Answer The Call Promptly

During the week, columns after columns have been printed regarding the flood situation along the Mississippi, the Father of Waters, and its tributaries. And after all has been said, not half has been told regarding the disaster and suffering wrought by the greatest flood of modern times in this section of country, and the end is not in sight yet. Millions of acres of fertile soil that should now be in cultivation and growing crops are under one to twenty feet of water. Homes have been swept away, lives sacrificed and fortunes lost. Thousands and thousands are homeless.

It is an opportune time for every real red blooded American to show his colors and especially the citizens of Fulton, to give what they can to the relief work.

Yes, we have sent our trained nurses to assist in administering to the suffering. Our Red Cross Chapter has contributed liberally to the cash fund and the Lions club has been active in collecting clothing, but if you have not done your part, now is the time to "come across" and make the contribution as liberal as possible. Just phone any member of the Lions club what you have and it will be called for and promptly delivered where it is needed, and needed badly.

It is estimated that 2,000 refugees from the submerged areas is now in camp at Hickman and this is only one of the many camps to be cared for.

The tented city on the bluff at Hickman needs your support, will you give it? Answer with a liberal contribution.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The old Whitehead home near the Methodist church, on State Line street, sold to Dr. Medcalf some years ago, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. At the time of the conflagration the house was occupied by Mr. Austin and family, who conducted a rooming house. It was a large two-story frame structure and some of the occupants barely escaped from the burning building.

Fulton Continues Building Program

From present indications the summer and fall seasons will find Fulton alive with building operations in full swing. Work on the handsome new Methodist church building, corner Second and Carr streets, has already started and work of remodeling the Church of Christ building will soon begin.

The Kramer Lumber Company will build a large building on the vacant lot adjoining their Walnut street property.

W. M. Hill & Sons, contractors and brick manufacturers, are making improvement on their property in east Fulton to take care of their extensive business.

W. Levi Chisholm, the veteran show man of Fulton, will remodel and beautify his property on Fourth street, converting the building into a handsome showhouse.

R. H. Wade, who recently purchased of the Kramer Lumber company, the large building they now occupy on Fourth street, will remodel and convert the building into a model

Fulton Ice Company Equal to Emergency

Icing Hundreds of Cars of Meats, Fruits and Vegetables

2,000 Tons of Ice Now in Storage at Fulton Plant

Owing to high water at Mounds, Illinois, where Illinois Central railroad meat trains are usually iced, the cars in transit are being iced in this city.

The Advertiser reporter was told by Mr. Wade, proprietor of the Fulton ice plant Tuesday morning, that they were prepared for most any emergency with two thousand tons of ice in reserve. "During the first 24 hours of this week we iced 65 cars, principally meat cars from the north and a few vegetable cars from the south, and expect to ice 500 or 600 cars of berries during the season which will soon open, coming in from Ripley, Halls, Curve, Medina, Greenfield, Bradford, Sharon and other points south," Mr. Wade stated.

Fulton is fortunate in having such an ice plant, and while we don't say it boastfully, there is not a town we know of the size of ours that supports a better one.

The capacity of the plant is not only sufficient to supply present demands, but for years to come, and as Mr. Wade says, "We can easily take care of most any emergency."

The ice manufactured here is from water supplied by the plant's own deep wells, a pure crystal white, and the blocks of ice are solid, lasting much longer than ordinary ice.

Mounds, Ill., Flooded

The town of Mounds, Ill., with a population of 2,000, has been without its regular water supply for several days as the result of backwater flooding motors and putting the power plant out of commission. Drinking water is being supplied in tank cars from Anna, Ill., 30 miles distant. The town and railroad yards are flooded with water. It is reported that residents ride to the railroad yards in boats to get drinking water shipped in.

garage building for the Snow-White Motor Co.

Other business blocks are under consideration but not ready for publication.

Work of installing sewer connections is a big job and large crews are already at work.

One of the largest projects in the building program is constructing hard surfaced streets throughout the business district. Construction work should begin within the next 60 days.

In South Fulton work is progressing on the $40,000 sewer system which should be completed within the next 90 days.

Weather conditions have handicapped the contractors and somewhat delayed the progress of construction.

Large crews will be at work during the year on the highways leading in and out of the city.

And no telling what will develop in railroad circles, but it is quietly rumored that the I. C. contemplates extensive improvements out at the new yards.

Signs of Spring

Next Week Is Clean Up Week

Again we remind you that next week is Clean-up and Paint-up week.

The idea back of the campaign is to emphasize the need and to awaken the desire for better living environments. It does not imply that the home must be a new one or a larger one. We do not quit trying because it is not a new home. The old home may be made brighter, more livable, cleaner, more wholesome; the family happier and healthier. There are many ways. This is surely the time for new resolutions.

