Renewal of Jewish persecution makes acute a long-recognized need of international efforts to provide outlets for Jewish emigration from Central Europe.

community except that of Palestine, is found in sentimental factors which may have been somewhat altered by their recent unhappy experiences.

Immigration quotas, backed by labor and other groups, have constituted one obstacle to improvement of the conditions of Jews suffering from political doctrines.

Declarations of anti-Semitic Governments that they would be glad to be rid of the Jews now under their jurisdiction lead naturally to the question whether these governments would not be willing to bear a proper share of the burden of putting resettlement plans into operation.

One reason Jews have not settled elsewhere in greater numbers, and have shown a traditional unwillingness to till the soil in any

It is notable that interest in a humane solution of this problem today is strong in nations not responsible themselves for the plight of the Jews. Public protests against their mistreatment are being heard wherever free speech preserves a voice for humane impulses.

If you are in a hurry to get to the Lake, better not go this way. The miles can't be flung behind on this road.

We followed the road on toward the Lake and finally descended Fishgap Hill, which years ago, used to tear the heart out of the automobiles of that day.

Wallace Asks For Research To Aid Farming

Washington.—Secretary Wallace today appealed to scientists to put their technological knowledge to work for agriculture.

The appeal was embodied in an announcement that the Department of Agriculture expects to employ twenty-five chemists for four major research laboratories it will establish this winter. The laboratories were authorized by Congress to search for new uses for farm products.

Failure to find new uses for cotton, Wallace said, may force the South to reduce its normal cotton acreage of 40,000,000 to 15,000,000 within twenty years.

"Did Jones take his bad luck like a man?"
"Exactly! He blamed it all on his wife."

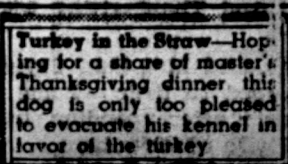

Court Upholds Passenger's Right To Seat On Train

New York.—An irate passenger, who stood for nearly three hours in a crowded train, was comforted today by a decision of an appellate court upholding his claim that a person who buys a ticket is entitled to a seat.

Phillip Davis, attorney, claimed he was obliged to stand for two hours and forty-four minutes on a New York Central train from Albany to the 125th St. Station in New York July 12, 1936, because it was crowded. He sued and the Municipal Court dismissed the case. The Supreme Court ruled for a new trial. Davis was awarded a judgment of $117 which was affirmed today.

Fifth Avenue Showplace

THE latest in modern decoration, Lord and Taylor's new fashion floor is unequalled in originality and uniqueness in arrangement and design and use of color.

With each ornament, each fixture, each chair and sofa especially designed for the floor in combination with vivid color harmonies in exquisite displays—critics have titled it "The Showplace of Fifth Avenue". The most startling effect of the floor is the revolutionary use of color. Gone are the ordinary, expressionless mannequins, placed in leisurely haphazard arrangement about the floor as in mother's day. No more are there dull lacquered chairs and benches for the convenience of customers. Instead, bright green, purple, cerise, blue and orange chairs and couches echo and re-echo in the mirrored plaster. There are mannequins designed by Cora Scovil and made up by Elizabeth Arden, using for the first time her new color harmonies for fall.

Single plaster niches with suspended shelves hold spotlighted mannequins at eye level so merchandise can be easily seen; great ovals of indirect light dot the sales floor and the clever arrangement of displays lend an air of much spaciousness.

Approaching from a darkened corridor, one is unwittingly drawn to the well-lighted, colorful sections. With a common background of Otrillo grey, each department has its own color scheme which affords the best effects for the merchandise displayed. Even the fitting rooms have been done in delicate pastels with dainty motifs, which adds a touch of whimsy to the floor. "The Showplace of Fifth Avenue" it is—and was executed under the personal supervision of Dorothy Shaver, first vice president of the store—in connection with the Raymond Loewy organization.

