Beckham Will Speak In Fulton On July 27th

The Honorable J. C. W. Beckham, former governor, former U. S. Senator, will speak in the Carr Park Auditorium, Wednesday night, July 27.

Gov. Beckham served as Governor of our state from 1900 to 1908. Although he was barely 30 years of age when he became Governor, his record of achievement and accomplishment are unparalleled in the history of our state.

When he entered office the state was on the verge of a civil war which was the result of the assassination of William Goebel. Gov. Beckham had that quality of leadership which restored law and order where chaos reigned. He found the state of Kentucky $1,800,000 in debt. During that term of office Gov. Beckham paid off the state debt. Gov. Beckham built a magnificent state capitol costing nearly $2,000,000. He established, for the first time in the history of Kentucky, two new normal schools. One normal school was located at Bowling Green, the other at Richmond, Kentucky. He increased the common school term from five to six months. All this was accomplished without raising the taxes and on an income of only $6,500,000 a year. The state now collects in taxes more than $31,000,000. When Gov. Beckham retired as Governor of Kentucky he left with $1,300,000 in the state treasury.

Gov. Beckham favors better highways for Kentucky. He opposed Gov. Fields when he advocated the $75,000,000 bond issue.

C. P. Freeman New Postmaster

Will Take Active Charge of Fulton Post Office August 1;
Succeeds R. B. Beadles

Postoffice Department
First Assistant Postmaster
General
Washington
July 15, 1927.
Mr. Claude P. Freeman,
Fulton, Ky.

In accordance with the Act approved April 24, 1920, the Postmaster General has appointed you acting postmaster at the post office named on the enclosed bond.

Sincerely,
JOHN H. BARTLETT,
First Asst. Postmaster Gen.

The above letter notifying Claude P. Freeman, of his appointment as postmaster of the Fulton, Ky., post office, was received Monday morning and was cause for general relief of mind by the aspirant as it had been known for some months that he was one of the three eligibles for the Fulton appointment.

The newly appointed postmaster is the son of Mr. M. C. Freeman, of Wingo. He is a native Kentuckian, born at Wingo in 1891. His first experience in the government service was in 1910 when he was mail carrier on a route out of Wingo.

Mr. Freeman is not a stranger in our midst. He located here in the spring of 1913, accepting a position with Morris & Bard and later with Lon Jones, the well known Lake street men's clothing and furnishings establishment. His business qualifications and his courteous treatment to patrons won many friends for the store and in 1918 he bought an interest in the business and was taken in as a partner, and today the firm of Jones & Freeman stands at the top of the list in Fulton's business circles. Mr. Freeman is a member of the Elks lodge and Lions club. He says he will take active charge as postmaster, August 1.

Retiring Postmaster
After a long period of efficient service in the Fulton post office, Postmaster R. B. Beadles retires to take up active work in the First National Bank, of which he is vice-president.

Mr. Beadles, during his connection with the Fulton post office, has seen it grow from an humble importance, employing two people a portion of their time, until now, when it requires a large force, to take care of the volume of business all the time, each and everyone supremely endowed with the highest grade of efficiency in the work for which they are employed.

The evolution and growth of the Fulton post office to its present importance as a live, up-to-date office of the second class has been a feature marking the growth and keeping abreast of it with the city of Fulton.

The retiring postmaster was first appointed assistant under President Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt. Appointed postmaster by President Harding, December 30, 1922. He has the distinction of being one of the most efficient postmasters in the country, second to none, and his wide circle of friends, both Republicans and Democrats, regret his retirement.

He has not only been faithful in the discharge of his duties as postmaster, but is a loyal citizen, standing preeminent in social, business and financial circles.

ELECTRIFICATION VS. OIL EQUIPMENT

The city council, feeling the necessity of remodeling the city water plant, is working overtime in an effort to figure out the best and most economical equipment to install.

The present equipment is reported in bad condition and the upkeep and operating expenses growing larger and larger all the time with a probability of going out of commission any time.

The council met in called session Monday night when representatives of the Kentucky Utilities Company submitted a report on electrification, also representatives of the Fairbanks Morse Company submitted a proposition for oil equipment.

A discussion followed in an attempt to get further enlightenment as to the exact cost of equipment and installation as well as upkeep and operating expenses.

Either equipment would probably save the city several thousand dollars annually over the present operating expenses, but the council is marking time until they are thoroughly acquainted with both modern equipments, and may employ a disinterested expert to advise them. At present, the council is divided on the equipment to install, no doubt on account of not being thoroughly familiar with all details.

SOUVENIRS

GOOD ROADS, FULTON COUNTY

To date, Fulton County has spent a total of approximately $200,000.00 in road work, and the State Highway Department has spent and authorized to be spent, approximately $600,000 in Fulton county, which is equivalent to three to one. The good roads include 37 miles of State Highway, embodying the road from Fulton, Ky., to the Lake County Line via Hickman; from Fulton to the Hickman county line toward Clinton, and from Fulton to Hickman County line toward Mayfield.