While the Clean-up and Paint-up Campaign belongs within the home, it reaches far beyond it, and that there has been hearty response year after year in thousands of cities and towns in the United States, you can get an idea of its extent. The story of the expanding interest is almost unbelievable.

This growth in interest has not come from the leadership of those who only believe in the idea—great as that belief may be—it comes from definite, concrete measurable results in community conditions and citizenship.

It's a long span from the woman who cleaned her apartment and emptied her waste basket out of her front window, thinking she had cleaned up, to the group of foreign children in a Chicago school in a few years changed so that instead of tramping gardens, destroying shrubs and picking flowers in a public park on the way to school, they became the guardians of that park which they had learned "was theirs" and that they were responsible for it.

It has been of untold benefit in the home—brighter, fresher, cleaner rooms, within—but stimulated interest in the garden—with trees and shrubs—then beyond the yard to the street—the cleaned up ash heaps and the rest of the town or city.

Our streets and alleys are ours. A merchant who lets his janitor sweep the accumulation of papers and dust from his store to street, has not cleaned things. He has shifted the dirt from one part of his domain to another. He needs a spring awakening.

Fire hazard can be reduced, vacant grounds improved—public buildings renovated. Places of business must show this evidence of change. Really this is a natural and right response of people to the change that comes with the first few days of Spring.

Unfortunately all people do not consciously respond to this awakening and it is strange that they do not. The results are so gratifying where comparisons have been made year after year to measure the results. This is a united effort "to make every community as clean as its cleanest home."

Working people respond in good results to better, cleaner surroundings in office and factory. To join your neighbors in an effort to clean up a neighborhood develops a desire to keep it clean. Marked gains have come through efforts made in the schools. Splendid work has been done in Americanization by the teaching of respect for common property.

Brieflets

On April 27, Martin, Tenn., will vote on a $100,000 bond issue for State school to be established there. The Weakley county court voted $100,000 bonds on first Monday for the school with the provision that Martin vote a similar amount.

The Baptists at Union City held their first services Sunday in the basement of their new church building.

The News-Democrat of Paducah, published a splendid review of the high water throughout the country in its Sunday edition, but forgot to say anything about the flood stage of the Ohio river in their home town.

Beckham's announcement as a candidate for Governor has considerably changed the political situation in Kentucky, and especially since Stanley has offered his loyal support to help elect him. It's a safe bet to one bet that Senator Beckham will be Kentucky's next chief executive.

Fulton plumbers have a large force at work making connections to the new sewer and if weather conditions permit, a large majority of connections will be made within the 90-days' limit set by the city council.

Dr. A. C. Boyd, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, has traded his home place near the church to Mrs. A. J. Turney for her home place in Crutchfield, and a farm.

Saturday was an ideal spring day. The glorious sunshine peeped out early and remained out all day, the first real sunny day this vicinity has had in a long time. A large crowd was in town supplying their needs for Easter.

Work of repairing the Cathedral building located on Harris Fork Creek at Commercial Avenue bridge was completed this week. The recent high waters in the creek had undermined the southwest corner and the structure was in a dangerous condition.

Missouri Pacific trains used the I. C. tracks detouring via Fulton this week. The M. & O. was also running trains through Fulton over the I. C. tracks the first of the week on account of high water.

The Show You All Know.

Fulton's favorite, the Shankland-Stock Co., will be here all next week, April 25 to 30, in their big water-proof tent, located near the cigar factory on Fourth street, under the auspices of the American Legion. They will open the week's engagement Monday night with "Tilda Ann." One lady free with each adult ticket Monday night. America's high-class show. Everything new this season. Don't miss Monday night.

Workers Rally To Appeals

Red Cross Rushes Aid As Thousands Made Homeless

Fulton Doing Its Part

Lions Club Send Contributions of Clothing to Hickman Camp.

Liberal Cash Donations are Made by Fulton Firms and Citizens.

The Browder Milling Company sent over a car load of meal and flour this week to the flood refugees camped at Hickman.

The mighty Mississippi, testing the strength of levees throughout its more than 1,200 miles from Cairo, Ill., to the sea, found additional weak spots this week, despite the combined efforts of thousands of men and mules.

Here and there the sweeping waters claimed additional lives during the week.

Seven deaths were reported last week. Thurman Burris, 17, was drowned at Atkins, Ark., while trying to rescue his father and mother; a baby fell into the water at Paragould, Ark., and died; Ray Rogers, 12, was drowned in Illinois; a negro woman and her new born babe died in a refugee wagon en route to Hickman, Ky.; and two negroes were drowned at Dardanelle, Ark.

