Wrather Hall Nominated For National Register

Atty J. Granville Clark of Russellville, a descendant of George Rogers Clark, addressed the 200 members and guests of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society at their spring meeting at the Holiday Inn in Mayfield Saturday night, April 12. His informal talk was based on the Contributions of the Early Settlers of the Land Between the Lakes.

Introducing Clark as a "fine historian," Mrs. Corinne Whitehead, president of the Society, said he "spearheaded the drive that placed the buildings of the Shaker Colony at Auburn, Ky., in public trust." Mrs. Whitehead also conveyed greetings from the Marquis de LaFayette who was the winter speaker for the Historical group at her home north of Benton.

On a motion by Dean Wilson Ganit, the Jackson Purchase Historical Society voted unanimously to petition Governor Carroll to "aid in every way possible the establishment of the Jackson Purchase Museum" in Wrather Hall at Murray State University.

The society was informed that Wrather Hall had been nominated to the National Register of Historic Places, where it is hoped it will be admitted by the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Eldred W. Melton, State Historic Preservation Officer, Frankfort, Ky., has informed Murray State University: "If your property (Wrather Hall) is approved by the review staff in Washington and is listed on the National Register, it automatically becomes eligible for a 50-50 matching grant for restoration."

Clark, in his address, called attention to the fact that the Jackson Purchase is historically associated with Lyon, Livingston, Trigg and other counties east of the Tennessee River.

He briefly reviewed the lives and achievements of William Kelly in developing the "air boiling" process of manufacturing steel from iron ore. Later known as the Bessemer process, this concept, he said has contributed greatly to the entire industrial growth of the nation.

Other early settlers of the region mentioned by the Russellville historian included the Lyons, Cobb and Gracey families. "The study of history," Mr. Clark said, "helps put events into their proper perspective." Then he added, "Also, it's a lot of fun."

Miss Margaret Heath, JPHS secretary, told the group that the street on which she lives in Benton, has been renamed "Joe Creason Drive" in honor of the famed Kentucky author and Courier-Journal staffer who died last year. On a motion by Dr. Ray Mofield, the Jackson Purchase Historical Society voted unanimously to make a cash contribution to the Memorial Fund honoring Mr. Creason, a native of Benton.

Dr. Hunter Hancock, long time member of the Society, outlined plans for the annual fall bus tour of the group. Members present indicated a preference for the Bicentennial trip to be made to the Central Kentucky region.

Dr. Harry M. Sparks, president emeritus of Murray State, will become president of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society July 1.

CHARITY BALL PLANNED — Plans for the 1975 Charity Ball, scheduled for May 24, were announced today. Mrs. Brenda Marquardt, right, chairman of this year's Charity Ball and Mrs. Peggy Williams, Murray-Calloway-County Comprehensive Care Center day care teacher, are shown with some of the students at the center. The center receives all proceeds from the annual Charity Ball, in its 11th year this year.

Plans For 11th Annual Charity Ball Announced

By JOY WALDROP

Get ready for the six C's — Calloway County's Charity Ball for the Comprehensive Care Center. Plans are now being laid for the 11th annual Charity Ball which will take place on May 24, 1975.

This is the first of many articles to inform Calloway Countians and Murrayans of the Charity Ball and their Comprehensive Care Center. The many services of the center will be reviewed as well as the progress of the plans for this event.

Mrs. Gary Marquardt will serve as chairman along with Mrs. A. W. Simmons as co-chairman.

Since 1965, tickets, which are tax deductible, have been sold to this event and the money raised has been used to help support the Calloway County-Murray Comprehensive Care Center.

Mrs. Marquardt said, "I am very proud to be a member of a community that supports such a fine center in an all out way." In 11 years approximately $21,000 has been donated to the Center through the efforts of the Charity Ball. "We urge all our citizens to give their continued support to this project," said Mrs. Marquardt.

This year's ball will be held at the Harry Lee Waterfield Student Union Building on Saturday, May 24, from 9:00 p. m. till 1:00 a. m. Music will be provided by the Berle Olszwanger Orchestra and Stump Daddy. The theme will be "The Great Gatsby."

Tickets will go on sale April 21. Cash donations are also accepted and should be directed to Mrs. Edward Overby, Camelot Drive, Murray, phone 753-8973.

The following people have agreed to serve as committee chairmen.

Hubbard Says Vietnam Tragedies Will Shock The American People

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — "We're going to see some tragedies in South Vietnam in the next 10 days that will be shocking to the American people," says Rep. Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky.

Hubbard told a Kentucky postmasters' convention during the weekend that President Ford's request for nearly $1 billion in aid for South Vietnam was meant as a "morale booster" to ensure that "6,000 Americans and 50,000 sympathetic Vietnamese can be evacuated from Saigon."

"I'm sure the President's advisors are aware that his urgent plea has no chance of being approved," Hubbard said. He added that he believes United States armed forces will be used within 10 days to help evacuations in Saigon.

"It is very possible that Congress will have to authorize the armed forces to see that Americans and some South Vietnamese are safely lifted by air and sea," he said. "Americans who have chosen to remain in the capital city are in serious danger."

The danger, he said, is not only from Communist forces, but from South Vietnamese "upset at the lack of continued support from the United States."

New Coinage Aids Calloway Countians

Currently, the amount of paper money in circulation in Calloway County and in most other parts of the country is less than usual.

It is a reflection of the recession, say the economists. People are concerned about inflation and rising unemployment and are not spending at their normal rate. The result is that there is less money circulating and recirculating.

The recent decision in Washington to cut taxes by billions of dollars, leaving more money available to consumers, is expected to bring them back to the market place, thereby giving the economy a much-needed upward push.

Not only has there been a smaller amount of paper money circulating in the local area and elsewhere. There has also been a severe shortage of coins. Storekeepers have had to scurry around to keep enough change on hand for their day-to-day business needs.

That situation is rapidly being eased, however. During the past year the U. S. Mint went into high gear, producing more than 11.6 billion new coins. It was the greatest outpouring of coins in its history.

Calloway County's share of this output, based on uniform distribution, is 1,620,000 coins or 54 per capita.

Per local resident there is now available one new 50-cent piece, 3 quarters, 5 dimes, 4 nickels and 42 pennies. In addition, the Mint turned out one one-dollar piece for every three persons.

The face value of the 11.6 billion coins produced in the year is $541 million. That is not their intrinsic value, however, in terms of metal content, since silver is no longer used in their manufacture.

The cost of producing them was only six per cent of their face value, it is estimated. The resultant profit to the Government, called seigniorage, was more than $500 million.

All totaled, according to the latest Mint figures, there are over $8.3 billion in coins, face value, spread across the country at present.

Calloway County's quota, for its population, is about $1,185,000.

As for the amount of paper money in circulation, the Treasury Department places it at $68 billion, which is mathematically equal to $324 per person in the United States.

Two Injured In Accident Early Saturday

Two Murray girls were injured in an automobile accident in Arkansas early Saturday morning and remain hospitalized today in a Memphis hospital.

Karen and Jan Garrison were hospitalized after the car in which they were riding was involved in a wreck in Crittenden County, Arkansas. Both are listed in satisfactory condition at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis.

Jan sustained a slight concussion and cuts and bruises in the mishap, and Karen received cuts and bruises. Karen is expected to be released today or tomorrow, but Jan will have to stay for several days, according to the girls' father, Junior Garrison.