In addition to the above the Highway department has recently taken over the State Line from the Bridge on the Lower End of Lake street at Fulton, extending to and connecting with the Union City Highway beyond the overhead bridge, which is a much needed improvement.

Fulton County has had no reason to complain against the present State Administration, relative to the good roads program. Senator Owens, State Highway Commissioner for the First District has been thoroughly convinced of the needs of this county, has been very sympathetic and has fulfilled every promise made.

Fulton county has received more in good roads under the present Administration than ever before, and if the administration is repudiated, Senator Owens will not be appointed highway commissioner, which doubtlessly would mean Fulton county's good road program would be seriously retarded if not stopped.

CHAS. D. NUGENT,
County Judge and Co-Chairman.

Tractor Takes A Tumble.

One of the little giant caterpillar tractors used in South Fulton in backfilling sewer ditches in attempting to drive astride a ditch on the hill on Central Avenue, Tuesday afternoon, got too near the ditch with one set of drivers when the bank caved and the tractor went in broadside and nearly completely burying itself. It appears that a machine so powerful, resembling a little ant dragging an insect much larger than itself, might be able to extricate itself, but like a giant locomotive it is entirely helpless when it leaves the track and turns on its side. It was still in the ditch Wednesday afternoon.

BREATHITT ON POLITICAL TOUR

West Kentucky Democrat's
Candidate for Lieut.
Governor

James Breathitt, Jr., of Hopkinsville, the only West Kentuckian among the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, was in Fulton Tuesday in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Breathitt is regarded by many as the strongest man in the race, and is one of the most brilliant young lawyers in Kentucky. He comes of a pioneer family of soldiers and statesmen, prominent in Hopkinsville for a hundred years. He is a son of Judge James Breathitt, former circuit judge of the Third district and Attorney-General of Kentucky. He is also a grand nephew of Governor John Breathitt, who was elected lieutenant governor 100 years ago, and four years later was nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for governor and elected.

Despite the fact that he was exempted from the draft in the World War, Mr. Breathitt volunteered for combat duty and served in the flying corps of the United States Navy.

He is a graduate of Center College and is only thirty-seven years of age, though regarded as one of the outstanding lawyers and orators of the State.

HANNEPHIN SELLS BARBERSHOP

J. E. Hannephin, member of the city council, lodge member, all around good citizen, sold his Lake Street barbershop to Arthur Binford.

For more than twenty years Mr. Hannephin has been actively engaged in conducting his barber business in Fulton and he feels that he is due a brief vacation from active work.

Mr. Binford, the new proprietor, who has been working with Mr. Hannephin since installing the beauty parlor, is now in charge and assures the public the same excellent services for which the shop maintains.

Motorcyclist Is Injured.

Strother Leech, well known young man of Hickman was seriously injured just outside the city limits of Fulton, Monday night when his motorcycle was forced from the highway to the ditch. He suffered two broken bones in one foot, with the foot badly crushed, a bruised and wrenched knee and severe bruises from head to foot.

He was on the middle road known as the Fulton-Hickman Road when a car from Union City, Tenn., crowded him from the highway or came so close to him that he went over trying to get out of its way.

Popular Engineer

Falls From Trestle.

Friends of Hayes B. Turner regret to learn of his painful accident which he suffered near Trimble, Tenn., Tuesday night. Mr. Turner is a popular I. C. engineer and while inspecting a defective air hose fell from a trestle breaking several ribs and sustaining other painful wounds. He was rushed on a special train to the Paducah hospital. While he was seriously injured, hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Care At Crossings.

Large increases in automobile accidents at railroad crossings are shown in a summary of reports of all large railroad lines. Such mishaps last year numbered well over 3,000, and fatalities totaled 1292 compared with 1154 the year previous. This compilation did not include the short line or interurban, so that the sacrifice of life to carelessness was really much larger than these figures indicate.

Many drivers of automobiles make the mistake of depending on the crossing flagman. They forget that watchmen are only human and are subject to all of the human weaknesses. An inspection of the Long Island railroad in New York recently disclosed eighteen grade crossing watchmen asleep, out of eighty-five crossings visited during the inspection.

ARNOLD-ADAMS

Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Adams announce the marriage of their daughter, Thelma, to Mr. Ernest M. Arnold, July 1, 1927.

