Beautiful Funeral Home Opened

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the formal opening of Winstead, Jones & Company's funeral home, 218 Second street, Saturday, July 23, are loud in their praises of the delightful reception and the pleasure of seeing through this lovely home. Roses, glad-olias and carnations added charm to the scene. During the day and evening several hundred called. Music featured the entertainment, while flowers and souvenirs were given each visitor, and delightful refreshments were served.

Those who entertained and assisted in receiving the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Winstead, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones, Miss Montez Winstead, Miss Garnet Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Trewalla, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Roach, Miss Marce Lewis, Miss Hattie Mae Godfrey, Miss Mary Croft, Mrs. Clay Taylor.

A visit to Winstead, Jones & Company's funeral home is a treat to all lovers of artistic beauty. The home is prominently located in the select residential section of the city, partly surrounded by sugar maples, on a choice lot, 110x170 feet, originally selected by the late Lewis Fields. After selecting this site for his home, Mr. Fields spared no expense in the construction of what was termed one of the most artistic and beautiful residences in Western Kentucky, a large part of the building material being imported from California. After Mr. Fields passed away, H. P. Joyner purchased the property and occupied the premises until Winstead, Jones & Company became its owners some months ago.

The property, not being adapted to purposes for which it was purchased, the new owners contracted with L. H. Howard, the well known contractor and builder, to convert the dwelling into a modern funeral home and this Mr. Howard did without entirely destroying the effects of the original artistic and beautiful architecture, but added to, and making it more beautiful than ever before with 21 rooms and all modern conveniences. Today it is being admired by all who view it.

While the exterior of this lovely home is artistic and beautiful, it is within that its true worth is more fully appreciated and admired. The reception rooms and chapel are tinted in gray with old ivory enamel trimmings and overhead in cream. Furnishings to harmonize. The three display rooms, and in fact, all the rooms throughout are beautifully tinted in chosen colors with floors all finished alike in natural hardwood colors.

The apartment in the second story is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Winstead and family, handsomely furnished thru-out with all modern conveniences, including guests' rooms. In a quiet nook near the heading of the stairway on the second floor, Mr. Winstead has his office. General stock and trimming rooms are also located on the second floor.

A large garage 30x31 feet on the ground floor, is conveniently arranged and located for rolling stock. The very latest Sayers & Scoville hearse and ambulance occupy prominent space here. The ambulance is fully equipped with all modern conveniences, couch, chairs, electric lights, etc.

To attempt a description of the newest and latest caskets in the three display rooms would require columns, therefore, we suggest that you visit the home and see practically all the newest patterns and colors in the casket line. Prominent in the displays are children's caskets in all sizes, as well as Brastfield dresses, a distinct line with a wide reputation, also burial suits.

Clark and American steel grave vaults are on display. They are rust resisting, air and water tight, guaranteed for fifty years.

The firm maintains an ambulance service day and night, fully equipped.

Men Who Compose the Firm
L. A. Winstead and W. W. Jones formed a partnership and engaged in the undertaking business 23 years ago. They are known all over this section of the country. They maintain fully equipped establishments at Dresden and Martin, Tenn., and Fulton, Ky.

Some four years ago they opened their Fulton establishment here, locating on Walnut street. The premises and location were not suitable for the services they wished to render. The beautiful funeral home mentioned above is the result.

To complete the organization Mr. Mack Roach was taken in as a partner and the firm name is now Winstead, Jones & Co.

Mr. Roach, the new partner of the firm, is too well known in this vicinity for us to attempt an introduction, suffice it to say that his wide acquaintance and large circle of friends delight to learn that he is associated with the firm of Winstead, Jones & Co. He is also assistant to Mr. Winstead in the carrying on of the funeral business.

W. D. Trewalla, graduate of Cincinnati College of Embalming, is in charge of embalming, with Mrs. Trewalla assistant.

Mr. Trewalla has also taken a course in plastic surgery, and has built up an enviable reputation during his years of experience as an embalmer.

The firm extends all a cordial invitation to visit them and inspect their funeral home, 218 Second street.

Mrs. Smith Fields has returned from a visit to her daughter Mrs. E. C. Rice, in Springfield, Mo. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Rice and little daughter, Virginia Pearl, who will be her guests for several weeks.

Ben E. Niles, of Henderson, Ky., candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture, was in the city Tuesday, getting acquainted with the voters. In our opinion Mr. Niles would serve the people honestly and efficiently if elected. He is a good man for the office and deserves your support on August 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gingles and son, Guy, Jr., returned home after a delightful motor trip through Tennessee, visiting Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain and other points of interest.

J. T. Bard has returned from Harlan, Ky., where he visited his son, Cecil. Mr. Bard says Cecil is enjoying the best of health and getting along nicely.

Mrs. David Galtney and son, Billie Fields, of Corinth, Miss., are the guests of her mother, Mrs. Hattie Fields.

REMAINS OF JOE JAMES BROUGHT TO FULTON

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herman James extend sincere sympathy in the death of their son, Joseph B., who died at his home in Akron, Ohio. The remains were brought to Fulton for interment in the family lot. Mrs. James is a sister of Mrs. Everett Barber.

JERRY SPENCER

LET JERRY JUDGE YOUR COWS

The above picture will introduce to you the champion cattle judge of the State of Iowa. His name is Jerry Spencer, but the latter part of his name is eliminated in the dairy sections of Iowa. Just plain old Jerry and that is just the kind of a fellow, just an all around and every day fellow, is Jerry.

The Sugar Creek Creamery Company of Danville, Illinois, has been coveting the services of this young man for more than two years and recently succeeded in causing him to break away from his many friends in Iowa and he is now on the development staff of the Dairy Development Department of the above firm, and the Fulton Chamber of Commerce is the recipient of the courtesy of the Sugar Creek Creamery who will send Mr. Spencer to Fulton for a solid week to judge our dairy cows, which will be presented at our fair beginning August 1st, continuing throughout the week.

Jerry will have at his disposal two cows, one will be a scrub cow and the other will be a purebred cow. He proposes to show the farmers of this community that the dairy business is a real business within itself and is deserving of their most earnest study, and we want to urge upon you to be in attendance as Jerry will give two demonstrations each day of the fair and will point out every feature and failure of a dairy cow. He says that there is nothing he so much enjoys as having a bunch of dairy farmers gang around him and talk about the dairy problems.

The Sugar Creek Creamery Company has also consented to let Jerry come back in the fall to conduct a series of feeding schools which will help our dairy farmers to work the dairy business in such a way that they will get out of it all that there is in it. This will be another wonderful opportunity for our dairy men to be benefited and we hope that you will not let the opportunity pass.

