TESTIMONIALS OF HON. PAUL, OF BERLIN COUNTY.

Would Not Take $1,000 for it—Received Fifteen Years' Suffering From Dyspepsia.

ADALPH, Ga., June 22, 1887.—B. B. Bassett, Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: I had suffered from that terrible disease, dyspepsia, for over fifteen years, and during that time tried everything I could hear of, and spent over three hundred dollars in doctor's bills, without receiving the slightest benefit. Finally, after I despaired of obtaining relief, a friend recommended B. B. Bassett's "Blood Balm," and I began using it; not, however, expecting to be benefited. After using half a bottle I was satisfied that I was being benefited, and when the sixth bottle was taken I felt like a new man. I would not take $1,000 for the good it has done me; in fact, the relief I derived from it is priceless. I firmly believe that I would have died had I not taken it.

Respectfully, etc.,

FROM PAUL.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Fire at Hileville, Tuesday morning.

destroyed the post-office and half a dozen other buildings. Loss $20,000; partly insured.

An American consul was murdered in New Zealand recently by the natives. He had requested them to arbitrate a matter and he attempted to do so when he was attacked and murdered.

John Curry and John Laffey, two of a party of five who were returning home to Keokuk, Ia., by boat in a drunken condition, were drowned by having the boat overturned in the middle of the river.

Both houses of the general assembly at Baton Rouge, La., Wednesday, elected Hon. Randall L. Gibson as United States senator to succeed himself. There was no choice for the second place.

George Washington Ewing, a member of the Confederate Congress, died at his home near Adelaide, Ky., Saturday morning. He was 80 years old. He was at one time prominent in Kentucky politics.

Jan Taylor, a New York drummer, fell from the fifth to the ground floor of the Palmer house, Chicago, Tuesday. He clung to the banisters as he fell and escaped without serious injury.

A nine year old son of Col. Jno. R. Williamson, who resides near Fancy Bluffs, Ga., shot and killed his six year old brother in cold blood Wednesday.

When questioned as to the cause of the youthful murderer only replied "what the good of a brother anyway."

John P. Flatford has advertised in the Knoxville papers for three girls who are missing from Jonesboro, Tenn.

He is Marcella Flatford, aged 14, and Ella Smith, aged 14. They were last seen at a spring near Jonesboro with a young man named Weaver. The Smith girl is from Louisville, Ky.

James Wafer was blown to pieces and James Deamond and Thomas Lawton were seriously injured at Stockton, N. J., Friday morning by the explosion of a magazine at Twining's quarries, containing 300 kegs of powder.

All the houses at Fayetteville, Ark., were ruined and many houses at Stockton damaged. People on the streets in Stockton and in house were prostrated by the shock.

Thursday night at Plattsburgh, Neb., a Pinkerton man employed by the Burlington road, while passing from the depot to the postoffice, was attacked by several Brotherhood engineers.

He was shot in the back and the bullet passing through the leg of a man named Kane. The detective ran toward the river and escaped. Great excitement prevailed at Plattsburgh.

Quite a sensation was caused Tuesday afternoon at Lexington, when it was announced that the box of Bookmaker Riley that was stolen from the Phoenix Hotel had been found. Edward Green, an employe of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, discovered a box in an old warehouse in the rear of the livey stable of Treacy & Wilson, which proved to be that of Riley. It contained checks for the amount of $1,000. On investigation it was found that the box had been broken open, and the money amounting to about $4,000, taken therefrom.

Judge Lynch came very near making an end of an umpire, who was arrested Thursday for an assault upon a little girl at Columbus, O. He was bound over to court, and when taken to jail his identity became known to the prisoners, who at once attacked him in a vicious manner. After throwing him into a bath tub and nearly drowning him, the prisoners secured a rope, placed it around his neck and strangled him. The brute was undoubtedly being strangled to death before the jail officers arrived and took care of the prisoners out of the room.

