THE LISTENING POST

These Second Generation boys who are becoming so numerous in business life of Fulton are not only inheriting some of the genius of their fathers, but are adding a few original twists of their own.

Now take the case of Ernest Fall the Younger. There is a lad who will get along all right, and he won't depend altogether upon the undisputed talents of his father, Ernest the Elder. I have been knowing the Elder since Hector was a pup, or words to that effect, and of course have known Ernest the Younger all his life. And between Colonel John, father of Ernest the Elder, Ernest himself, Sam McCall and Billy Atkins, I feel my entire business life has been spent in trying to get enough money to pay insurance premiums to all these gentlemen. Thus far, I have managed to pay 'em—but now and then it required more than the ordinary thirty days to get them paid. I once told Ernest and Smith that I wished they would get together and decide what my assessment should be, inform me, and then collect one twelfth of the assessment on the first of each month, but for some reason they decided my idea was worth less than nothing. Therefore they continue slipping up on me on months when I think I am going to get a couple of dollars ahead and thoroughly cleaning me.

Colonel John passed on, Sam McCall left Kentucky, but the system has gone right ahead. For years Ernest continued his high-binder practices, aided and assisted by Smith Atkins, and then Smith benched out alone, and then I had both of 'em to contend with. You can't make either one of them mad, and if you tell 'em you cannot pay them at the moment, they smile cheerfully, disappear, and return thirty days later—and by this time two more policies have come due, and the going is tougher than it was before.

Recently, however, since Ernest the Younger has come into the firm, Ernest the Elder has turned this work over to the son. I gather from the son's manner that he has taken an intensive course in his father's technique, and on the last first of the month, he added a new touch. I always worry on the first about how much Ernest and Smith are going to touch me up for, and the other day I was going through my usual worry. Of course, I might have looked at the books and found out how much I had paid a year ago, but I didn't do that. I simply worried over the matter and dreaded to see any of the insurance boys come in. Well, Billy Atkins came in and I paid him one that was a month overdue, and then I began to worry about Ernest.

Pretty soon I saw him coming along the street and made myself as small as possible, thinking that he might look in, fail to see me, and go on. I knew he wouldn't, but it did no harm to hope. For a moment I thought I had succeeded, for he didn't enter. I finally got enough courage to look outside, and lo, there was Ernest as large as life, right across the street, talking to somebody in a car. And there he sat for at least forty minutes in plain view of the office. I could see his collection book, and knew he had his eye on me all the time. I sweated and dreaded, but he took his time and finally, when he did come in, I was practically a

Hitler Claims Eng. Marches Road To War

Says Reich Is Not Impressed By Series Of Threats

Kassel, Germany.—Reichsführer Hitler today told a vast crowd of German war veterans that Britain and France were pursuing a policy of "encirclement," reviving international practices which he said led to the World War.

But, Hitler declared, there have been fundamental changes in Germany, the chief being a determination not to neglect armament and defense as he said, they were neglected by the Kaiser's Government before 1914.

Today, he said, Germany is "unimpressed by threats no matter from what quarter they come."

The former corporal told his World War comrades-at-arms that Germany's leaders must be solidly.

100 Per Cent Soldier

"I have seen to it that anyone who has anything to do with the leadership of the State is a 100 per cent man and soldier," he said. "If ever I observe that any person cannot measure up to those responsibilities he will be dismissed from his post—no matter who he may be."

"It is my unalterable determination to see to it that the highest leadership of the State and Army thinks with the courage of the simple musketeer who, without thought of self, gives up his life if orders require him to do so."

There was conjecture in Nazi Party quarters whether the Fuehrer's remark might mean that some persons in high places were slated for removal.

U. S. Rests Case Against Manton

New York.—The Government rested its bribery case against resigned Federal Judge Martin T. Manton today after defense objections had prevented testimony by its last witness.