To the thousands of acres of land already flooded were added a greater and heretofore untouched territory Saturday by breaks in levees at Doreno, Mo., in Faulkner county and at Big Lake in northeastern Arkansas and at Whitehall Landing, Ark. at the St. Francis river.

Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes or marooned in them.

While men worked unflinchingly to halt the devastation, the weather bureau issued a special river warning, advising that additional rainfall in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys threatened even higher stages. Rain along the river added another hazard by softening the embankments, making them more susceptible to the restless movement of the impounding stream.

Along the tributaries in Arkansas varying conditions prevailed. The White river, relieved by breaking levees, was falling, while the Arkansas and St. Francis were rising. The smaller streams also were threatening to roll the large ones out of bounds.

Hickman, Ky., where more than 2000 refugees are being cared for, seemed safer after the break across the river at Doreno had eased the strain by permitting the water to spread over the Missouri lowlands. Little Columbus, Ky., forsaken when the river took possession last week, was without railroad facilities Saturday night.

While Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee had plenty of water where no water ought to be, Arkansas was the hardest hit. Somebody's house passed through Memphis Saturday en route to the Gulf of Mexico. Other houses were seen floating downstream at various places in the widely flooded areas.

Ira Little's plantation of 720 acres, and L. H. Howard's farm of 240 acres across the river from Hickman are flooded. These two Fulton citizens will lose thousands of dollars on account of the Doreno break in the levee.

Simple Design After Dutch Style
Makes Attractive and Cozy Home

First Floor Plan.

Second Floor Plan.

By W. A. RADFORD
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on the subject. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, for reply.

Dutch architecture has had a considerable effect on the appearance of American homes. Simple in lines, but attractive withal, the Dutch homes, in a modified style, have been reproduced in many American cities and towns in the country. The best-known type of home that has come from the Dutch architectural influence is the "Dutch colonial." This style home is common and popular, especially in the suburbs of the larger cities.

A home that shows the Dutch influence is reproduced herewith. This is a two-gable "plaster" house, as it is termed in Europe, but here would be known as a stucco house, because of the treatment of the exterior walls. While in reality a two-gable house, the roof lines at the front are carried out over the porch in graceful lines. This long roof sweep is broken by a long dormer projection, which serves the double purpose of beautifying the exterior and providing more room on the second floor.

The house contains eight rooms, as shown on the floor plans. There are living and dining rooms and kitchen and one bedroom downstairs and four bedrooms and the bathroom upstairs. All of these rooms are large and so located that each has plenty of windows for sunlight and ventilation. The rear entrance is through a large washroom, which many home owners like, as it enables the housekeeper to have the laundry done near the kitchen instead of in a basement laundry.

The building is 34 feet 6 inches wide and 29 feet 6 inches deep. It is of frame construction with the outside walls finished in stucco.

Flat Roof Success Depends on Location

The flat roof, which is so desirable in the West and Southwest, where there is little dew and no troublesome insects, would not always fit into a northern location, though some have heard the idea expressed that such a roof proves economical in fuel consumption in the northern climate as a deep layer of snow forms a protective covering for the house. Terraced roofs, flat roofs, low pitched and steep pitched roofs, gable and hip, entrances, details of windows, doorways, porches, terraces, vines and garden furniture all aid in producing architectural variation.

A FARM WAGON THAT IS GUARANTEED

The amount of satisfactory service that a wagon will give depends entirely upon the material and skill the manufacturer puts into it. We want to show you a wagon that is built of the best materials by men who know how—

THE JOHN DEERE WAGON The Wagon That is Guaranteed

A special machine automatically measures the inside of the skin of the John Deere farm wagon and shapes the axle to fit accurately. The skin is set in red lead under high pressure. It has exactly the right pitch, and the axle has the right gather to make the John Deere wagon run lighter than other wagons. With the John Deere sand- and dust-proof skins there is no wearing of bearing surfaces—the oil stays in—the wagon is always smooth-running and light-pulling. Only carefully-selected oak and hickory are used in the John Deere Wagon, and every piece of wood is air-seasoned under cover in our own yards for at least two years. The tires are set hot under hydraulic pressure and under a gauge that assures proper dish—the load is always carried on plumb spokes.

And don't forget this other big feature—the heavy mal-leable fifth-wheel with corrugated coupling—no bending or breaking of kingbolt—bolster does not get out of line and rock—no danger of tipping when handling large, top-heavy loads.

Come in and see this wagon—read the guarantee on the tool box. Let us explain the many fine points embodied in it.

Conditions in Alabama

Will Apply Elsewhere

In no part of this country is it easier to have beautiful gardens than it is in Mobile county, whether in the city or in outlying districts.