Mrs. Sarah Green, a white woman forty years of age, was arrested at Paducah, Thursday afternoon by United States officers, and locked up in jail. She has been living there for several weeks, and came there from Dover, Tenn. Some months ago she obtained a pension certificate, with $1100 arrearage, from the government as a soldier's widow. It is alleged that she was a fraud, and that while her husband served in the Federal army in a Tennessee regiment, he neither died in service nor anywhere else, but is alive and well today, having a good home on his widow's pension money. Mrs. Green was taken back to Tennessee Friday for trial. She laughed at the officers when they took her into custody.

The delegates to the Republican state convention have left Alabama taking with them the legitimate expenses of the trip, and have returned to their homes, leaving behind them but a very unsavory reputation. Their disgraceful conduct, their open charges against each other of fraud and bribery and their conduct in the legislature, have been the subject of the colored delegates. After the meeting had formally adjourned a few of the Blaineites got up a mock meeting and charged the delegates with fraud and bribery, and the delegates were obliged to leave the hall in a hasty manner.

There were strong indications that John Rudan, of New York, who on the 7th inst. broke his neck, will ultimately recover. He is now at the Homopach Hospital on Cumberland street, where he has undergone an operation which the surgeons think will make him himself again. When taken to the hospital he was in such agony that he was immediately etherized and the head was twisted in many ways until the bone snapped in place. The head of the patient had been placed in a plaster cast and bound to the bed and was held in place by a bandage.

A few nights ago the inhabitants of several miles around Ninety-six, S. C., were aroused at about 10 o'clock by a FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1888.

There are some very nervous people hereabouts; one has but to shoot out the back door to hear a squeal.

The resolutions adopted by the Legislator convention speak for themselves.

They are short, but straight to the point.

The Tennessee Republicans will Blaine and Blaine they will have.

The plumed knight captured the entire delegation at the recent state convention.

It must have been galling to the Republicans to see the harmony that pre-valled throughout the entire session of the convention at Lexington.

The clique is getting very uneasy; they know not how to fight such a square, honest, straightforward, faultless, business man as Mose West.

Cleveland and tariff reform was the cry of the Democrats in convention at Lexington. Every mention of that leader's name was the signal for prolonged applause.

Will Henry propose to make it hot for the elector who speaks against him in this district. He says he intends to take in every county and give the Republicans hot shot on every side.

The Caldwell Courier, published at Princeton, has made its appearance. It is sufficient comment on a paper to say that it is published by that old and experienced newspaper man, R. M.

Wilson.

Mr. T. H. Roberts, of Owensboro, has been appointed Republican elector for the second congressional district, vice

W. E. Boardman, resigned. This knocks out John Frank, Jr., but he ought to be thankful.

The ring is not exactly as strong and perfect a circle as it was some days ago.

It has received considerable blows and is beginning to look like it had been trod upon. This is but the beginning of the end.

The clique is in a bad way; it is frustrated; great drops of perspiration stand out on its forehead; its knees are trembling; it is getting dazed; faint symptoms are revealing themselves.

May the Lord deal gently with it.

That editorial on the "sheriff's office" which was so full of facts and figures is a masterpiece of journalism. It is completing. It is quite remarkable the number of people in this town who wear shoes of the same size.

The L. & N. road wants $30,000 from the people of this county for the building of a branch line from this point to Gracey. According to Civil Engineer

Robbette's figures it will only cost $30,000 to grade, bridge and tie the road to that point.

Judge McPherson is making an excellent record on the bench, the bar is feeling pleased with him. He is a safe and conservative man, well up on all low points, and deserves re-election at the hands of the people. The clique is dead again, he says.

Claude M. Thomas, recently elected elector for the state-at-large, is spoken of as a young man of considerable ability. He was the daddy of the celebrated

Thomas Hill, which was so effectively laid in the shade. It is sincerely to be hoped that Claude will not be so unfortunate as his little pet.

The New Era is completely awaking the charge of the court-house clique of the good people of the county. Re-long it expects to hear the battle cry, and see the hallooed "bloody-shirt" hoisted aloft. The party "lash" will be applied vigorously, but in vain. The good Republicans of the county have enough of ring-rule and propose to sit down on the leaders.

