THE LISTENING POST

● Factotum, who does the totting around the Leader office, is having his first experience with a case of lumbago, and only those who have gone through with such a disease know what it means when a fellow starts to tote something while suffering with lumbago. For a few minutes yesterday, when the catch first hit him, he was not enjoying life to any great extent for fear that he was destined to leave this world within a short time, and in great pain, but after I told him that nobody ever died from his disease, but many had wished they might die when it was at its worst, he grew more cheerful and after being told what to do proceeded to carry out his instructions as best he might.

● He had just started to put the forms on the press, and had lifted one from the stone, or started to lift it. He bent over, gave his usual mighty tug, and then stood there, bent double, his eyes spread out all over his face. "Somethin' has sho' got me," he said slowly, his back bent and his face as pale as it ever gets. "Hit sho' has got me."

● From bitter experience I knew what had him. In years past I have had it hit me with the sudden numbing force of a Missouri mule kicking in top form. I have bent over and thought I would never straighten up. And I have bent over and decided I never wanted to be any other way. Yes, I knew what had got Factotum, and I think Eph knew what it was, for I remember when he had an attack of this sort.

● But Eph wanted to have some fun out of Factotum and he proceeded to do so. Cruel perhaps, but for a few minutes it was somewhat amusing. "I'm afraid," Eph said gravely, "that you have pulled a kidney loose. I saw a man do that once and it was awful. Better be right still and see if we can find out. Or maybe we'd better carry you to the hospital. No, we could never get you to the hospital for the way you are bent we'd have to break you in two pieces to get you in the ambulance. You wouldn't want that done, I guess."

● With as much emphasis as he could manage with his odd looking posture, Factotum agreed that he did not care for that operation. In fact, he cared very little for the idea of going to a hospital. What he was most curious about was the ultimate fate of the man Eph had seen pull a kidney loose. "What did he do—did he git well?" he finally quavered.

● Eph studied over the matter, and finally said he did not know. "I was working in a big shop, with several hundred men there, and the man never came back. I guess he must have died, or at least never been able to work again," he stated solemnly. Factotum slowly began to straighten up, and I could see the grim determination in his face. "If I ever gits straight again," he muttered, "I'll never bend over again."

● About this time I got sorry for him and told him what his trouble was, and how he did brighten up. "Shu!" he said, "Hit had me scart for a little, but I's all right now."

● And off he went to get a plaster and I guess he will get over it.

Cummings To Quit Cabinet Next January

James Roosevelt Also Resigns Pending Recovery

Washington, —Homer S. Cummings, 69-year-old attorney general, will leave President Roosevelt's cabinet in January to resume the private practice of law.

The President disclosed at his press conference today that Cummings had asked to be relieved and said the resignation—which has not yet been formally presented—would be effective early in the new year. At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt said his 30-year-old son, James, had resigned from the White House secretariat pending his complete recovery from an operation he had last September. James, now recuperating on a California ranch, is expected to return to his post in the Spring.

The President said he had not considered, so far, appointment of a successor to Cummings, James' post probably will not be filled during the interim.

In announcing Cummings' intention to resign, the chief executive took cognizance for the first time of president reports of possible cabinet changes. He left the door open for other cabinet replacements when he told inquiries there were no other resignations as yet.

There have been reports that Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper might leave the cabinet, as well as Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, Postmaster General James A. Farley and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

The President told reporters he was sorry to see Cummings go because he had made a splendid record during his five and a half years' service.

Abel Child Is Struck By Car

Douglas Abel, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Abel who reside on Morris Street, South Fulton, was struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon about four o'clock at the southeast corner of the Carr Institute school grounds, and sustained a broken leg. The driver, Cecil Binford, who is an employee of Latta Brothers, and witnesses said the child dashed from the school ground and stepped out in front of the car on the highway.

He was carried to the Fulton Hospital where he received treatment for minor injuries and the broken leg. He was removed late in the afternoon to his home.

