W. M. Hill & Sons In their New Office

In keeping with progressive Fulton and the expansion of their business, W. M. Hill & Sons, contractors and brick manufacturers, have recently made extensive improvements on their property in East Fulton, where they operate one of the largest brick manufacturing plants in this territory, with a capacity of 30,000 per day. The yards and plant occupy five and one-half acres conveniently located near the Illinois Central railroad with spur tracks leading directly to the yards.

They have erected a large warehouse, also an office building, store room and garage on the property.

The warehouse is designed for bulk material, machinery, tools, etc., and is a massive sheet iron structure.

The office building, store room and garage is constructed of brick, finished with Kellastone and is as near fire-proof as a building can be constructed. It is a model office building of exceptional beauty. Kellastone has been uniformly used on the brick walls so when viewed from a short distance, gives it the appearance of marble or granite. It is difficult to describe the beauty of the building. Pebbles of different colors have been dashed effectively on the exterior wall, while the interior has a rich appearance of velvet in a delicate color. The Kellastone floor coloring harmonizes with the office furniture, both in the main office and Mr. Hill's private office.

The building offers an ideal architectural expression of economy of space and construction with comfort, charm and good taste. It is a practical example of the builder's art. By using the same material prospective builders will be able to judge accurately, both the quality of construction and the high standard of Kellastone beauty, charm and economy.

The store room adjoining the offices was designed for heavy storage with a six inch reinforced concrete floor, and the structure as well as its contents will carry a low rate of insurance.

An apartment in the rear of the store room is used for garage and truck service.

"Kellastone, imperishable Stucco, is not a new and untried product," says Mr. Hill. "The merits of Kellastone have been so firmly established that it has gained rapid and widespread popularity. The remarkable increase in its use has not been brought about by chance. It has proved its merits under all conditions and by severe tests. Kellastone's exceptional beauty is enduring. It has demonstrated its ability to withstand the vigorous attack of time and of elements, that's why we used it on our new office building and store-room."

Well Established Firm

W. M. Hill & Sons is not a new firm in Fulton. Mr. Hill has the distinction of being one of the oldest brick contractors in Western Kentucky, having built practically every brick building in Fulton during the past 30 or more years. His sons, Clyde B. and Don W. Hill, have grown up in the business, and are closely associated with the development and growth of the city. No firm in Fulton enjoys a higher standing in business circles, and the firm is a valuable asset to the city's industrial life.

Large Payroll

They often carry seventy-five to one hundred workmen on their payroll, drawing wages from $2.50 to $12.00 per day, or a total of more than $1,000 per week, and it is pleasing to note that practically every dollar paid out by this firm for labor is spent with the business firms of Fulton. While they don't demand it of their employees, they encourage it.

Contractors, Brick and Concrete Manufacturers

They are not only brick manufacturers, but manufacture all kinds of concrete slabs, blocks, etc. No contract is too large or too small for their undivided attention. One of the handsomest structures recently completed is the new Baptist Church, corner Second and Eddings streets. Another building due special mention is the pretty home of R. H. Wade, on Carr street. This is a stone building of beautiful architecture and all modern conveniences occupying an imposing location on Carr street.

The recent contract completed for concrete bridges on the new highway between Fulton and Union City was received by government engineers with words of highest commendation for excellent construction. The firm often contracts for out-of-town work. They recently completed a $50,000 building at Martin, Tenn., for the Martin Bank and Trust Co.

Visitors Are Welcome

It is interesting to visit their plant. All machinery is operated by motor power. The drying racks on the yards have a capacity of 170,000 bricks. A 40-horse power motor is used to run the machinery manufacturing the brick which is made from good clay dirt. 150 tons of coal is used to burn a kiln of brick and a motor is used to force the air through the kiln during the firing period. Bricks made by the firm are of good quality and in large demand. Car after car load is shipped to various points in this territory.

Fulton is fortunate in having such an industry. Visitors are always welcome. They invite inspection, and courteously offer helpful suggestions to those contemplating building. Mrs. Charles Gregory, daughter of W. M. Hill, is in charge of the office, while Mr. Gregory, her husband, looks after stock and material. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory are valuable assets to the firm's business interests.

WELL KNOWN FARMER DEAD.

Sam A. Bard Succumbs To Paralytic Stroke.

Last Wednesday, as he was making arrangements to come to Fulton, Sam A. Bard, well known farmer, residing near Enon church, three miles north of town suffered a paralytic stroke from which he died shortly afterwards.

Mr. Bard was 69 years old when the sudden summons came and had resided in this vicinity practically all of his life. He was of a jovial disposition and was highly esteemed and honored by a large circle of friends who deeply regret his passing.