Jerry's Past Record as a Judge of Cattle

Jerry is a graduate of the Iowa state college of agriculture and his record there was among the highest honors ever awarded a student of that institution. He was the coach which developed the greatest cattle judging team ever produced in Iowa. That same team is now touring northern Europe in an international cattle judging contest and Jerry thinks they will bring home the bacon. Trusting that you will avail yourself of this splendid opportunity, we are,

Very truly yours,
FULTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Warm Reception Given Beckham

Large Crowd Hear Distinguished Speaker At Carr Park Auditorium Wednesday Night.

The Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, Democratic candidate for Governor, was the distinguished visitor who addressed a large gathering of men and women at Carr Park auditorium Wednesday night in behalf of his candidacy.

The former Senator and ex-Governor mounted the platform after 8 o'clock and was presented by the Hon. H. T. Smith.

Mr. Smith's introduction was strong and to the point. He recalled some of the many things Mr. Beckham accomplished for the good of the people while Governor. He also paid his respects to legalized gambling by the pari-mutuel method.

Delegations from Hickman and all over the country were present to hear the gifted speaker.

Mr. Beckham said: "If I am elected Governor I'll see that you get a dollar's worth of road for every dollar expended."

"Promises!" Mr. Beckham continues with his references to the road promises of his opponents. "I have never seen anything like it. Why Kentucky is plastered and paved with promises of roads and jobs."

Here Mr. Beckham takes time to recall the $75,000,000 bond issue scheme the Fields administration attempted to saddle on the backs of the people of Kentucky, and to remind the people that he was one of those who opposed it, and helped to defeat it by a 100,000 majority. "I opposed the bond issue in the legislature and in the field, for I had observed all along that the states that followed the bond issue plan of building roads had to follow each bond issue with subsequent bond issues," he remarked.

"The defeat of the road bond issue was the best thing that ever happened for the good roads cause in Kentucky as well as to the taxpayers. It means that all the money now coming into the road fund of the state, which will total about $15,000,000 this year, is available for road purposes. None of it goes for interest on bonds or for sinking funds to redeem bonds."

Inasmuch as Mr. Beckham is at all times a quiet spoken man, whose characteristic bespeaks modesty and sincerity, and because of his remarkable record as Governor of Kentucky for nearly eight years, this statement is carrying conviction wherever it is uttered.

In the carrying out of his purpose to give the people of Kentucky roads which they should have by reason of the large sums they have paid and are paying into the State road fund, Mr. Beckham proposes to use no magic formula. He will employ the same formula which guided him to success in his previous administrations at Frankfort. "I propose to follow in the discharge of our public duty, the old-fashioned principle of common sense and common honesty," he declares. "It is the contamination of politics," he adds significantly, "that is preventing you from getting your money's worth in roads today."

Just how efficient Mr. Beckham is as an administrator, as compared to latter administrations, is apparent by a brief comparison of the revenues of his administration with present revenues of the State. Some $30,000,000 is now coming into the State treasury annually, while during his administration, the annual revenue of the state was only some $6,500,000, less than half as much as is now paid in for road purposes alone in a year's time.

When Mr. Beckham took office the State government was disrupted by what amounted to civil war. The treasury was empty, with a deficit of $1,800,000. The State was unable even to meet its current payrolls, and by reason of laws previously adopted the tax rate had automatically dropped 5 cents. Yet by his Hamiltonian genius he was able to make Kentucky within less than eight years one of the two states in the Union free of debt.

BEN E. NILES

Of Henderson, Kentucky, Candidate for Democratic Nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture

Mr. Niles is at present secretary of the State Horticultural Society, which position he has held for the past seven years. As secretary of the Kentucky Horticultural Society, Mr. Niles has traveled over the entire State in the development of the fruit industry, and has many friends among fruit growers and general farmers. He is the only candidate from western Kentucky seeking the Democratic nomination for this office. There are three other Democratic aspirants, one from the Seventh, one from the Eighth, and one from the Ninth Congressional District respectively.

Mr. Niles expresses the hope that Western Kentucky voters would as soon vote for a man from the west end of the state as to vote for one from the middle or eastern section.

Believing as he does that his acquaintance with farming and farmers of western Kentucky is more intimate than would be from one not a resident of this section, he respectfully asks that you support him with your vote and influence in the coming Democratic Primary.

When Mr. Beckham took office the State government was disrupted by what amounted to civil war. The treasury was empty, with a deficit of $1,800,000. The State was unable even to meet its current payrolls, and by reason of laws previously adopted the tax rate had automatically dropped 5 cents. Yet by his Hamiltonian genius he was able to make Kentucky within less than eight years one of the two states in the Union free of debt.

The Jockey Club
In no uncertain terms did Governor Beckham state his opposition to the legalized gambling by the pari-mutuel method.

"A great many people have enjoyment and pleasure in horse racing and purely as a sport there is no valid objection to it. I would not desire to take that amusement from them, nor would I wish to injure or destroy the breeding industry that contributes to that sport."

"But an issue has been raised as to horse racing, largely through the political activities of the representatives of the Jockey Club in their efforts to dominate both political parties and control the government of our state. This policy has become so apparent and objectionable in recent years that it has aroused considerable resentment among the people who are unwilling to permit any organized interest to have a controlling power in the administration of public affairs."

"This issue is directed at the pari-mutuel law and not at horse racing. That law was enacted in 1886 when I was a school boy."

In closing his address Gov. Beckham thanked the audience for their patience and attention saying "I have no doubt of my nomination on the six of August, and I will go into the final campaign with confidence that our ticket will be successful."

KING DEKOL ORMSBY

I am gratified to present to you my wonderful Holstein. He is one year old and weighs 700 pounds. He is the double grandson of the world's greatest dairy animal who hailed from the U. S. Government supervised dairy farm. This young fellow is very kind and affectionate and loves for the boys and girls to play with his nubby horns.

He is located on my farm just 2 1-2 miles west of Fulton on State Line Highway. I am not expecting to make a great deal of money out of keeping

Very truly yours,
ED MORRIS.

The Company You Keep

Just as a man is judged in a personal way by the company he keeps, so is he judged in a business way by the banking connection he makes.

A checking or savings account with a good reliable institution like this one reflects good business judgment. It builds prestige.

So choose wisely and soon.

How to avoid the CROWDED HOUR

Try placing long-distance calls during the 7 to 8:30 P. M. reduction period

From seven to eight-thirty in the evening is probably the best time at which to make a station-to-station long distance telephone call at reduced rates. For one thing the folks you are calling are more apt to be at home, and then, too, we are usually able to complete the connection in shorter time.

Of course, the rates on station-to-station long distance calls are reduced still further at 8:30 P. M. Promptly at this moment, thousands of hands reach for the telephone. The result is that in spite of all the extra facilities we provide, the lines to near and distant places are taxed to capacity.

To avoid this crowded hour, try placing your calls between 7 and 8:30 P. M.

Church News

There will be no morning service next Sunday as Dr. Boyd will hold service at Columbus, this being the fourth Sunday in the month.