The jury is expected to receive the case by nightfall. Judge W. Calvin Chesnut refused to strike out testimony in which Manton was shown to have accepted loans from persons who might have had an interest in case on which he ruled before his resignation as senior justice of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Counsel for both Manton and George M. Spector, co-defendant, joined in a request for withdrawal of John Henry Moseley, juror on the ground he had not disclosed he was chairman of a civic law enforcement committee. The motion was denied.

A motion for directed verdict acquitting Spector also was ruled against.

Cayce Child Has Toe Amputation

Marian Champion, small child of Cayce, Kentucky, received a serious injury Saturday at his home when an ax fell on his toe. He was carried to the Fulton Hospital where he underwent an amputation. He is now at his home in Cayce and is getting along nicely.

Mayfield And Wickliffe Road Plan Seems Doomed To Failure

Mayfield, Ky.—The proposal to construct a Federal type highway between Mayfield and Wickliffe to connect with the Ohio River bridge at Cairo, was practically abandoned today when Ballard and Carlisle Counties reported nothing had been done toward obtaining right-of-way. Graves County's part of the road has been practically secured

South Fulton Starts Today On Fire Station

At the monthly meeting of the South Fulton Board of Aldermen and Mayor J. H. Lowe, held Friday night in the South Fulton City Hall, all final arrangements were made for the new fire station and the contract was let to Frank Merryman to begin work this morning.

The fire station will be located on the old Bennett lot just north of the bridge on the Martin highway, one block from the Kentucky-Tennessee state line.

Mr. Merryman's contract calls for the station to be built jointly with a dwelling to be occupied by Fire Chief David Henderson and wife.

Supreme Court Session Today Last Of Term

Washington.—The Supreme Court, with two members absent, will hold its final session today before summer adjournment.

Illness will prevent attendance of Chief Justice Hughes. Court attaches said that he was suffering from duodenal ulcer.

Associate Justice McReynolds already has left the Capital to visit at Elkton, Ky.

Tomorrow's session will give opportunity for the court to deliver decisions and announce action on petitions for review of a number of cases.

Decisions Awaited

Still awaiting decision by the court are several important cases including the question of whether a State, after once rejecting the pending Constitutional Amendment to abolish child labor, may later ratify it.

Most of the justices will make ready to leave Washington after tomorrow's meeting. Justice Butler will go to Massachusetts on June 7 to receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Boston College. He expects to spend much of the vacation at his Woodbine, Maryland, farm.

Justice Stone will attend a reunion of the Class of 1894 at Amherst College about the middle of June before going to Lake Au Haut, Maine, where he will remain for the summer.

Following a custom of many years, Justice Roberts will leave the city soon after adjournment for his farm at Kimberton, Penn.

Man Deceiving Court Is Made To Pay Alimony

New York.—A man can't deceive the court in a divorce case and then ask help in alimony troubles, the Appellate Divisions ruled.

Accordingly, Ray Durant Bowers, socialite oil operator, found himself out of luck in his battle against $13,485 alimony claim by his former wife, Mrs. Ruth Ward Bowers, daughter of a California banker.

Bowers had arranged for his wife to find him with another woman. Actually, he charged Mrs. Ward had been friendly with other men.

The court struck out his defense and Keith Lorenz, attorney, announced he would move for summary judgment for Mrs. Ward to collect the alimony.

Mr. I. E. Newton of Nashville, Tenn., has accepted a position here with the O. K. Laundry.

Wealthy Spinster Is Found Slain As Dog Keeps Watch Over Body

Chicago.—Police investigators searched vainly today for clues to the slayer of Miss Rose Neary, a wealthy spinster found bludgeoned and strangled in her West Side apartment.

The victim, about 50 years old, was to have attended a church function last night. When she failed to appear, friends investigated and discovered her body.

Miss Neary, investigators said, lived alone with two dogs. She was an heiress to an estate valued at $140,000 and was considered a philanthropist in church and neighborhood charities.

Her body was found, face downward, on a costly Oriental rug in the living-room. One of her dogs stood guard. The other was in a rear room.