Mr. Bard was a member of Pleasant Hill Methodist Church and was a loyal Christian.

He is survived by his widow, adopted son, Leighman Bard, three brothers, J. T. Bard, Dick Bard, Jim Bard; two sisters, Mrs. J. H. Bockman, of near Fulton; Mrs. Jim Sullivan, of near Clinton.

The Last Day

Edgewater Beach Death And Destruction

PLAYGROUNDS OF WESTERN KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE

Extensive preparations are being made by P. C. Ford, Fulton's hotel wizard, to make Edgewater Beach, on Reelfoot Lake, near Tiptonville, one of the most attractive retreats for recreation and amusement in this section of country. With its beautiful natural environment, Edgewater Beach has become famous, and can well be termed the "playgrounds" of Western Kentucky and Tennessee.

It has been estimated that around five hundred thousand visitors enjoyed the boating, bathing, fishing and other wholesome outdoor recreation at this pleasure retreat during the season of 1926 and with the special effort Mr. Ford is making to add to the natural environment, unexcelled entertainment and comfort, Edgewater Beach should have one million visitors during 1927.

Mr. Ford has leased the property for a term of years and the improvements he is making will be of a substantial nature. New bathhouses and lockers are being provided for bathers; several hundred comfortable seats are being placed over the grounds beneath the large spreading forest trees; hardwood floors are being laid for dancing and skating; pleasure boats are being provided; in fact, every effort will be made with the minutest little details, to provide entertainment and comfort for visitors as only Mr. Ford is capable.

Barbecue, sandwiches, cold drinks, ice cream, fruits and candies will be served. Picnic parties, civic clubs and party lunches specialized.

People who visit Edgewater Beach on Reelfoot Lake this season will wonder in amazement at its beauty, the delightful bathing in clear, fresh water with a snow-white sand bottom, and fishing with a thrill for the Nimrods.

It is Mr. Ford's desire to insure visitors the most inviting, the most attractive and best protected pleasure resort in this territory with improvements of the highest character and artistic pride.

Louis Roberts, Fulton's well known decorator and sign painter, is due the credit for the artistic signs and art work on the hundreds of seats, placed over the grounds.

Death Angel Keeping Watch.

As we go to press the death angel hovers over the prostrated form of Mrs. N. W. Turney at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Williams, 416 Eddings St. Her loved ones and skilled physicians who have done everything in their power to stay the final summons, practically lost all hope early Thursday morning.

DESERVED PROMOTION

D. Mitchell, manager of the local telephone exchange in this city for the past three years has been promoted by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company to the Henderson, Ky., exchange, as manager, effective May 15. T. J. Hall, an old experienced telephone man of Paducah, will succeed Mr. Mitchell as manager of the Fulton exchange.

D. Mitchell came to Fulton from Owensboro, Ky. He has had ten years telephone experience and was honored with a gold button the first of this month. Since coming to Fulton he has exerted every effort to bring the local exchange up to the highest standard of perfection under the system with which he had to work. He was loyal to his company, giving their patrons the best of service, sometimes under trying conditions. During his management, 125 subscribers have been added. Today the exchange has on its payroll 20 employees, five more than it had three years ago. He is due credit for having his force well organized and rendering excellent service. Each one of the employees are putting forth every effort to please subscribers. Mr. Mitchell has made many warm friends during his stay here, who will regret to see him leave, but wish him every success in his new field of labor.

Now, therefore, be it known that Sunday, May 15, is the day set for Decoration Day at Fairview. This is an opportune time to express with flowers the love and esteem for our dead. With reverence let us beautify our city of the dead with choicest blossoms on this memorial occasion.

W. O. SHANKLE, Mayor.

Proclamation

Know all men, women and children by these presents:

That, Whereas, the season of year has put forth new life and the blossoming flowers are at their best, it is becoming of us to commemorate and honor our dead.

Now, therefore, be it known that Sunday, May 15, is the day set for Decoration Day at Fairview. This is an opportune time to express with flowers the love and esteem for our dead. With reverence let us beautify our city of the dead with choicest blossoms on this memorial occasion.

W. O. SHANKLE, Mayor.

I. C. Active In Flood Relief.

In the midst of one of the greatest disasters ever experienced in the Southland, R. N. Somerville, Chairman of Rescue Committee at Cleveland, Miss., writes the following:

"Too frequently the best acts of certain immense impersonal corporations are passed by without tribute even though the acts possess warmth and generosity worthy of a noble personality. Those who have been connected with the relief work out of Cleveland, Miss., feel that the attitude of the Illinois Central road must not be overlooked in this way.

