Louisville Boosters Visit Fulton.

Welcomed By Fulton Business Men and Citizens

Multitude of Pretty Girls on Reception Committee.

A special train with 150 Louisville's representative business men accompanied by a number of newspaper correspondents, and a band, arrived in Fulton at 9:35 Wednesday morning. The visitors were met by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a multitude of pretty girls, and royally entertained during their brief stay of one hour.

It was a jolly crowd and the entire party left Fulton enthused over the welcome they received.

Many souvenirs were distributed by the visitors which will be kept as a pleasant memory of their visit.

An improvised platform was provided for the speakers on Lake street. After the band played a beautiful selection, Mr. Joe Davis, Fulton's gifted booster, delivered the welcome address and introduced Mr. Woosley, chairman of the speaker's committee of the Louisville Board of Trade. Mr. Woosley briefly addressed the crowd and introduced Dr. Bruner, who at once won the admiration of his hearers with his impressive declarations in which he pictured Kentucky in glowing terms, including the great Illinois Central Railway system as a prominent factor in its development. Mr. Bruner had visited Fulton on a similar occasion and was pleased to be in our midst again. He let the crowd know that he was a natural born Republican and was proud of it, but no politics was included in his talk. Seeing a large number of boys and girls before him he took occasion to say that we must build Kentucky for our boys and girls, men and women of tomorrow. Good roads and good schools bring good churches to develop good citizens, Dr. Bruner said. In closing his remarks he expressed a desire to see us all at the State Fair this fall in Louisville where a warm welcome awaited us.

Don't Care How You Worship So You Worship Louisville.

Hon. Neal Funk, attorney for the Louisville Railway Company, delivered a "booster message" he complimented everything in sight and pictured the great metropolis of Kentucky as the only shining star on the horizon. Mr. Funk is a brilliant speaker and a wonderful entertainer and his talk went straight to the spot. He made no exaggeration when he said the sun shines brightest in Kentucky, for at that very moment it was coming down on his face at the rate of 100 degrees. He was not disturbed in the least, however, for he quickly added that Kentucky from one end to the other was one beauty spot. No one doubted for a moment that Louisville was the greatest industrial center in the U. S. A., after he finished with baseball bats and mushrooms, and thrilled the nimrods with minnow buckets. Closing by saying he did not care what our religion was or where we worshipped so we worshipped Louisville.

State Fair Sept. 12-15

Smith T. Bailey, Secretary of the State Fair, made a few pleasing remarks and extended all a special invitation to visit Louisville and the State fair, September 12-15. "It is your fair," said Mr. Bailey, "if it was not for your co-operation there would be no fair."

Fulton Health Department Best in Nation.

Dr. Arthur McCormick, secretary of the State Board of Health, briefly addressed the assembly and paid a glowing tribute to Fulton's health department, saying that our city and county stands at the head of all counties in the State for maintaining the best all-time health department. You were first to extend the right hand of Christian fellowship to suffering humanity in the flooded area, sacrificing, sending nurses and means of comfort to the unfortunate. You are generous big hearted people."

Before departing a number of distinguished "boosters" were called to the platform and introduced.

The Louisville delegation of boosters and distinguished visitors will long be remembered in Fulton when friendships were more closely cemented. May we have the pleasure of seeing you again.

Lindbergh Monarch Of the Skies

Little more than a year ago when the editor of this paper clasped the hand of Capt. Chas. Lindbergh, and delivered flowers from our garden to him to be showered from his plane over the grave of his comrade, the late Charles Smith, in Fairview cemetery, did we dream of the wonderful success in store for him. As he was introduced to us by the widow of the deceased comrade, we looked him over with admiration and thought was a big-hearted man he was, to fly to Fulton and pay such a loving tribute to the honored dead. Today he stands in the eye of all nations as a hero, esteemed, honored and admired by all.

During his visit to Fulton, Capt. Lindbergh was a guest in the home of W. A. Terry, father-in-law of Mr. Smith.

New York to Paris. Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, Friday morning, May 20 at 7:52 o'clock, hopped off in his Ryan monoplane, "Spirit of St. Louis," for Paris, France, through the air, a distance of 3,600 miles across the Atlantic ocean where a royal welcome awaited him. During the world's record flight many hearts were made to beat fast with fear and trembling for the daring hero Lindbergh, but alas, after 33 hours suspense, the joyful news was flashed to America that he had reached his destination in safety.

Lindbergh Gains Nation's Attention

Two records made by Captain Charles Lindbergh, incidental to his attempt to fly from New York to Paris for the Raymond Orteig prize of $25,000 conferred attention on this young birdman.

His flying time from San Diego, Calif., to Roosevelt Field, Long Island, was approximately 21 hours, 20 minutes, the quickest ever made from coast to coast. And he was the first pilot to make such a long hop as

MEETINGS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH LARGELY ATTENDED

Rev. E. F. Adams Doing the Preaching. Rev. C. H. Warren Directing and Leading Song Service

The series of meetings now being conducted at the First Baptist church is growing in interest with each service with the Rev. E. F. Adams, former pastor, doing the preaching, while the Rev. C. H. Warren, pastor, is directing the song service and leading the choir.

Rev. Adams is a forceful speaker and his messages are inspirational. Services are held each morning at ten o'clock, and each evening at eight o'clock. You don't know what you are missing if you are not attending. A cordial invitation and warm welcome is extended the public to worship in all services.

We are glad to have Rev. Adams and his family with us again. During his pastorate of the First Baptist church, here some eight years ago he and his family endeared themselves in the hearts of the entire citizenship of the town.

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT CAMPAIGN

Sponsored by Fulton Chamber of Commerce Grand Success

Much interest is being manifested this week in the agricultural campaign instituted by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce.