The marriage, which came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple, took place at the home of the bride's parents at nine o'clock Friday evening. The bride was beautifully gowned in yellow georgette over satin, and her only attendant, Miss Mary Belle Warren, of Fulton, Ky., wore white georgette over rose satin. Dr. Adams, father of the bride, was the officiant, using the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Arnold is one of Middlesboro's most popular and accomplished young ladies. Mr. Arnold, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Arnold, of Middlesboro, was reared here and received his education in the Middlesboro schools. Since his graduation he has been employed with the L. & N. Railroad company, leaving his position with them last winter to attend a School of Art in Washington, where he is attaining success as a commercial artist. Mr. Arnold will return to Washington, D. C., tomorrow and Mrs. Arnold will join him there later.

Misses Juanita Wester, Minnie Wanga Wester and Hattie Campbell and Mrs. Hobart Reams were the only guests at the wedding last night, except the immediate family of the bride. — Middlesboro, Ky. News.

The bride formerly resided in Fulton, while her father, the Rev. E. F. Adams, was pastor of the First Baptist church. She has a host of friends here who extend congratulations. After September 1, the newlyweds will be at home in Washington, D. C.

Crowe Presents Records

Morehead, Ky., June 12—Robert T. Crowe, of La Grange, declared here today that the attacks made on his citizenship were too ridiculous to merit answer.

Mr. Crowe was born in Ontario, Canada, May 27, 1875, near the United States border. He came to this country when a small boy, with his parents. As soon as he became 21 years of age he became naturalized in the year 1896 in Towanda, Bradford County, Pa., at which time and place his elder brother, the Rev. Dr. James Crowe was pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Crowe has in his possession a copy of the court record and this information was furnished to the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times by W. L. Dawson, editor of the Oldham Era, of La Grange, in January, immediately after Mr. Crowe had announced for this office.

LARGE ACREAGE IN CORN

The farmers in the country are "making hay while the sun shines," and if weather conditions are favorable, one of the largest crops of corn will be grown in this section for many years. Old corn is looking fine now and the acreage is much larger than one would think as the spring season was a continuous rain.

The potato crop will be large too. In fact, after a survey of the rural districts things don't look so bad after all.

How County Attorney Lon Adams Sees It.

To the Fulton Advertiser:

As every one knows, there is at present being waged in this state a campaign by both the Democratic and Republican parties to select, by means of primaries, candidates for Governor. Being a Democrat, I shall address myself principally to a consideration of the candidacies of the Democratic aspirants to that office. Let me say in the outset that I am not personally acquainted with either Gov. Beckham or Mr. Crowe, the only two serious contenders for the Democratic nomination, so that it cannot be said that I am actuated by the ties of personal friendship in lending my support, though insignificant as it may be, to the candidacy of Gov. Beckham.

If I know my own mind, I am actuated by only one motive in supporting Gov. Beckham in preference to Mr. Crowe, and that is, all things considered, I believe that he will make a more efficient Governor than Mr. Crowe. The matter of selecting officers to administer the government, be that government large or small, is a matter that should receive the serious and unimpassioned thought and consideration of every citizen. It is the duty of every citizen to carefully consider the claims of the respective candidates offering themselves for public office, and to carefully examine their qualifications and fitness for the office they seek, irrespective of whether they be friend or foe; and having thus examined, it is the duty of the citizen to support that candidate who, in the citizen's judgment, most fully measures up to the requirements of the office. The practice, all too prevalent in politics as well as many other vocations in life, of permitting our emotions, our prejudices and our passions rather than cool and deliberate reason to control and direct our course, is the greatest curse imaginable to good government. There has, in my judgment, been far too much rancor and personal bitterness injected into the Governor's race, all of which is a manifestation to every thoughtful person of the littleness of soul, narrowness of mind, and general unfitness of those disseminating such a spirit for a position of public trust. Why did Governor Fields, as he did do, assail the candidacy of Governor Beckham with the fury of a cyclone? Isn't Governor Beckham a citizen of Kentucky? Does he not possess the legal qualifications to become a candidate for Governor? We think so. If the above facts are true, then Governor Beckham had as much right to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination as did Mr. Crowe, the hand-picked candidate of Governor and his administration henchmen. If I remember correctly, Governor Fields, in his letter attacking the candidacy of Governor Beckham, stated, in substance, that one of his objections to Governor Beckham's candidacy was that he, Beckham, was under the baneful influence of Percy Haly and Bob Bingham. And again, if I remember correctly, Governor Fields stated in the same letter that in the past he had supported Governor Beckham. If the statements made by the Governor in that letter were true, and if the statements subsequently made by the Governor and others are true, then Beckham has been under the all powerful and corrupt influence of Percy Haly since first he became Governor upon the death of Governor Goebel. It is reasonable to presume that inasmuch as Percy Haly has been an outstanding political figure in Kentucky for more than a quarter of a century, that Governor Fields has now, and has had for a long time, an intimate knowledge of the intimate relationship, if any exists, existing between Governor Beckham and Percy Haly. Now, if Beckham has been so completely under the pernicious influence of Percy Haly all these years, pray, tell me, why Governor Fields, with a full knowledge of it all, or even a part of this, walked up to the polls and supported Beckham for public office? When did Beckham and Percy Haly become so distasteful to Governor Fields? Doubtless it was when Governor Beckham failed to agree with him on the seventy-five million dollar bond issue. Well, if every person who failed to agree with him on the bond issue is distasteful to him, then, in my opinion, he has a very bitter taste in his mouth, for the bond issue was defeated by a majority of almost a hundred thousand votes.