The slayer had placed a towel over his victim's head, bashed in from behind, probably with a claw hammer, police said. A piece of wire which the killer had snipped from the radio was wrapped tightly around her throat.

Although Miss Neary's purse and a wrist watch were missing, investigators doubted that robbery was the primary motive.

Mrs. M. D. Hardin Dies This Morning

At eight o'clock this morning Mrs. M. D. Hardin, age 72, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. T. Wilkins on Fourth Street, ending the life of another of Fulton's well-known and very popular women.

Mrs. Hardin has been in Fulton for the past three months, during which time she has been ill at Mrs. Wilkins home and even though she lived her entire life in the Beelerton community, she was known and loved by a great number of Fulton people. It has been known since her early illness that she would not be well again and in the past several days her condition grew critical, yet her death came as a great shock to the whole town and the host of friends to her and her children.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Wesley Church, at which she was a member for a great number of years, and the pastor, Rev. T. L. Peery will conduct the services. Burial will be held in the Wesley Church cemetery in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Wilkins of Fulton and Mrs. Robert Vance of Tucson, Arizona; and two sons, Vodie Hardin of Fulton and Utus Hardin of Beelerton. The body will lie in state at the Hornbeak Funeral Home until funeral services tomorrow.

Exports Set 8 Years High

Washington.—The Commerce Department reported today that about 9 per cent of the domestic production of movable goods was exported in 1938, the largest proportion since 1930.

Among the principal factors influencing foreign trade of the United States last year, the report said, were an exportable surplus of farm products, good business conditions in some foreign countries and armament programs.

"The trade agreements operated throughout the year as a force tending to foster the foreign trade of the United States," the study added.

Exports were valued at $3,094,000,000 compared with $3,349,000,000 in 1937. General imports were valued at $1,961,000,000 in 1938 and at $2,055,000,000 in 1937.

Mrs. R. S. Bard Dies Last Night

Mrs. Lelia Bard, wife of R. S. Bard, passed away last night at 11:30 o'clock at her home on Cleveland Avenue, after an illness of several months, ending the life of one of Fulton's most prominent women and casting a shadow of sadness over the many who knew and loved her.

Mrs. Bard was born and reared in Hickman County, Kentucky, the daughter of Mr. E. T. and Mollie Stevenson. She lived in that community throughout her childhood and for twenty years after her marriage to R. S. Bard on February 15, 1899. She was the mother of two children, Dr. Robert E. Bard, and one daughter, Miss Margaret Reed Bard, both surviving. She has been a resident of Fulton for approximately twenty years and has been a very faithful member of the Methodist Church for over forty years, holding membership in the Pleasant Hill church.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the Hornbeak Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. B. J. Russell, Rev. T. L. Peery, and Rev. J. N. Wilford. Interment will be held in Fairview Cemetery. The body will remain at the residence on Cleveland Avenue until time for funeral services.

Surviving her are her husband, one son, one daughter, one sister, Mrs. E. C. Boone of Fulton; one brother, P. H. Stevenson of California; and one granddaughter, Miss Nell Luten Bard.

Mexico's Race For President Lacks Rivalry

Mexico, D. F.—One candidate has raced far ahead of the field in the Mexican presidential contest, but many people still believe a dark-horse may appear before the elections are held sometime in 1940.

The leader is Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, former Secretary of National Defense. The ex-secretary of communications, Gen. Francisco J. Mugica, and the ex-commander of the garrison of the Valley of Mexico, Gen. Rafael Sanchez Tapia, apparently have lost ground recently. The three started together by resigning on January 17 from the positions they then held, so that nobody could accuse them of using their offices to promote their own candidacies.

FULTON COUNTY 4-H CLUBS TO BE REPRESENTED JR. WEEK AT LEXINGTON

County Agent, S. V. Foy, left today for Lexington, accompanied by five 4-H Club members who will represent Fulton county 4-H Clubs at Junior Week.

The representatives are: Buel Fields and James Greer of the Cayce Club, who will enter the state tractor contest.