The Illinois Central Railroad has sent two men here who are taking part in the campaign. The Sugar Creek Creamery Company also sent two men to aid in the good work, as well as giving the services of Fred Cure, local manager of the cream station. The lectures are being illustrated with picture slides and great good will surely be accomplished by the campaign.

The meeting tonight will be held at Sylvan Shade. The final meeting will be held in Fulton Saturday morning.

The dairy interests in this vicinity is a feature development and the people are greatly enthused over the flattering prospects.

PROGRESSIVE FULTON

The work of laying new water mains and making lead pipe connections to the curb down town is progressing rapidly, preparatory for the street improvement work which will soon begin in the business district of the city. A large force of men are at work on this project.

A survey of employment conditions in Fulton reveal that no idle laborers are to be found in the city who want to work. There is plenty of work to be done. Here and there over the city are crews of men making sewer connections. All industries are working full force on schedule time. Several buildings are in course of construction and from present indications there will be no let up for some time to come. In fact, 1927 will be one of the most progressive and busiest years Fulton has experienced in a long time if not in the history of the town.

On the Tennessee side of the city large forces are at work installing the $40,000 sewer system with other improvements in progress.

LEO KINNEY SUFFERS BROKEN ARM

The friends of Leo, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kinney, regret to learn of the painful accident he suffered Tuesday morning at his home on Maple avenue when he lost his footing and fell from a cherry tree, breaking his arm. Dr. Henry Alexander was called and set the fractured member and his speedy recovery is hoped for.

Joseph E. Warren Candidate For Circuit Judge

The Democratic Voters of First Judicial District:

I take this means of formally announcing to you that I am a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge subject to your determination at the primary election to be held August 6, 1927. I feel sure this announcement will not come as a surprise when it is recalled that I sought the office at your hands six years ago and that with three worthy gentlemen opposing me, I finished in second place and carried Graves, the home county of both Judge Hester, the successful candidate, and myself.

In my announcement and in numerous speeches during that campaign I believe you will agree that I tried to magnify the position and to put public service above personal ambition, and in entering upon my second effort to enlist your support, I would have it understood that I have surrendered no conviction in that respect and that I do not seek the support of anyone on the fact, alone, that this is my second race but that fact is to be considered by you only in the event you believe I am able and willing to conscientiously meet and discharge the duties and responsibilities of the office.

The position of Circuit Judge is one of tremendous responsibilities to its occupant and of utmost importance to the people. In our complex civilization it is a difficult task for a finite mind to determine always the exact justice of a controversy between individuals or to read the human heart and ascertain the degree of punishment deserved by one accused of committing a crime against the state. All will agree that for violations of the law men should be punished and that there are two extremes to which such punishment should not go. It should not be so light or uncertain as to encourage rather than deter the offender or others in the repetition of illness or other disqualifications of the regular Judge and when not engaged in holding court in his own district. If none can be found to perform these duties, it becomes necessary for the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals to appoint some lawyer, having the qualifications of a Circuit Judge, to act as special Judge and for which he receives $14.00 per day and expenses. Because many regular Judges do not find it convenient to perform this extra service the expense to the tax payers for extra special Judges appointed to hold terms of Court or to preside in cases which the regular Judges decline to try in their own districts has been very heavy in recent years.

If elected to this position, I shall feel obligated to perform all the duties which belong to it, and when not engaged in my own district and my services are needed or called for in any other, I shall gladly meet the demand.

If, upon investigation, you shall find me to possess, in a reasonable degree, the requisites of the place I am seeking for the second time, it will afford me a deep and lasting pleasure to fill it with the consciousness of your sanction and approval. And if elected it will be my endeavor at all times to administer justice as the facts and not the individuals involved may dictate and without favor or prejudice.

Yours Very Truly,
J. E. WARREN

Dr. M. E. Dodd Will Be In Memphis Sunday.

(Memphis Commercial Appeal) Dr. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, Los Angeles, will preach at the First Baptist Church next Sunday at both the morning and evening services. Dr. Dodd, a native of Trenton, Tenn., is considered one of the most prominent clergymen in the United States and a large congregation is expected to hear him. His father will come from Trenton for the services.

Doctor Dodd is a graduate of Union University, Jackson, Tenn., and the Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. Among his early pastorates were Bolivar, Fulton, Paducah, and Louisville. Since March 1, Doctor Dodd has been pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, Los Angeles, going from Shreveport where he was for 15 years. During his pastorate at Shreveport the church became one of the strongest Baptist churches of the south with a membership of more than 4000 and through his efforts a college for girls was founded at Shreveport with an endowment of $600,000. A few weeks ago Dr. Dodd preached to 6,000 people and baptized 50 into his church in one day.

LIONS OF TWO STATES WILL ROAR THIS WEEK

District Convention in Session At Memphis, May 27-28

The Lions of two states are making their headquarters this week in Memphis when the district convention of Tennessee and Kentucky Lions Clubs are in session at the Hotel Peabody, Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28. An entertaining program has been arranged. Business sessions will be held in the mornings, and the afternoons will be taken up with sight-seeing and various entertainments.

A large delegation of Fulton Lions will be in attendance and make a pull for the next annual convention.

SERMON BY REV. PEEPLES

Commencement services for Fulton High school were held last Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at the First Baptist church. Every seat in the big auditorium was taken and chairs were placed in the aisles to accommodate the large crowd in attendance.

The exercises were opened with the processional with Miss Doris Huddleston at the piano, and the large class filed in and occupied seats reserved in the center division.

The hymn, "Come Thou, Almighty King," was sung and after the invocation by Rev.
Warren, the anthem, "I Will Extol Thee," was beautiful given by Mrs. Chas. Brann and choir, and this was followed by scripture reading by Rev. Cantrell.

