FULTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1936.

NUMBER NINETEEN.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES TAKE SUDDEN SPURT

Building activities and general improvements in the business and residential sections of Fulton have shown noticeable increase in the past few months. Since the first of the year it is estimated that $250,000 in improvements have been made in this community, which is a definite barometer of better times.

Many business places have been remodeled and repainted. Thomas Browder is building a new service station on West State line near West street, at a cost of approximately $3,500. It is of brick veneer and modern in every respect. R. W. Copeland, former operator of the State Line Service Station, is constructing a new station on the old Meadows Hotel lot, corner Church and Main streets.

R. C. Peoples, proprietor of Peoples 5-10-25c Store on Main street, will move soon to the building now occupied by Horra Bros., who are quitting business. The C. & G. Distributing Co. are moving from the old Opera House building on Main street to larger remodeled quarters at the Clavender building on State line street, which has been moved its parts and accessories business just across the street.

B. B. Alexander has improved and remodeled the old Creedle home at $11,000. Two nice apartments have been made in this residence, which is now one of the most attractive in East Fulton. Dr. Seldon Cohn has been repainting and repapering his dwelling on Carr and Fourth streets at a cost of approximately $6,000. Dr. Cohn is also constructing a small dwelling at his farm west of Fulton.

M. P. Jeffries, of near Willingham Bridge is rebuilding his home at an expense of $15,000. Raymond Bennett is building a home on the State road at a cost of approximately $25,000. E. M. Coffman, prominent farmer, is constructing a brick veneer residence near Fulton at a cost of about $35,000.

H. L. Hardy has been improving his home on Second street, digging a basement and making other improvements. Guy Gingles on Fourth street also has dug a basement and made general improvements at his home. Albert Smith has repaired and repainted two dwellings on Fourth and Edgings streets, and built a garage.

Numerous other improvements have been made in and around Fulton, on which full details are not available. Houses and rooms are still scarce in Fulton, and new families coming in and find it hard to find suitable living quarters. All improvements should be reported to The News, which is anxious to print details about all civic improvements.

CITY OF FULTON WILL DIG NEW WELL AT WATER WORKS
The city of Fulton is seeking bids for the digging of a new well for water supply to replace the old one, recently abandoned because of seepage. The well, located beside the water works building, was shut off when seepage was noticed, and the Carlos Well Supply Co. was given a contract to draw the strainer and attempt to replace it. But this attempt was unsuccessful, and efforts to repair the old well were definitely abandoned some ten days ago. Fortunately, the city having let the contract under a guarantee, was not out any money on the attempt to resurrect the old well.

In the meanwhile, the city well at the water works is supplying adequate water. The council will take action on starting work on the digging of another well at its regular session next Monday night.

An empty tank car was derailed Saturday morning near the Union Hotel when a brake beam dropped down on the tracks causing derailment. Derailment occurred just east of the division office, but the car was dragged about 150 feet west before it could be moved. One switch was torn to pieces and considerable damage was done to the tracks, which were promptly repaired.

• THIS AND THAT •

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. Proverbs 3:13.

The biggest problem before the race at the present time is soil conservation. We may correct all of our other troubles but if we permit our soil to waste away we must answer for it some day.

We note where an aviation engineer said that within ten years we will be traveling 500 miles an hour through the air. We wish it were possible now we'd like to board a plane and catch up with the good old days of the late twenties, that we didn't appreciate to the degree that we now realize we should have when they were here.

Japan is making a most aggressive bid for world trade. The Japs are especially adept with machinery and have equipped their plants with the latest type machines especially of the textile type. In addition to this Japanese labor is paid a very low scale of wages and Japanese workers apply themselves in such a manner that they turn out a great deal of work in a day. At the present time the Japs are going after the world markets and are selling a great deal of textiles in competition with this country and England and customers are not cotton. Japan, lacking the room to grow cotton, buys it from producing nations and confines herself to the processing of it.

It is never a safe plan to attempt to judge a man's value to a community by the size of his monument in the cemetery.

A good rule to follow if you would be to magnify good things that come your way and minimize the undesirable things.

The cash system takes three-fourths of the worry out of modern business.

In the oil producing sections of the country oil is often transported hundreds of miles through pipe lines. Gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil may be sent through the same pipe each being kept separate from the other by a quantity of water. Pumping stations at intervals along the route keep the oil moving.

A reader of this paper who was about the Townsend plan was talking to a man yesterday when "I can remember," he said, "when some of the ideas advanced by the Populists seemed wilder than the wildest schemes now, but some of the wildest schemes have since been acted into law by the conservatives."

Government agents tracing the Lindbergh ransom money have accounted for all of it except $50. The hands of Hauptmann convinces federal agents that he had no accomplices.

The trapping of the three men in the Nova Scotia gold mine called to mind the trapping of Floyd Collins in a cave in Kentucky several years ago. Both events created international interest. Nothing involving the lives of three persons has attracted such wide spread attention as did the trapping by a cave-in of the three men in the Nova Scotia gold mine.

Joe Dietzel of Union City visited friends in Fulton Wednesday.

UNION CITY DISTRICT M. E. CONFERENCE

U. R. BELL, PADUCAH, APPOINTED W.P.A. DIRECTOR

Louisville, Ky., May 28—W. E. Evans, in charge of the Professional Section, Women's and Professional Division of the Works Progress Administration, announced today that U. R. Bell, of Paducah, as state consultant, and Austin J. Welch, Jr., of Covington, as Assistant Director of the recently inaugurated W. P. A. State-wide recreation and leisure program. The announcement of these appointments followed a three day conference here of local W. P. A. Washington, Assistant Director of the W. P. A. Community Organization for Leisure.

The conference, largely devoted to the subject of recreational leadership, included discussions on the field of music, art and other recreational activities, the philosophy and interpretation of the leisure profession, the organization and administration of recreation, the responsibility of the local leisure committee, and the relationship of governmental agencies in the development of a community wide program.

The primary purpose of the recreation program sponsored by the W. P. A., Mr. Evans stated, "is the provision of suitable and useful employment for certified persons on a community recreation program."

"A Community Organization for Leisure Section," he continued, "was created as one of the operating units of the Division of Professional Service Projects in Washington to insure quality in W. P. A. recreation programs, to give assistance in training persons employed in recreational leadership, and to provide rules of procedure, general principles of organization, program suggestions, and other guidance designed to enrich local recreation programs."

"Constant interchange of plans, programs, and procedure by recreation supervisors, and drama projects and by community councils or committees, made up of representatives of those related fields, make coordination possible."

Mr. Evans stated that a further purpose of the recreation program of the W. P. A. is helping local communities to develop a permanent program of recreation through resources supplemented temporarily by leadership and resources available through W. P. A.

"All recreation planning," he concluded, "is designed to make it possible for communities to enrich those activities already in existence and to continue leisure-time programs as permanent, ongoing services."

Due to the persecution of the Jews in Germany the Jews are gathering in Jerusalem. They are purchasing the land from the Arabs. Since the persecution began in Germany the population of Palestine has increased from 175,000 Jews to 375,000.

NEWS BRIEFS

In the case of Mrs. C. W. Curtin of Pittsburgh, Pa., Circuit Judge J. J. Hindman at Clinton this week rendered a judgment for Mrs. Curtin for approximately $2,000. The lawsuit arose over the question as to whether or not an insurance company may cancel a paid-up life policy after insured had borrowed its full loan value and failed to pay the annual interest. The face of the policy was $5,000, and the indebtedness against it was approximately $3,000.