Dr. Boyd, accompanied by H. S. Stansbury, will go to Columbus on Saturday to make arrangements for the moving of the church to the new town-site. While there they will make a selection of the lot on which the building will be placed, and if possible, make the contract for the moving of the church building.

Dr. Boyd will hold the usual Fourth Sunday service, returning to his home in Crutchfield after the service.

Mrs. Boyd has not as yet recovered from the effects of the over-exertion of moving and settling in the new home, and in consequence was not able to attend service here on last Sunday.

Owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the highway between Fulton and Crutchfield, Dr. Boyd came in on the train last Sunday, rising before four a. m. in order to flag the train on which he came to town.

On Friday of last week, the Rector spent the day in town making some 25 parochial calls. The doctor also came to town Saturday to attend the Trade Day gathering.

A Big Advantage on Rough Ground

The high, easy lift of the John Deere Mower is a big advantage in rough ground. You can raise the bar high enough to clear obstructions in the field, and cut with the bar in that position.

John Deere Mower The Mower with the High, Easy Lift

The powerful foot lift raises the outer shoe from 25 to 35 inches and the inner shoe from 8 to 11 inches. The hand lift raises the outer shoe 44 inches and the inner shoe high enough to clear any obstruction passed by the doubletrees.

Clutch with 21 points insures instant starting. Special drive gear construction reduces wear and increases power.

The John Deere is simple and sturdy its parts are strong and long lived and its construction is so simple that a boy can operate it safely and do good work.

Improved construction of cutting parts insures better service and longer life.

Adjustments can be easily made in the field with ordinary tools.

If you intend to buy a mower be sure to see the John Deere. We will be pleased to show you its many fine points any time.

Provide Separate Pens for Males for Breeding

The breeder who carries over only the males he needs in his own pens may let them run with the flock as the easiest way for himself, if not the best. But the man who carries surplus males for breeding must provide separate quarters for them. Preventable accidents and injuries are the ones that the breeder troubles over. It is maddening to feel that a valuable young male has been lost for lack of shutting up the pugnacious old cock; or failure to separate two cockerels that are suffering from incompatibility of temperament.

The cockerel house needs small pens and a good outside run. A coop that will house three hens is about right for one male. Too small a coop in height and width will damage feathers and comb. Movable coops about the size of a good shipping coop, or a double exhibition coop, are very satisfactory since they are easily moved to fresh grass, and in winter can be gathered under one roof with separate runs.

The Best Foot Forward

Tourists who have taken excessive automobile trips during the season doubtless noticed the big difference in towns and cities through which they passed. Two communities may seem alike in size and advantages, yet the temper of the two places may vary widely.

In some there is an atmosphere of activity and energy noticeable even to the casual observer. The people radiate aggressiveness and their attitude suggests a community of achievement and advancement.

Other towns are pervaded by a more listless feeling. Many loafers may be seen on the benches
and decorating the curbstones.
Business men stand in their doorways, lazily observing "traffic." Little knots of people gather to exchange sidewalk gossip.

Probably the majority of them
say that the world is all wrong and that adverse conditions are responsible for their disappointments in life. They complain of the backwardness of their home town, yet if they were asked to serve on a committee to give the community a boost they would promptly decline.

It's no trouble to get the picture. Most everyone has observed just such places. But they are not past redemption. A few active men in such a town can remake it in a few years.

If they are engaged in business they soon raise the level of business practices by employing up-to-date methods in their business, which in time will be copied by other business men. If they be clerks or mechanics, they act as a stimulus to others in the same calling and beneficial results are soon noticeable.

The success of any community
depends upon whether the majority of its people are alert and want to see their home town improve. They can bring about improvement if they will for it exists.

Every person who has any pride in this community should give a little thought now and then to its improvement for no improvement will ever come until after some individual or individuals have visualized its possibilities.

Let's Expand

If Fulton people are alive to their best interests they will survey local conditions here and use every ounce of energy and push to assist home industries to expand. This can best be done by your goodwill and patronage.

We are not overburdened with industries in Fulton but what we have are worthy of due consideration. They are all conducted on a high plane by men who are working overtime to place Fulton in the city class. Of course we want more industries and the best way to get them is to first support what we have, which will radiate an atmosphere of prosperity to attract others.

Some of our people fail to realize what we have here. We are absolutely ignorant of surrounding conditions. We need to take a trip and visit other places, and nine chances out of ten we would more fully appreciate what a live, progressive town we have.

That Fulton needs more of the
"pull together" spirit is a foregone conclusion. Our business and professional men feel it.
There are those of us who still think that making our money
here and saying or thinking a kind thought of our town occasionally is enough. It is not.

We must boost Fulton materially and actively. Not only in building up a better civic government but by lending both our moral and material support toward getting better schools, more churches, better streets, lighting system and, in general striving toward certain ideals that will make this town a place in which you can proudly hold up your head and say,—"I'm glad to live here. There's no other city like it!"

An Age For Youth

Some people are strong in the belief that this is an age for youth. Others are equally as extreme, holding to the view that experience born of age still is most valuable in most enterprises and that the world is willing to pay a premium for the experienced man or woman.

More fuel has been added to argument by the recent achievement of Charles Lindbergh, barely 25, in making a non-stop airplane flight from New York to Paris.

He belongs to the large class of youngsters who didn't know
"it couldn't be done" but his conquest of the air was not the only outstanding example of triumph by young men.

Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone at 28, Edison
the phonograph in his twenties, Elias Howe the sewing machine
at 26, Benjamin Franklin was a famous publisher and editor in his twenties, Gladstone was elected a member of parliament at 22
and Kipling began his literary career at 15. Watt demonstrated the steam engine at 24 and Mc-Cormick gave the world the reaper at 21. Whitney invented the cotton gin at 28 and Pullman the sleeping car at 27.

There are numerous other examples where the courage of youth carried men over ice too thin for the intolerance of "experience". Age and experience is apt to be without imagination,
without which there can be no accomplishment. Youth has always been the adventurer and pioneer.

It is a grave mistake to frown
on the enthusiasm of youth. Communities that hope to progress and grow will be wise in keeping their young men and women at home, if it is at all possible. The youth of the community should have a chance to stay at home and should be given every encouragement. Among them may be a Bell, a Whitney, an Edison
or a Kipling.

Kentucky Utilities Em- ployes Offer First Aid Instruction

In case of emergency, where anyone is in danger of death from drowning, electric shock or gas asphyxiation, the Kentucky Utilities Company will gladly send first aid experts as quickly as possible to the scene of trouble. The service is free. A telephone call to the local office of the company will bring immediate response. E. C. Hardesty, manager, has announced.