It would take a book to catalogue the aid and assistance as given to the stricken ones of Mississippi by this road. Cars were placed at the disposal of those in the path of the flood; these cars were rushed gratis to the deserted locations; hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of rolling stock was left on the elevated roadbeds to shelter the homeless, the boat trains were rushed from Pass Christian and Gulfport that those who were left in the inundated area might be brought out; almost all the substantial rescue work was done by these boats, as many of the rapidly constructed home-made affairs proved unable to bear up the loads, leaky and too frail for motors. Moreover, the I. C. bought personally 10 boats and two dozen new outboard motors. These they turned over to the rescue work although the road needed them to investigate road conditions. Road officials used inferior boats that the rescue service might have the more durable, powerful types. Dozens of special trains were run for the rescue service. These trains carried the boats to the water's edge and brought the refugees in free of charge. Whenever there was a demand for transportation by rail the Illinois Central Road gave prompt and cheerful service. On one occasion a train was run merely to get a tarring outfit to make some leaky boats available for service.

"All this was done, let us remember, at a time when the road could have put its engines into the preservation of its own property with great saving and profit. The people of the delta will never forget the co-operation the Illinois Central offered in the disaster. Supt. Dubbs never failed to give more than was requested by the relief committee. He gave time, thought and direction and took the problems of the relief committee to heart as if they were his own. Nobody could have responded more completely or generously than the Illinois Central did, and it is but right that the public know that each and every member of the Cleveland relief committee is conscious of and grateful for this noble service to a helpless people."

Arkansas, Missouri, Texas and Illinois Swept By Storm

TORNADOS KILL 303 AND INJURE 1,000.

The big head lines and front page space of all the large metropolitan newspapers this week was devoted to the havoc wrought by tornados Saturday night, Sunday and Monday, killing more than 300 people and injuring around 1,000. While a number of towns in four states in the middle west were in the path of destruction, Poplar Bluff's business section suffered most. Approximately 100 persons were killed and 450 injured.

The tornado destroyed virtually every building in an area 4 blocks wide and four or five blocks long. Not a single store building was left undamaged.

Property damage was estimated well over $7,000,000. The city was in darkness and the cries of men, women and children could be heard from all parts of the devastated section.

The tornado hit like a bullet from a gun. Buildings of large size were crumpled as though they were paper, and trees were pulped from the earth and hurled into the air.

Pitiful scenes were enacted on the streets. The injured and homeless, with no place to turn, were climbing all through the wreckage.

BALANCED RATIONS
FOR LAYING HENS

In making up rations it is necessary to adhere to standards within certain limits, but some feeds may be substituted for others, as barley, wheat, and oats for corn. However,
meat scrap and other animal-protein feeds cannot be replaced by high-vegetable-protein feeds. All changes should be made gradually, as sudden changes may decrease egg production.

A great many poultrymen and live-stock feeders now believe that if the animal has a free choice it will select the ration that is most suitable. At the government farm, Beltsville, Md., the following mash was made up by keeping account of the amounts of the different feeds a laying flock consumed:

Mash.
16 pounds corn meal
12 pounds meat scrap
1 pound bran
1 pound middlings
1 pound scratch mixture

1 pound cracked corn
1 pound wheat
1 pound oats

Here is a simple ration that has given
very good results with Leghorns,
but that has proved too fattening for Rocks and Wyandottes. Meat scrap, it will be seen, makes up over 25 per cent of the mash:

Mash.
3 pounds corn meal
1 pound meat scrap
1 pound scratch mixture

2 pounds cracked corn
1 pound wheat
1 pound oats

For birds that are made too fat by the preceding ration, the following,
containing only 16 per cent of meat
scrap, but having considerable protein
in other feeds, has been found a good one:

Mash.
1 pound corn meal
1 pound bran
1 pound meat scrap
1 pound middlings
1 pound ground oats

1 pound scratch mixture
2 pounds cracked corn
1 pound wheat
1 pound barley

Poultrymen resort to every possible means to get their hens to eat a great deal of feed, especially in the winter when the days are short. One way is to cut the morning scratch feed to about half. The hungry bird then goes to the mash trough and gorges on the dry mash. Then to increase the consumption of mash, some of it is fed wet at noon and the hens will eat it when they would take no more of it dry.

This city with thirty-four others in Western Kentucky and West Tennessee is to be visited by the Louisville Board of Trade Heads of Houses on their annual spring tour of May 23 to 27.