THE LISTENING POST

A certain radio program proved quite enjoyable to a lot of Fulton folks yesterday, but Ward McClellan was not among those who enjoyed it.

Ward, as his hundreds of friends know, does not have a great deal of hair on his head. In fact, to put it baldly, Ward is quite bald.

The radio program referred to is one which advertises a certain hair tonic, and it leans somewhat to the testimonial idea.

The testimonial came through on the program yesterday. Out of the radios here blared forth the announcement that Ward McClellan of Fulton, Kentucky, had been relieved of baldness and was now sporting a shock of thick black hair.

"I'm going to dedicate the next song to that good fellow, Ward McClellan of Fulton, Kentucky," he said.

The benefit show sponsored by the Lions Club Saturday night at the Fulton Theatre was quite a success, according to unofficial reports.

Farley Confers With Demo Hds. On Party Plans

Sees No Drop In FDR's Popularity In Losses At Recent Elections

New York. -The Democratic leadership, from 21 eastern and southern states, looking toward the 1940 Presidential struggle, took counsel today with National Chairman James A. Farley over the party's position in the light of its losses in the November 8 elections.

In a series of private conferences, which he said were designed in part to "clear up any misunderstandings within the party that may exist," Farley spent most of the day with his visitors, who had been with his visitors, who had been called here.

He received them as state delegations, one at a time. During a break in the proceedings he said to reporters:

"These leaders have definitely indicated to me that in their opinion there has been no falling off in the President's personal popularity."

In answer to a direct question as to whether any effort had been made to test possible sentiment for a third term nomination for President Roosevelt, he replied:

"I have not discussed, and do not expect to discuss in this conference, that question."

He disclosed he planned to talk next Monday or Tuesday in Chicago with Democratic leaders from all states west of the Mississippi.

Negro Tried On Robbery Charge

New U. S. Judge For West Kentucky Likely In January

Washington. -From a list of more than half a dozen names, President Roosevelt is expected to nominate, shortly after the first of the years, a candidate for judge of the Federal District Court for Western Kentucky.

Local Salesman Held In Mayfield

Mayfield, Ky. -Eldridge Turner, 22, Fulton salesman, was returned here today to await action of the grand jury on a charge of appropriating property of another to his own use.

Revamping Compromise Is Predicted

Washington. -There were new indications today that friends and foes of the administration's government reorganization bill might try to work out a compromise measure in the next session of congress.

Interested administration officials said it might be possible to insert a definite pledge of economy—a pledge which opposition senators demanded but failed to exact.

Opponents of the bill, who generally have favored government reorganization in principle, said they had certain minimum demands before any compromise could be reached.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) predicted that congress never would consent to provisions of the administration measure which would abolish the office of comptroller general and replace the present bi-partisan civil service commission with a single administrator.

Vandenberg asserted there easily could be a compromise if the "worst features" of the administration bill were eliminated.

Flight To Get Wife Failure

Moscow. -A British engineer who made a madcap airplane flight into Soviet Russia to try to get his Russian wife out of the country is under arrest here.

Mrs. R. H. Boaz Dies Last Night After Long Illness

Mrs. R. H. Boaz, who was one of Fulton's most aged prominent citizens, passed away last night at 11:10 o'clock at her home on Arch Street after a long continued illness.

Mrs. Boaz's maiden name was Tennessee Olivia Slayden, having been named for the state of Tennessee by her father who migrated from Virginia when a child. She was born on July 10, 1849 in the state of Mississippi and was the third youngest of a family of eight children.

She is the mother of seven children, all of whom are surviving except the late J. E. Boaz, a merchant of Fulton who died in a Memphis hospital in May, 1936.

Ernest Fall reported that work on the new overhead bridge was proceeding at present and the contractor had given the assurance that the work would be pushed through as rapidly as possible.

Pay-Hour Law Goal To Aid State Labor

Washington. -Gradually development and expansion of State Labor Commissions is becoming an indirect goal of the wage-hour administration.