Practically all employees of the Kentucky Utilities Company in Kentucky and Virginia are familiar with the prone pressure method of resuscitation effective in case of drowning, electric shock, or asphyxiation. This method has been adopted by the Army, Navy, Red Cross, Mine
Rescue Corps, and all public utility companies.

Many persons lose their lives
by drowning every summer because there is no one at hand
who knows how to revive them
by proper first aid methods after they have been pulled from the water.

In these days when a great number of persons take hot weather outings along the banks of streams and lakes, expert knowledge of the prone pressure method is of value to everyone.

Kentucky Utilities Company
first-aid instructors will gladly give demonstrations and teach this method of resuscitation
without charge to groups of men and women and to boys and girls of high school age. Arrangement to receive instruction can be made with Mr. Hardesty.

The company makes this offer
in the interest of public service.
Mr. Hardesty said.

New Concrete Roads Promised

To Link Jeff Davis And Lee Highways In Tennessee

Paved Roads To Fulton

The linking of three of Tennessee's trunk highways, all of which pass through Memphis,
and the completion within three years of an all-concrete highway from Memphis to the state line
at Fulton, Ky., were promised a delegation of Fayette County citizens by State Highway Commissioner C. N. Bass at a meeting last week in Somerville, Tenn.

Commissioner Bass agreed to construct an all-weather
thoroughfare from some point between Covington and Brighton, on Jeff Davis Highway No.
3, across the Memphis-Bristol
Highway to Lee Highway No. 15, with junction with No. 15 between Somerville and Whiteville.
Maps and estimates on the proposed route will be drawn up by the commissioner and submitted to the Fayette County court soon, the commissioner told the gathering. Construction will be started immediately after approval of the plan by the court.
When completed the new road will be maintained as a link in the state's growing system of all-weather highways.

Let Paving Contract Soon

The major portion of Highway
No. 3 from Memphis to Fulton, Ky., is already paved, the commissioner said. Contracts for paving the only remaining dirt section of the road, between Union City and Fulton, Ky., will be let on Sept. 1, and construction started immediately after a bid is accepted. Commissioner Bass said. Work on the fill near Obion, Tenn., has been in progress since last May, and will be completed by the end of next spring, according to him, affording an all paved highway from Memphis to Union City.

Construction of a graveled
highway from Fulton to Paducah, Ky., has been promised by the Kentucky Highway Commission.
The completion of the Kentucky
section of the highway will afford an all-weather road from Memphis to Paducah and beyond.

Contracts for the construction of highway No. 1, from the Fayette County line into Memphis via Arlington and Bartlett, will be let on Sept. 1. Mr. Bass said.
"This highway is to be 36 feet
wide from Bartlett to Memphis,

Bank At Dresden, Tenn. Closes Its Doors

Failure Caused By Excessive
Loans On Weakley
County Lands.

State banking examiners last week were requested to take charge of affairs of the Dresden Bank, following its close last week.

A secret run started on the bank last week by a heavy stockholder precipitated its closing, it was said. A notice was posted on the doors of the institution to inform the public that the assets exceeded the liabilities $35,000.

Reports were made that the bank was weakening through frozen assets in the form of loans on Weakley county land. It is estimated that over $30,000 was withdrawn since the run started.

The bank had loans and discounts aggregating $227,000 with $157,000 in deposits and a paid
in capital of $35,000. James H.
Moran, president of the institution, said that an accurate statement of the bank's condition could not be given until the books were audited but that he thought that the bank was still in good standing. George S.
Boyd is cashier of the institution.

The Dresden Bank was organized 45 years ago and has always given the best of services and reputed to be in the best of condition. The two other banks here are in good condition.

What's Happened to Montgomery?

SEVENTEEN MONTHS AGO, W. C. Montgomery, then chairman of the state highway commission, was in favor of

Reducing Motor License Fees

FIVE MONTHS AGO, Robert T. Crowe, of LaGrange, in his announcement of his candidacy for governor, declared he was in favor of

Reducing Motor License Fees

TODAY, Mr. Crowe, sincere in his purpose, is STILL FOR REDUCING motor license fees.

TODAY, Mr. Montgomery, Rheal-reading on the B, B, H. and H. route (Beckham, Bingham, Hamilton and Haly) says he is AGAINST REDUCING motor license fees.

On January 19, 1926, Mr. Montgomery agreed to support the proposal of representatives of the Motor Truck Club of Kentucky for a reduction in automobile licenses. Minutes of the Motor Truck Club of Kentucky record that such a reduction was sanctioned by Montgomery, then chairman of the Highway Commission. When Governor Fields reminded Montgomery that he had approved the plan of license fee reductions, and expressed the opinion that the cut would not adversely affect the road bond, Montgomery did not deny it. But it happens that he approved such a plan in the presence of such men as H. C. Kelting, secretary of the Motor Truck Club;

C. Frank Dunn, manager Lexington Automobile Club; T. M. Millett, of the Wood Mosaic Co., Louisville; Senator Charles Knight, Louisville Provision Co.; C. T. Crowe, president Sistrunk and Co., Lexington, and H. O. Kemp, of Calloway, Kittrell and Webb, Lexington.

These gentlemen sought sanction of the Highway Commission for a five-cent a gallon gasoline tax and a reduction in motor licenses, a plan Robert T. Crowe advocates. They were assured by Mr. Montgomery of the Highway Commission's approval. Yet he now declares he is against Mr. Crowe because he favors reducing motor licenses.

TWO MONTHS AND A HALF AGO, Mr. Montgomery, then chairman of the highway commission, was in favor of CROWE FOR GOVERNOR.

TODAY, Mr. Montgomery, having resigned as chairman of the state highway commission, is riding on the back of Beckham and has WITHDRAWN his support from Mr. Crowe.

HE SAYS he is now against reducing motor license fees.
HE SAYS he "resigned for business reasons."
HE SAYS he resigned to keep out of politics.

THREE MONTHS AGO, the Courier-Journal was heaping the brimstone of its invective upon the head of Mr. Montgomery.

TODAY Mr. Montgomery has top of column position on the front page of the Courier-Journal every morning and the brimstone of invective has changed to encomiums of approbation wreathed in bouquets of Beckhamism.

NO WONDER the startled public asks in amazement—

Kentucky Farmers Use More Lime Each Year.

A recent survey shows that the Kentucky farmers used approximately 150,000 tons of lime in 1926, and it also shows that the counties which bought lime in 25 are the heaviest consumers. It further shows that the counties having County agents are the counties which are using the most lime.

Warren County used 20,000 tons. There are approximately 31,000 people in Warren county; there are over 15,000 people in Fulton county; lets pledge ourselves to use at least 10,000 tons of lime in 1928 and keep on until we will finish up 100,000 tons.

The use of commercial lime stone is no more an experiment but a tried and proven project, but if our Fulton Community farmers want to go into soil liming in a small way we think we will soon be fixed so we can supply them with small quantities and we hope they will come in and talk it over with us.