Details of the accident were not available this morning, but Garrison said the girls were visiting friends and were on their way back to Murray when the accident occurred. Both girls were passengers in the auto.

Martha McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney of Murray, was named as second runner-up in the Good Citizenship contest for the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She had placed first in the district and state contests and was presented an award and $100 bond at the "Americanism Luncheon" held at the Kentucky DAR convention. The Indiana entry was named as first in the national contest. Miss McKinney, a senior at Murray High School, was sponsored by the local Captain Wendell Oury Chapter of the DAR.

Researcher Says Kentucky, Tennessee And Alabama More Likely For Tornadoes

CHICAGO (AP)—If a University of Chicago researcher and his two coworkers are right, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama are from three to five times more likely to suffer major tornado damage this year than states west of the Mississippi.

They say they have discovered a 45-year cyclical pattern to the nation's most severe tornadoes — a pie-slice-shaped danger zone revolving slowly around a point near Piggott, Ark.

Dr. T. Theodore Fujita says the new findings will help narrow down high tornado risk areas in advance each year, although weather scientists are still unable to predict precisely when and where individual tornadoes will occur.

Fujita, who is professor of geophysical sciences at the University of Chicago, bases his findings on tornado records dating back to 1916. He says the findings will enable residents and Civil Defense authorities in high-risk areas to better prepare for killer tornadoes.

Weather records reveal that most severe tornadoes have occurred in a more or less elliptical area centered on northeastern Arkansas. The ellipse extends northeast to lower Michigan, southwest beyond the southern tip of Texas, northwest into central Kansas and into the Florida Panhandle to the southeast.

Fujita and his colleagues found that killer tornadoes tend to occur in only one pie-shaped quadrant of the ellipse during a given year. According to their findings, the high-risk quadrant is constantly moving in a clockwise direction, completing its cycle every 45 years.

Fujita said that his findings do not mean that major tornadoes cannot occur outside this high-risk quadrant, but that the chance of a disastrous twister within the quadrant is from three to five times higher than in the rest of the tornado zone. Currently, the high-risk quadrant takes in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama, as well as extreme southern Illinois, southeastern Indiana, central and southern Ohio, western West Virginia, northwestern Georgia, extreme western Florida and northeastern Mississippi.

Fujita points out that Chicago was well within the high-risk quadrant in 1967 when a tornado killed 31 persons and did an estimated $20 million in property damage in south suburban Oak Lawn. He said that the high-risk quadrant will next sweep over northern Illinois in about 2010.

Fujita says he and his colleagues completed their research only last month, and that he will meet from Monday through Thursday with civic and civil defense leaders.

Tappan To Recall 70 Employees

The recall to work of approximately 70 furloughed employees at the Murray Tappan plant on April 28 will raise total employment at the plant to almost 600 employees.

"Our new spring promotional modle has created the need for additional units from this plant," plant manager Dave Dickson said. "We are encouraged in that this recall represents approximately 20 per cent of those employees currently on layoff."

Tappan made its first reduction of employees in October of 1973 and followed with a brief callback of some employees in the early summer of 1974. In October of 1974, another major cutback was made and has remained in effect until the present.

"We have seen some signs of a few bright spots in product and customer categories which may indicate an early turn-around in sales," Dickson added.

The local Tappan plant currently has 509 employees and the recall will increase total employment at the plant to 579.

Also on the local employment picture, Roy Kain, manager of the Murray Fisher-Price plant, said this morning that "things look good here but buyers are still cautious." Kain indicated that he felt the local situation would see some improvement by mid-year.

Honor Concert To Be Held Tuesday At Murray State

The President's Honor Concert, an annual program that has become a popular event at Murray State University since it was introduced seven years ago, will be held Tuesday evening, April 15.

Scheduled at 8:15 p. m. in Lovett Auditorium, the concert will include several numbers by The Wind Sinfonietta and The Symphonic Band and feature Dr. Arved M. Larsen, a 1942 honor graduate, as the honored guest conductor for two selections.

Paul W. Shahan, director of bands at Murray State, will conduct the 36-piece sinfonietta and the 59-piece band in the other music on the program.

Initiated as a tribute to honorees "for their contributions to music and for their positive influence on youth," according to Shahan, the concert is open to the public at no charge.

Dr. Constantine W. Curris, university president, will present a presidential plaque of recognition to Larsen for his dedication and contributions to music and music education and for the credit he has reflected on Murray State.

Larsen, chairman of the Department of Music at Southern Connecticut State College, New Haven, Conn., will conduct the sinfonietta in the playing of "Chatham" by Jared Spears and the band in the playing of "Pageantry" by Robert Washburn.

The sinfonietta will also play "Alleluia: Laudamus Te" by Alfred Reed and the prelude to "Richard III" by William Walton, and the band will play the "King Stephen" overture by Beethoven, "Festival Centennial" by Francis McBeth, and "Festival" by Clifton Williams, all conducted by Shahan.

Larsen, widely known as a writer as well as for his work in music education, has been on the faculty at Southern Connecticut since 1951. His teaching experience also includes two years at Jacksonville (Ala.) State University and two years as a music supervisor in the Washington (N. J.) public schools.

Anne Gregory Selected As Best Pianist

Notification has been received from the State chairman of High School Auditions, one of the activities of the Kentucky Music Teachers Association, that Anne Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gregory of Murray, was selected the winner of the KMTA-sponsored Piano Contest-Festival held on the Murray State Campus on March 15.

As regional winner, she will represent this area in the state-level competition which will be part of the program of the KMTA State Convention next November in Lexington. Those entering the regional contest must play from memory one

Tax Deadline Approaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 20 million Americans have little more than a day to file their tax returns. The deadline is midnight Tuesday.

The Internal Revenue Service says that as of the first week of April an estimated 25 million persons had yet to file their returns.

For those who don't make the deadline, the penalty is 5 per cent a month on any taxes due with the maximum penalty 25 per cent of any money unpaid.

Late filers can cut down their liability if they owe money by sending in their returns on time without the tax due. This way their penalty is 6 per cent a year on the unpaid money, or five-tenths of 1 per cent a month.

As long as the envelope on a return carries an April 15 postmark, the return will be considered to have met the deadline, the IRS says.

Anne Gregory

selection by a Baroque composer and one other selection of their choice and take a written examination in music theory.

Miss Gregory, a sophomore at Murray High School, has been studying piano since she was eight. She has received a superior rating each of the three years that she has entered the KMTA Festival and was first runner-up in the piano contest sponsored by the Murray Woman's Club in 1974. At Murray High School, she plays piano in the Stage Band and clarinet in the Symphonic Band, and she was selected for the All-District Band. An honor roll student at Murray High, Anne is a member of the Student Council, on the staff of the Black and Gold, and a member of F.H.A.

The Kentucky Music Teachers Association competition will include the winner from each of the seven regions who will perform a prescribed program, take a theory examination, and prepare a required concerto. Runner-up in the Murray regional Festival was Vicki Walker of Madisonville.

Rebel Forces Punch Into Edge Of Phnom Penh

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Insurgent forces were reported to have entered the western part of Phnom Penh today, and the fall of the Cambodian capital appeared imminent.

In South Vietnam, the embattled government claimed damaging blows to North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces at Xuan Loc and on other fighting fronts.