An official close to Elmer F. Andrews, Wage-Hour Administrator, said today that forthcoming allocation of Federal funds to "proper" State Labor Departments to help enforce the new Federal law would serve to "bring up to standard some of the agencies that have fallen behind."

4 District Counties In Default, Revenue Department Reports

FRANKFORT, KY. -The State Revenue Department reported today 28 Kentucky counties, or about one-fourth of those having outstanding debts, are in default.

The report on conditions at the end of the 1937-38 fiscal year, showed those in default to be: Breathitt, Butler, Carlisle, Carroll, Clay, Clinton, Estill, Fulton, Grant, Gren, Hopkins, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Lee, Letcher, McLean, Magoffin, Marshall, Perry, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Trigg, Whites and Wolfe.

Sears President Urges Firms To Form Profit-Sharing Plan

Washington. -Robert E. Wood, President of Sears, Roebuck and Company, suggested today that corporations be encouraged to establish profit-sharing systems by granting those that do an exemption on their social security tax payments.

Wood was one of three corporation executives who described profit-sharing systems to a sub-committee of the Senate finance committee. The sub-committee was just beginning a study of the application of such policies to American business.

Britain Unlikely To Help France With Big Army

Refusal To Do So May Chill Talks Of Chamberlain, Daladier

Paris. -Indications that Great Britain would refuse to train a large army to aid French troops on the continent in the event of war appeared likely today to lend an icy atmosphere to Premier Daladier's talks with Prime Minister Chamberlain this week.

Two days before Chamberlain is scheduled to arrive with Viscount Halifax, his foreign minister, sources close to the government said that the British premier again had indicated conviction that his country's large fleet and growing air force were a sufficient contribution to the British-French military cooperation.

Circles close to the foreign office reported the question of renewed efforts to facilitate the departure and resettlement of Jewish refugees from Germany would be discussed during the visit of Chamberlain and Halifax.

Discussions between the British and French ministers, it was ascertained, will deal chiefly with defense against a possible attack from the Fascist partners—Italy and Germany.

The French attitude has been that its army of approximately 700,000 men cannot bear the brunt of war with Germany and Italy.

Kings In The Wind

The straws in the winds of Central European politics are kings and cabinets. And for the moment the breeze that was blowing toward Berlin has turned to a flurry Londonward. King Carol of Rumania and King George of Greece already are in London, and Prince Paul of Yugoslavia is on the way. The prelude to this journeying included conferences among Balkan statesmen, so none of these monarchs is going to be genuinely surprised if he runs into one or both of the others in St. James's Park.

The hastening of three Balkan rulers to London, it should be noted, comes as an unheralded sequel to the German Economics Minister's travels east of Berlin, on trade agreements bent. In Turkey Herr Funk left a loan almost as big as that tendered the Turkish Government by Britain, and pocketed a trade agreement calculated to increase German influence in that part of the world. But he must have left behind him in Balkan capitals something else less desirable than loans—possibly an impression that the future of Eastern Europe would be safer if nations there found a counterweight to German pressures.

Hungary, whose Cabinet has just undergone considerable revision, has been for some time alert to the need of such a counterweight. Thus in entering a barter agreement with Germany, Hungary has been careful to keep its trade with other countries at least equal to that which it carries on with the Reich, hoping in this way to prevent the development of an economic dependence on Germany which might later prove politically embarrassing. The Cabinet chan-

Would Back Up Programs With Weapons

New York.—The United States is about to embark upon new international and domestic policies of historic importance. In the opinion of some of the nation's most prominent industrial leaders who claim knowledge of current plans in Washington.

As they understand the new policy now taking shape, important parts of which are expected to be presented to the new Congress, the United States is to abandon its 20-year "fruitless" efforts to persuade other nations to adopt universal "sane" disarmament and trade programs.