Lime Stone Is Essential To Dairy Farming

We know if we are going to be successful in dairy farming we must by all means grow our own pastures, this does not mean just any kind of grass. Experiments have proven that meadow pastures of the clover family are the most profitable pastures for dairy cows, it has also been proven that meadow hay of any of any of the clover families are the best dairy hay. We also have been made to understand that one acre of good clover takes from that land just 90 pounds of lime, therefore if the lime is not in the soil it will be foolish to seed the land to clover and expect any yield of clover or alfalfa. Alfalfa is also of the clover family and is said to be the best dairy hay ever produced.

Composition Of Dairy Feeds Are Important

It is very important to know the composition of dairy feed which are commonly known as a group of 6 elements, namely: Proteins, Carbohydrates, rats, Mineral matter or ash, Vitamins and water. So in alfalfa we find three of the most essential elements which is protein, lime and vitamin contents. This shows that alfalfa for pasture are hay carries, the greatest combination of all dairy feeds and is within itself almost a balanced ration for the dairy cow. One acre of alfalfa will support two dairy cows for pasture and will, if saved for hay will, carry two cows nearly through the winter feeding season. This will help you figure out the value of alfalfa for hay or pasture which if compared to cost of production will show you one of your greatest farm profits. But remember that if you are contemplating alfalfa production the liming of your soil is the first consideration.

Come in and let us talk it over with you.

Louisville, Ky., July 28 —
Political history is about to repeat itself not only in the nomination and election of former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, but in the inevitable betterment of conditions in Kentucky's financial and governmental affairs with Beckham again at the helm. This was the opinion expressed here today by Thomas S. Rhea, chairman of the Beckham-for-Governor Campaign Committee, who said that the Beckham forces throughout the State are "holding like a rock" and that he would not be surprised to see a primary majority for Gov. Beckham exceeding that ever accorded any Democratic aspirant in the past.

Mr. Rhea's statement follows:

"With little more than a week remain before the holding of the Democratic primary on Saturday, August 6. It is not too early to state definitely that former Governor J. C. W. Beckham will be the party's nominee for Governor. He is the overwhelming choice of the masses of our voters and his majority at the primary will only be limited by the vote that goes to the polls. It is important, of course, that every loyal supporter of Gov. Beckham do his utmost in seeing that the full Democratic vote of his community is cast at the primary. In the event of the heavy vote that we confidently expect I will not be surprised to see a majority returned for Governor Beckham eclipsing the largest majority hitherto received by any candidate in a Democratic primary.

"Reports from every district in the State indicate that there is no diminution in the enthusiasm shown for Gov. Beckham's candidacy from the very outset of this campaign. In spite of the sniping tactics of some of Gov. Beckham's political foes, in spite of promises of 'jobs' and 'roads,' and even the use of money in some counties, the Beckham forces are holding like a rock. The onslaughts of the opposition, it seems, has only served to solidify the various groups of loyal Democratic men and women throughout Kentucky who know what Gov. Beckhams nomination and election will spell in advancement for our State and party. They are bent on this accomplishment. Nothing can swerve them from their course.

"Political history is about to repeat itself. Twenty-seven years ago a boy Governor, with quiet and steady courage, brought order out of chaos that gripped our Commonwealth. He lifted the state out of debt. Vital progress was made in the State's educational program. He won the confidence of all our people and has held it to this good day. On August 6, next, J. C. W. Beckham will be nominated for Governor. He will be elected in November. He will give to Kentucky the kind of administration for which it has longed ever since he was Governor before."

Creal For Attorney General

Charles F. Creal of Hodgenville, is seeking the Democratic nomination for Attorney General at the primary election to be held on August 6th. He has been an assistant in the office for more than three years and has acquired a thorough knowledge of the work of that Department of the State Government.

The Attorney General is the legal adviser of all State officials and Departments, and represents the State in lawsuits in the State and Federal Courts. Mr. Creal has taken an active part in the performance of the duties of the office. He has represented the State in many important suits. He orally argued in the Supreme Court of the United States the "oil production tax" cases, and the decision in favor of the State saved the Treasury about a half million dollars. The State has saved large sums in other suits defended by him. He has given many important legal opinions where the State's interests were involved and these opinions have proved to be sound when questions involved were later submitted to the courts.

Fire Destroys American Legion Hall

Store Underneath Fulton Chapter's Headquarters Damaged

Fire of unknown origin at an early hour Monday morning completely gutted the American Legion hall located on Lake street and also severely damaged the L. Kasnow store beneath. No estimate could be given of the damage to the Legion property, due to the absence of Commander H. M. Patton, but the damage will run approximately $1000. The water damage to the stock of Kasnow will run into higher figures.

The Insurance companies have adjusted the damage on the building and carpenters are now at work making repairs.

The American Legion will continue to occupy the upstairs when the repair work is completed.

L. Kasnow who sustained water damage on his stock has had a settlement with the insurance companies. He will move his stock to the Meadows block on Church street and put on a big sale.

Practice makes perfect. Schoolmasters of today as well as yesterday constantly repeat that truth. Pupils learn by applying it.

Application of that principle to our everyday habits proves its practical help. We learn by practicing, whether it be a good habit or a bad habit.

This bank teaches you thrift by leading you to practice it. The lesson is easily learned once it is begun. To become perfect in it requires constant practice. A savings account is the most consistent method of practicing thrift.

Lesson for July 31

DAVID AND JONATHAN

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 18:1-4; 19:1-7.

GOLDEN TEXT—There is a friend

that sticketh closer than a brother.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Good Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—David and Jonathan.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Choosing the Right Kind of Friends.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Obligations of Friendship.

The friendship of David and Jonathan has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, the heir to the throne. David was heir according to the divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and magnanimously waived his natural personal rights to the one he knew God had chosen.

I. Friendship Established Between David and Jonathan (I Sam. 18:1-4).

1. Love at Sight (vv. 2).

Following the interview of Saul and David after the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. He loved him as his own soul. While there was mutual love, this pleasing trait stands out more prominently in Jonathan than in David because it meant great loss to him—the loss of the throne; while it meant immense gain to David, the acquisition of the throne to which he had no natural right.

2. Covenant established (vv. 3, 4).

Following the love covenant between them, Jonathan stripped himself of his court robe and his equipment and gave them to David. This act was a virtual abdication of the throne to David.

II. Jonathan Defended David Against Saul's Frenzy (I Sam. 19:1-7).

David went into the battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion—not for personal glory, but it turned out as always that because he made God first, God honored him.

Upon David's return from victory over the Philistines, according to Oriental custom he was met by a triumphal chorus of women from all the cities of Israel chanting praises to him for his victory over their enemy. They ascribed more praise and honor to David than to Saul. These women seemed to sing an answering chant.