The lay and general character of the land is favorable, and the season for flowers and shrubs is all the year. Nor is landscaping difficult. It is never difficult where the land rolls, or in flat areas even where the soil is right and climatic conditions are favorable to the growth of plants. All these favorable conditions are to be found in this city and county, and that is one reason why we have so many attractive gardens here.

Probably we are not making the best possible use of our exceptional natural opportunities in all cases; but gardens here have long been prime assets, and they are likely to become even more important as we make progress in beautifying plans and work. There is not a home in the city or county of Mobile that ought to be without a garden of rare beauty, for it does not take much work or great expense to keep gardens in first-class condition in this part of Alabama.

Nothing adds more to the attractiveness of the home setting than a beautiful garden.—Mobile Register.

Method of Speeding

Up Brings Progress

A city should first be sold to its own people," once said Mr. George C. Smith of Baltimore, a nationally recognized authority on the industrial possibilities of a community.

Once realtors, bankers, railroad men, department-store owners and managers tell the same consistent story about the industrial advantages of their city, the cumulative effect is certain to make itself felt.

Growing industries offer the best opportunities to a city's business progress. When a plant attains a certain capacity the directors will consider the advisability of building a branch elsewhere instead of risking the likelihood of overexpanding the old plant. Thus a city that has called on this industry with personal representation is more likely to get consideration than many other cities which have been content to circulate.

New enterprises are always possible. The man who knows a business or the man who is able to finance a business is indispensable. Such men in a city will usually solve the bulk of the problems incidental to securing new industries and developing the city's present industries.

Roadside Markets

There ought to be a corking good suggestion to the average thoughtful farmer in the fact that last year in this country the roadside markets offering products to passing motorists did a business aggregating a little matter of $25,000,000. Why not more roadside markets? Why not go at this systematically and in a constructive way? Why not standardized roadside markets handling comprehensive and specifically advertised lines? Why not a systematic effort to please the public in place of a cunning attempt to skin somebody by unloading inferior or impossible goods on the stranger at the gate? The filling station is bound to give good service and honest goods and honest prices. The roadside market ought to build upon standardized honesty and popularity instead of discrediting the farmer's roadside stand.—Lafayette Journal and Courier.

Champion Tree Planter

T. C. Luther of Mechanicville, N. Y., celebrated his sixty-third birthday in an unusual celebration, because Luther is an unusual man. The record of being the champion tree planter in America was already his. But he started out on his latest birthday to break that record. He began on a program to plant a million more pine trees. President Pack of the American Tree association voiced the opinion that Luther is putting more idle land to good use than any other man in this country, and that by so doing he is setting an example to the American people by leaving a birthday present for succeeding generations to share and enjoy. It is an example that should prompt emulation in all parts of the country in which forestation on a large scale is feasible.

Home Owners Live Longest

Insurance companies claim to be able to show by statistics gathered over a long period of years that those who provide for comfort during declining years live longer than do those who give no thought of tomorrow.

Real estate men and bankers concur in this opinion, the former insisting that owning one's home is the best kind of insurance against devastation of health by fear and worry.

To be constantly worried about moving, increased rents and the other cares that make the renter's life one of uncertainty tends to shorten life, it is argued.

Appearance of Town

The town that attracts strangers is often the one that takes the most interest in its physical appearance and sanitary condition.—Ashland (Ala.) Progress.

HISTORY OF TRIBES CARVED ON BLUFFS

Records Found on Sides of Guadalupe.

Carlshad, N. M. Photographs of an aboriginal race that antedates all known southwestern tribes are mingled in the Guadalupe mountains near here with the more recent sketches and paintings of the Apache warriors who hid with the wily Geronimo, and with the initials of the pursuing soldiers under Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

The Guadalupe range is perhaps as little known as any in the United States, much of it never having been explored by white men. But the little that has been examined promises a field of archeological investigation for many years.

Carvings on Sides of Bluffs.

The hieroglyphics of the ancient tribe are carved and scratched on the bluffs and in the caves they inhabited in the mountains, and no attempt has been made to decipher their meaning. Unlike most Indian carvings and paintings the photographs bear no resemblance to animal forms, but are in almost every case arrangements of geometric figures in friezes or panels, reaching in places to a height of eight feet. The friezes stretch to lengths of 100 feet or more horizontally until marred or broken up by the decay of rock strata into which they were cut.

In contrast to the mass of markings etched by the stone tools of the ancient race are the huge, gaudy drawings fashioned by the Indians during the last 150 years. One particularly brilliant painting is above a ledge high in the hills where, tradition has it, one of Geronimo's warriors fortified himself for a lone stand against the white troopers in the early eighties.

Many Soldiers' Names.