They talk of the Haly-Beckham machine that existed when Beckham was Governor. When, I ask, did there ever exist in this state a more gigantic political machine than the one backing Bob Crowe for Governor? With the Governor of the state actively campaigning for Mr. Crowe, and with members of the Highway Commission, surveyors, chain carriers and road draggers shouting for Crowe, how can they have the nerve to accuse any person at any place or at any time of building up a political machine?

You have but to study, in a comparative way, the manner of campaign which each is conducting, to determine which of the two, Beckham or Crowe, is the better material for Governor. Beckham makes few promises, realizing that it is easier to make promises than it is to fulfill them. He also says, as any intelligent man knows, that no man can in an address, set forth in detail every plan and every policy that he will pursue during a four year term of office. He pitched his campaign on a high plane, as any man of high character will do. In this announcement, he uttered not one unkind word concerning any person, on the contrary he spoke in the kindest terms of his opponents. Since starting his speaking campaign he has at all times and on all occasions presented the issues of the campaign in the same high-toned and scholarly manner that has characterized his conduct throughout his public and private life. He has not, like some others, selected one issue that he thought to be popular and pressed that one issue alone to the exclusion of all others. He realizes that there are other problems other than those of roads that must be met and dealt with by a man who occupies the governor's chair. There is the farmers' problem, the educational problem, and other problems, too numerous to mention, that will call for solution at the hands of the next governor. Mr. Crowe, on the other hand, seems to think that there will be only one problem before him for solution during his four years in office, should he be elected, and that is the road problem. I will not do Mr. Crowe the injustice to say that I think he doesn't know any better, but my opinion is that he thinks the people do not know any better, and that he can hand them this road dope in such doses as will benumb their senses regarding any other matter, and while the people are thus benumbed he proposes to ride into the Governor's office, there to be received amidst the blast of trumpets by his lord and master, William Jason Fields, and his cohorts.

Beckham is in favor of good roads. I am in favor of good roads, and in fact, every man, woman and child in Kentucky who is capable of thinking, is in favor of good roads, and when I hear the Crowe forces crying out that Beckham is opposed to good roads and that he proposes to disrupt the present road program, and refuse to carry out the contracts already made with the counties, I am forced to the conclusion that the Crowe forces are conducting their campaign on the theory that the rank and file of the people are dumbbells and stark-naked fools.

Judging from the number and kind of promises that the Crowe forces have heretofore made, I should not be surprised to learn that Mr. Crowe and his forces had promised every farmer in the state that he would, if elected Governor, build a concrete path to his hog pen, if only the farmer will support him for governor.

Crowe Plan Provides for Highway Funds Raised by Fairest Method, the Gasoline Tax.

Figures obtained from the motor vehicle departments of adjoining states show that a license on a Ford car costs:

In Kentucky, $13.57.
In Ohio, $4.
In Indiana, $5.
In Illinois, $8.
A Dodge Car license costs:
In Kentucky, $17.50.
In Ohio, $6.
A Packard license costs:
In Kentucky, $22.21.
In Indiana, $10.

Kentucky automobile license fees are higher than those of any adjoining states, are higher than those of any state in the union.

ROBERT T. CROWE, of La Grange, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, proposes a reduction of motor license taxes.

He advocates retaining the five-cent gasoline tax, which was passed in 1926 as an emergency measure and will automatically return to three cents a gallon in 1928 unless re-enacted by the legislature.

The gasoline tax pays more into the road fund than the motor license tax. Increased use of gasoline will mean still greater increase in the fund this source.

The cost of collection of the gasoline tax is small; the cost of collection of license taxes higher than those of adjoining states is large and enforcement of the law is difficult.

THOSE WHO PAY the motor license fees in Kentucky now are forced to pay for themselves as well as for those who shirk and "bottleg" taxes from other states.

EVERY MOTORIST who uses Kentucky roads helps the road fund through the gasoline tax. The gasoline tax places the burden justly on ALL WHO USE THE ROADS, whether Kentuckians or tourists, whether living near the state border or on the interior, whether willing to share the burden or willing to shirk and bootleg.

Mr. Crowe Proposes More For Roads. Less For Collection And Enforcement

Let all help in sustaining the road fund so that the road-building program can be completed and the agreements of the highway commission with all the fiscal courts of counties that have voted bonds and special taxes can be kept.