The one sang, "Saul has slain his thousands," the other answered, "and David his ten thousands." To hear sung the praises of a shepherd boy surpassing his own was too much for Saul. It aroused murderous envy which had been slumbering in his heart and moved him twice to attempt to kill David. This wickedness was in his heart as a bitter feeling, but this occasion fanned it into a flame, making it a burning passion of evil.

In Saul's third attempt to kill David, Jonathan defended him before his father and evoked from him the oath that David should not be slain. He thus exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father for David's sake.

III. Jonathan Revealed to David Saul's Murderous Intent (I Sam. 20:30-40).

The beginning of the new moon was celebrated by sacrifices and feasting at which all the members of the family were expected to be present (v. 5). David's excuse for being absent was that he might go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of the entire family.

The annual feast was more important than the monthly feast. Matters were now so serious that Jonathan and David renewed the covenant between themselves. In this renewal the terms were broadened beyond the life of Jonathan (vv. 14, 15). Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in David's company was most dangerous, so he cleverly planned a sign by which he could make known to David Saul's attitude and purpose.

We prove our friendship by warning those who are exposed to danger. David's heart responded by pledging fidelity to Jonathan's seed forever. This pledge was faithfully carried out by David (II Sam. 9:7, 8). Concerning real friendship observe:

1. It should be made while both parties are young, when the hearts are capable of being knit together.

2. Real friends are few. We should be careful in the formation of friendships. For though we should love everybody we can have but few friends. Friendship should be formed for the purpose of helping each other. There can be no real friendship except where merit is on both sides.

3. Real friendship can only be with God-fearing people. Both David and Jonathan recognized their obligation to the Lord.

Denhardt Withdraws From Governor's Race

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—Henry H. Denhardt, Democratic candidate for gubernatorial nomination today withdrew from the race.

"I will give the nominee of my party the same active support that I have always heretofore given," he declared in a statement.

"Inasmuch as I do not have at my command the publicity and sufficient financial backing necessary, I know that I cannot be nominated and I therefore have determined to withdraw from the race and release my friends."

The statement follows: "To the Democracy of Kentucky:

"In January I announced as a candidate for governor at the August primary with the full expectation of remaining in the race to the end. I find, however, that events have so shaped themselves that my candidacy has been overwhelmed by the clash of the two powerful political organizations within the Democratic party that have alternately controlled the party for years. Each of these two organizations is headed by a multimillionaire, and each has control of half in number of the metropolitan newspapers of the state. Notwithstanding the fact that my candidacy does not happen to be favored by either of these organizations, yet I am grateful for a far greater degree of popular support than I had a right to expect under the circumstances. Everyone informed on political conditions in Kentucky well knows that it would be the height of folly for any man to hope to win the nomination for governor against the publicity and financial backing which these two organizations are able to give to their candidates.

"Inasmuch as I do not have at my command the publicity and sufficient financial backing necessary to cope with these two powerful organizations and also inasmuch as the expenditure of the necessary funds to meet the situation would be illegal, I know that I cannot be nominated and I have therefore determined to withdraw from the race and to release my friends.

"No man has better or more loyal friends than are mine and many of these are insisting that

I fight on for the principles enunciated during my campaign, regardless of the result. While I shall actively continue to fight for these principles, yet I am convinced that the cause will not be helped by making a losing fight for a mere office. I am also of the fixed opinion that it would not be right, proper or fair to my friends for me to any longer remain in this race.

"I said in my opening speech, that I was entering the race with malice toward none, with charity for all and with the determination to say and do the right as God gave it to me to see the right, and throughout the campaign I have said and done the things I thought to be right and for the best interest of my state, of my party, and I am now withdrawing from the race with the same spirit of good will and charity toward all as when I entered.

"I have greatly enjoyed the campaign and have gotten real pleasure in presenting to the people of Kentucky my program concerning which one of the greatest Kentuckians now living was good enough to say that it was the most progressive and outstanding that had been given to the people of Kentucky in thirty years. I shall continue to fight within the party for the principles set forth in my platform until they have been adopted and to the end that the people of Kentucky may have an effective Democratic government that will keep it abreast of the march of progress in the other states. I am happy in the thought that the seed sown by me during the campaign will ultimately bear fruit, as a number of senators and representatives have already pledged their support to the reforms for which I stand.

Of course, I will give the nominees of my party the same active support that I have always heretofore given. I have the highest personal regard for both Mr. Beckham and Mr. Crowe, and I shall cheerfully support either in the final election.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank my friends who have so loyally supported me and to express my sincere gratitude for all they have done for me. I will be happy to render to each of them the same devoted service they have given to me in this and other campaigns.

Respectfully,
(Signed) HENRY H. DENHARDT."

The DAIRY

WIN AFFECTIONS OF MILKING COW

A calf should never be allowed to nurse its dam more than once or twice to get the colostrum, or first milk, and it is even better for the cow to not allow the calf to nurse at all for this first milk can be fed by hand from a pail as well as the after milk. But this is done for the benefit of the calf and not the cow. The cow's affection for her calf increases the longer it is left with her.

The sooner the calf is taken away the easier it is for the dairymen to get her to transfer some of this affection for her calf to him, and the more he succeeds in doing this, the greater success will he have in training the cow to yield her milk to him instead of her calf. If he is unable to transfer any of this affection to himself then he will fail to produce the greatest milk production from the cow. The cow doesn't yield milk because she likes to, or has to, but because she wants to sustain the life of her calf. Now, the right kind of a person can succeed in getting himself substituted almost entirely in the affection of the cow for her calf and if he does he is on the road to develop the cow to her full capacity as a milk producer.

Hence, the best dairymen separate the calf from the cow very soon after birth; by being kind to the cow encourage her to bestow some of her affection for her calf on him and feed the calf from a pail all he will eat until properly fattened. You will get just about as good milk, few butchers can tell the difference, and you have not spoiled your cow as a milk-producing machine.

Find That Dairy Herds

Are 20 Per Cent Culls

A dairy cow that fails to return $2.50 for every dollar spent on her feed, is seldom worth keeping. That means that she must produce 2,000 pounds of milk each year at present prices, according to analysis of cow testing association figures in a north-eastern Ohio county.

Assuming that dairy herds in this county are typical of the dairy sections of the state, more than 20 per cent of the dairy cows of Ohio should be discarded, says S. M. Schlabach, animal husbandry extension specialist at the Ohio State university.

Of the 182 cows completing a full year's test, the lowest test made an average production of 2,439 pounds of milk, he reports, while six cows at the other end of the line averaged 12,740 pounds each for the same period.

"In the lowest group of ten are considered all the cows in the survey which produced less than 4,000 pounds of milk a year. This is the group that in the opinion of most men is not represented in their herds. It is not until the scales are regularly used that such cows are credited with their rightful production.

"An average of 9,500 pounds for the herd will set the lowest limit for an individual at 7,500 pounds. This should be our goal in dairy production work."

