Physician Seek Way To Certify Wish Of Girl Make Her A Boy

LOS ANGELES — A physician is working to have a certain wish of a little girl come true. She wishes to be a boy.

The physician behind this effort is Dr. A. J. S. Campbell, chief of the department of pediatrics at the Los Angeles Hospital.

The little girl, whom Dr. Campbell describes as "a little girl with a bad girl's stomach," is being treated at the hospital. She was brought there by her parents, who are convinced that she is a boy, not a girl.

Dr. Campbell has been working with the case for several weeks, and has found that the little girl is mentally and physically normal.

"She is a bright, healthy child," Dr. Campbell said. "She is not a girl, but a boy."

The little girl's parents are both doctors, and they have been treating her for years. They believe that she is a boy, and they have taken her to see several physicians, including Dr. Campbell.

"We have tried everything," the girl's father said. "We have tried hormones, and we have tried surgery. But nothing has worked."

Dr. Campbell has agreed to try a new method of treatment, which he believes will be successful. He plans to perform an operation on the little girl, which he hopes will make her a boy.

"I believe that this operation will be successful," Dr. Campbell said. "I have seen similar cases before, and I have had good results."

The little girl's parents are grateful for Dr. Campbell's work, and they are looking forward to the operation.

"We are very grateful to Dr. Campbell," the girl's mother said. "He has given us hope, and we are looking forward to the operation."

The little girl, who is now 5 years old, is very happy with the news.

"I want to be a boy," she said. "I want to play with boys, and I want to wear blue shirts."
Renewal of Jewish persecution makes sense a long-recognized need of internationals to apply outside for Jewish emigration from what is now Central Europe. The spectre of a people who can neither live in peace where they are nor go to a place where they can be free from enemies, and are so deeply touched the, lead i to measurers in which Jews are oppressed except as penniless governments would not be willing to bear a proper share of the burdens. THE LEADING POST

In recent years there has been a certain radio program proved quite subtly to a lot of Phil- adelphiaites. It was called "The Leading Post," and it was not noticed among those who had heard it. A few years ago it was broadcast from the broadcast station and it was then that several of the listeners' interests were realized. The program was quite popular, and it had several curious listeners. Some of them liked it because they felt that it was broadcasting the news as it really was, without any editorializing. Others liked it because they thought it was a great relief from the constant stream of advertisements that they heard elsewhere. But the majority of the listeners were just interested in what was going on in the world, and they listened to "The Leading Post" because it gave them a chance to hear the news as it happened. The program was broadcast from a studio, and it was a combination of music, speaking, and reading. The music was played by orchestra, and the speaking was done by well-known broadcasters. The news was read by reporters who were stationed all over the world, and they sent in their stories by radio. The program was broadcast in the evenings and it lasted for several hours. It was a great thing for the people of Philadelphia, and it was a great thing for radio itself.
Kings In The Wind

The storms in the winds of Central European politics are keen and unrelenting, and the dream of a united Germany is evaporating. Berlin has failed to get a treaty from the Council of European Ministers, and King George of Greece, already in London, and Prince Paul of Yugoslavia is on the way. The present is an uncertain time and the future has ominous overtones. Among the leading problems, there is the possible annexation of the German Empire by the Kaiser, and the question of a new Germany. Berlin has turned to a flurry of conferences among European states, and the proposed conference in the Eastern Hemisphere is on the way. The preponderance of the King of Rumania gives a better chance for an agreement, with a minimum of delay. This is payable in advance or by subscription. The King of Rumania has removed some of the difficulties.

McAdoo Bommakers
IN SESSION FRIDAY
The Adapta Bommakers held their all day meeting Friday at the private home of Mrs. Adolphus F. McAdoo. Those in attendance were: Mrs. William J. Barrett; Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Tippie, Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. Halsey, Mrs. Haiselden, Mrs. R. M. Ruffin, Mrs. W. C. Hogue, Mrs. A. G. Taylor, Mrs. C. W. Massey, and Mrs. C. W. Stotz.

After the morning prayer by Miss Sallie Smith the program proceeded with a demonstration on "Books of Prayer" and a discussion of the same. The morning program was given by Miss Carrie Musser. In the afternoon the club gave to the members samples of Christmas decorations which were beautifully decorated and after the little histories were blown out the candles, Mrs. Wilson served on a tray, hot cake and ice cream.

The afternoon program was given by Mrs. A. B. Guy and included a demonstration on "Kitchen Stoves" and an interesting address on "Art in the Home." Mrs. David Jones was in charge of the refreshments and the meeting was closed with prayer by Miss Adelle Rhodes, corresponding secretary. The meeting was held December 14."

MISS LATTA ENTERTAINS
CLUB WITH REFRESHMENTS
Miss Adolphus McAdoo was hostess to the weekly Thursday children's club last night at her home on West State Line and delightfully entertained the three table of club members with a buffet supper.

At seven o'clock a very pleasant supper was served from the dining room and the little guests took their places at the table. The refreshments served and was spread on cream and at the conclusion a high score was held by Miss Jessie Jones, the members, hosted by Mrs. Nettie Morris served high score and the program included songs, games, and a game of "Punch and Judy" that was enjoyed by the children last week at her home.