The painting depicts a warrior pointing up the canyon. The faint outline of a horse is close beside him. The picture is translated as a warning to his tribesmen that mounted enemies are approaching through the canyon.

Indications of the passage of white soldiers through the mountains are plentiful. In many places initials and names of soldiers serving under General Miles are carved in the rock.

In a cave in a remote section is carved the name of W. M. Bonney, better known as "Billy the Kid."

Incites "War" to Kill

Pests Among Insects

Seattle, Wash.—Important to humans, although almost unnoticed by the general public, a war of extermination between mortal enemies in the insect world has been going on in the Pacific Northwest for four years and the end is not yet in sight.

The warfare was instigated by Prof. Trevor Kinnaird, professor of biology at the University of Washington, in an attempt to control a serious infestation known as the earwig, a species of harmful insect, by importing parasitic tachinid flies from Europe.

The tachinid flies are natural enemies of the earwig. Both came from Europe originally.

When poison bait and other weapons failed to check the encroachments of the earwig, the flies were pitted against them, first in a laboratory arena, where the earwig was victorious, and then in the fields at large. An omnivorous eater of all growing things, the earwig also ensconces itself snugly in clothing or shipments of goods and does considerable damage.

Offer Students Prizes

for Best Safety Essays

New York.—In 1924, there were 5,921 highway grade-crossing accidents in which 2,492 persons were killed and 6,961 injured. In 1925, there were 5,479 accidents in which 2,200 persons were killed and 6,555 injured.

In an effort to interest the public and especially the younger generation, in preventing grade-crossing accidents, the railroad, through the American Railway association, have announced an offer of three prizes in a nationwide contest to be awarded to school and college students. The prizes are to be $250 each, one for the best essay prepared by a grammar school student, one for the best, by a high school student, and one for the best, by a college student. The subject in all cases is to be "Cross Crossings Cautiously," and each essay must be not more than 250 words in length. Detailed plans for the contest have been arranged by J. C. Caviston, secretary of the safety section of the association, with headquarters at 30 Vesey street, New York. The contest closes on June 1.

200 Rattlesnakes Killed

by Charge of Dynamite

Hot Springs, S. D.—Guy Keyes, a forest ranger whose station is near Keystone, in Hartney national forest, forty miles from Hot Springs, saw a rattlesnake glide along ahead of him as he rode over his range, and disappear in a crevice of boulders a short distance away.

He followed in order to kill the reptile. On coming close to the rock he saw a great mass of slowly writhing snakes in a recess in the boulders.

Realizing that he could not cope with such numbers, Keyes rode to his station and secured dynamite, which he used to blow up both rocks and snakes. As accurate a count as could be made afterward showed that there were about 200 snakes killed.

Many Towns Are Flooded

Thousands of people were rendered homeless and hundreds of cattle drowned by a crack in the north end of St. John Bayou levee, eight miles north of New Madrid, Mo., that went out at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. New Madrid is now flooded with many other towns under water.

Official report of the St. John break was received by Major D. H. Connolly, United States engineer in charge at Memphis.

Major Connolly says water through this break will run across the Frisco Railroad between Kawance and Lilbourne, thence down Little River, covering a space about seven miles wide west of Lilbourne. Then it will cover territory east to a swamp near Clarkton and Portageville, and from Kennett to Mayti, Tallapoosa and Pascola.

This water will empty back into the Mississippi River at the mouth of the St. Francis River, a few miles north of Helena, Ark.

It will overflow the following towns: Lake City, Truman, Herman, Tulot, Marked Tree, Tyrone, La Panto, Deckerville, Gilmore, Frenchmen's Bayou, Joiner, Wilson, Osceola, Marion, Harvard, Parkin, Earle, Brickley's, Forrest City, Marianna, Caruthersville and Sikeston, Mo.

It will back the present flood waters up the east foot of Crowley's Ridge at Nettleton, Ark., a short distance east of Jonesboro.

St. Francis basin faces a condition more serious than befell that country in 1913 when breaks occurred on the main levee this side of New Madrid, flooding the lower part of it. The break being at the northern part of the basin, the overflow will cover more ground and render thousands of persons homeless.

The main levee protecting the town of New Madrid was holding at Tuesday morning, but the town proper was under two feet of water backing up from the bayou crevice.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday morning water began running over the main bayou levee a distance of two miles. Workmen were immediately called off and a general alarm sounded to the people of New Madrid. They were ordered to leave.

The north end of St. John's Bayou levee began weakening Monday. A heavy current was sent against it from the Doreno, Mo., break of last Saturday and while the dyke kept caving, hundreds of men held it back to protect the St. Francis basin.