Babeok Tester Shows

Yield of Butterfat

No one can tell for sure whether or not a cow is worth keeping unless he knows how much milk she yields, how much butterfat there is in her milk and how much feed she consumes, says an authority on dairying. The man who can guess these things correctly isn't living! But it is easy to find out about a cow. If the milk is weighed at each milking, the record will tell exactly how many pounds of milk each cow gives during any lactation period.

The Babeok tester, if used once each month, will disclose how the butterfat runs. And if some sort of record of the food eaten is kept, it becomes a simple matter to figure out whether or not a cow is a "lady boarder" or contributing to the farm income.

Calves should have salt as soon as they begin to eat hay and grain.

If you want to make the old cow think all next winter is June plan to have some silage for her.

There are many who like the flavor and color of vegetables, but there are not many who like them mixed with cream or butter.

Warm water is also essential for dairy cows. Milk consists of about 87 per cent water and anything which will cause the animals to consume less than the normal amount of water will cause a decrease in the milk flow.

Now is the season to look over the dairy stable and see what improvements or changes can be made that will lessen labor or increase the comfort of the cows. Less labor decreases costs and greater cow comfort increases yields and profits.

PRISON GUARDS AND CONTRACTORS PAID TRIBUTE WHEN BECKHAM WAS GOVERNOR

Deaths Followed Cruel Whippings Under Warden Lillard—Stones and Bugs in Food—Sworn Testimony on File at Frankfort Reveals Sordid Details

When J. C. W. Beckham was Governor of Kentucky, the guards at the State Penitentiary at Frankfort paid regular tribute to the Beckham machine, captured by Percy Haly. The same thing was done by the attendants and other employees of the State Asylum. The contractors paid regular tribute. Every guard at the prison was assessed from $25 to $50, sometimes more, for the Beckham political machine.

Conditions at the prisons under Governor Beckham as Governor were so atrocious that sworn records of guards are now on file in Frankfort to the effect that there were bugs, worms and rats in the food and cockroaches in the bread. Prisoners were whipped around their heads to prevent them from making omelets, and there are at least two incidents recorded in the testimony of prisoners who died soon after such beatings.

How Funds Were Cleaned

Eli H. Brown, Jr., a former law partner of Governor Beckham, was elected by the legislature over which Beckham had control, as chairman of the prison commission. Percy Haly was appointed by Governor Beckham as chairman of the board of control of charitable institutions.

General Haly and Mr. Brown were sworn friends and the boards of which they were the chairman occupied adjoining offices. They also served as Mr. Beckham's political cabinet, managed the practical details of his campaigns and financed the Beckham machine through tribute exacted from all employees of the prisons and asylums and all who had contracts with the state institutions.

Following the term of Governor Beckham the state inspector and examiner conducted an investigation of the prison commission. The report of this investigation was made public March 3, 1910, and is now on file in Frankfort. E. T. Lillard was the warden in Governor Beckham's term until November, 1906.

This tells the real story of how affairs were handled under Mr. Beckham, whose backers now say he was the "Greatest Governor Kentucky Ever Had."

The state examiner said that the auditor's record showed an actual deficit of $451,005.26 greater than the commissioners' record showed and that "after much labor I am unable to account for part of the large discrepancy between their totals and mine."

More Guards than Necessary
It was pointed out in the examiner's report that more guards and assistant deputy wardens than were necessary were employed at the prisons.

D. H. HOLBROOK, of Elliott County, (Test, pp. 228-30) testified that he was employed six years as a guard at the penitentiary. He testified that guards who did not put up money, from $25 to $50, for political campaigns, were dismissed. He was suspended at one time, but was reinstated when his political sponsor was nominated for the legislature.

CHARLES W. BRUNER, of Frankfort, (Test, pp. 231-35) for five years a guard at the penitentiary, testified: "I contributed every time they asked me to."

"Q. How much would you usually contribute?"

"A. From $25 to $50."

C. M. NOLAN, of Frankfort, guard at the penitentiary, (Test, pp. 236-241) testified that he frequently made contributions to Democratic campaign funds usually contributing "about $25 at a time."

Norris and Bruner both testified they were dismissed for supporting Mr. McCreary against Beckham for the senatorial nomination.

L. L. COX, of Franklin County, (Test, pp. 244-46) testified that he was for about five years a guard at the penitentiary. A part of his testimony is:

"We paid whatever they called for. Sometimes as high as $50. Usually $25. I one time paid $50. I won't say how often I paid that much."

EDMOND A. BYRON, of Franklin County, (Test, pp. 247-251) for about five years a guard, testified that he regularly contributed to the campaign fund. Asked how much he contributed, he said, "I never kept any record. I always contributed when they called on me."

LEWIS P. THOMPSON (pp. 253-55), of Woodford County, for about three years a guard, testified that he contributed regularly, usually about $30.

CHARLES E. HOGG (pp. 259-275), of Franklin County, president of the Hogg

Montgomery Shoe Company, a contractor for prison labor, testified as to his company. "We contributed at each general election since it was organized, and for several years before we always contributed."

W. S. HAWKINS, of Carroll County, a guard for two years, was asked if he always paid campaign contributions while connected with the prison. His answer was:

"I paid $66. Men receiving $100 pay $66."

G. W. THOMAS, of Nelson County, for three years employed in various capacities, testified he paid $50 to the political machine.

ERNEST BELL (pp. 242-3), of Frankfort, for two years a guard, testified:

"The best of my recollection the first year I was there I was assessed $30, and the second year $50. One assessment was for the Democratic congressional primary in the Fourth District. I think it was, and most of the other assessments were also for primaries and part of it for general elections. I do not recall the details."

BRAGG BARTON, of Henry County, (Test, pp. 310-11) testified he contributed each year about $20.

COLE H. T. BROWN, of Frankfort, part of the time assistant deputy warden, testified he always paid the assessments, giving as much as $20 a year.

JOHN SCHROEDER, of Covington, (Test, pp. 322-24) testified he contributed.

G. T. IRELAND, of Frankfort, a guard for two years, received his collected from $2,700 to $2,800 at one time. The guards paid $50 each, the deputy and assistant deputy wardens $100 each, and the warden $110.

CHARLES AVERDICK, employed as a guard six years, said he "was assessed every year for campaign purposes." He said he paid $50, as the other guards paid at that time.

T. M. PHYTHIAN, for about sixteen years at the penitentiary, said he gave $60.

Testimony that was given revealed that the money was not collected only in the interest of the Democratic party, but that when needed it was collected for use of the Beckham machine in primary races and that such collections were made in the Beckham-McCreary primary and that guards were dismissed because they supported McCreary.