A very pretty and impressive solo, "Spirit of God," was given by Miss Anna Lucille Goldsby, after which was the Baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Fred Peeples, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Dyersburg, Tenn. The speaker used as his text Colossians 3:11 "Christ Is All and In All,"
from which theme a most masterful and impressive discourse was delivered to the attentive
class and the large audience.

The decorations for the occasion were beautiful and the program throughout was well arranged and very much enjoyed by all in attendance.

ANOTHER HOME

The entire community sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs.
Ernest Willey in the loss of their little son, John Edward,
who was relieved of his suffering early Sunday morning, when the death angel entered the home in Riceville and carried his spirit to its heavenly home. All that loving hands could do under the watchful care of a skilled physician could not stay the final summons. This little bud of a child, little more than two years old, had become the love and affection of the entire household and his passing is keenly felt.

Funeral services were held Monday in the Methodist church at Riceville, conducted by the Rev. A. N. Walker, interment following in Fairview
cemetery.

Besides his parents, John Edward is survived by one brother

LOVED ONES REMEMBERED AT FAIRVIEW

Sacred to the memory of those who have gone before, Fulton folk observed Decoration Day last Sunday at Fairview, decorating the graves of friends and loved ones with sweet flowers. Those in charge of caring for the city of the dead did their work well, preparatory for receiving the lovely flower decorations.

If the Garden of Eden was as pretty as Fairview, Sunday, it must have been entrancing. We have never known it to look prettier than on this occasion.
Few mounds in the cemetery were overlooked. Many were gorgeously decorated with choicest blossoms, while others
had only a single bouquet, yet none the less expressive of the love and esteem by the one who placed it.

It is a beautiful idea—this one of decorating. It is a goodly and proper thing for the living to remember the dead, and it seems a kind and loving thing
to mark this remembrance
with sweet flowers.

There were no services or special program for Decoration Day at Fairview, but hundreds of people visited the silent city during the day with respect and tokens of loving remembrance.

(© 1927, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 29
PETER UNDAUNTED BY PERSECUTION

LESSON TEXT—Acts 5:17-42.
GOLDEN TEXT—We ought to obey God rather than men.—Acts 5:29.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Shows His Courage.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Speaks Bravely for His Lord.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Standing Firm Under Persecution.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Courage.

The vindication of the house of God against the hypocritical act of Ananias and Sapphira had a salutary effect upon the people. The hypocrites were deterred from joining the church, but true-hearted men and women were all the more attracted to it, even identifying themselves with it. So great was the stir in Jerusalem that even the sick folk were brought where but the shadow of Peter might fall upon them.

I. The Apostles in Prison (vv. 17-18).

The marvelous success which accompanied the teaching of the apostles was so much for the Sadducees to endure. Their jealous wrath was aroused to such an extent that they laid the cruel hand of persecution upon these witnesses for Christ. Cain was jealous of Abel; Joseph's brethren sold him in slavery because he was the favorite of Jacob. Saul was jealous of David when the women ascribed greater glory to him.

II. The Apostles' Miraculous Deliverance (vv. 19-21).

1. The Lord sent an angel to open the prison and let the prisoners free (v. 19).

There are no doors, nor bolts capable of shutting out God's angel.

They were commanded to go at once and speak to the people (v. 20). The message they were to deliver was the "Words of this life." Most likely this means eternal life through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

3. Their prompt obedience (v. 21). By daybreak they were teaching in the temple.

III. The Apostles Tried (vv. 21-32).

1. The meeting of the council (v. 21). In the early morning the Jewish council was convened by the high priest.

2. Their perplexity (vv. 22-24).

The officer was sent to bring the prisoners, but lo, when they came to the jail it was empty. This news greatly perplexed the council.

3. The apostles again arrested (vv. 25, 26).

When one came with the news that the apostles were teaching in the temple, officers were dispatched to bring them before the council. They refrained from the use of violence because they feared the people.

4. The apostles questioned (vv. 27, 28).

The council demanded of them the reason for not heeding the charge which they had previously given that they should not teach any more in the name of Jesus. This persistent testimony the officers interpreted as an effort to bring the guilt of Jesus' blood upon themselves.

5. The apostle's answer. Peter boldly replied that they were under obligation to obey God rather than men. He further told them that they were guilty of the murder of Jesus Christ and that God had raised Jesus from the dead and exalted Him to be a Prince and a Savior to give repentance and remission of sins to Israel, and also that He had made the apostles, with the Holy Spirit, witnesses of these things.

IV. The Result (vv. 33-42).

1. They determined to kill the apostles (v. 33). Peter's stinging words cut to the quick, but their desperate wickedness filled them with murderous hatred instead of moving them to repentance. They could not answer the message, so the only way was to kill their accusers.

2. Gamaliel's counsel (vv. 34-39). He advised neutrality, assuring them that if it be a work of men it would come to naught, but if it be of God they could not overthrow it because they would be engaged in the hopeless task of fighting against God.

3. The apostles beaten (v. 40). While heeding Gamaliel's advice, they vented their rage by beating the apostles and charging them not to speak in Christ's name.

4. The behavior of the apostles (vv. 41, 42).

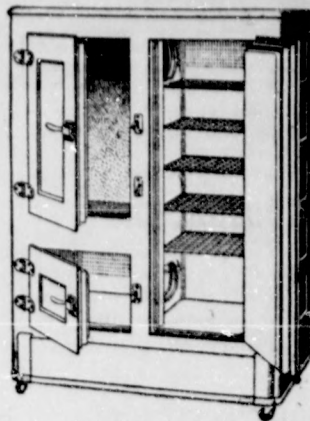

They departed with hearts full of joy that they were counted worthy to suffer for the name of Christ. They continued to preach Jesus Christ in public and in private.