Raymond Harrison, Russell C. Clellan and Billy Campbell were selected to go upon their merits in past records of club work. The boys will return Saturday, June 10th, after spending and enjoying week with approximately two 4-H club members over the state of Kentucky.

Plane Lands On Road; Gets Gas, Takes Off

Novary, Mont.—Howard Anderson, gas truck driver, was surprised when he saw an airplane land in the highway in front of him, but he could hardly believe his eyes, when a pilot stepped out and begged "a little gasoline" from him.

"I ran into headwinds and my gas indicator was falling rapidly to zero when I saw your truck on the highway," explained Pilot Al Gillis.

"I knew you probably were loaded with gas and if I could follow you and land in front of you I could replenish my supply. But traffic from the opposite direction was so heavy I had a hard time choosing a moment to land when the road would be clear."

After tanking up from Anderson's tank, Gillis took off, using the highway for a runway.

Bridge Tolls Estimated At Almost $400,000

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's toll bridges, for which refunding bonds were issued last week by the State Highway Department, should bring in $394,000 a year, Commissioner Robert Humphreys believes.

Humphreys made his estimate of the bridges' future annual revenue in the notice of sale of $3,125,000 worth of refunding bonds, which were sold for $3,135,906 at an unusually low rate of interest—1 3/4 per cent.

Receipts of $480,165.27 were taken in at the eight intrastate toll bridges last year. In 1937 the figure was $512,061.24, but the tolls were reduced on June 22 of last year.

From the first of this year until April 30, the sum of $150,100.55 had been received by the bridge-keepers—divided this way: Burnside, $38,735.05; Boonesboro, $8,410.85; Tyrone, $10,687.05; Spottsville, $30,245.45; Canton, $14,511.15; Egner's Ferry, $14,410; Paducah, $18,589.35; Smithland, $15,631.65.

Statistics show that the bridges are used more often in the summer.

Brown Tells Audience Of Chat He Had With Pres. Roosevelt

Morganfield, Ky.—Cuming President Roosevelt's personally given approval of his candidacy, John Young Brown, of Lexington, formally opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor here today.

"I'm not violating any confidence, because it's been in the newspapers, Senator," said Brown addressing himself to Senator Albert W. Barkley, who introduced him, "when I tell you that before I even considered getting in this race, I went to Washington and sat down by the President of the United States and asked him what he thought about it, and I wouldn't be in the race today if I didn't know he was all right with the President of the United States."

"Speaking Gaily For Myself" When Asked If He Had Asked The President For Advice, Brown Replied: "The President said, 'I don't mind you getting in, but I don't mind you getting out.'"

Refugee Ship Remains Near U. S. Coast

Plan Talked To Settle 30,000 Jews In Pacific Area

Miami.—The German steamship St. Louis, with 907 Jewish refugees from Germany aboard, anchored off the Miami light today and the Coast Guard dispatched a patrol boat and two airplanes to keep it under surveillance.

After about two hours the craft moved slowly away toward the southeast, the general direction of Cuba, where the refugees last week were denied entry.

Meanwhile, a possible solution to their problem was considered in Washington, where officials considered settlement of tens of thousands of German Jewish refugees in the Philippines to offset the influence of Japanese there.

A decision will await the report of a special committee recently sent to the Philippines to make a survey.

Committee Due Soon

This committee, appointed by the President's advisory committee on refugees, New York City, is due back in the United States shortly.

Another 200 German Jewish refugees escaped the fate of homeless wanderers on the sea when the Hamburg-American liner Orinoco, which had left Cuxhaven, Germany, for Havana, returned and landed them in Germany again.

11 Injured In Excursion Train Crash

Lake Hopatcong, N. J.—Eleven persons were injured and almost 400 homeward-bound World's Fair visitors milled in panic in the eerie light of blazing cars today as a Lackawanna Railroad excursion train crashed into the rear of a ninety-six car freight train shortly after midnight.

Many of the passengers ran in circles and screamed in terror after fleeing from the excursion train.