Mrs. Marguerite Cochran, formerly of Fulton, underwent an operation last week in the St. Joseph Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., and is reported improving.

Rail Head Insists Federal Barge Line Be Liquidated

Louisville, Ky., —James B. Hill, president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, today urged railroad men to "insist" upon liquidation of the Inland Waterways Corporation, a government agency, and its accessory assets.

In a statement published in the company's employees' magazine, Hill described the operation of the Federal Barge Line by the corporation as "an unsound business enterprise at the taxpayers' expense."

Listing a number of reasons, Hill contended the records of the operation of the line strengthen the belief the government should cease to operate it.

His reasons were that the line "is in competition with other privately owned water carriers, that it is not necessary as an experiment, that it creates transportation facilities inferior to railroads and not needed for the country's commerce, and that its port-

Junior Physician At Eastern State Clinic Resigns His Position

LEXINGTON, KY.—Dr. Floyd K. Foley, who assumed his duties as superintendent of the Eastern State hospital Monday, announced tonight that Dr. W. E. McWilliams of Broadhead, junior physician at the institution for the past two years, had submitted his resignation.

The new hospital superintendent declared that Dr. McWilliams resigned voluntarily. The junior physician was relieved of his duties immediately, but his name will remain on the state payroll for 30 days under a leave Dr. Foley granted at the time of acceptance of the resignation.

Dr. A. R. Kasey of Hopkinsville, a graduate of the University of Louisville school of medicine, was appointed as Dr. McWilliams' successor and immediately assumed his new duties. Dr. Kasey was transferred to Eastern State hospital from the State Welfare Department office at Frankfort.

At the luncheon meeting, to which any business man is invited, general suggestions will be made regarding guarding against needless fires.

Head Of Bankers Groups Demands That U. S. Debts Be Liquidated

Houston, Tex., —Orval W. Adams, president of the American Bankers Association, demanded today that the federal government reduce the deficit and begin paying the public debt.

Making the annual president's address he said:

"By the way of self-defense and in order to save the American system, we must organize our depositors and give them and all others who have accumulated something and economic education. This is the only practical way I know of to resist the pressure groups and vote-buying politicians who are destroying and wasting the savings of our depositors and of all our citizens who have worked and saved. x x x

"Never should the American Bankers Association remain silent when politicians are spending the country into bankruptcy. x x x

"To the proposition that the worthy needy must be taken care of, the American Bankers Association is, sincerely and wholeheartedly, ly committed. But we must not forget that the destruction of savings and the starvation of production mean the loss of capacity to take care of the needy; that it is the thrifty citizens and not the government that must produce the money for this purpose."

Of Mr. Roosevelt, he said:—"In his message to Congress on March 10, 1933, he said: 'For three long years the federal government has been on the road toward bankruptcy. With the utmost seriousness I point out to the Congress the profound effect of this fact (the accumulated deficit of five billion dollars) on our national economy. x x x

"The President," Adams said, "was then very properly concerned with an accumulated deficit of only five billions of dollars. We are now much more justly concerned with an ever increasing and growing deficit which, since the date of the President's concern, has grown by fifteen billions of dollars."

Evangelist In Strong Message

Last night at the revival at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Evangelist Fultz spoke on "A message from a man in hell." Speaking from the story of Dives, the evangelist said, "there are two classes of brothers in the world. Some people are brethren, children of God the father. Unsaved people are brothers, children of the devil. Dives has sent a message back to his brothers—the unsaved—telling them not to come there. The world is one great neighborhood and the purpose of Jesus Christ is to make out of it one great brotherhood."

The Evangelist drew a gripping picture and one not forgettable of hell from Dives experience there.

The Rotary club was the honored guest and tonight the railroad men will be the honored guest.

Rev. E. R. Ladd announced that Rev. Fultz would continue through Friday night and urges all who have heard him to do so in the remaining services which are held at 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Tonight the evangelist subject will be "Why are you not a Christian?"

