SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1886.

Another bond call for $15,000,000 will be issued early in September.

Stanley, the African explorer, will deliver fifty lectures in this country.

Parnell says that Irish autonomy is inevitable. He counsels patience and prudence.

J. C. Edwards, of Russellville, has been appointed financial officer of the Coast Survey.

Gen. Ransom, a prominent citizen of Lexington, committed suicide. Cause, domestic troubles.

The $500,000 suit between J. A. Case and the Fish Brothers, of Racine, Wis., has been compromised.

Cleveland Anarchists grieve over the pending fate of Chicago brethren and are talking loudly about revenge. It would be well to dispose of them before they do any harm.

It is rumored that Capt. Jack Gross, United States Marshall for Kentucky, will resign. The reasons for his resignation is that he and Judge Barr are not agreeable to each other.

The accurate map of the United States is now in process of construction. It may seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that astronomers have given a more accurate map of the moon, 283,000 miles away, than we have of any State in the Union.

During July 31,348 immigrants arrived at the six principal ports of the United States. The three heaviest contributions were made as follows: Down-trodden Ireland 34,222; centralized Germany 17,818; rally-riden England 29,967.

Rev. G. C. Rankin, pastor of a Methodist church at Chattanooga, visited the saloons of that city to get a few practical points. He then began firing off some caustic discourses at the whiskey men, who in turn propose to boycott all the business men of his church who endorse his sermons.

Among the many other notions held by Rev. Geo. O. Barnes are the following: "Since I came back to my country I see that the word of Jesus Christ is losing its grip upon all the people, and the blessed name of Jesus seems to have lost its power." "The first six thousand years after the creation, which are now drawing to a close, are analogous to the first six days of creation, and that the seventh thousand years now rapidly approaching will be the glorious Sabbath of the millennium, during which the devil will be chained in a pit, and sin and sorrow and death will cease, and men will become Christians in deed, and in fact, basking perennially in the sunshine of the love of God."

There are many points of contrast between the two leading parties. But a little while ago all Republican office holders were taxed to keep the party machinery in running order. To refuse was suicidal. A man who accepted an office became a party slave. He was thoroughly committed to the policy, fraud and corruption of his party. Honest enough, perhaps, in themselves, they were dominated into a sort of servile dependence and had to swallow the filth of the party bosses. On the other hand, look at the record of the Democratic party. Chairman Kennis, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, says: "We have not taken a dollar from any Government official or employee, although thousands of dollars have been tendered from official sources." Look upon the two pictures and take your choice.

Louisville Times: The next Congress promises to be a gathering of the clans from Dan to Beersheba. It is not unlikely that Ben Butler will be there with a rumor in his pocket for every fellow that steps on his toes. Sam Cox will be there with his vast stores of acquired knowledge and his skill in debate. Mahone will be there to lead the Southern Republicans, including the men and brethren from the Carolinas. It may be that R. B. Hayes will be there to remind the Republican partisans of the fraud they practiced in 1877. Charles E. Hooker, the silver-tongued, will be there to fill the seats and electrify the galleries with his words. Frank Hurd will be there to lead the friends of the people against the entrenchments of monopoly, and Carlisle will be there to tower above them all like Saul among the men of Israel. Its sessions will be momentous, and may shape the destiny of parties and politics for a generation.

Man Killed.

Information was received in this city Thursday morning of the sudden death of Thomas Robinson in the St. Bernard coal mines, at Earlington. Robinson was nine years and while making a tour of the shaft the ceiling fell crushing him under a mass of coal and coal. Physicians were at once summoned but before they arrived the poor man was dead.

School Books.

Mr. G. E. Gaither has this season added a full line of stationery and school supplies to his large stock of drugs and sundries. He has ordered an unlimited supply of school text books with special reference to the courses of study laid down in the different schools and colleges of the city. He can furnish any and all kinds of school books on demand at the lowest possible prices. He wishes to call attention to his school supplies. The finest stationery, blank books and copying paper brought to the city. These goods will be sold at remarkably cheap prices, as he is going to make a special drive in this line this season. In purchasing a school outfit for your children you should not fail to call at the Prescription Drug Store.