DAVID B. G. ROSE
President Louisville Board of Trade

There will be 125 of the foremost business men of the Kentucky metropolis in the party, including manufacturers, wholesale merchants, bankers, railroad men, and others. A band and newspaper staff correspondents will accompany them.

LOUIS K. WEBB
Director of Tour

They will also have with them a corps of capable speakers, one or more of whom are expected to speak at each stop on their itinerary, in response to addresses of welcome that mayors, presidents of chambers of commerce, or other designated speakers will deliver.

LIKE THIS TERRITORY

The entire trip will cover 1,201 miles. "The territory that we shall visit," says David B. G. Rose, President of the

SEED AND FEED NEEDED FOR A MILLION ACRES IN FLOOD AREA

Seed and feed requirements for probably one million acres in the Mississippi Valley area, exclusive of Louisiana, will have to be financed this year by the Red Cross, or by some other relief agency, if this land is to be planted at all. This is indicated in a report made to the American Red Cross by C. W. Warburton, director of extension in the United States Department of Agriculture. All told, there are perhaps 10,000 square miles, or from 6,000,000 to 6,500,000 acres in the flooded area. Mr. Warburton estimates that about half this area is improved farm land. Detailed figures for Louisiana are not yet available. In the rest of flooded area efforts will probably be made to plant around 2,000,000 acres of crops, Mr. Warburton said.

The ability of the farmers in the flooded districts to finance their own needs is impaired by the fact that agricultural conditions in the region now flooded have been bad for several

Louisville Board of Trade, and the official head of the party, "is one that has made itself extremely popular with us on previous tours made. Indeed, it would probably be agreed by veterans of these tours that nowhere in its numerous excursions north and south of the Ohio River has the Louisville Board of Trade ever been more delightfully received than in this territory."

"We visit this territory frequently because it is one to which Louisville is largely bound by economic relations and by ties of blood and friendship. Many of the foremost business men of Louisville today were born in this territory. Louisville regards itself as distinctly a southern city and feels that its problems are largely the same as those of the rest of the South. Therefore, the Louisville Board of Trade is interested in better railway connections, improved river transportation, highway extension, flood control, crop diversification, the development of pure-bred live stock education and reciprocal trade relations. It is not only willing but anxious to cooperate with the rest of the South in obtaining those economic and social conditions that will promote the welfare and happiness of the people of the South."

WOULD KNOW OUR PROBLEMS

"We are hoping that the speakers who greet us on these tours will tell us what they are working for and how Louisville can help them. If they have any suggestions to offer or complaints to make, we want them. Speakers need not be afraid of hurting Louisville's feelings. It is only through a frank presentation of facts as they appear that real progress can be made in remedying unsatisfactory conditions."

HUSTON GLIN
Former Mayor of Louisville

Louis K. Webb, of Louisville, director of the tour, calls attention to the fact that the Board of Trade special train will carry six sleepers and two diners and that sleeping accommodations and meals will be provided on the train. For that reason the Louisville Board of Trade does not expect hospitality other than the welcoming receptions which practically every city on the itinerary has announced, including meeting the train with a reception committee and parading with the Louisville party to the place of speaking.

In view of the fact that the special is traveling on a rapid schedule, E. S. Wooley, director of speakers, announces that the men whom he assigns to speak for the visitors at each stop will speak briefly and to the point. In fact, he states, they are more anxious to hear than to be heard, and, in view of the limited time at each stop, they want to give local speakers ample time to present those matters that may be nearest to their hearts.

ROBERT T. CROWE

A Democrat—For Governor

"When Speaker of the House of Representatives I gave the people a square deal."

Mr. Crowe's life story reads like a romance. When but a lad he was thrown entirely on his own resources. He was not afraid of work and must educate himself. At times he was a lumber jack in the Great North Woods, then on the picturesque and dangerous log drive, where only red-blooded men need apply. Then to school on the money saved. Twenty-nine years ago found him in Kentucky working on the railroad with a pick and shovel. He studied law and took the bar examination in LaGrange, Kentucky, in 1902. In less than five years he was elected County Attorney of Oldham County, carrying every precinct in the County. He then succeeded himself without opposition, and upon retiring from this office was elected Representative in the Legislature from the Oldham-Trimble District, this time carrying every precinct in Trimble County. Mr. Crowe holds the distinction of being the only man to carry every precinct in the two counties.

Upon entering the Legislature his rise was rapid. He was placed on the Rules Committee in his first term and was selected by the House to prosecute the impeachment trial of Judge Williams before the Senate sitting as a High Court of Impeachment.

The following term he was elected Speaker. In 1916 he was a delegate to the National Convention that nominated Woodrow Wilson and in 1920 was Presidential Elector.