Three cars of the excursion train bound for Scranton, Penn., carried Girls Scouts and there were also ninety boys aboard. Seven Girl Scouts, two of the freight train crew and two men passengers in the excursion train were injured and taken to Dover General Hospital.

The passenger engine left this track and was wrecked as it derailed the caboose and three cars ahead of it in the freight train.

The Guest Writer

(From The Chicago Daily News)

Too little public attention has been given of late to events in the Far East. Europe is grimly fascinating, it is true, but so is Asia. Will there be war in Europe? There is already war in Asia. Are helpless people being persecuted in Europe? In Asia there is more than persecution, there is wholesale slaughter. Power politics, which rules the destinies of the world, is no respecter of continents. Russia is at least as Asiatic as it is European. Britain and France have empires in Asia. Japan is a partner in the Rome-Berlin axis. And our own shores are bathed no less by the waters of the Pacific than of the Atlantic.

Italy and Germany recently have turned their close understanding into a formal military alliance. Japan, invited to do likewise, has apparently declined, but the Japanese ambassadors to Rome and Berlin are so distressed over this decision that they threaten to resign. What does this decision mean? And is it final? Is Japan trying to break away from its Italian and German partners? Or is it merely maneuvering, perhaps to gain time until the Anglo-Russian alliance situation clears up, perhaps to prevent that alliance?

Meanwhile, Japan has begun stopping and searching British and French merchant ships upon the high seas. Britain and France have, of course, protested. The British are already talking of establishing naval patrols on British sea routes in Asiatic waters. If Japan does not desire to remain so closely linked with Italy and Germany, why is it thus deliberately provoking France and Britain, at a time when they are vastly preoccupied in Europe?

And if Japanese warships stop French and British ships, how do we know they will not also try to stop some American ship, going, say, from San Francisco to the British port of Hongkong? In the past we have never tolerated such interference. What would we do if it happened now? The Japanese sank the United States gunboat Panay in Chinese waters, and we inflicted no reprisals. If they begin tampering with our ships on the high seas, will we merely write notes of protest? Or, knowing that the Japanese understand and respect nothing but force, will we promptly meet force with force, thereby perhaps warding off more serious trouble later?

There are times when it is better to wait and see than to guess at the meaning of events and tendencies that are, to say the least, obscure; this is such a time. But we do not have to be timid or pusillanimous, either West or East, for we have little to fear. With Germany, Italy and Japan arrayed as they are against Britain, France and Russia, we hold the balance of power—for better or for worse, whether we do or do not do, and whether we like it or no. In these circumstances, the nation or nations that set out deliberately to affront us would be mad indeed.

Total Down Over Billion From 1937

Washington. —The Bureau of Agriculture Economics today estimated that American farmers had a gross income in 1938 of $9,200,000,000 from farm production and Government subsidies.

This compared with $10,350,000,000 estimated for 1937, $5,562,000,000 for 1932—the lowest for what the bureau called the "depression" period—and $12,791,000,000 for 1929. The 1938 income included $7,538,000,000 cash from farm marketings, $482,000,000 from Government benefit payments, and $1,200,000,000 worth of products retained from farm consumption.

Gross Income From Crops Off

The bureau said the greater portion of the decline in gross income from 1937 to 1938 was due to a decrease in receipts from crops, particularly from grains, fruits, vegetables and cotton. The gross income from all crops declined 18 per cent, while that from livestock and livestock products dropped less than 9 per cent.

Government benefit payments, on the other hand, were 31 per cent larger in 1938.

New Armada Will Cost U. S. 350 Millions

Washington. —The Navy, making a tremendous spurt in the world race for sea power, placed orders today for two 45,000-ton battleships and twenty-two other vessels. The new armada is expected to cost $350,000,000.

Assistant Secretary Charles Edison indicated that a major purpose of this action, unprecedented since the World War, was to speed restoration of the 5 to 3 ratio of superiority over Japan in tonnage. This ratio was established in naval treaties, but the treaties are now defunct, and Edison told reporters today:

"To the best of our information, the margin is now only about 5 to 4. Japan and Great Britain were building during the years when we were idle."