Dinwiddie Bail To Be Discussed Today

Chief K. P. Dalton and City Judge Lon Adams are going to Clinton, Kentucky this afternoon for the hearing of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Dinwiddie, colored man of Fulton, concerning a motion which has been made before Judge Hindman, judge of the Fulton Circuit Court, to reduce the bail of Dinwiddie Fulton negro. The matter is to be taken up at three o'clock this afternoon.

Dinwiddie is the negro who was arrested by Fulton officers several weeks ago, having been found possessing clothing and other articles which were stolen from various Tennessee towns. The arrest was made at the time of the arrest of the boys who admitted the robbery. Since Dinwiddie was carried to the county jail in Hickman, there has been much disputing on the part of City Judge Lon Adams and Judge Walker concerning his bond and bail.

Thanksgiving Turkey To Be Cheaper This Year, Reports Show

CHICAGO — That roasted bird on your Thanksgiving Day dinner table may have a smaller price on his missing head than his predecessor had last year.

This prospect was foreshadowed today by current quotations on the Chicago wholesale market. Furthermore, the specimens of turkeys arriving here in increasing numbers for the special holiday trade indicated the traditional piece de resistance of Thanksgiving Day would be a little plumper.

The nation's turkey crop was estimated to be 3.7 per cent larger than a year ago but 6 per cent smaller than in 1936. Average weight was expected to be approximately three to six ounces heavier.

Young tom turkeys dressed were quoted in the wholesale market here around 25 cents a pound, with hens slightly higher. These prices were a shade lower than a year ago but five cents higher than in 1936.

Red Cross Gets Good Response In Roll Call

According to reports this morning from various committees of the Red Cross campaign, which was started in Fulton yesterday morning, the citizens of Fulton responded to this annual call very freely.

Mrs. Mansfield Martin, chairman of the Roll Call Committee, reports that the committee is not yet ready to make a final financial or membership statement as there are a number of business firms which have not yet decided upon the amount of their contribution. A part of the rural section is also lacking.

This final checkup will be made this week end, or just as soon as the contributions can possibly be gotten in to headquarters at the Woman's Club building.

Hannephin Will Visit Judge Landis Thursday, Nov. 17

J. E. Hannephin, president of the Kitty League for the past year, received a telegram from Judge M. Landis last night, requesting his presence in his Chicago office tomorrow morning at an appointed time where he and Bryan, president of the Paducah club, will confer with Judge Landis concerning the Paducah franchise lease situation. Mr. Hannephin is to present the league constitution and all league records relating to the Paducah franchise since its league organization to date.

The former Kitty president talked with Judge Landis this morning by telephone.

Teacher Goes To Jail Rather Than Give Up Slacks In Court

Los Angeles, —Outspoken Helen Hulick, Los Angeles school teacher, today was sentenced to jail for five days because she wore slacks into Municipal Judge Arthur Guerin's court, and was released on a writ of habeas corpus after serving one hour.

She climbed out of the blue denim blouse and skirt the jail matron had given her, and got right back into the slacks.

Yesterday, Judge Guerin refused to allow Miss Hulick to testify against two Negroes accused of robbing her house because she was attired in gray-green slacks and form-fitting orange sweater. He told her to go home and change to "women's clothes," and to come back today.

Today she wore the slacks and a red and white blouse. Judge Guerin let her testify and then

President Pictures System For Defense Of Two Americas

Washington, —President Roosevelt denounced the German dictatorship's treatment of Jews today as almost beyond belief, and then pictured a vast two-continent defense system in which all the Americas would present a united front against aggression from abroad.

His remarks on the Jews, given out at a press conference, were as follows:

"The news of the past few days from Germany has deeply shocked public opinion in the United States. Such news from any part of the world would inevitably produce a similar profound reaction among American people in every part of the nation.

"I myself could scarcely believe that such things could occur in a twentieth century civilization."