This crevice relieved conditions along the Reelfoot levee protecting Lake County, Tenn. It checked the rise in the Mississippi River from New Madrid to New Orleans and probably resulted in all levees in the Vicksburg and North Yazoo Mississippi delta districts holding.

The water in Elaine, Ark., Tuesday rose to five feet. The only cafe in Elaine went out of commission and those remaining in the town are not attempting to cook meals. Only canned stuff is obtainable.

The Mississippi, which fell 20 1-2 inches at Hickman after the levee broke at Doreno, Mo., Saturday, rose an inch and a half Monday night. Not much more water is expected at Hickman and river men expressed the view that the crevice in the St. John's levee would further relieve the situation at Reelfoot.

Henry Baker, national disaster director of the American Red Cross, visited Hickman for a general survey of the flood situation from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans. More than 2,000 refugees are in concentration camps at Hickman. The general health and order of the homeless is good.

Clarendon, Pine Bluff and Little Rock, Ark., are hard hit with many other towns under water. Train service on many railroads in the flooded district has been practically abandoned.

John Deere-Syracuse Slat Moldboard Plow—1471 Series

This plow works well in soils where any solid moldboard—chilled or steel—cannot be made to shed. It does good work in practically all conditions.

Plows of this series are exceptionally strong. The high-arched, double-beaded beams of high-carbon steel are guaranteed not to bend or break. Here's another big feature: the malleable standards are die-dropped, which insures the uniform shaping of each standard—the moldboard, shin, landside and share assembled on this standard, are held rigidly together; repair parts fit perfectly.

Syracuse chilled iron is the hardest metal used in plow bottoms—one deep-chilled Syracuse share will outlast two similar shares of other makes.

Come in and see this better plow and let us explain the interchangability of parts that means long life and uninterrupted good service.

REASONABLE BOOSTING

There are people who ridicule boosting. They believe it to be a wasted effort to speak
a good word for someone else
or for their home community.
They think results are negligible. They are of the opinion that a booster is egotistical and that his reasoning as a general thing is illogical and without sense.

While it's true that boosting may be overdone, the booster frequently is moved to become over-enthusiastic to offset the effects of the carping critic's work. As long as he remains within the bounds of reason,
however, and sticks to facts,
the booster is a valuable asset to the community and has a better mental attitude toward his own business, his job or his profession.

Boosting can be justified.
Those who have tried it know that it can. There may be some shafts of ridicule aimed at the booster now and then,
but if his heart is right and he is honest and sincere in his efforts he will win recruits.

Most of all, the booster should be reasonable. He should not expose himself to ridicule, for thus he weakens his cause and nullifies his endeavors to bring improvement.

When everyone gets the right conception of boosting and tempers it with good judgment and sticks to facts, Fulton will constantly improve and make advancement.

Boosting helps the individual who boosts. It enlarges his viewpoint and makes him more temperate in his views. It takes his mind off the petty things and prevents him from developing a clear case of brain fog.

And collective boosting for the community will do for it just what individual boosting does for the person who boosts.
watch the maneuvers of the little. There is no better place to live than right here. Most everyone believes that, but there are not enough people putting their thoughts into words.

This place we call home has some disadvantages, of course.
When you think of the drawbacks, just remember that every other community has some too, and that they are as difficult to correct as those we have. Fulton will not suffer by comparison. It will always grow in your estimation if you will take a few minutes now and then to think over some of its good points.

The drawbacks will disappear if everyone will boost as he should for the betterment of the whole community.

Money Needed For Relief Work.

Hickman, Ky., April 20.—The Hickman people are doing magnificent work and all that is needed now is more money and this money should be contributed through the local chapters and be sent to the directors of the Red Cross.

All refugees are being housed and twenty-five more tents are expected any time. The nurses have been busy today inoculating the people of the camp with anti-typhoid serum and only those immunized will be permitted to have meal tickets, this insuring the health of the camp.
Vaccinations for smallpox will follow later, for all who have not been vaccinated. There are in the hospital tonight six women patients and two several-day-old babies. One lady, Mrs.
Miller Kemp, is quite ill.

DeMYER-MOORE

M. F. DeMyer, Fulton's popular jeweler, and all-around good citizen, surprised his friends Sunday morning when he was united in marriage to Mrs. Verna Moore, popular saleslady at the Reynolds' store. The wedding took place at the home of Esq. S. A. Mc-Dade, on State Line street, who officiated. The happy couple left for a bridal trip and on their return to Fulton will be at home to their friends on Pearl street.

HAINLEY-PUCKETT

Mr. George Hainley, of Haz-elhurst, Miss., and Miss Hallie Puckett, of this city, were united in marriage Saturday, at the home of Esq. S. A. McDade, who officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Joe Puckett, of Gardner, Tenn., and has made many friends during her residence in Fulton.