Roy Manchester, Paducah, Boy Scout Executive, addressed the Rotary club here Tuesday, being introduced by Dr. Ward Bushart. Mr. Manchester talked interestingly of Scout work and told of the relief work being done at Keller Field in Paducah, Ky., May 29. He encouraged the growth and promotion of Scouting in molding character among boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Browder, formerly of Fulton, but who have resided in Bristol, Okla., for more than a decade, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Enoch Browder on Third street. The Browns are accompanied by their two children, Miriam and Jack. The Browns will make their home here in the future, as he will be connected with the Browder Milling Co.

Bobby Matthews, of Fulton, welterweight, undefeated in two years, was signed this week to meet "Tummy" Robinson, Huntsville, Ala., in the main 10-round bout on the American Legion card at Jackson, Tenn., Monday night.

QUARTERLY COURT

Goldy Arrant of Cayce was charged by Finis Conner with breach of the peace and fined $1 and costs when tried before Judge Claude L. Walker this week. Goldy Arrant was retained and charged Finis Conner with breach of the peace and Conner was fined $1 and costs.

Banks Burrus, colored, of Hickman, was charged with rape and Walker bound him over to the action of the Grand Jury. His bond was set at $500 and upon default he was committed to the Fulton County Jail.

Henry Lanford was charged with assault and battery, but after hearing the evidence, the charge was reduced to breach of peace and Judge Walker fined Lanford $1 and costs.

STATE TAX ON CHATTELS CUT

Word was received by County Clerk C. N. Holland, at Hickman, this week, that state tax on chattel mortgages had been taken off if the note mentioned in the mortgage is less than $200. This makes the total for recording mortgages of less than that amount $1.00 instead of $2 which has been the charge.

CAR PLUNGES OVER BRIDGE SEVEN INJURED IN FULTON

Flynn Powell, age 11, of Fulton, suffered a broken leg when a car driven by Morris Jones, also of Fulton, toppled over a bridge on the Hardy Pond road and turned over on Tuesday. The others suffered minor cuts and bruises and included the driver and his four children, Elizabeth 16, May 13, Billy 8, Jane Dallas 12, and Ferrell Maroney 10. The party was returning from a fishing trip when the wreck occurred. Injured were treated at the Hickman clinic and then returned to Fulton.

One trouble with adjusting the farm product price situation is to be found in the fact that wherever you find one man pleased with the fact that he is receiving a good price for his farm products you will find another kicking because of the price he has to pay for butter, meat and bread. The only satisfactory way it seems to arrange it so the producer can sell at a high price and the consumer can buy at a low price.

It often happens that the worst thing that can happen to a man is to have some one help him. Some men when they receive help appear unable to walk alone after that. They seem to lose their initiative and self-reliance. The fellow who knows he has to do the job himself pitches in and gets it done.

When a stranger approaches us these days and offers to shake hands we can't figure out whether he is a new candidate or whether having been so used to shaking hands that he cannot break the habit.

FULTON COPS THIRD GAME WITH PADUCAH

In the final game of a series, Fulton edged out the Paducah Indians 8 to 7, after Paducah had taken two previous games here. Fulton got 11 hits to Paducah's 10, with Hahn, left fielder, driving out two triples for Fulton, one in the third and one in the seventh, which were the decisive innings of the games.

PADUCAH AT FULTON

Paducah came to Fulton Monday for a three-game series, defeating the Eagles 6-5 in the opening game, which was featured by the wild pitching of Hayes of Paducah. With the score 6-3 favoring Paducah going into the eighth inning, Fulton got two singles and a base on balls with no outs. Then Hahn, Paducah starting pitcher, was taken out and Hayes put in. Hayes struck out Long and Veezey and made Shaffer roll out to him.

In the ninth, Fulton came up, three runs behind. Hahn got his second triple of the game and scored on a single by Wooden, who in turn scored on a single by Watts. Bringing the score 5-8. Hahn's two triples, were the heaviest clouts of the contest. Bestudik and Blackburn, Paducah each connected for three hits in four attempts.

Score by innings:
Paducah.....020 001 120-8
Fulton.....002 000 102-5

Paducah's Indians slugged their way to a second successive victory over the Fulton Eagles Tuesday, winning by a score of 8 to 6. The Indians opened the scoring with two runs in the second inning and tallied four runs in the third frame on singles by Bestudik and Blackburn followed by triples from the bats of Cropsenaker and Pellman.

The Eagles also scored in the third and fourth frames, but did not make their major bid in the fifth inning, when they scored three runs on singles by Wooden and Watts, a pass for Hahn and triples to right field by Butts and Strain.

Score by innings:
Paducah.....004 010 001-8
Fulton.....012 030 000-6

Playing the final of a three-game series here Thursday with the Portageville Pirates, the Fulton Eagles pushed over the winning run in the eleventh to score an 8-7 victory. The two teams fought neck and neck for six innings, when Fulton scored three runs in the seventh to take 7-4 lead, on a home run by Wooden, and three-baggers by Watts and Butts. Martin, Clements and Lanosha staged a rally for Portageville, tying the score in the ninth. Long broke the tie when he lined out a base-hit to score Sanders in the eleventh.

Score by innings:
Portageville.....020 003 00-7
Fulton.....002 200 300 01-8

The Fulton Eagles journeyed to Jackson last week, where they played the Generals three games, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. In the first game Friday night, Jackson won 7 to 1, behind the five-hit pitching of Joe Wesche. It was the first errorless game recorded in the Kitty League this season.

In the game Saturday night, Jackson tossed away an exciting game to Fulton, 6 to 5. Shuck, a pinch hitter, who had doubled in the ninth, came home with the winning run.

The Generals came back Sunday to take their second victory over Fulton, when they defeated the Eagles 9 to 4.

BASEBALL

Much interest has been manifested by the people of this community in the re-organization of a Fulton County League Club here. A splendid group of public-spirited citizens got solidly behind the movement, and hundreds have given their time and money in order that Fulton might have a ball park, a grandstand and a baseball club. Everyone who has had any part in making this civic enterprise a success deserves commendation. And it only goes to show what can be done on short notice, if enough good citizens decide a thing should be done.

Fulton has a park to be proud of, and if Kid Elberfeld's proteges can continue their good work on the diamond, we need have no fear that the Eagles will not play a great season of ball. But now that we have this park and grandstand, it should be everybody's business to see that it is taken care of properly. Already some mischief makers have torn planks off the new park fence. This must be stopped, and directors of the baseball association expect to see that it is stopped. Watchmen are on the job, and property arrests will be made and fines assessed.

PAVING WAY FOR HIGHER PRICES

As the weather man is paving the way for higher crop prices.

Although the country as a whole has had approximately normal rainfall this year, Weather Bureau statistics from January 1 through May 19, indicate that many of the great agricultural states of the Middle West have had considerable less than normal precipitation.

Three of the four states yielding the largest farm income in 1935 are now distinctly subnormal from the standpoint of moisture. Texas—number one farm state—reports a 40 per cent above normal, Iowa is 20 per cent below par and Illinois 27 per cent. Each of these states reported above-normal rainfall last year. Other important agricultural states suffering from a lack of moisture include Ohio, 19 per cent deficit; Wisconsin 18, Indiana 11, Missouri 43, Oklahoma 54 and Kentucky 33.

The most important cash grain to the farmer is winter wheat, which generally averages better than 70 per cent of the total wheat crop. The two leading producers—harvesting roughly one-quarter of last year's crop—are growing their stands under adverse moisture conditions this year, Kansas being 32 per cent deficient and Ohio 19 per cent. The spring wheat states of North Dakota and South Dakota—accounting for about one-half the total production—also are below average in the matter of rainfall.