"With a view to gaining a first-hand picture of the situation in Germany, I asked the secretary of state to order our ambassador in Berlin to return at once for report and consultation."

Thus Mr. Roosevelt disclosed that he himself was back of yesterday's order calling Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson home. Mr. Roosevelt said he could not disclose how long the ambassador would stay here. This gave rise to speculation that the envoy might be kept at home indefinitely.

Former Fulton Woman Dies In Asheville Today

A message has been received here today of the death of Mrs. Clem Morris who passed away early this morning at her home in Asheville, North Carolina. France's Last Ditch Fight

The drastic financial and economic program of Finance Minister Paul Renaud as contained in a series of decrees promulgated last week is due for a bitter Parliamentary struggle when the French Chamber of Deputies reconvenes. The powerful Socialist and Communist parties have declared war on the decrees on the ground that they favor capital at the expense of labor. The General Confederation of Labor, with 5,000,000 members, has announced it will join the opposition. The combined strength of the Center and the Right will be needed if the measures are approved.

The Daladier Cabinet itself hesitated a long time before it approved the drastic measures, which virtually abolish the forty-hour week, greatly increase direct and indirect taxes, and bring an end to public works. It was brought together only by the realization that if sacrifices are not imposed upon the people and that if the nation does not get back to work, financial and economic collapse will be inevitable. It then swallowed such unpopular measures as tax increases on production, on salaries, on gasoline, tobacco, coffee and face powder and an increase in the postage rates; it agreed to limit Government spending and to lay off a number of men on the Government-owned railroads; it faced the facts of a critical situation which preceding Governments had refused to face. The big battle will come, however, when these unpopular measures—Frenchmen are even more averse to tax increases than other people—come up for approval in the Chamber of Deputies.

There is no denying the fact that France's position is precarious. Domestically it is afflicted with a chronic case of—underproduction and decreasing revenue; from across the Rhine it is confronted by an increasingly powerful Germany. Internally it is on the verge of collapse and as the result of the Munich pact it has sunk to a second-class nation. Something must be done and that effectively and speedily if the republic is to survive.

Backed by the demand of 7,000,000 World War veterans for a strong Government, the Daladier Cabinet promulgates its decrees on which it will stand or fall. If it fails the fall of the Third Republic is a possibility.—Courier-Journal.

General Motors To Assure Weekly Wage For Men

Detroit — General Motors Corporation announced today two benefit plans, effective in 1939, intended to give approximately 150,000 hourly wage employees within the United States the economic security of assured weekly incomes.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the corporation, said a similar plan applicable to 37,000 salaried employees would be announced soon.

Hourly wage workers with five years or more of service will be eligible for the General Motors Income Security Plan, under which the corporation will advance to

Copper and Brass Exhibit At New York World's Fair

UNDOUBTEDLY the copper and brass industry exhibit will be one of the most spectacular at the forthcoming New York World's Fair 1939. It will be housed in the Metals Building, which is adjacent to the Theme Tower.

Above is depicted a rough architectural drawing of how the exhibit will look when completed. This sketch shows only a part of the entire exhibit, which will be one of the two largest in the Metals Building. The story of copper, from its discovery by prehistoric man down through the fight of centuries, will be illustrated through animated dioramas, murals and exhibits of present day uses of man's most useful metal—the oldest metal of commerce.

In the circular lobby or entrance to the exhibit will be shown an animated copper "atom," which will be the most spectacular feature of the industry's exhibit. In the center, the proton (nucleus) is represented by a powerful light, surrounded by orbits in which the electrons, with 29 of them all rotating, 29 floodlights will be on, while the lights in the walls go out. If a single grain of copper were expanded to scale so that single atoms were as large as a grain of sand (1/64 in.), the mass of the material so obtained would cover the United States to a depth of about 4 feet.