Morning Bridge

The attractive home of Mrs. Edward Heywood was the scene of a lovely party Wednesday morning when Mesdames Heywood and Trevor Whayne entertained with seven tables of bridge.

The reception suite was beautiful with a profusion of flowers in attractive arrangement.

Pretty and useful trophies were given for high and low score.

The plate luncheon following the game was delicious and sumptuously served.

MISS RUTH FIELDS' PIANO STUDENTS PRESENT RECITAL SATURDAY EVE.

Miss Fields, student piano recital, was given Saturday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

A well balanced program was given, splendid training on the part of the instructor and the natural ability of the pupils in bringing out the desired phrasing of expression were most pronounced.

Miss Fields is one of Fulton's successful piano teachers and leaves soon for Chicago, where she will study under some of the noted teachers for the summer.

BRIDGE PARTY

Mesdames Don Taylor, Mack Roach and Fred Hutcherson, entertained a large number of friends Tuesday afternoon at the Usona Hotel with bridge, honoring Mrs. James Crockett, who is Mrs. Taylor's house guest. Roses and Lilies with ferns were used in the dining rooms where 18 tables were in play. Attractive prizes were given to Mrs. John Culver for high score, and Mrs. Harold Blackman second high. Mrs. Gideon Willingham cut consolation. The honoree, Mrs. Crockett, was charming in a model of blue georgette, with a picture hat of black and white, and was given a memento of the occasion. A delicious salad course was served.

PUPILS PRESENTED IN RECITAL

Miss Blanch Waggoner presented her piano and expression pupils in recital, Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at eight o'clock.

Each number on the program greatly pleased the audience and showed excellent tones, phrasing, pedaling, technique and unusually artistic training. Miss Waggoner has been a teacher in Fulton for several years and richly deserves the success to which she has attained.

ATWOOD-BEADLES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Atwood announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. Frank Beadles, on Saturday, May 21, 1927.

The bride is an accomplished young lady and a social favorite in the smart set, while the groom is one of Fulton's promising young business men associated with the Fulton Hardware Company, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Beadles.

After the ceremony the happy couple left on a bridal trip to St. Louis. On their return, they will be at home with the groom's parents on Carr street.

We join a large circle of friends in wishing them a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

MUSIC CLASS RECITAL

One of the most enjoyable and entertaining programs of the season was the musical recital of the pupils of Miss Ivora L. Cantrell which was given at the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday evening.

On account of inclement weather the entertainment was somewhat belated. The house was practically filled with music lovers of the city and the entire program, consisting of about forty numbers, was given by the music pupils and was very much enjoyed throughout by the attentive audience.

While the various numbers rendered by the large class of pupils cannot be mentioned separately, each performer rendered his or her respective selection with notable skill, demonstrating the fruits of the instruction given by their teacher.

The artful touch, tone control and expression with which the young pupils performed is indeed an accomplishment worthy of note, and with continued cultivation of the unusual talent displayed by the class, it is quite evident that these pupils may advance far into the sphere of classic performers.

The instructor of this large class is to be congratulated upon having her pupils thus far in the art of music.

HANCOCK-AUSTIN

Miss Marguerite Hancock and Mr. Wales Austin surprised their friends Sunday when they were united in marriage. Esq. S. A. McDade officiated at his home on State Line street.

The bride is the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hancock. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin. Both are popular young people who have a large circle of admiring friends to wish them a long and happy wedded life.

AN INTERESTING MUSICAL TREAT

Mrs. R. S. Matthews presented her large music class in a recital last Saturday afternoon from three until five at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Batts, east of town. The program which was comprised of solos, duets, trios, readings, vocal numbers and musical readings, were rendered in such a charming manner as to be highly gratifying to present, and showed the careful and systematic training of their efficient teacher. It was a jolly group of young folks who assembled on the beautiful lawn to engage in all kinds of games, after which a sumptuous and appetizing lunch was spread, bringing to all the finishing touch to the afternoon's entertainment.

The merry party left for their homes at 6:30, wishing their charming hostess many happy returns of the day.

that from San Diego to St. Louis, about 1,600 miles, alone. His total distance from coast to coast was about 2,550 miles.

Lindbergh, 25, lean, muscular six-footer, has been flying for six years. He was born in Detroit, where his widowed mother now lives. He began his aerial career at 19, leaving his home in Little Falls, Minn., where his father was a lawyer and member of congress, and going to Lincoln, Neb., for his first lessons.

Later, he bought his own plane and when he was appointed a flying cadet in the army, flew it to Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas. There he learned the rudiments of military flying and after ten months, emerged, a finished aviator, from the pursuit school at Brooks Field, San Antonio.

After leaving the army, Lindbergh flew for a year in various independent enterprises, including several flying circuits. Finally, he was appointed chief pilot on the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route, from which he was given an indefinite leave of absence to prepare for his trans-Atlantic hop. He is captain and flight commander in the 110th Observation Squadron, Missouri National Guard air unit in St. Louis.

Lindbergh is a "four star" member of the Caterpillar club, the mythical fraternity of fliers who have used their parachutes in emergency jumps.

As a cadet in the army, Lindbergh and another pilot leaped to safety when their pursuit planes collided at 55,000 feet. Again, Lindbergh jumped from a spinning test plane at St. Louis, when it was only 250 feet up and barely made a safe landing. Last winter he made his third and fourth jumps when he was caught in fogs at night on the mail route and could find no landing place.

Deserved Honors

Paris, May 23.—Capt. Lindbergh is king of France and a potential millionaire tonight. "Slim" Lindbergh has received offers from the movies, radio, stage, contracts for speeches, lectures, endorsements, testimonials and additional prize money.

