Trade In Fulton Where Your Dollars Buy the Most.

The merchants of Fulton are trying to get the benefit of one of the most profitable trade development ever attempted in a town of this size.

In a recent issue of the Neosho News, the editor of that paper, Mr. J. F. Davis, says:

"A few months ago this paper began to publish a series of articles by J. C. Stump, a prominent Fulton merchant, and the most comprehensive and well reasoned series of articles, so far as we can see, on the value of cooperative buying ever published in this country. The editor of the Fulton Advertiser is entirely in accord with the views expressed by Mr. Stump."

Church News

Mrs. Reed died recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. T. M. Boyd, and sister of the Rev. A. C. Boyd. Mrs. Reed was a member of the church and a member of the Women'sAuxiliary. She was a true friend of the church and its work, and her death is a great loss to the church.

As usual, the prayer and sermon were excellent, and the regular afternoon service was well attended. The Sunday school service was also well attended.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Mr. G. L. Bickford, Minn.
Resident of Fulton, is back to his usual gaiety in spirit and body.

Miss Nell Lorraine Bruce (Sanford News-November)
Friends and relations in this and the immediate vicinity were shocked by the sudden death of Miss Nell Lorraine
Bruce, who had been in good health.
A native of the city, Miss Bruce had been a prominent resident of the city for some time.

Miss Bruce, a sweet and kind-hearted woman, was beloved by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held at the school attended by many friends.

At the close of the services, the body was removed to the home of the deceased.

Those who knew Miss Bruce will miss her kindly manner and agreeable disposition.

Miss Bruce was always ready with a kind word and a helpful hand.

The family and friends of Miss Bruce are deeply grieved at her passing.

WHAT TRAFFIC WILL BEAR

The rates charged by the railroads for transportation of freight are influenced by many factors, but one of the most important is the cost of the service. It is calculated in the familiar expression, what the traffic will bear is how much can be charged for it. The purpose is to have the traffic pay for itself in order that there may be a fair and equitable distribution of the cost of freight over traffic handled. The principle is not one of extraction, but is a just adjustment of traffic. What a classification of traffic is or of the amount that will be paid is determined by the rate-making department of the railroad. As to the rate-making department, we may say that it is a relative, logical, and efficient organization of interested parties, with the main purpose of arriving at a fair and just rate. The classification of traffic is not always correct or perfect, but it is the best that can be obtained and the railroads are not responsible for the result. The rate-making department is not a public body, but is under the control of the railroad company. The addition or subtraction of rates for any particular traffic is a matter of increasing or decreasing the rates for that traffic. The purpose of this article is to see what the traffic will bear as a result of the rate-making department.

A variation in rates for comparable services is not always the sign of a mistake, but it is sometimes done to justify the rate. If some commodities at relatively low rates, the rate-making department would have to bear the general over-all cost of the traffic. In order that the rates may be fair and equitable, the principles of classification and the rate-making department would have to bear the general over-all cost. More or less classification of traffic is necessary to determine what the traffic will bear. The classification is based on the cost of the service and the rates charged.

Food Like You Get at Home

This is truly a house-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals. The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.