Among other interesting features of the copper and brass exhibit will be that showing a cave in which a primitive man with his family will be shown in animated diorama, working on the first use of copper, that of spearheads as a first line of defense in war and for hunting animals whose meat was his main subsistence. Animated dioramas will also be shown of the casting of the doors of the Temple of Karnak; Cellini's workshop showing the hammering of gold for a beautiful bronze statue; the Pearl Street Station of New York, which was the first electrical generating unit in the world; and the landing of the first English rollers of sheet copper who were smuggled into this country in barrels.

There will be shown in this exhibit in animated form both open and underground methods of mining, portraying the removal of the ore from the earth. In animation will also be depicted steam shovels, trains of cars and other interesting scenes.

The use of copper for electricity, particularly for conveying electric energy through high tension transmission lines to urban and rural sections, will be graphically illustrated.

each employee in periods of curtailed employment an amount sufficient to give him 60 per cent of his standard weekly earnings, including unemployment compensation and pay for any other regular employment. The "standard week" is to be figured at 40 hours.

Hourly wage workers with two or more years of service who are not within the first plan will be eligible for the "General Motors Lay-Off Benefit Plan" under which the corporation will advance a sum sufficient to give each worker 40 per cent of his standard weekly earnings, with some restrictions not included in the plan for five-year employees.

Employees who receive the benefits will repay the corporation by work performed when production increases. Repayment can be made in no other manner, Sloan explained.

The plans will be applicable only to employees of the corporation and wholly owned subsidiaries within the United States. To be eligible for the income security plan, an employee must be in the employ of the corporation during December, 1938. Employees who work any time after December 1, 1938, will be eligible for participation in the lay-off benefit plan.

"Particular attention is called to the fact that the corporation is not guaranteeing work for which there is no need," Sloan said. "However, using the resources of the corporation as an income stabilizing factor, giving the largest group of employees possible a definite assurance of a substantial minimum weekly income for a definite period is, according to my beliefs, sound and highly desirable."

Defense Needs Are Discussed By Roosevelt

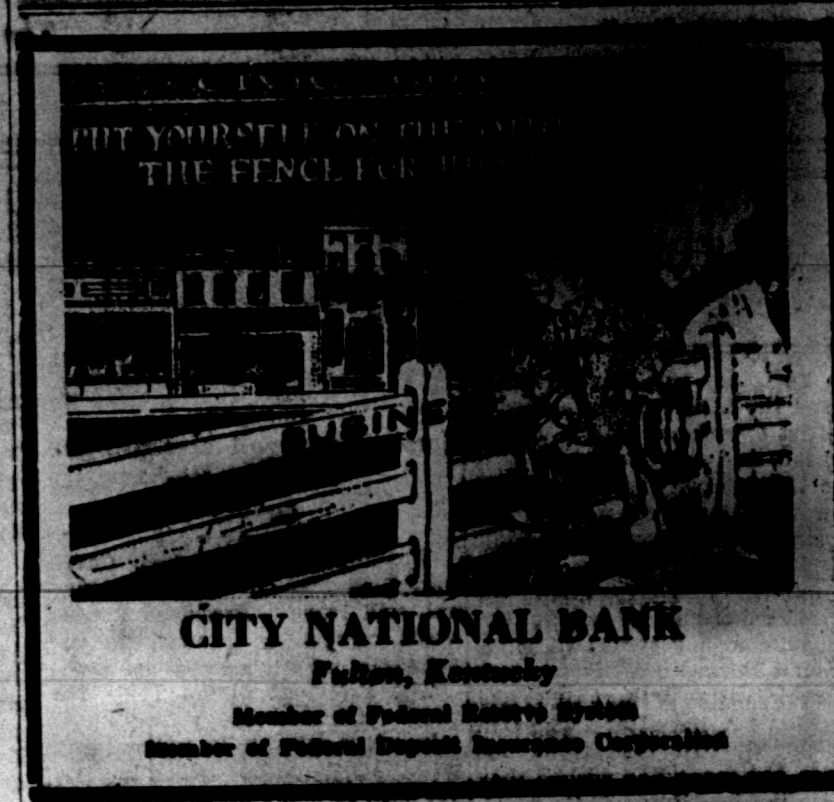

Washington — President Roosevelt and a group of high Government officials reviewed the Nation's defense needs at a conference today.

