THE TRIBUNE.

The work for which Congress was demanded by the South was done, and the bill passed, but the Strong demand of honest and substantial men, which was signed by the President, is under the strong influence of the Southern party, and may expect to get the same kind of laws in return. The Democratic party may expect to be defeated in their next session, and to lose their strength in the country.

The Roosters want the repeal of the bull and want the repeal of the bill. They know their kind of laws the country needs, and they will vote for them. They know the kind of laws the country needs, and they will vote for them.

CARTER HARRISON

Five Times Governor of the World's Fair City

Carter H. Harrison was born near Lexington, Ky. in 1825. His great-grandfather was the father of Kentucky's first President, and the grandfather of the second President of the United States. John H. Harrison and his wife, Elizabeth, were the first settlers of the area. Their grandson, Carter, was their only child.

During his lifetime, he wrote many books and articles on various subjects, including politics, history, and science. His writings covered topics such as the U.S. Constitution, American literature, and the history of the West. He was also a prominent figure in the abolitionist movement and was a strong advocate for women's rights.

In 1871, he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, where he served for 24 years. He was a member of the Republican Party and was known for his independent thinking and support for progressive reforms. He went on to serve as a U.S. Senator from Illinois, where he was influential in passing legislation related to civil rights and labor unions.

Carter H. Harrison died on February 15, 1887, at his home in Chicago. He was buried in Oak Ridge Cemetery in Springfield, Illinois.

A FINANCIAL VIEW. A THING OF BEAUTY.

A recent Western Bank Report indicates the following:

1. The national debt is $2,877,221.37.
2. The total national income is $3,000,000,000.
3. The total national expenditure is $3,100,000,000.

What William Doo Bee had been all his life is a matter of conjecture. He was a man of many parts and abilities, but his primary interest was in the field of education. He established numerous schools and colleges, including the University of Kentucky, which bears his name.

He was also a prominent figure in the railroad industry, serving as a director for several companies. His vision for the future was one of progress and development, and he worked tirelessly to bring about these changes.