The two biggest corn states, Iowa and Illinois, have received less than normal rainfall this year by an amount of 10 and 15 per cent, respectively. These states produced the best corn crops in the country, and Mississippi, the largest cotton grower, are divided on the rainfall question. Texas, accounting for more than one-quarter of the 1935 crop, is 40 per cent under normal. Last year it was decidedly above par. Mississippi ran above its moisture par in both years.

There is no question yet of drought conditions comparable to those that existed during the 1934 disaster. The above-normal rains last year built a solid sub-soil moisture base that has stood the crops in good stead so far.

Commodity dealers, however, say that unless normal or better rains are experienced by the affected states during the next month or so, crops will be sufficiently shorter than previous estimates to force many farm commodity prices appreciably higher.—Mayfield Mess.

HAVE YOU A TREASURE?

Have you a treasured piece of hand-craft, something lovely or useful that you have made? Would you like to show this and win a prize, and perhaps, sell it? Would you like to make many such and sell them? Perhaps you have a friend or neighbor who have done something exceptionally well, a rug or quilt, a piece of weaving, basketry or woodcarving, or even some rare bit of cookery? Do you not want to go quickly and tell this friend or neighbor to enter her rare piece of work or her product where she can make a sale or win a prize?

The Onward Kentucky Exposition in the State Capitol Building in Frankfort on June 5th, 6th and 7th 1936, will provide the opportunity for things made in Kentucky to win rich prizes and ultimately to be sold. Following this Exposition the producers of these articles will be shown how to make them in larger quantities so that they can realize on them in a substantial way, which will add to their own wealth and increase the prosperity of the state.

There are many prized recipes hidden away in Kentucky homes and many interesting pieces of hand-craft going to waste. There are products which are not being seen or appreciated or sold. It is the purpose of the Onward Kentucky Exposition to bring these out of hiding and make them known, and, also, to stimulate the production and sale of all that is useful and of high quality.

The time is short. The time of the Exposition is near. Kentucky must make a good showing and a record but the thing of primary importance is that each citizen who has anything to offer should have a chance to compete and also to advertise what he wishes to make and sell.

Go to-day and tell your friend and neighbors about this opportunity. Are you a minister of the Gospel, and have you not seen some hand-made object in a home, one that you thought worthy to win a prize? Then will you not let the owner know of the place and time where this article can be shown? Are you a teacher and have you observed some piece of hand-craft in the home of some pupil that you

WHAT WE THINK

If I had an opportunity to go to one of the National Conventions I would choose the Republican convention. I think it will be the best show. The Democrats will meet, pass a few resolutions, nominate Mr. Roosevelt and go home. The Republican convention promises a better show.

Unless something happens to prolong the show the folks who put up the money to get the Democratic convention won't have a chance to war and have consistently contended get it back. These Lifebuoy soap ads have disillusioned me. I have always supposed that man was the noble pur-suer, that it was man who sought the fair maid and convinced her by sheer force of his ardor that she should leave home where she runs things with a high hand and take her chance in life with him. Every Lifebuoy soap ad ends up with the fair maid calling up her girl friend and telling her how thankful she is for the suggestion about the right kind of soap, that the man of her dreams has proposed, she has won him, she has won him. And now the coffee people have taken it up.

One of the things I have discovered is that no white shirt looks like much the second day.

I never learned as a boy to leave green apples alone because they gave me a stomach ache. I did not quit eating them until I outgrew my appetite for them.

I think most folks are like that with their faults and petty sins. They like to have other think they have conquered them, when, if the truth were known, they have merely lost their appetite for them.

I have always been opposed to those who back out from the parking spaces without looking.

ed that being prepared for war and entering into preparations for war made the nation war minded and made the possibility of war greater, but all anyone has to do now is to point out the fate of Ethiopia.

Here was a Christian nation, a praying nation with a peace record of thousands of years behind it. It did not have a standing army, a gunboat, or an airplane in the whole empire, yet it has been cleaned out, and the rest of the world stood by and watched it done.

Here is a chance to prove that unpreparedness in the world today is not equivalent to national suicide.

I will not preach unpreparedness again. The world isn't ready for it. Being unprepared today is too much like taking a Sunday school class on a picnic in an African jungle and quoting the golden text to the hungry lions.

I note by my daily that Germany's new zeppelin crossed the ocean in about 62 hours with a cargo of over 70 tons.

There is another thing that cools my ardor for unpreparedness.

Scientists report that there are 700,000 kinds of insects in the world. These we presume do not count those who back out from the parking spaces without looking.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE WEEKLY BUSINESS SURVEY

Nationwide reports to the Department of Commerce indicated a tendency for retail trade to slow down to seasonal dullness in some regions while in sections where belated warm weather opened up, sales were lifted sharply over the previous week. In substantially all cases the rate of increase over last year continued. Most wholesale lines were considerably stronger than recent weeks.

Industrial schedules were well sustained; employment gains became more general and construction activity accelerated. Crop prospects were made much brighter by favorable weather conditions, and there was a widespread feeling of optimism.

Retail trade slackened from the recent pace in Memphis, New Orleans, Savannah, Indianapolis, Omaha, and Seattle, but margins over last year were sustained. The advent of summer weather gave sharp impetus to virtually all retail lines in Cleveland, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. While there was some leveling off of retail business index rose sharply over a year ago.

From virtually all the agricultural regions came reports of encouraging crop prospects, although there continued to be some concern over wheat, grass and alfalfa being affected in the latter area, but fruit prospects were good. Dallas report indicated livestock ranges below the 11 year average but better than last year and cotton outlook improved by recent rains. Citrus prices advanced as shipments declined in Florida, according to the Jacksonville report and the movement of New Orleans. The Louisville strawberry season since 1931 and in Delaware, frost impaired straw- berry apple and peach blossoms and the winter wheat crop, based on 1,530,000 bushels, compared with 1,655,000 last year. The Louisville report estimated the Kentucky wheat crop above the five year average, while the wool clip was short tobacco planting. A survey of agricultural conditions in Minnesota, Idaho and Wisconsin revealed high optimism, according to the report from Minneapolis, with all available workers in the fields, implements well stocked. Progressive farmers were drawing increased trade from wide areas and the economic conditions of the farmer was being widely reflected.

Industrial power sales reached an all-time peak in Detroit. In Wilmington, two new companies took over an idle plant and will employ 200 to manufacture special printing machinery. The Cleveland steel mills were receiving heavier than anticipated orders from manufacturers of farm equipment and railroads. The Byerly Company was making its third addition to an asphalt refining plant. The Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago was spending $3,000,000 to modernize the Fisk Street generating plant. A radio manufacturing plant in Buffalo rehired 400 workers in anticipation of record-breaking production. Construction activity gave impetus to where there was also a rise in construction production. This city also reported structural awards of 34,730 for year to date 36% greater than last year, while Republic Steel received 20,000 tons of the 36,000 ton order for pipe line to run from Kansas City to Chicago. Jacksonville reported several new silk mills established in Florida towns.

OF INTEREST HERE AND THERE

Oklahoma City has plans to spend $7,500,000 on public buildings during the next twelve months.

3,483 Colorado farmers distributed 635 tons of poison for gophers last year.

The California Fruit Growers Association is building an office in Los Angeles that will cost $500,000 when completed. The building houses the offices of the association. The association handles the marketing business of member fruit growers.