Kyodo, the Japanese news agency said its correspondent in Phnom Penh, a Cambodian, reported the entry of Khmer Rouge forces into the city. He said homes in the western sector were on fire, and residents were converging on the center of the city.

The report also said a Cambodian air force T28 fighter-bomber dropped two bombs on the military command headquarters about noon and flew away to the east. The report contained no further details, but an Associated Press dispatch from Phnom Penh confirmed the attack and said the plane apparently was flown by an air force pilot who had defected.

An earlier AP dispatch said the Communist-led insurgents were driving on Phnom Penh from east and west, and thousands of terrified civilians and deserting soldiers were flocking into the city.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Forethought must be day's watchword. Make no important decisions and sign no agreements without careful deliberation. Some misleading influences.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
By going along with your associates, you can further your own plans as well. It's a day when teamwork will pay satisfying dividends.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
A time for definitely clarifying your objectives. Get together with those who share your interests and, between you, work out a clear and concise program of action.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Some restrictions where personal relationships are concerned. In mid-morning, especially, avoid discussions which could upset associates.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
You may have to make some concessions in a business matter, but the end results will be worthwhile. Expect some good news in the p.m.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
How you relate to others will be especially meaningful now. Be particularly alert in communication with those who are important to your interests.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Slow down to gather forces more compactly, to conduct activities more adroitly. Don't deviate from a pre-planned schedule for no good reason.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)
This should be a stimulating day, but there are two admonitions: Don't take on more than is reasonable and don't scatter energies — both tendencies now.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Small things may try your patience, but you have the will power to overcome aggravation. Use it! Keep your mind clear so you can act properly at strategic moments.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Some unexpected situations possible, so be alert. Take time to think over all the angles; then, in your usual competent manner, set out to correct what's undesirable.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
An immediate follow-up on certain plans and projects recently begun will be important now, since you have the "go" sign in all endeavors.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Get facts and figures straight before attempting new undertakings. Don't stretch your budget too far, but do not hesitate to spend a bit in a truly sound venture.

YOU BORN TODAY, intensely active and energetic, are a born progressive, with a versatility that fits you for success in many fields, notably: art, literature, the law, business management, invention and the theater. You tend to be emotional, overly aggressive at times, and stubborn, too.

Carol Lynn Sellers Is Honored At Shower

Miss Carol Lynn Sellers, April 19th bride-elect of Dennis B. Burkeen, was the honoree at a delightfully planned bridal shower held on Sunday, April 6, at two p. m. at the Community Room of the Murray Federal Savings and Loan building.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Alvin Usrey, Richard Armstrong, Howell Thurman, Kenneth Mohler, Michael Manning, Jackie Burkeen, C. W. Outland, and Euple Thompson.

The honoree chose to wear for the occasion a lime green two piece dress and was presented a hostesses' gift corsage of yellow carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Bernice Sellers of Ripley, Tenn., and her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. J. B. Burkeen, were presented hostesses' gift corsages of white carnations. Also present from Ripley, Tenn., were her sisters, Mrs. Charles Simpson and Miss Sharon Sellers, her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Sellers, and her aunt, Mrs. Don Ammons. The bride-elect, assisted by the groom-elect's sister, Miss Patsy Burkeen, Mrs. Dale Arnold, and Mrs. Mohler, opened gifts which had been placed on white covered tables with yellow streamers running from the corners to the white wedding bell at the ceiling. The corners were decorated with yellow bows.

Refreshments of green punch, individual white decorated cakes, nuts, and mints were served at the table overlaid with a white linen cloth edged in lace and centered with a white ceramic cupid container holding artificial painted fruit flanked by yellow candles in white holders. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The guests signed the register book with a plume feather pin at the table overlaid with a white cloth and centered with a special candle arrangement. Mrs. Taz Lamb was the winner of the game prize.

About sixty persons were present for the occasion. Another courtesy extended to the bride-elect was a bridal shower held on Sunday, March 23, at two p. m. at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Don Ammons at Ripley, Tenn.

Hostesses for the occasion were her sister, Mrs. Charles Simpson, her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Sellers, and her aunt, Mrs. Ammons.

For the occasion the bride-elect wore an orange and white dress and was presented a corsage of white carnations. She opened her many gifts for the guests to view.

Refreshments of snowball cake, nuts, and punch were served to about thirty persons present including close friends and members of her family there, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. J. B. Burkeen, and sister, Miss Patsy Burkeen, of Murray.

More on Clods Who Put Their Feet in Their Mouths

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thank God someone wrote in to say she had had it with clods who always ask handicapped people. "What happened to you?"

I am engaged to a handsome, 24-year-old man who lost his left hip and leg to cancer surgery. He wears a prosthesis, but it doesn't function like a real leg, and he must also use crutches and has a lot of difficulty getting around.

It never fails, no matter where we go. Some idiot will come up to him and ask, "What happened to you?" When he tells them, they reply that they know about a dozen people who had the same thing and most of them just died from it. This is the God's truth. We have gone to restaurants and have had drunks come up and fall all over us slobbering and crying about what a pity it is to see such a good-looking young man in such terrible shape.

Believe me, we have taken to staying home lately rather than to go out and run into such stupid numbskulls. Please ask parents to teach their children to be a little more considerate of handicapped people. They've suffered enough.

ALSO HAD IT WITH CLODS

DEAR ABBY: The annual "POOR ME" award should go to "Had it with Clods." She (or he) wrote, "The next time you see a handicapped person, don't ask, 'What happened to your legs? What happened to your arm? What happened to your face?' Just keep your mouth shut, and leave us alone!"

"Had it" appears to be suffering from a disability far more serious than physical. An emotional one. Unfortunately the "leave us alone attitude" is exactly what the physically handicapped do not need. They need more attention when it comes to building designs, education, employment, medical assistance and housing. The tendency to divorce the physically disabled from the mainstream of life is one of their biggest problems.

I am an active, 50-year-old, single paraplegic, and I sure as hell don't want to be left alone. I want to live, learn, work and play. And I enjoy flirting with the opposite sex just as any other redheaded, healthy grandmother would—I just do it from a fast-rolling wheelchair.

PEGGY BENDRICK, RICHMOND, VA.

DEAR ABBY: I have the perfect solution to the "clod" who asks, "How did you lose your leg?"

Simply say, "I will tell you if your promise that you will not ask another question about it."

When the "clod" promises, reply, "It was bitten off. Now—no more questions from you!"

WINTER HAVEN, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more "clod" letter? I have a friend who has one leg and a marvelous sense of humor. Someone once asked, "Chum, how did you lose your leg?" He replied, "I didn't lose it. I know where it is!"

OAK PARK, ILLINOIS

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "had it with Clods," the handicapped person who resented being asked about his (or her) handicap.

I, too, have a handicap that shows... arms, legs, face. But unlike "Had it," I am not resentful if strangers inquire. My handicap is part of me, although admittedly, probably the least important part of all. But if someone is sufficiently interested to ask, why shouldn't I answer politely and calmly? To pretend that the handicap doesn't exist, and to expect others to, is unrealistic.

LIKES PEOPLE IN PORTLAND

In the case of people who ask maliciously, I think it's even more important to answer them calmly and kindly. They obviously need to be shown an example of gracious behavior.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Three ways better
Better Boy
After years of research, plant breeders have developed Better Boy, a tomato that is three ways better: resistant to verticillium, fusarium, and nematodes (VFN), the three main causes of blight in tomato plants.
Since it's also an F₂ Hybrid, it gives you more fruit, tastier fruit, over a longer period of time. Try it and you'll never go back to ordinary tomatoes again.
It's planting time! Plant the hybrid—plant Better Boy.