Goodman Leading In Race For Auditor

Recent reports from every section of the State indicate that John A. Goodman, of Elkton, Ky., present Clerk of Court of Appeals, is leading in the race for the Democratic nomination for Auditor of Public Accounts. Mr. Goodman has a big advantage in the race because he is from Western Kentucky, a section of the State which the Democrats feel, should have representation to strengthen the ticket in November.

Eight years ago Mr. Goodman carried 99 of the 120 counties in the State in his race for the nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and four years ago he was again nominated, that time carrying 98 counties. It is believed that this is a record which has never been equaled by any candidate for a State office.

Mr. Goodman's conduct of the office of Clerk of our highest Court has been highly commended by the Court and by the Attorneys of the State. His many friends claim that he is worthy and well qualified for the office for which he seeks the nomination, it being along the same line of work of which he has made an especial study. He has, at different times, visited every county in the State and has a host of friends in all of them.

Teaching You Thrift

Practice makes perfect. Schoolmasters of today as well as yesterday constantly repeat that truth. Pupils learn by applying it.

Application of that principle to our everyday habits proves its practical help. We learn by practicing, whether it be a good habit or a bad habit.

This bank teaches you thrift by leading you to practice it. The lesson is easily learned once it is begun. To become perfect in it requires constant practice. A savings account is the most consistent method of practicing thrift.

Sunday School Lesson

(BY REV. P. H. FLETCHER, D.D., D.D., Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, 1927, Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for July 24
DAVID AND GOLIATH

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 17:1-58.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Boy Overcomes a Giant.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy's Brave Deed.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why David Was So Brave.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Victories of Faith.

I. The Contending Armies (17:1-3).
On the north side of the Valley of Elah, on the highlands, stood Saul and his army, and on the south side stood the Philistine hosts, eyeing each other for battle. According to an ancient custom, the Philistines, having a warrior among them of great strength, sought to decide the war by a combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was slain was to be subject unto the other.

II. The Champions (17:4-57).
1. Goliath of the Philistines. (a) He was a giant (v. 4), perhaps eleven and one-half feet in height. The appearance of such a man greatly intimidated the Israelites. Saul, who once was brave, made no attempt or effort to meet this giant.
(b) He was filled with proud conceit. His size, his paucity of war, and his strength, caused him to believe that no evil could befall him. His conceit became his snare.
(c) He was boastful. No doubt he was a much-talked-of man among the Philistines. Their possession of such a man needed the former experience of their nation when Samson, the Israelite giant, wrought such great mischief among them.
(d) He was defiant. He openly defied the army of Israel—the people of the Most High. That is just like the champion of Satan's hosts now. He is becoming more and more defiant of the Lord's people, and ultimately will defy the Almighty Himself.
(e) He was scornful. He treated the Israelites with the utmost contempt. This is what Satan is doing daily. He treats God's people with the utmost contempt.

2. David, the Israelite.
In the providence of God, David was sent to the camp at a time to hear the blatant boasting of this proud and contemptible Philistine champion. His three eldest brethren were in the army, and his father sent him some provisions for them as well as for the captain. While David was talking with his brothers, Goliath made his appearance. The sight of Israel's cowardice and lack of zeal for God prompted David to offer his services. Note the character of David. (a) A mere youth, a stripling not used to war. (b) He was courageous. When all Israel were afraid, he undertook this task. Besides, he had proven his bravery before in defending his flock against the lion and the bear. (c) He had a mighty faith in God. He argued that what God had done for him He would do again. (d) He had meekness and self-control. This he exhibited in a remarkable manner under the gibes of Eliab (v. 28). (e) He was skillful. He had become such an expert in the use of the sling that he had absolute confidence in the issue of his attack. He was not a blind enthusiast who disregarded the use of means, but was careful as to what they should be. He put aside the untutored armor of Saul. He knew that God's will for him was to use by faith that which he had thought insignificant. This is God's will for us.

III. The Battle (vv. 38-48).
When Goliath beheld David coming up against him, he cursed him by his gods—Dagon, Baal, and Ashtaroth, showing that it was not merely a battle between David and Goliath, but between true and false religion. David hastened and ran to meet Goliath. The stone from his sling smote Goliath in the forehead and he fell to the earth upon his face. David went forth in the name of the Lord of hosts—that all the earth might know that there was a God in Israel. The whole matter shows that the battle is not with the strong, but with those who put their trust in God.

IV. The Victory (vv. 49-58).
The Philistine champion was killed and the army routed. This victory is a prophesy of a greater one when the devil, the defiant enemy of God and man, shall be slain and his army put to flight. David is thus the type of Christ and Goliath a type of Satan. Goliath's sword was turned against himself and typified that Christ shall turn Satan's weapons against him for his own destruction.