Gov. Buckner has appointed the following gentlemen railroad commissioners, subject to the future advice and consent of the senate, and to take effect from this date, viz: Ignatius A. Spalding of Union county, for the first district; W. B. Fleming of Louisville, for the second district, and John S. Bager of Ashland, for the third district. The appointments leave but one of the old board, Mr. Spalding, and retire Judge Thompson of Lebanon, and J. D. Young of Bath county. The last legislature failed to abolish the commission, or in any way change its functions, and the new commission will continue to operate under the old law, which is simply advisory as regards accommodations between shippers and railroads.

The fact that the New York Sun is opposed to the nomination of Cleveland at St. Louis will have about as much effect as the opposition of the Hopkinsville court-house ring. It has been predicted in these columns that the Sun would sooner or later announce its opposition in regard to Cleveland. It can announce it all along that its editor was not at all in sympathy with the administration. The Sun has always been noted for its erratic and contrary ways and its news is not at all a surprise. In the last election the Sun bitterly opposed Cleveland and attempted his defeat by supporting Butler, but somehow or other Cleveland got elected.

There is only one man that our critic contemporary can be relied on to support for more than three months at a time and that is Chas. A. Dana.

Whenever a Kentuckian is billed to speak in either of the houses of congress there is always a full attendance and the country generally awaits with interest the arrival of the speaker.

There is only one man that our critic

The L. & N. proposition is being discussed pro and con. Some believe that it is the only hope for a road at any time soon and others considering it but a scheme to defeat the building of any other line. Their proposition can and will not be seriously considered for some time yet until the people find out the intentions of the mystic O. V.

Brother Ford, too, wants to be counted in the fight, and will soon submit a proposition to the people. From this point west to the Mississippi, he is very hopeful and expects to push his line through if the people will only assent him.

On the whole about the best position a Hopkingsville citizen can take under the present circumstances, and until matters assume a tangible shape is up on the top of the fence, where from he can see both sides of the fight going on below. The New Era is going to give everybody a chance for his white allegiance in this fight, and when a proposition is submitted that it can be seen that it is not a scheme to defeat the building of a line, but a proposition to build a line, it will be clear to support, will come down at that fence and make Rome howl.

Did I Hear From Home.

Quite a little excitement was created at the depot Sunday morning by the fainting of a young man upon the platform. He was placed in a carriage and carried to the Phoenix Hotel, where he was attended by a doctor. The stranger's name was Leon Apolant, representing Paeiser Bros. & Co., distributors of the Phoenix Hotel. He arrived here Saturday at 10 o'clock on a business trip and intended to go to Evanston Sunday. He seemed to be well enough before he lay in the hotel, though he complained of feeling a little stupid. Dr. Christian, who was first called to attend him, said he did not consider him very sick; that it was probably only a severe bilious attack and that it didn't amount to much.

He would be up and all right in a few hours. He seemed cheerful enough and talked to Mr. Cooper and Mr. Henry Frank in a light manner about the matter. Dr. Seagraves, who was pas-

New Library Firm.
Messrs James E. Cooper and David Canaler have bought the library of Polk Canaler and will hereafter conduct the business under the firm name of Cooper & Canaler. The members of the new firm are two of our worthiest and most enterprising young men and they will keep up the reputation already secured by "Canaler's Stable." Give the boys a chance and they will appreciate it in every sense of the word.

Christian county cast her vote in the election in Louisville. For delegates, Hendrick and Watson, each for Jno. D. Harris and H. B. Thompson; for state electors, eight each for T. F. Hall and Jno. S. Rine.
Madisonville Times: Dixie Rhea, living about three miles west of town was chopping timber last Monday and fell a tree across two of his milk cows. The tree was in an apple orchard and from what he had stated. Both the cows are dead and Dixie is short of milk and butter.
Mosses Greenwood, a ten-year-old colored boy living on the farm of E. J. Paulter, five miles south of the city, was severely burned Wednesday morning while standing before a fire. The fire communicated with his clothing and before assistance arrived he was powerless. He died of his injuries.