Those participating declined to discuss nature of the conversations, but it was understood an upward revision of the Army's budget was considered.

The question of enlarging the Army's budget was reported to be the one which brought Secretary Morgenthau into the conference. Also were Louis Johnson, Assistant Secretary of War; Harry Hopkins, W. P. A. administrator; Solicitor General Robert Jackson; Treasury General Counsel Herman Oliphant; General Malin Craig;

Army chief of staff; Brig. Gen. George Marshall, deputy chief of staff; Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, Air Corps chief; Col. James H. Burna, Johnson's executive assistant, and the President's military and naval aide.

Convict Whose Term Expires Today Doesn't Want To Leave

Montgomery, Ala. —Eugene Robinson, Negro prisoner, flabbergasted Hamp Draper today by asking the State Constable Department chief to let him remain in Kieby Prison three months after his term expires tomorrow.

Robinson wrote it "would catch me out of a job and a place to stay" if he is freed tomorrow after serving six years and eight months for a Birmingham robbery.

His letter explained he expected a job in three months, but if released now "I will be out-doors until then and may I remain on here until that time and I will get the job and be a good boy if you please."

After Draper figuratively picked himself off the floor, he said the law wouldn't let him grant Robinson's request.

season and even then choice was comparatively limited. During the past twenty years approximately 12,500 original books for children have been published, providing a wealth of new books for children of all ages in libraries, schools, and bookstores all over the country.

In observance of this 20th Anniversary of Book Week, and in an effort to stimulate more interest on the part of parents in what their children are reading, the following list of children's books, which may be called the best among recent publications, is published.

For ages six to ten: "Chessie," by Ruth Carroll; "Farm on the Hill," by M. C. Horn; "Mittens" and "Babbette," by Clara Newberry; "One Day With Tuktu," by A. Perry; "The Gunwolf," W. Harper; "Buttons," by Tom Robinson; "Mel Lei," Thomas Bandforth; "Foot Cecco," by Marjorie Bianco; "Pinocchio," by Colodi; and "Judy and Chris," by Covin. For ages ten to fourteen: "Privateer Ahoy," by Stockport; "Rain on the Roof," Melges; "Stories from the Old Testament," by Petersham; "The Terhune and Jack O'Brien stories of dogs; Louis L'Amour's anthology of poetry for children; "The Guns of Shiloh," "Tree of Appomattox," and "Rock of Chickamauga," by Altschuler; "Gay Neck," Mukerji; "Invincible Louise," by Melges; and "Courageous Companions," by Charles Finger. The last six mentioned received the Newberry award. All of these books, are on the shelves of your public library.

Witnesses Are Questioned In Triple Killing

Machester, Ky. —Sheriff E. L. Gibson tonight continued an investigation of a gun battle yesterday afternoon on the main street of this rural southeastern community that left three men dead.

The Sheriff said that although the shooting occurred in front of a crowded tearoom, and was seen by a number of persons, he had been unable to find anyone who could give a lucid story of the fight.

Sheriff Gibson said the victims were John L. Manning, 31, of Georgetown; Police Judge B. P. Lytle, 35, and his brother, Dale Lytle, 30.

Sheriff Gibson said most of the people who were on the street when the shooting started ran for cover.

The Sheriff estimated twenty shots were fired during the fight. He said the Judge was struck in the abdomen and that the other two victims were shot in the head. All three men were killed instantly. No one else was engaged in the battle, the Sheriff asserted.

Manning was a son of Former Circuit Judge A. T. W. Manning and was on a visit here with his wife and two children. He had lived in Lexington and Paris before going to Georgetown, where he had been employed for three years.