Winners from last week were Ruth Brandon, high, Earleen Zook, second high, and Rowena Emerson, third high, according to the hostess, Doris Rose.

Ruth Wilson Circle Plans Tuesday Meet

The Ruth Wilson Circle of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church will have an all day meeting on Tuesday, April 15, at ten a. m. at the church with Mrs. Lee Lassiter presenting the lesson on "Jonah."

A potluck luncheon will be served at noon with the ladies of the Martin's Chapel Church as guests.

When you buy beef that carries the USDA grade shield, you're assured of the quality—and each grade indicates a particular level of quality, according to UK Extension foods specialists. U.S. Prime is the ultimate in tenderness, juiciness and flavor. It has abundant flecks of fat within the lean, called marbling. U.S. Choice beef has slightly less marbling than Prime but is still of very high quality—more Choice beef is produced than any other grade. U.S. Good grade beef is relatively tender but lacks some of the juiciness and flavor of Prime or Choice; this grade often pleases thrifty shoppers because it is somewhat more lean than the higher grades.

GILSON TILLERS
Compact models — for small gardens
Heavy-duty models — for large gardens
You duplicate nature's own method of building soil fertility with a Gilson tiller. Here's why: Gilson's perfect slicing and blending action mixes up soil and organic matter thoroughly... forms a loose, aerated seedbed. As a result, plant roots penetrate and reach out easily; moisture is absorbed more readily; decomposition of soil minerals and organic waste takes place quicker. Your garden gets off to a faster start and flowers and vegetables grow bigger than ever before. Gilson tillers feature extra heavy construction, guaranteed tines (replaced free if ever broken), cast iron gear case, adjustable tilling widths, 3½ to 8 hp. See us for a demonstration in your own garden.

Down Concord Way----- Entertainment At Kentucky Lake Music Barn Heard By Large Crowds

By Estelle Spiceland
 April 7, 1975
 Some former Concoders, Bub and Julia Coleman Parker and son, Al Parker, may have, with the building on the hillside past Mt. Carmel Church of the huge, red Kentucky Lake Music Barn, started some entertainment which could one day, be as famous as the Grand Ole Opry House in Nashville, Tenn. Each Saturday evening crowds attend the live stage show there, and last Sunday many, including Murray's Senior Citizens Group, attended the first Sunday-afternoon gospel singing in that building. We were among those who enjoyed the singing of the Happy Life Quartet from Benton, the Kings Sons from Concord, the Pleasant Grove Singers from Princeton, and the extra treat added by music by Jim and Jan Allbritten and Al Parker on Sunday. Another couple from Good Shepherd Church, Joe Lassiter's son, Lynn and wife, leave this week for several days in Hawaii. Raymond Fielder's son, Robert of Michigan, attended church with his father, his sister, Mrs. Alice Knight, and her son and wife, the Steve Knights, Sunday. It's good to see three generations in the same church pew. Our sympathy is always with the sick, the George Lassiters, the Gaylon Baileys, Leslie Pittmans, and countless others hospitalized so long. We wonder what business will be replacing the custom made trailer service in Floyd McClure's big garage which will be vacated in Concord, this month. That garage with its ample parking space has been of great benefit to the community passers by. Now that spring will increase traffic, we hope that the garage can still serve in some capacity.

HARRIGAN

TODAY'S TOPIC: 'OFFICE-HOLDING INDUSTRY'

In the early years of this century, the late W. W. Ball, a renowned Southern newspaper editor, coined the term "the office-holding industry." By this, of course, he meant entrenched politicians.

Today, the office-holding industry is flourishing as never before. The politicians are the gainers, the people the losers. This "industry," which Mr. Ralph Nader never complains about, is consuming the inherited capital of several generations of Americans. The tragedy is that the American people don't see the necessity of reducing the size of this costly "industry."

In a brilliant article in the March 28 issue of National Review, economics historian John Chamberlain put his finger on the failure of national politicians—the "office-holding industry"—to respond to challenges facing the nation. He pointed out that "since congressional membership runs to lawyers, not to entrepreneurs, it lacks any sense of industrial adventurousness."

Yet it is industrial adventurousness which produced the wealth of America in the past and on which the good life in the future depends. Some years ago, Mr. Chamberlain described the working of the inventive, building spirit in his book The Enterprising Americans.

Tragically, our government today is either disinterested in enterprise or actually fights it.

As Mr. Chamberlain notes, scant attention is paid in government to opportunities for developing new fuels from grain or wood alcohol, though the possibilities of success in this field are enormous. Congressional hostility to enterprise is manifested in innumerable ways these days, most recently in the junking of the oil depletion allowance which may end or seriously curb investment in exploration for oil and gas offshore. The result, in this case, undoubtedly will be federal exploration, a step toward socialist control of the oil industry.

Industry also is interested in obtaining oil from oil shale by using nuclear methods, but the anti-technology elements in and out of the federal government oppose innovation in this area.

At the state level, the "office-holding industry" often is just as bad. In Vermont, for example, the legislature recently passed a bill forbidding new nuclear power plants without express legislative approval. In New York State, Gov. Carey has said he won't permit new nuclear plants. In this manner the know-nothing, anti-technology mood is evidenced by state officeholders. The sufferers will be the people who will be denied the benefits of the advanced technology for which America long has been famous.

It isn't hard to understand why the "office-holding industry" isn't interested in industrial or business adventurousness. Power and influence are derived from increasing the size of government. A new federal oil and gas corporation would mean countless jobs to fill, huge opportunities for political patronage. As the federal establishment grows, Congress insists on more facilities, bigger staffs and, to be sure, larger salaries, for oversight of government operations.

There is much that could be done in government that is constructive, but it won't be done because it involves dismantling the establishment. For example, the antiquated, costly Post Office system could be largely turned over to private competitors. The United Parcel Service, for instance, has already shown the vast superiority of private enterprise over slowpoke federal Parcel Post.

Yet year by year, the "office-holding industry" is expanding the federal empire. It is tightening the federal grip over the medical profession and higher education. Small hospitals, for example, are engulfed in masses of federal paperwork which they are compelled to complete.

The "office-holding industry" has succeeded brilliantly in making government work high pay employment. In many lines of work, government pay exceeds the average paid by private business. Human Events recently reported that in 1973 the average federal worker made $12,984. "In contrast," the magazine noted, "the average wage paid in the private sector was only $8,900."

Americans are increasingly mindful of the high cost of government at every level. But they have yet to realize that the high cost of government is the principal cause of the inflation which is responsible for the current recession. They have yet to understand the full dimensions of the burden a swollen government establishment places on the backs of the taxpayers.

Americans need to study the uncontrolled expansion of government activities and costs and the parasitic character of bureaucratic government in our society. Government is bent on throttling the energies of the American people, at a time when those energies must be released. Hopefully, however, the industrial and business adventurousness of America will finally break through and overcome the ignorance and opposition represented by the "office-holding industry."

It's now safe to tell you that you could have had a live bear for Christmas. A debt-ridden wildlife park not far from Glasgow was selling 30 live grizzlies and Himalayans. The Loch Lomond Wildlife Park went into liquidation with debts of $1 million and assets of $417,000. Owner Patrick Telfer-Smollett said the park had been hit by bad weather, low attendance and high taxes in the two years it had been in operation so he was selling off the animals to meet his debts.