On Mosquitoes—A Sure Preventive.

We have heard so many bitter complaints of the mosquito swarms which have overrun this community for the past fortnight that we do not feel justified in longer withholding an expression of disapproval of their depredations. They have entered the peaceful home and made it a place of discord. They have insulted substantial citizens by presenting their atrocious bills, in season and out of season, with the pertinacity and importunity of a gas company's collector. They have sung their profane and sacrilegious songs in the ear of innocent sleepers in the house of worship. They have invaded the cradle of infancy and the couch of old age with impudic assault. They have not withheld their indecent footstep and ribald songs from the alabaster neck, the snowy arm, and the décolleté bust of beauty, at the social gathering or the brilliant ball-room. Hopkinsville, in brief, is plagued with mosquitoes as the old Egyptians were plagued with flies. The cry of torture which these winged suction pumps from the infernal world have evoked, has even drowned out the discussion of the railroad question. No man cares for the size of a freight-bill when his sleep is rudely broken by the malignant prodding of a mosquito bill. The public asks, is there no remedy, or better still, no preventive for this intolerable affliction?

Some of our friends, with much bodily toil, have succeeded in driving mosquitoes from their beds. If, after all our efforts, the doors and windows be left open, as they often must be in sultry weather, new swarms flock in, and are invited by gluttony and vengeance, shed blood for both banquet and explosion. If one smokes them out with brimstone, he must smoke himself out also.

The only sure cure is the use of a preventive in the shape of a wire screen, to fit doors and windows, giving free admission to the circulation of the air, while effectually shutting out all bats, cow-bugs, flies and mosquitoes. This cheap little contrivance is a complete success, and one of the greatest boons which modern invention has conferred on American households. It is becoming an indispensable addition to the bedroom and dining-room, and supercedes the use of vile smoking compounds, clumsy fly-fans and disgusting fly-traps. Get a set of wire screens at once for your doors and windows, and the annoying fly will buzz around your house in vain, while the murderous mosquito will gnash his fangs for naught.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own True Laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Mr. H. B. Garner. Sample bottles free and large bottles at fifty cents and one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidney and Bowels gently, yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion and kindred ills.

Clarksville Tobacco Leaf: "The New Era's" poet fell into error in supposing that the L. A. & T. was killed in the late war that tore up Clarksville; it was only captured." Or did the L. A. & T. capture Clarksville, we should like to know?

Owensboro Inquirer: Dr. J. D. Clardy, of Newstead, Ky., Master of the State Grange, will be in Davies county September 10th and 11th, engaged in his work of reorganizing the Grange. Anyone desiring his services should apply to Mr. T. L. Gore.

John E. Byars, our County Attorney, was duly qualified and is now prepared to make the criminals keep on the lookout. He will make a faithful and efficient officer.—Elkton Progress.

Princeton Banner: It is the opinion of nearly all the farmers that the corn in this county cannot possibly turn out more than half crop, even if we have an abundant rain fall. The tobacco may yet be a fair crop in quality, but it is believed, already lost at least one-third in quantity.

The finest lot of stylish spring and summer goods, which I am selling lower than any other house in the city. Call in before buying elsewhere.

M. LIPSTINE.

A few weeks ago we said that Prof. W. P. Many would teach the next session of the Trenton College. He had been employed for that purpose, but the trustees finally released him so he could accept a better offer from Pine Bluff, Ark. His place will be well supplied by Prof. S. F. Cox, whose service has been secured.

The Clarksville Tobacco Leaf says: "The L. A. & T. railroad requests that the New Era's poet shall not write its obituary notice until it gets the news under its own sign manual." If we understand the situation the L. A. & T. is lying stiff and stark in "Ellen N's" morgue. If the sign, however, should revive and ring the alarm-bell the New Era will be happy to announce the resurrection.