This is a story of twenty-five years not often equaled in American history.

- 1902—Railroad Labourer—Admitted to practice law.
- 1907—County Attorney of Oldham County.
- 1915—Representative in Kentucky Legislature.
- 1916—Selected by House to prosecute impeachment before Senate.
- 1916—Delegate to National Convention.
- 1918—Speaker of House of Representatives.
- 1920—Presidential Elector.
- 1927—Candidate for Governor.

Mr. Crowe married Miss Fannie Eastes of Henry County, a descendant of the well-known Guthrie family of Kentucky, and they have two children. The older, a son, Guthrie, is a student in the Kentucky Military Institute. The younger, a daughter, Elizabeth, is a student in The Kentucky Home School for Girls in Louisville. Mr. Crowe's home life is ideal.

Mr. Crowe's home is in LaGrange, Kentucky, where he is a member of the law firm of Robert T. and William J. Crowe. He is rated as one of the best lawyers in his section of the state.

Mr. Crowe is a member of the Methodist Church, the Masons, Modern Woodmen, and Red Men. He is a member of the Pendergast Club, the Rotary Club, a charter member of the Woodrow Wilson Club, and an honorary member of the Moss Green Club and the Jackson Democratic Club.

In fraternal circles Mr. Crowe's success has been equally unusual. Starting twenty years ago as a member of a small lodge in LaGrange, he is now the Supreme National Head of The Improved Order of Red Men, one of the largest fraternal orders in the world. He is one of the leading fraternal orators of America and a splendid political stump speaker. He received his education in the common schools and the University of the State of New York.

In his platform Mr. Crowe pledges himself to carry out the contracts heretofore made between the counties and the State Highway Commission and to extend these contracts to embrace the other counties on the present State Aid plan until a complete highway system is built all over the State.

He also pledges a substantial reduction in the license on automobiles, as he believes the present license tax is discriminatory and unfair.

He also favors a reduction in the tax rate on agricultural lands.

LIGHTNING BURNS BARN.

Loss to G. B. Johnson, Near Hickman, to Reach Near $15,000.

Hickman, Ky., May 6.—The second barn to burn in the past twenty-four hours from bolts of lightning, burned during an electric storm today, eight miles below Hickman on the farm of Golder B. Johnson, with a loss of about $15,000. During the recent levee fight on Reelfoot levee, Mr. Johnson had stored in the barn all his corn, amounting to six thousand bushels, a hundred bales of hay, all his wagons and harness and all the farming implements he owned. The barn was two stories and a half high with several floors and he had put the contents out of reach of water if the levee had broken. The barn was one of the best in the county and was valued at six thousand dollars. The farming implements from his other farms were stored there also.

Mr. Johnson, with his brother-in-law, Will Bondurant, of Roswell, New Mexico, and Booster Bondurant and one or two negro hands, had stopped in the barn out of the storm, and were in it when it was struck. Lightning scorched the front of the shirt of L. Davis, negro farm hand. They feared fire and looked for evidence of it but seeing none, left the barn immediately. The fire was discovered a little later.

Bond Election.

An election will be held at the various voting precincts in Weakley County, Saturday, May 14, to determine the wishes of the people upon the issuance of $1,100,000 of bonds for the purpose of building a series of gravel roads throughout Weakley county. In all, about 100 miles of gravel road is contemplated touching all sections of the county. If the vote is favorable the bonds will be sold at once and the work will be under way in the near future.

Court Week In Fulton.

The may term of the Fulton circuit court convened here Monday with Judge W. H. Hester presiding and Circuit Clerk W. L. Hampton, Jailer Tobe Jackson, Sheriff John Thompson, Prosecuting Attorney Flavious Martin and Lon Adams, county attorney, in attendance. The docket was unusually light and few cases were tried.

Raymond Frazier, Cold Checker, Captured.