A new park under construction in Las Vegas, New Mexico, will have 20,000 trees, all of which will be donated by friends of the town.

A $16,000,000 inheritance tax assessment was recently upheld by New Jersey's highest court. The tax was levied against the estate of John T. Lawrence, Camden soap manufacturer. The estate upon which the tax was levied totaled $115,000,000.

A Woman's Chamber of Commerce, the first of its kind, has been formed at Talladega, Alabama. The organization will take charge of the civic beautification program.

Spiritedly refuting the charge that child labor is employed in textile plants in the state of Mississippi, Governor Hugh White stated recently, "I do not know of a single mill in Mississippi working anyone under 18 years of age." The charge, continued the Governor, is an effort to cripple the South's bid for industrial plants.

TWO MINUTE SERMON

THE MAN WHO FINDS HIMSELF. To me the parable of the Prodigal Son is the most interesting of all the parables. It appeals to me because, while it deals with the common problems of the day in which it was spoken, it also touches intimately life today. It contains many lessons that may be applied even in our modern world. The young man went out into the world, eager to know life, ambitious to make a name, a fortune for himself. How like of today? How true they embark on youth's great adventure—the quest of their place, their calling in the work of the world. Not all of them succeed in discovering it. Not all of them, as the young man did, find themselves. There are many who never do. For a man to go through life never having found his place, his work in the world, never having found himself, as we say, is a tragedy, but for a man to go through life never having found Christ is a greater tragedy. Many men never do. They never come to know that feeling of security and calm faith and assurance that comes to the man who finds himself in Christ.

GOV. CHANDLER TO ADDRESS BOYS AND GIRLS JUNIOR WEEK

Gov. A. B. Chandler is to address the 600 farm boys and girls assembled at the 16th annual Junior Week at the University of Kentucky June 8-13. He is to be the speaker at the morning convocation in the Memorial building Thursday, June 11th. Other convocation speakers are President Frank L. McVey and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky and Victor K. Dodge, Lexington and Victor K. Dodge, Lexington and Victor K. Dodge, Lexington.

Pastors of Lexington churches will conduct the evening vespers services. George Campbell of Cincinnati again will direct the juniors in their song services, with Dave Noble at the piano. It is expected that 100 counties will be represented in the evening, singing, and the health contest and the style revue.

Boys attending the convention will judge livestock and study crop production and other farm activities, while the girls will attend classes in homemaking, health, music and other subjects of interest to women.

Featuring conservation of human and animal life and the soil, Junior Week cooperating agencies this year include the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, Tennessee Valley Authority, U. S. Biological Survey, The Courier-Journal, International Harvester Co. and other organizations and companies.

THE NEW LIABILITY LAW HOLDS AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS RESPONSIBLE

Do you have LIABILITY INSURANCE on your AUTOMOBILE? "Driver's Financial Responsibility Law" becomes effective May 16th, 1936.

This Law requires you, in case of ACCIDENT and judgment is rendered against you and settlement is not made within thirty (30) days, to surrender your Driver's License and your Automobile License and you are not permitted to operate an automobile until all claims have been satisfactory settled.

When you purchase LIABILITY INSURANCE, make sure your POLICY so reads that you are protected against all LIABILITY to amount required by this law.

Let us furnish you with your LIABILITY INSURANCE and avoid any LIABILITY COSTS that may arise against you. Get your LIABILITY INSURANCE now—Do not wait until it is too late.

Your LIABILITY POLICY WILL INSURE your RIGHTS to operate your AUTOMOBILE and PROTECT your FINANCES IN CASE you HAVE AN ACCIDENT whether you are liable for the accident or not.

For COMPLETE INFORMATION in regard to LIABILITY INSURANCE, call at our office, 406 Lake Street, or phone No. 5, Fulton, Ky., and we will gladly furnish you with NECESSARY INFORMATION how you may obtain ABSOLUTE PROTECTION against all LIABILITY COSTS.

ATKINS INSURANCE AGENCY

awarded in the ham show to be held in connection with the Onward Kentucky Exposition, Frankfort, June 5-7.

The first prize will be $100; the second $50; third $25; fourth $15 and fifth $10. In addition there will be 95 blue ribbon awards of $7.50 each. While it is expected that several hundred hams will be entered only the 100 prize hams will be exhibited. These will become the property of the Onward Kentucky Exposition and will be sold at auction by Gov. A. B. Chandler. Hams not winning prizes will be returned to their owners.

All hams entered in the exposition are to be accompanied by recipes for butchering, curing and handling. These recipes will go to the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky for study with a view of developing a uniform curing recipe that will improve the quality of Kentucky hams and provide a standardized product for national distribution. The ham exhibit will be under the direction of the College.

Hams not delivered to the exposition in person or through county exposition chairmen should be shipped to O. R. Harrod, Director of Arrangements, Onward Kentucky Exposition, Frankfort. They should reach Frankfort not later than noon Wednesday, June 3rd.

"PRESIDENT" IN MOONLIGHT EXCURSION, JUNE 3, 1936

The big all-steel, oil-burning S. S. President, queen of the St. Louis fleet of excursion steamers, is heading up the Mississippi from New Orleans to St. Louis and will pay its annual spring visit to ports en route. Entering its fourth season in the Mississippi excursion service, the President is well-known in the river towns and its visits are the occasion for festive turnouts. The most modern passenger pleasure craft on the river and the only one built entirely of steel, the President has enjoyed record-breaking popularity each season.

Its ballroom is said to be the largest afloat outside of ocean liners. It measures 200 by 50 feet with no obstructions. It accommodates 2,000 dancers at a time. The President also approaches ocean liner luxury in its appointments. Its spacious lounges, comfortable gliders and deck chairs, provide relaxation for those who want to rest between dances, and those who make a cruise on the big steamer just for the fresh air and outing. The summer garden atop the President is a popular rendezvous for those who enjoy the "moonlight," while the "Club President," four dainty powder rooms and the soda bar are modern appointments which make the President the last word in pleasure excursion steamers on the inland waterways.

Wednesday, June 3rd, the Hickman Ellis Lodge No. 1204 are sponsoring the moonlight excursion on the S. S. President, leaving Hickman at 3.30 p. m., and returning at 12.00 p. m. Mr. Ben F. Briggs, secretary of the Elks is again chairman.

SAFETY SLOGANS

More lives were lost in the United States by auto accident in the last five years than were killed or died of wounds in battle in the A. E. F. during the World War. Drive carefully.

It requires an average of 152 feet to stop a car traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour. Drive carefully.

Tetanus or lockjaw is often caused by stepping on a nail. Such injuries should always be treated by a doctor. When tetanus sets in it is too late. If a doctor is not available encourage bleeding and work iodine to the bottom of the wound.

There are 20,000 accidents each year caused by drivers dozing at the wheel. Don't drive while drowsy. It takes only a split second to cause a wreck.

Prisoner: "Judge, I don't know what to do."

Judge: "Why, how's that?"

Prisoner: "I swore to tell the truth, but every time I try some lawyer objects."

Six Babies in Three Days
World's Greatest Terror
Another Mild Bad Man
How to Avoid Thought

President Saca of Nicaragua confirms the statement that a very poor woman on the distant shores of Lake Nicaragua has given birth to seven babies.

The mother, Mrs. Sinfonosa Martinez, had a difficult time. The births stretched over three days—May 3, 4 and 5. The babies' names are, or were, Jose Jesus, Ramon del Carmen, Maria del Carmelo, Socorro del Carmen, Maria de Jesus and Juana Ramona.

