atlanta, January 10, 1886.

FOR 3 YEARS!

Having leased the building we now occupy for a term of three years, and desiring to make some modern improvements in the same, we will sell our entire stock of Summer Goods, comprising White Goods, Lawns, Laces, Embroideries, Flouncings, Parasols, Fans, and in fact, everything in the line of Summer Goods, at prices that insure a speedy sale. We are bound to have room for the Mammoth Fall Stock which we intend to bring on. It will be the largest and best selected stock ever exhibited in Hopkinsville or Southern Kentucky.

Remember the place.

THE AUGUSTA LOCK-OUT.

Special to the Courier-Journal.
Augusta, Ga., Aug. 8.—This has been a day of gloomy excitement among the 4,000 factory people of the city. Several weeks ago the Augusta factory operative struck for an advance of wages. They numbered 600. Since that time there has been much diplomacy between the Knights of Labor and the proprietors. The strike was sustained by the other factories. To offset this organization, the six cotton-mill Presidents organized for protection against the Knights. Yesterday the mill Presidents met and decided that the quickest and best way to settle all the trouble at the mills was to notify the proprietors that unless the strikers in the Augusta factory return to work by Tuesday next, all the mills in the city would be shut down. The mill men were not brought on, but brought on by them, and that strike the operatives are co-operating and caring for each other, the mills must be shut down, or the strike common cause together force an issue which will settle the matter.

The notice was therefore agreed upon, and the unexpected bombshell created a sensation. The Knights of Labor met last night and remained in session until 1 o'clock this morning. They regard the action of the mill Presidents as a lock-out, and will do the best they can. The Augusta factory operatives will not shut down, and 4,000 operatives will be idle this week. The Knights will retaliate by a general boycott of all goods manufactured by the mills belonging to the combination causing this state of affairs. A general lock-out is in store. It has been learned that over one-third of the striking Augusta factory operatives are even now absent from the city, and the mill could not start up Monday even were the Knights of Labor willing that the strike should end, by the operatives going back at the old wages.

Among the Dudes.

MORTON'S GAP, KY., Aug. 11, '86.
Editor New Era:
Weather cool and business brisk.

The singing at Union church last evening was largely attended and enjoyed by all.

Mr. Charlie Slaton, one of our most gallant young men, who has been attending school at Glasgow, Ky., has returned home. One charming young Miss of our town is all smiles since his return.

Miss Annie Clark, who has been visiting in Hopkinsville, returned home Monday.

Illigrove Academy opened up Monday with a full attendance.

We are glad to know that Prof. McIlhenny, of Madisonville, will assist us in our singing Friday evening.

Mr. J. B. Atkinson, Jr., and Bennie Robinson paid us a call Tuesday morning.

Miss Mary Williams, one of Morton's attractive young ladies, has opened a school at Oak Grove.

We regret to announce the illness of Mr. M. Cain, one of Morton's most estimable young men, who now has the management of the Company Store at this place. During his absence the place is filled by Mr. Henry Bourland, an Earlington dude.

The young ladies of "Honeyuckle Cottage" extending their many thanks to our singing Friday evening.

A party of young folks are anticipating quite an enjoyable trip through the Diamond coal mines to-morrow afternoon.

Miss Lillie Robinson, one of Earlington's belles, is visiting Miss Annie Clark.

A small party of young folks went to Morton's Spring Tuesday evening and gave a very glowing account of a moon-light picnic.

Miss Mollie Dulin returned from Hopkinsville Monday accompanied by Miss Rychie Bonles, Miss Dixie Jackson, of Dixon, Ky., and Miss Lela Gladish, of Decatur, Ill.

Our friend "New Jersey" who has very lately come to Morton's has fallen desperately in love with one of its fair daughters, who lives just across the way from where he should spend his leisure hours.

Madame Rumbor bath it that a certain young belle in our town is soon to be to the hymeneal altar by a fascinating old bachelor. Several (formerly) high stepping dudes are not quite so elevated since the old gentleman has won the prize.