In addition to that, the young American has been kissed by President Gaston Doumergue, is a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, with a big red ribbon on his lapel, is an honorary member of the International League of Aviators, a charter member of the New York bar, and has a free annual pass on the Paris subway system, in addition to a card authorizing him to travel first-class on all the French railroads on a second-class ticket.

Tonight George V, king of England, invited him to visit England, and also sent him congratulations on his flight.

Even the meticulous Premier Poincare, chief of the government, showed his enthusiasm in welcoming Capt. Lindbergh this afternoon with the finance minister leaping forward, evidently intending to kiss the pilot, when Lindbergh stuck out his paw and shook hands.

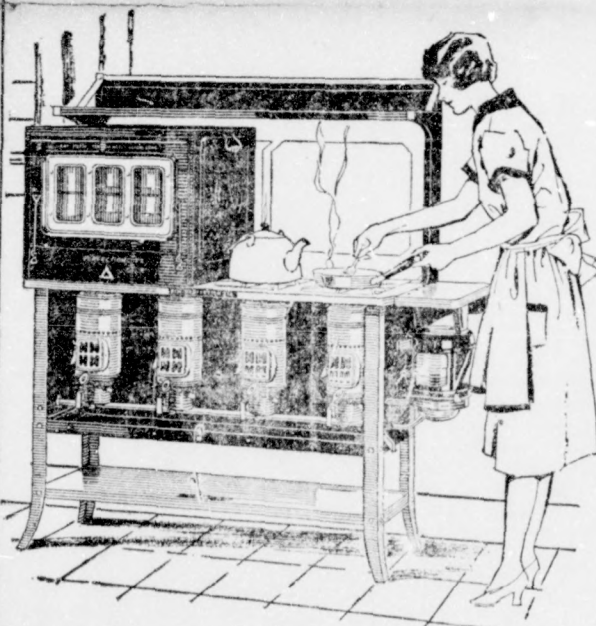

We especially invite you to come see our splendid display of Progress Sanitary All Metal Refrigerators.

REPAIR IT NOW

Never neglect needed repair work. If the roof starts to leak, the windows rattle, doors sag, walls crumble and ceilings crack, the house is giving sure symptoms that it needs attention.

It's work that must be done sooner or later. Prescribe a little of the right kind of repairs now and save a great deal of the trouble and expense bound to be caused if minor house ailments are allowed to develop into serious disorders.

If the old building isn't right, make it right. Just a little overhauling puts new life in old homes or business buildings.

Repairs, replacements, additions and alterations all require good building materials. Not only can we supply the right materials but we can also tell you the right way to use them. Let us be your repair doctor—see us at once.

REMAINS OF MRS. GAF-FORD BROT TO FULTON

The remains of Mrs. Bolivia Gafford were brought to Fulton Saturday and interred in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Gafford formerly lived in this city, but for the past four years had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Robby Woods, in Murray, Ky., where she passed away Friday, May 20.

Mrs. Gafford was a member of the Baptist church and lived a consecrated Christian life. During her residence here she endeared herself to a wide circle of friends who regret her passing and who deeply sympathize with the three children surviving.

Funeral services for William Lewis Shelton were held Tuesday afternoon at Walnut Grove church, conducted by the Rev. H. L. Hinch, interment following in the church cemetery.

Mr. Shelton died early Monday morning at his home in this city, where he had spent the best part of his life. He was a good man, highly esteemed by a large circle of friends who deeply sympathize with the loved one left behind.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one son, Hassell Shelton, also one brother, Jim Shelton, of Clinton, Ky.

Telephones Outstrip Population Growth

THE Southern Bell Telephone Company serves the nine Southern states shown on this map. The figures indicate, for each state, the population and the total number of telephones at the end of 1926, including those owned by this company and those owned by other companies, but connected with the Bell System.

Since the end of 1915 the population of this territory has grown from 18,445,000, to 20,452,000—an increase of 11 per cent. The total number of owned and connected telephones has grown from 623,534, to 1,330,136—an increase of 97 per cent. The number of telephones owned and operated by this company has grown from 359,657 to 543,172—an increase of 123 per cent.

During this same period the tax bill of the company has increased 385 per cent, while the taxable property has increased 135 per cent.

The relative rates of growth of population and of telephones indicate increased commercial and social activity, and a fuller appreciation of telephone service. They are evidence that the company is meeting the demand for service in every reasonable way.

JOSEPH E. WARREN CAN-DIDATE FOR CIRCUIT
JUDGE

In this issue of The Advertiser, we are authorized to announce Joseph E. Warren, of Mayfield, Ky., as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the First Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, election August 6, 1927.

It will be remembered that Mr. Warren made the race for Circuit Judge six years ago
when three other gentlemen were opposing him, and distinguished himself in second place and carried Graves, the home county of both the successful candidate and himself.
Mr. Warren is well known throughout this entire commonwealth as a successful lawyer.
No man stands higher in his profession and he is well qualified and fitted for the high office he is seeking. He fully realizes the duties and responsibilities of the office and gives every assurance that if elected, he will endeavor at all times to administer justice as the facts and not the individuals involved may indicate and without favor or prejudice.

Joseph E. Warren is a man of pleasing personality, a brilliant mind, moral character
without a blemish, an appreciative disposition, well qualified to occupy the office of Circuit Judge with dignity and honor, has the confidence of his home people where he was born and reared under benign influence. Let your conscience be your guide and consider his claims thoughtfully when you cast your vote on August 6.

CROSSING ACCIDENTS

A large majority of crossing accidents occur in daylight, in open country where there is no obstruction to the view, nothing to prevent the automobile driver from seeing the approaching train, and at crossings with which the driver is entirely familiar, usually in the locality
in which he resides.