Atlanta, Ga. — A mysterious force that had been knocking out sensitive phone equipment at an airline's ticket counter in a hotel lobby turned out to be drunken birds. Ticket agents were often cut off three or four times in the course of a single phone conversation. It puzzled them a lot, but finally agent, Susan Gavalis, noticed that the phone trouble coincided with the excited shrieks of birds in the lobby's cocktail lounge. It was found that the bird's calls were on the same frequency as the one that instructed the computing equipment to disconnect the line. The reason the birds, two scarlet macaws and two Mexican yellow Amazon parrots make so much noise is that they are constantly drunk, a hotel spokeswoman said. She said people in the cocktail lounge feed them cherries and fruits from their drinks. (Atlanta Constitution)

TVA's Image Now Undergoing Change

By S. C. Van Curon

By S. C. VAN CURON

FRANKFORT—The Good Samaritan image that the Tennessee Valley Authority carried for four decades has suddenly been transformed into a Scrooge.

The recently allowed fuel adjustment charge has almost doubled rates in some areas and customers are up in arms. Incensed by the big increase in costs, citizens of the TVA area recently formed a coalition of organizations known as the Tennessee Valley Citizens Association.

This, coupled with the TVA's offer to buy out Peabody Coal Corp., is putting the public agency in a bad public relations spot.

The Tennessee Valley Citizens Association is composed of groups from Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

At a recent meeting in Nashville, Dr. David Wilson of Vanderbilt University was elected chairman. Dr. Wilson said public opposition is growing to TVA's huge electric rate increases and the environmental impact of an agency that authorizes its own projects.

Dr. Wilson said TVA has come to play a "destructive role in the region with a largely negative impact on the land, its people and its healthy development."

He apparently was referring to the large areas of coal land TVA is indirectly involved in being stripped for coal to fire the agency's large chain of steam generating electric plants.

He went on to say that TVA is presently unaccountable to the public, the public service commissions or the states it serves.

In defense of TVA, the agency was the area peoples' savior for years when the rates were exceedingly low because of the subsidies the U. S. taxpayers provided.

Dr. Wilson characterized the organization meeting as a "call to arms," and said, "it's time for the people of the Tennessee Valley to act to correct the situation. Our intent is not to destroy TVA but to save it from itself."

The immediate goals set out for the organization are to ask the General Accounting office for an investigation into the abuses by TVA of electric rates, land use, nuclear and coal and amendments to change the TVA act. Some of the recommended changes would include the appointment and selection of TVA board members, plus mandatory jury trials in the matter of land acquisition and condemnations. They also want an annual audit of TVA by the General Accounting office with a public report assuring accountability to the people of the valley and the United States Congress.

Some critics claim that TVA has become one of the worst environmental offenders in the nation in its energy policies. The rural electric cooperatives which it brought into being are now bearing the brunt of the consumer attack. Presently the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office in Frankfort is opposing huge rate increases requested by seven of the rural electric cooperatives.

In several areas the RECC rates are higher than rates imposed by adjacent investor-owned utility companies. And there seems no relief in sight if coal prices continue to rise for the fuel adjustment rate increase is automatic under present regulations.

TVA's proposal to purchase Peabody Coal Co., coupled with the agency's proposal to strip mine areas in Daniel Boone Forest has led to a Senate Public Works Committee hearing beginning April 30.

I tried to reach Dr. Wilson at Vanderbilt and his home on two successive occasions last week. The university reported he is on a month's vacation.

However, one person who is a member of the organization said the group is making an effort to get permission for representatives to appear at the hearing.

The federal government, under anti-trust laws, filed suit against Kennecott Copper Co., parent organization of Peabody, requesting that Peabody divest itself of its coal branch.

Here we have one arm of government trying to break up a conglomerate while another creature of government is waiting in the wings to snatch it up and take it off the tax rolls.

Only last week Peabody said its vast coal holdings in Henderson County are for sale, and the first news story misinterpreted this to mean Peabody wanted to sell the mineral rights outright. However, a company official corrected this by saying the coal is for sale, but the company will mine the coal. He said it would be foolish for Peabody to open expensive deep mines in Western Kentucky without a long-term contract for coal from the mine or mines.

Let's Stay Well

Oral Contraceptives And Strokes

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

BLASINGAME

The use of the Pill increases the risk of stroke in young women.

This conclusion, based on a nation-wide study of almost 1,300 women, was reported in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association by the Collaborative Group for the Study of Stroke in Young Women.

High blood pressure is a risk factor in stroke among women, and the risk is higher if they take the Pill. The group concluded, "We believe oral contraceptives should not be used by women with any degree of high blood pressure."

Also, heavy cigarette smoking by those taking the Pill significantly increases the danger of stroke. The authors suggested, "The cautious use of oral contraceptives by heavy smokers seems well advised." How heavy smoking interacts to increase the risk is not known. While non-smokers who used the Pill had a risk factor of one case in 10,000 women, the risk factor in those who used the Pill and smoked one or more packages of cigarettes per day was up to six to seven cases in 10,000 women.

Further, the Collaborative Group studied the relationship between the use of the Pill and the risk of stroke in women who have migraine or a history of headache associated with taking oral contraceptives. The researchers found that the danger of stroke was increased. As a result, they stated, "Oral contraceptives should probably not be used by women with classical or complicated migraine, nor by women whose headache symptoms are aggravated by the use of these medications."

Even with the increase in stroke from oral contraceptives, especially in the above categories, the researchers question whether pregnancy and the postpartum state are associated with even higher rates of stroke, a subject that needs further study.

"If so," the group notes, "then oral contraceptives, by preventing pregnancy, may thus lessen the occurrence of stroke."

Q. Mrs. A.P. asks if it is true that a senile patient may be helped by being placed in a chamber and given extra oxygen to breathe.

A. Many senile patients benefit by receiving extra oxygen in a hyperbaric chamber. The benefits vary. Some patients who have lost mental contact with the world recognize friends and relatives and become cooperative, even returning in some cases to reading and writing. The reason for this improvement is not clear, but it may last for weeks. Of course, aging is progressive, and senile behavior usually returns.

Q. Mrs. I.S. says that their son will soon be 15 and wants to know when he should be switched from his pediatrician to a physician who cares for adults.

A. No specific cut-off time exists or is appropriate to switch a youngster from his pediatrician to another physician. Sometimes the pediatrician will make the suggestion. Occasionally, the youngster will object to his being treated by a "baby doctor." On the other hand, if the patient's physician relationship is satisfactory to both of them, it can be continued even up until completion of high school.

'Breds Now 33-5 On Season

Siemanowski Belts Two Homers As 'Breds Belt Blue Raiders

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

The Toy Cannon exploded again Saturday afternoon. And it left Middle Tennessee State University with powder burns and all but knocked the Blue Raiders out of the fight. Murray State rightfielder John Siemanowski, nicknamed "the toy cannon" because of his small but powerful frame, powdered two long homers, drove in five runs and paced the Thoroughbreds to a pair of wins that all but eliminated Middle Tennessee from contention in the western division of the Ohio Valley Conference.

In the opening contest, senior righthander Mike Sims raised his season mark to an unblemished 8-0 by winning a 6-1 contest. The nightcap found big Randy Oliver twirling a three-hit gem as the 'Breds put Middle away 5-0.