Compact Aimed At Ohio River Pollution Eyed

Chicago.—An interstate compact designed to eliminate pollution of the Ohio River and its tributaries was submitted today before the regional assembly of the Council of State Governments. The assembly will outline legislative programs for interstate cooperation on problems concerning fourteen States.

The proposed Ohio River compact, presented by Alfred Bettman, Cincinnati, chairman of the Ohio Valley Regional Planning Commission, would provide for the establishment of a sanitation commission which would have authority to stop pollution of the river and its tributaries by municipalities and factories. It suggests that the waters should not contain more than 45 per cent suspended solids.

Until a majority of the States and Congress had approved it, the compact would not be effective.

In place of the policy of "sweet reason," as one industrial leader expressed it, the United States will hereafter "talk a language the dictators understand," backing up diplomatic and trade policies with armament.

Summary Of Program
They summarized the gigantic scope of the program—described as dwarfing by comparison the dreams of the totalitarian nations—as follows:

- 1. An Army, Navy and air force which "could stand off the world."
2. Loans to other American countries for allied defense systems.
3. An international diplomatic drive "to put starch into the democracies" to block further totalitarian encroachments.

4. Immediate diplomatic and economic rapprochement with all nations in the western hemisphere to forestall further political and trade penetration by aggressive nations.

5. A swift drive to end unemployment, labor strife, and economic troubles within the United States to eliminate the chief argument of totalitarian nations regarding "democracy's failure."

6. Peace between business and government—without loss of existing gains of liberal social legislation.

7. A heavy industry stimulation program correlated with necessary re-armament spending in an effort to bring prosperity.

MRS. R. L. HALLOWAY

To look well, one has to feel well. Thousands who were wasted, pale and tired out, their faces lined with marks of suffering, have reported that Retonga, the new herb medicine, has brought fresh, healthy color back to their cheeks, and sent glowing new strength flowing through their bodies. Read the experience of Mrs. R. L. Halloway, a well known resident of 12 Academy Place, Nashville, who says:
"I suffered agonies from sour indigestion, gas pains and bloating and I lost my appetite. I grew pale, nervous and lost so much weight I was hardly more than skin and bones. My bowels were sluggish. I had splitting head-aches. My back ached, my arms, shoulders, and legs pained me so I could hardly get up and down. I never got a nights rest ful sleep and I became weakened, worn and tired out. I read about Retonga and my husband bought it. Now my indigestion and all my pains have stopped, my bowels are regular, I have a good appetite and I no longer get up nights to relieve my kidneys. I have regained weight, feel fresh and strong, have a good color and am more cheerful and my husband and friends say I look better than I have in years."

Thousands have said Retonga is wonderful. It may be obtained at EVANS DRUG CO., Inc.

ANNIE ARMSTRONG CIRCLE IN MEETING LAST NIGHT
Twenty-nine regular members and three visitors, Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. L. K. Moore, and Mrs. Rubye Jones, attended the meeting of the Annie W. Armstrong Circle of the Baptist W. M. U. which met last night at the home of Mrs. John Reeks on Oak Street, with Mrs. Leon Hutchens, joint hostess.
The meeting was opened with prayer by Miss Myra Searce and the president, Mrs. Clifton Hamlett, presided over the usual business session. The secretary, Mrs. Jack Rawls, read the minutes, called the roll, and asked for personal service reports. During the business hour new officers were elected for the coming year and they are: Mrs. Hugh Rushton, president; Mrs. Earl Collins, vice-president; Mrs. John Allred, secretary; Mrs. Otis Bizzle, treasurer; Miss Adelle Rhodes, corresponding secretary; and Miss Sara Linton, historian. After the lengthy discussion the idea was given up concerning the division of this circle into two groups and the group will continue to work in the one group.
The stewardship program was presented by Miss Searce, the topic of which was "The Ministry of Giving." She was assisted by Miss Vera Wilkerson who gave a very interesting article on "Time and Money."
After the program the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Hamlett and adjourned until the first of December, the meeting place to be announced later.