During the past year more than one-fifth of the crossing accidents resulted from the drivers running into the sides of trains. A substantial proportion of these accidents are due to the drivers running through lowered crossing gates, either in front or into the sides of trains. Not infrequently, according to a compilation of accident data, crossing flagmen in the center of the highway to protect the motorist, are run down by automobiles and killed.

These things happen in spite of the constant efforts of railroads and other interested agencies to persuade automobile drivers to be more cautious.

England has partially solved
this serious problem by elevating eighty per cent of her railroad crossings. In this country only eight per cent are elevated, and there are those who believe that the railroads should be forced to a program of grade crossing elevation in order to reduce the heavy death toll from this cause.

This is doubtless the only sure solution, but it must be remembered that it is the public which, in the last analysis, will foot the bills. And it is questionable whether such an expense should be placed on the railroads, to be passed on to the public in the face of mounting tax and other living costs.

In the end, we may have to come to this solution. Safety campaigns have failed to effect any sizeable reduction in the deaths at grade crossings. People continue to approach crossings thoughtlessly and carelessly.

THE NATION GIVES

The country far oversub-scribed the ten million dollar fund asked by the American Red Cross for the flood sufferers. The money will be used to a good purpose, however, no matter how high the oversubscription goes, because the Red Cross officials have emphasized the fact that the ten million dollars sought was distinctly a minimum.

Fulton never fails to do its share in time of emergency.
Never during the war or any time since has any appeal for money to help unfortunate people in any country gone unanswered in this community.
This is as it should be. Fulton has been blessed compared with the people of many other sections. No great disaster has visited this community and the people as a rule have been prosperous. It is only natural that they should give for the amelioration of others less fortunately situated.

Of course, the giving is never equally distributed. Some people are most generous with their money and give in some cases more than they can afford. Others who are financially able to contribute never give a cent in answer to distress calls. It will always be this way, no doubt. Those who are able and do give, have a clear conscience because they know, regardless of what the public thinks, that they have done their duty. Those who fail to come up to their obligations fail to remember that they have to live with themselves.

SUGAR PRICES
SOAR SKYWARD

While Louisiana produces
only one per cent of the sugar used, the floods in the "sugar bowl" section of the state, is a wonderful barrier for sugar speculators to hide behind to boost prices as can be noted
from the following special
sent out from Washington:

Sugar interests announced a price increase today, giving as the reason for it the flood now threatening the "sugar bowl"
parishes of Louisiana.

The retail price of granulated sugar went up to 12 per cent from $6.25 to $7 per 100 pounds in a leading chain grocery organization in Washington. Patrons of the stores were warned in advance of the boost in price and advised late last week to lay in a supply.

"What effect on the general
sugar market can Louisiana's small production have?" one manager was asked.

"I do not know anything about that," he said. "We are told that sugar is costing more and our patrons will have to pay more for it."

This manager expressed the opinion that the price will be as high as 10 cents a pound.

Willett and Gray, a recognized sugar statistics firm, estimate the Louisiana crop, now threatened by flood waters, at 60,000 long tons. The annual production of beet sugar in this country is estimated at 820,000 tons.

The United States exports annually approximately 5,000-000 long tons, mostly from Cuba, which this year has a record crop, with the price of raw sugar so low that producers are having difficulty showing a profit. The Louisiana crop is about one per cent of the total used.

Last year the United States
consumed 5,671,335 tons of sugar, about 109 pounds for every man, woman and child.
Some refined sugar is exported.

MORE TRUTH
THAN POETRY

County Agent Cleland, from Union City, was in Fulton, Saturday, in consultation with Sec.
Motley, and others, pertaining to a trip to be made soon to Hopkinsville, where he will purchase ten thoroughbred Jersey heifer calves to be given to the Boys' club of Bowers school community.

Too bad Fulton county hasn't a good live county agent like Mr. Cleland and also too bad
we can't have boys' and girls' clubs in this county, who would go in for pedigreed dairy cattle, hogs and poultry.

If Fulton county would wake up and obtain a live wire agent in three years, the value of thoroughbred dairy and beef cattle, hogs and poultry would increase several thousands of dollars.

This reminds me of a little piece we recited while I was a kid in the second reader at school, where the whole kingdom was lost on account of a horseshoe nail. Fulton county is losing money every year staying in the rut by not having a county agent.

ANOTHER HOME
IS SADDENED

Monday morning the spirit of Mrs. Robert Hodges took its flight and relieved this good woman of all earthly suffering.
The end came at 19:45 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Pickering on Eddings street.
Mrs. Hodges had been a patient sufferer of complications
for some months and the summons was not altogether unexpected when it came. She was a kind and loving wife and mother and up until the time she and her husband's health failed were active in church and social circles. A good woman has passed away and will be sadly missed by a loving household and wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Paul P. Pickering, of Fulton, and Mrs. Ernest Love, of Freeport, Ill.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home
on Eddings street, conducted by the Rev. B. J. Cantrell, interment following at Fairview
cemetery.

HUGE WALL OF WATER
SWEEPING LOUISIANA

Raging Flood Now 42 Feet Above Gulf Level, Almost
At Gulf Now

A wall of water 40 feet high and almost 20 miles wide Tuesday was beginning to reach the upper extremities of Grand Lake in its movement to the Gulf of Mexico, after cutting a path of desolation across the length of Louisiana.

Behind it stretched a lake 200 miles long from the lower tier of parishes in South Central Louisiana along the gulf to the upper tier along the Arkansas line. Its width varied from 15 to 50 miles as it pour-

275,000 PEOPLE BEING
CARED FOR BY RED CROSS

80 Refugee Camps Being Maintained—Louisiana Now Demanding Most Attention

With more than five weeks after the flood in the valleys of the Mississippi River and its tributaries assumed the "proportions of a major disaster,"
the American National Red Cross is caring for nearly 275-000 people in seven states who have been driven from their homes and deprived of their means of livelihood by the tremendous volume of water sweeping on its way to the Gulf of Mexico.