From Siemanowski, a sophomore transfer from the University of Delaware and a native of Riverside, New Jersey, it has been a banner season.

He now has five homers, 35 runs batted in and is bombing opposing pitchers at a .412 clip. The pair of wins left Murray at 4-0 in the spring race in the western division. The conference play will end Saturday when the 'Breds are in Clarksville for a 1 p.m. doubleheader with Austin Peay.

Murray needs only a split in the twinbill to sew up the spring title, and since they also won the fall race, then the 'Breds will automatically be in the OVC Championship Series which will be played at the home of the winner of the eastern division.

The win for Sims in the opener left him only one victory short of the record of nine, held jointly by George Dugan and Jerry Weaver. Sims will be hurling the opener Saturday against the Governors.

Going into the home half of the fourth of the opener, it was a pitcher's duel as both teams had managed only one run. The 'Breds scored their tally in the first on a sacrifice fly by Jack Perconte and Middle scored an unearned run in the second.

Shortstop Leon Wurth, who carried a .427 average into the contest, led off the fourth with a single.

Third-baseman Terry Brown then lashed a double and the 'Breds had men on at second and third with nobody out. Wurth scored when Don Walker grounded out and then Gene Steuber drilled a single into left to send in Brown, leaving Murray with a 3-1 lead.

With one out in the fifth, Perconte ripped a triple and then up came Siemanowski.

Siemanowski got a hold of a belt-high fastball and smacked it over the fence in left and Murray led 5-1.

The 'Breds added a final tally in the sixth when Walker hit a solo shot to leftcenter.

Sims went the distance on the hill, fanned four and walked three men. He allowed just five hits to Middle Tennessee.

In the second contest, it was too much smoke from the arm of Randy Oliver, as far as the Blue Raiders were concerned. The senior southpaw, pitching one of his best games of the season, allowed just three singles, fanned eight and walked nobody while raising his season mark to 2-1.

Oliver got all the help he needed in the second when Wurth walked, went to third on Brown's single and scored on a single by Steuber.

In the second, Richie White led off with a walk and came all the way around when Perconte tripped down the line in right, giving Murray a 2-0 lead.

Then in the fifth, Siemanowski struck again. White and Perconte walked and Siemanowski hit a towering shot to center, well over 400 feet from the plate and Murray had the final score of 5-0 on the board.

The 'Breds were scheduled to play a pair of games today at Memphis State. Dick Allegretti and Dana Pearson were scheduled to pitch.

Then on Friday, Murray will host the University of Louisville before making the short jog to Clarksville Saturday.

Super Putt By Nicklaus On 16th Key For Win At Masters Tourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — There Jack Nicklaus stood on the 16th hole — Augusta's par three Red Bud hole — looking at a 40-foot downhill putt that must have looked more like a mile.

His ears were still ringing from the cheers of the thousands lining the long par five No. 15 just behind him where tall Tom Weiskopf had just knocked home a 12-footer for a birdie that sent him into the lead of the 39th Masters Golf Tournament with three holes to play.

"Sometimes you get a feeling about these things," Nicklaus said afterward. "I thought I could make the putt. I decided to use a different style. I decided to hand-stroke the putt rather than hit it."

A momentarily shaken Weiskopf proceeded to leave his five-iron tee shot 80 feet short on No. 16 and watch his approach putt roll to the left, still 18 feet away. He bogeyed and there was a two-shot shift in those dying moments of one of the greatest golf tournaments ever played.

"I got the two shots back that I had lost on the 14th," Nicklaus said.

Thousands pouring over Augusta's floral acres and millions viewing on television watched the battle go down to the final hole — a no-quarter, no-choke shootout involving the three finest golfers of the age.

Nicklaus emerged the winner, an unprecedented fifth Masters, his 15th major crown, the first leg on the only honor that still eludes him — the elusive Grand Slam, encompassing the Masters, U. S. and British Opens and the PGA, all in a single year.

Nicklaus finished with a four-under-par 68 for a 72-hole score of 276 but called it "the greatest Masters I have ever played, better than when I set the record (271) in 1965.

Weiskopf, a tall princely man with a swing of graceful power, and young, tow-headed Johnny Miller, at 27 rated by many as Nicklaus' heir apparent, were just one shot behind at 277, both barely missing birdie putts on the final green that would have tied them for the championship.

"I was just damn lucky," a gracious Nicklaus said. "Tom Weiskopf had a right to win. Johnny Miller had a right to win. Nobody gave it away. I felt a sense of history out there."

Nicklaus picked up the $40,000 first prize and moved within striking distance of Miller as the year's leading money winner. Miller has earned $149,476. Nicklaus now has won $149,242, Weiskopf $112,488.

Hale Irwin, the reigning U.S. Open champion, also gave the last day fans a thrill by shooting an eight-under-par 64

Defending Champ Nets All But Out

By The Associated Press
The New York Nets, the American Basketball Association's defending champions, are on the verge of elimination from the playoffs at the unlikely hands of the Spirits of St. Louis.

"They're playing good ball, we're just playing better," said St. Louis Coach Bob McKinnon after his young club beat New York 100-89 Sunday night to take a surprising 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal series.

The Spirits finished 20 games below .500 and a whopping 26 games behind New York during the regular season. They lost all 11 regular-season meetings with the Nets and the first game of the playoff series.

But since then, it's been all St. Louis, and the Spirits need only one more victory in the next three games to advance to the division semifinals against the Kentucky Colonels.

Kentucky wrapped up its series with the Memphis Sounds 4-1 Sunday night with a 111-99 victory.

In the Western Division, both Indiana and Denver can capture best-of-seven series with victories tonight. The Pacers take a 3-1 lead into San Antonio against the Spurs and the Nuggets hold the same margin heading into Salt Lake City against the Utah Stars.

The Spirits' surprising turnaround against New York has resulted from their strong work off the boards. St. Louis out-rebounded the New Yorkers 63-44 Sunday night, a statistic not lost on Nets' Coach Kevin Loughery.

"I can't believe it. They got about every rebound they wanted," said Loughery. "That last quarter was something. Our defense was playing well but we were giving them second and third shots."

Earnes finished with 23 points and 20 rebounds while teammate Maurice Lucas had 20 points and 18 rebounds. Erving led the Nets with 35 points. The series continues Tuesday night in New York.

Artis Gilmore poured in 31 points to lead Kentucky past Memphis. The Colonels built a 17-point lead after three quarters and held off a mild Sounds' rally in the late going.

Louie Dampier added 21 points and Ted McClain had 20 points for the winners who lost forward Dan Issel with a twisted knee early in the second quarter. George Carter topped Memphis with 26 points.

Racer Golf Team Gains Title At Tech Tourney

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledges & Times Sports Editor
Nobody told Mike Hoyle that the pressure was on him.

When he stepped to the 17th tee, he didn't realize five of his teammates were in and Murray State and Eastern Kentucky were tied for first place in the Tennessee Tech Intercollegiate Golf Tournament at Cookeville this weekend. In the same group with Hoyle was Dan Bogdan of Eastern. After 16 holes in the final round, Hoyle was three over par and Bogdan was six over. That left Murray State with a three-stroke lead with the whole tournament riding on the next two holes.