Hot Weather Don'ts

People have been "preached to" so much about summer habits of living, that some may have become calloused on the subject, but reminders may not now be amiss. Familiarity with hot weather "don'ts" of former years does not lessen the importance of repetition in the hope of saving someone from foolish acts, in the constant endeavor to keep cool when keeping cool is well nigh impossible.

There is little information on the subject. Every adult should know that overindulgence in ice drinks and heavy food is dangerous. Every grown person should be aware of the well established health rule that a light diet of fruit and green vegetables will assist nature in overcoming bodily discomforts traceable to high temperature and humidity.

Moderation in all things is necessary to retain good health during the summer. This is especially true of swimming, when the temptation is strong to "cool off" with a plunge in the river.
Swimming to excess is dangerous even when most sanitary conditions obtain, but the danger is multiplied many times when the condition of the water is doubtful.

Grown persons are expected to use discretion, but impulsive youth forgets caution and takes risks that places life in jeopardy.
It is practically impossible to prevent promiscuous swimming, but parents would do well to hold their children in check and do all in their power to teach the dangers of summer swimming.

Community Pride

A great American once said that a man had a right to know wherein he had surpassing ability and to be proud of it. If proud in the right sense, he can not be regarded as vain.

The same can be applied to a community. Fulton is justly proud of its homes, its schools,
its churches, its business institutions, but it is not guilty of the vanity of boastfulness. With pride its commercial organization and civic clubs call attention to reasons why it invites others to come here. These reasons are too good for the use of superlatives.

It has been said that the word quality has been used to such a wide extent that it is mean-less and hackneyed, but if you can think of its real meaning,
you can apply it to this community.

Fulton does not put on a
"false front," but stands with arms outstretched with a brand of hospitality that is not forced, but natural. Fulton is indeed itself—a distinctive "personality,"
if communities have personality.

Farm Prices Advance

The general level of farm prices advanced four points in June, from 126 to 130, the large-est advance made in a single month since March, 1925, according to the federal bureau of agricultural economics. The increase was caused by an advance of 13 points in the grains' index, 43 points in the fruits and vegetables' index and 6 points in the cotton and cottonseed index.

The increases in farm prices are attributed largely to adverse weather conditions this spring.
The Mississippi flood affected cotton prices and some of the other farm products.

Corn again advanced sharply
breaking all records back to 1909 for gains of June over May. The increase amounts to about 18 per cent over the previous month
and is about 23 percent above
the 1910-14 average for the month and approximately the same degree above June 1925.
The rise in the price of corn is attributed to unfavorable weather and late plantings. The corn market has been highly sensitive to weather reports.

Wheat prices advanced in all sections of the country. The United States average price was approximately 6 points above last month. Bad weather and prospects of a smaller crop seem to have been the dominant factors in the price increase in the month. The price movement this year is more comparable to 1925
when the gain amounted to 7
cents in the month.

State Tobacco
Acreage Drops

Crop This Year Expected to be 25 Per Cent Less Than Last Year

Kentucky's 1927 total acreage
of tobacco of all types is approximately 25 per cent less than in 1926, or 319,500 acres compared to 426,000 acres last year, and the Kentucky wheat crop
about 3,682,000 bushels compared to 4,773,000 bushels produced
last year; these are the features of the July crop for Kentucky
based on conditions as of July 1,
and issued today by the Kentucky office of the U. S. Division of Crop and Livestock Estimates.
The decrease of 1,091,000 bushels (or about 23 per cent) under the final 1926 production of wheat in Kentucky is due to poorer condition at harvest this year and in spite of greater acreage harvested (which is about 30 per cent more than in 1926). Kentucky's corn acreage is 2,762,000 acres,
or 10 per cent less than in 1926.
The condition July 1 was 66 per cent compared to 84 per cent
July 1, 1926, and a 10-year average condition of 87 per cent on July 1. This month's estimate of the acreage and condition of corn in Kentucky indicates a crop of
about 58,698,000 bushels compared to 101,277,000 bushels produced last year and an average annual production of 89,042,000 bushels 1922-1926 inclusive. However, as the season progresses
this first preliminary forecast
may be changed materially by changes in condition of the growing crop.

Kentucky's tobacco acreage, by types, in 1927 and 1926 respectively, is estimated as follows:
Henderson Stemming (fired) 9,
700 and 11,000; Green River 36,
000 and 47,000; Hopkinsville-
Clarksville 38,000 and 50,000;
Paducah 20,700 and 35,000; One
Sucker 19,200 and 28,000; Burley 198,900 and 255,000. Based on the records of previous yields of tobacco in Kentucky this year's area of 319,500 acres, with average conditions until cured,
would produce about 215,087,000
pounds compared to 374,880,000 pounds produced last year and a 5-year average annual production of 421,754,000 pounds 1922-1926 inclusive. These tobacco and corn estimates are the first of this season, and estimates of production will be subject to revision either upward or downward as the season progresses, depending on favorable or unfavorable weather and other conditions.

pointed Election
Commissioner

Clarence Pickering, of Fulton,
has been appointed election commissioner of Fulton county for one year by the election com-

This appointment was made on

Schlenker, of Hickman, chairman of the Fulton county Democratic committee.