The groom is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Robert Hainley of Dukedom, Tenn.

The newly weds will make their future home in Hazel-hurst, Miss.

BAPTIST W. M. U. WILL MEET IN LOUISVILLE

More than 2,000 messengers
from the 22,944 Baptist missionary societies of the south are expected to be in attendance at the thirty-ninth session of the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, which will convene in Louisville, May 3 and 4.

IDEAL LOCATION

Fulton is well represented
along business lines and industries, but there is still room for a number of businesses and industries not represented.

Fulton's location, transportation, power, water, labor and other environments make it an ideal site for practically all kinds of industries. Another advantage worthy of consideration—we don't have to contend with foreign labor. We are 99 per cent American population.

Fulton and territory will support a first class greenhouse.
Practically every flower and plant sold in the city is grown out of town. Quite a sum is sent out annually for greenhouse products which should be invested in Fulton.

A good canning factory located here could get sufficient acreage pledged in various crops to make such an institution an investment for the promoters and farmers.

Fulton can procure a condensed milk plant if sufficient interest can be aroused among the farmers of this vicinity to supply the milk. This is quite an undertaking, but it can be done, and the sooner a start is made, the better. It is startling to see the thousands of gallons of cream shipped out of Fulton weekly. There are three receiving stations here now paying out large sums daily.

A well managed candy factory would be a paying investment. In fact, there are so many industries that could locate in Fulton profitably until it would be difficult to enumerate them.

YOUR SPRING SUIT NEEDS THE WRINKLES TAKEN OUT

You know what a beauty shop can do for faces—how it can remove wrinkles from cheeks and crow's feet from eyes. But did you ever visit a "beauty shop for suits"—a modern dry cleaning and sanitary pressing establishment?
Here, again, is a "fountain of youth"—this time for clothes.

For example, take one of your own suits to the O. K.
Steam Laundry—one you've worn often. If it's a light suit, the grime is plainly visible at collar and cuffs; perhaps there is a bit of grease on it from your car. If the suit is dark, the dirt may not show—but it's there. One cannot ride in automobiles and taxis, and not gar-ther dirt.

But see what your dry cleaning, the O. K. Laundry, can do for this suit.

First, it is tumbled in warm,
drying air; the moisture is removed, the dust shaken out, obstinate spots loosened. An expert "spotter" then goes over the garment by hand—stains and spots vanish before his skill. Next, the suit is soused gently, thoroughly, back and forth, in the purest of cleaning fluids. Soil embedded in the fabric is filtered out; grime and grease are dissolved away.
After most of the moisture has been whirled out, the suit is carefully dried in a breeze of fresh, warm, sterile air, then with the warm air sifting thru it, it is fluffed softly. The nap comes to life, the cloth becomes fresh and smart again.

Nor is this dry cleaning
"magic" limited to men's suits and overcoats. Hats and gloves, women's coats, suits, dresses
and blouses, children's clothes
—almost every article of wearing apparel can be given this same renewing, refreshing treatment. And how much longer clothes wear when they receive it. Truly dry cleaning pays its own bills.

Of course, we make a specialty of dry cleaning draperies, rugs, etc. Don't overlook this when you begin your Spring housecleaning—just phone 130
and we will do the rest.

O. K. STEAM LAUNDRY
J. J. Owen, Proprietor.

PETER AT THE TRANSFIGURATION

LESSON TEXT—II Peter 1:16-18.
 MARK 9:2-7.
 GOSPEL TEXT—And a voice came out of the clouds saying, This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him.
 PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Shows Peter the Glory.
 JUNIOR TOPIC—The Beauty and Glory of Christ.
 INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Peter Saw and Heard in the Mount.
 YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Majesty and Glory of Christ.

I. The Meaning of the Transfiguration (II Peter 1:16-18).

These verses are an inspired interpretation by one who was present and knew all that transpired. The hope of the disciples was crushed. When Christ announced His death which was to take place on the cross, they were unable to see how victory could issue from death. Jesus took with Him, Peter, James and John, and they went into the mountain by themselves before going into the mountain He declared that there were some standing in His presence who would not taste of death till they had seen the kingdom of God come with power.

Two men from the upper world were sent to converse with Jesus about His approaching death at Jerusalem—the very thing about which the disciples refused to talk. Then, too, God's own voice was heard in words of approval of Christ's course, directing them to hear the Master.

II. Jesus Christ Glorified on the Mountain (v. 2, 3).

He took the disciples "by them selves" and was "transfigured before them." This shows that the purpose of the transfiguration terminated upon the disciples and not on Christ. Christ's rebuke of Peter for his unwillingness to hear concerning His death apparently for a time estranged the disciples from Him. His appearance on the mountain typifies His visible appearance on the Mount of Olives (Zech. 14:4, 9).