P-T. A. HOLDS VERY ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The West Fulton Parent-Teachers Association Executive Board met yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, preceding the regular meeting which was held at three o'clock. The board meeting was attended by the following members: Mesdames J. C. Hancock, Roper Fields, Kelly Lowe, Claude Linton, Robert Graham, and Superintendent J. O. Lewis. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Roper Fields in the absence of the board secretary, Mrs. Eldridge Grymes. During this business hour several recommendations were made by the board which were voted upon at the following meeting, and the following business was transacted at the general meeting: A motion was made and carried to buy a set of Compton's encyclopaedias which will be placed in Carr Institute for the use of the grammar school. A lengthy discussion was also held concerning the planting of flowers on the school grounds in the near future, these flowers having been offered to the P-T. A. by the Garden Department of the Fulton Woman's Club. An announcement was made regarding the December meeting, the time of which has been changed, and it will be held on the first Tuesday of the month. All members are asked to please keep this change in mind.

A very interesting report was made by Mrs. Claude Linton on the reception which was given last month by this group. The year books for the coming year were then discussed.

An account was made of the room attendance and after a final count, the fourth grade was presented the prize for having more mothers in attendance, than any other grade.

Mr. Lewis announced to the group that he is always more than glad to welcome mothers as visitors at the school at any time, and it was decided that moving pictures will be shown at the school building once every month to be witnessed by the mothers. These pictures will be shown by the machine recently purchased by the P-T. A.

After the business the program was in charge of Miss Agatha Gayle who presented Miss Catherine Richardson. The song "Drink To Me Only," was led by Miss Richardson. Statistical reports were then made by Miss Gayle concerning the books and libraries throughout the state of Kentucky and also the Fulton High school library. Mrs. Ruth M. Hubbard gave an article on "Choosing Good Books for Our Children," and Miss Eleanor Ruth Jones gave a very interesting discussion on "How To Read and Develop A Taste For It."

At ten o'clock the morning session was opened with the "Woman's Hymn," which was followed by the W. M. U. watch word. A most interesting devotional was given by Mrs. Wiley Utterback of Clinton, Kentucky. The association superintendent, Mrs. Clyde Lassiter of Hickman, then took charge and presided the remainder of the day. Mrs. Lassiter presented Miss Betty Miller who is a state worker of Louisville. Miss Miller very interestingly discussed "1939 Standard of Excellence."

After this very enjoyable discussion the superintendent made the usual announcements and the secretary, Mrs. Paul Shaw of Hickman, Kentucky, read the minutes of the last meeting.

At the conclusion of this business a girls' trio, composed of Misses Betty Goldsmith, Jane Alley, and Florence LeGate, sang, "The Green Cathedral," accompanied at the piano by Miss Agatha Gayle.

The morning session was closed with prayer by Mrs. Earl Taylor, president of the Fulton W. M. U. and at the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served in the basement of the church.

The afternoon session opened at 1:15 o'clock with the song, "I Love To Tell The Story," followed with scripture. For the devotional various women quoted scriptures from the Bible in connection with "Fruit of victory."

Steve Wiley was then presented and rendered a solo, accompanied at the piano by his wife.

The different presidents of the Woman's Missionary Unions represented made reports on work done in their group and on their method of meeting their goal for the past three months. A report from the nominating committee was heard and the following officers were elected to serve during the issuing year: Mrs. Clyde Lassiter of Hickman was re-elected superintendent; Mrs. Edwin Wroe of Clinton, vice-superintendent, and Mrs. Paul Shaw of Hickman, secretary-treasurer.

A true and false quiz was then given by Miss Miller and the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Carl Hastings.

Eighty-five people attended the meeting and about fifty of that number were local women. Towns represented were Arlington, Clinton, Hickman, Crutchfield, Bardwell, Mt. Carmel, Liberty, Poplar Grove, and Fulton.

Presiding at the register were Misses Nell Marie Mooneyham and Mary Moss; Hales and the ushers were Jack Rawls and Clifton Hamlett.