Get ready to show your horses, cattle, ewes, sheep, poultry, quills, embryos, erythrae, needwork and kitchen luxuries at the great Christian County Fair in October. If you have a spark of county pride in your heart, blow it, feed it with kindness, and fan it into a beautiful blaze. Let a crowd of five thousand men, women and children of Christian and her sister counties meet in a grand social reunion.

The season of metropolitan Expositions and county fairs setting in, and inducements for excursion parties are offered on all the railroads. "Ellen N." has taken the business in hand and is welcoming the sight-seers, however, with a big palm leaf fan and a beautiful Mother Hubbard, ruffled at the bottom, girdled with a blue ribbon and cut voluptuously low in the neck. Let them travel now who ne'er traveled before, and those who have traveled now travel the more.

The New Era man, like Mr. Silas Wegg, sometimes drops into poetry, and perhaps, like Wegg, "generally does it on gin and water," which, according to the same Wegg, "mellors it." Clarksville Tobacco Leaf. We forgive the Tobacco Leaf's outrageous insinuation about our fondness for "gin and water," and inform it in return that we will be happy to set up the oysters and coffee for its lively editor, Providence and the weather permitting, at our approaching county fair.

Mr. D. B. Owsley, living near Beverly, is very ill.

The Knights of Pythias performed work in the first and second ranks Thursday night. The lodge is growing steadily.

Charles Lindsay, our only truly great pitcher, will go to Clarksville next week to manage the Telephone Exchange in that city.

The versatile Jesse Edmundson has accepted a position in the Commercial Hotel, Princeton. He will do the Union's work from that point. He is a clever, competent young man.

The L. & N. Company has issued an order that all locomotives shall stop before each street crossing and the engineer is to walk before his engine to see that the way is clear. It would be much better to have flagmen, however.

Mr. Will Davis Garnett, of Pembroke, is losing his mules from a strange disease. Three have already died and five more are sick. The disease first manifested itself in the untimely death of the animals. The front legs begin to spraddle out and the mules lie down and die, generally in about two days after being taken sick. Mr. Garnett values his mules at $200 each, certainly a severe loss for him to sustain.

The Pembroke "Keen Kutters" will play in Sharp's field this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. An immense crowd will be out to witness the contest. These two clubs have played three games, the Keen Kutters winning one and the local nine two. If the Pembroke boys win this afternoon the clubs will stand even and another game will be necessary to decide the series. Ladies are especially invited to be present.

Misses Lizzie Stegar and Lou West, met with a serious accident Monday morning. They were driving and the horse attached to the buggy ran off. Miss West jumped from the vehicle and was not hurt. Miss Stegar clung to the lines. She pulled the horse into a wire fence. The animal was severely cut by the wire and Miss Stegar was thrown out and painfully bruised.

McClure Kelly, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Walter Kelly, met with a painful accident Thursday. He went to the ice factory on an errand. As he started up the steps he slipped and fell with a companion on horse back. As the boy started to ride off the horse viciously kicked at McClure, one foot striking him on the right temple. He was knocked insensible and for a time it was thought the wound was fatal. Later he improved and is now out of danger.

IN MEMORIAM F. L. A. T. Railroad.

Only Beloved Child of Major Gordon and Miss (led) Clarksville, which "died a-borning!"

Vanity vanities—Here a little railroad lies. Blinded at birth and badly-legged, One brief year for grub it beggled;

But the milk upon its teats poured On its little stomach sovered;

All "excursions" proved in vain, Its last trip was a funeral train. Hindpart foremost now it lies With its nose turned to the skies;

On its brow a wreath of weeds, Pennyroyal gone to seed. Lone and rusty are its "chairs," Since it climbed the golden stairs.

Drop the "swivel" and stop the spawl, Dry its little "water-tank"!

Swing its scolding whistle sang, Faintly rattle its round springs. Saint Peter, give it some "pase," Its "narrow-gauge" has gone to grass!

Not let the parting spirit take Its "headlight" in the burning lake! Still the rubber-socking thistle, In the late lamented's throat.