III. Peter, James and John Represent Israel in the Flesh in Connection With the Kingdom (v. 2).

Christ is peculiarly the King of Israel. According to Ezekiel 37:21-27, the Israelites are to be the central people in the kingdom. This people shall be gathered from among the nations and united as one in that kingdom, in their own country.

IV. Moses and Elijah Appeared in Glory With Jesus (vv. 4, 13).

These men in the glorified state are typical of the saints in glory. Moses who was once denied an entrance into Palestine appears now in glory representing the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the kingdom. Elijah represents the redeemed who shall pass into the kingdom through translation. Some shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come and they without dying shall be changed and thus pass into the kingdom (I Cor. 15:50-53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

1. Peter's proposal (vv. 5, 6).
So definitely was the method of the kingdom unfolded before Peter that he proposed to erect tabernacles for Christ, Moses and Elijah. It is true that the unveiling of the majestic person of Christ and the panoramic display of the kingdom somewhat disconcerted Peter, yet he grasped its central meaning and proposed to celebrate the advent of the kingdom which had been prefigured in a tangible way.

2. The divine voice out of the cloud (vv. 7, 8).

God declared Jesus to be His Beloved Son, in whom He was well pleased. If one would know what is pleasing to God, let him study Jesus Christ who perfectly did His Father's will.

3. Jesus' charge (vv. 9, 13).

He charged them that they should tell no man concerning the things which they had seen until He had risen from the dead.

V. A Demonstration of the Purpose of the Establishment of the Kingdom (vv. 14-20).

When they descended from the mountain of transfiguration they witnessed a great multitude in a state of perplexity. The immediate cause of this state was the grievous condition of a young man possessed with a demon (v. 18). This young man's state is representative of the nations who are oppressed by the devil. Just as this young man was grievously oppressed, causing him to cast himself into the fire and into the waters, so the nations today in their great perplexity are doing the things which will result in their own destruction.

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat. Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals. The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

WAITING FOR THEM

The other day a man was seen standing outside a pawnshop for a considerable time.

At length a friend ventured to ask him the reason for stopping there so long.

"Why," said the man of long standing, "they will not let you in unless you have been in a twelve-month they run out, so I'm waiting to catch mine."

Stern Measures

Masculine—What did your mother do to you when you didn't get in till 2:30 a. m.?

Feminine—She took stern measures.

Masculine—What do you mean by that?

Feminine—Well, er—she used a ruler.—Oregon Orange Owl.

VERY CARELESS

"I see it says here some of them London banks have been doing business for twenty years and more and never closed their doors."

"Dear me, how careless! I wonder anybody trusts 'em with their money."

Money Talks

They say that money talks. Perhaps, of course, they may be right. But it's hard to catch what money says. As money always tight.

Worth the Price

"Life is too darn expensive," growled the man who had just been handed his bill.

"Still," retorted the doctor, "judging from the hurry calls we doctors get most people must think it is worth the price."

Resourcefulness

"Do you ever regret anything you have said?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "When anything I said proved unpopular I have always managed to make a big hit retracting it."—Washington Star.

A Case of Nerve

"Don't worry," said the dentist. "I always give my patients—ah—something to—ah—quiet their nerves."

"Then what was that fellow in there yelling for?" demanded the skeptical sufferer.

"More!"—American Legion Weekly.

DISAPPOINTED

Bug—Ah, shucks! I thought it was a barber pole, and I need a shave something awful.

Human Interest

A simple, decent life implies a humble lot. And never comes to advertise. A movie plot.

Discipline Gone Astray

"He used to write in his copy book, 'Honesty Is the Best Policy.'"

"Did it improve his morals?"

"No. But it improved his penmanship so that he became a successful counterfeiter."—Washington Star.

Those Dear Girls

"Tell me just what sort of a man your fiancee is, Clara."

"Oh, he's everything that's nice."

"I'm so glad. You know I've always said that people should marry their opposites."

Free as Air

Old Lady—Have you any incumbrances?

New Maid—Not on your life! No petticoats, no corsets, no long skirts, no hairpins.

Avoided the Possibility

"Why are you so positive that your wife divorced you without cause?"

"I know she couldn't have had any reason, because I left her before we ever had the least bit of trouble."

That's It

"That's Quill, the poet who got $100 for a spring poem."

"A poem? I don't believe it."

"It's a poem to advertise a new kind of motor car spring."

No Kick, but a Kick

Doctor—Yours is a peculiar case. I'm not sure what I'd better prescribe. Patient (hopelessly)—Oh, I'm not a bit particular any more, Doc.