The seventh name was not telegraphed, for there was no seventh, as it was expected there would be. Five of the sextuplets are already dead. Only one, a girl, lives.

What would population of the earth be if such births were the rule and all lived?

At the opening of the Catholic press exhibition in Vatican City, Pope Pius, for the second time within two days, cautioned the world against communism, which he called "the great terror which threatens all the world."

For the comfort of those that live in dread of final Communist world conquest, it may be said that thus far nothing opposed to human nature has ever succeeded.

By the arrest in California of Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., kidnaper of Mrs. Stoll, Mr. Hoover and his G-men brought into the shadow of the electric chair the last of the group of dangerous criminals that have recently been wandering about the country.

This "bad man," like others recently gathered in, shook with fright when he found the gun pointed at him, made no effort to fight. When the guns are pointed the wrong way, "bad men" often change to good, meek and scared men.

Stamp collectors have held a celebration, grateful to Doctor Eckener for a new kind of stamp. How many ways man finds to keep busy and at the same time avoid thinking!

Collecting queer things, stamps or tear jugs; playing bridge, working crossword puzzles, playing solitaire, rushing to the far corners of the world to spend money—usually not earned; going to Africa to kill big game animals. Those are some substitutes for thinking and working constructively, the only occupation worthy of a human being.

Mrs. James C. Canipe of Clovis, New Mexico, as a girl was not able to finish high school, but that did not discourage her. She waited some years. Then she joined the senior high school class with her son and daughter-in-law, and will graduate with them this month, among the most brilliant scholars.

Chancellor Hitler, who was never married, nevertheless thinks marriage a good idea. Young Nazis, in the public employ, have been told that unless they marry by the time they are twenty-six years old there is something the matter with their "courage and will power."

A syndicate is formed to seek the "buried gold bags of Alexander the Great," containing at least $300,000,000 in yellow wealth.

Alexander the Great's ghost might be surprised to hear about that. Alexander was too busy to collect gold, and not the kind of man to bury it in a hole.

Encouraged by her father, a sixteen-year-old high school girl walked onto the wing of a small plane, prepared for a first parachute jump, at 1,500 feet. The pilot perceived that the parachute cord had been pulled prematurely; pulled her back into the cockpit in time to save her from death.

Without requiring encouragement, Mrs. Harriet O. Hague, eighty-six years old, flew the ocean on the Hindenburg return trip. Tell that to your friend who used to oppose female suffrage "because women are not brave like men."

Germany is building many fleets of small aircraft, and some day this country's automobile men will turn to airplane building; then, those already past sixty may live to see in the air 25,000,000 flying machines, one for every automobile on the ground.

The Italian flag flies over Haile Selassie's palace. He will never see that palace again, but he has boxes of gold bars with him and has moved to a safer, better climate.

The civilized world, whatever its attitude toward the slave-dealing alleged descendants of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, must rejoice in Mussolini's proclamation abolishing slavery throughout Ethiopia, where slaves have been the chief cash-producing product.

Washington.—With the national convention of the Republicans only a week away, New Deal strategists are Seek to Disrupt G. O. P. bending every effort toward a program designed to make a knock-down and drag-out fight of that session. It is not disclosing any secret to say that the New Dealers are using this weapon up to the hilt because disruption of the Republican party would make victory easy for Candidate Roosevelt.

Predictions in politics always are perilous. Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas seems to be in the lead at this time for the Republican nomination, but there are many observers throughout the country who contend that the "Kansas Coolidge" cannot win, and that various other aspirants for the nomination, men whose hats are in the ring, likewise must be counted out. This is to say that a feeling is growing that a dark horse will be nominated.

From the strictly Washington viewpoint, which may be different than elsewhere in the country, astute political observers are convinced that there must be a swift change in sentiment to keep the nomination away from Governor Landon. Yet, it must be said that politics is fraught with just such things and so it is entirely possible that the Republican nominee may be someone other than the present apparent leader in the race.

Those who feel that Governor Landon will be the nominee claim he has played his cards well. But others insist that the Kansas governor made a bad mistake in allowing his name to be linked with the Hearst faction in California. Indeed, I have heard comment that this fact alone will defeat Governor Landon.

It has been interesting to observe the maneuvers of the New Deal strategists with reference to the Landon boom. Some observers contend that the efforts being put forth from New Deal quarters in an attempt to discredit Governor Landon were being engineered because the New Deal fears Governor Landon as a Roosevelt opponent more than it fears some of the other candidates for the nomination. Frank R. Kent, the Washington commentator for the Democratic Baltimore Sun, asserted that the New Deal activity against Landon's nomination constituted "the best evidence of the increasing probability" of the Kansas governor's nomination. Mr. Kent did not say that which some other informed writers feel, namely, that the Landon candidacy would mean a bitter campaign on the part of the Roosevelt forces to re-elect the President. Nevertheless, it has been interesting to note the various ways in which Roosevelt spokesmen and Democratic publicity men have been trying to show the country that Governor Landon is not the man who should be nominated.

I have no quarrel with these efforts. It is the game of politics. Virtually anything goes. It is to be assumed that present Republican maneuvers will be concentrated in a few weeks on Mr. Roosevelt personally as the Democratic candidate. In fact, one hears expressions around Washington that for the first time in Mr. Roosevelt's political career, he is going to be directly under fire.

Just in this connection, one can recall that through most of the New Deal administration, criticism of New Deal policies and plans, almost without exception, was directed at Roosevelt appointees. The President himself has been exceptionally free from the type of personal attack that frequently characterizes political opposition. He has had absolutely none of the kind of criticism that occurred in the Hoover administration and was directed at Herbert Hoover, personally.

So, as we look at the campaign picture just ahead, of the Republican convention and only a month in advance of the meeting of the Democrats at Philadelphia where President Roosevelt will be renominated, without opposition in his own party, I think it can be said without fear of contradiction that both candidates this year are going to be smeared personally just as fast and as long as the ammunition holds out.

While we are talking about the forthcoming quadrennial conventions, the two keynote speakers naturally enter into any discussion. Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will do the keynoting for the Democrats at Philadelphia and Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon will deliver the main address.

to the Cleveland convention of the Republicans. Senator Barkley was the keynoter at the Chicago convention when Mr. Roosevelt was nominated by the Democrats four years ago and, although it is a subject not freely discussed, it is said in high places that Mr. Roosevelt wanted the same man to do the job again, believing the Kentuckian to be an omen of good luck.

The selection of Senator Steiwer was one of those things that can be said to be a surprise and yet not a surprise. He is, without doubt, a good man for the job. Yet in some quarters there is a conviction that Senator Steiwer was picked by the so-called "Old Guard" of eastern Republicans. Some observers still hold the belief that the selection of Senator Steiwer was not wholly pleasing to the Landon forces but he that as it may, there has been no particular ill feeling created by it. If it represents a piece of strategy by the eastern Republicans who were dealing with their problem by remote control, they apparently have played into the hands of the more liberal wing of Republicans. It is being predicted rather freely that the Oregon senator's keynote speech will lean strongly to the liberal side but that it will stress sound economics.

The best advance information obtainable on Senator Barkley's plans is that he will devote the bulk of his time on the convention platform to a review of Roosevelt accomplishments in the belief that such a review will take his presentation out of the class of a "defense" speech. Those with whom I have talked concerning the Barkley speech believe he has adopted a smart political course; that he feels there is no need to doing anything that has been done and that the record itself is the thing upon which the Democratic party can make a plea for reelection of Mr. Roosevelt.