Polk its lonely little hands, Sweetly over its helplessness. Place its painted by a round it, And its eating place—confound it!

Lay its little dipper down, On the which no more shall stir; Earth to earth and dust to dust! A right of way to break at last!

If we soon the last to done for, We wonder what it was begun for.

The burial service will be read at the cemetery by the gifted "Ellen N."

Persons coming from a distance will be furnished with free passes over the road bed of the L. A. & T. Railroad to Cerulean Springs.

The editors of the Clarksville press will take up a collection in a cornucopia (a corn) to buy drinks for the mourners.

The ceremonies will conclude with singing the hymn: "Best be the tie that binds Clarksville to Christian love."

"Strawberry, Pine-Apple, Peach or Vanilla!"

Thank you, don't care if we do! Who has lived so far out of the world that he has not heard the name of Wm. Klein, Louisville's great purveyor of sheet cakes and cream, in his peerless and magnificent Ladies' Restaurant on Fourth Avenue? Who has not heard how his gorgeous saloon is thronged from sunrise until late at night with men, women and children purchasing the dainties which he, above all others, knows how to provide? Let every one who goes to the Louisville Exposition this fall from Hopkinsville, go, see, and see the most wonderful and richly appointed wonder to be seen there, Klein's great ice-cream saloon and restaurant, and come away rejoicing.

Heavy Traffic.

The freight depot exhibits extraordinary activity at this time. Large shipments of all kinds of merchandise are coming and going continually and Mr. Loggelen, the new agent in charge, and his corps of assistants are working day and night like beavers to keep up with the heavy traffic of the road. Hopkinsville stands A No. 1. on the roll of the energetic "Ellen N." as a good freight rendezvous for a rich populous and highly prosperous county whose value as a railroad feeder is daily increasing. There is no better place to estimate the importance and progress of a town than its railway depots.

RAILROAD RIPPLES.

Parting off the Bonds—A Slight Deflection—The C. & O. Connection.

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., Aug. 26.—(Pop. 1,000.) D. N. Kennedy, trustee, announced at 3 o'clock yesterday evening, paying off the bondholders of the L. A. & T. railroad according to the self-out contract in the recent recap. The form of transfer is a trustee's certificate to the amount of money paid on the bond subscription. The subscriber signs a transfer in the books and stock, the trustee then gives a check on the L. N. Treasurer, all on the same sheet of paper, and the check is cashed on presentation. Over $10,000 has been paid up to 4 p. m., and will, no doubt, all be settled this week.

Surveyors have started out to change the location of eight miles of road-bed, in crossing the Red river and L. & N. bridge. The junction will have to be formed with the L. & N. somewhere between the old fair ground and Allen's or Trenton on the Southwestern branch. St. Bethlehem, however, is in high gear over the prospect of securing so important a junction and a tobacco and wheat market, and feels sure of getting it if Providence and Guthrie don't beat the enterprising village's bidding. Some people of Clarksville seriously intend the charter or contract to divert to far from the original location. The latest railroad gossip has the "corroborated" talk. Acting on the good counsel, Vice President Hazard says if the people don't like the new management they have their money back to build a better road, the Hopkinsville, Clarksville & Nashville branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio. Huntington was disappointed in getting from Nashville to Galatin and now a better way opens. Hopkinsville has $125,000 tax and private subscription. Clarksville can give as much and Nashville can do the balance easily to secure this important outlet, and the new line will have three or four good towns in it. The new line is to commence building at both ends from Nashville and the connection of the C. & O. railroad at Hopkinsville, uniting at Clarksville. A lively boom may be expected in the next ten days.

Distressing Suicide.

Evansville Courier. A valued correspondent at Uniontown, Ky., sends the following account of a distressing suicide which took place near there yesterday: "One John H. Hilde, 21 years of age, living six miles above town, shot and killed himself this morning. His sister stepped out of his room and he asked the children to get his pistol out of his trunk, which was done, and used by him with the fatal result. His father and mother are both dead. He has a brother in the asylum at Hopkinsville."