Bogdan eagled the par-five 17th hole and went to four over. Hoyle knocked in a 12-foot putt for a birdie and went to two over, leaving the Racers ahead by two strokes, though at the time, Hoyle didn't know it.

And then the 18th hole! Another par-five, Bogdan hit the green in two and two-putted out, rolling in a short putt for a birdie. That meant Hoyle had to par the hole or the two teams would be tied.

Meanwhile, Hoyle hit the green in three. And he knocked in a four-foot putt for his par, leaving Murray with a one-stroke win in the tourney.

The Racers finished with a team total of 755 while Eastern had a 756 for the 36-hole event. Other team scores included Tennessee Tech Purple 765, Morehead 774, Christian Brothers College 781, Tennessee-Chattanooga 789, Tech Gold 793, Carson Newman 815, University of the South 824 and Roane State 844.

Murray State senior Bruce Douglass continued in his role of Johnny Miller. Playing this season like he was a pro on every course, the Stoughton, Mass., native won another individual title at Tech by firing rounds of 72-71 for a one-under par 143.

Hoyle had rounds of 71-74 and finished in second place with a 145 while Bogdan of Eastern was third with a 147, finishing with round of 72-75.

Morehead's fine senior golfer, Eddie Mudd, was fourth with a 148 while Paul Locoro of Eastern Kentucky also had a 148.

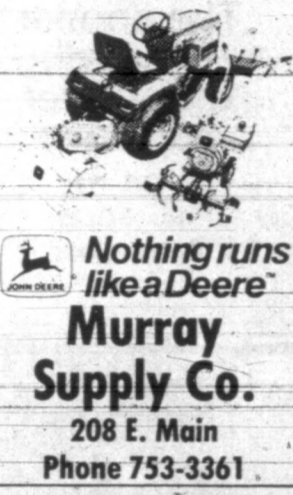

Other Murray golfers and their scores included Mike Perpich 73-78 for a 151, Kevin Arnold 80-76 for a 156, Steve Gatens, 83-77 for a 160 and Kevin Klier, who was bothered by a bad back, had 88-88 for a 176.

This year, the Racers of Coach Buddy Hewitt have played in nine tourneys. In five of those tourneys, Douglass has won the individual championship.

He has yet to finish lower than sixth in any of the tourneys he has played in. The next tourney appearance for the Racers will be April 25-27 when they play in the most prestigious college tourney, the Chris Schenke Invitational in Statesboro, Ga.

Tiny Archibald Plays Key Role As Kings Nip Bulls, Sonics Advance

By ROBERT MOORE
AP Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Nate "Tiny" Archibald made like a tricky football quarterback Sunday.

The basketball ace of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings baffled Chicago with a dazzling exhibition of penetrating the Bulls' defense. If the Bulls played Tiny to pass off, he went in for the layup. If they played him for a layup, he passed off.

After it was all over, the Kings had conquered the Bulls 102-95 in a National Basketball Association Western Conference semifinal playoff game that wasn't as close as the score indicates.

"I really didn't know whether I was going to penetrate all the way for a layup or pass off," said Archibald. "They were trying to prevent me from going all the way for a layup."

Often, Archibald, with seemingly easy shots close to the basket, flipped the ball to Jimmy Walker or Larry McNeill.

The Kings' victory evened the best-of-seven series at 1-1. The teams play again Wednesday night in Chicago where the Bulls held Archibald to 12 points and won the opener 95-89 last week.

Two games are on tap tonight with Boston and Golden State getting into playoff action for the first time. Boston opens a best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal series against the Houston Rockets. Houston earned the right to go against the defending champion Celtics by eliminating the New York Knicks with a convincing 118-86 triumph Saturday.

The Warriors go against the upstart Seattle SuperSonics in game one of a Western Conference semifinal series. Seattle advanced by dumping the Detroit Pistons 100-83 Saturday night.

With the Kings ahead at half-time 55-51, Archibald and Walker broke the battle wide open in the early moments of the third quarter with a flurry of baskets that opened up a 16-point lead. During that spree, Archibald sank 10 points and Walker eight.

Walker started it with two quick baskets. After McNeill, who topped all scorers with 28 points, hit two free throws, Archibald chipped in with six straight points, and Walker poked in two more field goals.

Walker had 26 points. Bob Love of the Bulls, who contributed 38 points in Chicago's first-game victory, had to settle for 21 in this one.

Mike Owen Has Super Weekend For Racers

By ROSS BOLING
For the Murray State tennis team, this past weekend combined all the essential elements of a classical Greek tragedy: the long, dismal fall from nobility followed by the emotional purgation of knowing exactly where you stand.

The weekend marked a nadir in Racer tennis history. Besides losing to UK 7-2 which was more or less expected, Murray lost do-or-die conference matches to Eastern Kentucky and Morehead, both by identical 6-3 scores, which was more or less unexpected. Before this weekend the Racers had never dropped a match to either Eastern or Morehead nor have the Racers been winless this far into any previous OVC campaign.

With their over-all record standing at a woeful 2-12 and their conference mark at 0-4, the Racers worst fears have been confirmed; they finally know that they are, at this juncture anyway, the last-place team in the conference.

There were, however, a few individual bright spots for Murray furnished mostly by Mike Owen and Del Purcell. Owen scored three singles wins which included a startling upset of UK's all-SEC performer Scott Smith. Purcell posted highly impressive victories over Kentucky's "Gilly" Gilliam and Eastern's Rick Heichemer.

No one seriously gave Mike Owen a chance when he took the court Thursday afternoon against Scott Smith. After all, Smith has only been touted as the greatest tennis player ever in the school's history. The other Racers had ribbed him all week about the less than enviable task facing him in Lexington. Even Owen himself, while talking with his father over the phone Wednesday night, wasn't really looking forward to playing Smith. He viewed it as a practice match, a match in which to work on his shots and hope for the best. To actually win was the farthest thing from his mind.

And after Smith had easily captured the first set no one was really surprised; things were evolving exactly according to everybody's expectations. But that's when some, shall we say, incredibly unexpected things began happening and they didn't stop happening until Owen had won the next two sets, 6-4 6-4, and recorded what was perhaps the biggest upset of the year in the Mid-South and certainly the most impressive win of his tennis career.

The apparent turning point was that first set, the one that conformed to everybody's expectations, the one Owen made only a half-hearted effort to win, thinking simply that he had no chance of winning it. After that it was just a matter of redeeming lost pride.

"I just didn't have the right attitude going into the match. I didn't think I had a chance so I didn't try as hard as I should have," explained Owen.

"After I lost that first set Coach (Bennie Purcell) got up and left. I got kind of embarrassed so I decided to try and play my best."

Smith had previously lost only one singles match this year and is one of the favorites to take the SEC championship at number one. Besides his victory over Smith, Owen was the only Racer to win both of his conference singles matches, beating Eastern's Joe Shaheen (who played with his foot in a cast) 6-1 6-0 and Morehead's Bob Vigar 6-4 0-6 6-3, which upped his conference mark to 4-0.

Del Purcell, displaying his finest play of the year, was almost as impressive in his victory over UK's Gilliam and Eastern's Heichemer. Down 1-4 in the first set tiebreaker against Gilliam, he stormed back to win four straight points and the set 7-6 and took the second set 7-6 as well. Against Eastern's Heichemer he played consistently intelligent tennis to win 6-3, 3-6, 6-2 and prove to all the spectators at hand that there are now two Purcell brothers to be reckoned with on a tennis court.