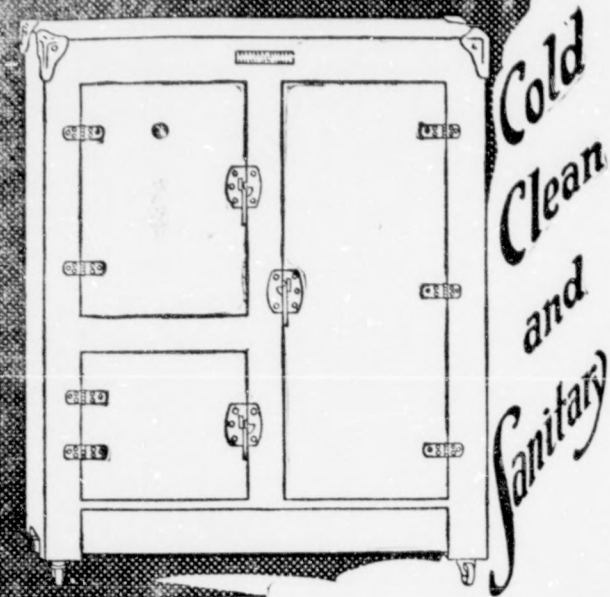

Raymond Frazier, wanted in Fulton for several weeks on cold checking, was captured in Memphis. Frazier appeared in Fulton several weeks ago, going under the name of A. G. Logan, and is said to have victimized two local banks, $50 at one bank and $125 at another. He stated that he was expecting to purchase a local mercantile stock and enter business in the city. At one of the banks here he deposited a certified check in the sum of $3,000 on an Alabama bank, which proved to be worthless after a long distance call to that bank. He left this city just a few minutes ahead of officers and had not been heard of until his arrest.

THE BEGINNING

The commencement season
is here—the time when proud parents rejoice at the achievements of their children, the time when boys and girls feel a tinge of sadness, yet a sense of relief, that the hard work of their high school course is over.

Commencement for the average student means entry into the world of practical affairs and to the small majority the beginning of a new experience in college that may make or mar their lives. The event with its stimulating contact of youth and those who are older occupies a place worthy of the distinction which it receives.

All of the elements that are a part of education have never been classified. They are too difficult and too numerous to analyze. The process does not end on commencement day as the term implies. It is only the beginning of a larger and fuller life.

We have grown to know better, though, what education
means and the great purpose it serves. The mastery of one's mind and a sound and wholesome view of life are the great ends sought. Education has been defined as "the determined and long-continued effort of a serious minded person to train his powers of observation, thinking and reflection through gain in knowledge." Success in the endeavor makes character.

We are apt to judge education by its by-products which,
of course, are essential. Efficiency in one's work in life is a manifestation. Certainly efficiency is made more probable with a good education as a groundwork. This hope is high —and a commendable hope it is—at the end of the academic course. Those who have had the commencement experience,
however, think less of that outcome than the purpose which it serves in character building

and providing a sane perspective, which is increased as the years pass.

ROBERT T. CROWE
OUT FOR GOVERNOR

In this issue of The Advertiser will be found a card from
Hon. Robert T. Crowe, of La Grange, Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky. Every reader of this paper should read with interest, the facts contained therein, for certainly a man who has served the people in as many offices of trust with distinction as Mr. Crowe within the past twenty-five years should be favorably considered as chief executive of this great commonwealth.

Mr. Crowe stands high in religious, fraternal and political circles. His achievements are many, his home life ideal and he is now seeking the office of Governor that he may be in a better position to serve the people to the best of his ability. In his platform Mr. Crowe pledges himself to carry out the contracts heretofore made between the counties and the State Highway Commission and to extend these contracts to embrace the other counties on the present State Aid plan until a complete highway system is built all over the State.

He also pledges a substantial reduction in the license on automobiles, as he believes the present license tax is discriminatory and unfair. He also favors a reduction in the tax rate
on agricultural lands.

During his visit to Fulton,
several days ago, he met many who were favorably impressed with his platform. He is a man of pleasing personality, refined and cultured, and is said to be one of the best lawyers in his section of the state.

REV. B. J. CANTRELL'S AD-DRESS WAS INSPIRATIONAL

At the eleven o'clock hour
last Sunday morning the large auditorium of the First Baptist Church was filled to capacity,
the occasion being the Commencement sermon of the South Fulton High school. The address was delivered by Rev.
B. J. Cantrell, pastor of the First Christian Church of this city.

Rev. Cantrell used for his subject, "The Unsatisfied Man," his text being Philippian 3:13-14—an emphatic declaration of St. Paul, and the speaker laid special stress upon the importance of not only
"being" but doing, and forcefully admonished the graduating class that this is an age of great achievements for all who are not content with the consciousness of being efficient,
but who aspire to greater accomplishments.

The main trend of the discourse was in putting forceful emphasis upon the importance of not only setting a high mark of worthy goal, but the pressing forward and striving to attain it, stating that the future

offers for the young people opportunities for greater men and women in all the professions,
and in every worthy avocation
in life.

The hearty appreciation of the discourse by the entire audience was manifest by the best attention given the speaker throughout. A special musical program was prepared for the occasion which added beautifully to the exercises of the hour.

MOTHER'S DAY OBSERVED

Mother's Day was generally observed in Fulton last Sunday.
Mothers received tokens of love
from those whom they love
most fervently, their sons and daughters.