Having observed Senator Barkley in action in the senate for a number of years, I believe I am justified in saying that he is a square shooter and a fighter. In this respect, he and Senator Steiwer, the Republican keynoter, are much the same type of man and, therefore, if either convention gets off on a wrong foot, the fault will lie with the convention managers rather than with the proposals offered by the men who are supposed to lay before the delegates a rough outline of their respective party's campaign policies.

For many months Washington has heard the plaint of business leaders who wanted to fight socialist schemes. Fear 'Crack Down' and unsound economic policies given birth by New Deal brain trusters but were afraid to do so because of "retaliation." Almost constantly, information has filtered into Washington to the effect that if a corporation undertook to oppose New Deal plans vigorously, there was danger that some agency of the government would "crack down" on them. Much of this information has been taken by Washington observers with a grain of salt but a different aspect has been placed on the situation lately.

It was in the senate that a New Deal Democrat, Senator Homer T. Bone of Washington, broke loose with statements that seemed to substantiate the fear voiced so frequently by business. Senator Bone charged that there was a veritable and "budding OGPU" organized within the government. The OGPU, as most persons realize, is the secret spy system of the Russian Soviet and I think no one in this country has a complete knowledge of its vicious character. So, when Senator Bone likened the espionage system in our government to the OGPU, he was making, to my mind, one of the most serious charges yet leveled at the Roosevelt administration.

Of course, Senator Bone was attacking this espionage system because of a feeling that it might be used to coerce members of congress and even executive or administrative officers of the government who were opposed to plans propagated by Presidential advisers. His thought obviously concerned the political phases of such a system but the fact that he brought the matter to public attention serves, in a measure, certainly, to substantiate some of the claims that business interests have made.

I am unable, however, to reconcile Senator Bone's position respecting the OGPU which he charged was in operation within the government and his utter silence when the obnoxious senate lobby committee, headed by Senator Black, Democrat, of Alabama, engaged in the wholesale seizure of private telegrams.

SYNOPSIS

Bryn (James Bryndison III), a tall, bronzed young man of wealth, and his chum, Tubby Forbes, are discussing Bryn's coming marriage. Tubby believes it a scheme to get Bryn's wealth from him. Should the girl, Deborah, whom Bryn has met at the office of his attorney, Ted Holworthy, marry Stuart Graham before her twenty-first birthday, she will inherit a vast fortune from her grandfather, Stuart, a greatly displeased Deborah, who refuses to marry him. Bryn, posing as an unemployed engineer, offers to marry Deborah, as Stuart, for $10,000, they not to live as man and wife. Twenty-three years previous, Anne Larned had eloped with an adventurer on the day set for her wedding to Courtney Graham. Two days after the birth of her daughter, Anne died. Shortly after, the father died. The Larneds, grandparents, took the child with them to Oregon where, about child companions, Deborah grew up. To safeguard her from some fortune hunter, her grandfather had arranged for her to marry Stuart, son of Courtney Graham, when of age, believing the alliance would be a happy one. When Deborah was fifteen, her grandfather died. Securities had been set aside to keep the family, but a market crash left scarcely enough for them to live on. This was unknown to Deborah's grandmother, an invalid, Gary, a servant, managing the finances. At twenty, the thought of marriage greatly frightened Deborah. It had been planned that Deborah meet Stuart in Frisco, where they were to be married. Tubby and Bryn await Deborah in a hotel in Frisco. Over a period of one year the groom is to prove he is no fortune hunter and can make Deborah happy to the satisfaction of her grandmother. Otherwise the fortune is to go to charity. The will is somewhat ambiguous as to whom Deborah is to marry. The girl arrives with Holworthy. Tubby is surprised to find her charming and sweet. The wedding over, the couple arrives at the home of Deborah's grandmother. The grandmother and Bryn, who she believes to be a fortune hunter, go to one another, which somewhat displeases Deborah, who foresees difficulty when they are to separate after a year. Bryn, after remonstrates with Bryn for his familiarity and insincerity, Bryn declares he is sincere. Deborah believes Bryn has a sweetheart waiting for him.

said. "But until Miss Deborah was married, we didn't have any prospects of paying it back. Now it's all right. I can see it's all right. If you don't mind lending what you have, sir."

"I don't like borrowing," Deborah continued to protest, her cheeks flaming. "We're taking enough from you. We can't take any more."

Gary turned toward her. "If we don't go through with it, if you tell your grandmother now, then this gentleman won't get his money at the end of the year. You know what your grandmother will do. You know how terrified she is of fortune hunters. She can't keep a little bit of the money for you, and she'd be afraid to keep it all. She wouldn't recognize this marriage. It's too late to marry anybody else; your birthday is past. If we told your grandmother the whole truth, that your . . . the man you've married is a stranger, paid to marry you, she would die. It would kill her. And then, maybe you could get the money, but it would kill your grandmother."

Deborah listened, her eyes dark and smoldering. She lifted them at last to Bryn. "It's just as a safeguard for yourself that you're offering your money?" she asked icily.

"Something of the sort," Bryn said with truth.

CHAPTER IV

Bryn went upstairs to the south wing where his own room lay. He entered, sat down at the small writing table before the window, lifted the leather case from the door beside him, unlocked it, took out writing paper, and began a letter to Tubby. After the usual familiar greetings Bryn asked him to procure ten pounds of jasmine tea from an old Chinese friend of theirs, a cook from an employment agency, three housemaids and a butler.

With the letter sealed in his pocket, Bryn went down the stairs in search of Deborah. He heard from the front of the house the sound of the piano. He went slowly toward the drawing room, listening. The piano was being banged with fury. Either Deborah or Grandmother was playing the "Norwegian Bridal Procession" in such a way that it sounded like the march on Paris.

He knocked lightly on the drawing room door, but the piano did not stop. He opened the door and went in. Deborah was pouncing angrily on handfuls of keys and making them wince in pain. Bryn stood for a moment watching her. He was restraining an impulse to walk forward, slip his arms underneath her, lift her from the stool and hold her firmly against him while she kicked and stormed and raged at him, while he looked down into her dark eyes, smiling, waiting for her answer.

"But I Am Going to Town, and I Wondered if You'd Care to Go."

ger to subside. There would be a moment then when she would lie, limp and beaten, in his arms; and then, with her face at his shoulder and her hair shaken loose over his arm, he could . . .

The music stopped abruptly, in the middle of a bar. Her hands dropped to her lap, and she stared at him, mute and angry.

"Sorry to interrupt," Bryn said. "The music was beautiful. Such expression. But I'm going to town, and I wondered if you'd care to go."

"No."

"It's a long drive alone," Bryn said plaintively.

"I'm sorry." She got up from the piano stool with a swish of starched skirt. "You may add something extra to your bill for the trip," she said coldly, and turned and went from the room without a backward glance.

He went upstairs again and knocked on Grandmother's door. She opened it promptly.

"I have to go to town in the car," Bryn told her. "Would you care to put on your bonnet and come? We could be back by dinner time."

Her eyes opened wide. "Go to Lynn-dale? If in the car?"

"The road is pretty rough, but I'll drive carefully. Come on, Grandmother, let's go on a bust."

"Why . . . I don't know." Her hands fluttered helplessly. "I haven't been away from here for many years."

"You'll be comfortable. Really," promised Bryn.

She lifted her chin. She drew a deep breath. "Very well," she said at last. "Come exactly as you are, Grandmother. I'll give you five minutes, and not another second. Five minutes."