Chas. Daniel and Ike Bradley, both colored, were fined $25 each, before the city court, Wednesday for using insulting language. The authorities are determined to break up this habit of congregating upon the street corners and filling the air with profanity. Those arrested are right in the determination. The people are with them.
A difficulty occurred Thursday in the postoffice lobby at Clarksville between W. O. Brandon, of the Tobacco Leaf and Mr. W. R. Bringham, proprietor of the Franklin House. Several blows were passed, when friends intervened and prevented further trouble. The difficulty has been satisfactorily adjusted.

The Madisonville Times says there is some talk that the Republicans of this district, will nominate the Hon. C. J. Pratt, of Madisonville, for congress. They certainly could no better as Mr. Pratt is a man who is popular with his party and would come as near peeling its strength as anyone.
Complaint comes to us from the Kelly station patrons that the New Era is frequently several days when it reaches them, and the further complaint that several issues of the paper have not reached them at all. The fault is not with the Hopkinsville postoffice, of which we are satisfied. The only way to account for them is the carelessness or negligence of the mail agent, which must be remedied.
Jas. A. Twyman and S. A. Chastain, who for the past four months have been recruiting in the glorious climate of California, returned Wednesday night bringing with them a young menagerie and an aggregation of wild and woolly western wonders. Among the collection was a pair of prairie dogs and a shark's egg. The shark that laid the egg became too unwieldy and had to be abandoned.
Listen to the Progress: "Elkton now has six daily passenger trains, the Chicago & Todd, in any morning, the six freight trains that come in and depart from her depot every day. With a $10,000,000 grand hotel going up, a $10,000 hotel, a new brass band, a slight chance for an iron fence around the court-house, two fine sulphur wells and the T. & G. trunk line connecting in Elkton, what may we not expect? The subject of electric light and a street railway will likely come up at the next meeting of the city council.

Clarksville Tobacco Leaf: The firm of McKee Bros. have rented of the Elders the two stores formerly occupied by Coulter Bros. and by Fox & Smith, and will soon open their complete stock of dry goods, clothing, etc. in the one and general groceries in the other. These gentlemen are now very extensive and successful merchants in Kentucky. They have stores each at Bellevue, Newmarket, Longview and Montgomery and are enterprising and do a good business. We judge it is their intention to make this place their headquarters and a distributing point for their large business.
Steve Young, colored, who was placed in the county jail to serve out a fine for passing money under false pretenses, succeeded Tuesday in making his escape from the work-house manager. He was taken to the rock quarry in the northern portion of the city and put to work. While the back of the keeper was turned Steve quietly pulled off his shoes, slipped off chain with the ball attachment and slipped for parts unknown. Steve is the fourth prisoner who has escaped from the work-house keeper since the establishment of that institution. The strictest vigilance should be observed, and no prisoner permitted any liberties. As a general thing the members of a chain gang haven't the highest sense of honor and a majority of them would not hesitate to abuse a confidence.

Alexander, deceased, and on a judgment of the Christian circuit court for $1,000, against the deceased in January, 1937. An attachment was taken on a return of no property found, and it was asked that the defendant's interest in certain property on Fourth street, near Main, be subjected to the claim.
The circuit court at Elkton has made a record which will compare favorably with the best of any held here. Every instance of the penalties in nearly every instance. This tribunal has been especially severe on murderers, robbers and whiskey dealers. J. L. Lintz, of Guthrie, was fined the net little sum of $1,700 for whiskey selling. Sentenced to the penitentiary for John Murr, cutting and wounding, one year; Wm. C. Herring, breaking in horses, one year; C. H. Herring, stealing, one year. The grand jury has returned some fifty-five indictments, two-thirds of which are for selling liquor.
About 400 people went out to the railroad track Sunday afternoon to get a glimpse of Barnum & Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth." Four trains passed through, but only just outside the city limits to feed and water the animals. They had the finest lot of horses ever seen with a show, and other animals in proportion. The showmen were willing to pay the hundreds; even the babies were on hand. The stock and animals were all watered and fed of course could be seen free of charge by the curious multitude.