Observance of Mother's Day
is a beautiful custom. It makes filial devotion articulate, it gives the child and the grown-up a convenient occasion to say at least once a year the things that lie close to the heart all the year through.

After the last triumph of life
has been achieved, the last defeat discounted, the last thrill
tasted and all is said and done,
the active presence or the memory of a Mother's love still stands as the greatest connecting link between humanity and the divine.

FIRE LOSS $25,000

Fire completely destroyed
all the stores on the north side of the little town of Cayce, 10
miles from here, at midnight, Saturday night. The fire originated in the store of Griffin & Company, who operate a general store, then burned the dry goods store of Joe Asbell,
the postoffice, the drug store of Dr. J. W. Naylor, in which he also had his office. On the second floor the lodge hall of the Modern Woodmen of America and the hall of the Masonic lodge burned, with all contents. These stores occupied one large building, said to be the largest building in the county in floor space, measuring 86 by 124 feet. The building was the property of Mrs. J.
W. Naylor and was frame. The entire loss is around $25,000 or more. The heat was so intense it melted out the plate
glass windows in the big store

$335,000 PEDIGREED POULTRY FARM

Largest Poultry Farm in America Located Near Houston, Texas

The largest cooperatively owned poultry farm in America, involving an investment of approximately $200,000 in equipment and one of the finest stocks of pedigreed poultry in the south, valued at $135,000, has just been established seven miles from Houston, Tex.

Details regarding the project have been kept close to the owners of the corporation establishing the farm and no public announcement has been made prior to this article.

The mammoth poultry farm has been established by the Houston Pedigreed Poultry Farms, Inc.

With the establishment of the Houston Pedigreed Poultry Farms, Inc., something new is introduced into the Southwest in the raising of pedigreed poultry. This is the co-operatively owned poultry farm, where owners of fine birds may place their stock for expert care, egg production and breeding.

Forty per cent of the 200 flocks now being placed on the farms are owned by poultry fanciers of Houston who have contracted with the corporation for their care, and who will receive 50 per cent of the profits accruing over a period of 12 months.

Low Value Limit Is $10

No bird is allowed on the Houston Pedigreed Poultry Farms which has a value of less than $10. The corporation has contracted for and is building 200 portable colony houses and has 44 units under construction to house 100 fowls each. Four rows of these units will house baby chicks, which are being placed on the farm now, at an average cost of $2.50 per chick.

A number of these units will be used to house the males. The farms have a 50,000 egg incubator capacity per week, electrically operated. The brooders also are operated by electricity.

The farm has facilities to house 10,000 pedigreed layers and when it has been completely stocked, from 20,000 to 30,000 birds of the finest stock in the South will be located on the property.

While no bird having a value of less than $10 is allowed on the farm, no layers producing less than 200 eggs per year are permitted on the property.

FROZEN BULLFROGS, ALIVE —HAPPY? PASS THRU HOUSTON FOR JAPAN (Houston, Tex., Post-Dispatch)

A carload of live, frozen bullfrogs.

Frozen but still alive, these cold-blooded denizens of the swamps are on their way to San Francisco on the Southern Pacific's train Argonaut, which left Houston last Thursday.

When they arrive at the Pacific coast city they will be transferred to a steamer for Japan. This is the second shipment of this kind to pass over the Southern Pacific lines thru Texas for the land of cherry blossoms and chrysanthemums.

If these survive the travail of the long voyage across the Pacific, they will be used as breeding stock for a frog farm at Yokohama. They are packed in a refrigerator car.

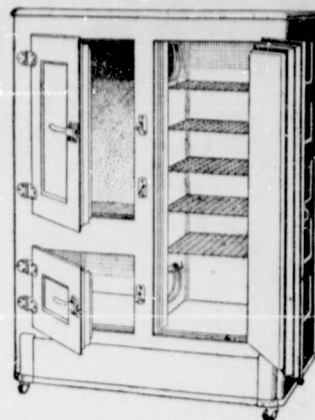

The frogs were packed in 200 cases for their trip from Louisville. Instructions were given that car attendants sprinkle the amphibians with water every day and that the ice supply be maintained, as the temperature must be kept low enough to keep the frogs in a semi-comatose state by freezing. In this state their nerves will not be shattered by their unusual environment and the noise and clatter of the train.

It is peculiar of these frogs that they may be frozen stiff and when they are thawed out they will hop off.

Automobile Owners.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. F. H. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean,
New York Bible Institute of Chicago)
(© 1927, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 15
PETER AT PENTECOST

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2.
GOLDEN TEXT—Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.—Acts 2:38.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Preaches About Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Gift of Power.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Peter at Pentecost.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Spiritual Power.