YOUR SPRING SUIT NEEDS
THE WRINKLES TAKEN OUT

You know what a beauty
shop can do for faces—how it can remove wrinkles from cheeks and crow's feet from eyes. But did you ever visit a "beauty shop for suits"—a modern dry cleaning and sanitary pressing establishment?
Here, again, is a "fountain of youth"—this time for clothes.

For example, take one of your own suits to the O. K.
Steam Laundry—one you've worn often. If it's a light suit, the grime is plainly visible at collar and cuffs; perhaps there is a bit of grease on it from your car. If the suit is dark, the dirt may not show—but it's there. One cannot ride in automobiles and taxis, and not gar-ther dirt.

But see what your dry cleaner, the O. K. Laundry, can do for this suit.

First, it is tumbled in warm,
drying air; the moisture is removed, the dust shaken out, obstinate spots loosened. An expert "spotter" then goes over the garment by hand—stains and spots vanish before his skill. Next, the suit is soured gently, thoroughly, back and forth, in the purest of cleaning fluids. Soil embedded in the fabric is filtered out; grime and grease are dissolved away.
After most of the moisture has been whirled out, the suit is carefully dried in a breeze of fresh, warm, sterile air, then with the warm air sifting thru it, it is fluffed softly. The nap comes to life, the cloth becomes fresh and smart again.

Nor is this dry cleaning
"magic" limited to men's suits
and overcoats. Hats and gloves, women's coats, suits, dresses
and blouses, children's clothes
—almost every article of wearing apparel can be given this same renewing, refreshing treatment. And how much longer clothes wear when they receive it. Truly dry cleaning pays its own bills.

Of course, we make a specialty of dry cleaning draperies, rugs, etc. Don't overlook this when you begin your Spring
housecleaning—just phone 130
and we will do the rest.

A LETTER TO OBION COUNTY VOTERS

Union City, Tenn.,
July 15, 1927

To the Voters of Obion County:

You no doubt know that I am a candidate for the office of County Trustee. It has been my desire to see each of the voters of the county and lay my claim before them personally, but the duties of the office have prevented. You also doubtless know that I am filling the office of Trustee by appointment of the County Court at its January term, instead of Mr. W. E. Jackson. To me the service of the people, whose servant I am, is of more importance than the gratification of personal ambition, and at no time have I been willing to neglect the duties of the office I am now filling, to canvass the county.

At no time during the six months I have been in the office of trustee have I felt justified in neglecting your service, which has required every day of that period. My experience, and the satisfactory condition of the office at present, convince me I can conscientiously promise you efficient and honest service, if you see proper to elect me to this responsible position; and I will give the office my undivided time and attention, and will welcome investigation of the office by any one interested at any time.

Hoping you will give this appeal your serious consideration, and will honor me with your vote and confidence at the Democratic Primary Election, August 6, 1927, I am

Yours most respectfully,
J. F. GREGORY.

A FARM WAGON THAT IS GUARANTEED

The amount of satisfactory service that a wagon will give depends entirely upon the material and skill the manufacturer puts into it. We want to show you a wagon that is built of the best materials by men who know how—

THE JOHN DEERE WAGON The Wagon That is Guaranteed

A special machine automatically measures the inside of the skids of the John Deere farm wagon and shapes the axle to fit accurately. The skid is set in red lead under high pressure. It has exactly the right pitch, and the axle has the right gather to make the John Deere wagon run lighter than other wagons. With the John Deere sand- and dust-proof skids there is no wearing of bearing surfaces—the oil stays in—the wagon is always smooth-running and light-pulling. Only carefully-selected oak and hickory are used in the John Deere Wagon, and every piece of wood is air-seasoned under cover in our own yards for at least two years. The tires are set hot under hydraulic pressure and under a gauge that assures proper dish—the load is always carried on plumb spokes. And don't forget this other big feature—the heavy malleable fifth-wheel with corrugated coupling—no bending or breaking of kingbolt—bolster does not get out of line and rock—no danger of tipping when handling large, top-heavy loads.

Come in and see this wagon—read the guarantee on the tool box. Let us explain the many fine points embodied in it.

Tomato Season Closed

Milan Has Shipped 373 Cars During Season, With Good Prices.