Ross Boling accounted for the only other Racer victory in singles by beating Morehead's Bill Spell 6-2 6-4 but was more impressive when paired with Owen in doubles. The number one duo beat Eastern's Poppy Shores and Aiden Bulentkaya 6-1 6-2 and Morehead's Spell and George Erickson 7-6 7-5 for the only Racer doubles victories.

The other Racer netters, number three Tom Lie, number five Craig Mangold and Number six Jim Lukeman lost all of their matches in singles and doubles.

Following the loss to Morehead, perennially the league's door-mat in tennis, Coach Purcell was gloomily terse.

"It doesn't look too good at this point. I just hope some of us can have good individual seasons from now on," commented Purcell.

The two most obvious candidates for that distinction are Owen and Purcell. They are the only Racers who boast winning singles records. Owen's is 10-4 and Purcell's is 8-6.

Iowa State Wins Track Meet, Racer Women Get Second

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
One of the main axioms of sports is to never give up, even when all seems lost.

And that's just what happened Saturday afternoon at the Murray State Women's Invitational Track Meet.

With only 28 points in the meet and in eighth place, a few of the members of the team had already left, thinking the meet was over. However, outside Stewart Stadium, the javelin competition was still going on.

And what happened was a beautiful storybook ending for the sixth annual MSU Invitational, which this year, featured 17 teams.

To the surprise of quite a few people, the Racers captured first and second place in the javelin gaining 18 points and vaulting into second place. The weavers of the carpet of comeback were Sue Sewing and Babs Laha.

Sewing took first in the event with a fine effort of 128-3 while Laha was second with a 123-11½, thus giving Murray 18 more points to be tacked on to their 28.

Scoring in the meet was on a 10-8-6-4-2-1 system. Powerful Iowa State, which took fifth in the nationals last year, easily captured the team title, amassing 146½ points while runnerup Murray had 46.

Kentucky was third with 45, Southwest Missouri fourth with 42 and Western Kentucky fifth with 38.

Other team scores included Graceland College (Iowa) 34, Illinois State 31½, Purdue 24, Tennessee 24, Mississippi University for Women 22, School of the Ozarks 16, Florida State 10, Eastern Kentucky 5, Southern Illinois 5 and Berea 0.

Eight meet records fell during the course of the day—time was a fine 16.0. The Racers had only one third place in the meet, that too belonging to Carol Schafer. She recorded a 69.2 in the 440-hurdles to take third.

The only fourth place on the day was in the mile where Lissa Moore, a freshman from Frankfort, ran a new school record and a personal best of 5:24.

Fifth place seemed to be the most popular. Murray had four of those.

Kathy Schafer in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:32, Moore in the two-mile run with a new school record and a personal best of 11:59, Joan Weber with a 27.5 in the 220 and Laha with a 108-5 in the discus; all earned five places. Two sixth-place finishes rounded out the scoring. Carol Schafer was sixth in the high jump with a 4-9 while the 440-yard relay team finished sixth.

Weber, Linda Rudolph, Patty Brown and Pattie Fitzhugh all ran legs and finished sixth with a new school mark of 51.6.

With the second place finish in their own invitational tucked away, the Racers will try to use that for a springboard this weekend when they go to Morehead for the State Championship.

The Racers will be trying to defend the title they won last year when the state meet was held in Stewart Stadium.

Washington Roundup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is considering a bill to boost employment in the depressed auto industry by having the federal government buy 121,000 new cars and trucks to replace virtually all of its nationwide fleet. The proposal, characterized by one supporter as a "food stamp program for the automobile manufacturers," would cost $443 million. Its provisions are included in the emergency employment bill which has passed the House and is pending in the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The day is rapidly approaching when the ranks of America's oldest veterans, those who fought in the Spanish-American war, will dwindle to fewer than 1,000. But many are still surprisingly spry. The Veterans Administration counted 1,098 Spanish-American war vets alive last month. That compares with 1,595 alive last July and 1,804 alive in July of 1973. There were 392,000 Americans who participated in the turn-of-the-century hostilities.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A painting of American astronauts blasting from earth and landing on the moon has tourists straining their necks in surprise as they file through an antique Capitol corridor. With no public fanfare, a muralist hired by a Senate commission used the space-age theme to fill one of several large ovals that were left blank by artist Constantine Brumidi nearly 100 years ago for history to complete. The new painting by muralist Allyn Cox shows the highlights of the moon mission which was climaxed on July 20, 1969, with the first landing of men on the moon.

KIPA Names MSU Student To Post Over Past Weekend

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association has named Western Kentucky University's College Heights Herald as the

No. 1 campus newspaper among the state's colleges with more than 5,000 students.

The No. 2 paper, selected in the KIPA's recent two-day convention, was The Eastern Progress of Eastern Kentucky University. The University of Louisville's Cardinal came in third.

Officers also were elected at the convention for the 1975-76 school year.

Bruce Gardner of Jefferson Community College was elected president, Jayne Clark of Murray State University was chosen first vice-president and Deborah Clubb of Transylvania University was selected second vice-president.

Betsy Leake of Western Kentucky was elected secretary and Brenda Ellis, Paducah Community College, executive secretary.

Search For Escapee Is Continuing

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The search for a 28-year-old convict who allegedly kidnaped a guard and another inmate from the Kentucky State Penitentiary continued today, with officers concentrating on the Nashville, Tenn., area, according to authorities.

William L. Herron of Missouri escaped last Friday while being transported from the state prison to a clinic in Madisonville, Prison Supt. Henry Cowan said Sunday.

Stella Stars 4-H Club Act Wins First Place In Purchase Show

The Stella Stars 4-H Club Act has won first in the Purchase Area Variety Show.

A "Bicentennial Birthday Party" was the title of the Act performed by members of the Stella 4-H Club. The Club won over Club Acts from Ballard, Carlisle, McCracken and Marshall Counties.

The Act was original with members representing historical characters out of the past. Jimmy Hale portrayed Uncle Sam and Lisa Hale as Peppi, the Bicentennial T. V. character.

A rundown of members and characters they portrayed were John Gannon, Abe Lincoln; Kevin Kernell, Alexander Graham Bell; Cheryl Tremblay, Shirley Temple; Penny Tremblay, Micky Mouse; Brad Bryan, a '49er miner; Renee Sledd, Neal Armstrong; Larry Satterwhite and Ronnie Wilson, The Wright Brothers; Jimmy Scruggs, Daniel Boone; Dawn Sledd, Susan B. Anthony who worked on women's rights to vote; Richard Tremblay, Henry Ford; Stephanie Wyatt, Betsy Ross; Donnie Hargrove, Thomas Jefferson; Terry Sledd, Will Rogers; and Timmy Barrett, Elvis Presley.

Marie Armstrong accompanied the Act and wrote the song used "The First 200 Years."

Mrs. Mayme Bryan served as Variety Show Leader—and assisted with writing, directing, etc., for the Act. Renee Sledd served as Jr. Leader and Mrs. Larue Sledd also worked with the Act. The Club will participate in the State Show during the State Fair in August. "Mr. Postman" was the title of the Penny Pinchers 4-H Club Specialty Act which won second place.

A N. O. W. speaker will be featured after the meal.

Cool tip on energy

Defrost your refrigerator before the frost is 1/4-inch thick. The frost itself acts as an insulator and cuts the cooling power of the coils.