LAKE STREET

Nation's "Cosmopolitan Girl" Chosen By Famed Judges

MISSISSIPPI LASS PICKED BY FAITH BALDWIN, BRADSHAW CRANDELL AND OTHERS

A SEVEN-MONTHS search for America's most Cosmopolitan girl has been completed by a distinguished group of judges.

Isabel Caldwell McDougal, eighteen years old, a slim figure of loveliness out of the deep South, from Greenwood, Mississippi, has been chosen "Miss Cosmopolitan." She is a "dark" blonde, has fair skin and blue eyes, is five feet three inches tall and weighs one hundred and six pounds, and is as modern as tomorrow's dawn.

Isabel rides, horseback, drives a car and swims. But more than anything else, she likes to dance. The rhythm of her movements, the grace of her body, the tremendous vitality and zest for life she possesses, all have their roots in her love of music. She plays the clarinet, the piano and the saxophone, and was a member of the school band. This year, Isabel is a freshman at the Mississippi State College for Women.

"She hasn't an atom of beauty but she's as pretty as spring in the South," writes Faith Baldwin, one of the judges, in the July Cosmopolitan magazine. "She has vitality and education; the world is fresh and new to her, and she likes it and likes being alive, and she is as friendly as a cat." "Isabel is a girl with a certain pixie charm hard to define. She reminds me a little of Helen Hayes."

Like the composite Cosmopolitan girl, drawn from the 48 state winners, Isabel is a member of a small family, her parents are living, and her father is a businessman. But the composite girl is older by two years, stands five feet six, weighs one hundred and twenty, and has golden-brown hair.

For a girl of eighteen, Isabel has an unusually practical turn of mind. Although she has her heart set on becoming an actress, she is taking a secretarial course at college—not only to have something "to fall back on," but also to be the means of supporting herself while preparing for the stage.

Asked to name the qualities she looks for in her friends, Isabel answered quickly, "Loyalty and fairness." Petty jealousy is foreign to her nature, which explains why she is equally popular with girls as with boys. Speaking of boys, Isabel has a raft of them, but she's particularly fond of one young chap, an athlete she met a couple of years ago down South during spring training. He's a Northerner, hailing from Brooklyn, New York. Isabel laughs lightly when the question of marriage is raised. "There's lots of time," she evades.

So this is Isabel Caldwell McDougal, who has it all or most all ahead of her, who is the Cosmopolitan Girl, representing American girlhood at its best and its most hopeful. At eighteen, she stands as a symbol. She has the courage, the equipment, the high ambitions never to let herself and her kind down.

nervous wreck. As it turned out, I didn't owe him as much as I feared, but this will be the first he knows of what agony of spirit I endured while waiting for him to break, the bad news to me.

And the heck of it that there is no hope whatever. I am doomed to go on through my remaining days trying to dig up enough money to keep these insurance boys going, and the years are running against me. There is Ernest the Younger as young and energetic as all out of doors. Then Smith has a boy coming along, one Jere, who will be ready to take my measure in about twenty years. If I last that long, and Billy Atkins also has a Second Generation who will come along a little later, I see no hope. I tried to wear out the two insurance boys, and they shoved off this Second Generation on me, and the only thing I know now is to begin planning my hopes on my own Second Generation. Perhaps they may be able to do something that I have not been able to do.

Ah, me. If I only had the money I have paid to these insurance boys, I could thumb my nose at the Social Security folks, the wage and hour boys, and a lot of other folks who bring on high blood pressure, lock the doors of this temple of light, buy a new car and go off to see the motormen for a long, long time. But I haven't got it—all I have is the protection against loss by fire. Guess that has been worth something, anyway.

"Boss, is you planning a World's Fair Trip?"

If you're planning a World's Fair trip, you wouldn't wait for an accident to happen then have the car checked over to determine the cause.