BRET HARTE'S famous story, "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," has been a favorite bit of reading matter with the multitudes for years and years; it is one of those tales that grow no less popular with the passing of the years. Now it's to be turned into a picture with Norman Foster playing the lead.

Incidentally, they're pushing Foster right along at RKO, and first thing he knows he's likely to be a very popular leading man.

Incidentally, they've recently finished a picture at RKO studio that has everyone who has seen it raving about it. It is "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford," with William Powell, and Jean Arthur, one of our most talented blondes. It's said to be as good as "The Thin Man," which is tops in the way of praise. Powell is a consistent performer, year in and year out. He has won new laurels for his portrayal of Flo Ziegfeld in "The Great Ziegfeld."

All of Bill Hart's friends are cheering because he won the case of his against United Artists. He asked for $500,000, claiming that they didn't do right by his last picture, "Tumble-weeds," on which he had spent $300,000, all of his savings. That was way back in 1925. The court gave him the verdict, but cut the amount to $85,000.

Jack Benny didn't mind writing his own script for one broadcast, when the chap who had been doing it fell ill, but he drew the line at writing it every week—for writing a script and then broadcasting a program as well takes practically all your time, as Fred Allen will tell you. So Goodman Ace, one of radio's best writers, is helping out; Benny has wanted him for a long time, so now he's happy.

"Show Boat" is finished at last, with Helen Morgan and Paul Robeson doing some marvelous singing in it; in fact, you ought to see the picture if only to hear him sing "Old Man River." It will probably be one of the year's best pictures, certainly the best of the musicals; even if you saw the silent version made years ago, and the play as well, you must see this one.

Carl Laemmle started everybody at that final dinner given for him before his retirement, when he announced that a few years ago, he needed money badly and didn't know where to turn. His company, Universal, could have been sold for something like $50,000,000 a few years before that, but he didn't want to give up picture making.

He borrowed the money from Irving Thalberg, who was his secretary before he became the boy wonder of the movie world and moved to Metro. And now "Uncle Carl" has sold Universal, for less money than he once refused for it, and Junior Laemmle may work for Thalberg.

Sally Eilers had fun when she first reached New York for a vacation, with her husband, Harry Joe Brown, in tow. She was born in New York but left for California when she was six. So she spent her first Sunday seeing sights; riding on Fifth Avenue buses, seeing the Empire State building, Radio City, and the Aquarium.

Percy Westmore, one of Hollywood's make-up experts, is going on a lecture tour that certainly ought to appeal to women. He'll take along life masks of 25 stars, and use them as illustrations of the proper way to arrange hair and apply make-up.

Louise Fazenda is loud in her praise of the scenario writers who worked on Kay Francis' newest picture, "The White Angel," which is based on the life of Florence Nightingale, famous nurse of the Crimean war. Says she couldn't see, at first, how they could possibly get a picture out of it. They did; they got a good one, too. But it does seem an awful waste to put Kay, one of our best dressed women, into a nurse's uniform! But here's betting she looks just as lovely in a uniform as she does in one of the latest Paris ensembles.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Fred Stone has never made a picture for the company that had him under contract; he started a lot of motion picture men by saying so the other day. . . . As soon as our company engaged him, he'd be borrowed by another one. . . . Rochelle Hudson was so pleased with one of the period costumes that she wears in W. C. Fields' picture, "Poppy," that she bought it and is wearing it around town. . . . Ann Harding's going to England to make pictures and may not return to Hollywood.

Llandudno, "Atlantic City" of Wales, Now Is Tourist Magnet

Has Become One of Most Popular Sea Resorts of Britain.

American tourists who visit the British Isles this summer may be drawn to Llandudno beach, which has been called the "Atlantic City of the British Isles."

On the sand hills of Llandudno beach "Lewis Carroll," an Oxford mathematician whose real name was Dr. Charles L. Dodgson, once strolled with the children of his host, Dean Liddell. Recently a white marble marker was erected at the famous Welsh resort to commemorate these walks, and the literary classic, "Alice in Wonderland," they inspired.

"Although Llandudno may still sound quite foreign to most Americans, it is one of the chief seaside resorts of the British Isles," says the National Geographic society. "Situated on the north coast of Wales, facing the Irish sea, it may be easily reached by thousands of summer visitors from Liverpool, Manchester, and the English Midlands."

Beach Is Crescent-Shaped.

"The town itself is built around a vast semicircle of firm, sandy beach, with the ends of the crescent tipped with two towering masses of rock, the Great Orme's head and the Little Orme. Neither Nise, nor Deauville, nor Biarritz, nor Scheveningen, nor any of the much-vaunted middle Europe bathing resorts on the shores of Hungary's Lake Balaton, has a situation comparable to this magnificent watering place."

"And the Welsh people have made excellent use of the opportunities which nature presented. A concrete 'boardwalk' wider than New York's Broadway follows the graceful curve of the beach for more than a mile and a half; countless bathhouses on wheels follow the tide back and forth, being drawn up and down the sands by horses; drives of donkeys are provided for the children's rides when they tire of digging in the sand; a pier jutting out into the bay for half a mile is the scene of daily concerts and dances, while along its full length are booths of fortune tellers, catch-penny vendors, and other amusements which attract those who delight in such diversions while on holiday."

Famous Scenic Drive.

"But it is the incomparable Marine drive, chiseled out of the solid rock of Great Orme's Head, winding between sea and sky, midway along the precipitous cliff, which brings distinction to Llandudno over all other resorts. No similar stretch of the Cornish drive along the Riviera can excel it in grandeur."

"There are many, many spots which lure the visitor: Happy Valley, nestled in a hollow of the Great Orme, presented to the town by Lord Moslyn as a memorial of the Queen Victoria Jubilee; the Church of Our Saviour, in whose grounds Lewis Carroll used to romp with his youthful friend Alice, the daughter of Dean Liddell, whose residence was nearby; and St. Tudno's church, a medieval structure occupying the site of the cell of St. Tudno, a hermit of the Seventh century who gave his name to Llandudno (llan meaning church)."

ROBOT EXPLORERS ARE SENT UP INTO THE STRATOSPHERE

The secrets of the sky are being discovered by balloons. These robot explorers climb ten miles into the stratosphere from New observatory, where they are launched by Professor Paneth. On reaching the tempest limit they burst, and the vacuum flask, carried by each, opens automatically, collects a sample of air, retracts itself and floats home by parachute. Self-registering instruments record the temperature and the maximum height reached.

Their main object is to discover what happens to helium, the rare gas which is set free when radio-active materials break down into common elements such as lead, a process that takes thousands of years.

The balloons also explore thunder clouds in order to find out how the source of atmospheric electricity is replenished. Little pilot balloons calculate the height of clouds. Their rising speed is constant, and the number of seconds they take to disappear shows the height of the lowest cloud layer. Twenty-two miles is the soaring record of an unmanned balloon.—Tit-Bits.

A Boomerang

"And where would you be, Mike," said the man from the States, "if the gallows over there had their due?"

"Walking alone," said Mike quietly.

Fashions' in Weather, Study
Over Long Periods Discloses

Research into weather conditions over long periods in the United States has convinced the experts that there are definite "trends" or "fashions" in weather which recur at intervals of many years. In Washington, 19 of the 23 winters between 1912-13 and 1934-35 have been warmer than normal. All but one of the last 15 have been mild. A similar cycle of warmer winters occurred nearly a hundred years ago. Similar observations have been recorded throughout America of this upward temperature "trend."