1. The Day of Pentecost Fully Come (vv. 1-13).
1. Significance of the day (v. 1). Pentecost is from a Greek word meaning "fifty." It was the feast held fifty days after the wave sheaf offering (Lev. 23:16). The wave sheaf symbolizes the resurrection of Christ (1 Cor. 15:20-23).
2. The gift of the Holy Spirit (vv. 2-4).
On this day the Holy Spirit descended upon the disciples. From that time forth He would work on a new basis, having the crucified, risen and ascended Christ to present to the world.

3. Upon whom the Spirit came (v. 1, cf. 1:13-15).
The twelve and others, both men and women to the number of one hundred and twenty, showing that the gift of the Holy Spirit was for all believers, not merely the apostles.

4. The marks of the Spirit (vv. 2-4).
These marks were external and internal.

(1) External.
(a) The sound of a mighty wind (v. 2). This is suggestive of the mysterious, pervasive and powerful energy of the Spirit.

(b) The tongues of flame (v. 3). Each of the one hundred and twenty was crowned with such a tongue. Tongues show the practical purpose of the Spirit's gift—witnessing.

(c) Speaking in foreign tongues (v. 4). This was a temporary endowment for a special purpose.

(2) Internal.
This is seen in the transformation wrought in the disciples. Peter, who shortly before this, covered before a Jewish maid, now with lion boldness stands before the chief rulers and declares that they had murdered their King, therefore guilty before God.

5. The effects (vv. 5-13).
(1) The multitude were filled with amazement and wonder. The gift of the Spirit transforms common men into men of power and influence.

(2) Some mocked and foolishly attempted to account for this remarkable occurrence. They accused the disciples of being intoxicated.

II. Peter's Sermon (vv. 14-47).
Peter's sermon is as wonderful as the gift of tongues. His analysis is perfect.

1. The introduction (vv. 14-21).
(1) Defense of the disciples against the charge of being drunk (v. 15). This he does by citing Jewish custom showing that they would not be drunk at such an early hour of the day.

(2) A scriptural explanation. He showed that this was a partial fulfillment of that which Joel predicted would come to pass (vv. 16-21; cf. Joel 2:28-32) before the messianic judgment, viz., an outpouring of the Holy Spirit and the salvation of all who call upon the name of the Lord.

2. The proposition, or theme (v. 30).
This was the messianicship of Jesus.

3. The argument (vv. 22-36). It was threefold.

(1) From Christ's works (v. 22). He was approved of God among the Jews by His miracles, wonders and signs which God did by Him in their midst with which they were familiar.

(2) From His resurrection (vv. 23-32). The Old Testament Scriptures had foretold the death and resurrection of Christ (Ps. 16:8-10). The disciples were living witnesses of Christ's resurrection for they had seen and talked with Him, and handled Him since the resurrection (v. 32).

(3) From His ascension to be on the right hand of God (v. 32). The proof that He had ascended on high was the wonderful miracle of the Spirit's operation in their midst; for He had said that upon His ascension into heaven He would send forth the Spirit.

4. The effect of the sermon (vv. 37-42).
Many people were convicted of their sins, some three thousand of whom repented and were baptized. The daily life of these believers was proof of the Spirit's gift.

(1) They continued steadfastly in the apostolic teaching (v. 42).
(2) They continued in fellowship with the apostles (v. 42).

Trusting God

An undivided heart which worships God alone, and trusts Him as it should, is raised above all anxiety for earthly wants.

Hand and Heart of God

In creation we see the hand of God, and at Calvary we see the heart of God.—Echoes.

Spiritual Happiness

Spiritual happiness is possible under all circumstances.—Echoes.

Louisville Business Men Coming Here.

THE tremendous fertility of the agricultural areas of Western Kentucky and West Tennessee is well known to the Louisville Board of Trade, representing the foremost commercial, industrial, and financial interests of the Gate City of the South.

Louisville knows that the five foremost counties in both Tennessee and Kentucky, in value of crops according to the U. S. Census of 1925, were in the western sections of each state.

Louisville also knows that some of the most thriving cities and towns and some of the most delightful people in the United States live in these sections.

Related by ties of blood and friendship to the people of Western Kentucky and West Tennessee, Louisville is interested with them in problems of southern development.

It is with the hope of getting a better light on these problems and of renewing and extending acquaintanceship here that a party of 125 Louisville business men are planning a visit to thirty-five cities and towns in this section from May 23 to 27.

They sincerely hope to have the opportunity of meeting the business and civic leaders of this city when their special train arrives here.
