CHAPTER 69. An Act to Establish a Court of Common Pleas in the County of Christian.

The following will show to those unacquainted with the details of the jurisdiction of the court, with amended added is given complete. Sec. 1. That a court of justice be, and the same is hereby established in and for Christian county, to be known as the "Christian court of common pleas," and which shall be a court of record, held by a single judge, and who, after the first election thereof, shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as circuit judges of this commonwealth, and who shall have the like qualifications, and receive a salary of twelve hundred dollars per annum, one-half of which shall be paid to him from the state treasury, in the same manner as circuit judges are paid, and the remaining half to be paid to him by the county of Christian as is hereinafter provided; he shall be a conservator of the peace, and shall be empowered to appoint circuit judges, and be subject to impeachment in like manner, and for like causes, and have like powers as circuit judges as a magistrate or judicial officer out of court.

Sec. 2. The first election of judge of said court shall be held at the regular August election in 1888, and vacancies shall be filled, and for the said court in like manner as in the circuit courts of this commonwealth, and the same practice and the same fees, as far as applicable shall prevail in said court as in circuit courts herein, and its certification of records of said court shall have the same force and effect as its certification of records from the Christian circuit court; and before the holding of the first term of said court, he shall without fee or reward transfer to said court all civil common law cases then pending in the Christian circuit court (except on forfeited recognizances, bail-bonds, etc.) which shall thereupon proceed in said court of common pleas, and said clerk shall keep a common docket and motion docket for said court, as is now required by law to be kept in circuit courts.

Sec. 3. The said court of common pleas shall have all the civil common law jurisdiction, original and appellate, which the existing laws appropriate to the Christian circuit court (except on forfeited recognizances, bail-bonds, etc., as aforesaid) and which jurisdiction shall be exclusive of the Christian circuit court, and to its clerk's office transcripts from the judge of the Christian circuit court and from justices courts, and the percentage of fees shall be ascertained by considering the amount of the case in connection with their interest matter or residuum as shown above.