Milan, Tenn., July 16.—The tomato packing season, which has been one of the most profitable seasons in the history of the tomato growing industry, is drawing to a close in this section. The packers stated today that there is only a bare possibility of a few of the late patches lasting into next week. Carlot shipments ceased today. There will be several express shipments made next week.

There have been 373 carlots of tomatoes shipped from Milan so far, and it is expected that the shipments will reach the 400 mark by tomorrow night. This amount includes the tomatoes which were packed at Sitka and Graball and brought here, this being the nearest shipping point to these places.

The prices have been unusually good this season. The highest price paid here was $3.95 per field crate, and the lowest 75 cents per field crate, is being paid today. The tomatoes are smooth and good but the best of the crops have been shipped, which accounts for the drop in price.

There have been several hundred people employed in the packing plants here during the past few weeks and the work furnished has been a great benefit to this section. Not only men have been employed but the fruit has been packed by women and girls.

Tobacco Crop Endangered

Clarksville, Tenn., July 16.—Yield of the 1927 crop of tobacco is to be greatly curtailed, it is feared by numerous farmers, as the result of the foxing up growth of the weed. Only favorable weather from the present time to the harvest season can prevent a serious decline in production, the farmers think.

The foxing growth is a result, it is said, of transplanting during unfavorable weather, the rainy spring, cool, dewless nights and the parching winds in daytime. The leaves clasp and grow up in a bulb-like formation instead of spreading over the hills as in normal growth.

Much tobacco has already bloomed but is too young to sucker and this will result in serious detriment to growth, it is said.

Fruits in this section, with the exception of the dewberry and blackberry crops, have had a bad year, it is reported. Apple and peach yields were cut one-half and the pear crop has been severely curtailed as a result of core rot.

Road Contract Awarded

Clinton, Ky., July 16.—The contract for surfacing the north end of the North and South Highway from Bardwell through Clinton to Fulton, Ky., has been let to Robert Robinson of Paducah, Ky. Mr. Robinson has moved his family to Clinton and expects to start the work at once. Work on the south end under Mr. Robinson is about completed. The contract for the dirt and drainage work on the East and West Highway from Columbus, Ky., through Clinton to Mayfield, Ky., will also be let this week.

Garden Hose And Leaky Faucets

Unconscious waste of water is one of the most difficult problems which water companies have to face, comments the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee. Water company officials have learned that people seldom waste water deliberately, but they have also found that much of the water consumed is thoughtlessly wasted.

One of the greatest wasters of the community water supply is the home owner who permits faucets to leak in his home. Although a faulty faucet may seem to leak only a drop at a time, it actually wastes considerable water.

A small leak in a sink or bathroom faucet, which the home owners does not deem sufficiently great to warrant repair, will often waste hundreds of gallons of water a week. It is for this reason that water company officials advise home owners to inspect all water outlets and to repair all that are found faulty. Prompt repair of such fixtures not only conserves the public water supply, but also saves on the owner's water bill.

A lawn or garden sprinkler left for several hours in one position will waste gallon after gallon of water. The same holds true when the hose is used for washing automobiles or other similar purposes, as the water is left running unnecessarily during the entire process, causing a great waste of water.

Columbus Promised Relief.

Columbus, Ky., July 18.—From the valley of despondency in which the spirit of Columbus citizenship has wandered through the past six months, the hearts of the residents were lifted today with the cheering news that the state, federal and Red Cross aids will be brought to their relief.

From the most promising township in western Kentucky, Columbus has been slowly cut by the muddy Mississippi river into a community of possibly 800 persons, who are facing bankruptcy and defeat. When the swollen waters broke over the banked levees in April, houses, merchandise and wealth were swept away. The waters receded only to mount again in a few weeks after the labor of the residents to clear their town and begin anew went for naught.

The Red Cross came, but in spite of the aid and comfort which it brought, the people of the town were discouraged.

Then to add to their trouble, the Mississippi river began to cut new channels. Houses which had managed to survive the first two crests were swept away when the banks began to cave in. An entire business street slowly sank into the river and there was every indication that the entire town was doomed.

The Red Cross began work more energetically. To combat the situation it was decided to move the entire town to the bluff which overlooks the present site. The estimate was made that this would cost $200,000.

After a series of conferences the Red Cross subscribed $50,000 to this fund. With revised figures, it was figured that an additional $75,000 would see the work completed.

Governor W. J. Fields was asked to bring pressure to bear in whatever way he could. Today, the chief executive of Kentucky visited Columbus and surveyed the situation. Then in a speech he pledged to bring the picture of the needs of Columbus before the legislative body of the state. Federal aid is being sought by Congressman W. Voris Gregory and Senator Alben W. Barkley, both of whom have visited the town. Today Columbus believed that soon there will arise a new and prosperous city free from the menace of the Mississippi and in the hearts of its people have arisen a new hope and ambition to take up their tasks once more.