While thousands have returned or are daily returning to their soaked and bedraggled habitations in all seven of the states in the flood area, other thousands in southern Louisiana are fleeing before the water that is pouring southward
down the Atchafalaya River basin.

The total number of refugees being fed and otherwise cared for by the American Red Cross today is 274,110. This total is based upon reports received from Red Cross area directors by the general relief headquarters. Of this number 140,895 are living in refugee camps established by the Red Cross; 133,215 are in public buildings and other places or living in the upper stories of flooded homes.

Eighty Refugee Camps
are in operation out of a total of 130
that have sheltered flood vic-

Miss McGehee's voice, music, and expression recital Tuesday evening was wonderfully conceived and beautifully carried out. Scenes from Holland, Hawaii and Gypsy land with solos, duets and readings interspersed held the attention of the audience to the end.

One special feature was an Indian song and dance in costume interpreted by Miss Elizabeth Etherige, eighth grade, and high school teacher at C. G. this term. Miss McGehee has only been with us since Christmas. Her work with the orchestra has been particularly good, as has been manifested by their music at the various programs of the commencement exercises. We hope to have Miss McGehee with us against next year.

Several social events of interest occurred during the last days of school. The sophomores entertained the seniors and faculty with a theater party in Fulton and refreshments afterwards at the cafe.

Misses Etherige, Latta and McGehee spent a night with Miss Relma Reed. Misses Etherige, McGehee and Mary Alice Frank visited Doris Finch, spending the night.

Mrs. Mart Reed and Martha Nix entertained the teachers at the residence of Mrs. Reed, Sunday. A bountiful dinner was served and a delightful afternoon enjoyed.

The latest event was a frog hunt staged by the boys, for Miss McGehee's special benefit, Saturday evening. Quite a bunch of the young folks enjoyed the hunt. Miss McGehee speared several of the 23 which were taken. She left for her home in Mississippi, Sunday.

School closed Friday with a special picnic for the High school to Reelfoot Lake.

The crowning event of the week was an address delivered to the graduating class by the Hon. Finis J. Garrett, of national fame, Thursday evening. "Evolution" was the theme. An evolution which accepts the Bible story of creation.

Man created a perfect being, scarred and maimed by sin, driven from the Garden of Eden into the wilderness with only a soul, mind and his fingers. The evolution of this man into the man of today, with the subjection of earth, air and water, stressing the fact that there is yet plenty to do. Opportunities for service for every young man and woman of intelligence. Truly a wonderful address, and greatly appreciated by the large audience which had gathered for the occasion.

Dr. Moody and Mr. Wood were in the community last week. Dr. Moody arranging for the typhoid inoculation. Mr. Wood taking samples of water for testing and inspecting the sanitary toilets in the community. Those in private homes he reports working nicely. Those at the school house need quite a bit of repairing, which he plans to do as soon as the rush work is over and the necessary help obtained.

W. H. and Beecher O. Finch visited Mrs. Finch's father and mother near Crutchfield, Sunday.

Doris and Guy Finch visited Mrs. Charlie Fay and family, Sunday. Doris is spending this week with them.

Owing to the rush of work everywhere, the trip to the poultry plants near Crutchfield planned by the Ladies' club, will be postponed till the last days of June or the first of July.

Fiji, A WHITE MAN'S LAND IN THE TROPICS

Many Misconceptions About Pacific Islands.

Washington.—A recent prophecy that the Fiji Islands will one day be the center of a British "Island Dominion" in the Pacific seems bizarre to the average reader chiefly because of misconceptions about Fiji, says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"The Fiji are tiny South Sea islets. They are typical tropical islands, hot and unhealthy."

"The Fijians are savages."

"These are some of the many errors abroad in regard to the Fijians," continues the bulletin. "In reality the Fijians are the largest islands situated well out in the Pacific. Only New Caledonia, the Solomon Islands, and the Bismarcks, all relatively close to Australia and New Guinea, are larger. The total area of the Fijis is greater than that of the Hawaiian Islands; and Viti Levu, the main island of the Fiji group, is almost exactly the same size as Hawaii, the giant of the northern islands. Fiji is, in fact, often referred to as 'the Hawaii of the South.'"

"Although Fiji is well within the tropics, having a south latitude corresponding to the north latitude of Jamaica, it has an unexpectedly temperate climate. This is due chiefly to the considerable size of the islands, and their mountains which intercept the clouds and cool air currents and bring them to lower levels. Suva, the capital, situated on the largest island, has its tennis and cricket addicts who play in comfort. Most European residents dress lightly as elsewhere in the tropics, but the few who cling to tweed suits and felt hats, do so without inconvenience."

Mosquitoes but No Malaria.

"On the score of healthfulness Fiji stands particularly high. It is said to be the most healthful tropical land in the world. The rearing of children by Europeans, fraught with difficulties in most other tropical lands, causes no anxiety in Fiji. One surprise is the utter absence of malaria in the islands. Mosquitoes are present, but they do not transmit this and other diseases from which Europeans suffer in other tropical lands. Fiji is truly a 'white man's land.'"

"When first well known to Europeans, in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, the Fijians were the most blood-thirsty and savage cannibals in all the South seas. Cannibalism was not only indulged in when enemies had been killed. These people actually slaughtered relatives and companions for meat. They came under missionary influence, however, and the entire native population became Christianized."