Surface Indications

What a miner would very properly term "surface indications" of what he beneath, the Pimples, Sides, Sore Eyes, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions with which people are annoyed in spring and early summer. The matter accumulated during the winter months, now makes its presence felt, through Nature's endeavors to expel it from the system. While it remains, it is a poison that festers in the blood, and may develop into Scrofula. This condition causes derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, with a feeling of nervousness, languor, and weariness—often lightly spoken of as "spring fever." These are evidences that the system is impure, and must be purified by a thorough blood-purifying medicine; and nothing else is so effective as

CURE FOR PILES.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and affecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Factory Address: The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Filgas, O. For sale by G. E. Galther.

MULES WANTED.—A car load of mules from 4 to 7 years old, 1½ to 16 hands, light, wanted at Cansler's stable next Saturday.

The children of the Keene Missionary society desire to thank all those who in any way contributed to their entertainments last week.

Corn has declined in this market to nine cents for the best lump delivered, or eight cents at the yard. But still many are not satisfied and await its fate to six.

Beware of the cool nights, hot noons and the seductive watermelon in combination. They are excellent and salutary when taken separately, but dangerous when in alliance.

city are being universally commended. In some places the heavy hauling had almost cut through and the road beds were consequently rough and uneven. There is much work yet to be done, but we look forward to the time when Hopkinsville will have excellent streets and extended drives which will invite the quiet populace out of their green lawns to try a trip of evenings out among the blooming country fields.

A young lady remarked recently that the city had been unusually dull this summer from a society standpoint. "We have not had the usual run of visitors from a distance," said she, "and a great number of our most charming people have gone off to the watering places, so that so far as teas, parties, etc., are concerned we have hardly had a ripple on the monotonous sea. I look for such a day to become more lively in a few weeks." She then remarked that the orange blossoms are ripe unto the harvest and that there are several pairs of very delicate hands soon going to gather garland for themselves.

Speaking about the "make-up" of Hopkinsville society, a dignified and observant lady, who has lived here for many years, said: "I don't think I ever knew a time when there were so many young married people in our city. These would form a most charming circle of friends, and I have never known why there are so many more known to each other than there used to be. There must be a disposition to "alleviate" themselves as some of the "yokes" is done, while, in fact, it is the most propitious time in life to cultivate the social graces. I have sometimes been inclined to think it was a sweet kind of selfishness that is re-

CLARKESVILLE, TENN., AUG. 15.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held at the court house to consider the proposition from theapeake & Ohio Railroad to complete the L. A. & T. line. Gen. Kuhns, of Chesapeake & Ohio, was here and met a number of gentlemen of the place, stating the nature of the proposition. Maj. Gordon and Mr. Houston, of this place, were present, and over all the stock and bonds exchanged hands held by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, also the road-bed of way, franchise, etc., to the peak & Ohio. Also the citizens transfer all the bonds and stocks to them by reason of the money and the city of Clarksville has exchanged its bonds to the amount of $50,000 each, for which the road is to give 1 per cent., preferred stock, and guarantees, funds and stock to the city. The city of Clarksville, Robertson, of Louisville, and trust hold and turn over to the C. C., when the contract of that company complied with, and for this company the L. A. & O. is bound by this complete the L. A. & T. to give a first-class standard gauge road operated as part of the Newport and Mississippi Valley system proposition contemplates building branch of the road into Hopkinton for which negotiations are pending at this city.

A meeting was taken, and of 200 accepted, with great unanimity, the committee appealed to present signatures of all the subscribers another committee to wait on the Board of Mayor and Aldermen to secure an ordinance submitting the vote of the people the p

What Will Happen, Giris.

Thirty nine girls.
In ten years fifteen will have married, twelve are seven or the fifties be widows dependent upon their exertions for bread and salt.

In ten years fifteen of the next twenty-two will be sleeping besides. And how far apart will the sleeping? One in Georgia, one in Florida, one in Ohio, one in Virginia, perhaps, in a misadventure in China, another amid the of the ancient Aztecs of Mexico, etc.—but only time will tell where all will sleep.

In ten years the nine I have re-mentioned will begin to lose their glory of youth, something of their youthfulness supposed to be inseparable women that are destined to marry.

In ten years, not one of the nine but will have tasted the bit that comes in time to all human flesh. They will develop something of the wisdom that is to be claimed by that same skeleton beheld just now, sorrow in a form which will be experienced—indeed even a curfew of dead sea furs