Likewise, that's a very good rule for the wife to use in baking, too. Don't wait for baking calamities to happen and then check up to find the flour at fault. Always play safe by using BROWDER FLOUR... the flour that has stood the test for nearly a third of a century.

Hounds Take Measure Of Tigers Twice In Sunday Double Header

The Union City Greyhounds tumbled the local Tigers twice yesterday in the Tennessee town, winning the first game with a two run rally in the ninth inning, after the Tigers had taken a one run lead in the same inning. Lefty Scott had given only three hits until the ninth, and was relieved by Hodge who got credit for winning the game after the Hounds rallied to take the lead. The game was the fastest played this season, being played one hour and twenty eight minutes. Williams pitched for the Tigers, allowing only eight hits. The Tigers were still crippled for the games, with two pitchers playing in the outfield. Art Timm has been released, and Al Simmons sustained an ankle in sliding Saturday night. Joe Shaffey, who played third base for the Fulton club in 1938, has been signed and is playing a good game at the hot corner.

In the second game in Union City Maren pitched the Hounds to a 3 to 0 shutout, Fulton getting only a pair of hits. Carl Hanan, slim left hander, pitched a good game for the Tigers, allowing only three hits, but there were all bunched in one inning, the fifth. The game went only seven innings by agreement.

PARENTS BATTLE OVER DAUGHTER'S MOVIE EARNINGS

Hollywood.—The movie earnings of Betty Grable, blonde wife of Jackie Coogan, became the chief point of contention today in divorce proceedings brought by the actress' mother against Conn Grable, a broker.

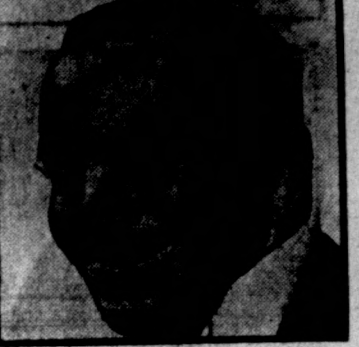

Mrs. Lillian Grable filed a complaint charging her husband with extreme cruelty. Last Sunday, she said, Grable told her he was returning to their former home in St. Louis as soon as "he could get what was owing to him" from Miss Grable's income.

Miss Grable has been earning $500 a week under a contract just completed at Paramount studio and now is planning a personal appearance tour expected to pay her between $1,500 and $2,500 a week. She recently helped Coogan straighten out financial relations with his family.

William Rains, attorney for Mrs. Grable, said that the money involved in the divorce action was a fund of "several thousand dollars" in cash and stocks in which Grable claims partial interest. Mrs. Grable contends the money was raised entirely from the daughter's paychecks.

Grable struck her, she charged, and was so "quarrelsome and brutal" that she suffered a nervous breakdown. They had been married 31 years.

Life Sentence Is Reversed

Frankfort, Ky.,—The life sentence imposed upon Zach Walden, 24, upon conviction of murder eight years after Dave Woolley, a farmer, was found hanging by a trace chain in a neighbor's barn in Estill County was reversed by the Court of Appeals today.

The farmer's wife, Rosa Woolley, and Taylor Sparks also were indicted, but Sparks was slain in some manner not described in the record before the court, and Walden was the first to be tried.

The record stated other grand juries had failed to return indictments, but last spring a grand jury formally charged the trio with murder of Woolley. The Commonwealth sought to show he had been poisoned and then hanged in the trace and chain.

Commissioner Charles Morris who wrote the opinion, said, Walden was "not shown to have any sort of motive, purpose or reason" for killing Woolley.

The farmer was found dead, one Sunday, the opinion stated, after his wife, Sparks, Walden and Bertha Lunsford, then about 16, had ridden to Irvine together Saturday night and had been delayed in returning to the Woolley home by a sudden rise in a creek. The opinion said there had been "too much speculation in the case" in the effort to prove Walden guilty in a "plot to kill Woolley."

The court held the prosecution had "failed to make a case" and that the trial court should have instructed the jury to acquit Walden.