The report of the state examiner summarizes the testimony of some of the witnesses whose verbatim testimony appears in the form of depositions in the case of Beckham vs. Lillard, et al., in Frankfort. The summary contained in the official report follows:

H. J. BAKER, (Test, pp. 110-122) of Lexington, Kentucky, who was a guard for six years at the penitentiary, testified that he saw cockroaches in the soup, and was informed that rats and mice were found in the food during Warden Lillard's incumbency.

S. L. BARNES, of Lexington, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 123-131), ex-guard, who left the prison service in April, 1906, states that he saw bugs and worms in the bread, and cockroaches in the bread, during Col. Lillard's wardenship.

MICHAEL E. CRAWLEY, of Lexington, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 132-137), ex-guard, who served from 1901 to 1904, under Warden Lillard, states that he did the whipping for ten or eleven months, that he saw prisoners being whipped on the naked backs, and that he saw prisoners being whipped on the backs of their heads to prevent them from making omelets; remembers whipping a negro convict twice and that the negro died in the hospital three or four days after being whipped the last time, but says he does not know the cause of death.

GEORGE D. WOODRUFF, ex-guard, of Lexington, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 139-161), who served under Warden Lillard, states that the food was very poor; that he saw mice and cockroaches in the food; that he whipped prisoners, whipping twenty on one morning; but averaged about five whippings per day, except Sunday; that he whipped men until blood would trickle to the levels of prisoners; that Warden Lillard or Deputy Warden Punch was present at these whippings, and caused him to whip with such severity; that he frequently whipped prisoners until their bowels moved while being whipped; that he has curled strap and put sand on it to make it hurt the prisoners; that negro prisoners would be whipped until they would be bloody and raw; that he was called to whip a woman one time, and when she saw him coming, she jumped out of a window and broke her leg. He states that he received $10 a month salary from the Frankfort Chair Co. for reporting names of prisoners who were whipped, and the number of lashes they received; that men were usually whipped for short tasks; that guard Alexander drew $8.00 a month from the Chair Company; that guard Westover also received money from the Chair Company; that he heard of Warden Lillard, and that trustees would carry supplies from the prison commissary to Lillard's home; that when he stopped whipping prisoners, the Chair Company stopped paying him.

I am frank to say that I believe this witness speaks honestly, but as the matters are so damaging to him as to anyone else, I believe there is something of truth in his statements.

GEORGE WEST, former prisoner, colored, of Louisville, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 165-171), who was released in June, 1908, states that under Warden Lillard the house was full of bugs and rats, that he saw rats in the milk and mice in the hash, and also saw cockroaches in hash, bread and soup; that Sing Cooper, a prisoner, was whipped by guard Atkins until his back was bloody; that Will Smith, another prisoner, was whipped by Mike Crawley and was bloodied and died shortly afterwards. (See reference to Crawley's statement heretofore.)

CORA LEE PORTER, colored, former prisoner, of Lexington, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 173-181), states that a prisoner, Sarah Blanton, was whipped, receiving twenty-four lashes, and that Dr. Tobin, prisoner physician, told the Matron that the prisoner would never recover from the whipping, and shortly after the prisoner died. She also states that she was whipped by guard Madigan while Lillard was warden.

WILLIAM HENRY MONTGOMERY, colored, former prisoner, of Louisville, (Test, pp. 172-9), who was pardoned in 1908, states that he did the printing in the prison while he was prisoner, and was never punished; states that he saw prisoners whipped until they were bloodied; that a woman jumped out of a window and kept from being whipped, but does not know her name; that he saw rats, mice and cockroaches in the hash and cabbage, and rocks in the beans; that this was a frequent occurrence under Warden Lillard; that Warden Lillard would get supplies for his home from the prison warehouse; but does not know whether Lillard paid for these supplies.

W. L. VAN ARSDALL, of Fleming County, (Test, pp. 180-3), guard from July, 1903, to January, 1907, states that he saw Capt. Linn, under Warden Lillard, cut the blood from a prisoner.

JAMES E. KINNARD, white, (Test, pp. 188-196), former prisoner, of Louisville, who served in the Frankfort Penitentiary from November, 1904, to September, 1908, states that he worked in the dining room and cooked for Warden Lillard and Warden Hawkins; that under Lillard the meat was very bad; that he saw a lot of beaten prisoners; that he saw maggots in them; that time was thrown on butts and they were afterwards served to prisoners; that beans had rocks, gravel, and bugs in them; that prisoner John Henry was whipped, and meats to Warden Lillard's residence. The witness also testifies that the meal and flour were very bad; that a prisoner cut off his fingers because of punishment for short tasks, and yet another two fingers; that he saw a prisoner whipped until his bowels moved; that he saw mice in the cooked cabbage and cockroaches in the bread.

E. D. COOLEY, ex-guard, (Test, pp. 200-6), of Garrard County, states that he served from 1901 to 1907; that he did the whipping for five or six months under Warden Lillard; that he was instructed by Deputy Wardens Madigan and Nelson to whip hard; that at times the blood would ooze out of prisoners whom he whipped; the negroes being whipped on the bare skin and the whites with their underclothing on; that quite a number of prisoners were whipped until their bowels moved; that guard Westover told him he, Westover, was receiving about $10.00 a month from the Chair Company, and he understood that Westover was receiving about $10.00 a month. He also states that one occasion he went to whip a woman prisoner; that, on seeing him coming, she jumped out of the window of a cell house, hurting herself; that he afterwards learned that she had recovered.

PAT MCCOY, white, (Test, pp. 207-10), former prisoner, of Louisville, states that the food was very bad, and that he saw cockroaches in the bread and hash, and rocks and bugs in the beans.

D. H. HOLBROOK, ex-guard, of Elliott County, Kentucky, (Test, pp. 228-30), who was recently discharged, states that he did the whipping for about three months under Lillard and others; that he whipped men until they were bloody and their bowels moved and they would have to go to the bath house.

CHARLES W. BRUNER, ex-guard, (Test, pp. 231-3), of Frankfort, who served as guard from April, 1902, to November, 1907, states that he has whipped prisoners; and has seen other whip them; that he has seen prisoners whipped until their bowels moved during the whipping, and states that Fletcher Ogle was thus whipped by Dock Holbrook.

These reprehensible conditions, disclosed by testimony given under oath, existed during the administration of Mr. Beckham, who now charges the Highway Commission is being used as a political machine. He solemnly promises, if elected, to keep the highway department out of politics. This promise is made by the Governor whose name still clings to the Beckham political machine built up for the furtherance of his own ambitions. This machine functioned so ruthlessly that at conclusion of the Beckham regime Democracy was rebuked and a Republican Governor chosen.

The same Percy Haly who financed the operations of the Beckham political machine with tribute collected from state employees to wage a fight for the senatorial nomination for Beckham is now seeking a return to power through his re-election as Governor. The machine that discharged state employees because they favored McCreary instead of Beckham in a senatorial primary will be reconstructed should Beckham again be Governor.