"The natives are predominantly of Melanesian stock, that is, of the dark, negroid, kinky-haired type of islanders. There has been, however, an admixture of Polynesian blood (like that of the Hawaiians and Marquesans) which has given the Fijian a better physique and a handsomer appearance than those of the full-blooded Melanesians. The Fijians are particularly race-conscious; and although Europeans have been on the islands for a century, and although East Indians have made up a large part of the population for many years, there are practically no half-breeds."

"So large is the East Indian population that it was thought a few years ago that the islands would eventually become virtually a colony of India. There are now about 60,000 Indians, 85,000 Fijians and 4,500 Europeans in Fiji. During the past few decades sugar production has been Fiji's chief industry. The Fijians do not take kindly to plantation work, so thousands of East Indians were imported to work in the cane fields. They were brought in on the indenture system, binding themselves to work for five years."

Only Fringe Developed.

"Most of the valleys and hills and mountains of Fiji are blanketed with luxuriant vegetation. As in Hawaii, however, the lee sides of the islands have fewer trees and are covered with long grass. Only the fringe of the islands and the river valleys have been developed. Roads are few, transportation depending chiefly on boats and launches. A surprising feature of the Fijis, especially to those who have thought of them as small islands, are the many large, broad rivers. The Rewa river near Suva is navigable for 50 miles."

"Like most South Sea capitals, Suva is cosmopolitan. If one stands on the Victoria Parade on an afternoon the passing show speaks of many lands. There are the young Fijians in 'store' clothes, their shocks of bleached hair standing out from their heads. Behind them are Indian coolies and traders with their women. The latter are dressed colorfully and fringe with heavy necklaces, bracelets, and anklets. Scattered in the passing groups are people of other Pacific lands: Solomon Islanders, Samoans, New Caledonians. Conspicuous, of course, are the Europeans, the men usually in spotless white, in passing automobiles are the women of the European colony."

"Fiji has the distinction of greeting each new day earlier than practically all other lands in the world. It lies just west of the international date line. Sunday is born there when it is still early Saturday morning in the United States and Saturday in England."

Plant Cow Peas or Soy Beans and Corn at the Same Time

Cow peas and soy beans enrich the soil. Both are valuable as stock food, and when either is fed with corn, it makes a balanced ration which puts meat on the stock more rapidly than when corn only is fed.

You can plant either cow peas or soy beans in the corn hill or drill them with the corn by using a

John Deere 999 Corn Planter with Pea Attachment

We can furnish this planter with the most simple pea attachment ever designed—it can be put in place or removed without disturbing the regular corn planter parts or the fertilizer attachment when it also is used. We can also furnish a spout attachment for drilling only, which plants the peas shallower than the corn. When buying a corn planter, remember the John Deere No. 999 is noted for its accurate "Natural Drop"—instant change, hilling to drilling or back to hilling; instant variable drop—2, 3 or 4 kernels per hill as desired; nine different drilling distances from one set of plates, convenient underhanging reel, absolutely automatic marker, tip-over hoppers and other conveniences.

Come in and ask us to show you the John Deere No. 999 Corn Planter with this pea attachment.

SIGN OF REAL HONEY

At a certain American factory honey was being put into jars. On the bench was a heap of dead bees, and the curious visitor wondered what they could be for.

"Wal," said the manager, "I guess we put one bee into each jar."

"But why?" persisted the visitor.

"Because, sir," came the reply, "we like our customers to know they're getting genuine honey, so we just send 'em along the bug that made it."

North-Pole Attraction

Hear about the lad in the car who called to the sweet young thing on the curb: "Want a ride, sister?" "Are you going north?" she asked. "Sure," he replied. "Well, then, bring me the flag off the North pole," she said, sweetly, and walked on.

TROUBLE SAVED

"There's one thing about Oxford bags that relieves the tailors of lots of worry."

"What?"

"Makin' 'em fit."

Fight Tooth and Nail

The dentists and chiropodists in life should never fail. For all their energy consists of fighting tooth and nail.

Appropos

"Fiji explain deduction," said the young law student, airing his knowledge in the home circle. "In our backyard, for example, is a pile of ashes. By deduction that is evidence that we've had fires going this winter."

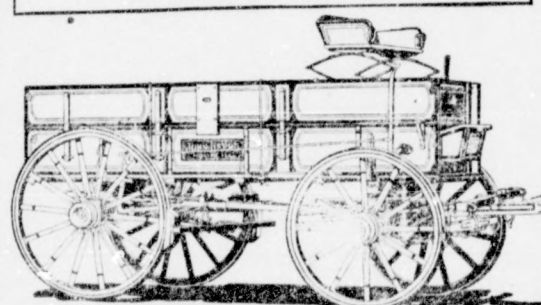

"By the way, John," broke in his father, "you might go out and sift the evidence."

Species Americanus

"What is the name of that species I just shot?" asked the amateur hunter of his guide.

"Well, sir," returned the guide, "I've been inquiring, and all I can make out is Smith."

A FARM WAGON THAT IS GUARANTEED

The amount of satisfactory service that a wagon will give depends entirely upon the material and skill the manufacturer puts into it. We want to show you a wagon that is built of the best materials by men who know how—

THE JOHN DEERE WAGON The Wagon That is Guaranteed

A special machine automatically measures the inside of the skin of the John Deere farm wagon and shapes the axle to fit accurately. The skin is set in red lead under high pressure. It has exactly the right pitch, and the axle has the right gather to make the John Deere wagon run lighter than other wagons. With the John Deere sand- and dust-proof skins there is no wearing of bearing surfaces—the oil stays in—the wagon is always smooth-running and light-pulling.

Only carefully-selected oak and hickory are used in the loads.

Come in and see this wagon—read the guarantee on the tool box. Let us explain the many fine points embodied in it.