The study of past records has also convinced climatologists that in America, at any rate, the warm and dry "fashion" has reached its zenith. They now expect a reversal of conditions, with a general run of colder and wetter weather in prospect for many years to come.—Pearson's Weekly.

Guffey Coal Act Is Declared Invalid

SIX members of the Supreme court of the United States ruled that the Guffey act to control the bituminous coal industry is invalid, and another of the New Deal experiments goes into the discard. This is the act which President Roosevelt urged congress to pass notwithstanding doubts of its constitutionality.

Sen. Guffey

Five justices—Sutherland, Butler, Van Devanter, McReynolds, and Roberts—joined in the majority opinion which invalidated the whole act. Justices Cardozo, Brandeis, and Stone joined in a dissenting opinion in which they upheld the act. Chief Justice Hughes held in a separate opinion that the act was constitutional with respect to the marketing provisions but unconstitutional with respect to the labor regulations.

The court in the majority opinion held that there is no authority in the Constitution for the control of the coal industry attempted in the Guffey act. The act was not valid either under the commerce clause or the welfare clause. Power was unlawfully delegated to set up a coal code similar to the codes of the invalidated NRA and the regulations establishing working hours of miners were a violation of the fifth amendment prohibiting the taking of property without due process of law. Mining, the court declared, is a local industry, the state jurisdiction whereof the federal government has no authority to invade.

Congress provided that if one part of the act were held unconstitutional other parts should not be affected. But the majority declined to accept that arrangement, ruling that the price fixing provisions were inextricably interwoven with the labor regulations.

Senator Guffey, author of the act, declined to comment on the opinion, but it was said he was preparing a substitute measure.

John Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said that "it is a sad commentary upon our form of government when every decision of the Supreme court seems designed to fatten capital and starve and destroy labor."

Tugwell's Housing Hit by Court Decision
THE resettlement administration headed by Rexford Guy Tugwell was declared by the District of Columbia court of appeals to be "clearly unconstitutional delegation of power," in a case involving a model community project in Somerset county, New Jersey.

Going beyond the issue before them, the justices of the Appeals court called the entire relief appropriations act of 1935 into question. The act was invalid and hence RA was invalid, according to the court. Legally, however, none of the rest of the act will be affected by the decision because the other multitudinous activities of the New Deal under the appropriation were not before the court.

Solicitor Gen. Stanley Reed said an appeal would be taken to the Supreme court at once.

Uncle Sam Stands by Nine Power Pact

NEWS that Japan was greatly enlarging her force in North China led the State department in Washington to announce that the position of the United States is the same as that outlined last December by Secretary Hull affirming its support of the nine power pact that guarantees China's territorial integrity. At that time Mr. Hull said this country has a binding faith in the fundamental principles of its traditional policy. This government adheres to the provisions of the treaties to which it is a party and continues to bespeak respect by all nations for the provisions of treaties solemnly entered into for the purpose of facilitating and regulating, to reciprocal and common advantage.

At the State department it was said that the reaffirmation of support of the nine power pact does not mean that the administration will abandon its policy of declining to take the initiative in any attempt to curb Japan for violations of the pact. This was attempted by Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in the Hoover administration, with the gain of nothing but Japanese ill will.

Japanese military strength in North China south of the Great Wall is now said to be fully 15,000 men. There are about 80,000 more in Manchukuo and still others in Inner Mongolia.

War Debts Will Be Defaulted Again

NITHER Great Britain nor France has any intention of paying the instalments on the American war debt due June 15. And almost certainly all the other debtor nations except Finland will follow the example of the two big ones and again default. British Foreign Minister Eden talked about the debts with Leon Blum, who probably will be premier of France soon, but there was no indication that either one was planning to make a payment. Blum told the American club in Paris he hoped the war debt "misunderstanding" might be cleared up, but he was just trying to be pleasant to the people of both America and France without spending any money.

Of course the debtor nations would like to have the issue cleared up, for as long as they are in default they are subject to the restrictions of the Johnson act which makes it unlawful for any person in the United States to purchase or sell the bonds, securities or other obligations of any foreign government or to make any loans to such a government while that government is in default in payment of its obligations to the United States.

President of Bolivia Is Compelled to Resign

JOSE LUIS TEJADA BORZANO was forced to resign the presidency of Bolivia by a junta of army officers and Socialists who staged a bloodless coup d'etat in La Paz. Col. German Busch acting chief of the general army staff, leader of the coup, will be at the head of the government until Col. David Toro, hero of the war with Paraguay, returns from the Chaco, when Toro will be installed as president.

The immediate objective of the new administration was complete settlement of a general strike which the officers asserted was imperiling the country's economic stability. The labor federation quickly suspended the strike movement, expressing solidarity with the army-Socialist coup.

Italy Releases Alleged
Leader in King's Killing

DR. ANTON PAVELIC, alleged leader of the Ustashi, the Croatian nationalist organization, and accused as one of the "masterminds" in the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia in Marseilles, has been set free by the Italian authorities. Released with him was his lieutenant, Eugene Kvaternik. The two were arrested at Turin in October, 1934, soon after the murder of Alexander.

Dr. Pavelic working on the case were never permitted to question them and an Italian tribunal refused the request of the French government for their extradition to France for trial.

General Is the New
Premier of Poland

POLAND feels that another European war is more than likely to break out soon, and she intends to be ready to take part in the conflict. A new government has been installed with Gen. Felicjan Slawoj-Skladkowski as premier and minister of the interior. The general took the oath of office wearing his uniform, which was taken as symbolic of the government's program. Poland will be adequately armed. Opposition leaders are warned that they will be prosecuted, as they were by Pilsudski after 1929.

Borah Is Loser in the Ohio Primaries

SENATOR WILLIAM BORAH barked heavily on success in the Ohio Presidential preference primary, but the Republicans of that state turned him down decisively in favor of their "favorite son," Robert A. Taft, son of the late President Taft. Of the 52 delegates to the Cleveland convention, Borah captured only five, the others, including the delegates at large, being Taft men. The winning delegation will be virtually undivided, he said. Senator Borah cause it will vote for Taft only on the first ballot. Mr. Borah did not take this defeat calmly. He gave out a statement in Washington accusing the Republican organization leaders of manipulating the votes of colored citizens against him by promising the passage of federal anti-lynching legislation.

Ohio Democrats polled about 500,000 votes in the primary, nearly 100,000 more than the Republicans, and they expressed their preference for Mr. Roosevelt over Col. Henry Breckinridge to the tune of 16 to 1. They also renominated Gov. Martin L. Davey, who will be opposed by John W. Bricker, Republican, in November.

About twenty of Pennsylvania's delegation to the Republican convention were pledged to support the popular choice of the state, which turned out to be Mr. Borah, no other name being officially entered at the April 28 primary. The delegation, which is undivided, has now voted that those members must keep their pledge on the first ballot or until it becomes manifestly impossible for their choice to win. This action was taken on motion of former Senator David A. Reed.

Never leave fish, unless salted, soaking in water. Too long soaking removes the flavor and makes the fish flabby.

To prevent cheese becoming stringy when making Welsh rabbit, do not use a high temperature when melting. Have only just enough heat to melt cheese.

A teaspoonful of mixed pickle spears tied in a small bag and added to the water in which fish, ham or tongue is boiled, will add a very pleasing flavor.

Do not allow bread to rise too high before putting into the oven if you wish to have a fine grained bread.

Potatoes need to be killed to prevent the tubers from greening. Some gardeners make the mistake of killing such root crops as beets, carrots, onions and parsnips, thus retarding their growth.
